3. Upon application to the commission, a telephone or telegraph corporation may, in special cases, after investigation, be authorized by the commission to charge less for a longer than for a shorter distance service for the transmission of messages or conversations, and the commission may from time to time prescribe the extent to which such telephone or telegraph corporation may be relieved from the operation and requirements of this section.

4794. Connections. Switches and spurs. Proviso. 1. Every railroad corporation, upon the application of any corporation or person being a shipper or receiver or contemplated shipper or receiver of freight for a connection between the railroad of such railroad corporation and any existing or contemplated private track, tracks, or railroad of such corporation or person, shall make such connection and provide such switches and tracks as may be necessary for that purpose, and deliver and receive cars thereover; provided, that such connection is reasonably practicable and can be installed and used without materially increasing the hazard of the operation of the railroad with which such connection is sought, and that the business which may reasonably be expected to be received by such railroad corporation over such connection is sufficient to justify the expense of such connection to such railroad corporation.

2. Under the conditions specified in the proviso in subsection 1 hereof, every railroad corporation, upon the application of any corporation or person being a shipper or receiver or contemplated shipper or receiver of freight, shall construct upon its right of way a spur or spurs for the purpose of receiving and delivering freight thereby, and shall receive and deliver freight thereby.

CHAPTER 4.

AUTHORITY OF COMMISSION OVER PUBLIC UTILITIES.

4801. Through routes. Joint rates and division of charges. Whenever the commission shall find, after hearing, that the rates, fares, or charges in force over two or more common carriers between any two points in this state are unjust, unreasonable, or excessive, or that no satisfactory through route or joint rate, fare, or charge exists between such points, or that the public convenience and necessity demand the establishment of a through route and joint rate, fare, or charge between such points, the commission shall order such common carriers to establish such through route, and may establish and fix a joint rate, fare, or charge which will be fair, just, reasonable, and sufficient to be allowed, charged, enforced, demanded, and collected in the future, and the terms and conditions under which such through route shall be operated. The commission may order that freight moving between such points shall be carried by the different common carriers, parties to such through route and joint rate, without being transferred from the originating cars. In case the common carriers do not agree between themselves upon the division of the joint rates, fares, or charges established by the commission over such through routes, the commission shall, after hearing, by supplementary order, establish such division. The commission shall have the power to establish and fix through routes and joint rates, fares, or charges over common carriers and stage or auto stage lines, and to fix the division of such joint rates, fares, or charges.

4803. Commission may regulate practices, facilities, and methods. Whenever the commission shall find, after hearing, that the rules, regulations, practices, equipment, appliances, facilities, or service of any public utility, or the methods of manufacture, distribution, transmission, storage, or supply employed by it, are unjust, unreasonable, unsafe, improper, inadequate, or insufficient, the commission shall determine the just, reasonable, safe, proper, adequate, or sufficient rules, regulations, practices, equipment, appliances, facilities, service, or methods to be observed, furnished, constructed, enforced, or employed, and shall fix the same by its order, rule, or regulation. The commission shall prescribe, after hearing, rules and regulations for the performance of any service or the furnishing of any commodity of the character furnished or supplied by any public utility, and on proper demand and tender of rates such public utility shall furnish such commodity or render such service within the time and upon the conditions provided in such rules.

The commission may authorize an increase of fares for a municipal utility, even though the utility is acting under a franchise which fixes the rates; and it may nullify a franchise provision providing for the sale of commutation tickets.

4804. Extension of improvements and adjustment of costs. Whenever the commission shall find that additions, extensions, repairs, or improvements to or changes in the existing plant, equipment, apparatus, facilities, or other physical property of any public utility or of any two or more public utilities ought reasonably to be made, or that a new structure or structures should be erected to promote the security or convenience of its employes or the public, or in any other way to secure adequate service or facilities, the commission shall make and serve an order directing that such additions, extensions, repairs, improvements, or changes be made or such structure or structures be erected in the manner and within the time specified in said order. If any additions, extensions, repairs, improvements, or changes, or any new structure or structures which the commission has ordered to be erected, require joint action by two or more public utilities, the commission shall notify the said public utilities that such additions, extensions, repairs, improvements, or changes, or new structure or structures have been ordered, and that the same shall be made at their joint cost, whereupon the said public utilities shall have such reasonable time as the commission may grant within which to agree upon the portion or division of cost of such additions, extensions, repairs, improvements, or changes, or new structure or structures, which each shall bear. If at the expiration of such time such public utilities shall fail to file with the commission a statement that an agreement has been made for a division or apportionment of the cost or expense of such additions, extensions, repairs, improvements, or changes, or new structure or structures, the commission shall have authority, after further hearing, to make an order fixing the proportion of such cost or expense to be borne by each public utility and the manner in which the same shall be paid or secured.

4806. Physical railroad connections. Adjustment of expense. Whenever the commission shall find that the public convenience and necessity would be subserved by having connections made between the tracks of any two or more railroad or street railroad corporations, so that cars may readily be transferred from one to the other, at any of the points hereinafter in this section specified, the commission may order any two or more such corporations owning, controlling, operating, or managing tracks of the same gauge, to make physical connections at any and all crossings, and at all points where a railroad or street railroad shall begin or terminate or run near to any other railroad or street railroad. After the necessary franchise or permit has been secured from the county, city, or town, the commission may likewise order such physical connection within such county, city, or town, between two or more railroads which enter the limits of the same. The commission shall by order direct whether the expense of the connections referred to in this section shall be borne jointly or otherwise.

4807. Spurs and switching service. 1. Whenever the commission shall find that application has been made by any corporation or person to a railroad corporation for a connection or pur as provided in § 4794, and that the railroad corporation has refused to provide such connection or spur, and that the applicant is entitled to have the same provided for him under the said § 4794, the commission shall make an order requiring the providing of such connection or spur and the maintenance and use of the same upon reasonable terms which the commission shall have the power to prescribe. Whenever such connection or spur has been so provided, any corporation or person shall be entitled to connect with the private track, tracks, or railroad thereby connected with the railroad of the railroad corporation, and to use the same or to use the spur so provided upon payment to the party or parties incurring the primary expense of such private track, tracks, or railroad, or the connection therewith or of such spur, of a reasonable proportion of the cost thereof to be determined by the commission after notice to the interested parties and a hearing thereon; provided, that such connection and use can be made without unreasonable interference with the rights of the party or parties incurring such primary expense.

2. The commission shall likewise have the power to require any railroad corporation to switch to private spurs and industrial tracks, upon its own railroad, the cars of a connecting railroad corporation, and to prescribe the terms and compensation for such service.

4808. Telephone and telegraph connections. Joint rates and division. Whenever the commission shall find, after hearing, that a physical connection can reasonably be made between the lines of two or more telephone corporations, or two or more telegraph corporations, whose lines can be made to form a continuous line of communication by the construction and maintenance of suitable connections for the transfer of messages or conversations, and that public convenience and necessity will be subserved thereby, or shall find that two or more telegraph or telephone corporations have failed to establish joint rates, tolls, or charges for service by or over their said lines, and that joint rates, tolls, or charges ought to be established, the commission may, by its order, require that such connection be made, except where the purpose of such connection is primarily to secure the transmission of local messages or conversations between points within the same city or town, and that conversations be transmitted and messages transferred over such connections under such rules and regulations as the commission may establish and prescribe, through lines and joint rates, tolls, and charges to be made, and to be used, observed, and in force in the future. If such telephone or telegraph corporations do not agree upon the division between themselves of the cost of such physical connection or connections, or the division of the joint rates, tolls, or charges established by the commission over such through lines, the commission shall have authority, after further hearing, to establish such division by supplemental order.

4809. Use by one public utility of the property of another. Costs adjusted. Whenever the commission shall find that public convenience and necessity require the use by one public utility of the conduits, subways, tracks, wires, poles, pipes, or other equipment, or any part thereof, on, over, or under any street or highway, and belonging to another public utility, and that such use will not result in irreparable injury to the owner or other users of such conduits, subways, tracks, wires, poles, pipes, or other equipment, or in any substantial detriment to the service, and that such public utilities have failed to agree upon such use or the terms and conditions or compensation for the same, the commission may by order direct that such use be permitted, and prescribe a reasonable compensation and reasonable terms and conditions for the joint use. If such use be directed, the public utility to whom the use is permitted shall be liable to the owner or other users of such conduits, subways, tracks, wires, poles, pipes, or other equipment for such damage as may result therefrom to the property of such owner or other users thereof.

4811. Grade crossings. Regulation. 1. No track or any railroad shall be constructed across a public road, highway, or street at grade, nor shall the track of any railroad corporation be constructed across the track of any other railroad or street railroad corporation at grade, nor shall the track of a street railroad corporation be constructed across the track of a railroad corporation at a grade, without having first secured the permission of the commission; provided, that this subsection shall not apply to the replacement of lawfully existing tracks. The commission shall have the right to refuse its permission or to grant it upon such terms and conditions as it may prescribe.

practicable, a separation of grades at any such crossing heretofore or hereafter established, and to prescribe the terms upon which such separation shall be made and the proportions in which the expense of the alteration or abolition of such crossings or the separation of such grades shall be divided between the railroad or street railroad corporations affected, or between such corporations and the state, county, municipality, or other public authority in interest.

3. Whenever the commission shall find that public convenience and necessity demands the establishment, creation, or construction of a crossing of a street or highway over, under, or upon the tracks or lines of any public utility, the commission may by order, decision, rule, or decree require the establishment, construction, or creation of such crossing, and said crossing shall thereupon become a public highway and crossing.

This act confers on the commission the exclusive power to prescribe the manner and terms upon which railroad tracks may be constructed, maintained and operated across a public road, highway or street, and the commission must take jurisdiction of an application of a railroad company to cross highways, even though railroad companies have made no application to the local authorities for franchise to cross such highway.

D. & R. G. Co. v. Public Utilities Commission, 51 U. —; 172 P. 479.

4812. Investigation of accidents. The commission shall investigate the cause of all accidents occurring within this state upon the property of any public utility, or directly or indirectly arising from or connected with its maintenance or operation, resulting in loss of life or injury to persons or property, and requiring, in the judgment of the commission, investigation by it, and shall have the power to make such order or recommendation with respect thereto as, in its judgment, may seem just and reasonable; provided, that neither the order or recommendation of the commission nor any accident report filed with the commission shall be admitted as evidence in any action for damage based on or arising out of the loss of life or injury to person or property in this section referred to. Every public utility is hereby required to file with the commission, under such rules and regulations as the commission may prescribe, a report of each accident so occurring of such kinds or classes as the commission may from time to time designate.

4813. Regulation of car supply. Demurrage. Service by express, telephone, and telegraph lines. Baggage. 1. The commission shall have power to provide by proper rules and regulations the time within which all railroad corporations shall furnish, after demand therefor, all cars, equipment, and facilities necessary for the handling of freight in carload and less than carload lots, the time within which consignors or persons ordering cars shall load the same, and the time within which consignees or persons to whom freight may be consigned shall unload and discharge the same and receive freight from the freight rooms, and to provide penalties to be paid for failure on the part of the railroad corporation, consignors, and consignees to conform to such rule. And the commission shall have power to limit the number of cars that shall constitute a train operated on any railroad in this state. Charges for demurrage shall be uniform so that the same penalty shall be paid by both shipper or consignee and railroad corporation for an equal number of cars for each day for which demurrage is charged.

2. The commission shall also have power to provide the time within which express packages shall be received, gathered, transported, and delivered at destination, and the limits within which express packages shall be gathered and distributed, and telegraph and telephone messages delivered without extra charge.

3. The commission shall also have power to provide the time within which baggage shall be received, transported, delivered, and stored. The commission shall have power to enforce reasonable regulations for the weighing of cars and freight offered for shipment over any line of railroad, and to test the weights made by any railroad corporation and scales used in weighing freight on cars.

4814. Electric, gas, and water companies. Examination and tests. 1. The commission shall have power, after hearing, to ascertain and fix just and reasonable standards, classifications, regulations, practices, measurements, or service to be furnished, imposed, observed, and followed by all electrical, gas, and water corporations; to ascertain and fix adequate and serviceable standards for the measurement of quantity, quality, pressure, initial voltage, or other condition pertaining to the supply of the product, commodity, or service furnished or rendered by any such public utility; to prescribe reasonable regulations for the examination and testing of such products, commodity, or service, and for the measurement thereof; to establish reasonable rules, regulations, specifications, and standards to secure the accuracy of all meters and appliances for measurements; and to provide for the examination and testing of any and all appliances used for the measurement of any product, commodity, or service of any such public utility.

2. The commissioners and their officers and employes shall have power to enter upon any premises occupied by any public utility, for the purpose of making the examinations and tests and exercising any of the other powers provided for in this title, and to set up and use on such premises any apparatus and appliances necessary therefor. The agents and employes of such public utility shall have the right to be present at the making of such examinations and tests.

3. Any consumer or user of any product, commodity, or service of a public utility may have any appliance used in the measurement thereof tested, upon paying the fees fixed by the commission. The commission shall establish and fix reasonable fees to be paid for testing such appliances on the request of the consumer or user, the fee to be paid by the consumer or user at the time of his request, but to be paid by the public utility and repaid to the consumer or user if the appliance is found defective or incorrect to the disadvantage of the consumer or user, under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the commission.

4815. Valuation of public utilities. The commission shall have power to ascertain the value of the property of every public utility in this state and every fact which, in its judgment, may or does have any bearing on such value. The commission shall have power to make revaluations from time to time, and to ascertain all new construction, extensions, and additions to the property of every public utility.

4816. Keeping accounts not inconsistent with interstate commerce act. Forms prescribed. The commission shall have power to establish a system of accounts to be kept by the public utilities subject to its jurisdiction, or to classify said public utilities, and to establish a system of accounts for each class, and to prescribe the manner in which such accounts shall be kept. It may also, in its discretion, prescribe the forms of accounts, records, and memoranda to be kept by such public utilities, including the accounts, records, and memoranda of the movement of traffic as well as the receipts and expenditures of moneys, and any other forms, records, and memoranda which, in the judgment of the commission, may be necessary to carry out any of the provisions of this title. The system of accounts established by the commission and the forms of accounts, records, and memoranda prescribed by it shall not be inconsistent in the case of corporations subject to the provisions of the act of congress entitled, "an act to regulate commerce," approved February 4, 1887, and the acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto, with the system and forms from time to time established for such corporations by the interstate commerce commission, but nothing herein contained shall affect the power of the commission to prescribe forms of accounts, records, and memoranda covering information in addition to that required by the interstate commerce commission. The commission may, after hearing had upon its own motion or upon complaint, prescribe by order the accounts in which particular outlays and receipts shall be entered, charged, or credited. When the commission shall have prescribed the forms of accounts, records, or memoranda to be kept by any public utility corporation, for any of its business, it shall thereafter be unlawful for such public utility to keep any accounts, records, or memoranda for such business other than those so prescribed, or those prescribed by or under the authority of any other state, or of the United States, excepting such accounts, records, or memoranda as shall be explanatory of and supplemental to the accounts, records, or memoranda prescribed by the commission.

2. No public utility of a class specified in subsection 1 hereof shall henceforth exercise any right or privilege under any franchise or permit hereafter granted, or under any franchise or permit heretofore granted but not heretofore actually exercised, or the exercise of which has been suspended for more than one year, without first having obtained from the commission a certificate that public convenience and necessity require the exercise of such right or privilege; provided, that when the commission shall find, after hearing, that a public utility has heretofore begun actual construction work and is prosecuting such work in good faith, uninterruptedly, and with reasonable diligence in proportion to the magnitude of the undertaking, under any franchise or permit heretofore granted, but not heretofore actually exercised, such public utility may proceed, under such rules and regulations as the commission may prescribe, to the completion of such work, and may, after such completion, exercise such right or privilege; and provided, further, that this section shall not be construed to validate any right or privilege now invalid or hereafter becoming invalid under any law of this state.

3. Every applicant for a certificate shall file in the office of the commission such evidence as shall be required by the commission to show that such applicant has received the required consent, franchise, or permit of the proper county, city, municipal, or other public authority. The commission shall have power, after hearing, to issue said certificate as prayed for, or to refuse to issue the same, or to issue it for the construction of a portion only of the contemplated street railroad, line, plant, or system, or extension thereof, or for the partial exercise only of said right or privilege, and may attach to the exercise of the rights granted by said certificate such terms and conditions as in its judgment the public convenience and necessity may require. If a public utility desires to exercise a right or privilege under a franchise or permit which it contemplates securing, but which has not yet been granted to it, such public utility may apply to the commission for an order preliminary to the issue of the certificate. The commission may thereupon make an order declaring that it will thereafter, upon application, under such rules and regulations as it may prescribe, issue the desired certificate, upon such terms and conditions as it may designate after the public utility has obtained the contemplated franchise or permit. Upon presentation to the commission of evidence satisfactory to it that such franchise or permit has been secured by such public utility, the commission shall thereupon issue such certificate.

CHAPTER 5.

PROCEDURE.

4820. Rules of procedure. Informality does not invalidate. All hearings, investigations, and proceedings shall be governed by this title and by rules of practice and procedure to be adopted by the commission, and in the conduct thereof the technical rules of evidence need not be applied. No informality in any hearing, investigation, or proceeding, or in the manner of taking testimony, shall invalidate any order, decision, rule, or regulation made, approved, or confirmed by the commission.

4822. Oaths. Witness fees. Power of district court. Depositions. Immunity to witness. 1. The commission and each commissioner shall have power to administer oaths, certify to all official acts, and to issue subpœnas for the attendance of witnesses and the production of papers, waybills, books, accounts, documents, and testimony in any inquiry, investigation, hearing, or proceeding in any part of the state. Each witness who shall appear, by order of the commission or a commissioner, shall receive for his attendance the same fees and mileage allowed by law to a witness in civil cases, which amount shall be paid by the party at whose request such witness is subpœnaed. When any witness who has not been required to attend at the request of any party shall be subpœnaed by the commission, his fees and mileage shall be paid from the funds appropriated for the use of the commission in the same manner as other expenses of the commission are paid. Any witness subpœnaed, except one whose fees and mileage may be paid from the funds of the commission, may, at the time of service, demand the fee to which he is entitled for travel to and from the place at which he is required to appear, and one day's attendance. If such witness demands such fees at the time of service, and they are not at that time paid or tendered, he shall not be required to attend before the commission or commissioner, as directed in the subpœna. All fees or mileage to which any witness is entitled under the provisions of this section may be collected by action therefor instituted by the person to whom such fees are payable. No witness furnished with free transportation shall receive mileage for the distance he may have traveled on such free transportation.

2. The district court in and for the county in which any inquiry, investigation, hearing, or proceeding may be held by the commission or any commissioner shall have the power to compel the attendance of witnesses, the giving of testimony, and the production of papers, including waybills, books, accounts, and documents, as required by any subpœna issued by the commission or any commissioner. The commission or the commissioner before whom the testimony is to be given or produced, in case of the refusal of any witness to attend or testify or produce any papers required by such subpœna, may report to the district court in and for the county in which the proceeding is pending, by petition, setting forth that due notice has been given of the time and place of attendance of said witness, or the production of said papers, and that the witness has been summoned in the manner prescribed in this title, and that the witness has failed and refused to attend or produce the papers required by the subpœna, before the commission or commissioner, in the cause or proceeding named in the notice and subpœna, or has refused to answer questions propounded to him in the course of such proceeding, and ask an order of said court compelling the witness to attend and testify or produce said papers before the commission. The court, upon the petition of the commission or such commissioner, shall enter an order directing the witness to appear before the court at a time and place to be fixed by the court in such order, the time to be not more than ten days from the date of the order, and then and there show cause why he has not attended and testified or produced said papers before the commission. A copy of said order shall be served upon said witness. If it shall appear to the court that said subpœna was regularly issued by the commission or commissioner, the court shall thereupon enter an order that said witness appear before the commission or said commissioner at the time and place fixed in said order, and testify or produce the required papers, and upon failure to obey said order said witness shall be dealt with as for contempt of court. The remedy provided in this subsection is cumulative, and shall not be construed to impair or interfere with the power of the commission or a commissioner to enforce the attendance of witnesses and the production of papers, and to punish for contempt in the same manner and to the same extent as courts of record.

3. The commission or any commissioner or any party may, in any investigation or hearing before the commission, cause the deposition of witnesses residing within or without the state to be taken in the manner prescribed by law for like depositions in civil actions in the district courts of this state, and to that end may compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, waybills, documents, papers, and accounts.

4. No person shall be excused from testifying or from producing any book, waybill, document, paper, or account in any investigatoin or inquiry by or hearing before the commission or any commissioner, when ordered to do so, upon the ground that the testimony or evidence, book, waybill, document, paper, or account required of him may tend to incriminate him or subject him to penalty or forfeiture, but no person shall be prosecuted, punished, or subjected to penalty or forfeiture for or on account of any act, transaction, matter, or thing concerning which he shall, under oath, have testified or produced documentary evidence; provided, that no person so testifying shall be exempt from prosecution or punishment for any perjury committed by him in his testimony. Nothing herein contained shall be construed as in any manner giving to any public utility immunity of any kind.

4823. Copies of files admissible in evidence. Written orders of record to serve as notice. 1. Copies of all official documents and orders filed or deposited according to law in the office of the commission, certified by a commissioner or by the secretary or the assistant secretary under the official seal of the commission to be true copies of the originals, shall be evidence in like manner as the originals.

2. Every order, authorization, or certificate issued or approved by the commission under any provision of §§ 4806, 4807, 4808, 4809, 4811, 4818, shall be in writing and entered on the records of the commission. Any such order, authorization, or certificate, or a copy thereof, or a copy of the record of any such order, authorization, or certificate, certified by a commissioner or by the secretary or the assistant secretary under the official seal of the commission to be a true copy of the original order, authorization, certificate, or entry, may be recorded in the office of the recorder of any county in which is located the principal place of business of any public utility affected thereby, or in which is situated any property of any such public utility, and such record shall impart notice of its provisions to all persons. A certificate under the seal of the commission that any such order, authorization, or certificate has not been modified, stayed, suspended or revoked may also be recorded in the same offices, in the same manner and with like effect.

4824. Fees for copies and certificates. The commission shall charge and collect the following fees: For copies of papers and records not required to be certified or otherwise authenticated by the commission, 15 cents for each folio; for certified copies of official documents and orders filed in its office, 20 cents for each folio, and $2 for every certificate under seal affixed thereto; for certifying a copy of any report made by a public utility, $2; for each certified copy of the annual report of the commission, $3; for certified copies of evidence and proceedings before the commission, 15 cents for each folio. No fees shall be charged or collected for copies of papers, records, or official documents furnished to public officers for use in their official capacity, or for the annual reports of the commission in the ordinary course of distribution, but the commission may fix reasonable charges for publications issued under its authority. All fees charged and collected under this section shall be paid, at least once each week, accompanied by a detailed statement thereof, into the treasury of the state to the credit of the funds appropriated for the use of the commission. All expenses of the commission, including salaries of the commissioners, the secretary, and the compensation of all other persons employed by the commission, and all expenses of every kind incurred in the administration of this title, shall be paid from the funds appropriated for the use of the commission, after being approved by the commission upon claims therefor to be duly audited by the proper authority.

public utility; provided, that any person other than a commissioner or an officer of the commission demanding such inspection shall produce under the hand and seal of the commission his authority to make such inspection; and provided, further, that written record of the testimony or statement so given under oath shall be made and filed with the commission.

troduce evidence. The commission shall issue process to enforce the attendance of all necessary witnesses. After the conclusion of the hearing, the commission shall make and file its order, containing its decision. A copy of such order, certified under the seal of the commission, shall be served upon the corporation or person complained of, or his or its attorney. Said order shall, of its own force, take effect and become operative twenty days after the service thereof, except as otherwise provided in such order, and shall continue in force either for a period which may be designated therein or until changed or abrogated by the commission. If any order cannot, in the judgment of the commission, be complied with within twenty days, the commission may grant and prescribe such additional time as in its judgment is reasonably necessary to comply with the order, and may, on application and for good cause shown, extend the time for compliance fixed in its order. A full and complete record of all proceedings had before the commission or any commissioner on any formal hearing had, and all testimony, shall be taken down by a reporter appointed by the commission, and the parties shall be entitled to be heard in person or by attorney. In case of an action to review any order or decision of the commission, a transcript of such testimony, together with all exhibits or copies thereof introduced, and of the pleadings, record, and proceedings in the cause, shall constitute the record of the commission; provided, that on review of an order or decision of the commission, the petitioner and the commission may stipulate that a certain question or questions alone and a specified portion only of the evidence shall be certified to the supreme court for its judgment, whereupon such stipulation and the question or questions and the evidence therein specified shall constitute the record on review.

The findings and the opinion filed by the Commission are to be considered together and if together they are sufficient, the objection that the findings are not sufficient is not tenable.

4830. Charges raised only on showing. Hearings. Suspension of rates. Period when effective. 1. No public utility shall raise any rate, fare, toll, rental, or charge or so alter any classification, contract, practice, rule, or regulation as to result in an increase in any rate, fare, toll, rental, or charge, under any circumstances whatsoever, except upon a showing before the commission and a finding by the commission that such increase is justified.

2. Whenever there shall be filed with the commission any schedule stating an individual or joint rate, fare, toll, rental, charge, classification, contract, practice, rule, or regulation increasing or resulting in an increase in any rate, fare, toll, rental, or charge, the commission shall have power, and it is hereby given authority either upon complaint or upon its own initiative without complaint at once and if it so orders without answer or other formal pleadings by the interested public utility or utilities, but upon reasonable notice, to enter upon a hearing concerning the propriety of such rate, fare, toll, rental, charge, classification, contract, practice, rule, or regulation, and, pending the hearing and the decision thereon, such rate, fare, toll, rental, charge, classification, contract, practice, rule, or regulation shall not go into effect; provided, that the period of suspension of such rate, fare, toll, rental, charge, classification, contract, practice, rule, or regulation shall not extend beyond 120 days beyond the time when such rate, fare, toll, rental, charge, classification, contract, practice, rule, or regulation would otherwise go into effect unless the commission, in its discretion, extends the period of suspension for a further period not exceeding six months. On such hearing the commission shall establish the rates, fares, tolls, rentals, charges, classifications, contracts, practices, rules, or regulations proposed, in whole or in part or others in lieu thereof, which it shall find to be just and reasonable. All such rates, fares, tolls, rentals, charges, classifications, contracts, practices, rules, or regulations not so suspended shall, on the expiration of thirty days from the time of filing the same with the commission, or of such lesser time as the commission may grant, go into effect and be the established and effective rates, fares, tolls, rentals, charges, classifications, contracts, practices, rules, and regulations, subject to the power of the commission, after a hearing had on its own motion or upon complaint as herein provided, to alter or modify the same.

4831. Orders rescinded or amended. The commission may at any time, upon notice to the public utility affected, and after opportunity to be heard as provided in the case of complaints, rescind, alter, or amend any order or decision made by it. Any order rescinding, altering, or amending a prior order or decision shall, when served upon the public utility affected, have the same effect as is herein provided for original orders or decisions.

thereof is in any respect unjust and unwarranted, or should be changed, the commission may abrogate, change, or modify the same. An order or decision shall have the same force and effect as an original order or decision, but shall not affect any right or the enforcement of any right arising from or by virtue of the original order or decision unless so ordered by the commission.

Writ of certiorari; §§ 7376-7386.

The court cannot review the evidence to determine whether or not it is sufficient to justify the findings of the commission, but it may determine whether or not there is any evidence to justify the decision.

Salt Lake City v. Utah L. & Tr. Co., 51 U. —; 173 P. 556.

4835. Order of commission may be suspended. Procedure. Bond. Payment of moneys pending result. Accounts of excess charges. Additional surety. Unclaimed payments forfeited. 1. The pendency of a writ of review shall not of itself stay or suspend the operation of the order or decision of the commission, but during the pendency of such writ the supreme court in its discretion may stay or suspend, in whole or in part, the operation of the commission's order or decision.

3. In case the order or decision of the commission is stayed or suspended, the order of the court shall not become effective until a suspending bond shall first have been executed and filed with and approved by the commission (or approved, on review, by the supreme court), payable to the people of the state of Utah, and sufficient in amount and security to insure the prompt payment, by the party petitioning for the review, of all damages caused by the delay in the enforcement of the order or decision of the commission, and of all moneys which any person or corporation may be compelled to pay, pending the review proceedings, for transportation, transmission, product, commodity or service in excess of the charges fixed by the order or decision of the commission, in case said order or decision is sustained. The supreme court, in case it stays or suspends the order or decision of the commission in any matter affecting rates, fares, tolls, rentals, charges, or classifications, shall also by order direct the public utility affected to pay into court, from time to time, there to be impounded until the final decision of the case, or into some bank or trust company paying interest on deposits, under such conditions as the court may prescribe, all sums of money which it may collect from any corporation or person in excess of the sum such corporation or person would have been compelled to pay if the order or decision of the commission had not been stayed or suspended.

4. In case the supreme court stays or suspends any order or decision lowering any rate, fare, toll, rental, charge, or classification, the commission, upon the execution and approval of said suspending bond, shall forthwith require the public utility affected, under penalty of the immediate enforcement of the order or decision of the commission (pending the review and notwithstanding the suspending order), to keep such accounts, verified by oath, as may, in the judgment of the commission, suffice to show the amounts being charged or received by such public utility, pending the review, in excess of the charges allowed by the order or decision of the commission, together with the names and addresses of the corporations or persons to whom overcharges will be refundable in case the charges made by the public utility, pending the review, be not sustained by the supreme court. The court may, from time to time, require said party petitioning for a review to give additional security on or to increase the said suspending bond, whenever in the opinion of the court the same may be necessary to insure the prompt payment of said damages and said overcharges. Upon the final decision by the supreme court, all moneys which the public utility may have collected, pending the appeal in excess of those authorized by such final decision, together with interest, in case the court ordered the deposit of such moneys in a bank or trust company, shall be promptly paid to the corporations or persons entitled thereto, in such manner and through such methods of distribution as may be prescribed by the commission. If any such moneys shall not have been claimed by the corporations or persons entitled thereto within one year from the final decision of the supreme court, the commission shall cause notice to such corporations or persons to be given by publication, once a week for two successive weeks, in a newspaper of general circulation, printed and published in the city and county of Salt Lake, and such other newspaper or newspapers as may be designated by the commission, said notice to state the names of the corporations or persons entitled to such moneys and the amount due each corporation or person. All moneys not claimed within three months after the publication of said notice shall be paid by the public utility, under the direction of the commission, into the state treasury for the benefit of the general fund.

4836. Proceedings in supreme court given preference. Exceptions. All actions and proceedings under this title, and all actions or proceedings to which the commission or the state of Utah may be parties, and in which any question arises under this title, or under or concerning any order or decision of the commission, shall be preferred over all other civil causes except election causes, and shall be heard and determined in preference to all other civil business except election causes, irrespective of position on the calendar. The same preference shall be granted upon application of the attorney of the commission in any action or proceeding in which he may be allowed to intervene.

4837. Procedure on valuations of public utilities. When record made. For the purpose of ascertaining the matters and things specified in § 4815, concerning the value of the property of public utilities, the commission may cause a hearing or hearings to be held at such time or times and place or places as the commission may designate. Before any hearing is had, the commission shall give the public utility affected thereby at least thirty days' written notice, specifying the time and place of said hearing, and such notice shall be sufficient to authorize the commission to inquire into the matters designated in this section and in said § 4815, but this provision shall not prevent the commission from making any preliminary examination or investigation into the matters herein referred to, or from inquiring into such matters in any other investigation or hearing. All public utilities affected shall be entitled to be heard and to introduce evidence at such hearing or hearings. The commission is empowered to resort to any other source of information available. The evidence introduced at such hearing shall be reduced to writing and certified under the seal of the commission. The commission shall make and file its findings of fact in writing upon all matters concerning which evidence shall have been introduced before it which in its judgment have bearing on the value of the property of the public utility affected. Such findings shall be subject to review by the supreme court of this state in the same manner and within the same time as other orders and decisions of the commission. The findings of the commission so made and filed, when properly certified under the seal of the commission, shall be admissible in evidence in any action, proceeding, or hearing before the commission or any court in which the commission, the state, or any officer, department, or institution thereof, or any county, city and county, municipality, or other body politic and the public utility affected may be interested, whether arising under the provisions of this title or otherwise, and such findings, when so introduced, shall be conclusive evidence of the facts therein stated as of the date therein stated under conditions then existing, and such facts can only be controverted by showing a subsequent change in conditions bearing upon the facts therein determined. The commission may from time to time cause further hearings and investigations to be had for the purpose of making revaluations or ascertaining the value of any betterments, improvements, additions, or extensions made by any public utility subsequent to any prior hearing or investigation, and may examine into all matters which may change, modify, or affect any finding of fact previously made, and may at such time make findings of fact supplementary to those theretofore made. Such hearings shall be had upon the same notice and be conducted in the same manner, and the findings so made shall have the same force and effect as is provided herein for such original notice, hearing, and findings; provided, that such findings made at such supplemental hearings or investigations shall be considered in connection with and as a part of the original findings, except in so far as such supplemental findings shall change or modify the findings made at the original hearing or investigation. Whenever, in any proceeding before the commission, any finding or order of the commission is based in whole or in part upon information or evidence acquired or received by any commissioner, or by the commission, other than at a public hearing, notice of which has been given to the public utility or utilities affected thereby, then, at the time such finding or order is made, it shall be the duty of the commissioner or of a member of the board of commissioners to state fully into the record of such proceeding the ultimate facts upon which such order is based.

tion, that the public utility has charged an excessive or discriminatory amount for such product, commodity, or service in excess of the schedules, rates, and tariffs on file with the commission, or has discriminated under said schedules against the complainant, the commission may order that the public utility make due reparation to the complainant therefor, with interest from the date of collection; provided, no discrimination will result from such reparation.

2. No recovery as in this section provided shall in any manner affect a recovery by the state of the penalties in this title provided or the exercise by the commission of its power to punish for contempt.

4841. Right of action by state not waived. Penalties cumulative. 1. This title shall not have the effect to release or waive any right of action by the state, the commission, or any person or corporation for any right, penalty, or forfeiture which may have arisen or accrued or may hereafter arise or accrue under any law of this state.

4842. Proceedings to prevent violation of law. Whenever the commission shall be of the opinion that any public utility is failing or omitting, or about to fail or omit, to do anything required of it by law, or by any order, decision, rule, direction, or requirement of the commission, or is doing anything, or about to do anything, or permitting anything, or about to permit anything, to be done contrary to or in violation of law or of any order, decision, rule, direction, or requirement of the commission, it shall direct the commencement of an action or proceeding in the district court in and for the county in which the cause or some part thereof arose, or in which the corporation complained of, if any, has its principal place of business, or in which the person, if any, complained of, resides, in the name of the state, for the purpose of having such violations or threatened violations stopped and prevented, either by mandamus or injunction. The attorney of the commission shall thereupon begin such action or proceeding by petition to such district court, alleging the violation or threatened violation complained of, and praying for appropriate relief by way of mandamus or injunction. It shall thereupon be the duty of the court to specify a time, not exceeding twenty days after the service of the copy of the petition, within which the public utility complained of must answer the petition, and in the meantime said public utility may be restrained. In case of default in answer, or after answer, the court shall immediately inquire into the facts and circumstances of the case. Such corporations or persons as the court may deem necessary or proper to be joined as parties, in order to make its judgment, order, or writ effective, may be joined as parties. The final judgment in any such action or proceeding shall either dismiss the action or proceeding or direct that the writ of mandamus or injunction issue or be made permanent as prayed for in the petition, or in such modified or other form as will afford appropriate relief. Any appeal may be taken to the supreme court from such final judgment in the same manner and with the same effect, subject to the provisions of this title, as appeals are taken from judgments of the district court in other actions for mandamus or injunction.

4843. Penalty for violations of this title. Distinct offenses. 1 Any public utility which violates or fails to comply with any provisions of the constitution of this state or of this title, or which fails, omits, or neglects to obey, observe, or comply with any order, decision, decree, rule, direction, demand, or requirement, or any part or provision thereof, of the commission, in a case in which a penalty has not hereinbefore been provided for such public utility, is subject to a penalty of not less than $500 nor more than $2000 for each and every offense.

2. Every violation of the provisions of this title or of any order, decision, decree, rule, direction, demand, or requirement of the commission, or any part or portion thereof, by any corporation or person is a separate and distinct offense, and in case of a continuing violation each day's continuance thereof shall be and be deemed to be a separate and distinct offense.

4845. Violations by other corporations. Every corporation, other than a public utility, which violates any provision of this title, or which fails to obey, observe, or comply with any order, decision, rule, direction, demand, or requirement, or any part or provision thereof, of the commission, in a case in which a penalty has not hereinbefore been provided for such corporation, is subject to a penalty of not less than $500 nor more than $2000 for each and every offense.

4850. Validity of title. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase of this title is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this title. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this title, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses, or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

4851. Application of title. Neither this title nor any provisions thereof, except when specifically so stated, shall apply to or be construed to apply to commerce with foreign nations or commence among the several states of this union, except in so far as the same may be permitted under the provisions of the constitution of the United States and the acts of Congress.

4852. Appropriation. The sum of $50,000, or so much thereof as shall be necessary, is hereby appropriated for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this title.

4853. Repeal. All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this title are hereby repealed.

TITLE 92.

EMPLOYMENT OF CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES ON PUBLIC WORKS.

4865. In employing workmen in or on the construction of public works by the state, county, or municipality, or by persons contracting with the state, county, or municipality, preference shall be given citizens of the United States, or those having declared their intention of becoming citizens. In each contract for the construction of public works the provisions shall be inserted to the effect that if the provisions of this section are not complied with the contract shall be void. '09, p. 179.

TITLE 93.

REAL ESTATE.

CHAPTER 1.

POSSESSORY RIGHTS.

Occupying claimants, §§ 5031-5038.

Actual occupancy is necessary to a possessory title, but it may be evidenced by an inclosure and maintained by an agent or tenant.
Hyndman v. Stowe, 9 U. 23; 33 P. 227.

Mere occupancy of public lands, with the construction of improvements thereon, vests no right in the occupier as against the United States or a patentee from it.
Helstrom v. Rodes, 30 U. 122; 83 P. 730.

CHAPTER 2.

CONVEYANCES.

4868. (1968.) "Real estate" defined. The term "real estate," as used in this title, shall be construed as co-extensive in meaning with land, tenements, hereditaments, and mining and land claims.

Construction of terms generally, § 5848.
Decisions on real estate contracts, etc., not having reference to some statutory provision, are not included in this volume.

4869. (1969.) "Conveyance" defined. The term "conveyance," as used in this title, shall be construed to embrace every instrument in writing by which any real estate, or interest in real estate, is created, aliened, mortgaged, incumbered, or assigned, except wills and leases for a term not exceeding one year.

The term "conveyance" embraces every instrument in writing, by which any real estate or interest in real estate, is created, aliened, mortgaged, or assigned, except wills, and leases for a term not exceeding one year.
Donaldson v. Grant, 15 U. 231; 49 P. 779.

4870. (1970.) Word "heirs" unnecessary to pass fee. The term "heirs" or other technical words of inheritance or succession are not requisite to transfer a fee in real estate.

N. Dak. (1895) § 3527.
Minn. (1894) § 4163.
Wash. (1896) § 2120.
Word "heirs" not necessary to devise a fee, § 6359.
A deed containing the words, "grant, bargain, sell, convey, assign and deliver to the party of the second part," is sufficient to convey a fee simple interest, under provisions of this section, without use of words of inheritance, such as "heirs," etc.
Wilson v. Sullivan, 17 U. 341; 53 P. 994.

4871. (1971.) Conveyance passes fee unless contrary appears. A fee simple title is presumed to be intended to pass by a conveyance of real estate, unless it appears from the conveyance that a lesser estate was intended.

Idaho, § 2927. N. Dak. (1895) § 3545.
Water rights pass with the land, § 3477.

4872. (1972.) Conveyance of greater estate than grantor owns. A conveyance made by an owner of an estate for life or years, purporting to convey a greater estate than he could lawfully transfer, does not work a forfeiture of his estate, but passes to the grantee all the estate which the grantor could lawfully transfer.

Idaho, § 2930. Minn. (1894) § 4164.

4873. (1973.) Tenancy in common. Every interest in real estate granted or devised to two or more persons, in their own right, shall be a tenancy in common, unless expressly declared in the grant or devise to be otherwise.

Similar section, § 6380.

4874. (1974.) Conveyances, etc., of land to be in writing. No estate or interest in real property, other than for leases for a term of not exceeding one year, nor any trust or power over or concerning it, or in any manner relating thereto, can be created, granted, assigned, surrendered, or declared, otherwise, than by act or operation of law, or by a conveyance or other instrument in writing, subscribed by the party creating, granting, assigning, surrendering, or declaring the same or by his lawful agent thereunto authorized by writing.

See similar section, § 5811, and notes.
Conveyance of farm transfers, farm name, § 4012.
Where a blank deed is signed and acknowledged and a description is later filled in, the instrument is void.
Ut. St. Bldg. & Loan Asso. v. Perkins, 51 U. —; 173 P. —.

4875. (1975.) Acknowledgment and recording, effect of. Every conveyance of real estate, and every instrument of writing, setting forth an agreement to convey any real estate, or whereby any real estate may be affected, to operate as notice to third persons, shall be proved or acknowledged and certified in the manner prescribed by this title and recorded in the office of the recorder of the county in which such real estate is situated, but shall be valid and binding between the parties thereto without such proof, acknowledgment, certification, or record, and to all other persons who have had actual notice.

Damages for recorder's neglect, § 1592.
Effect of recording assignment of mortgage, § 2002.
Unrecorded conveyance void as to subsequent purchasers in good faith, § 4903.
Record imparts notice, §§ 1584, 4900.
Certain conveyances validated, §§ 4908-4911.
Conveyances, etc., may be sent by telegraph or telephone, § 6118.
Probate decrees to be recorded, notice, § 7871.
Must be acknowledged to be recorded, § 4899.
Title of purchaser from heir in absence of record of will, § 6391.
Certified copies admissible in evidence, § 7116.

CONSTRUCTIVE NOTICE:

The record title to the premises being in the wife who resides upon the same with her husband, who claims an equitable interest in the property, and the possession of the husband and wife being consistent with the record title, the possession of the husband is not sufficient to put a purchaser upon inquiry as to the husband's equitable interest.
Allen v. Cannon, 8 U. 8; 28 P. 868.

Actual possession and occupancy of real property amounts to actual notice to all the world of the grantee's rights, notwithstanding the provisions of the statute which require every conveyance of real estate, in order to operate as a notice to third persons, to be recorded in the office of the recorder of the county in which such real estate is situated.
Neponset Land and Live Stock Co. v. Dixon, 10 U. 334; 37 P. 573.
Toland v. Corey, 6 U. 392; 24 P. 190.
Ayers v. Jack, 7 U. 249; 26 P. 300.
Stahn v. Hall, 10 U. 400; 37 P. 585.
But where one conveys property and remains in possession and shows another party the premises, without making any claim of interest, such purchaser may rely upon the record.
Shaffer v. Kilpack, 51 U. —; 172 P. —.
The possession by a polygamous wife, who is present at a hotel, acting as a housekeeper under a secret agreement that one-half the property should be hers, is no notice to purchasers of her rights or claim to interest in the property.
Townsend v. Hooper, 2 U. 548; affirmed 109 U. S. 504.
But see Warr v. Honeck, 8 U. 61; 29 P. 1117.
Where possession is relied on as giving constructive notice, it must be open and unambiguous and not liable to be misunderstood or misconstrued; and must have been sufficiently distinct and unequivocal to put the purchaser on his guard.
Id.

Constructive notice exists when the party by any circumstances whatever is put upon inquiry— and records authorized but not required by statute import such notice.

Wells, Fargo & Co. v. Smith, 2 U. 39; affirmed 104 U. S. 428.

A deed recorded in a mortgage record is not constructive notice to innocent purchasers for value.

Drake v. Reggel, 10 U. 376; 37 P. 583.

Under this section and § 4889, where officers of a corporation executed a deed to defendant to secure a loan, but did not make oath that they were officers of the corporation, or that they executed the instrument by authority of the board of directors, the deed was good as against the trustee in bankruptcy of the corporation estate.

Murray v. Beal, 23 U. 548; 65 P. 726.

A sufficient notice to attaching creditors is given, under provisions of this section and §§ 299, 301, by giving such creditors a personal notice of the assignment and mailing to each of them a notice thereof, recording the deed as soon as the property of the assignors is discovered in an adjoining county and the publication of notice to creditors in the county where the assignors reside.

Snyder v. Murdock, 20 U. 407; 59 P. 88.

Where property is conveyed to a person as trustee, and the nature of the trust and its limitations are expressed in the deed, a purchaser is not required to make any further inquiry.

Huffaker v. First Nat. Bk., 51 U. —; 173 P. 903.

4876. (1976.) Private seals unnecessary. Hereafter it shall not be necessary to use private seals on any instrument in writing in this state.

The fact that a deed executed by a private corporation did not have a seal attached did not invalidate the conveyance.

Murray v. Beal, 23 U. 548; 65 P. 726.

4877. (1977.) Powers of attorney, etc. Acknowledgment. Recording. Every power of attorney, or other instrument in writing, containing the power to convey any real estate, as agent or attorney for the owner thereof, or to execute, as agent or attorney for another, any conveyance whereby any real estate is conveyed or may be affected, shall be acknowledged or proved, and certified and recorded, as other conveyances whereby real estate is conveyed or affected are required to be acknowledged or proved and certified and recorded.

Powers of attorney and other instruments may be sent by telegraph or telephone, § 6118.

4878. (1978.) Id. How revoked. No such power of attorney or other instrument certified and recorded in the manner prescribed in the preceding section shall be deemed to be revoked by any act of the party by whom it was executed until the instrument containing such revocation shall be deposited for record in the same office in which the instrument containing the power is recorded, or canceled of record as provided by law.

Plaintiff's grantor, for the consideration of $5, received an irrevocable power of attorney to enter land on soldiers' scrip, with power to grant and convey the same to a purchaser. The maker of the power of attorney forever renounced all right to revoke the same, but before the conveyance of the land to plaintiff, the power of attorney was revoked and the land sold to defendant's grantor; held, that the power of attorney was given for a valuable consideration coupled with an interest, and was irrevocable.

Montague v. McCarroll, 15 U. 318; 49 P. 418.

4879. (1979.) After acquired title inures to prior grantee. If any person shall hereafter convey any real estate by conveyance purporting to convey the same in fee simple absolute, and shall not at the time of such conveyance have the legal estate in such real estate, but shall afterwards acquire the same, the legal estate subsequently acquired shall immediately pass to the grantee, his heirs, successors, or assigns, and such conveyance shall be as valid as if such legal estate had been in the grantor at the time of the conveyance.

One who conveys coal lands, before he has applied to the government to purchase same, conveys a good title thereto, if he subsequently acquires the land.

Ketchum Coal Co. v. Pleasant Valley Coal Co., 50 U. —; 168 P. 86.

4880. (1980.) Claimant not in possession may convey. Any person claiming title to any real estate may, notwithstanding there may be an adverse possession thereof, sell and convey his interest therein in the same manner and with the same effect as if he were in the actual possession thereof.

4881. (1981.) Form of warranty deed. Effect. Conveyances of land may be substantially in the following form:

WARRANTY DEED.

A B, grantor (here insert name or names and place of residence), hereby conveys and warrants to C D, grantee (here insert name or names and place of residence), for the sum of ..... dollars, the following described tract..... of land in ..... county, Utah, (here describe the premises).

Witness the hand of said grantor this ..... day of ....., A. D. 19.....

Such deed, when executed as required by law, shall have the effect of a conveyance in fee simple to the grantee, his heirs, and assigns, of the premises therein named, together with all the appurtenances, rights and privileges thereto belonging, with covenants from the grantor, his heirs, and personal representatives, that he is lawfully seized of the premises; that he has good right to convey the same; that he guarantees the grantee, his heirs, and assigns in the quiet possession thereof; that the premises are free from all incumbrances; and that the grantor, his heirs, and personal representatives will forever warrant and defend the title thereof in the grantee, his heirs, and assigns, against all lawful claims whatsoever. Any exceptions to such covenants may be briefly inserted in such deed following the description of the land

Water right passes with the land unless reserved, § 3477.

A conveyance of land adjoining a lake conveys the grantor's right to such lands that had or would attach to it by accretion or relictions as an incident to riparian ownership.

Hinckley v. Peay, 22 U. 21; 60 P. 1012.
Poynter v. Chipman, 8 U. 442; 32 P. 690.
Knudson v. Omanson, 10 U. 124; 37 P. 250.

A deed containing the words, "grant, bargain, sell, convey, assign, and deliver to the party of the second part," is sufficient to convey a fee simple interest, without words of inheritance.

Wilson v. Sullivan, 17 U. 341; 53 P. 994.

A deed of general warranty of "quiet and peaceable possession" does not warrant water rights unless they are appurtenant to the land.

George v. Robison, 23 U. 79; 63 P. 819.

Where a wife joined with her husband in a warranty deed to land of which she has no title or estate except interest granted in lieu of dower by § 6406, she is not liable to one other than her immediate grantee, since her covenant is personal, and does not run with the land.

H. T. & C. Co. v. Whitehouse, 47 U. 323; 154 P. 950.

A writing, entitled a deed of conveyance, whereby a husband gave, sold, granted, and demised all his personal and real property to his wife for love and affection, is a deed of conveyance, even though there is language subsequently which might indicate a grant of a power of attorney.

Coltharp v. Coltharp, 48 U. 389; 160 P. 121.

Where a deed granted the use of a passageway "so long as it shall be used as a passageway," the words "so long as" implied a limitation in the grant, and conferred the right to terminate the use on the grantor, since, while a grantee may at any time relinquish his right of passage without consulting the grantor, the grantor's right to terminate it must be expressed in the instrument.

Reese Howell Co. v. Brown, 48 U. 142; 158 P. 684.

A deed in statutory form conveys whatever appurtenances pertain to the land, and parol testimony is permissible to show what is appurtenant.

Wade v. Dorius, 52 U. —; 173 P. 564.
Eglund v. Fayter, 51 U. —; 172 P. 313.

Query: Do Easements pass as appurtenant to land unless they are appurtenant, obvious visible and continuous?

Wade v. Dorius, 52 U. —; 173 P. 564.

A deed to a deceased person or to the estate of a deceased person is void because there is no grantee.

Nielson v. Hamilton, 51 U. —; 173 P. —.

4882. (1982.) Form of quitclaim deed. Effect. Conveyances of land may also be substantially in the following form:

QUITCLAIM DEED.

A B, grantor (here insert name or names and place of residence), hereby quitclaims to C D, grantee (here insert name or names and place of residence), for the sum of ..... dollars, the following described tract..... of land in ..... county, Utah (here describe the premises).

Witness the hand of said grantor this ..... day of ....., A. D. 19.....

And such deed when executed as required by law shall have the effect of a conveyance of all right, title, interest, and estate of the grantor in and to the premises therein described, and all rights, privileges, and appurtenances thereto belonging at the date of such conveyance.

4883. (1983.) Form of mortgage. Effect. A mortgage may be substantially in the following form:

MORTGAGE.

A B, mortgagor (here insert name or names and place of residence) hereby mortgages to C D, mortgagee (here insert name or names and place of residence), for the sum of ..... dollars, the following described tract..... of land in ..... county, Utah (here describe the premises).

This mortgage is given to secure the following indebtedness (here state amounts and form of indebtedness, maturity, rate of interest, by and to whom payable, and where).

The mortgagor agrees to pay all taxes and assessments on said premises, and the sum of ..... dollars attorney's fee in case of foreclosure.

Witness the hand of said mortgagor this ..... day of ....., A. D. 19.....

And when executed as required by law, shall have the effect of a conveyance of the land therein described, together with all the rights, privileges, and appurtenances thereunto belonging, to the mortgagee, his heirs, assigns, and legal representatives, for the payment of the indebtedness therein set forth, with covenant from the mortgagor that all taxes and assessments levied and assessed upon the land described, during the continuance of the mortgage, shall be paid previous to the day appointed for the sale of such lands for taxes, and may be foreclosed as provided by law and with the same effect, upon any default being made in any of the conditions thereof as to payment of either principal, interest, taxes, or assessments.

Discharge or cancellation of mortgage, §§ 4905-4907.
Foreclosure of mortgages, §§ 7230-7237.
Mortgage given by one partner to secure a note purchasing the other partner's undivided half interest in their property, and which covered an undivided half interest in the partnership property, held to cover the mortgagor's rather than the mortgagee's interest where the mortgagee retained title to his share until the note should be paid.
Wheritt v. Dennis, 48 U. 309; 159 P. 534.

CHAPTER 3.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.

4884. (1984.) Real estate conveyances to be acknowledged. Every conveyance in writing, whereby any real estate is conveyed or may be affected, shall be acknowledged or proved and certified in the manner hereinafter provided.

Good as between parties without acknowledgment, § 4875.

4885. (1985.) Who may take acknowledgments. The proof or acknowledgment of every conveyance, whereby any real estate is conveyed or may be affected, shall be taken by some one of the following officers:

1. If acknowledged or proved within this state, by some judge or clerk of a court having a seal, or some notary public, county clerk, or county recorder;

2. If acknowledged or proved without this state and within any state or territory of the United States, by some judge or clerk of any court in the United States, or of any state or territory having a seal, or by a notary public, or by a commissioner appointed by the governor of this state for that purpose;

3. If acknowledged or proved without the United States, by some judge or clerk of any court of any state, kingdom, or empire having a seal, or any notary public therein, or any ambassador, minister, commissioner, or consul of the United States appointed to reside therein.

Justices of the peace forbidden to take acknowledgments of instruments required to be recorded, § 2529.
Notary to affix date of expiration of commission, §§ 4256-4257.

4886. (1986.) Id. By deputy. When any of the officers above mentioned are authorized by law to appoint a deputy, such acknowledgment or proof may be taken by any such deputy in the name of his principal.

4887. (1987.) Certificate of acknowledgment. Every officer who shall take the proof or acknowledgment of any conveyance affecting any real estate shall grant a certificate thereof, and cause such certificate to be indorsed or annexed to such conveyance. Such certificate shall be:

1. When granted by any judge or clerk, under the hand of such judge or clerk, and the seal of the court;

2. When granted by any other officer, under the hand and official seal of such officer.

4888. (1988.) Party must be known or identified. No acknowledgment of any conveyance, whereby any real estate is conveyed or may be affected, shall be taken unless the person offering to make such acknowledgment shall be personally known to the officer taking the same to be the person whose name is subscribed to such conveyance as a party thereto, or shall be proved to be such by the oath or affirmation of a credible witness personally known to the officer taking the acknowledgment.

In the absence of statutory provisions the law does not permit an officer to take the acknowledgment of a stranger without satisfactory proof of his identity.
Deseret Nat. Bank v. Kidman, 25 U. 379; 71 P. 873.

4889. (1989.) Forms of certificates. Individual. Corporate. A certificate of acknowledgment to any instrument in writing affecting the title to any real property in this state may be substantially in the following form:

State of Utah, county of .....

On the ..... day of ....., A. D. 19....., personally appeared before me A B, the signer of the above instrument, who duly acknowledged to me that he executed the same.

The certificate of acknowledgment of an instrument executed by a corporation must be substantially in the following form:

State of Utah, county of .....

On the ..... day of ....., A. D. 19....., personally appeared before me A B, who, being by me duly sworn (or affirmed), did say that he is the president (or other officer or agent, as the case may be) of (naming the corporation), and that said instrument was signed in behalf of said corporation by authority of its by-laws (or by resolution of its board of directors, as the case may be), and said A B acknowledged to me that said corporation executed the same.

Under this section and § 4875, where officers of a corporation executed a deed to defendant, to secure a loan, but did not make oath, etc., the deed was good as against the trustee in bankruptcy of the corporation estate.

Murray v. Beal, 23 U. 548; 65 P. 726.

A certificate of acknowledgment to an instrument made pursuant to § 2958, R. S. Idaho, prescribing the form therefor, should be liberally construed; the section expressly requiring that it be "substantially" in the form therein given.

Deseret Nat. Bank v. Kidman, 25 U. 379; 71 P. 873.

4890. (1990.) Id. Where grantor unknown to officer. When the grantor is unknown to the officer taking the acknowledgment, the certificate shall be substantially in the following form, to wit:

State of Utah, county of .....

On this ..... day of ....., A. D. 19....., personally appeared before me A B, satisfactorily proved to me to be the signor of the above instrument by the oath of C D, a competent and credible witness for that purpose, by me duly sworn, and he, the said A B, acknowledged that he executed the same.

Such certificate when properly executed by an officer authorized to take acknowledgments to instruments in writing affecting the title to real property in this state, and attached to a conveyance in writing, shall be a sufficient acknowledgment and certificate that such conveyance was executed as required by law.

In the absence of statutory authority the law does not permit an officer to take the acknowledgment of a stranger without satisfactory proof of his identity.

Deseret Nat. Bank v. Kidman, 25 U. 379; 71 P. 873.

4891. (1991.) Proof of execution, by whom made. The proof of the execution of any conveyance whereby real estate is conveyed, or may be affected, shall be:

1. By the testimony of a subscribing witness, if there is one; or,
2. When all the subscribing witnesses are dead, or cannot be had, by evidence of the handwriting of the party, and of a subscribing witness, if there is one, given by a credible witness to each signature.

4892. (1992.) Id. Witness must be known or identified. No proof by a subscribing witness shall be taken unless such witness shall be personally known to the officer taking the proof to be the person whose name is subscribed to the conveyance as a witness thereto, or shall be proved to be such by the oath or affirmation of a credible witness personally known to such officer.

4894. (1994.) Id. Form of certificate. The certificate of such proof shall be substantially in the following form, to wit:

State of Utah, county of .....

On this ..... day of ..... A. D. 19....., before me personally appeared

A B, personally known to me (or satisfactorily proved to me by the oath of C D, a competent and credible witness for that purpose, by me duly sworn) to be the same person whose name is subscribed to the above instrument as a witness thereto, who, being by me duly sworn, deposes and says that he resides in ....., county of ....., and state of Utah; that he was present and saw E F, personally known to him to be the signor of the above instrument as a party thereto, sign and deliver the same, and heard him acknowledge that he executed the same, and that he, the deponent, thereupon signed his name as a subscribing witness thereto, at the request of the said E F.

4895. (1995.) Proof of handwriting, when taken. No proof by evidence of the handwriting of a party, or of the subscribing witness or witnesses, shall be taken, unless the officer taking the same shall be satisfied that all the subscribing witnesses to such conveyance are dead, out of the jurisdiction or cannot be had to prove the execution thereof.

RECORDING CONVEYANCES.

4899. (1999.) Must be acknowleged to be recorded. A certificate of the acknowledgment of any conveyance, or of the proof of the execution thereof, as provided in this title, signed and certified by the officer taking the same, as provided in this title, shall entitle such conveyance, with the certificate or certificates as aforesaid, to be recorded in the office of the recorder of the county in which the real estate is situated.

Conveyances, etc., sent by telegraph or telephone may be recorded, § 6118.

4900. (2000.) Record imparts notice. Every conveyance or instrument in writing affecting real estate, executed, acknowledged, or proved, and certified in the manner prescribed by this title, and every patent to lands within this state duly executed and verified according to law, and every judgment, order, or decree of any court of record in this state, or a copy thereof, required by law to be recorded in the office of the county recorder, shall, from the time of filing the same with the recorder for record, impart notice to all persons of the contents thereof, and subsequent purchasers, mortgagees, and lienholders shall be deemed to purchase and take with notice.

Similar section and decisions thereon, § 4875, and note.

Unrecorded conveyances, etc., valid as between parties and others having actual notice, § 4875, and note.

Probate decrees to be recorded, notice, § 7871.

Title of purchaser from heir in absence of record of will, § 6391.

Effect of recording assignment of mortgage, § 4903.

Unrecorded conveyance void as to subsequent purchasers in good faith, § 4901.

Acknowledgment, §§ 4884-4891.

Certificate of proof, §§ 4891-4898.

Acknowledgment or certificate of proof entitles conveyance to be recorded, § 4899.

Certain conveyances validated, §§ 4908-4911.

Conveyances, etc., may be sent by telegraph or telephone, § 6118.

Notice imparted by filing in recorder's office, § 1584.

Where a deed was recorded and grantee went into and remained in possession for several years, a presumption of delivery arises. Hatch v. Hatch, 46 U. 218; 148 P. 433.

4901. (2001.) Effect of failure to record. Every conveyance of real estate within this state hereafter made, which shall not be recorded as provided in this title, shall be void as against any subsequent purchaser, in good faith and for a valuable consideration, of the same real estate, or any portion thereof, where his own conveyance shall be first duly recorded.

Effect of actual or constructive notice, § 4875, and note.

The assignee of a mortgage is required to have the assignment recorded in order to give notice to subsequent grantees, mortgagees, and lienholders; and the indorsements and delivery of the note upon which the mortgage is given to the assignee is equivalent to an assignment and the delivery of the mortgage. Donaldson v. Grant, 15 U. 231; 49 P. 779.

Under the laws of Utah in 1872, a junior mortgage taken without notice of a prior mortgage, actual or constructive, and first recorded, is to be preferred in its lien to a mortgage prior in execution but subsequently recorded. Wells, Fargo & Co. v. Smith, 2 U. 39; affirmed 104 U. S. 428.

4902. Copy of instrument may be recorded in another county. Effect. Whenever an original instrument in writing is of record in the office of the county recorder of any county in this state, a copy of such recorded instrument, certified by the county recorder of such county, may be recorded in the office of the county recorder of any other county in this state; and the recording of any such certified copy in the office of the county recorder of such other county, whether done heretofore or hereafter, shall, from and after the date on which this section becomes effective, have the same force and effect as though the said original instrument had been recorded in such other county. '15, p. 83.

4903. (2002.) Record of assignment of mortgage. The recording of an assignment of a mortgage shall not in itself be deemed notice of such assignment to the mortgagor, his heirs, or personal representatives so as to invalidate any payment made by them or either of them to the mortgagee.

4904. (2003.) Conveyances executed and acknowledged prior to revised statutes. All conveyances of real estate made before the revised statutes go into effect. and acknowledged or proved according to the laws in force at the time of such making and acknowledgment or proof, have the same force as evidence, and may be recorded in the same manner and with like effect as conveyances executed and acknowledged in pursuance of this title.

Mont. Civ. C., § 1626.

4905. (2004.) Cancellation of mortgage by certificate. A cancellation or discharge of a mortgage or deed of trust may be substantially in the following form:

CERTIFICATE OF DISCHARGE.

This certifies that a (mortgage or deed of trust, as the case may be) from A B to C D, dated ..... A. D. 19....., and recorded in book ..... of ..... on page ....., is hereby canceled and discharged.

Signed in the presence of

.....

Recorder of ..... county.

Recorded ....., A. D. 19....., at ..... m.

....., County Recorder.

Such cancellation or discharge shall be entered in a book kept for that purpose and signed by the mortgagee or trustee, his attorney in fact, executor, administrator, or assigns, in the presence of the recorder or his deputy, who shall subscribe the same as a witness, and such cancellation or discharge shall have the same effect as a deed of release duly acknowledged and recorded.

Where a mortgagor, without any knowledge of the fraud of the mortgagee's attorney in fact, obtains from him a release of the mortgage which had six years to run paying one-half of the mortgage, the release is valid and binding, being supported by an adequate consideration.
Rohwer v. Burrell, 42 U. 510; 134 P. 573.

Attorney's fee on foreclosure, § 7237.
Provision of this section for attorney's fee to mortgagor in action to compel cancellation is a special law, and unconstitutional.
Openshaw v. Young, 24 U. 427; 68 P. 138.

CHAPTER 5.

VALIDATING CERTAIN CONVEYANCES.

4908. (2007.) Instruments validated. All deeds made and executed prior to January 1, 1913, by the mayors of cities and probate judges of counties in the state or territory of Utah under the law relating to the "rules and regulations under the townsite act" that do not appear to have been signed or executed before any subscribing witness, or that are not subscribed by any witness, as required by any law of the state or territory of Utah existing at the time of making such deed or instrument, are hereby validated and confirmed, and shall have the same force and effect as though they had been originally signed and executed by subscribing witnesses thereto.

Am'd '13, p. 10.

Townsite law, §§ 6121-6140.

4909. (2008.) Deeds executed by city or mayor. Deeds and conveyances executed prior to January 1, 1913, by any city in the state or territory of Utah, in its corporate name, of lands held in trust by the mayor, are hereby validated and confirmed, and shall have the same force and effect and operation as though they had been executed by the mayor. Am'd '13, p. 10.

Conveyances under townsite law, § 6121-6127.

This provision is remedial, and applies to pending actions, and a patent is admissible in evidence in an action to quiet title.
Tate v. Rose, 35 U. 229; 99 P. 1003.
Tate v. Shaw, 35 U. 240; 99 P. 1007.

CHAPTER 6.

UNIFORM LAND REGISTRATION ACT.

('17, p. 51.)

PRELIMINARY PROVISIONS.

4920. How chapter may be cited. This chapter may be cited as the uniform land registration act.

4921. Definitions. Words and phrases used in this chapter are to be construed as follows:

1. The words "voluntary transaction" mean all devises and all contractual or other acts or dealings, by any registered owner of any estate or interest in land with reference to such estate or interest, and to any statutory right or exemption claimed therein.
2. The words "involuntary transaction" mean the transmission of registered land or any interest therein by descent, or succession, all equitable rights and claims, judicial proceedings, or statutory liens or charges, the exercise of the right of eminent domain, the lien of delinquent taxes and levies, affecting registered land, or any interest therein.
3. The phrase "writing, instrument, or record," means all transactions, whether voluntary or involuntary, as herein defined.
4. The word "registrar" means the clerk of the court having juridiction of the cause within the county in which the land lies.
5. The word "decree" means judgment, decision, order, or decree.
6. The word "appeal" means writ of error, supersedeas, or appeal.
7. Except where the context requires a different construction, the word "court" means the court having jurisdiction for the settlement, registration, transfer, and assurance of titles to lands in the county where the land lies.

4922. Purposes. For the certain, cheaper, and more speedy settlement, registration, transfer, and assurance of titles to land, there is hereby established a system of land title registration, having the following purposes in detail:

1. To designate courts of land registration;
2. To provide for the appointment and duties of registrars of title;
3. To regulate proceedings to obtain registration of title;
4. To authorize the adjudication of title;
5. To prescribe the nature of certificates of title;
6. To provide for the registration of subsequent dealings with registered titles;
7. To regulate sundry proceedings after registration of title;
8. To determine the legal effects of registration of title;
9. To establish an assurance fund; and
10. To regulate the fees for registration of titles.

COURTS OF LAND REGISTRATION.

4923. Courts of land registration. The district courts throughout the state are hereby constituted or designated courts of land registration for the purpose of the settlement, registration, transfer, and assurance of titles to lands (or any interest therein as hereinafter provided) within their respective jurisdictions.

4924. Id. Jurisdiction. Such courts shall have exclusive original and general jurisdiction, subject to the right of appeal hereinafter allowed:

1. Of all petitions and proceedings for the registration of titles to lands; and
2. Of all transactions affecting registered titles to lands lying within their respective jurisdictions.

4925. Id. Powers. Their powers shall include all the powers necessary in law and equity, for the purpose of enforcing any of the provisions of this chapter.

4926. Id. Sessions. They shall be open as courts of land registration, except on Sundays and legal holidays; and their process as such may be issued at any time, returnable as they may direct.

4927. Mode of trial. The whole matter of law and fact in any case shall be heard and determined by the court; provided, however, that, on the motion of any person interested, the court shall direct and frame an issue or issues to be tried by jury.

4928. Proceedings to be in rem. The proceedings under any petition for the registration of land, and all proceedings or transactions in relation to registered land, shall be proceedings in rem against the land, and the decrees of the court and registered transactions shall operate directly on the land, and shall vest and establish title thereto in acccordance with the provisions of this chapter.

4929. Rules of court. The supreme court shall, from time to time, make general rules and forms for procedure, subject to the provisions of this chapter and the general laws, and such rules and forms shall be uniform throughout the state.

4930. Petition for rehearing or appeals. A petition for rehearing or an appeal may be taken, as in other cases, in said court. Said period may not be extended by any disability.

4931. Books and cases for records. Seal. It shall be the duty of the county commissioners of each county in which the office of a registrar of titles may be located to provide appropriate cases and other furniture for the safe and convenient keeping of all the books, documents, and papers in the custody of such registrar, and also an official seal, and all necessary books and such printed blanks and stationery for use in registration in such county as may be ordered by the court.

4932. Court may be held by designated judge. If the judge of the court for any reason shall become disqualified or temporarily incapacitated, the court may be held by any other judge of the district court designated by law.

REGISTRARS AND EXAMINERS OF TITLES.

4933. Clerks to be registrars of title. The county clerks shall be ex officio registrars of title under this chapter.

1. They shall do all things required of them by this chapter, under the direction of their respective courts, and pursuant to rules and regulations established for such courts, and shall be governed by the same general laws as apply to clerks of the district courts, in so far as the same may be applicable.

2. Their official designation under this chapter shall be registrar of title for their respective counties.

3. They shall qualify and give bond in accordance with law for the faithful performance of their duties as such.

4934. Duties and powers of registrars of title. Registrars of title and their deputies shall be authorized and required, under the direction of their respective courts:

1. To issue process and to enter the decree of the court touching lands in their respective counties;

2. To enter and issue certificates of title as provided herein;

3. To affix the seal of the court to such certificates and their duplicates;

4. To make entries and memoranda and perform all acts of registration affecting the title to such lands;

5. To keep a separate account of all moneys with which they may be chargeable under this chapter, and to make a special return thereof in accordance with the general laws and the special provisions of this chapter.

6. And generally to perform such other acts as the court may prescribe.

4935. Examiners of titles. The courts of land registration shall appoint, subject to removal at any time, one or more attorneys at law in their respective counties to be examiners of titles, or the court may, in any case on motion, appoint special examiners. Their duty shall be to search the records and investigate all facts stated in the petition or otherwise brought to their notice in any case referred to them. They shall have the powers of referees and may hear the parties and receive evidence. They shall make report to the court, in the form required by it, with a certificate of their examination of the title and their findings of fact.

PROCEEDINGS TO OBTAIN REGISTRATION.

4936. Petition for registration. Suit for registration of title shall be begun by a petition to the court, by a person or persons claiming, singly or collectively:

1. To own; or

2. To have the power of appointing or disposing of, an estate in fee simple in any land whether subject to liens or not.

4937. Petition by representative. Infants and other persons under disability may sue and defend by guardian or trustee, as the case may be, and corporations by an officer duly authorized, but the person in whose behalf the petition is made shall always be named as petitioner. A non-resident petitioner shall appoint a resident agent upon whom process and notices may be served.

4938. Practice. Except as otherwise provided, the suit shall be subject to the general rules of pleading and practice in district courts.

4939. Signature and oath to petition. The petition and any amendment thereto shall be signed and sworn to by each petitioner or, in the case of a corporation or person under disability, by the person authorized to file the petition.

4940. Contents of petition. The petition shall set forth:

1. A full description of the land, and any improvements thereon, with the description and valuation in its last assessment for general taxes;

2. When, how, and from whom it was acquired;

3. Whether or not it is occupied;

4. An enumeration of all known liens, interests, and claims, adverse or otherwise, vested or contingent, and

5. The full names and addresses, if known, of all persons that may be interested, by marriage or otherwise, including adjoining owners and occupants.

The petition shall be accompanied by a plan made in accordance with the rules of court.

4941. Petition to be filed and docketed. The petition shall be filed with the registrar of titles, and shall be forthwith docketed, numbered, and indexed by him in a book to be known as the land registration docket of his county.

4942. Notice of lis pendens. The registrar shall also forthwith cause to be recorded and indexed in the proper record book of such county a notice, such as is required by law for notice of lis pendens, which shall be filed with the petition, and which shall have the full force and effect of a notice of lis pendens.

Lis pendens generally, §§ 6553-6557.

4943. Memorandum of other papers. A memorandum of all other pleadings and papers filed with said registrar shall in each case be entered upon his registration docket under the proper number as aforesaid, and the papers in the cause, and all writings, instruments, and records filed with him shall be safely kept by him in his office, duly numbered, dated and indexed.

4944. Reference to examiner of titles. Upon the filing of a petition for the registration of any land, the court shall refer the same to one of the examiners of title provided for by the chapter, to examine and report thereon.

4945. Report of examiner. Such report shall include:

1. An abstract of title to the land, and all other evidence that can be reasonably obtained by the examiner;

2. Full extracts from the records to enable the court to decide the questions involved;

3. The names and addresses so far as ascertained of all persons interested in the land, as well as adjoining owners and occupants, showing their several interests, and indicating upon whom and in what manner process should be served or notice given in accordance with the provisions of this chapter

4946. Order of publication in rem. Upon the filing of the report of the examiner of titles, the court shall cause notice thereof to all persons shown therein to be entitled to the same, and "to all whom it may concern," to be published, and to be posted in the county where the land lies, in the same manner and with the same effect as an order of publication in other proceedings in rem, subject, however, to the limitation imposed by § 4930.

4947. Notice by mail. A copy of the order of publication shall in all cases be mailed by registered letter demanding a return, to every person interested named in the petition or in the report of the examiner of titles whose address is given or known.

4948. Notice by posting on land. The court shall also cause an attested copy of said order to be posted in a conspicuous place by the sheriff on each parcel of land included in the petition. It shall require such sheriff to go upon the lands and ascertain and report to court the names and addresses of any person or persons actually occupying the premises under any claim of title.

4949. Notice to state. If the petition involves the determination of any public rights or interests, the court shall cause a copy of the order of publication to be delivered by the registrar to the proper attorney for the state, county, or city.

4950. Other notice. The court may cause other or further notice to be given in such manner and to such person as it may deem proper. And such personal service of process as is required in equitable actions shall also be made upon residents of the state, not under disability, who are made known to the court before final decree and can be reached by its process, unless such service be waived by appearance or otherwise.

4951. Effect of notice. Notice given under the preceding sections shall be in lieu of personal service of process, except as provided in § 4950, and shall be conclusive and binding on all the world.

4952. Certificate of service. Certificates from the registrar and sheriff, or their deputies, showing the due execution of said order of publication and the mailing and posting of copies thereof, as required by §§ 4946-4949, inclusive, shall be filed among the papers in the cause and be conclusive proof of such service.

4953. Time of hearing. After the expiration of at least fifteen days from the publication and posting of said order of publication as aforesaid, the cause shall be set down for hearing.

4954. Guardian ad litem. And thereupon the court shall appoint a competent attorney at law of the county in which the land lies, as guardian ad litem for all persons under disability, not in being, unascertained, unknown, or out of the state, who may have or appear to have an interest in or claim against the land.

4955. Answer to petition. Any person having any interest in or claim against the land, whether named in the petition and order of publication or not, may appear and file an answer at any time before final decree, unless such person shall have been served personally with notice.

4956. Signature and oath to answer. The answer shall be personally signed and sworn to by the claimant or, in case of a corporation or a person under disability, by the person authorized to file the answer, unless the court, for good cause shown, otherwise direct.

ADJUDICATION OF TITLE.

4957. Action on report of examiner of titles. After the expiration of the time as provided by § 4953, the court may proceed to take such action as may be proper upon the report of the examiner of titles and all other evidence before it with reference to the rights of all persons appearing to have any interest in or claim against the land, and may refer the cause again or require further proof.

4958. Order of survey, etc. While the cause is pending before the examiner of titles, or at any time before final decree, and whenever after initial registration a tract of land is subdivided, the court:

1. May require the land to be surveyed, after due notice to owners of adjoining land, by a competent surveyor appointed by the court;
2. Shall order durable bounds to be set and a plat thereof to be filed among the papers of the suit;
3. Shall enter all necessary decrees for the establishment, declaration, and protection of the right and title of all persons appearing to have any interest in or claim against the land.

4959. Petition may be dismissed. If in any case the petitioner so desires, or if the court is of opinion that the petitioner's title is not and cannot be made proper for registration, the petition may be dismissed without prejudice, on terms to be determined by the court.

4960. Amendments to petition and other pleadings. Amendments to petitions or other pleadings, or the severance thereof, including joinder, substitution of any person or persons, or discontinuance of parties, and the omission or severance of any portion or parcel of the land, may be ordered or allowed by the court at any time before final decree upon terms that may be just and reasonable; and the court may require facts to be stated in an amended petition in addition to those prescribed by this chapter.

4961. Land may be dealt with, pending registration, subject to decree of the court. The land described in any petition may be dealt with pending registration as if no such petition had been filed.

1. But any instrument admitted to record under the general laws in relation to such land pending action on said petition shall also be docketed and indexed as required by § 4941.

2. And any person who shall acquire any interest in or claim against such land shall at once appear as a petitioner, or answer as a party defendant, in the proceedings for registration, and such interest or claims shall be subject to the decree of the court.

4962. Certificate of taxes paid. No final decree of registration shall be entered until proof is made by certificate from the proper officer that all taxes and levies assessed on said land and then due or delinquent have been paid in full.

4963. Decree of registration is final, quiets title, and binds all the world, subject to appeal. If the court, after final hearing, is of opinion that the petitioner has title proper for registration, a decree of confirmation and registration shall be entered; and every decree of registration entered in accordance with the provisions of this chapter:

1. Shall bind the land and quiet the title thereto, except as herein otherwise provided;

2. Shall be forever binding and conclusive upon all persons, resident or non-resident, including the state, whether mentioned by name in the order of publication or included under the general description, "to all whom it may concern";

3. And shall not be attacked or opened or set aside by reason of the absence, infancy, or other disability of any person affected thereby, nor by any proceeding at law or in equity for rehearing or reversing judgments or decrees, except as herein especially provided.

4964. Form of decree and manner of registration. Every decree of initial registration and subsequent memorial shall be made in convenient form for transcription upon the certificate of title, showing the following items:

1. Name and residence of the owner, and whether married or unmarried, and the name of the consort, if any; if the owner is under disability, the nature thereof, and if an infant, his age; if a corporation, the place of incorporation and its chief office; if a personal representative or trustee, the name of the decedent, or beneficiary.

2. Description of the land as finally determined by the court; the estate of the owner therein; also all the rights and easements appurtenant to said lands; and also a description of all particular estates, easements, liens, or other incumbrances, or rights, to which the land or the owner's estate is subject, showing their relative priorities.

3. Any other matter determined in pursuance of the provisions of this chapter.

4965. Time of taking effect. Such decree or memorial shall take effect upon the land described therein as of the day, hour, and minute it is filed for registration in the office of the proper registrar.

CERTIFICATES OF TITLE.

4969. Register of titles. Book kept by registrar. Each registrar shall also keep a register of titles book, in which, under the direction of the court, he shall:

1. Register, number, and index the original certificates of title and all subsequent certificates of title, and all voluntary or involuntary transactions authorized to be registered under this chapter; and

2. Note thereon, and also upon the duplicate certificate thereof, when originally issued or subsequently presented, the day, hour, and minute of registration in each case in conformity with the dates shown by the entry book.

4970. Certificate of title. Every certificate of title entered in the register of titles as aforesaid, together with the memorials thereon, if any, shall be known as "the certificate of title." Said certificate shall be conclusive evidence of all matters contained therein, except as otherwise provided in this chapter. No erasure, alteration, or amendment of said certificate, or of any memorial thereon, shall be made except by order of the court.

4971. Owner's duplicate certificate. An exact copy of the certificate of title shall be made, except that it shall be conspicuously stamped or marked "owner's duplicate," and shall be delivered to the owner, or his attorney duly appointed, upon his receipt therefor in writing upon said certificate of title attested by the registrar or his deputy.

4972. Certificates of title to be numbered, and memorials thereon to be signed and sealed. All the certificates of title of land in each county shall be numbered consecutively. A separate folium, with appropriate spaces for subsequent memorials, shall be devoted to each title in the register of titles for each county. Every certificate and memorial thereon shall appropriately conform to the requirements of §§ 4964 and 4967 as to particulars of form. Every memorial made upon any certificate of title or duplicate certificate under any provisions of this chapter shall be signed by the registrar and sealed with the seal of the court and minutely dated and numbered in conformity with the date and number shown by the entry book.

REGISTRATION OF TRANSFERS AND OTHER TRANSACTIONS.

4973. Transfers of the whole of any registered estate. Whenever the whole of any registered estate is transferred, the transaction shall be duly noted and registered in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. Thereupon the certificate of title and any duplicate certificate relating to such estate shall be canceled by the registrar of each county in which the land, or any part thereof, lies, if desired by the registered owner, and a new certificate or certificates of title shall be entered in the register of titles for such county, and a duplicate or duplicates thereof issued as the case may require.

4974. Partial transfers. Encumbrances. Leases. If only a portion of such estate is transferred, or in case of an encumbrance or lease for more than one year, the transaction shall be duly noted and registered as aforesaid; and a new certificate of title shall be entered in the register of titles and new owner's duplicate certificate shall be issued for the portion transferred and the portion untransferred, or a beneficiary's duplicate or lessee's duplicate may be issued, as the case may require.

4975. Memorials to be noted. All registered encumbrances, rights, or adverse claims affecting the estate represented thereby shall continue to be noted upon every outstanding certificate of title and duplicate certificate until the same shall have been released or discharged or terminated.

4976. Registration of voluntary transactions. In voluntary transactions, the duplicate certificate of title must be presented along with the writing or instrument filed for registration; and thereupon and not otherwise, the registrar shall be authorized to register the transaction, under the direction of the court, upon proof of payment of all delinquent taxes and levies, if any.

4977. Registration of involuntary transactions. In involuntary transactions, a certificate from the proper state, county, city, or court officer, or certified copy of the order, decree, or judgment of any court of competent jurisdiction, or other appropriate evidence of compliance with the statute in relation to such transaction, when filed in the office of the proper registrar, shall be authority for him to register the transaction under the direction of the court; provided, that any writing or instrument for the purpose of transferring, encumbering, or otherwise dealing with equitable interests in registered land may be registered with such effect as it may be entitled to have.

1. The course of ultimate descent under the statute of succession when duly registered;

2. Nor the order in which real and personal assets respectively are now applicable in and towards the payment of funeral and testamentary expenses, debts, or legacies;

3. Nor the liability of real estate to be charged with the payment of debts and legacies.

4985. Registration of final sale, if no redemption. If there be no redemption under said section in accordance with law, it shall be the duty of the treasurer, or other collector of taxes of the county or corporation in which the land lies, to sell the same, at public auction, for cash, having first given reasonable notice of the time and place of sale. The proceeds of sale shall be applied:

1. To the payment of all taxes, then due the state, and all levies then due the county, town, or city, with interest, penalty, and costs;

2. To the payment of all sums paid by any person who purchased at the former tax sale, with interest and the additional sum of $5;

3. To the payment of a commission to the officer making the sale of 5 per cent on the first $300 and 2 per cent on the residue of the proceeds;

4. To the satisfaction of any liens, other than said taxes and levies, registered against said land in the order of their priorities;

5. And the surplus, if any, to the person in whose name the land was previously sold for taxes, subject to redemption, as provided by § 4983, his heirs, personal representatives, or assigns.

A memorial of the sale under this section shall be duly registered, and a new certificate shall be entered and a duplicate issued in favor of the purchaser, in whom title shall be thereby vested as registered owner, in accordance with the provisions of this chapter.

4986. Future interests not affected. Nothing in the preceding section shall be so construed as to affect, or divest, the title of a tenant in reversion or remainder to any real estate which has been returned delinquent and sold on account of the default of the tenant for life in paying the taxes or levies assessed thereon.

SUNDRY PROCEEDINGS AFTER REGISTRATION.

4987. Petitions concerning registered land and caveats and decrees thereon. Any registered owner of any estate or interest in land, or any person, having any claim against registered land arising from any other cause than fraud or forgery since the land was registered, may, within ninety days after the claim or cause of complaint shall have arisen, petition the court for relief in any matter within its jurisdiction; and it shall be the duty of the proper registrar, upon the request of any such person, to register a memorial that such petition has been or will be filed, which memorial shall serve as a caveat and be notice to all persons. And whenever any registrar is in doubt as to the proper registration to be made in any case, or when any person is aggrieved by any act or refusal to act by the registrar, the question may be likewise submitted by petition.

4989. Service of notice. Notice in lieu of process under this chapter, or otherwise in relation to registered land, may be served upon any person by registered mail, and the postoffice registry return receipt shall be evidence of such service, and shall be binding, whether such person resides within or without the state; but the court may in any case order different or further service by publication once a week for four successive weeks in some convenient newspaper or otherwise, which shall be likewise binding.

4990. Proceedings upon loss or destruction of duplicate certificate. Whenever a duplicate certificate of title is lost or destroyed, the owner, or his personal representative, may petition the court for the issuance of a new duplicate. Notice of such petition shall be published once a week for four successive weeks, under the direction of the court, in some convenient newspaper. Upon satisfactory proof that said duplicate certificate has been lost or destroyed, the court may direct the issuance of a new duplicate certificate, which shall be appropriately designated and take the place of the original duplicate.

LEGAL EFFECTS OF REGISTRATION OF TITLE.

4991. Effect of registration as notice to subsequent purchasers. Every voluntary or involuntary transaction which, if recorded, filed, or entered in any clerk's office, would affect unregistered land, shall, if duly registered in the office of the proper registrar, and not otherwise, be notice to all persons from the time of such registration, and operate in accordance with law and with the provisions of this chapter upon any registered land in the county of such registrar to which it relates.

4992. Effect of registration upon adverse claims. Every registered owner of any estate or interest in land brought under this chapter shall hold the land free from any and all adverse claims, rights, or encumbrances not noted on the certificate of title, except:

1. Liens, claims, or rights arising or existing under the laws or constitution of the United States which the statutes of this state cannot require to appear of record under registry laws;
2. Taxes and levies assessed thereon but not delinquent;

3. Any lease for a term not exceeding one year under which the land is actually occupied.

4994. Effect of registration procured through fraud or forgery. Any registration procured through fraud or forgery may be set aside by the court according to the rules of equity; but the rights and title of an innocent intervening registered encumbrancer or purchaser for value and without notice shall not be affected thereby. And in such cases the injured party may pursue all his legal and equitable remedies against the party or parties to such fraud or forgery.

4996. No right of adverse possession or prescription. No title to, nor right or interest in, registered land in derogation of that of the registered owner shall be acquired by prescription or adverse possession.

4997. Effect of subsequent dealings with registered land. Except as otherwise specially provided by this chapter, registered land and ownership therein shall be subject to the same rights, burdens, and incidents as unregistered land, and may be dealt with by the owner, and shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the courts in the same manner as if it had not been registered. But registration shall be the only operative act to transfer or affect the title to registered land, and shall date from the time the writing, instrument, or record to be registered is duly filed and entered in the office of the proper registrar. Subject to the provisions of § 4992, no voluntary nor involuntary transaction shall affect the title to registered land until registered in accordance with the requirements of this chapter.

4998. Conflicting claims between registered owners. In case of conflicting claims between registered owners, the right, title, or estate derived from or held under the older certificate of title shall prevail.

ASSURANCE FUND AND FEES FOR REGISTRATION.

4999. Fee for original registration as assurance fund. Upon the filing of the petition for the original registration of any land under this chapter, there shall be paid to the registrar one-tenth of one per cent of the assessed value of such land as an assurance fund, which shall be subject to the trusts and conditions hereinafter declared for the uses and purposes of this chapter.

5000. Payments into state treasury upon trust. All moneys received by the registrars under the preceding section shall be kept in a separate account, and shall be paid into the state treasury upon the special trust and condition that the same shall be set aside by the treasurer in trust as a separate fund for the uses and purposes of this chapter, to be known as the "land registration assurance fund," which said fund is hereby appropriated to the uses and purposes set forth in this chapter.

said fund together with any income not required for the purposes aforesaid, shall be transferred from the land registration assurance fund to the general treasury.

5002. Suits against the assurance fund. Any person who had no actual notice of any registration under this chapter by which he may be deprived of any estate or interest in land, and who is without remedy hereunder, may, within two years next after the time at which the right to bring such action shall have first accrued to him or to some person through whom he claims, bring an action against the treasurer of the state in the district court of the county in which such land is located, for the recovery out of the assurance fund of any damages to which he may be entitled by reason of such deprivation. The assurance fund shall be defended in such action and in any appeal by the attorney-general for the state. The measure of damages in such action shall be the value of the property at the time the right to bring such action first accrued, and any judgment rendered therefor shall be paid as hereinafter provided. If any person entitled to bring such action be under the disability of infancy, insanity, imprisonment, or absence from the state in the service of the state or of the United States at the time the right to bring such action first accrued, the same may be brought by him or his privies within two years after the removal of such disability.

5003. Defendants to suits against assurance fund. If such action be brought to recover for loss or damage arising only through the legal operation of this chapter, then the treasurer of the state shall be the sole defendant. But if such action be brought to recover for loss or damage arising on account of any registration made or procured through the fraud or wrongful act of any person not exercising a judicial function, then both the treasurer of the state and such person shall be made parties defendant.

5004. Judgment against the assurance fund. If judgment be rendered for the plaintiff in any such action, execution shall issue against the defendants, if any, other than the treasurer of the state. And if such execution be returned unsatisfied in whole or in part, or if there be no such defendants, then the clerk of the court in which the judgment was rendered shall certify to the state auditor the amount due on account thereof, and the same shall then be paid by said treasurer out of the assurance fund on warrant from said state auditor under the special appropriation hereby made of said fund for that purpose. Any person other than the treasurer of the state against whom any such judgment may have been rendered shall remain liable therefor, or for so much thereof as may be paid out of the assurance fund, and said treasurer may bring suit at any time to enforce the lien of such judgment against such person or his estate for the recovery of any amount, with interest, paid out of the assurance fund as aforesaid.

5005. When assurance fund not liable. The assurance fund shall not, under any circumstances, be liable for any loss, damage, or deprivation occasioned by a breach of trust, whether express, implied, or constructive, on the part of the registered owner of any estate or interest in land.

5006. How judgments shall be satisfied out of assurance fund. If at any time the assurance fund be insufficient to satisfy any judgment certified against it as aforesaid, the unpaid amount shall bear interest and be paid in its order out of any moneys thereafter coming into said fund.

5007. Fees of registrar and other officers of the court. The fees payable under this chapter shall be as follows:

1. To registrars. For docketing, indexing, and filing any original petition and exhibits therewith, and publishing and mailing the notices thereof, the postage required and $3.

For docketing, indexing, and filing any other paper, 50 cents.

For the entry of the original certificate of title and issuing one duplicate certificate, and recording and indexing memorandum, $3.

For each additional duplicate, 50 cents.

For the registration of any writing, instrument, or record, or any memorial, including every act necessary therefor, $1.

2. To examiners of titles. For examining title and making report to the court, one-tenth of one per cent of the value of the land, and postage and $10.

3. To sheriffs. For ascertaining and reporting to court the names and addresses of the persons actually occupying the premises described in any petition, $1.

4. For any service of the registrars, or of any sheriff or surveyor not specially provided for herein, such fee as may be allowed by law for like services in other cases.

5008. Interpretation and construction of chapter. This chapter shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it.

CHAPTER 7.

PLATS AND SUBDIVISIONS.

5021. (2011.) Owner may plat lands. It shall be lawful for any owner or owners of any land, or any trustee or trustees selected by such owners, to lay out and plat such land into lots, streets, alleys, and public places.

This section applies to land outside, as well that within, incorporated cities and towns. Sowadski v. Salt Lake County, 36 U. 127; 104 P. 111.

5022. (2012.) Map. Whenever any lands are hereafter laid out and platted as mentioned in § 5021, the owner or owners of the same, or any trustee or trustees selected by such owner or owners, shall cause to be made out an accurate map or plat thereof, particularly setting forth and describing:

1. All the parcels of ground so laid out and platted, by their boundaries, course, and extent, and whether they are intended for avenues, streets, lanes, alleys, commons, or other public uses, together with such as may be reserved for public purposes;

2. All lots intended for sale, by numbers and their precise length and width.

5023. (2013.) Id. Approval by legislative authority of city, etc. Such map or plat shall be acknowledged by such owner or owners, or trustee, before some officer authorized by law to take the acknowledgment of conveyances of real estate, and certified by the surveyor making such plat, and, if the land is situated in any city or town, shall be approved by the legislative authority of the city or town in which such land is situated, or by some city or town officer for that purpose designated by resolution or ordinance of said legislative authority, and in the absence of such legislative authority, by the legislative authority of the county in which the town is situated; and if the land is situated outside of any city or town, shall be approved by the board of county commissioners of the county, or by some county officer for that purpose designated by resolution or ordinance of said board; and when so acknowledged, certified, and approved, shall be filed and recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the said lands so platted and laid out are situated.

Approval necessary to recording, § 1581.
Dedication is complete without a formal acceptance by the public authorities. Sowadzki v. Salt Lake County, 36 U. 127; 104 P. 111.

5024. (2014.) Id. Dedication of streets, etc. Such maps and plats, when made, acknowledged, filed, and recorded with the county recorder, shall be a dedication of all such avenues, streets, lanes, alleys, commons, or other public places or blocks, and sufficient to vest the fee of such parcels of land as are therein expressed, named, or intended, for public uses for the inhabitants of such town and for the public for the uses therein named or intended.

Dedication of highways, §§ 2800-2810, and notes.
The fee passes only to the surface, and this only for public use, for all the purposes of a highway, and may be abandoned. Sowadzki v. Salt Lake County, 36 U. 127; 104 P. 111

5025. (2015.) Selling lots before recording map. Penalty. If any person shall sell or offer for sale any lot so platted according to said plat within any town or addition, before the map or plat thereof is made out, acknowledged, filed, and recorded as aforesaid, such person shall forfeit to the county in which such town or addition is located a sum not exceeding $300 for every lot which he shall sell. Such forfeiture shall be recovered in the name of such county in an action brought by the prosecuting attorney thereof.

5026. (2016.) Vacating plat. Any owner or owners of land that has been laid out and platted as hereinbefore provided may, upon application to the city council of the city wherein said land is situated, or to the board of county commissioners of any county wherein said land is contained, have such plat, or any portion thereof, or any street or alley therein contained, vacated, altered, or changed as hereinafter provided.

5027. (2017.) Id. Petition. If it is desired to vacate an entire plat, and the land is situated in any incorporated city, an application in writing signed by all of the owners of the land contained in said plat, and by the owners of land contiguous or adjacent to any street or alley in such plat, shall be made to the city council of the city wherein such land is situated, and in all other cases the application shall be made to the board of county commissioners wherein said land is contained.

5028. (2018.) Id. Hearing. Order. The city council or the board of county commissioners shall, at its next regular meeting after the filing of such application, consider the same, and if the said council or said board be satisfied that neither the public nor any person will be materially injured thereby, it shall order such plat to be vacated as prayed for in the petition, which order shall be recorded in the office of the recorder of the county wherein said land is situated.

OCCUPYING CLAIMANTS.

5031. (2021.) Improvements under color of title; petition; stay. Where an occupant of real estate has color of title thereto, and in good faith has made valuable improvements thereon, and is afterwards in a proper action found not to be the owner, no execution shall issue to put the plaintiff in possession of the same after the filing of a petition as hereinafter provided, until the provisions of this chapter have been complied with.

Iowa, McClain's An. C. (1888) § 3151.
Possessory right, § 4867.
Color of title defined, § 5034.
Improvements allowed as counterclaim, § 7250.
Defendant claimed title only under the tax deed, and did not rely on a conveyance from the owner. Such improvements as were placed on the land were not induced because of any agreement or representation from such owner or reliance on his conveying the land; held, that plaintiff, as the grantee of such owner, was not estopped from asserting title to the land.

Allen v. Fitzgerald, 23 U. 597; 65 P. 592.
Duke v. Griffith, 13 U. 361; 45 P. 276.
Actual possession of land under claim and color of title of a tax deed is sufficient to maintain an action against one who, having no title or right of possession, goes on the land and removes a building.
Kunkel v. Utah Lbr. Co., 29 U. 13; 81 P. 897.
The occupant may, after disposition of his appeal adverse to his claim of title, file his petition in the trial court to ascertain the value of the improvements made by him.
Fares v. Urban, 46 U. 609; 151 P. 57.
A claim for value of improvements placed upon the land of another as an occupying claimant can only be made after the title is adjudicated to be in a person other than the claimant of such improvements.
Utah Copper Co. v. Eckman, 47 U. 165; 152 P. 178.
The occupying claimant must show he had color of title and made the improvement in good faith, and where not made in good faith the real owner on recovery of the land will not be compelled to pay for the improvements.
Doyle v. West Temple Terr. Co., 47 U. 238; 152 P. 1180.

5032. (2022.) Claimant's petition. Trial. Such petition must set forth the grounds on which the defendant seeks relief, stating as accurately as practicable the value of the real estate, exclusive of the improvements thereon made by the claimant or his grantors, and the value of such improvements. The issues joined thereon must be tried as in ordinary actions, and the value of the real estate and of such improvements must be separately ascertained on the trial.
Iowa, McClain's An. C. (1888) §§ 3152, 3153.
The instructions need to cover only the grounds set forth in the petition.
Doyle v. West Temple Terr. Co., 47 U. 238; 152 P. 1180.

Iowa, McClain's An. C. (1888) §§ 3154-3156.

5034. (2024.) "Color of title" defined. A purchaser in good faith at any judicial or tax sale, made by the proper person or officer, has color of title within the meaning or this chapter, whether such person or officer has sufficient authority to sell or not, unless such want of authority was known to such purchaser at the time of the sale, and his rights shall pass to his assignees or representatives. Any person has also color of title who has occupied a tract of real estate by himself, or by those under whom he claims, for the term of five years, or who has thus occupied it for less time, if he, or those under whom he claims have, at any time during such occupancy, with the knowledge or consent, express or implied, of the real owner, made any valuable improvements thereon, or if he or those under whom he claims have, at any time during such occupancy, paid the ordinary county taxes thereon for any one year, and two years have elapsed without a repayment of the same by the owner thereof, and such occupancy is continued up to the time at which the action is brought by which the recovery of the real estate is obtained; but nothing in this chapter shall be construed to give tenants color of title against their landlords.
Improvements made under tax title, note to § 5031.

Iowa, McClain's An. C. (1888) § 3159.

5036. (2026.) Waste by occupant. Set-off. In the cases above provided for, if the occupying claimant has committed any injury to the real estate by cutting timber, or otherwise, the plaintiff may set the same off against any claim for improvements made by the claimant.
Iowa, McClain's An. C. (1888) § 3160.

5037. (2027.) Execution may issue, when. The plaintiff is entitled to an execution to put him in possession of his property in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, but not otherwise.
Iowa, McClain's An. C. (1888) § 3161.

5038. (2028.) Rights of occupant of lands granted to the state. Any person having improvements on any real estate granted to the state in aid of any work of internal improvement, whose title thereto is questioned by another, may remove such improvements without injury otherwise to such real estate, at any time before he is evicted therefrom, or he may claim and have the benefit of this chapter by proceeding as herein directed.
Iowa, McClain's An. C. (1888) § 3162.

TITLE 94.

REGISTRY OF BIRTHS AND DEATHS.

5039. (2029.) Registration of births and deaths. It shall be the duty of the state board of health and vital statistics to have charge of the state system of registration of births and deaths; to prepare the necessary methods, forms, and blanks for obtaining and preserving such records; and to insure the faithful registration of the same in the towns, precincts, and in the office of the secretary of said board. The said board shall be charged with the uniform and thorough enforcement of the law throughout the state.
R. S. '98, § 2033; '99, p. 69; '05, p. 209.

5040. (2030.) State registrar. Clerical assistance. The secretary of the state board of health and vital statistics shall be state registrar, and shall have general supervision of vital statistics. The state board of health shall provide for such clerical and other assistance as may be necessary for the purposes of this title, and may fix their compensation within the amount appropriated therefor by the legislature. '05, p. 209.

5041. (2031.) Registration districts. For the purposes of this title, the state shall be divided into registration districts as follows:

Each city of the first and of the second class shall constitute a registration district, and the health officer therein shall be the registrar thereof; except within cities of the first and of the second class, each precinct in the state shall constitute a registration district. '05, p. 209.

5042. (2032.) Local registrars. Term. Removal. Within sixty days after July 9, 1905, the county commissioners of each county in the state shall select a local registrar of vital statistics for each registration district in the county, excepting cities of the first and of the second class, and the selection shall at once be reported by the said board to the state registrar. The state registrar shall promptly notify the local registrar of his appointment, and the latter shall return an acceptance in writing, together with the name and address of his deputy, whom he shall at once appoint, and whose duty it shall be to act in his stead in case of absence, illness, or disability. The term of appointment of local registrars shall be for two years, beginning with the 1st day of January, 1905, and their successors shall be appointed by the county commissioners in a similar manner at least ten days before the expiration of their terms of office. Each registrar shall qualify by taking the constitutional oath, which shall be filed with the county clerk. Any local registrar who fails or neglects to efficiently discharge the duties of his office or who fails to make prompt and complete returns of births and deaths shall on complaint of the state registrar, be forthwith removed from his office by the county commissioners, and a successor appointed. '05, p. 210.

the registrar of the registration district in which the death occurs. And no such burial or removal permit will be issued by any registrar until a complete and satisfactory certificate and return of the death has been filed with him, as hereinafter provided; provided, that a transit permit, issued in accordance with the law and the health regulations of the place where the death occurred, may be accepted by the local registrar in the district where the body is to be interred or otherwise finally disposed of as a basis upon which he shall issue a local burial permit in the same way as if the death occurred in his district, but shall plainly enter, on the face of the copy of the record, the fact that it was a body shipped in for interment, and give the actual place of death. But when a body is removed from a district in Utah to an adjacent or near-by district for interment, not requiring the use of a common carrier or the issue of a transit permit, then the registrar's removal permit from the district where death occurred may be accepted as authority for burial.

R. S. '98, § 2035; '99, p. 69; '05, p. 210.

5044. (2034.) Stillborn children. Stillborn children, or those dead at birth, shall be registered as births and also as deaths, and a certificate of both the birth and the death shall be filed with the local registrar in the usual form and manner, the certificate of birth to contain, in place of the name of the child, the word "stillbirth." The medical certificate of the cause of death shall be signed by the attending physician, if any, and shall state the cause of death as "stillborn," with the cause of the stillbirth, if known; whether a premature birth, and, if born prematurely, the period of uterogestation in months, if known; and a burial or removal permit in usual form shall be required. Midwives shall not sign certificates of death for stillborn children, but such cases, and stillbirths occuring without attendance of either physician or midwife, shall be treated as deaths without medical attendance as provided for in § 5046. '05, p. 210.

5045. (2035.) Form of death certificate. The certificate of death shall contain the following items:

1. Place of death, including state, county, precinct, town, or city; if in a city, the street and house number; if in a hospital or other institution, the name of the same to be given instead of the street and house number;
2. Full name of decedent; if an unnamed child, the surname, preceded by "unnamed;"
3. Sex;
4. Color;
5. Conjugal condition—as single, married, widowed, or divorced;
6. Date of birth, including the year, month, and day;
7. Age in years, months, and days;
8. Place of birth, state or foreign country;
9. Name of father;
10. Birthplace of father, state or foreign country;
11. Maiden name of mother;
12. Birthplace of mother, state or foreign country;
13. Occupation: The occupation to be reported of any person who had any remunerative employment, women as well as men;
14. Signature and address of informant;
15. Date of death, including the year, month, and day;
16. Statement of medical attendance on decedent, fact and time of death, including the time last seen alive;
17. Cause of death, including the primary and immediate causes, and contributory causes or complications, if any, and the duration of each;
18. Signature and address of physician or official making the medical certificate;
19. Special information concerning death in hospitals and institutions and of persons dying away from home, including the former or usual residence, length of time at place of death, and place where disease was contracted;

20. Place of burial or removal;
21. Date of burial or removal;
22. Signature and address of undertaker, or person in charge of the funeral;
23. Official signature of registrar, with date when certificate was filed and registered number.

The personal and statistical particulars (items 1 to 13) shall be authenticated by the signature of the informant, who may be any competent person acquainted with the facts.

The statement of the facts relating to the disposition of the body shall be signed by the undertaker or person acting as such.

The medical certificate shall be made and signed by the physician, if any, last in attendance on the deceased, who shall specify the time in attendance, the time he last saw the deceased alive, and the hour of the day at which death occurred. And he shall further state the cause of death so as to show the course of disease or sequence of causes resulting in death, giving the primary and immediate causes, and also the contributory causes, if any, and the duration of each. Indefinite and unsatisfactory terms indicating only symptoms of disease or condition resulting from disease will not be held sufficient for issuing a burial or removal permit, and any certificate containing only such terms, as defined by the state registrar, shall be returned to the physician for correction and definition. Causes of death which may be the result of either disease or violence shall be carefully defined, and, if from violence, its nature shall be stated, and whether accidental, suicidal, or homicidal. And in case of deaths in hospitals, institutions, or away from home, the physician shall furnish the information required under this head (item 19) and shall state where, in his opinion, the disease was contracted.

5048. (2036x1.) Where interment is in registration district where death occurs. If the interment or other disposition of the body is to be made in the registration district in which the death occurred, the wording of the burial permit may be limited to a statement by the registrar, and over his signature, that a satisfactory certificate of death having been filed with him as required by law, permission is granted to inter, or otherwise dispose of the body of the deceased, stating the name, age, sex, cause of death, and other necessary details upon the form prescribed by the state registrar. But in case the interment or other disposition of the body is to be made in some registration district other than that in which the death occurred, a complete copy of the certificate of death shall be attached to and made part of the permit.

5050. (2036x3.) Registration of births. All births that occur in the state shall be immediately registered in the district in which they occur, as hereinafter provided. '05, p. 214.

5051. (2036x4.) Duty of attending physician, etc. It shall be the duty of the attending physician or midwife to file a certificate of birth, giving all the particulars required by this title, with the local registrar of the district in which the birth occurred, within ten days after the date of birth. And if there be no attending physician or midwife, then it shall be the duty of the father of the child, householder, or owner of the premises, manager or superintendent of institution in which the birth occurred, to file said certificate of birth with the local registrar within three days after the birth.

5052. (2036x5.) Contents of birth certificate. The certificate of birth shall contain the following items:

1. Place of birth, including state, county, precinct, or city; if in a city, the street and house number; if in a hospital or other institution, the name of the same to be given instead of the street and house number;
2. Full name of child; if the child dies without a name before the certificate is filed, enter the words "died unnamed;" if the living child has not been named at the date of filing the certificate of birth, the space for "full name of child" is to be left blank, to be filled out subsequently by a supplemental report as hereinafter provided;
3. Name of child;
4. Whether a twin, triplet, or other plural birth; a separate certificate shall be required for each child in a case of plural birth, giving number of child in order of birth;
5. Whether legitimate or illegitimate;
6. Full name of father;
7. Residence of father;
8. Color or race of father;
9. Birthplace of father;
10. Age of father at last birthday, in years;
11. Occupation of father;
12. Maiden name of mother, in full;
13. Residence of mother;
14. Color or race of mother;
15. Birthplace of mother;
16. Age of mother at last birthday, in years;

17. Occupation of mother;

18. Number of child of this mother, and number of children of this mother now living;

19. Certificate of attending physician or midwife as to attendance at birth, including statement of year, month, day, and hour of birth, and whether the child was alive or dead at birth. This certificate shall be signed by the attending physician or midwife, with date of signature and address. If there was no physician or midwife in attendance, then the person whose duty it shall become to file a certificate of birth as required by § 5051 of this title shall draw a line through the words, "I hereby certify that I attended the birth of the above child," and shall write in lieu thereof the words, "No physician or midwife," filling out the remainder of the certificate in regard to the year, month, day, and hour of birth, and signing the certificate as father, householder, owner of premises, manager or superintendent of institution, as the case may be, with his address;

20. Exact date of filing in office of local registrar, attested by his official signature and registered number of birth, as hereinafter provided.

All certificates either of birth or death, shall be written legibly in unfading ink, and no certificate shall be held to be complete and correct that does not supply all of the items of information called for therein, or satisfactorily account for their omission. '05, p. 214.

5054. (2036x7.) Register of physicians, midwives, and undertakers. Every physician, midwife, and undertaker shall, without delay, register his or her name, address, and occupation with the local registrar of the district in which he or she resides or may hereafter establish a residence, and shall thereupon be supplied by the local registrar with a copy of this title, together with such rules and regulations as may be prepared by the state board of health relative to its enforcement. Within thirty days after the close of each calendar year, each local registrar shall make a return to the state registrar of all physicians and midwives who have been registered in his district during the whole or any part of the preceding calendar year. '05, p. 215.

5055. (2036x8.) Blanks to be furnished by state board. The state board of health shall prepare, print, and supply to all registrars all blanks and forms used in registering, recording, and preserving the returns, or in otherwise carrying out the purposes of this title, and shall prepare and issue such detailed instructions as may be required to secure the uniform observance of its provisions and the maintenance of a perfect system of registration. And no other blanks shall be used than those supplied by the state registrar. He shall carefully examine the certificates received monthly from the local registrars, and if any such are incomplete or unsatisfactory, he shall require such further information to be furnished as may be necessary to make the record complete and satisfactory. And all physicians, midwives, informants, or undertakers connected with any case, and all other persons having knowledge of the facts, are hereby required to furnish such information as they may possess regarding any birth or death, upon demand of the state registrar, in person, by mail, or through the local registrar. He shall further arrange, bind, and permanently preserve the certificates in a systematic manner, and shall prepare and maintain a comprehensive and continuous card index of all births and deaths registered, the cards to show the name of child or deceased, place and date of birth or death, number of certificate, and the volume in which it is contained. He shall inform all registrars what diseases are to be considered as infectious, contagious, or communicable and dangerous to the public health, as decided by the state board of health, in order that, when death occurs from such diseases, proper precautions may be taken to prevent the spreading of dangerous diseases. R. S. '98, § 2034; '05, p. 216.

5056. (2036x9.) Duties of local registrar. It shall be the duty of the local registrar to supply blank forms of certificates to such persons as require them. And he shall carefully examine each certificate of birth or death when presented for record to see that it has been made out in accordance with the provisions of this title and the instructions of the state registrar, and, if any certificate of death is incomplete or unsatisfactory, it shall be his duty to call attention to the defects in the return and to withhold issuing the burial or removal permit until they are corrected. If the certificate of death is properly executed and complete, he shall then issue a burial or removal permit to the undertaker; provided, that in case the death occurred from some disease that is held by the state board of health to be infectious, contagious, or communicable and dangerous to the public health, no permit for the removal or other disposition of the body shall be granted by the registrar except under such conditions as may be prescribed by the state and local board of health. If a certificate of birth is incomplete, he shall immediately notify the informant and require him to supply the missing items, if they can be obtained. He shall then number consecutively the certificates of birth and death in two separate series, beginning with number one for the first birth and the first death in each calendar year, and sign his name as registrar in attest of the date of the filing in his office. He shall also make a complete and accurate copy of each birth and death certificate registered by him, upon a form identical with the original certificate, to be filed and permanently preserved in his office as the local record of such birth or death, in such manner as directed by the state registrar. And he shall, on the 5th day of each month, transmit to the state registrar all original certificates registered by him during the preceding month. And if no births or no deaths occurred in any month, he shall, on the 5th day of the following month, report that fact to the state registrar on a card provided for this purpose. '05, p. 216.

5058. (2036x11.) State registrar to furnish copies. Fees. The state registrar shall, upon request, furnish any applicant a certified copy of the record of any birth or death registered under provisions of this title, for the making and certification of which he shall be entitled to a fee of one dollar, to be paid by the applicant. And any such copy of the record of a birth or death, when properly certified by the state registrar to be a true copy thereof, shall be prima facie evidence in all courts and places of the facts therein stated. For any search of the files and record, when no certified copy is made, the state hour of time of search, to be paid by applicant. And the state registrar shall keep a true and accurate account of all fees received by him under these provisions, and turn the same over to the state treasurer, at the end of each quarter. '05, p. 217.

5059. (2036x12.) Penalties. If any physician who was in medical attendance upon any deceased person at the time of death shall neglect or refuse to make out and deliver to the undertaker, sexton, or other person in charge of the interment, removal, or other disposition of the body, upon request, the medical certificate of death hereinbefore provided for, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. And if any physician shall knowingly make a false certification of the cause of death in any case, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. And any physician or midwife in attendance upon a case of confinement, or any other person charged with responsibility for reporting births, in the order named in § 5051, who shall neglect or refuse to file a proper certificate of birth with the local registrar within the time required by this title, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. And if any undertaker, sexton, or other person acting as undertaker, shall inter, remove, or otherwise dispose of the body of any deceased person without having received a burial or removal permit as herein provided, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. And any registrar, or deputy registrar, who shall neglect or fail to enforce the provisions of this title in his district, or shall neglect or refuse to perform any of the duties imposed upon him by this title or by the instructions and directions of the state registrar, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. And any person who shall wilfully alter any certificate of birth or death, or the copy of any certificate of birth or death, on file in the office of the local registrar, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. And any other person or persons who shall violate any of the provisions of this title, or shall wilfully neglect or refuse to perform any duties imposed upon them by the provisions of this title, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. And any common carrier, carrying or accepting through its agents or employes for carriage, the body of any deceased person without an accompanying permit issued in accordance with the provisions of this title, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. Any person convicted of a misdemeanor under the provisions of this title shall be fined in any sum not less than $10 nor more than $200; provided, that in case the death occurred outside of the state and the body is accompanied by a certificate of death, burial, or removal or transit permit issued in accordance with the law or board of health regulations in force where the death occurred, such death certificate, burial, or removal or transit permit may be held to authorize the transportation or carriage of the body into or through the state. R. S. '98, § 2036; '99, p. 69; '05, p. 217.

5060. (2036x13.) Further duties of local and state registrars. Local registrars are hereby charged with the strict and thorough enforcement of the provisions of this title in their districts, under the supervision and direction of the state registrar. And they shall make an immediate report to the state registrar of any violations of this law coming to their notice by observation, or upon complaint of any person, or otherwise. The state registrar is hereby charged with the thorough and efficient execution of the provisions of this title in every part of the state, and with supervisory power over local registrars to the end that all of the requirements shall be uniformly complied with. He shall have authority to investigate cases of irregularity or violation of law, personally or by accredited representative, and all registrars shall aid him, upon request, in such investigations. When he shall deem it necessary, he shall report cases of violation of any of the provisions of this title to the prosecuting attorney of the proper county, with a statement of the facts and circumstances, and, when any such case is reported to him by the state registrar, the prosecuting attorney shall forthwith initiate and promptly follow up the necessary court proceedings against the parties responsible for the alleged violation of law. And upon request of the state registrar, the attorney general shall likewise assist in the enforcement of the provisions of this title. '05, p. 218.

RELEASE OF JOINT DEBTOR.

5067. (2037.) Shall not discharge other debtors. A joint debtor upon contract or a judgment founded upon contract may be released from liability by his creditor, and such release shall not discharge the other debtors beyond the just proportion of the debt for which the released debtor was liable or which he has paid.

Kansas G. S. (1889) § 1102*. Minn. (1894) § 5167*. Nev., § 4931.
Action against joint debtor, §§ 6511, 6558.

Ordinarily the discharge of one joint debtor discharges his co-debtor.
Rocky Mt. Stud Farm Co. v. Lunt, 46 U. 299; 151 P. 521.

5068. (2038.) Release of principal discharges surety. The preceding section shall not so apply as to permit a principal to be released without the discharge of his surety.

Decisions on release of surety, § 4097.

TITLE 96.

SALARIES.

CHAPTER 1.

STATE OFFICERS.

5070. (2049x.) Salaries of state officers. The salaries of the following state officers are hereby fixed as follows: Governor, $6000; secretary of state, $4000; state treasurer, $2500; State auditor, $3000; attorney-general, $4000; state superintendent of public instruction, $3000.

Am'd '01, p. 7; '09, p. 4; '11, p. 129.

Until this section went into effect, Jan. 1, 1909, said salaries were as fixed by § 1, chap. 73, p. 73, Laws '01, to which § 5070 is an amendment.
Salaries of state officers as originally fixed, Con. art. 7, sec. 20.
Payment of city officers' salaries, note to § 612.
Payment of county officers' salaries, note to § 5087.
State officers shall be paid fixed salaries, Con. art. 7, sec. 20; art. 21, sec. 1.
Fees to be paid over, Con. art. 21, sec. 2.

Each occupant of the office of territorial statitstician for the year 1895 is entitled to such a proportion of the salary as the time of service of each bears to the entire year.
State, ex rel. Bache v. Richards, 15 U. 477; 49 P. 532.
A state officer is entitled to his salary for a portion of his term of office for which he was appointed and commissioned and for which he had duly qualified, though during such portion of the term he had not assumed charge of the office.
Tanner v. Edwards, 31 U. 80; 86 P. 765.

5071. (2050.) Salaries of certain state officers. The annual salaries of the following state officers are fixed as follows: Clerk of the supreme court and ex-officio librarian, $2100; reporter of decisions of the supreme court, $1200; adjutant-general, $1500; assistant adjutant-general of the governor's staff, $600; bank examiner, $1800. Am'd '07, p. 31; '09, p. 22.

The 1909 act amending this section is constitutional.
Edler v. Edwards, 34 U. 13; 95 P. 367.

5072. (2050x.) Salaries of supreme court judges. Proviso. The salaries of the justices of the supreme court are hereby fixed at $5000 per annum, payable quarterly out of the state treasury; provided, that no mileage or expenses shall be allowed. '03, p. 64.

Salaries of justices of the supreme court as originally fixed, Con. art. 8, sec. 20.

5073. (2050x1.) Salaries of district judges. Proviso. The salaries of the judges of the district court are hereby fixed at $4000 per annum, payable quarterly out of the state treasury; provided, that no mileage or expenses shall be allowed, except that when any district judge, at the request of the supreme court, or of any judge of another district, or of the governor, shall hold court in a county outside of his own district, he shall be entitled to his actual and necessary expenses incurred thereby; which shall be paid quarterly, and the state auditor shall draw his warrant on the state treasurer at the end of each quarter for the amount of said actual and necessary expenses so incurred. Am'd '03, p. 71; '17, p. 243.

Salaries of district judges as originally fixed, Con. art. 8, sec. 20.
Laws of '03, p. 71, enacting that the salaries of district judges should be fixed at $4000 per annum, provided that no mileage or expenses should be allowed, was not subject to construction as though the proviso was omitted, the intent of the legislature to restrict the salary by cutting off mileage and expenses being apparent.
Marioneaux v. Cutler, 32 U. 475; 91 P. 355.

5074. (2050x2.) Salaries of district attorneys. The annual salaries of the several district attorneys for the several judicial districts of this state shall be as follows: In the first judicial district, $1500; in the second judicial district, $2000; in the third judicial district, $3000; in the fourth judicial district, $1500; in the fifth judicial district, $1500; in the sixth judicial district, $1500; in the seventh judicial district, $1500. '99, p. 80.

5075. (2051.) District judges and district attorneys to receive mileage. District judges and district attorneys shall receive mileage at the rate of five cents per mile, when traveling on the line of any railroad, and fifteen cents per mile when traveling off or away from the line of any railroad, for each mile actually and necessarily traveled in the performance of their official duties. Am'd '01, p. 102.

Judges not entitled to mileage since act of 1903, § 5073, and note.

5076. (2052.) Expenses of state officers. All state officers, except those otherwise specifically provided for, shall receive, in addition to their salaries, their actual and necessary expenses while traveling in the performance of their official duties.

5077. (2053.) Salary and mileage paid quarterly. The salaries of state officers shall be paid quarterly, and the state auditor shall draw his warrant on the state treasurer at the end of each quarter for the amount of salary and mileage then due from the state to each of the state officers.

MEMBERS AND EMPLOYES OF LEGISLATURE.

5078. (2054.) Compensation of members of legislature. The compensation of members of the legislature of the state of Utah shall be $4 per day during each session, and ten cents per mile for the distance necessarily traveled going to and returning from the place of meeting on the most usual route.

Compensation of members of legislature, Con. art. 6, sec. 9.

5079. (2055.) Compensation of officers and employes of legislature. The compensation of officers and employes of the legislature of the state of Utah shall be $4 per day, each, and such officers and employes shall consist of a secretary of the senate and a chief clerk of the house, a minute clerk of the senate and a minute clerk of the house, a docket clerk of the senate and a docket clerk of the house, an engrossing and enrolling clerk of the senate and an engrossing and enrolling clerk of the house, committee clerks of the senate and committee clerks of the house, a sergeant-at-arms of the senate and a sergeant-at-arms of the house, a messenger of the senate and two messengers of the house, a watchman of the senate and a watchman of the house, a doorkeeper of the senate and a doorkeeper of the house, a chaplain of the senate and a chaplain of the house, and such other assistants as may be found necessary.

COUNTY OFFICERS.

5086. (2056.) Classification of counties. For the purpose of regulating the compensation and salaries of all county officers not otherwise provided for, the counties of this state are classified according to assessed valuation of the several counties, as follows:

First class, all counties having an assessed valuation of $20,000,000 or over;

Second class, all counties having an assessed valuation of more than $15,000,000 and less than $20,000,000;

Third class, all counties having an assessed valuation of more than $10,000,000 and less than $15,000,000;

Fourth class, all counties having an assessed valuation of more than $8,000,000 and less than $10,000,000;

Fifth class, all counties having an assessed valuation of more than $7,000,000 and less than $8,000,000;

Sixth class, all counties having an assessed valuation of more than $6,000,000 and less than $7,000,000;

Seventh class, all counties having an assessed valuation of more than $5,000,000 and less than $6,000,000;

Eighth class, all counties having an assessed valuation of more than $4,000,000 and less than $5,000,000;

Ninth class, all counties having an assessed valuation of more than $3,000,000 and less than $4,000,000;

Tenth class, all counties having an assessed valuation of more than $2,000,000 and less than $3,000,000;

Eleventh class, all counties having an assessed valuation of more than $1,300,000 and less than $2,000,000;

Twelfth class, all counties having an assessed valuation of more than $1,000,000 and less than $1,300,000;

Thirteenth class, all counties having an assessed valuation of more than $600,000 and less than $1,000,000;

Fourteenth class, all counties having an assessed valuation of more than $300,000 and less than $600,000;

Fifteenth class, all counties having an assessed valuation of less than $300,000.

All state, county, etc., officers to be paid fixed salaries; fees turned over, Con. art. 21, secs. 1, 2.

5087. (2057.) Annual salaries of county officers. The salaries of the officers of all counties in the state shall be fixed by the respective boards of county commissioners at not to exceed the following maximum amounts; provided, that should the respective boards of county commissioners, or any of them, fail to fix the salary of any of the county officers as provided for in this section, the salary of the predecessor of said officer or officers whose salary has not been fixed, shall apply:

Salaries of city officers, note to § 612.

Salaries of state officers, note to § 5070.

Where county court fixed the treasurer's salary for handling school funds during his term at $500 per annum, the court could not, after his term expired, reduce the amount.

Toronto v. Salt Lake Co., 10 U. 410; 37 P. 587.

The fees and allowances to the probate judge having been fixed by law, the county court has no authority to award him an additional salary as superintendent of county affairs.

Bartch v. Cutler, 6 U. 409; 24 P. 526

Dictum concerning mileage of members of county court serving as committeemen.

Christopherson v. Stanton, 13 U. 85; 44 P. 648.

5088. (2058.) When fixed. The board of county commissioners of each county shall biennially, at a meeting held at least three months prior to the election for county officers, fix and determine the salaries of county officers, for whom maximum salaries are fixed, for the two years next succeeding; provided, that the board of county commissioners of counties of the first class shall at a meeting held within thirty days after the passage of this chapter, fix and determine the salaries of county officers in accordance with the foregoing section; and provided, further, that the salaries of such officers shall not be reduced for the term for which they were elected and shall have qualified; provided, further, that the salary of the county superintendents of schools be fixed at least three months prior to his election. Am'd '11, p. 115.

County officers to be paid fixed salaries, Con. art. 21, sec. 1.

Where the commissioners at a meeting held at least three months prior to the election of county officers fixed the salaries, the commissioners can not after the election and induction into office raise the salaries.

Cromquist v. Mathews, 51 U. —; 173 P. —.

5089. (2059.) Compensation of county commissioners. The members of the board of county commissioners shall not receive any compensation in addition to that provided in § 5087 for any special or committee work, but each member shall be paid the amount of his actual traveling expenses in attending the regular and special sessions of the board, and in the discharge of necessary committee work, not to exceed $300 each annually; provided, that an itemized statement shall be made, showing in detail the expenses incurred, and shall be subscribed and sworn to by the member claiming such expenses.

A provision of law granting mileage to selectmen at the rate of twenty cents per mile in going only, from their residences to the courthouse at each session of the court attended by them, does not entitle them to mileage while attending to the business of the court or discharging duties as committeemen.

5090. (2060.) New counties. Reduction of class. Counties created and organized after the adoption of this chapter must immediately come under and be governed by its provisions so far as the same are applicable thereto. When the assessed valuation of any existing county has been reduced below the class and rank first assumed hereunder, it is the duty of the board of county commissioners of such county to designate the class to which such county has been reduced, and such county is thereafter in such class, but the salary of county officers is in no way affected for the term for which they were elected and shall have qualified. The board of county commissioners in a newly created county shall, at its first meeting after the organization of such county, for the purpose of fixing salaries and compensation of county officers, determine to which class the county belongs, and fix the salaries for the first term of the officers accordingly.

Commissioners may establish salary fund, § 1400x6.

Am'd '03, p. 25; '15, p. 85.

Salaries to be in full compensation, Con. art. 21, sec. 2.

The duties which a clerk renders in naturalization proceedings are not duties imposed on nor duties forming a part of the office, and the salary received as compensation therefor does not constitute compensation for extra official services, and he need not account therefor to his county.

Eldredge v. Salt Lake County, 37 U. 188; 106 P. 939.

5093. (2063.) When offices combined. Whenever the board of county commissioners shall elect to combine the duties of any two or more county officers, the salary of the person discharging the duties of both or all of said offices shall be fixed at a sum not exceeding the highest salary paid to either or any of said officers whose offices are so combined, in addition to an amount not exceeding one-half of the salary fixed for the other officer when only two offices are combined, or when more than two such offices are combined, in addition to such highest salary, one-third of the combined salaries of such other officers. If the office of assessor, treasurer, or county attorney shall be combined with any other office, the state shall pay an equitable proportion of the whole salary, which proportion shall be fixed by the state board of examiners, and shall in no case be less than one-third of the amount of the salary fixed for such office of assessor, treasurer, or county attorney prior to the same being combined with another office.

Consolidation of offices, § 1452.

TITLE 97.

SALE OF MERCHANDISE IN BULK.

5103. (2063x.) Purchaser of merchandise in bulk to obtain list of creditors of vendor. It shall be the duty of every person who shall bargain for or purchase any portion of a stock of merchandise, otherwise than in the ordinary course of trade and in the regular and usual prosecution of the seller's business, or an entire stock of merchandise in bulk, for cash or on credit, before paying to the vendor or his agent or representative, or delivering to the vendor or his agent or representative, any part of the purchase price thereof or any promissory note or evidence therefor, to demand of and receive from such vendor or agent, or if the vendor or agent be a corporation, then from the president, vice-president, secretary, or managing agent of such corporation, a written statement, sworn to substantially as hereinafter provided, of the names and addresses of all the creditors of said vendor to whom said vendor may be indebted, together with the amount of the indebtedness due or owing or to become due or owing by said vendor, to each of said creditors, and it shall be the duty of said vendor or agent to furnish such statement, which shall be verified by an oath to the following effect:

State of Utah, County of ..... ss.

Before me personally appeared (vendor or agent, as the case may be), who, being by me first duly sworn, upon his oath did depose and say that the foregoing statement contains the names of all the creditors of (name of vendor), together with their addresses, and that the amount set opposite each of said respective names is the amount now due and owing and which shall become due and owing by (vendor) to such creditors, and that there are no creditors holding claims due or which shall become due for or on account of goods, wares, or merchandise purchased upon credit, or on account of money borrowed to carry on the business of which said goods are a part, other than as set forth in said statement and in this affidavit that are within the personal knowledge of affiant.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this ..... day of ....., A. D. 19..... '05, p. 103.

Act of '01, p. 67, limiting right to sell merchandise in bulk held unconstitutional.
Block v. Schwartz, 27 U. 387; 76 P. 22.
This section is not applicable to the sale of the business of one engaged in shoe repairing who incidentally sold his customers small quantities of shoe laces, polish, etc.
Swanson v. De Vine, 49 U. —; 160 P. 872.

5107. (2063x4.) Certain sales excepted. Sellers, or vendors, and purchasers under this title shall include corporations, associations, copartnerships, and individuals, but nothing contained in this title shall apply to sales or transfers by executors, administrators, receivers, assignees under a voluntary assignment for the benefit of creditors, trustees in bankruptcy, or by any public officer under judicial process. '05, p. 105.

TITLE 98.

UNIFORM SALES ACT.

('17, p. 395.)

CHAPTER 1.

CONTRACTS OF SALE.

5110. Formation of the contract. Definitions. 1. A contract to sell goods is a contract whereby the seller agrees to transfer the property in goods to the buyer for a consideration called the price.

2. A sale of goods is an agreement whereby the seller transfers the property in goods to the buyer for a consideration called the price.

3. A contract to sell or a sale may be absolute or conditional.

4. There may be a contract to sell or a sale between one part owner and another.

5111. Capacity to sell. Sales to incompetents. Capacity to buy and sell is regulated by the general law concerning capacity to contract, and to transfer and acquire property. Where necessaries are sold and delivered to an infant, or to a person who by reason of mental incapacity or drunkenness is incompetent to contract, he must pay a reasonable price therefor. Necessaries in this section mean goods suitable to the condition in life of such infant or other person, and to his actual requirements at the time of delivery.

5112. Contract may be written or oral. Subject to the provisions of this title and of any statute in that behalf, a contract to sell or a sale may be made in writing (either with or without seal) or by word of mouth, or partly in writing and partly by word of mouth, or may be inferred from the conduct of the parties.

5113. When contract not enforcible. 1. A contract to sell or a sale of any goods or choses in action of the value of $500 or upwards shall not be enforcible by action unless the buyer shall accept part of the goods or choses in action so contracted to be sold or sold, and actually receive the same, or give something in earnest to bind the contract, or in part payment, or unless some note or memorandum in writing of the contract or sale be signed by the party to be charged, or his agent in that behalf.

Defense of statute of frauds must be specially pleaded, note to § 5811.

Decisions under, § 2469, Comp. L. 1907:—

When the contract is executory for the sale of property to be made or manufactured, no property passes until it is finished and either delivered to him, or set apart, and accepted by him.

Robbins v. Chipman, 1 U. 335.

Agreement to sell hotel furniture and lease held sufficient.

Reno v. Beardsley, 6 U. 208; 21 P. 944.

Purchaser must actually receive the goods.

Hudson Fur. Co. v. Freed Fur. Co., 10 U. 31; 36 P. 132.

Where the treasurer of a corporation wrote a letter over his signature as treasurer saying that he would guarantee the money within thirty or forty days; held, not a personal guaranty.

Riter v. Sun F. & M. Co., 10 U. 140; 37 P. 257.

Verbal agreement to sell personal property for $200 or over is invalid, unless the provisions of this section are complied with.

Walker v. Bamberger, 17 U. 239; 54 P. 108.

Where an option, not reduced to writing, on an option, is taken and its terms complied with, the transaction is taken out of the statute of frauds and is valid.

Id.

A memorandum of an offer to sell seed, subscribed by the seller only, is sufficient to satisfy the statute of frauds, as to the party subscribing it and against whom the action is brought.

Bailey v. Leishman, 32 U. 123; 89 P. 78.

2. The provisions of this section apply to every such contract or sale, notwithstanding that the goods may be intended to be delivered at some future time, or may not at the time of such contract or sale be actually made, procured, or provided, or fit or ready for delivery, or some act may be requisite for the making or completing thereof, or rendering the same fit for delivery; but if the goods are to be manufactured by the seller especially for the buyer and are not suitable for sale to others in the ordinary course of the seller's business, the provisions of this section shall not apply.

3. There is an acceptance of goods within the meaning of this section when the buyer, either before or after delivery of the goods, expresses by words or conduct his assent to becoming the owner of those specific goods.

5114. Subject matter of contract. 1. The goods which form the subject of a contract to sell may be either existing goods, owned or possessed by the seller, or goods to be manufactured or acquired by the seller after the making of the contract to sell, in this title called "future goods."

2. There may be a contract to sell goods, the acquisition of which by the seller depends upon a contingency which may or may not happen.

3. Where the parties purport to effect a present sale of future goods, the agreement operates as a contract to sell the goods.

5115. Contracts covering sales of undivided shares. 1. There may be a contract to sell or a sale of an undivided share of goods. If the parties intend to effect a present sale, the buyer, by force of the agreement, becomes an owner in common with the owner or owners of the remaining shares.

or measure of the mass. If the mass contains less than the number, weight, or measure bought, the buyer becomes the owner of the whole mass, and the seller is bound to make good the deficiency from similar goods, unless a contrary intent appears.

5116. When goods have perished or deteriorated at time of making contract. 1. Where the parties purport to sell specific goods, and the goods without the knowledge of the seller have wholly perished at the time when the agreement is made, the agreement is void.

2. Where the parties purport to sell specific goods, and the goods, without the knowledge of the seller, have perished in part, or have wholly or in a material part so deteriorated in quality as to be substantially changed in character, the buyer may at his option treat the sale:

(a) As avoided, or

(b) As transferring the property in all of the existing goods or in so much thereof as have not deteriorated, and as binding the buyer to pay the full agreed price if the sale was indivisible, or to pay the agreed price for the goods in which the property passes if the sale was divisbile.

5117. When goods perish or deteriorate before risk passes to buyer. 1. Where there is a contract to sell specific goods, and subsequently, but before the risk passes to the buyer, without any fault on the part of the seller or the buyer, the goods wholly perish, the contract is thereby avoided.

2. Where there is a contract to sell specific goods, and subsequently, but before the risk passes to the buyer, without any fault of the seller or the buyer, part of the goods perish, or the whole or a material part of the goods so deteriorate in quality as to be substantially changed in character, the buyer may at his option treat the contract:

(a) As avoided, or

(b) As binding the seller to transfer the property in all of the existing goods or in so much thereof as have not deteriorated, and as binding the buyer to pay the full agreed price if the contract was indivisible, or to pay the agreed price for so much of the goods as the seller, by the buyer's option, is bound to transfer if the contract was divisible.

5118. The Price. 1. The price may be fixed by the contract, or may be left to be fixed in such manner as may be agreed, or it may be determined by the course of dealing between the parties.

2. The price may be made payable in any personal property.

3. Where transferring or promising to transfer any interest in real estate constitutes the whole or part of the consideration for transferring or for promising to transfer the property in goods, this title shall not apply.

4. Where the price is not determined in accordance with the foregoing provisions, the buyer must pay a reasonable price. What is a reasonable price is a question of fact dependent on the circumstances of each particular case.

5119. Where third person is to fix price. 1. Where there is a contract to sell or a sale of goods at a price or on terms to be fixed by a third person, and such third person, without fault of the seller or the buyer, cannot or does not fix the price or terms, the contract or the sale is thereby avoided; but if the goods or any part thereof have been delivered to and appropriated by the buyer he must pay a reasonable price therefor.

5120. Conditions and warranties. 1. Where the obligation of either party to a contract to sell or a sale is subject to any condition which is not performed, such party may refuse to proceed with the contract or sale or he may waive performance of the condition. If the other party has promised that the condition should happen or be performed, such first mentioned party may also treat the non-performance of the condition as a breach of warranty.

2. Where the property in the goods has not passed, the buyer may treat the fulfilment by the seller of his obligation to furnish goods as described and as warranted expressly or by implication in the contract to sell as a condition of the obligation of the buyer to perform his promise to accept and pay for the goods.

5121. What constitutes warranty. Any affirmation of fact or any promise by the seller relating to the goods is an express warranty if the natural tendency of such affirmation or promise is to induce the buyer to purchase the goods, and if the buyer purchases the goods relying thereon. No affirmation of the value of the goods, nor any statement purporting to be a statement of the seller's opinion only, shall be considered as a warranty.

5122. Implied warranty. In a contract to sell or a sale, unless a contrary intention appears, there is:

2. An implied warranty that the buyer shall have and enjoy quiet possession of the goods as against any lawful claims existing at the time of the sale;
3. An implied warranty that the goods shall be free at the time of the sale from any charge or encumbrance in favor of any third person, not declared or known to the buyer before or at the time when the contract or sale is made.

This section shall not, however, be held to render liable a sheriff, auctioneer, mortgagee, or other person professing to sell by virtue of authority in fact or law goods in which a third person has a legal or equitable interest.

5123. Id. Correspondence with sample and description. Where there is a contract to sell or a sale of goods by description, there is an implied warranty that the goods shall correspond with the description and if the contract or sale be by sample, as well as by description, it is not sufficient that the bulk of the goods corresponds with the sample if the goods do not also correspond with the description.

5124. Id. Subject to the provisions of this title and of any statute in that behalf, there is no implied warranty or condition as to the quality or fitness for any particular purpose of goods supplied under a contract to sell or a sale except as follows:

1. Where the buyer, expressly or by implication, makes known to the seller the particular purpose for which the goods are required, and it appears that the buyer relies on the seller's skill or judgment (whether he be the grower or manufacturer or not), there is an implied warranty that the goods shall be reasonably fit for such purpose.
2. Where the goods are bought by description from a seller who deals in goods of that description (whether he be the grower or manufacturer or not), there is an implied warranty that the goods shall be of merchantable quality.
3. If the buyer has examined the goods, there is no implied warranty as regards defects which such examination ought to have revealed.
4. In the case of a contract to sell or a sale of a specified article under its patent or other trade name, there is no implied warranty as to its fitness for any particular purpose.
5. An implied warranty or condition as to quality or fitness for a particular purpose may be annexed by the usage of trade.
6. An express warranty or condition does not negative a warranty or condition implied under this title unless inconsistent therewith.

5125. Id. Sale by sample. In the case of a contract to sell or a sale by sample:

1. There is an implied warranty that the bulk shall correspond with the sample in quality.
2. There is an implied warranty that the buyer shall have a reasonable opportunity of comparing the bulk with the sample, except so far as otherwise provided in sub. 3, § 5156.

3. If the seller is a dealer in goods of that kind, there is an implied warranty that the goods shall be free from any defect rendering them unmerchantable which would not be apparent on reasonable examination of the sample.

CHAPTER 2.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY AND TITLE.

5126. Transfer of unascertained property. Where there is a contract to sell unascertained goods, no property in the goods is transferred to the buyer unless and until the goods are ascertained, but property in an undivided share of ascertained goods may be transferred as provided in § 5115.

5127. Specific goods. 1. Where there is a contract to sell specific or ascertained goods, the property in them is transferred to the buyer at such time as the parties to the contract intend it to be transferred.

2. For the purpose of ascertaining the intention of the parties, regard shall be had to the terms of the contract, the conduct of the parties, usages of trade, and the circumstances of the case.

5128. Rules for ascertaining intention. Unless a different intention appears, the following are rules for ascertaining the intention of the parties as to the time at which the property in the goods is to pass to the buyer:

Rule 1. Where there is an unconditional contract to sell specific goods, in a deliverable state, the property in the goods passes to the buyer when the contract is made, and it is immaterial whether the time of payment or the time of delivery, or both, be postponed.

Rule 2. Where there is a contract to sell specific goods and the seller is bound to do something to the goods, for the purpose of putting them into a deliverable shape, the property does not pass until such thing be done.

Rule 3. 1. When goods are delivered to the buyer "on sale or return," or on other terms indicating an intention to make a present sale, but to give the buyer an option to return the goods instead of paying the price, the property passes to the buyer on delivery, but he may revest the property in the seller by returning or tendering the goods within the time fixed in the contract, or, if no time has been fixed, within a reasonable time.

2. When goods are delivered to the buyer on approval or on trial or on satisfaction, or other similar terms, the property therein passes to the buyer:

(a) When he signifies his approval or acceptance to the seller or does any other act adopting the transaction;

(b) If he does not signify his approval or acceptance to the seller, but retains the goods without giving notice of rejection, then, if a time has been fixed for the return of the goods, on the expiration of such time, and, if no time has been fixed, on the expiration of a reasonable time. What is a reasonable time is a question of fact.

Rule 4. 1. Where there is a contract to sell unascertained or future goods by description, and goods of that description and in a deliverable state are unconditionally appropriated to the contract, either by the seller with the assent of the buyer, or by the buyer with the assent of the seller, the property in the goods thereupon passes to the buyer. Such assent may be expressed or implied, and may be given either before or after the appropriation is made.

2. Where, in pursuance of a contract to sell, the seller delivers the goods to the buyer, or to a carrier or other bailee (whether named by the buyer or not), for the purpose of transmission to or holding for the buyer, he is presumed to have unconditionally appropriated the goods to the contract, except in cases provided for in the next rule and in § 5129. This presumption is applicable, although by the terms of the contract the buyer is to pay the price before receiving delivery of the goods, and the goods are marked with the words "collect on delivery," or their equivalents.

Rule 5. If a contract to sell requires the seller to deliver the goods to the buyer, or at a particular place, or to pay the freight or cost of transportation to the buyer, or to a particular place, the property does not pass until the goods have been delivered to the buyer or reached the place agreed upon.

3. Where goods are shipped, and by the bill of lading the goods are deliverable to the order of the buyer or of his agent, but possession of the bill of lading is retained by the seller or his agent, the seller thereby reserves a right to the possession of the goods, as against the buyer.

4. Where the seller of goods draws on the buyer for the price and transmits the bill of exchange and bill of lading together to the buyer to secure acceptance or payment of the bill of exchange, the buyer is bound to return the bill of lading if he does not honor the bill of exchange, and if he wrongfully retains the bill of lading he acquires no added right thereby. If, however, the bill of lading provides that the goods are deliverable to the buyer or to the order of the buyer, or is indorsed in blank, or to the buyer by the consignee named therein, one who purchases, in good faith, for value, the bill of lading or goods from the buyer, will obtain the property in the goods, although the bill of exchange has not been honored, provided, that such purchaser has received delivery of the bill of lading indorsed by the consignee named therein, or of the goods, without notice of the facts making the transfer wrongful.

5130. Sales by auction. In the case of a sale by auction:

1. Where goods are put up for sale by auction in lots, each lot is the subject of a separate contract of sale.

2. A sale by auction is complete when the auctioneer announces its completion by the fall of the hammer, or in other customary manner. Until such announcement is made, any bidder may retract his bid; and the auctioneer may withdraw the goods from sale unless the auction has been announced to be without reserve.

3. A right to bid may be reserved expressly by or on behalf of the seller.

4. Where notice has not been given that a sale by auction is subject to a right to bid on behalf of the seller, it shall not be lawful for the seller to bid himself or to employ or induce any person to bid at such sale on his behalf, or for the auctioneer to employ or induce any person to bid at such sale on behalf of the seller, or knowingly to take any bid from the seller or any person employed by him. Any sale contravening this rule may be treated as fraudulent by the buyer.

5131. When risk passes. Unless otherwise agreed, the goods remain at the seller's risk until the property therein is transferred to the buyer, but when the property therein is transferred to the buyer the goods are at the buyer's risk whether delivery has been made or not, except that:

1. Where delivery of the goods has been made to the buyer, or to a bailee for the buyer, in pursuance of the contract and the property in the goods has been retained by the seller merely to secure performance by the buyer of his obligations under the contract, the goods are at the buyer's risk from the time of such delivery.

2. Where delivery has been delayed through the fault of either buyer or seller, the goods are at the risk of the party in fault as regards any loss which might not have occurred but for such fault.

5132. Transfer of title. 1. Subject to the provisions of this title, where goods are sold by a person who is not the owner thereof, and who does not sell them under the authority or with the consent of the owner, the buyer acquires no better title to the goods than the seller had, unless the owner of the goods is by his conduct precluded from denying the seller's authority to sell.

2. Nothing in this title, however, shall affect:

(a) The provisions of any factor's acts, recording acts, or any enactment enabling the apparent owner of goods to dispose of them as if he were the true owner thereof.

(b) The validity of any contract to sell or sale under any special common law or statutory power of sale or under the order of a court of competent jurisdiction.

5133. Id. Where the seller of goods has a voidable title thereto, but his title has not been avoided at the time of the sale, the buyer acquires a good title to the goods, provided he buys them in good faith, for value, and without notice of the seller's defect of title.

5134. Id. Where a person having sold goods continues in possession of the goods, or of negotiable documents of title to the goods, the delivery or transfer by that person, or by an agent acting for him, of the goods or documents of title under any sale, pledge, or other disposition thereof, to any person receiving and paying value for the same in good faith and without notice of the previous sale, shall have the same effect as if the person making the delivery or transfer were expressly authorized by the owner of the goods to make the same.

Fraudulent conveyances void, §§ 5814, 5821.
Mortgage of stock of goods, note to § 470.
Conditional sales, note to § 487.
Cases construing, § 2473, Comp. L. '07:—
Delivery to a carrier not specially designated by the buyer is not delivery to and acceptance by the buyer.
Hudson Fur. Co. v. Freed Fur. Co., 10 U. 31; 36 P. 132.
What amounts to a delivery within a reasonable time and an actual and continued change of possession depends largely upon the kind and nature of the property, the situation of the parties, and the circumstances peculiar to each case.
Blish v. McCornick, 14 U. 188; 49 P. 529.
Everett v. Taylor, 14 U. 242; 47 P. 75.
Farr v. Swigart, 13 U. 150; 44 P. 711.
White v. Pease, 15 U. 170; 49 P. 416.
Lumm v. Howells, 27 U. 80; 74 P. 432.
Johnson v. Emery, 31 U. 126; 86 P. 869.
The rule that a sale or assignment of chattels, unaccompanied by a change of possession, is fraudulent per se, under this section and § 5821, as to execution creditors or subsequent purchasers of the vendor, does not necessarily apply to assignments for benefit of creditors, but unreasonable delay in taking possession is a circumstance from which fraud may be inferred, unless explained.
Snyder v. Murdock, 20 U. 419; 59 P. 91.
But see Munns v. Loveland, 15 U. 250; 49 P. 743.
Sale of chattels without delivery thereof and not followed by actual change of possession constitutes in law a fraudulent disposition of property which authorizes creditors of the vendor to sue out an attachment.
Charleston Co-op v. Allen, 40 U. 575; 123 P. 578.
A chattel mortgage is invalid as against all persons who, without knowledge of its existence, give credit to the mortgagor at any time subsequent to execution and previous to filing.
Volker Lbr. Co. v. Utah & Oregon Lbr. Co., 45 U. 603; 148 P. 365.

5136. Negotiable document of title. A document of title in which it is stated that the goods referred to therein will be delivered to the bearer, or to the order of any person named in such document, is a negotiable document of title.

5137. Id. How negotiated. A negotiable document of title may be negotiated by delivery:

1. Where by the terms of the document the carrier, warehouseman or other bailee issuing the same undertakes to deliver the goods to the bearer, or

2. Where by the terms of the document the carrier, warehouseman or other bailee issuing the same undertakes to deliver the goods to the order of a specified person, and such person or a subsequent indorsee of the document has indorsed it in blank or to bearer.

Where by the terms of a negotiable document of title the goods are deliverable to bearer, or where a negotiable document of title has been indorsed in blank or to bearer, any holder may indorse the same to himself or to any other specified person, and in such case the document shall thereafter be negotiated only by the indorsement of such indorsee.

5138. Id. Negotiated by indorsement. A negotibale document of title may be negotiated by the indorsement of the person to whose order the goods are by the terms of the document deliverable. Such indorsement may be in blank, to bearer or to a specified person. If indorsed to a specified person, it may be again negotiated by the indorsement of such person in blank, to bearer or to another specified person. Subsequent negotiation may be made in like manner.

5140. Non-negotiable document may be transferred. A document of title which is not in such form that it can be negotiated by delivery may be transferred by the holder by delivery to a purchaser or donee. A non-negotiable document cannot be negotiated, and the indorsement of such a document gives the transferee no additional right.

5141. Who may negotiate document. A negotiable document of title may be negotiated:

1. By the owner thereof, or
2. By any person to whom the possession or custody of the document has been entrusted by the owner, if by the terms of the document the bailee issuing the document undertakes to deliver the goods to the order of the person to whom the possession or custody of the document has been entrusted, or if at the time of such entrusting the document is in such form that it may be negotiated by delivery.

5142. What is acquired when document is negotiated. A person to whom a negotiable document of title has been duly negotiated acquires thereby:

2. The direct obligation of the bailee issuing the document to hold possession of the goods for him according to the terms of the document as fully as if such bailee had contracted directly with him.

5143. Rights of person to whom document has been transferred. A person to whom a document of title has been transferred, but not negotiated, acquires thereby, as against the transferor, the title to the goods, subject to the terms of any agreement with the transferor. If the document is non-negotiable, such person also acquires the right to notify the bailee who issued the document of the transfer thereof, and thereby to acquire the direct obligation of such bailee to hold possession of the goods for him according to the terms of the document. Prior to the notification of such bailee by the trans-feror or transferee of a non-negotiable document of title, the title of the transferee to the goods and the right to acquire the obligation of such bailee may be defeated by the levy of an attachment or execution upon the goods by a creditor of the transferor, or by a notification to such bailee by the transferor or a subsequent purchaser from the transferor of a subsequent sale of the goods by the transferor.

5144. Id. By delivery. Where a negotiable document of title is transferred for value by delivery, and the indorsement of the transferor is essential for negotiation, the transferee acquires a right against the transferor to compel him to indorse the document unless a contrary intention appears. The negotiation shall take effect as of the time when the indorsement is actually made.

5145. What transferor warrants. A person who for value negotiates or transfers a document of title by indorsement or delivery, including one who assigns for value a claim by a document of title unless a contrary intention appears, warrants:

1. That the document is genuine;
2. That he has a legal right to negotiate or transfer it;
3. That he has knowledge of no fact which would impair the validity or worth of the document; and
4. That he has a right to transfer the title to the goods and that the goods are merchantable or fit for a particular purpose, whenever such warranties would have been implied if the contract of the parties had been to transfer without a document of title the goods represented thereby.

5146. Indorser not liable for failure of bailee. The indorsement of a document of title shall not make the indorser liable for any failure on the part of the bailee who issued the document or previous indorsers thereof to fulfill their respective obligations.

5149. Creditor's protection. A creditor whose debtor is the owner of a negotiable document of title shall be entitled to such aid from courts of appropriate jurisdiction by injunction and otherwise in attaching such document or in satisfying the claim by means thereof as is allowed at law or in equity in regard to property which cannot readily be attached or levied upon by ordinary legal process.

CHAPTER 3.

PERFORMANCE OF CONTRACT.

5150. Duty of buyer and seller. It is the duty of the seller to deliver the goods, and of the buyer to accept and pay for them, in accordance with the terms of the contract to sell or sale.

2. Where by a contract to sell, or a sale, the seller is bound to send the goods to the buyer, but no time for sending them is fixed, the seller is bound to send them within a reasonable time.

3. Where the goods at the time of sale are in the possession of a third person, the seller has not fulfilled his obligation to deliver to the buyer unless and until such third person acknowledges to the buyer that he holds the goods on the buyer's behalf; but as against all others than the seller the buyer shall be regarded as having received delivery from the time when such third person first has notice of the sale. Nothing in this section, however, shall affect the operation of the issue or transfer of any document of title to goods.

4. Demand or tender of delivery may be treated as ineffectual unless made at a reasonable hour. What is a reasonable hour is a question of fact.

5. Unless otherwise agreed, the expenses of and incidental to putting the goods into a deliverable state must be borne by the seller.

5153. Shortage, excess, mixed goods delivered. 1. Where the seller delivers to the buyer a quantity of goods less than he contracted to sell, the buyer may reject them, but if the buyer accepts or retains the goods so delivered, knowing that the seller is not going to perform the contract in full, he must pay for them at the contract price. If, however, the buyer has used or disposed of the goods delivered before he knows that the seller is not going to perform his contract in full, the buyer shall not be liable for more than the fair value to him of the goods so received.

2. Where the seller delivers to the buyer a quantity of goods larger than he contracted to sell, the buyer may accept the goods included in the contract and reject the rest, or he may reject the whole. If the buyer accepts the whole of the goods so delivered he must pay for them at the contract rate.

3. Where the seller delivers to the buyer the goods he contracted to sell mixed with goods of a different description not included in the contract, the buyer may accept the goods which are in accordance with the contract and reject the rest, or he may reject the whole.

4. The provisions of this section are subject to any usage of trade, special agreement, or course of dealing between the parties.

5154. Delivery by instalments. 1. Unless otherwise agreed the buyer of goods is not bound to accept delivery thereof by instalments.

5155. Delivery to carrier deemed delivery to buyer. Liability of carrier. Insurance. 1. Where, in pursuance of a contract to sell or a sale, the seller is authorized or required to send the goods to the buyer, delivery of the goods to a carrier, whether named by the buyer or not, for the purpose of transmission to the buyer is deemed to be a delivery of the goods to the buyer, except in the cases provided for in § 5128, rule 5, or unless a contrary intent appears.

2. Unless otherwise authorized by the buyer, the seller must make such contract with the carrier on behalf of the buyer as may be reasonable, having regard to the nature of the goods and the other circumstances of the case. If the seller omit so to do, and the goods are lost or damaged in course of transit, the buyer may decline to treat the delivery to the carrier as a delivery to himself, or may hold the seller responsible in damages.

3. Unless otherwise agreed, where goods are sent by the seller to the buyer under circumstances in which the seller knows or ought to know that it is usual to insure, the seller must give such notice to the buyer as may enable him to insure them during their transit, and if the seller fails to do so, the goods shall be deemed to be at his risk during such transit.

5156. Examination of goods. C. O. D. 1. Where goods are delivered to the buyer, which he has not previously examined, he is not deemed to have accepted them unless and until he has had a reasonable opportunity of examining them for the purpose of ascertaining whether they are in conformity with the contract.

2. Unless otherwise agreed, when the seller tenders delivery of goods to the buyer, he is bound, on request, to afford the buyer a reasonable opportunity of examining the goods for the purpose of ascertaining whether they are in conformity with the contract.

5157. What is deemed acceptance. The buyer is deemed to have accepted the goods when he intimates to the seller that he has accepted them, or when the goods have been delivered to him, and he does any act in relation to them which is inconsistent with the ownership of the seller, or when, after the lapse of a reasonable time, he retains the goods without intimating to the seller that he has rejected them.

5158. Acceptance does not discharge liability on warranty. In the absence of express or implied agreement of the parties, acceptance of the goods by the buyer shall not discharge the seller from liability in damages or other legal remedy for breach of any promise or warranty in the contract to sell or the sale. But if, after acceptance of the goods, the buyer fails to give notice to the seller of the breach of any promise or warranty within a reasonable time after the buyer knows, or ought to know of such breach, the seller shall not be liable therefor.

5160. Liability of buyer upon refusal to accept goods. When the seller is ready and willing to deliver the goods, and requests the buyer to take delivery, and the buyer does not within a reasonable time after such request take delivery of the goods, he is liable to the seller for any loss occasioned by his neglect or refusal to take delivery, and also for a reasonable charge for the care and custody of the goods. If the neglect or refusal of the buyer to take delivery amounts to a repudiation or breach of the entire contract, the seller shall have the rights against the goods and on the contract hereinafter provided in favor of the seller when the buyer is in default.

CHAPTER 4.

RIGHTS OF UNPAID SELLER AGAINST THE GOODS.

5161. Who is unpaid seller. The seller of goods is deemed to be an unpaid seller within the meaning of this title:

1. When the whole of the price has not been paid or tendered.

2. When a bill of exchange or other negotiable instrument has been received as conditional payment, and the condition on which it was received has been broken by reason of the dishonor of the instrument, the insolvency of the buyer, or otherwise.

3. In this chapter the term "seller" includes an agent of the seller to whom the bill of lading has been indorsed, or a consignor or agent who has himself paid, or is directly responsible for, the price, or any other person who is in the position of a seller.

5162. Unpaid seller retains. 1. Subject to the provisions of this title, notwithstanding that the property in the goods may have passed to the buyer, the unpaid seller of goods, as such, has:

(a) A lien upon the goods or right to retain them for the price while he is in possession of them;

(b) In case of the insolvency of the buyer, a right of stopping the goods in transitu after he has parted with the possession of them;

(c) A right of resale as limited by this title;

(d) A right to rescind the sale as limited by this title.

2. Where the property in goods has not passed to the buyer, the unpaid seller has, in addition to his other remedies, a right of withholding delivery similar to and co-extensive with his rights of lien and stoppage in transitu where the property has passed to the buyer.

5163. Unpaid seller's lien. 1. Subject to the provisions of this title, the unpaid seller of goods who is in possession of them is entitled to retain possession of them until payment or tender of the price, in the following cases, namely:

(a) Where the goods have been sold without any stipulation as to credit;

(b) Where the goods have been sold on credit, but the term of credit has expired;

(c) Where the buyer becomes insolvent.

2. The seller may exercise his right of lien notwithstanding that he is in possession of the goods as agent or bailee for the buyer.

5164. Id. On part delivery. Where an unpaid seller has made part delivery of the goods, he may exercise his right of lien on the remainder, unless such part delivery has been made under such circumstances as to show an intent to waive the lien or right of retention.

5165. Id. When lost. 1. The unpaid seller of goods loses his lien thereon:

(a) When he delivers the goods to a carrier or other bailee for the purpose of transmission to the buyer without reserving the property in the goods or the right to the possession thereof;

(b) When the buyer or his agent lawfully obtains possession of the goods;

(c) By waiver thereof.

2. The unpaid seller of goods, having a lien thereon, does not lose his lien by reason only that he has obtained judgment or decree for the price of the goods.

5166. Stoppage in transitu. Subject to the provisions of this title, when the buyer of goods is or becomes insolvent, the unpaid seller who has parted with the possession of the goods has the right of stopping them in transitu; that is to say, he may resume possession of the goods at any time while they are in transit, and he will then become entitled to the same rights in regard to the goods as he would have had if he had never parted with the possession.

5167. Where goods are and are not in transitu. 1. Goods are in transit within the meaning of § 5166:

(a) From the time when they are delivered to a carrier by land or water, or other bailee for the purpose of transmission to the buyer, until the buyer, or his agent in that behalf, takes delivery of them from such carrier or other bailee;

(b) If the goods are rejected by the buyer, and the carrier or other bailee continues in possession of them, even if the seller has refused to receive them back.

2. Goods are no longer in transit within the meaning of § 5166:

(a) If the buyer, or his agent in that behalf, obtains delivery of the goods before their arrival at the appointed destination;

(b) If, after the arrival of the goods at the appointed destination, the carrier or other bailee acknowledges to the buyer or his agent that he holds the goods on his behalf and continues in possession of them as bailee for the buyer or his agent; and it is immaterial that a further destination for the goods may have been indicated by the buyer;

(c) If the carrier or other bailee wrongfully refuses to deliver the goods to the buyer or his agent in that behalf.

3. If goods are delivered to a ship chartered by the buyer, it is a question depending on the circumstances of the particular case, whether they are in the possession of the master as a carrier or as agent of the buyer.

4. If part delivery of the goods has been made to the buyer, or his agent in that behalf, the remainder of the goods may be stopped in transitu, unless such part delivery has been made under such circumstances as to show an agreement with the buyer to give up possession of the whole of the goods.

2. When notice of stoppage in transitu is given by the seller to the carrier, or other bailee in possession of the goods, he must redeliver the goods to, or according to the directions of the seller. The expenses of such delivery must be borne by the seller. If, however, a negotiable document of title representing the goods has been issued by the carrier or other bailee, he shall not be obliged to deliver or justified in delivering the goods to the seller unless such document is first surrendered for cancellation.

5169. Resale by the seller. 1. Where the goods are of a perishable nature, or where the seller expressly reserves the right of resale in case the buyer should make default, or where the buyer has been in default in the payment of the price an unreasonable time, an unpaid seller having a right of lien or having stopped the goods in transitu may resell the goods. He shall not thereafter be liable to the original buyer upon the contract to sell, or the sale, or for any profit made by such resale, but may recover from the buyer damages for any loss occasioned by the breach of the contract or the sale.

2. Where a resale is made, as authorized in this section, the buyer acquires a good title as against the original buyer.

3. It is not essential to the validity of a resale that notice of an intention to resell the goods be given by the seller to the original buyer. But where the right to resell is not based on the perishable nature of the goods or upon an express provision of the contract or the sale, the giving or failure to give such notice shall be relevant in any issue involving the question whether the buyer had been in default an unreasonable time before the resale was made.

4. It is not essential to the validity of a resale that notice of the time and place of such resale should be given by the seller to the original buyer.

5. The seller is bound to exercise reasonable care and judgment, in making a resale, and subject to this requirement may make a resale either by public or private sale.

5170. Rescission by the seller. 1. An unpaid seller having a right of lien, or having stopped the goods in transitu, may rescind the transfer of title and resume the property in the goods, where he expressly reserved the right to do so in case the buyer should make default, or where the buyer had been in default in the payment of the price an unreasonable time. The seller shall not thereafter be liable to the buyer upon the contract to sell or the sale, but may recover from the buyer damages for any loss occasioned by the breach of the contract or the sale.

5171. Unpaid seller's rights. Subject to the provisions of this title, the unpaid seller's right of lien or stoppage in transitu is not affected by any sale, or other disposition of the goods which the buyer may have made, unless the seller has assented thereto. If, however, a negotiable document of title has been issued for goods, no seller's lien or right of stoppage in transitu shall defeat the right of any purchaser for value in good faith to whom such document has been negotiated, whether such negotiation be prior or subsequent to the notification to the carrier, or other bailee who issued such document, the seller's claim to a lien or right of stoppage in transitu.

CHAPTER 5.

ACTIONS FOR BREACH OF THE CONTRACT.

5172. Remedies of the seller. 1. Where, under a contract to sell or a sale, the property in the goods has passed to the buyer, and the buyer wrongfully neglects or refuses to pay for the goods according to the terms of the contract or the sale, the seller may maintain an action against him for the price of the goods.

3. Although the property in the goods has not passed, if they cannot readily be resold for a reasonable price, and if the provisions of sub. 4, § 5173, are not applicable, the seller may offer to deliver the goods to the buyer, and, if the buyer refuses to receive them, may notify the buyer that the goods are thereafter held by the seller as bailee for the buyer. Thereafter the seller may treat the goods as the buyer's and maintain an action for the price.

5173. Id. Measure of damages. 1. Where the buyer wrongfully neglects or refuses to accept and pay for the goods, the seller may maintain an action against him for damages for non-acceptance.

2. The measure of damages is the estimated loss directly and naturally resulting, in the ordinary course of events, from the buyer's breach of contract.

3. Where there is an available market for the goods in question, the measure of damages is, in the absence of special circumstances, showing proximate damage of a greater amount, the difference between the contract price and the market or current price at the time or times when the goods ought to have been accepted, or, if no time was fixed for acceptance, then at the time of the refusal to accept.

4. If, while labor or expenses of material amount are necessary on the part of the seller to enable him to fulfill his obligations under the contract to sell or the sale, the buyer repudiates the contract or the sale, or notifies the seller to proceed no further therewith, the buyer shall be liable to the seller for no greater damages than the seller would have suffered if he did nothing towards carrying out the contract or the sale after receiving notice of the buyer's repudiation or countermand. The profit the seller would have made if the contract or the sale had been fully performed shall be considered in estimating such damages.

5174. Id. Upon repudiation of contract after delivery of goods. Where the goods have not been delivered to the buyer, and the buyer has repudiated the contract to sell or sale, or has manifested his inability to perform his obligations thereunder, or has committed a material breach thereof, the seller may totally rescind the contract or the sale by giving notice of his election so to do to the buyer.

5175. Remedies of the buyer where goods have passed. Where the property in the goods has passed to the buyer and the seller wrongfully neglects or refuses to deliver the goods, the buyer may maintain any action allowed by law to the owner of goods of similar kind when wrongfully converted or withheld.

5176. Id. Where goods have not passed. 1. Where the property in the goods has not passed to the buyer, and the seller wrongfully neglects or refuses to deliver the goods, the buyer may maintain an action against the seller for damages for non-delivery.

2. The measure of damages is the loss directly and naturally resulting in the ordinary course of events, from the seller's breach of contract.

3. Where there is an available market for the goods in question, the measure of damages, in the absence of special circumstances showing proximate damages of a greater amount, is the difference between the contract price and the market or current price of the goods at the time or times when they ought to have been delivered, or, if no time was fixed, then at the time of the refusal to deliver.

5177. Id. Powers of court. Where the seller has broken a contract to deliver specific or ascertained goods, a court having the powers of a court of equity, may, if it thinks fit, on the application of the buyer by its judgment or decree, direct that the contract shall be performed specifically, without giving the seller the option of retaining the goods on payment of damages. The judgment or decree may be unconditional, or upon such terms and conditions as to damages, payment of the price and otherwise, as to the court may seem just.

5178. Id. Upon breach of warranty. 1. Where there is a breach of warranty by the seller, the buyer may, at his election:

(a) Accept or keep the goods and set up against the seller, the breach of warranty by way of recoupment in diminution or extinction of the price;

(b) Accept or keep the goods and maintain an action against the seller for damages for the breach of warranty;

(c) Refuse to accept the goods, if the property therein has not passed, and maintain an action against the seller for damages for the breach of warranty;

(d) Rescind the contract to sell or the sale and refuse to receive the goods, or if the goods have already been received, return them or offer to return them to the seller and recover the price or any part thereof which has been paid.

2. When the buyer has claimed and been granted a remedy in any one of these ways, no other remedy can thereafter be granted.

3. Where the goods have been delivered to the buyer, he cannot rescind the sale if he knew of the breach of warranty when he accepted the goods, or if he fails to notify the seller within a reasonable time of the election to rescind, or if he fails to return or to offer to return the goods to the seller in substantially as good condition as they were in at the time the property was transferred to the buyer. But if deterioration or injury of the goods is due to the breach of warranty, such deterioration or injury shall not prevent the buyer from returning or offering to return the goods to the seller and rescinding the sale.

4. Where the buyer is entitled to rescind the sale and elects to do so, the buyer shall cease to be liable for the price upon returning or offering to return the goods. If the price or any part thereof has already been paid, the seller shall be liable to repay so much thereof as has been paid, concurrently with the return of the goods, or immediately after an offer to return the goods in exchange for repayment of the price.

5. Where the buyer is entitled to rescind the sale and elects to do so, if the seller refuses to accept an offer of the buyer to return the goods, the buyer shall thereafter be deemed to hold the goods as bailee for the seller, but subject to a lien to secure the repayment of any portion of the price which has been paid, and with the remedies for the enforcement of such lien allowed to an unpaid seller by § 5162.

6. The measure of damages for breach of warranty is the loss directly and naturally resulting, in the ordinary course of events, from the breach of warranty.

7. In the case of breach of warranty of quality, such loss, in the absence of special circumstances showing proximate damage of a greater amount, is the difference between the value of the goods at the time of delivery to the buyer and the value they would have had if they had answered to the warranty.

5179. Damages for breach. Nothing in this title shall affect the right of the buyer or the seller to recover interest or special damages in any case where by law interest or special damages may be recoverable, or to recover money paid where the consideration for the payment of it has failed.

CHAPTER 6.

INTERPRETATION AND DEFINITIONS.

INTERPRETATION.

5180. Rights under contract may be negatived by agreement or custom. Where any right, duty, or liability would arise under a contract to sell or a sale by implication of law, it may be negatived or varied by express agreement or by the course of dealing between the parties, or by custom, if the custom be such as to bind both parties to the contract or the sale.

5181. Declared rights may be enforced. Where any right, duty, or liability is declared by this title, it may, unless otherwise by this title provided, be enforced by action.

5182. Laws applicable when not otherwise herein provided. In any case not provided for in this title, the rules of law and equity, including the law merchant, and in particular the rules relating to the law of principal and agent, and to the effect of fraud, misrepresentation, duress, or coercion, mistake, bankruptcy, or other invalidating cause, shall continue to apply to contracts to sell and to sales of goods.

5183. Interpretation shall give effect to purpose of uniformity. This title shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the laws of those states which enact it.

5184. Where provisions not applicable. The provisions of this title relating to contracts to sell and to sales do not apply, unless so stated, to any transaction in the form of a contract to sell or a sale which is intended to operate by way of mortgage, pledge, charge, or other security.

5185. Definitions. 1. In this title unless the context or subject matter otherwise requires:

"Action" includes counterclaims, set-off, and suit in equity.

"Buyer" means a person who buys or agrees to buy goods or any legal successor in interest of such person.

"Defendant" includes a plaintiff against whom a right of set-off or counterclaim is asserted.

"Delivery" means voluntary transfer of possession from one person to another.

"Divisible contract to sell or sale" means a contract to sell or a sale in which by its terms the price for a portion or portions of the goods less than the whole is fixed or ascertainable by computation.

"Document to title of goods" includes any bill of lading, dock warrant, warehouse receipt, or order for the delivery of goods, or any other document used in the ordinary course of business in the sale or transfer of goods, as proof of the possession or control of the goods, or authorized or purporting to authorize the possessor of the document to transfer or receive, either by indorsement or by delivery, goods represented by such document.

"Fault" means wrongful act or default.

"Fungible goods" means goods of which any unit is from its nature or by mercantile usage treated as the equivalent of any other unit.

"Future goods" means goods to be manufactured or acquired by the seller after the making of the contract of sale.

"Goods" includes all chattels personal other than things in action and money. The term includes emblements, industrial growing corps, and things attached to or forming part of the land which are agreed to be severed before sale or under the contract of sale.

"Order" in sections of this title relating to documents of title means an order by indorsement on the document.

"Person" includes a corporation or partnership or two or more persons having a joint or common interest.

"Plaintiff" includes defendant asserting a right of set-off or counterclaim.

"Property" means the general property in goods, and not merely a special property.

"Purchaser" includes mortgagee and pledgee.

"Purchases" includes taking as a mortgagee or as a pledgee.

"Quality of goods" includes their state or condition.

"Sale" includes a bargain and sale as well as a sale and delivery.

"Seller" means a person who sells or agrees to sell goods, or any legal successor in the interest of such person.

"Specific goods" means goods identified and agreed upon at time a contract to sell or a sale is made.

"Value" is any consideration sufficient to support a simple contract. An antecedent or pre-existing claim, whether for money or not, constitutes value where goods or documents of titles are taken either in satisfaction thereof or as security therefor.

2. A thing is done "in good faith" within the meaning of this title when it is in fact done honestly, whether it be done negligently or not.

or not, and whether he is insolvent within the meaning of the federal bankruptcy law or not.

4. Goods are in a "deliverable state," within the meaning of this title, when they are in such a state that the buyer would, under the contract, be bound to take delivery of them.

5186. Not applicable to sales prior to enactment. None of the provisions of this title shall apply to any sale, or to any contract to sell, made prior to the taking effect of this title.

5187. Warehouse receipts act not repealed. Nothing in this title or in any repealing clause thereof shall be construed to repeal or limit any of the provisions of the act to make uniform the law of warehouse receipts.

5188. Inconsistent laws repealed. All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed, except as provided in § 5187.

5189. How cited. This title may be cited as the uniform sales act. '17, p. 395.

TITLE 99.

SINKING FUNDS.

5200. (2063x19.) Sinking funds of any subdivision of state may be invested. The city council of every city, the board of county commissioners of every county, the board of education of every city, the trustees of every school district, the directors of every irrigation district in the state of Utah, may cause any sinking fund, now existing or hereafter created by authority of the laws of the state, to be invested in any legal and lawful bonds bearing interest, issued by any city, county, or school district in the state of Utah, or by the state of Utah. Whenever such bonds are on the market at a fair and reasonable value, and the money in any said sinking funds exceeds the amount of any bond or bonds for which said fund was created, then such fund shall be used to redeem said bond or bonds at the market value thereof, and the custodians of any said sinking fund are hereby authorized to buy such bond or bonds. '01, p. 82.

Investment of state redemption fund by loan commissioners, § 3809.

TITLE 100.

STATE INSTITUTIONS.

CHAPTER 1.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

5204. (2064.) Governing boards. How appointed. Members of the governing board of each state institution shall be appointed by the governor, with the advice and consent of the senate, except as in this title otherwise provided.

General appointive power of governor, Con. art. 7, secs. 9, 10; §§ 5682-5687.

5205. (2065.) Id. Vacancies. A vacancy in a governing board may occur by the expiration of a term, by death, by lawful removal from office, by the permanent departure of a member thereof from the state, by his incapacity to act, or by his resignation. Such vacancy, other than by the expiration of a term, shall be filled by the governor for the remainder of the term, with the advice and consent of the senate if in session. If the senate is not in session, the appointment shall be made and shall continue until the next regular session of the senate. Each member of the board shall hold until his successor shall be appointed and shall have qualified.

5206. (2066.) Officers must not be interested in contract. No member of the governing board of a state institution, nor official or employe of such institution, shall be pecuniarily interested, directly or indirectly, in any contract, business, or transaction entered into by or on behalf of the institution.

5207. (2067.) Supplies. Yearly contract. All general supplies for every state institution shall be contracted for by the year, except in cases where contracts for certain supplies cannot be advantageously made. Notice shall be given and contracts let in the manner provided in the two succeeding sections.

5208. (2068.) Building and repairs by contract. Advertisement. Whenever the needs of a state institution demand a building to be repaired or erected, or any work amounting to more than $200 to be done, the governing board of such institution shall advertise for at least ten days, in some newspaper published in this state and having a general circulation herein, for sealed proposals for repairing or erecting such building, or performing such work, in accordance with plans and specifications to be had at the office of the board.

Public work contractors must give bond, § 3753.

5209. (2069.) Proposals in writing. Opening. Award. The advertisement must state the place where and the day and hour when the proposals will be opened, and must reserve the right of the board to reject any or all proposals, and shall require a certified check for not less than five per cent of the amount of the bid to accompany the same. At the time and place specified in such notice, the board shall publicly open and read all proposals received, shall award the contract to the lowest responsible bidder, and shall require of such bidder a bond in one-half the amount of his bid, conditioned that he will properly perform the contract. In case none of the proposals be satisfactory, all must be rejected; and the board shall advertise anew in the same manner as before until a satisfactory proposal be submitted.

5210. (2070.) Appropriations. When available. How drawn. On the first day of each month, or as soon thereafter as the bills for the expenses for the previous month have been audited, the board of control of each state institution, or the proper committee thereof, duly authorized by the board for such purpose, shall make a requisition upon the state auditor for a warrant in sufficient amount to pay the bills so audited, and thereupon the state auditor shall draw his warrant against the appropriation made for such institution for the amount named in the requisition, in favor of the treasurer of the governing board of the institution, or, in case of the state prison, in favor of the warden thereof. To obtain such warrant, the treasurer of the board or the warden must present to the state auditor a written authorization from the board. Am'd '99, p. 76.

Does not supersede law of 1899. Sec. 5210, as amended 1899, p. 76, does not supersede law of 1899, p. 20, and auditor was authorized to draw warrant.
University v. Richards, 20 U. 457; 59 P. 96.

5211. (2071.) Boards to make biennial report. The governing board of each state institution shall make biennially to the governor, on the 1st day of January preceding each regular session of the legislature, a detailed report showing a statement of its important official acts, the growth and condition of the institution, the report of the chief executive officer thereof, a list of officials and their salaries, and an estimate of the cash value of the real and personal property of the institution or of the state in connection therewith, together with an inventory of the same.

CHAPTER 2.

CREATING A PERMANENT FUND FOR THE UNIVERSITY OF UTAH, BRANCH NORMAL, AND AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

('11, p. 20.)

5214. Fund created. For the purpose of providing a permanent and perpetual fund for the general maintenance of the University of Utah, the Agricultural College of Utah, and the Branch of the Agricultural College of Utah, there is hereby appropriated and set aside for that purpose 28 per cent of the entire annual revenue derived from the general tax levy for state purposes in the state of Utah, exclusive of the state school and high school funds.

Am'd '13, p. 41.

5215. Apportionment. The general maintenance fund shall be divided as follows: The University of Utah, including the State School of Mines and the State Normal School, shall receive 64.43 per centum; the Agricultural College of Utah, 28.34 per centum; the Branch of the Agricultural College of Utah, 7.23 per centum of the funds in this chapter provided for.

Am'd '13, p. 41.

5216. Expenditures not to exceed revenues. The annual cost of the general maintenance herein provided for the University of Utah, the Agricultural College of Utah, and the Branch of the Agricultural College of Utah shall not exceed the amount in this chapter provided for, together with such revenue as may be derived from the several land grant funds of the above named institutions and the funds received by them from miscellaneous sources.

'13, p. 41.

5217. General maintenance defined. The term "general maintenance," as used in this chapter shall be so construed as to mean and include all necessary expenses of the above institutions, except for the purchase and delivery on the grounds of additional water, the purchase of grounds, and the erection and equipment of new buildings and permanent additions.

5218. Funds, when available. The funds becoming available under the provisions of this chapter shall be used for the school year beginning July 1 of each calendar year in which the tax providing said funds is levied.

5220. Expenditures and deficits. The expenditure of the funds derived under the provisions of this chapter and the creation of any deficit in connection with the institutions herein named shall be under the same provisions as may be provided for expenditures and deficits in connection with other state institutions.

5221. State auditor to credit funds, when. The state auditor shall credit to the several institutions herein named the funds provided under the provisions of this chapter at the same time or times and in the same manner as the district school funds are credited, and at the same time he shall notify in writing the said institutions of the actual amount of money in the state treasury to the credit of each for their general maintenance as provided in this chapter.

CHAPTER 3.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

5233. (2073.) Where located. The Agricultural College of Utah shall continue as now established and located at Logan, in the county of Cache.

Part of public school system, Con. art. 10, sec. 2.
Location at Logan City confirmed, rights perpetuated, Con. art. 10, sec. 4.
Land grant, enabling act, sec. 8.
Perpetual fund, Con. art. 10, secs. 3, 5, 7; art. 20, sec. 1.
Equipment and instructors at disposal of state road commission, § 2862.
Permanent fund for maintenance, §§ 5214-5221.

5234. (2074.) Object. The leading object of the college shall be to teach branches of learning related to agriculture and the mechanical arts, and such other scientific and classical studies as may promote the liberal and practical education of the industrial classes in the several pursuits and professions of life.

5235. (2075.) Board of trustees. The government and control of the college shall be vested in a board of trustees, which shall consist of the secretary of state and twelve resident citizens of the state, to be appointed by the governor. Six of said citizen members of the board shall be appointed to serve for two years and six of said citizen members for a term of four years, as may be designated by the governor at the time of their appointments; such appointments to be made at the expiration of the respective terms of the present members. Thereafter appointments shall be for the term of four years. Am'd '09, p. 231; '11, p. 53.

Filling of vacancies, § 5205.
Horse commission directed by Agricultural College trustees, § 2919.
Trustees of the Agricultural College, who were to qualify by giving bond and to receive compensation for services and perform various specified duties, are officers within the meaning of the organic act.
McCornick v. Thatcher, 8 U. 294; 30 P. 1091.
Where compiled laws of 1888 provided that the board of trustees of a college might expend all appropriations for the college, and a subsequent act appropriating money to the college provided for a board of construction to expend such appropriation, and contained a clause repealing all acts inconsistent with said act; held, that the latter act superseded the compiled laws in relation to such appropriation, and in default of a valid appointment of the board of construction, the trustees could not expend the appropriation.
Id.

5236. (2076.) Id. Has general charge. By-laws. Faculty. The board shall take charge of the general interests of the institution, and may sue and be sued in all matters concerning it. The board shall have power to enact by-laws and regulations for all concerns of the institution, not inconsistent with the laws of the state; and likewise to appoint a president of the faculty, professors, and such other officers and employes as, in its judgment, may be necessary, to prescribe their duties, and to determine their salaries.

To purchase supplies and erect buildings by contract, §§ 5207, 5209.
Officer or employe not to be interested in contracts, etc., § 5206.

5237. (2077.) Record and accounts. The board shall have kept an accurate record of its proceedings, which shall embrace copies of all contracts entered into, and a minute and accurate record of all expenditures, showing the amount paid, to whom paid, and for what service rendered, and materials purchased, and whether paid on account or in preformance of contract; and for all payments made vouchers shall be taken.

5238. (2078.) Board has general control. The board shall have the general control and supervision of the college, of the farm pertaining thereto, and of such property as may be vested in the college by law, of all appropriations made by the state for the support of the same, and also of lands or personalty that may hereafter be donated by the state, or by the United States, or by any person or corporation, in trust for the promotion of agricultural and industrial pursuits.

5239. (2079.) Officers of board. The board shall elect one of its number president, and shall appoint a secretary and a treasurer.

Fees of horse commission paid to secretary Agricultural College, § 2919.

5240. (2080.) Oath and bond. With the exception of the secretary of state, the trustees shall qualify by taking the constitutional oath of office and by giving bonds with sufficient sureties to the state of Utah, in the penal sum of $1000 each, conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties of their office. Such bonds must be approved by the governor and filed with the secretary of state. The treasurer shall execute a bond in such sum as the board of trustees may determine. Am'd '11, p. 53.

5242. (2082.) Id. Future appointees. After the expiration of the terms of the present trustees, there shall be allowed to members of the board no compensation for their time or services, but their actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their official duties, the account for which shall be verified on oath, shall be paid by the state treasurer on the warrant of the state auditor, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Warrants drawn in favor of treasurer, § 5210.

5243. (2083.) Professors, instructors, etc. The board shall establish in the college an adequate number of professorships of the sciences related to agriculture and the mechanical arts. Such professorships shall be filled by able and competent professors, aided by such assistants, tutors, and other instructors as shall from time to time be necessary.

State leader in junior vocational work made supervisor of agricultural and industrial education, § 4542.

State leader in junior vocational work for girls made supervisor of home economices, § 4542.

5244. (2084.) Faculty. Assistants. President of faculty. The president of the trustees, the professors, and such assistants as may be designated by the board shall constitute the faculty of the college. The titles of such assistants shall be determined by the board. The president of the faculty shall be ex officio a member of the state board of education.

5245. (2085.) Employes removable. Any professor, instructor, officer, or employe of the college shall be removable at the pleasure of the board.

5246. (2086.) Religious preferences and sectarian teachings forbidden. In the appointments of professors, instructors, and other officers and assistants of said college, and in prescribing the studies and exercises thereof, and in every part of the management and government thereof, no partiality or preference shall be shown by the board to one sect or religious denomination over another; nor shall anything sectarian be taught therein. Persons engaged in conducting, governing, managing, or controlling the college in any of its parts, and its studies and exercises, shall faithfully and impartially carry out the provisions of this section for the common good.

No religious or partisan test to be required of teachers, Con. art. 10, sec. 12.

To be free from sectarian control, Con. art. 3, sec. 4; art. 10, sec. 1.

5247. (2087.) Courses of study in the Agricultural College. The courses of instruction in the Agricultural College, until otherwise provided for by law, shall comprise agriculture, horticulture, forestry, animal industry, veterinary science, domestic science and art, elementary commerce, elementary surveying, instructions in irrigation as applied to the measurement, distribution, and application of water for agricultural purposes, for which a degree of engineering in agriculture may be given, military science and tactics, history, language, and the various branches of mathematics, physical and natural science, and mechanic arts, with special reference to the liberal and practical education of the industrial classes. But the Agricultural College shall not offer courses in liberal arts, pedagogy, the profession of law or medicine, or engineering, except agricultural engineering. Am'd '05, p. 25; '11, p. 52.

Courses in university restricted, § 5522.

5248. (2088.) Full course. Winter course. A full course of study in the institution shall be of not less than four years. The board may institute a winter course of lectures for others than students of the institution, under necessary rules and regulations.

5249. (2088x.) Board of trustees directed to establish winter course. The object of this section is the establishment and maintenance of a regular winter course of studies for students at the Agricultural College of Utah; which course shall include studies relating to agriculture and mechanical arts, and such other scientific and classical studies as the board of trustees and faculty may prescribe, and the board of trustees is hereby empowered and directed to establish such course. The special year of this course shall consist of five calendar months, beginning on or about November 1st of each year.
'99, p. 115.

5250. (2089.) Academical year. The academical year shall consist of not less than nine calendar months, and it may be divided into such terms by the board as, in its judgment, will best secure the objects for which the college was founded.

5251. (2090.) Qualifications for entrance. No student shall be admitted to the institution who shall not have attained the age of fifteen years, and who shall not have passed a satisfactory examination in arithmetic, geography, grammar, reading, spelling, and penmanship.
No religious or partisan test to be required of pupils, Con. art. 10, sec. 12.

5252. (2090x.) Entrance and tuition fees. Other receipts. All moneys to be paid to state treasurer. Monthly report. Instruction in the preparatory and regular courses of the Agricultural College of Utah shall be free to actual residents of the state, but an entrance fee, not to exceed $10 for residents and not less than $25 and not to exceed $50 for non-residents of Utah, may be required annually. The board of trustees may fix a reasonable charge for instruction in special studies not embraced in the regular course. All moneys received for entrance and tuition fees, or for sale of animals, shall be covered into the state treasury at the close of each month, and shall be placed to the credit of the maintenance account of the Agricultural College of Utah. A detailed report of the amounts collected from all sources, duly verified by the proper officers of said college, shall be filed with the state auditor and state treasurer at the time such moneys are deposited with the state treasurer.
Am'd '07, p. 134; '15, p. 40.

5253. (2091.) Text books. Degrees. The board of trustees shall, with the advice of the faculty, prescribe the books to be used in the institution, and confer, for similar or equal attainments, degrees and testimonials similar to those conferred by agricultural colleges elsewhere.

BRANCH NORMAL SCHOOL AT CEDAR CITY MADE A BRANCH OF THE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

('13, p. 41.)

5254. School to be under the Agricultural College. The Branch of the State Normal School heretofore established and conducted at Cedar City, in the county of Iron, and state of Utah, is hereby constituted a branch of the Agricultural College of Utah, and the state shall maintain the same under the management, control, and direction of the board of trustees of the Agricultural College of Utah, which may offer only such courses of study therein as are permitted by law to be given in the said Agricultural College.

5255. Repeal. Exemptions. Secs. 2316, 2317, 2318, 2319, and 2320, Compiled Laws of Utah, 1907, are hereby repealed, but any right accruing under the provisions of either of the said sections shall not be affected by this repeal.

EXPERIMENT STATIONS.

5260. (2092.) Agricultural experiment station. Objects. In connection with the college there shall be established an agricultural experiment station to conduct original researches into the physiology of plants and animals; the diseases to which they may be severally subject, with remedies therefor; the chemical composition of useful plants at different stages of growth; the comparative advantages of rotative croppings as pursued under a varying series of crops; the capacities of new plants or trees for acclimation in the state; the analysis of soils and waters; the chemical composition of manures, natural and artificial, with experiments designed to test their comparative effects on crops of different kinds; the adaptation and values of grasses and forage plants; the composition and digestibility of the different kinds of feed for domestic animals; the scientific and economic questions involved in the production of butter and cheese; the best methods of irrigation, with experiments designed to show the amount of water and number of waterings needed on different soils to produce the most abundant crops; and such other researches and experiments as bear directly on the agricultural industry of the state of Utah. The agricultural station shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of an act of congress, passed March 2, 1887, entitled: "An act to establish agricultural experiment stations in connection with the colleges established in the several states, under the provisions of an act approved July 2, 1862," and of acts supplementary thereto.

5264. (2093x8.) Id. Alkali and water logged lands. Said station shall conduct experiments to determine the best and most economical methods of using irrigation water for the production of useful plants, and the best methods of reclaiming the alkali and water-logged lands of the state. Said stations shall also conduct such demonstrations as may be necessary to teach the farmers the right methods of irrigation and the possibility of reclaiming the water-logged and alkali lands of the state. '05, p. 12; '11, p. 54.

5265. (2093x1.) Shall maintain the southern Utah experiment farm. Said station shall maintain the southern Utah experiment farm, as now located, for the experimental study of the agricultural conditions and possibilities of the semi-tropical part of the state, and shall make such other investigations and demonstrations in said district as may be deemed advisable. '99, p. 151; '05, p. 252; '11, p. 54.

Panguitch experiment station, § 5272.

5266. Alfalfa leaf weevil. Said station shall undertake investigations for the purpose of learning the life, history, habits, and methods of eradication of the alfalfa leaf weevil, and shall conduct, when deemed necessary, demonstrations to teach the farmers of the state the approved methods of combating and eradicating the alfalfa weevil. '11, p. 54.

5267. (2093x6.) Bulletins. Said station shall publish, as frequently as may be advisable, popular and technical bulletins containing information of value to the farmers of the state; provided, that at least one report shall be published at each legislative session of the work accomplished under the provisions of this chapter. '05, p. 252; '11, p. 54.

5268. Co-operation. Said station is hereby authorized to enter into co-operative agreements with the nation, state, or county governments, and with other organizations, institutions, and individuals, for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this chapter. '11, p. 54.

5269. Id. Approval. All plans and co-operative agreements formulated under this chapter shall receive the approval, before becoming effective, of the board of trustees of the Utah Agricultural College. '11, p. 54.

5270. Appropriation. For the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this chapter, there is hereby appropriated from the state treasury from the funds not otherwise appropriated $15,000 for the year 1917; $15,000 for the year 1918, and $7,500 for the first six months of the year 1919. Am'd '17, p. 180.

PANGUITCH SCHOOL.

5271. Acceptance, condition. The governor is hereby authorized to accept from the United States the property known as the Panguitch school, including the lands, buildings, and fixtures pertaining to said school, upon condition that said lands and buildings shall be held and maintained by or under the direction of the state of Utah as an institution of learning, and that Indian pupils shall at all times be admitted at such school free of charge for tuition and on terms of equality with white pupils. '09, p. 275.

5273. Control vested in the board of trustees of the Agricultural College. The board of trustees of the Agricultural College shall take charge of and have the general control and supervision of such experiment station, and shall appoint the necessary officers and assistants to conduct the experiments thereon, and the board shall cause at least one report of the operations of said station to be printed annually in connection with, and as a part of the report provided for under the provisions of § 5267. '11, p. 126.

5274. Experiments, how conducted. The same experiments shall be conducted in connection with said experiment station as are now provided shall be conducted in connection with experiment stations established under the provisions of § 5260, and such experiments shall be conducted in the same manner and for the same purposes as provided by §§ 2093x2 and 2093x5, Compiled Laws of Utah, 1907 [substantially §§ 5262-5269]; provided, that in connection with said experiment station there shall be taught branches of learning relating to the practical work in agriculture. The board may fix a reasonable charge for instruction in the branches of learning taught; provided, that Indian pupils shall at all times be permitted to receive such in-

ERECTION AND EQUIPMENT OF ELECTRIC PLANT NEAR LOGAN.

5276. Erection authorized. Purposes. Appropriation. In order to furnish light and power for the Agricultural College at Logan, Utah, including the experiment station, and for the Industrial School and the Utah School for the Deaf and the Blind, at Ogden, Utah, for the University of Utah, including the State Normal School at Salt Lake City, Utah, and for the state prison at Salt Lake City, Utah, the sum of $40,000 is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the erection of an electric power plant in Logan canyon, Utah, at a point to be designated by the board of trustees of the Agricultural College, and the state auditor is hereby authorized and directed, upon the application in writing of said board of trustees, to draw his warrant upon the state treasurer in favor of the said board of trustees of the Agricultural College, for the amount herein specified.

5278. Contracts. The board of trustees of the Agricultural College is hereby authorized and empowered to make such contracts as shall be proper and reasonable, with individuals, with private or municipal corporations for the purpose of having transmitted such electric energy as may not be used at the Agricultural College and experiment station, at Logan, Utah, to other state institutions, including the Industrial School at Ogden, Utah, the Utah School for Deaf and the Blind, at Ogden, Utah, the University of Utah, at Salt Lake City, including the State Normal School, and the state prison, at Salt Lake City, Utah. '11, p. 88.

CONGRESSIONAL APPROPRIATIONS.

5279. (2094.) Appropriations by congress. The governor is hereby authorized to make application to the secretary of the treasury to obtain any appropriation made by congress in pursuance of the act above mentioned or of other acts supplementary thereto. Whenever the college and agricultural experiment station shall be entitled to any money, under the aforesaid or a similar act, the board of trustees shall execute and file with the secretary of the treasury an agreement to expend the money received, for the sole and exclusive purpose expressed in such act and in the manner therein directed, and to maintain a farm of at least twenty-five acres in connection with the Agricultural College. The board shall also execute and file with the said secretary its bond in the penal sum of $15,000, with two sufficient sureties approved by the state auditor, conditioned for the faithful performance of the agreement.

5280. (2094x.) Accepts grant of money. Use of same. The state of Utah hereby accepts the grant of money authorized by the act of congress entitled "An act to provide an increased annual appropriation for agricultural experiment stations and regulating the expenditure thereof," approved March 16, 1906; and assents to the purpose of said grant as expressed in said act. It is hereby stipulated and agreed on the part of the state of Utah that all moneys received by the state according to the provisions of said act shall be used exclusively as provided in said act, and the state guarantees all money so received against loss or misapplication. '07, p. 30.

5281. (2094x1.) Receiving officer. The treasurer of the governing body of the Agricultural College of Utah is designated as the proper officer for receiving from the secretary of the treasury the moneys appropriated by said act. '07, p. 30.

FARMERS AND DOMESTIC SCIENCE INSTITUTES AND SCHOOLS.

5282. (2095.) Meetings, etc., to be held. The Agricultural College of Utah is hereby authorized and required to hold meetings, institutes, one or two-week schools, exhibitions, and demonstrations for the instruction of the citizens of Utah in the various branches of agriculture and domestic science. At least one meeting, institute, or school shall be held in each county each year, at such time and place and under such regulation as the Agricultural College may direct.

5284. (2096.) Local agricultural societies. It shall be the duty of those conducting institutes in any county or precinct in this state, under the provisions of §§ 5282-5286, to encourage and assist in the organization of local agricultural societies, and to encourage legitimate industrial enterprises.

5285. Annual report to be published. At the close of each year's institute work, the Agricultural College shall cause to be published in book or pamphlet form, for free distribution to the farmers of the state, an annual report of the institute work, which report shall contain the leading papers and discussions presented at the institute meetings of the state.

5286. Appropriation. For the purposes mentioned in §§ 5282-5286, the Agricultural College may use such sum as is deemed proper during the years 1917 and 1918, not exceeding the sum of $10,000 in either of said years, and for that purpose there is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated the sum of $20,000.

Am'd '11, p. 52; '17, p. 208.

FARM AND HOME DEMONSTRATORS IN THE SEVERAL COUNTIES.

('13, p. 208.)

5290. Trustees of Agricultural College authorized to place demonstrators. The board of trustees of the Utah Agricultural College are hereby authorized and directed to place practical farm and home demonstrators in various parts of the state of Utah. '13, p. 208.

5291. Duties of demonstrators. Such demonstrators shall study comprehensively the existing farm and home conditions within the districts assigned. They shall visit as far as possible from farm to farm and from home to home and shall present such facts and principles and practices of modern agricultural and home science as may seem needed in the development of the districts assigned. They may assist in the introduction of new crops, new methods of cultivation, and new machinery; encouraging boys' and girls' farm and home contests; in organizing cow-testing and similar organizations; in advancing county and local fairs, and in promoting in such other ways as may be decided upon, the agricultural and home interests of the districts to which the demonstrators are assigned.

5292. Co-operation with department of agriculture. County appropriations. The board of trustees of the Utah Agricultural College are hereby authorized to enter into co-operative contracts with the United States department of agriculture, county or city officers, private and public organizations, or individuals, whereby the expense connected with the demonstration work authorized by §§ 5290-5296 may be borne jointly by the state of Utah and by any or all of the agencies above mentioned in this section. The county commissioners of each county in this state are hereby authorized and empowered to provide funds in an amount sufficient to meet the purposes of said law in their respective counties, but not exceeding in any one year the sum of $2500; provided, that all of said amount shall be expended for field work. Am'd '15, p. 11.

5293. One demonstrator to each county. Proviso. Not more than one demonstrator in each branch shall be placed in any one county; provided, that special consideration shall be given the counties sparsely settled or at some distance from railroads.

5294. Demonstrator to keep record of work and observation. Report. Each demonstrator shall do at least nine calendar months actual field work, or more as may be directed by the board of trustees of the Agricultural College. He shall keep a faithful and accurate record of his work and observations, which shall be filed in writing with such division of the Utah Agricultural College as may be prescribed by the above mentioned board of trustees.

5295. Report to the governor. The board of trustees of the Utah Agricultural College shall make biennially a report to the governor of the progress and findings of the work conducted under §§ 5290-5296.

5296. Appropriation. For the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of §§ 5290-5296, there is hereby appropriated from the state treasury from the funds not otherwise appropriated, $16,000 for the year 1917; $18,500 for the year 1918, and $10,500 for the first six months of the year 1919. Am'd '17, p. 209.

CHAPTER 4.

UTAH ART INSTITUTE.

5300. (2098x.) State institute of art. A state institute of art is hereby created, to be known as Utah Art Institute; the object being to advance the interests of the fine arts, develop the influence of art in education, and to foster the introduction of art in manufactures. '99, p. 47.

5301. (2098x1.) Governing board. Membership. Qualifiications. Quorum. There shall be appointed by the governor, by and with the consent of the senate, a governing board of the institute consisting of five members who are residents of the state of Utah, two of whom shall be competent artists, one a competent architect, one a competent craftsman, and one a business man interested in art. Three members of the governing board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, and three members of the governing board shall be authorized to purchase all works of art; provided, that two of the aforesaid members shall be the artist members of the board. '99, p. 47; am'd '09, p. 183; '15, p. 90.

years. After the expiration of said terms, all appointments shall be made for a term of two years, and no member shall be appointed for two terms in succession. It shall be one of the duties of the business man referred to to act as secretary and treasurer of the board. Any appointments made to fill vacancies shall be for the unexpired portion of the term only. Each officer shall serve without compensation as such, and shall not receive any gifts, prizes, awards of money from the purchasing fund of the institute during the term of his office. '99, p. 47; am'd '09, p. 183; '15, p. 90.

5303. (2098x3.) Compensation. Must qualify. Vacancies. All members of the art institute shall serve without compensation as such. All persons appointed as members of the governing board shall qualify by subscribing to the oath of office before an officer with a seal that they will faithfully perform the duties of said office. Vacancies in the governing board shall be filled by appointment by the governor within one month from the time of such vacancy. '99, p. 48.

5304. (2098x4.) Board must organize. Quorum. Said board shall organize immediately after its appointment by electing from its members a president, a vice-president, a secretary, and treasurer of the Utah Art Institute. Said officers shall also be president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer, respectively, of the governing board. Four members of the board shall constitute a quorum. '99, p. 48.

5307. (2098x7.) Honorary member for life. Any person who shall submit to the governing board a work of art executed by himself, which shall be accepted by said board, shall by the tender to the art institute of said work of art, or in lieu thereof the payment of $100, on receipt of a certificate of membership, issued by said board, become an honorary member for life. '99, p. 48.

5308. (2098x8.) Annual member. Any patron of art or a person interested in education or manufacture shall, upon the recommendation of four governing members or four honorary members, and the payment of $10, be entitled, if elected by the institute, to a certificate of membership for one year, and become an annual member. '99, p. 48.

5309. (2098x9.) Annual membership for life. Upon the payment of $100, any person receiving the recommendation of the governor of the state or four governing members or four honorary members shall, if elected by the institute, have all the privileges of annual membership for life. '99, p. 48.

5310. (2098x10.) Lectureship committee. There shall be appointed by the governing board a committee of three persons to be known as the art lectureship committee. '99, p. 48.

5311. (2098x11.) Exhibition committee. There shall be appointed by the governing board a committee of three artists or judges of art to be known as the exhibition committee. '99, p. 49.

5312. (2098x12.) Alice art collection committee. There shall be appointed by the governing board a committee of three to take charge of all works of art, which collection shall be known as the Alice art collection.

Every person holding a certificate of membership is eligible to hold office in said committee or the exhibition committee. '99, p. 49.

5313. (2098x13.) Membership certificates. Annual report. Suitable certificates of membership shall be provided by the governing board, and shall be signed by the president and countersigned by the secretary. An annual report of the Utah Art Institute shall be forwarded by the secretary to the governor of the state before December 1st of each year. '99, p. 49.

5314. (2098x14.) Annual course of lectures. It shall be the duty of the Utah Art Institute, through its art lectureship committee, to prepare annually a course of lectures on subjects of art, which shall be delivered in whole or in part before the students of the Agricultural College, or any branch college, the University of Utah, the Southern Branch Normal, the Industrial School, the state teachers' association, and the county teachers' institutes of each county. It shall be the duty of the art lectureship committee to advise with officers of state educational institutions and superintendents of public schools as to courses of drawing, design, and art, with a view to creating a stronger art influence in state educational institutions. '99, p. 49.

5315. (2098x15.) Annual exhibition. An annual exhibition to be known as the April exhibition shall be opened by the first of April of each year in Salt Lake City, and shall continue for at least thirty days. Immediately following the April exhibition the same collection shall be, as far as practicable, transferred to at least one other city in the state and shall be known as the state exhibition. Am'd '15, p. 90.

5317. (2098x17.) Appropriation. All moneys received by the Art Institute shall be applied or expended in the furtherance of the art interests of the state as ordered by the governing board. The sum of $1000 is hereby appropriated to the Art Institute from any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, $500 of which shall be available for the year 1917 and $500 of which shall be available for the year 1918, which shall be used to defray the expenses of the Art Institute, its lectures and exhibitions. Any balance remaining of said $1000, together with the money raised by popular subscription, shall be added to the purchasing fund, and shall be expended on or before December 31 for purchasing works of art that were displayed at the April exhibition. Am'd '09, p. 186; '15, p. 90; '17, p. 276.

CHAPTER 5.

SCHOOL FOR THE BLIND.

It shall be deemed a public corporation, and its property shall be exempt from all taxes and assessments.

5327. (2107.) Board of trustees. The government and control of the school and management of its property and affairs shall be vested in a board of trustees which shall consist of the attorney-general and five resident citizens of the state, not more than three of whom shall be of the same political party. At the expiration of the respective terms of the citizen members of the Board their successors respectively shall be appointed, as follows: Two to serve a term of four years, and three to serve a term of six years.

Appointment of members; filling vacancies, §§ 5204, 5205.
To purchase supplies and erect buildings by contract, §§ 5207-5209.
Officer or employe not to be interested in contracts, etc., § 5206.
All fees and moneys from sales to be deposited state treasurer, § 5213.

5328. (2108.) Id. Oaths and bonds. Excepting the attorney-general, each member of the board, before entering upon the duties of his office, shall take the official oath and execute a bond to the state with securities approved by the governor in the penal sum of $3000 conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duties. The oath and bond shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state. Am'd '11, p. 138.

5329. (2109.) Id. Meetings. The board shall meet at the school in March, June, September, and December of each year, on a date determined by the board, and at other times as often as may be necessary.

5330. (2110.) Id. Members to receive only actual expenses. No member of the board shall receive any compensation for his services as such member; but he may be paid his actual expenses incurred in attending meetings of the board or its committees, or in attending to any business of the school under the authority of the board or of its committees.

No religious or partisan test to be required of teachers or of pupils, Con. art. 10, sec. 12.
To be free from sectarian control, Con. art. 3, sec. 4; art. 10, sec. 1.

5332. (2112.) President of board. The board shall choose one of its members president. Between the meetings of the board he may exercise its powers in the ordinary business of the school, and he shall be the executive officer of the board, and shall hold the office of president for two years. A vacancy in his office may be filled by the board for the remainder of the term.

5334. (2114.) Superintendent. Duties and powers. The superintendent of the school shall be a competent expert educator of the deaf and dumb, and he must be acquainted with the school management and class instruction of deaf, mute, and deaf mute persons. Subject to the approval of the board, the superintendent may select and dismiss all instructors or employes of the school. He shall be responsible for the care of the premises and of the property of the school, for the control of instructors and employes, for the regulation of the household, for the discipline of the school, for the arrangement and execution of a proper course of study and manual training, and for the training of the pupils in morals and manners. He shall have general oversight of all the internal affairs of the school. The superintendent may be removed at any time by a majority vote of the full board of trustees.

5335. (2115.) Fiscal year. Appropriations. The fiscal year of the school shall commence on the 1st day of July and end on the 30th day of June in each year, and biennial appropriations made for its maintenance, unless otherwise specified, shall be deemed to be for the two years commencing on the 1st day of July next after the appropriation is made.

Warrants drawn in favor of treasurer, § 5210.

5336. (2116.) Indigent inmates. In all cases where an applicant for admission to, or an inmate of, the state school for the deaf and dumb shall be unable to pay for necessary clothing or transportation, application shall be made to the board of county commissioners of the county wherein the parent or guardian of the applicant resides. If the board of county commissioners finds the facts as represented, it shall so certify to the superintendent of the school, who must then provide the necessary clothing and transportation, and render bills for the same quarterly to the board of county commissioners of such county. If the bills be found correct, the board of county commissioners shall order them to be paid out of the county treasury.

COMPULSORY EDUCATION OF DEAF, DUMB, AND BLIND.

5337. (2117.) Deaf, mute, or blind children to be sent to school. Every parent, guardian, or other person having control of any deaf, mute, or blind child between the ages of eight and eighteen years, who, on account of its deafness, muteness, or defective sight is unable to be educated in the public schools, shall be required to send such child to the Utah School for the Deaf or the Utah School for the Blind for at least six months of each school year; provided, that in case it can be shown to the satisfaction of the board of trustees of the Utah School for the Deaf, and the Utah School for the Blind:

1. That such child is taught at home by a competent teacher in the same branches and the same length of time as children are required by law to be taught in the state school; or,

2. That such child has already acquired the branches of learning taught in the state school; or,

3. That such child is in such physical or mental condition (which must be certified, if required, by a competent physician) as to render such attendance inexpedient or impracticable—then the provisions of this chapter shall not apply. Am'd '07, p. 59.

Compulsory attendance of children at public school, §§ 4740-4743.

5338. (2118.) Id. Penalty for neglect. Any such parent, guardian, or other person having control of any totally deaf, mute, or blind child between the ages of eight and eighteen who fails to comply with the provisions of § 5337 after having been notified of its requirements, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

5339. (2119.) Id. Prosecution of offenders. It is hereby made the duty of the county attorney whenever such cases are reported to him to proceed immediately to prosecute such offenders.

UTAH STATE PROPERTY

CHAPTER 7.

UTAH STATE FAIR ASSOCIATION.

5345. (2120.) Corporate name changed. Powers. The Deseret Agricultural and Manufacturing Society, constituted and chartered on the 17th day of January, 1856, shall hereafter be known as the Utah State Fair Association, a body corporate with perpetual succession. It may have and use a corporate seal, and by the aforementioned name sue and be sued, and contract and be contracted with, and may take and hold by purchase, gift, devise, or bequest, real and personal property required for its uses. It may also convert property received by gift, devise, or bequest, and not suitable for its uses, into other property so available, or into money. It shall be deemed a public corporation, and its property shall be exempt from all taxes and governmental assessments. The title to all property held by the Deseret Agricultural and Manufacturing Society shall be vested in the Utah State Fair Association. Am'd '07, p. 198.

State fair located at Salt Lake City, Con. art. 19, sec. 3.

5346. (2121.) Purposes of association. Property may be leased. Proviso. The purposes of the association shall be to promote in the state of Utah stock breeding, agriculture, horticulture, mining, manufacturing, and the domestic sciences and arts, and the association shall have the authority to use and to lease the property of the association during any portion of the interval between the holding of the annual or biennial exhibitions provided for in § 5353, for private stock exhibitions, circuses, wild west tournaments, shows, racing meets, and for other legitimate purposes, upon terms and conditions to be prescribed by the regulations of said association; provided, that all moneys received from such leases be covered into the state treasury at the end of each month to be placed to the credit of the state fair maintenance fund. Am'd '07, p. 199; '15, p. 45.

5347. (2122.) Controlled by board of directors. The government and control of the association and the management of its property and affairs shall be vested in a board of twelve directors. Am'd '07, p. 199.

5348. (2123.) Term. Oath of office. Bond. Each director shall be appointed for a period of four years. He shall qualify by taking the constitutional oath of office and by giving a bond, with sufficient sureties, to the state of Utah, in the penal sum of $1,000, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties. Such bond must be approved by and delivered to the secretary of state. Am'd '07, p. 199.

Appointment of directors; filling of vacancies, §§ 5204, 5205.

5349. (2124.) Powers. The board of directors shall have power to enact by-laws and regulations for the association, and to fix the manner of, and the fees for, admission to membership therein. Am'd '07, p. 199.

5350. (2125.) Quorum. Appointment of secretary and treasurer. A majority of the directors shall constitute a quorum of the board. One of its members shall be chosen by the board as president. The president shall be the executive officer of the association, and shall hold office for two years, and until his successor is appointed and qualified. The board shall likewise appoint a treasurer, a secretary, and other necessary officials, and shall define their duties and determine their salaries. Am'd '07, p. 199.

5351. (2126.) Treasurer's bond. A bond for the faithful discharge of his duties may be required of the treasurer. Such bond must be approved by and delivered to the secretary of state. Am'd '07, p. 199.

5353. (2128.) Annual or biennial fair. The association shall hold a biennial exhibition, and may hold an annual exhibition of such agricultural and domestic science, horticultural and mineral products, manufactured articles, and domestic and imported animals as, in its opinion, will most stimulate industrial pursuits among the people of this state, and may award premiums for the best specimens of such exhibited articles and animals; provided, however, that the board of directors may permit competition on live stock exhibited by citizens of the several states and territories of the United States. Am'd '01, p. 38; '07, p. 200.

State fair located at Salt Lake City, Con. art. 19, sec. 3.

5354. (2129.) Entries. Premium list. The board shall fix the conditions of entry, and shall publish biennially or annually, as the case may be, a list of those things entitled to premiums. Am'd '07, p. 200.

CHAPTER 8.

STATE HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

('17, p. 219.)

5357. State institution. Powers. The State Historical Society of Utah, founded on the 22d day of July, 1897, and incorporated under the laws of the state, and now in existence, is hereby recognized as a state institution, with full power to carry out the objects and purposes for which it was organized.

5359. Rooms for collections. Catalogue. Use of public. The said society shall keep all collections made by it in suitable and convenient rooms to be provided by the secretary of state or the board of regents of the University of Utah, and shall properly catalogue, arrange, and display the same for the use of the public.

5360. Accounts and reports. The board of control of said society shall keep a correct account of funds received and disbursed by it, and shall make reports to the governor as in the case of other state institutions.

CHAPTER 9.

INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

5363. (2130.) Purpose, generally. The State Industrial School, situated in Ogden, in the county of Weber, shall be for the confinement, discipline, education, employment, and reformation of juvenile offenders committed to it according to law.

Location, Con. art. 19, sec. 3.
Land grant, enabling act, sec. 12.
Perpetual fund, Con. art. 19, sec. 3; art. 20, sec. 1.
Offenders sent from the juvenile court, §§ 1815, 1823.

5364. (2131.) Board of trustees. The government and control of the school shall be vested in a board of trustees which shall consist of the attorney-general and superintendent of public instruction and five resident citizens of the state. Not more than three of such citizen members shall be of the same political party, and they shall be appointed for the term of four years. Am'd '11, p. 56.

Appointment of trustees; filling of vacancies, §§ 5204, 5205.

5365. (2132.) Oath and bond. Each trustee, except the attorney-general and superintendent of the public instruction, shall qualify by taking the constitutional oath of office and by giving a bond with sufficient sureties to the state of Utah in the penal sum of $1000, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties. Such bond must be approved by the governor and filed with the secretary of state. Am'd '11, p. 56.

5366. (2133.) Id. Powers. The board of trustees may contract and be contracted with, and sue and be sued in all matters concerning the school. It may take, in the name of the state, and hold in trust for the school, realty or personalty, and may convert property not suitable for the uses of the school into property so available. It shall have power to enact by-laws and rules for the regulation of all the concerns of the institution, not inconsistent with the laws of the state; to see that the affairs of the institution are conducted in accordance with the requirements of law, and that strict discipline is maintained therein; to provide employment and instruction for the inmates; to appoint a steward, a teacher or teachers, and such other officers as, in its judgment, the wants of the institution may require, and to prescribe their duties; to exercise a vigilant supervision over the institution, the officers, and inmates; to remove any officer at its pleasure; and to determine the salaries to be paid to officers.

Officer or employe not to be interested in contracts, etc., § 5206.

To purchase supplies and erect buildings by contract, §§ 5207-5209.

5367. (2134.) Trustees serve without pay. Expenses. The members of the board shall receive no compensation for their time or services; but their actual and reasonable expenses, incurred in the performance of their official duties, the account for which shall be verified on oath, must be paid by the state treasurer on the warrant of the state auditor, out of money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

All fees and moneys from sales to be deposited state treasurer, § 5213.

5368. (2135.) President. Treasurer. Superintendent. The board shall elect one of its number president, another of its number treasurer, and it shall appoint as a superintendent a proper person not of its number. The treasurer, under the direction of the board, shall be the custodian of all funds belonging to the school, whether arising from appropriations made by the legistlature and drawn from the state treasury or from whatever source; and he shall execute to the state a bond with two or more sufficient sureties, approved by the secretary of state, in the penal sum of $20,000, conditioned that he shall faithfully account for all money and property that may come into his hands by virtue of his office.

Warrants drawn in favor of treasurer, § 5210.

5369. (2136.) Secretary. The board shall appoint a secretary, who shall not be of its number. It shall require the secretary and superintendent to give bonds in such penal sum as it may deem proper. The bonds of the treasurer, of the superintendent, and of the secretary must be delivered to the secretary of state.

5371. (2138.) Instruction to inmates. The board shall cause the boys and girls under its charge to be instructed in correct principles of morality, and in such branches of useful knowledge as shall be adapted to their age and capacity. Each inmate of the school shall, so far as practicable, be taught a trade or some useful occupation to fit him or her to earn a livelihood upon his or her release; and to carry out the provisions of this section there shall be established a manual training department in the school.

5374. (2147.) Discharge of person committed. Every boy or girl committed to the State Industrial School shall remain until he or she shall arrive at the age of twenty-one years, or be legally discharged. The discharge shall be a complete release of all penalties incurred by conviction of the offense for which he or she was committed.

5377. (2150.) Female inmates. The board may, in its discretion, contract with the managers of any institution or organization in this state for the reformation of females for the care and keeping of any girl or girls who shall be committed to the State Industrial School, and may pay for the same out of the funds appropriated to the State Industrial School. Such girl or girls shall remain in legal custody and control and supervision of the board and subject at any time to be taken back to the institution.

5378. (2151.) Aiding to escape. Penalty. Every person who shall unlawfully aid or assist any boy or girl, lawfully committed to the State Industrial School, in escaping or attempting to escape therefrom, or knowingly conceal such boy or girl after his or her escape, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

STATE MENTAL HOSPITAL.

5383. (2153.) Location. Until otherwise provided, the State Insane Asylum now established and located at Provo City, in the county of Utah, shall be hereafter known as the State Mental Hospital. Am'd '03, p. 139.
Located at Provo, Con. art. 19, sec. 3. Perpetual fund, Con. art. 19, sec. 3; art. 20, Land grant, enabling act, sec. 12. sec. 1.

N. Dak. § 988*.

5385. (2155.) Board of insanity. The government and control of the State Mental Hospital shall be vested in a board, to consist of the governor, state treasurer, and state auditor, which shall be known as the board of insanity. Am'd '03, p. 139.
Authorized by Con. art. 7, sec. 14.

5386. (2156.) Id. Traveling expenses. Each member of the board shall be allowed his traveling expenses in attending the meetings of the board, payable out of any money in the treasury of the hospital. Am'd '03, p. 139.

5387. (2157.) Id. Powers. The board may contract and be contracted with, and may sue and be sued in all matters pertaining to the hospital. It may take and hold by purchase, gift, devise, or bequest, real and personal property required for its use, and it may convert property and credits received by gift, devise, or bequest, and not suitable for its use, into money or property available for its use. Am'd '03, p. 139.

5388. (2158.) By-laws. The board may make by-laws for its own government and the government of the hospital, and shall have the general control and management of the affairs of the hospital. Am'd '03, p. 140.

5389. (2159.) Record. Meetings. Quorum. It shall cause to be kept by its secretary a full and correct record of its proceedings, which shall be open at all reasonable times to the inspection of any citizen. It shall hold stated meetings monthly at the hospital, on such days as may be prescribed by the by-laws. A majority of the board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. The board shall make a thorough inquiry into all the departments of labor and expense, and a careful examination of the buildings, property, and general condition of the hospital, at least once in every three months. Am'd '03, p. 140.

sureties in a sum of not less than $1,000, to be approved by the board, and filed with the secretary of state. R. S. '98, § 2163; '03, p. 140.

5392. (2162.) Treasurer. The board shall appoint a treasurer, who shall not be of its number, and who shall hold office during the pleasure of the board. Before entering upon his duties, he shall subscribe an oath of office and give a bond payable to the state, with good and sufficient sureties, in a penal sum of not less than $10,000, to be approved by the board, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties and for the delivery to his successor of all books, papers, vouchers, moneys, and effects held by him by virtue of his office. The bond of the treasurer shall be filed with the secretary of state. The treasurer shall render to the board monthly detailed statements of all moneys received and disbursed by him during the preceding month. No money shall be paid out by the treasurer except upon the order of the board, which order shall be spread upon its minutes. The treasurer shall perform such other duties as the by-laws may prescribe or the board may require, and shall have such salary or compensation for his services, payable monthly, as may be fixed by the board. If the board may so determine, the secretary and treasurer may be the same person. R. S. '98, § 2164; '03, p. 140.

Verified report filed with state auditor, § 5213. Warrants drawn in favor of treasurer, § 5210. All fees and money from sales to be paid treasurer, § 5213.

5393. (2163.) Medical superintendent. The board shall appoint a medical superintendent, who shall reside at the hospital, and who shall hold his office during the pleasure of the board. He shall be a well educated, experienced physician, a graduate in medicine, and shall have practiced his profession at least five years from the date of his diploma. He shall be the chief executive officer of the hospital, and shall have the general superintendence of the buildings, grounds, and property thereof, subject to the by-laws and regulations of the board. He shall have control of the patients, prescribe and direct their treatment, adopt sanitary measures for their welfare, and discharge such as, in his judgment, have recovered their reason. He shall appoint, with the approval of the board, as many attendants or employes as he may deem necessary for the efficient and economical care and management of the hospital, and, with the consent of the board, may fix their compensation, and may discharge any of them. He shall prescribe the duties of the subordinate officers and employes, maintain discipline among them, and enforce obedience to all regulations of the institution. R. S. '98, § 2165; '03, p. 141.

Supplies to be purchased and buildings erected by contract, §§ 5207-5209. Officer or employe not to be interested in contract, etc., § 5206.

5395. (2165.) Id. To keep records. The superintendent shall cause to be kept full and correct accounts and records of his official transactions from day to day, in books provided for that purpose, in the manner prescribed by the board. He shall report monthly to the board, producing vouchers for all expenditures made by him during the previous month. He shall cause all his accounts to be made up to and including the last day of November of each year, and shall submit an annual report to the board at its next regular or special meeting thereafter. The superintendent, or an assistant physician, shall visit the several wards of the hospital every day in the year. He shall receive an annual salary, payable monthly, to be fixed by the board. R. S. '98, § 2168; '07, p. 141.

5396. (2166.) Assistant physicians. Whenever the board shall deem it necessary, it may, upon the nomination of the superintendent, appoint one or more assistant physicians, who shall be graduates in medicine. Their salaries shall be fixed by the board, to be paid in the same manner as the salaries of other employes, and they shall hold office during the pleasure of the board. They shall perform such duties as may be directed by the superintendent and prescribed by the by-laws. R. S. '98, § 2169; '07, p. 141.

5397. (2167.) Steward. The board, upon the nomination of the superintendent, shall appoint a steward, who shall give a bond, payable to the state, with good and sufficient sureties, in the penal sum of not less than $3,000. Such bond shall be approved by the board and be filed with the treasurer of the board. The steward, under the direction of the superintendent, shall have general oversight of the farm, stock, garden, grounds, fences, buildings, furniture, fixtures, and apparatus of the hospital, and shall receive all articles, goods, and merchandise belonging thereto, and shall be responsible for the safe keeping and economical distribution of the same. He shall perform such other duties as may be prescribed by the by-laws or required by the board. R. S. '98, § 2170; '03, p. 141.

5400. (2170.) Form of application. Application for admission to the hospital shall be made in the form of an information, duly verified, alleging that the person in whose behalf the application is made is believed by the informant to be insane and a proper person for care and treatment at the mental hospital; that such person is found in the county and has a residence therein, if such is known to be the fact, and, if such residence is not in the county, alleging where it is, if known, or where it is believed to be, if the informant is advised on the subject. R. S. '98, § 2173; '03, p. 142.

State of Utah, county of .....

To ..... greeting: You are hereby commanded to forthwith bring before me ....., alleged to be an insane person, and make due return hereof.

Witness my hand and the seal of the ..... district court, in and for ..... county, this ..... day of ....., 19.....

Judge.

The district judge must set the case for hearing and notify the district attorney thereof. R. S. '98, § 2174; '03, p. 142.

5402. (2172.) Sheriff to provide. Proceedings. The sheriff may provide, at the expense of the county, for the suitable custody of such person until the investigation shall be concluded. If the judge shall be of the opinion, from such preliminary inquiries that he may make, that the presence of the person in whose behalf the application is made would probably be inexpedient, he may dispense with his presence. In the examination, testimony for and against the application must be heard. Any citizen of the county, or any relative of the person for whom the application is made, may appear and resist the application, and the parties may appear by counsel if they so elect. The district attorney must represent the state in such examination, and if in his opinion the person alleged to be insane is not a proper person for care and treatment at the hospital, he must resist the application. The judge shall cause to appear before him two practicing physicians, before whom the examination shall be conducted. R. S. '98, § 2175; '03, p. 143.

R. S. '98, § 2178; '03, p. 143.

5405. (2175.) Judgment to be entered. On the return of the physicians' certificate, the judge shall, as soon as practicable, conclude his investigations, and shall find whether the person alleged to be insane is insane; whether, if insane, he is a proper person for care and treatment at the mental hospital; and whether the residence of such person is in such county, and if not in such county, where it is, if ascertainable. If he finds such person is not insane, he shall order his immediate discharge. If he finds such person insane and a proper person to receive care and treatment in the hospital, he shall order such person to be committed to the hospital, except as in § 5412 provided; provided, that no simply feeble-minded person, purely senile dement, person in an unconscious condition, infant, child under ten years of age, nor person suffering from a contagious or infectious disease, shall be considered a proper person for care and treatment at the mental hospital.

R. S. '98, § 2177; '03, p. 145.

5406. (2176.) Commitment. The judge's warrant of commitment shall be in form substantially as follows:

WARRANT OF COMMITMENT.

State of Utah, County of.....

I, ..., judge of the ..... judicial district in and for ..... county, upon the information of ....., caused ..... to be brought before me for examination as to ..... sanity, and having heard the testimony of ..... and ....., witnesses who have been acquainted with the said ..... during the time of ..... alleged insanity, and Drs. ..... and ....., practicing physicians, after hearing the testimony of the witnesses and after a personal examination of the said ....., having made the certificate by law required, find that the said ..... is insane and a proper person to receive care and treatment at the mental hospital; that the residence of said ..... is ..... county, Utah, and that ..... is ..... indigent and is ..... able to bear the actual charges and expenses for the time ..... may remain in the hospital. I therefore order the said ....., a .....male, aged ..... years, to be committed to the State Mental Hospital at Provo City, in Utah county, and ..... is charged with the execution of this order.

Judge.

5407. (2177.) Warrant, how executed. The district judge shall deliver to the sheriff or other person appointed to execute the warrant of commitment a certified copy of the information, the physicians' certificate, the warrant of commitment, and a certificate of the appointment of a guardian, if one be appointed. The sheriff, or other person appointed, shall execute the warrant by conveying the patient to the hospital, and delivering him, together with the copies of the information, physicians' certificate and warrant, to the superintendent. The superintendent shall acknowledge such delivery on the warrant, which the sheriff, or other person appointed, shall then return to the clerk of the district court of the county, with the amount of his actual expenses indorsed thereon. R. S. '98, § 2180; '03, p. 146.

5408. (2178.) Guardian appointed, when. In case a person committed to the mental hospital shall be possessed of property sufficient to pay any part of the costs incurred by reason of his commitment and his treatment at the hospital, the judge shall appoint a guardian for such person.

R. S. '98, § 2181; '03, p. 146.

Appointment of guardian, §§ 7816-7818.
Control of property, etc., §§ 7826-7842.
Special guardian for insane wife, § 2995.
Sale, mortgage, or lease of property, § 7838.
Estate liable for support, § 5417.
When estate exhausted, § 5410.

5409. (2179.) Guardian to give bond. Each guardian appointed for a person committed to the hospital shall give a bond, with good and sufficient sureties, payable to the board of insanity. Such bond must be approved by the district judge, and shall be in form substantially as follows:

BOND.

Know all men by these presents: That, whereas ....., an insane person of ..... county, Utah, has been committed to the State Mental Hospital at Provo City, Utah;

Now, therefore, we, the undersigned, in consideration of the admission of said ..... to said hospital, do, jointly and severally, bind ourselves to the board of insanity, so long as ..... shall continue in said hospital and ..... property is sufficient for that purpose, to pay quarterly in advance, on the 1st days of December, March, June, and September, to said board the sum of ..... dollars for the care and treatment of said insane person, with such extra charges as may be occasioned by ..... requiring more than ordinary care and attention; to pay not exceeding $50 for all damages ..... may do to the furniture and other property of the hospital; to provide ..... with suitable clothing; to pay all expenses incurred by sending said patient to ..... friends in case one or either of us shall fail to remove ..... when required to do so; and to pay reasonable funeral expenses in case of ..... death.

In witness whereof, we have hereunto set our names this ..... day of ....., 19.....

(Names and addresses of signers.)

State of Utah, county of .....

..... and ....., being duly sworn, each for himself says that he is a resident of ....., in this state, is a freeholder therein and is worth the sum of $1,000 over and above all his debts and liabilities, exclusive of property exempt from execution.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this ..... day of ....., 19.....

R. S. '98, § 2182; '03, p. 146.

5410. (2180.) When property exhausted, state responsible. When the property in the hands of the guardian subject to sale shall be exhausted, the district judge shall give notice thereof to the board of insanity, and thereafter the state shall be liable for the costs of the care and maintenance of the patient. R. S. '98, § 2183; '03, p. 147.

Relatives may be compelled to support insane person, § 5853. Guardian for property of insane person, § 5408, and note.

5411. (2181.) Allowances to sheriff. The sheriff shall be allowed his actual expenses for conveying a patient to the hospital and returning therefrom, to be paid by the county from which such patient shall have been committed. In the absence of the sheriff, or his deputy, or their inability to act, the district judge may appoint some suitable person to execute the warrant. Such person so appointed shall take and subscribe an oath to discharge properly his duties in the matter. He shall be entitled to $3 per diem and his actual expenses going to and returning from the hospital, to be paid by the county from which the patient shall have been committed. He may, by consent of the district judge, secure such assistants as he may need to execute the warrant. An assistant shall receive such compensation as the board of county commissioners may determine, not exceeding $3 per diem and actual traveling expenses; provided, that no female shall be thus taken to the hospital without the attendance of some other female or some relative. The superintendent shall, in his acknowledgment of delivery, state whether there was such person in attendance, and give the name, or names, if any. If any relative or immediate friend of the patient, who is a suitable person, shall so request, he shall have the privilege of executing the warrant in preference to the sheriff or any other person taking such oath, and for so doing he shall be entitled to his necessary expenses but not fees. R. S. '98, § 2185; '03, p. 147.

5412. (2182.) Non-residents admitted. Non-residents of this state, conveyed or coming here while insane, may, upon the written recommendation of the board of county commissioners of the county in which such insane person is found, be returned by the board of insanity to the home or friends of such insane person, if known, and must not be permitted to be supported in the hospital. This prohibition shall not prevent the commitment to, and temporary care in, the hospital of persons stricken with insanity while traveling through or temporarily sojourning in this state. R. S. '98, § 2187; '03, p. 148.

Penalty for bringing insane person into the state, § 5428.

Power of county commissioners, § 1400x43; § 5428.

5413. (2183.) Bond, form of. By order of the judge of the district court issuing the commitment, the relatives or friends of a patient in the hospital may receive such patient therefrom. Applications must be made to the judge and satisfactory evidence produced that such patient will be properly taken charge of and given proper care. The applicants shall give bond to the district court of the county in the following form:

State of Utah, county of .....

Know all men by these presents: That we, ... and ....., as sureties, are held and firmly bound unto the state of Utah in the penal sum of $....., lawful money of the United States, to be paid to the board of insanity, for which payment well and truly to be made we firmly bind ourselves, our executors and administrators, jointly and severally, by these presents. The condition of this obligation is such that whereas an order has been made by the judge of the ..... judicial district court, in and for ..... county, directing the superintendent of the State Mental Hospital to deliver the person of ....., an insane person, to ....., the ..... of said person, the said order being that the said ..... will take charge of and properly care for the said ....., that he will obey all orders of the said judge of said court relating to the proper care and custody of said patient, and that he will return said patient to the hospital when so ordered by the judge of said court, and will obey the laws of the state relating to insane persons. Now, therefore, if the said ..... shall faithfully perform the duties and comply with the requirements set forth, then this obligation shall be void and of no effect, otherwise to remain in full force and virtue.

Witness our hands this ..... day of ....., 19.....

On having made the required proof and filed the foregoing bond, the district judge shall issue his order to the superintendent of the hospital directing him to deliver such patient to the person designated, which order shall be in the following form:

State of Utah, county of .....

To the superintendent of the State Mental Hospital:

Whereas, ... has made application that ..... be awarded the custody of ....., an insane person who was by me committed to the State Mental Hospital on the ..... day of ....., and ..... having complied with the provisions of law in such cases made and provided, you are hereby directed to deliver the said ..... to .....

Judge.

5414. (2184.) When return may be ordered. If after such removal it shall be brought to the knowledge of the judge that the person thus removed is not cared for properly or is dangerous to person or property, he may order such person to be returned to the hospital; provided, no patient who may be under a criminal charge or conviction shall be discharged from the asylum without the order of the court having jurisdiction of such criminal case.

Trial and commitment of insane criminals, etc., §§ 9327-9336.

5415. (2185.) Persons improperly detained. When it shall appear upon affidavit filed, or other evidence, that any patient in the hospital is not insane and is unjustly deprived of his liberty, or is not a proper person to receive care and treatment in the hospital, the board of insanity shall ask for an immediate inquiry into the merits of the case by the district judge of the district in which such patient is held. If on such examination it shall appear to the said judge that such person is not insane, or is not a proper person to receive care and treatment in the hospital, his immediate discharge shall be ordered in the following form:

State of Utah, county of.....

To the superintendent of the State Mental Hospital:

Having this day examined ....., a person heretofore committed to the State Mental Hospital, and having adjudged the said ..... as being now sane and restored to reason, or as not being a proper person to receive treatment in the hospital, you are therefore directed to return ..... to the county of ..... at the expense of said county.

Judge.

If found to be insane, the judge shall order his continued detention, and may order the parties demanding of the board such inquiry to pay the cost of examination. R. S. '98, § 2190; '03, p. 149.

5416. (2186.) Discrimination. If at any time it becomes necessary for want of room, or other cause, to remove any patient, or to discriminate in the general reception of patients into the hospital, the superintendent shall give notice thereof to the several clerks of the district courts. Only harmless and incurable patients may be removed by the board of insanity. Indigent patients so removed must be returned to the county from which they were committed at the expense of said county. When discrimination in reception is necessary, patients shall take precedence in the following order: (1) Cases of less than one year's duration; (2) chronic cases of more than one year's duration, presenting the most favorable prospects for recovery; (3) those for whom application has been longest on file. When cases are equally meritorious the indigent are to be preferred. R. S. '98, § 2191; '03, p. 150.

Guardian for and support of an insane person, §§ 5408, 5410, and notes.

5418. (2188.) Officers, etc., exempt from certain service. All resident officers, attendants, assistants, and employes in the mental hospital shall be exempt from jury and militia service during the term of their employment.

R. S. '98, § 2195; '03, p. 150.

5419. (2189.) Unlawful restraint forbidden. No person supposed to be insane shall be unlawfully restrained of his liberty by any other person, otherwise than in pursuance of authority obtained as herein provided, excepting for such a brief period as may be necessary for the safety of persons and property and until such authority can be obtained. R. S. '98, § 2196; '03, p. 150.

5420. (2190.) Physicians' fees. Examining physicians shall be allowed $5 each by the board of county commissioners of the county in which the examination is had, unless such physician shall be otherwise paid.

R. S. '98, § 2197; '03, p. 150.

5421. (2191.) Inmates to be taken proper care of. Every person committed to the hospital must be suitably clothed and his person properly cleansed before he be delivered to the superintendent by the sheriff or other person executing the warrant of commitment, and the superintndent may refuse to receive such patient until the provisions hereof are complied with. All costs for the examination and commitment, and for suitable clothing, and for the proper cleansing of the patient shall be paid by the county from which such patient is committed. If the patient be not indigent, the county shall receive the costs thereof from the parties liable therefor.

R. S. '98, § 2198; '03, p. 150.

5422. (2192.) Commissioners to care for insane. On information laid before the board of county commissioners of any county that a certain insane person in the county is suffering for want of proper care, the board shall forthwith inquire into the matter, and, if it finds the information well founded, it shall make all needful provisions for the care of such person.

R. S. '98, § 2199; '03, p. 150.

Commissioners to provide for the poor, etc., § 1400x40.

5423. (2193.) When room insufficient. On receipt of notice from the board of insanity or the superintendent of the hospital that any person committed to the hospital can not be received therein for want of room, the board of county commissioners shall require such person to be suitably provided for until such admission can be had, or until the occasion therefor shall no longer exist. If such person is indigent, the county shall be entitled to receive from the state a sum equal to the amount allowed by the state for the cost of care and treatment of indigent patients in the hospital. R. S. '98, § 2200; '03, p. 151.

5425. (2195.) Improper treatment a misdemeanor. Any one having care of an insane person who shall unduly restrain such person, either with or without authority, or who shall treat such person with wanton severity or cruelty, or shall in any way abuse such person, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, besides being liable in an action for damages.

5427. (2197.) Abduction, escape, etc. Penalty. If any person shall abduct or induce any patient to elope or escape from the hospital, or shall attempt to do so, or shall aid or assist therein, he shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined in any sum over $50 and less than $300, or be imprisoned not less than fifty days nor more than six months, or may be punished by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

5428. (2198.) Bringing insane persons into the state punishable. Whoever shall bring or cause to be brought into this state any idiot, imbecile, or insane person, with the intent to make such person a charge upon the state, shall be fined $100, besides being liable, at the suit of the state, for all damages incurred thereby, and for cost of transportation to the place whence such idiot, imbecile, or insane person shall have come. The board of county commissioners is hereby invested with authority to transport such idiot, imbecile, or insane person to the place whence he came. R. S. '98, § 2205; '03, p. 151.

County board may prohibit common carriers from leaving non-resident insane in the county, § 1400x43.
County board may recommend return of insane person, § 5414.
County board to care for insane, § 5422.

5429. (2199.) Penalty for violations generally. Any person refusing or neglecting to comply with, or wilfully and knowingly violating, any of the provisions of this chapter, except where another penalty is herein provided, shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined in any sum not exceeding $500, or be imprisoned not more than three years, or be punished by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court. R. S. '98, § 2206; '03, p. 152.

CHAPTER 11.

BRANCH OF STATE MINERS' HOSPITAL.

5432. (2207.) Establishing branch hospital. There shall be established at Park City, Summit county, a branch of the State Miners' Hospital for the treatment of the sick and disabled miners of the state, to be known as the Branch of the State Miners' Hospital.

Land grant, enabling act. sec. 12.

5433. (2208.) Commission to control. The government and control of the Branch of the State Miners' Hospital shall be vested in a board of commissioners to consist of the governor and two other members appointed by the governor, by and with the consent of the senate, who shall be known as the board of commissioners of the Branch of the State Miners' Hospital.

5434. (2209.) Powers of board. The board may contract and be contracted with, and may sue and be sued, in all matters concerning the hospital. It may take and hold by purchase, gift, bequest, or devise real and personal property required for its uses, and it may convert property and credits received by gift, bequest, or devise, and not suitable for its use, into money and property available for its uses.

To purchase supplies and erect buildings by contract, §§ 5207, 5209.
Officer or employe not to be interested in contract, etc., § 5206.
Warrant drawn in favor of treasurer, § 5210.

5436. (2211.) Removal of employes. The board may remove any officer or employe of the hospital by a majority vote of its number, for neglect of duty or for refusal to comply with the by-laws made for the establishment and government of the institution.

5437. (2212.) Board of certify number of patients. On or before the 1st day of January of each year, the board shall certify to the state auditor the number of indigent patients, the number of pay patients, and the number of patients who pay in part, and also the amount paid by each.

5438. (2213.) Application for admission to hospital. Application for admission to the hospital must be made to the medical superintendent under such rules and regulations as the board may establish.

5439. (2214.) Id. Costs of treatment. In case a person received into the hospital shall be possessed of property sufficient to pay the costs of treatment, or any part of the same, he shall be admitted on such terms as the board may fix; provided, that the hospital shall be free to any indigent miner.

5440. (2215.) Expenses. Special care. The relatives or friends of any patient in the hospital may pay any portion or all of his expenses therein. Patients who desire it, and shall be able to pay the expenses thereof, may be provided with a special attendant or have such other special care as the superintendent may deem expedient.

5441. (2216.) Infectious or contagious diseases. No patient having an infectious or contagious disease shall be admitted into the hospital.

CHAPTER 12.

STATE PRISON.

5444. (2219.) Object. The state prison, situated in the county of Salt Lake, shall be for the confinement of persons lawfully sentenced thereto.

Located at Salt Lake City, Con. art. 19, sec. 3.
Land grant, enabling act, sec. 12.
Land held in trust, Con. art. 20, sec. 1.

5445. (2220.) Board of corrections. The government and control of the state prison, and the charge of its general interests and affairs shall be vested in a board of corrections which is hereby created, and which shall consist of the governor ex officio and two resident citizens of the state, both of which citizen members shall not be of the same political party. The citizen members of the board shall be appointed by the governor, by and with the consent of the senate. Each citizen member of the board shall hold office for four years, and until his successor shall be appointed and qualified.

Board of pardons, §§ 4330-4337.
State prison commissioners to have supervision of state prison until otherwise provided by law, Con. art. 7, sec. 13.
Appoints parole agent, § 5451.
Furnish prisoners' records to board of pardons, when, § 4337.

5446. (2221.) Id. Oaths and bonds. Each member of the board shall qualify by taking the constitutional oath of office and by giving a bond, with sufficient sureties, to the state of Utah, in the penal sum of $1,000, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties. Such bond must be approved by and delivered to the secretary of state.

5447. (2222.) Id. Powers. The board of corrections may contract and be contracted with, and may sue and be sued in all matters concerning the state prison.

5448. (2223.) Id. To serve without compensation. Expenses. The members of the board of corrections shall receive no compensation for their time or services, save their actual and reasonable expenses incurred in the performance of their official duties, the account for which, to be verified on oath, shall be paid by the state treasurer, on the warrant of the state auditor, out of moneys in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

5449. (2224.) Officers of prison. Oaths and bonds. The officers of the state prison shall consist of a warden, who shall be the principal keeper, one deputy warden, one clerk, who shall also be a keeper, one physician who is a surgeon, a matron, and as many keepers and guards as the warden and the board may deem necessary. The board may appoint persons having the necessary practical knowledge to be overseers of such work as may hereafter be established, when, in its judgment, such appointments will promote the efficiency of the prison labor. Each of said officers, before entering upon the duties of his office, shall take and subscribe the official oath prescribed in the constitution, and file the same with the secretary of state.

5450. (2225.) Warden. Appointment. Term. Qualifications. The board shall appoint the warden, who shall hold office during its pleasure. He shall possess the ability and qualifications necessary to successfully carry on the industries of the prison, and be one who has the executive ability essential to the proper management of the officers and employes under his jurisdiction, and to enforce and maintain proper discipline in every department.

Am'd '17, p. 252.

5451. Appointment of parole agent. Powers and duties. The board of corrections is hereby authorized to appoint some suitable and discreet person who shall be known as parole agent for the state of Utah, whose duties shall be prescribed by the board of corrections. The parole agent is hereby given all the powers that guards, peace officers, and sheriffs now possess, to be exercised anywhere within the state of Utah. When not on duty away from the state prison the parole agent shall perform the duties of a guard or other duties that he may be directed to perform by the warden relating to the affairs of the state prison or prisoners. The parole agent shall hold his office at the pleasure of the board. '13, p. 121.

5453. (2227.) Warden to reside at prison. Bond. The warden shall reside at the prison in apartments to be assigned to him by the board. He shall be in constant attendance at the prison except when absent on some necessary duty, or sick, in which case his duties during his absence or illness shall be performed by the deputy. In no case shall the warden and deputy warden be absent from the prison at the same time. Before entering upon the duties of his office, the warden of the prison shall execute to the state a bond with two or more sufficient sureties, in the penal sum of $20,000, conditioned that he shall faithfully account for all money and property that may come into his hands by virtue of his office, and perform all the duties incumbent upon him as such warden, according to law. The bond shall be approved by the board and delivered to the secretary of state.

5455. (2229.) Duties of warden. It shall be the duty of the warden under the rules and regulations adopted by the board for the government of the prison:

1. To exercise a general superintendency over the government, discipline, and police of the prison, and to superintend all the business concerns thereof;

2. To give necessary directions to all inferior officers, keepers, and guards, and to examine whether they have been careful and vigilant in their respective duties;

3. To examine daily into the state of the prison, and the health, conduct, and safe keeping of the prisoners;

4. To use every proper means to furnish employment to prisoners most beneficial to the state and best suited to their several capacities;

5. To superintend any manufacturing and mechanical business that may be carried on by the state, pursuant to law, within the prison; to receive the articles manufactured, and to sell and dispose of the same for the benefit of the state;

6. To take charge of the realty attached to, and of the personalty belonging to the prison;

7. To inquire into the justice of any complaint made by any of the convicts relative to their provisions, clothing, or treatment;

8. To be, under the direction of the board, the custodian of appropriations made by the legislature and drawn from the state treasury, and of all funds belonging to the prison and arising from the labor of the convicts or the sales of manufactured articles;

9. And generally to have charge of all departments of the prison and its officers as the executive head.

Warrants drawn in favor of warden, § 5210. Direct prisoners' work on roads, § 5509.

5456. (2230.) Moneys to be paid to state treasurer. Monthly report. At the end of each month, the warden of the state prison shall cover into the state treasury all moneys received by him from every source by virtue of his office, together with an itemized statement, on oath, that the said statement is true and complete in detail of the moneys so received, which money shall, by the state treasurer, be placed to the credit of the maintenance account of the state prison. Am'd '15, p. 37.

5459. (2233.) Id. Duties. It shall be the duty of the clerk of the prison:

1. To attend at the prison daily during the proper business hours, unless, by the direction of the board or the warden, he be otherwise engaged in transacting business on account of the prison;

2. To keep the books and accounts of the prison in such manner as to clearly exhibit all the financial transactions relating to it; to also keep a register of convicts, in which shall be entered in alphabetical order the name of each convict, the crime of which he is convicted, the date of his conviction, term of sentence, from what county, and by what court sentenced, his place of nativity, age, occupation, complexion, stature, number of previous convictions, and whether previously confined in a prison in this or any other state, together with when and how he was discharged. The board or warden may require such additional facts to be stated on the register as may be deemed proper;

3. To do all such writing as may be required of him by the board or warden relating to the affairs of the prison.

5460. (2234.) Duties of physician. It shall be the duty of the physician of the prison:

1. To attend at all times to the wants of sick convicts, whether in the hospital or in their cells, and to bestow upon them all necessary medical service;

2. To examine weekly, in company with the warden, the cells of the convicts, for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not they are kept in a proper state of cleanliness and ventilation, and if they are not so kept to point out to the warden the deficiencies, and report the same monthly to the board of the prison;

3. To prescribe the diet of sick convicts, and his directions in relation thereto shall be strictly followed; and to be present at and superintend all corporal punishments which may be inflicted in the prison;

4. To keep a daily record of all admissions to the hospital, and of cases treated in the cells or elsewhere, including the sex, color, nativity, age, occupation, habits of life, crime, period of entrance and discharge from the hospital, and disease;

5. To make a yearly report to the board of the sanitary condition of the prison during the year, which report shall also contain a condensed statement of the information contained in his daily record;

6. To make all such other reports as the board or warden may from time to time require.

5461. (2235.) Id. Excusing convict from labor. It shall be the duty of the physician, in case any convict claims to be unable to labor by reason of sickness, to examine such convict; and if it is his opinion, upon examination, that the convict is unable to labor, he shall immediately certify the same to the warden, and the convict shall thereupon be relieved from labor and admitted to the hospital, or be placed in his cell or elsewhere, for medical treatment, as the physician shall direct, having due regard for the convict's safe keeping. Such convict shall not be required to labor so long as, in the opinion of the physician, his disability shall continue; and whenever the physician shall certify to the warden that such convict is sufficiently recovered to be able to labor, the convict shall be required to labor.

5463. (2237.) Board has access to prison, etc. It shall be the duty of the warden and other officers of the prison, whenever requested, to admit the board of the prison or any member thereof into every part of the prison; to exhibit to it, or any member of it, on demand, all the books, papers, accounts, and writings pertaining to the prison or the business, government, discipline, or management thereof, and to render the board every other facility to discharge its duties.

prison shall be permitted to receive in any way perquisites, emoluments, or supplies for himself or his family from the prison other than the compensation allowed by the board. The board may, if it shall deem it for the interest of the prison, require the keepers, guards, and such of the employes as it may designate, to be lodged and messed or boarded in the prison, and for that purpose may furnish lodging rooms in a plain and substantial manner, and supply provisions from the prison stock, which shall be cooked and prepared by the labor of convicts, and served at such time and on such terms, and in such place as the board may direct. Am'd '01, p. 99.

Officers or employes not to be interested in contracts, etc., § 5206. Supplies purchased and buildings erected by contract, §§ 5207-5209.

5466. (2240.) Officers, etc., exempt from militia and juries. The warden, deputy warden, clerk, keepers, guards, and other necessary attendants shall, while in the actual employ of the state as such, be exempt from military and jury duties.

5467. (2241.) Board meetings. Journal. President. Prison rules. The board shall meet at the state prison bi-monthly and oftener as the proper control and management thereof may require. A majority of the members of the board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business; but for a meeting held for the appointment or removal of the warden, or any business relating thereto, at least ten days' notice in writing to each member shall have been given, by the president or secretary of the board, stating the object of the meeting. All orders and resolutions of the board shall be entered in its journal. At the first meeting after their appointments, and biennially thereafter, the members shall choose the president of the board. The clerk of the prison shall act as secretary of the board, and shall attend and keep regular minutes of its proceedings and of all rules and regulations adopted by it, which shall be recorded in a book kept at the office of the prison for that purpose, and shall be signed by the members of the board present. It shall be the duty of the board to make and adopt all such general rules for the government and discipline of the prison as it may deem expedient, and from time to time to change and amend the same as circumstances may require.

otherwise than from temporary ill health, as to seriously interfere with the discipline or productiveness of the labor of the prison. The board shall also make and adopt rules for the separation and classification of prisoners, for their promotion and reduction from one grade to another, and from time to time to change and amend the same as circumstances may require. In making such rules and regulations the board shall, as far as practicable, consistent with the discipline of the prison, adopt such as shall, in its judgment, best conduce to the reformation of the convicts. A printed copy of the rules and regulations shall be furnished every officer and guard at the time he is appointed and sworn, and so much thereof as relates to the duties and obligations of the convicts shall be hung up in a conspicuous place in each cell and shop, and such rules shall, so far as practicable, be written or printed in a language known to the convict occupying the cell. The board shall, at its regular meetings, examine all the different departments of the prison, and inquire into all matters connected with the government, discipline, and policy thereof, the punishment and employment of the convicts therein confined, the books, accounts, and vouchers of the warden and clerk, the money, the purchases, and sales of the articles provided for the prison or sold on account thereof, and whether or not the convicts are properly fed, clothed, and governed. The board shall also inquire into any improper conduct which may be alleged to have been committed by the warden or any other officer or employe of the prison, and for that purpose may issue subpoenas to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers, and writings before the board with like effect and subject to the same penalties for disobedience as in cases of trial before justices of the peace, and the board may examine any witnesses produced before it, on oath to be administered by the president of the board, or in his absence by some other member thereof.

Attendance of witnesses, production of books and papers, and contempts, §§ 1802, 7122-7151, Prisoners work on roads, § 5508-5514. 7525.

5469. (2243.) Food, clothing, etc., of convicts. The board may make regulations in regard to the food, rations, clothing, and bedding of the convicts, as the health, well-being, and circumstances of each may require; but all diet, rations, clothing, beds, and bedding shall be plain, of good quality, and in sufficient quantity for the sustenance and comfort of the convicts.

Sec. 2251, R. S. '98, declared in conflict with Con. art. 7, sec. 12, which confers pardoning powers on board of pardons. State v. State Board of Corrections, 16 U. 478; 52 P. 1090.

5472. (2254.) Convicts repairing walls, etc. The warden shall also have authority, under such regulations as the board may adopt, to employ convicts in the erection or repair of the buildings or walls of the prison, or on the prison farm.

5473. (2255.) United States convicts. Convicts sentenced to the state prison by any court of the United States may be so received and there kept in pursuance of their sentences upon such terms as the board may adopt.

5474. (2256.) Board of pardons may restore lost civil rights, when. Except in cases of treason or impeachment, the board of pardons may, in its discretion, remove the disabilities of any person who shall have lost his civil rights by reason of conviction of a public offense. The board of corrections, upon the request of the board of pardons, shall, in the case of an application of a convict or of an ex-convict to be restored to his civil rights, furnish the board of pardons with a statement of such person's deportment during his imprisonment; and it may at all times make whatever recommendations to the board of pardons it shall believe proper, respecting such person's restoration to such rights.

Duties and powers of board of pardons, Con. art. 7, sec. 12; §§ 4330-4337

Convict labor not to be contracted, Con. art. 16, sec. 3. Prisoners work on roads, §§ 5508-5514.

5476. (2258.) Id. Making articles for state. The board shall be required to employ as many prisoners as are necessary in making articles for the various state institutions, as far as practicable; and the state institutions shall pay to the prison the market price of all articles furnished.

5477. (2259.) Id. Irrigation works. For the purpose of reclaiming, by irrigation, state lands, and for the purpose of furnishing public work for convicts confined in the state prison, the state board of corrections is hereby authorized to locate and construct, in the name of and for the use of the state, ditches, canals, reservoirs, and feeders, for irrigating and domestic purposes, and for that purpose may use convict labor of persons confined, or that may be confined, as convicts in the state prison.

Col. Mills' An. C. (1891) § 2483*.
Convicts may labor outside prison grounds only on public works, Con. art. 16, sec. 3.

5478. (2260.) Prisoner to receive part of earnings. The board may adopt rules for crediting to deserving prisoners some portion of their earnings; to unmarried prisoners, not to exceed ten per cent of their net earnings, to be paid to them on discharge; and to married prisoners, not to exceed twenty-five per cent of their net earnings, to be delivered to their families, if living in this state and shown to be dependent upon them for support. If married prisoners have not resident families so dependent, they are to be credited with the same amount as unmarried prisoners, and paid the same on discharge.

5479. (2261.) Change of labor. Whenever the warden or the board shall deem it necessary for the health or discipline of a convict, or for the interest of the state, any convict may be transferred from one kind of work to another, as the warden or the board shall from time to time direct.

5480. (2262.) Release from solitary confinement. Convicts who may have been, or may hereafter be, sentenced to solitary confinement in the state prison at hard labor for life may be released from solitary confinement and employed as other convicts are, whenever and for such time as the board may by resolution direct; and the board is authorized to allow such convicts under whatever restrictions it may deem necessary and proper, to correspond with relatives and friends.

5481. (2263.) All convicts to labor eight hours a day. All convicts, other than such as are confined in solitude for misconduct in the prison, shall as far as practicable be kept constantly employed at hard labor for an average of not less than eight hours a day, Sundays and holidays excepted, unless incapable of laboring by reason of sickness or other infirmity.

5482. (2264.) Freedom of religious worship. No inmate of the state prison shall be denied the full exercise of his religious belief and the liberty of worshiping according to the dictates of his conscience; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall be so construed as to impair the discipline of the prison, as far as may be needful for the good government and safe custody of its inmates, nor to prevent the assembling of all the inmates in the chapel thereof for such general religious instruction as the board may deem wise and expedient.

5483. (2265.) Prisoners kept singly in cells. Whenever there shall be a sufficient number of cells in the prison, it shall be the duty of the warden to keep the prisoners singly in a cell at night, and also during the day when unemployed.

5484. (2266.) Duties of employes. Punishment of prisoners. It shall be the duty of guards, keepers, and employes of the state prison to be ready at all times to attend to any duty required of them by the warden or deputy warden. The several keepers and guards are hereby expressly charged with all the duties and responsibilities of jailers. It shall be the duty of guards, keepers, and other employes of the state prison to faithfully enforce all rules and regulations of the board relative to their respective duties. Any guard, keeper, or other employe of the state prison who shall knowingly violate any rule or regulation adopted by the board, or who shall violate any of the provisions of this chapter, or who shall neglect to perform the duties required of him by the rules and regulations of the prison or by the provisions of this chapter, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof may be punished by a fine not exceeding $1000, or by imprisonment in the state prison for a period not exceeding three years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. The warden or deputy warden may punish convicts for misconduct in such manner and under such regulations as shall be adopted by the board; provided, that punishment by showering with cold water or whipping with the lash on the bare body shall in no case be allowed. The warden or deputy warden shall, the next day after inflicting punishment upon any convict, enter in a book, kept for that purpose, a written memorandum thereof signed by him, stating the offense committed and the kind and extent of the punishment inflicted; but in no case shall any punishment be brutal or inhuman, and no corporal punishment shall be inflicted without the presence of the prison physician.

5487. (2269.) Custody of books. Distributing reports. All books of accounts, registers, and other documents and papers relating to the affairs of the prison shall be considered public property, and shall remain therein, and the warden shall preserve at least one set of copies of all official reports made to the governor and legislature respecting the prison, and likewise a set of similar reports in relation to the prisons of other states, as far as he shall be able to obtain the same. To accomplish this purpose, there shall be printed biennially for the use of the prison 300 extra copies of the report of the board, 100 of which shall be supplied to the warden for exchange with prisons of other states, and the warden shall promptly transmit to each of the state prisons in the United States one copy of such report.

5488. (2270.) Economy to be enforced. It shall be the duty of the warden and the deputy warden to see that rigid economy is practiced in all matters pertaining to the prison and in the employment of prisoners, and that duplicate receipts be taken for all expenditures made by them on account of the prison, one of which shall be sent to the auditor's office monthly.

5489. (2271.) Board to audit accounts. It shall be the duty of the board to examine and audit before payment all bills and accounts of the prison, at least bi-monthly, to enter a strict account of the same in its books, and after the accounts shall have been examined, entered, and audited, they shall be transmitted by the board to the state auditor.

5491. (2273.) Delivery of convicts. It shall be the duty of the sheriff of every county in which any criminal shall be sentenced to confinement in the state prison, or shall be sentenced to death, to cause such convict to be removed from the county jail within five days after the sentence and conveyed to the state prison and delivered to the warden thereof. Am'd '01, p. 35.

5492. (2274.) Id. Expense. The actual expenses of sheriffs in conveying convicts to the prison shall be made out in a bill containing the items thereof, and shall be presented to the warden when the prisoner is delivered at the prison. The warden shall certify on it that the prisoner has been received, and the bill, including the sheriff's actual expenses in returning to the county whence the prisoner shall have been sent, shall be audited by the state auditor and paid from the state treasury. Before drawing his warrant the state auditor shall correct any errors in the bill as to form, items, or amount, and the sheriff shall be paid his actual traveling expenses and the expenses of the convict.

Escapes and assisting therein, §§ 7967-7971.
Delivery of poisons, drugs, etc., to prisoners, § 7972.

5495. (2277.) Visitors. The following persons shall be authorized to visit the prison at pleasure, namely: The governor, members of the legislature, state officers, the judges of the supreme and district courts, grand jurors, prosecuting attorneys, attorneys on professional business, sheriffs, members and officers of any board authorized by law to visit the same, and all regular officiating ministers of the gospel. But no other person shall be permitted to go within the walls of the prison where convicts shall be confined, except by special permission of the warden, or under such regulations as the board shall prescribe.

5497. (2279.) Prison school. A school may be maintained in the prison for the instruction of convicts confined therein. It shall be conducted under such regulations as may be approved by the board of corrections.

5498. (2280.) Library. The library now established at the prison for the use of the convicts shall be maintained, subject to such regulations as the board may approve.

5499. (2281.) Contagious diseases. In case any pestilence or contagious disease shall break out among the prisoners in the prison, or in the vicinity of the prison, the board may cause the convicts therein to be removed to some suitable place of security, where such of them as may be sick shall receive all necessary care and medical attendance, and such convicts shall be returned, as soon as it may be safe to do so, to the prison, and be there confined according to the respective sentences, if the time be unexpired.

5500. (2282.) Fire. Whenever, by reason of the prison or any building contiguous or near thereto being on fire, there shall be reason to apprehend that the convicts may be injured or endangered by such fire, or may escape, the warden may remove the convicts to some safe and convenient place, and there confine them as long as may be necessary to avoid the danger.

5501. (2283.) Id. Repairs. If any of the shops or buildings are destroyed or injured by fire, or other cause, they may be rebuilt or repaired immediately under the direction of the board, and with the approval of the governor, and the expense thereof shall be paid from the state treasury. The money for this purpose shall be drawn from the state treasury and accounted for in the manner now provided by law.

5502. (2284.) Audit and report of accounts. It shall be the duty of the state auditor to examine and audit the accounts of the warden, and to lay a statement of the same before the legislature at each regular session thereof.

5503. (2285.) Escapes. Rewards. Whenever any convict shall escape from the prison, it shall be the duty of the warden to take all proper measures for the apprehension of such convict, and for that purpose he may offer a reward not exceeding $50 for the apprehension and delivery of such convict; such reward and other sums of money, necessarily paid for advertising and apprehending any convict who may escape from prison, shall be audited by the state auditor and paid out of the state treasury. If any prisoner shall be retaken, the time between the escape and his recommittal shall not be computed as part of the term of imprisonment, but he shall remain in the prison a sufficient length of time after the term of his sentence would have expired, if he had not escaped, to equal the period of time he may have been absent by reason of his escape.

Governor may offer rewards, § 9393.

5505. (2287.) Crimes committed in prison. Any convict now or hereafter confined in the state prison for any term other than life, and who during the term of such confinement shall commit a crime punishable, under the laws of this state, by imprisonment in such institution, shall be subject to the same punishment as if the crime had been committed at any other place, or by a person not so confined.

A convict may be tried and sentenced before his term of imprisonment has expired for a criminal offense committed in trying to escape. People v. Flynn, 7 U. 378; 26 P. 1114.

5506. (2288.) Prior rights not affected hereby. No lien, demand, claim, or contract established or made before the 3rd day of April, 1896, by the warden or clerk of the prison in behalf of the state shall be in anywise changed or affected by the provisions of this chapter; but the rights of the state and of all parties to contracts or obligations theretofore made shall remain as complete and as binding, and may be enforced in the same manner and as fully as if the provisions of this chapter had not been enacted.

5507. (2289.) Vested rights not affected hereby. All rights and liabilities existing, acquired, or incurred before the 3rd day of April, 1896, are hereby saved; and all proceedings heretofore pending may be consummated under and according to the law in force when such proceedings were commenced.

USE OF CONVICTS AND PRISONERS IN CONSTRUCTION OF ROADS.

('11, p. 106.)

5508. Convicts and prisoners may be required to work upon state roads. Convict labor may be utilized in providing material for constructing roads and also in the construction and improvement of roads, the prisoners in the county jail may be required to work upon county roads under regulations made by the board of county commissioners, and prisoners in the state prison may be required to work upon state roads.

State road commission, §§ 2850-2863.

5509. Control of convict labor. When state prison convicts are used in the construction or improvement of any state road, the work shall be under the authority and control of the state road commission, the state board of corrections and the warden of the Utah state prison, subject to the provisions of § 5512.

5510. Supervision of work. The supervision of the state road work provided for herein shall be under such competent persons as may be selected by the state road commission; provided, that no supervisor shall cause or permit any person under his direction to be employed for more than eight hours of any day.

5511. Powers of state board of pardons. The state board of pardons shall have power and they are hereby authorized to adopt rules and regulations providing for the granting of privileges to prisoners and employes upon state roads, public buildings, and public grounds which shall especially provide for the granting of additional reduction of sentence for good behavior, such reductions to be conditioned upon their good behavior and efficient work while employed on state roads, public buildings, and public grounds.

5512. State road commission to designate when work shall be done. State roads upon which convicts are to be used shall be located and surveyed by and under the direction of the state road commission, who will designate from time to time the particular section or sections of said roads which shall be constructed or improved. When any section of state road has been selected for construction or improvement, the state road commission shall cause plans and specifications covering the construction or improvement of said road to be prepared, and in designating the material to be used in said construction or improvement the state road commission shall take into consideration the climate, soil, materials to be had, and the extent and nature of the probable traffic on said road with a view to the most economic construction consistent with efficiency. The state road commission may appoint a road engineer, whose salary shall be fixed by said commission, who shall have, in addition thereto, his actual and necessary traveling expenses while actually engaged in the discharge of the duties of his office, which salary and expenses shall be paid by the said road commission out of the state road fund, from the portion of said fund which is available to the county in which the work is done, by warrants of the state auditor; or by the county commissioners of the county where the work is done, upon requisitions issued by the state road commission. On or before the 10th day of every month the said road engineer shall certify to the state road commission the number of days of service rendered and the expenses incurred by him during the month next preceding, which certificate shall separately state the items of service and expenses rendered and incurred in respect to said state road in each county through which the same may pass.

5513. Securing right of way. The county commissioners of the several counties of this state are hereby authorized and required to secure the right of way for any state road in the location selected by the state road commission in accordance with the laws of the state now in force or which may hereafter be enacted relative to securing rights of way for public roads.
Am'd '17, p. 222.

5515. Appropriation. The sum of $20,000 is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, payable upon vouchers of the warden of the Utah state prison, approved by the state board of corrections, upon warrants drawn by the state auditor, for the purpose of paying the necessary extra guards and foremen and for the purchase of tools, implements, and blasting materials, supplies and equipment necessary in the prosecution of said work and for transportation. All purchases of tools, implements, blasting materials, and supplies and equipment primarily for road building use shall be approved by the road engineer appointed by the state road commission. '11, p. 106.

CHAPTER 13.

UNIVERSITY.

5520. (2290.) General powers. The name of the university organized under an act approved February 28, 1850, and laws amendatory or supplementary thereto, shall hereafter be University of Utah, and by this name it is constituted and continued a body corporate, with perpetual succession. It may have and use a corporate seal, and by the aforementioned name may sue and be sued, and contract and be contracted with. It is vested with all the property and franchises of, and shall be subject to all the contracts, obligations, and liabilities of, the former corporation.

University part of public school system, Con. art. 10, sec. 2.
Location at Salt Lake City confirmed, rights perpetuated, Con. art. 10, sec. 4.
Land grant, enabling act, sec. 8; Con. art. 10, sec. 5.
Perpetual fund, Con. art. 10, secs. 3, 5, 7; art. 20, sec. 1.
Act providing for removal of university to its present site, laws of 1899, pp. 20, 21.

5521. (2291.) Id. It may take and hold by purchase, gift, devise, or bequest, real and personal property required for its uses. It may also convert property received by gift, devise, or bequest, and not suitable for its uses, into other property so available, or into money. It shall be deemed a public corporation, and shall be subject to the laws of this state, existent or hereafter enacted, relating to its purposes and government. Its property shall be exempt from all taxes and assessments.

5522. (2292.) Courses of study in the university. The university, until otherwise provided for by law, shall be the highest branch of the system of public education. As far as practicable its courses and methods shall be arranged to supplement the instruction of the subordinate branches of such system, with a view to afford a thorough education to students of both sexes in the arts, the sciences, literature, and the civil professions, including engineering; but the university must not include in its courses agriculture, except elementary agriculture as is or may be prescribed in the normal course, horticulture, animal industry, veterinary science, domestic science and art, except as is or may be prescribed in the normal course, and instruction in irrigation as applied to the measurement, distribution, and application of water for agricultural purposes. Am'd '05, p. 54; '11, p. 42.

Supervisors of agricultural, industrial and home economics education to co-operate with, § 4543.

5523. (2293.) Board of regents. The government of the university and the management of its property and affairs shall be vested in a board of regents consisting of the secretary of state and twelve resident citizens of the state to be appointed by the governor. As the terms of the incumbents expire, except that of the secretary of state, their successors shall be appointed and shall hold office for a period of four years, the terms of each commencing on the 1st day of July next after their appointment. Am'd '11, p. 54.

Appointment of regents; filling of vacancies, §§ 5204, 5205.

5524. (2294.) Oath and bond. Every regent, except the secretary of state, before entering upon the duties of his office, shall take the official oath and execute to the university a bond, with sureties to be approved by the secretary of state, in the penal sum of $1000, each conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duties. These oaths and bonds shall be filed with the secretary of state. Am'd '11, p. 54.

5525. (2295.) Id. Powers. Executive committee. The board shall have power to enact by-laws and regulations for all concerns of the institution, not inconsistent with the laws of the state. A quorum of the board shall consist of five members. Between meetings of the board, its full powers may be exercised as to the ordinary business of the university, by an executive committee of five members appointed by the board, a majority of whom shall constitute a quorum thereof.

Supplies to be purchased and buildings erected by contract, §§ 5207-5209.
Officers or employes not to be interested in contracts, etc., § 5206.

5526. (2296.) Chairman and secretary of board. The board shall choose one of its number chairman. He shall be the executive officer of the board, and shall hold office for two years, and until his successor is chosen and has qualified. It shall likewise appoint a secretary, who may be a regent, and a treasurer, who shall not be a regent; and it may require from each a bond to the university for the faithful discharge of his duties. Such bonds must be approved by and delivered to the secretary of state. Bonds taken by the university, to secure the faithful discharge of official duties, shall be copied in the regents' record book, and in case of the loss or destruction of any bond, the record shall be prima facie evidence of the contents and execution of such bonds.

Warrants drawn in favor of treasurer, § 5210.

5527. (2297.) Faculty. The board may provide for the constitution and organization of the faculty of the university, of which the president thereof shall be the chairman and executive officer. It may, in its discretion, commit to the faculty the selection and the dismissal of instructors and employes, and the determination of their compensation as well as the general management of instruction and of the examination, admission, and classification of students.

5528. (2298.) Board to appoint faculty. The board shall appoint the president and the professors of the university, shall prescribe their duties, and determine their salaries.

5529. (2299.) President's ex officio duties. The president of the university shall be ex officio a member of the board of regents, with all the rights, privileges, and obligations of every other member thereof; and, furthermore, he shall be ex officio a member of the state board of education.

State board of education, §§ 4505-4516.

5530. (2300.) Contracts with instructors, etc. All contracts hereafter made with professors, instructors, or employes, whether for a definite or indefinite time, shall be subject to termination at the will of the board, or of its executive committee, if the board be not in session, when the interests of the university so require.

5532. (2302.) Regents not to receive compensation. Expenses. No regent shall receive any compensation for his services as regent; but he may be allowed his actual expenses incurred in attending meetings of the board or its committees, or in attending to any business of the university under authority of the board or its committees.

5533. (2303.) Fiscal year. The fiscal year of the university shall commence on the 1st day of July and end on the 30th day of June in each year, and biennial appropriations made for its maintenance, unless otherwise specified, shall be deemed to be for the two years commencing on the 1st day of July next after the appropriation is made.

Fiscal year of the state changed to begin Dec. 1st, § 5794; it had been fixed by Con. art. 13, sec. 1, to begin Jan. 1st.

5534. (2304.) Degrees. The university may confer degrees upon students who have satisfactorily completed any of its prescribed courses of study. It may also confer special, honorary, or emeritus degrees upon former members of its faculty, for long or eminent service in the university, but otherwise no such degrees shall be conferred.

School of Education, which degrees shall thereafter be sufficient evidence of the holder's qualification to teach in the elementary and high schools without examination as to scholarship; provided, that a degree from the university with an accompanying diploma conferred prior to September 1, 1911, shall have the same force as a degree given for the completion of a course in the School of Education. Am'd '09, p. 48.

Rank and effect of normal certificate, § 4509.

5538. (2308.) Preparatory course. A course of studies preparatory to the regular university courses may be maintained for such length of time as the board shall think necessary.

5539. (2309.) Entrance fee. Tuition. Moneys to be paid to state treasurer. Monthly report. Instruction in the regular courses in the University of Utah shall be free to the actual residents of the state of Utah, but an entrance fee not to exceed $20 shall be required annually, and the board of regents must require a tuition from non-residents, in either of said courses, not less than $25 and not to exceed $50. The board of regents must fix and require an annual tuition for each of the other courses of the University of Utah in a sum not exceeding $75 for residents of Utah, and not exceeding $150 for non-residents. No partisan, political, or sectarian religious doctrine shall be taught or inculcated in the university, nor any political or religious test shall be required as a qualification of any student, professor, instructor, officer, or employe of the University of Utah. All moneys received by the University of Utah as entrance or tuition fees, or moneys received from any source whatsoever, shall be paid into the state treasury at the close of each month, and shall be placed to the credit of the maintenance account of the University of Utah. A detailed report of fees collected, verified under oath, shall be filed with the state auditor and the state treasurer at the time fees are deposited with the state treasurer. Am'd '07, p. 256; '15, p. 38.

Political or partisan tests forbidden, Con. art. 10, sec. 12. To be free from sectarian control, Con. art. 3, sec 4; art. 10, sec 1.

5540. (2310.) Founding and naming professorship. Any person or persons who may give or bequeath to the university a sum not less than $40,000, for the purpose of founding a professorship in any department thereof, shall have the privilege of giving name to such professorship. A similar gift or bequest of not less than $25,000, for the purpose of founding an adjunct professorship, shall entitle the giver to the like privilege.

5541. (2311.) Nominating first incumbent. Any person or persons who may give or bequeath to the university a sum not less than $50,000, for the purpose of founding a professorship in any of its departments, shall have the privilege of giving name to such professorship, and of nominating its first incumbent. A similar gift or bequest of not less than $35,000, for the purpose of founding an adjunct professorship, shall entitle the giver to the like privileges.

5543. (2313.) Founding fellowship or lectureship. Any person or persons who may give or bequeath to the university a sum not less than $10,000, to found a fellowship or lectureship in any of its departments, shall have the privilege of naming such fellowship or lectureship, and of nominating its first incumbent.

5544. (2314.) Id. Nominating incumbents in perpetuity. Any person or persons who may give or bequeath a sum not less than $15,000, to found a fellowship or lectureship in any department of the university, shall have the privilege of naming such fellowship or lectureship, and of designating the manner in which the incumbents thereof, in succession forever, shall be nominated; provided, that in case of a lectureship, the board of regents of the university shall have the privilege of rejecting any nomination, or of removing any incumbent for cause.

5545. (2315.) Scholarships. University scholarships in the different departments shall be of three different classes, first, second, and third, according as the endowment is $3000, $2000, or $1000, and any person or persons founding a scholarship of any class, or in any department, shall have the privilege of naming such scholarship, and of nominating its first incumbent.

APPROPRIATION FOR CARRYING ON ARCHAEOLOGICAL EXPLORATION.

5546. Appropriation. Purposes. Deposit of collections. Four thousand dollars, of which amount one-half shall be available in each of the fiscal years beginning, respectively, July 1, 1917, and July 1, 1918, is hereby appropriated out of any public moneys not otherwise appropriated, to the regents of the University of Utah, for the purpose of carrying on archæological and historical explorations among the ruins of prehistoric people who once lived within the confines of this state. All collections thus made shall be deposited in the state museum at the University of Utah, where, except as to duplicates which may be exchanged, they shall be retained for examination by the general public. '17, p. 206.

SCHOOL OF MINES.

5547. (2320x.) School of mines established. A State School of Mines is hereby established in connection with, and as a department of, the University of Utah, in accordance with the enabling act admitting Utah into the union of states. '01, p. 31.

5548. (2320x1.) Under control of university. Said school shall be under the management and control of the regents of the University of Utah. '01, p. 32.

5549. (2320x2.) Beneficiary of land grants. Said school shall be the beneficiary of all land grants and appropriations made or to be made by the United States to the state of Utah for the establishment and the maintenance of a school of mines. '01, p. 32.

5550. (2320x3.) Course of studies. In said school there may be offered to students, studies and courses of instruction relating to mining, metallurgical, electrical, and such other branches of engineering as pertain to the pursuit and development in all its branches of the mining industry of Utah. '01, p. 32.

ENGINEERING EXPERIMENT STATION.

('09, p. 49.)

5551. Engineering experiment station established. The Utah engineering experiment station is hereby established in connection with, and as a department of the state school of mines.

5552. Management. Said station shall be under the management and control of the regents of the University of Utah.

5553. Objects. Said station is hereby authorized to carry on experiments and investigations pertaining to any and all questions and problems that admit of experimental and scientific methods of study and the solution of which would tend to benefit the industrial interests of the state or would be for the public good; also to publish bulletins and employ other feasible means of giving information to the public concerning the results of experiments and other work of the station; provided, however, that the authority hereby conferred does not authorize said station to concern itself with problems that properly belong to the experiment station of the Agricultural College of Utah, such as those pertaining to agriculture, irrigation, horticulture, forestry, stock raising, and dairying.

5554. Report. The regents of the University of Utah shall make a biennial report of said engineering experiment station to the governor of the state at a time designated by the governor.

5555. Fiscal year. The fiscal year of said station shall be identical with that of the University of Utah and shall begin July 1, 1909.

MINING AND METALLURGICAL RESEARCH DEPARTMENT.

5556. Purposes. Appropriation. Fifteen thousand dollars, of which amount one-half shall be available in each of the fiscal years beginning respectively, July 1, 1917, and July 1, 1918, is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated for the equipment and maintenance of a mining and metallurgical research department in the Utah experiment station, connected with the state school of mines. The purposes of this research department shall be to conduct experiments and researches, either alone or in co-operation with the national bureau of mines and other agencies, with a view of finding ways and methods of profitably treating low-grade ores, of securing a higher percentage of extraction of metals from their ores, of obtaining other information that shall have for its object the benefit of the mining industry and the utilization and conservation of the mineral resources of the state, and to publish and distribute bulletins and articles relating to the department and its work.

5557. Expenditures by board of regents. Reports. The money appropriated by § 5556 shall be spent under the direction of the board of regents of the University of Utah, which board shall make biennial reports to the governor of the work of the department and of expenditures under § 5556. '13, p. 199; am'd '17, p. 179.

DISPOSITION OF UNCLAIMED DEAD BODIES.

5558. (2320x4.) Unclaimed bodies to go to medical department. It shall be the duty of any person into whose charge may come the unclaimed dead body of a convict or other person to be buried at public expense to give notice to the dean of the department of medicine of the state university within twenty-four hours after the receipt of any such body, specifying in said notice the probable cause of death; and, at the requisition of the dean of said department, he shall forward such body to the university, at its expense, within twenty-four hours of the receipt of such requisition. All bodies so delivered shall be properly embalmed, and shall be preserved for a period of not less than sixty days, during which time any personal friend or relation of the deceased making request for said body for private interment shall be given possession thereof. '07, p. 8.

5559. (2320x5.) Id. Receipt. Record. A receipt for the body shall be given to the officer or person delivering the same, and the medical department of the university shall keep, or cause to be kept, a record of all such bodies so received, in which shall be recorded at length all facts necessary for the identification of such bodies. '07, p. 8.

5561. (2320x7.) Must give notice of unclaimed body. Penalty. Any person having in charge the unclaimed dead body of a convict, or other person to be buried at public expense, who fails or neglects to give notice to the department of medicine of the state university, as provided in § 5558, and any

TITLE 101.

STATE LANDS.

CHAPTER 1.

STATE BOARD OF LAND COMMISSSIONERS.

5571. (2321.) Board of land commissioners created. A state board of land commissioners is hereby created, which shall consist of five resident citizens of the state, who shall be appointed by the governor, by and with the consent of the senate. Each commissioner shall hold his office for two years and until his successor is appointed and qualified.

5573. (2323.) Salary and expenses of commissioners. Each of the appointed commissioners shall receive for his services an annual salary of $1200, except the secretary, who shall receive $1800, payable quarterly; and the said commissioners shall receive actual and necessary traveling expenses while in the performance of their official duties. Am'd '99, p. 86; '01, p. 33.

5574. (2324.) Board to elect president and secretary. Bond and authority of secretary. The board shall elect one of its members president and another of its members as secretary thereof. The secretary shall take the constitutional oath, and give a bond to the state in the sum of $500,000, same to be approved by the state board of examiners and filed with the secretary of state. The bond of the secretary shall be conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties, and the safe keeping of all funds and securities entrusted to his care. He shall employ, subject to the approval of the board, such clerical help as may be needed for the proper carrying on of the work in the office, and may require from such clerical help a bond in such sum as he may deem necessary for the faithful performance of their duties, the state to pay all expenses in the furnishing of such bonds. The secretary shall be in charge of the office and in control of and responsible for the discipline of all employes. He shall be the custodian of all notes, mortgages, and other evidences of indebtedness arising from investment of state funds made by the board, and shall collect all interest due the state on all such; and interest so collected thall be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the fund to which it belongs, on the last business day of each month.

to the state, lying below the water's edge of any lake or stream, shall not be sold, except that whenever all the owners of lands bordering on any lake or bay thereof desire to unwater such lake or bay, thereby to reclaim the bed thereof for agriculeural purposes, said land board may sell the land comprising such bed to such riparian owners at the cash price of not less than $2.50 per acre, upon their making application to purchase the same and furnishing a bond to the state of Utah, with surety or sureties satisfactory to said land board, in double the amount of the purchase price of the land, and conditioned on such reclamation taking place within five years from the date of such sale. In accomplishing such reclamation, no interference shall take place with existing water-rights. The sale of whatever right, title, and interest the state of Utah has in such bed shall be by quit-claim deed or other similar conveyance, with reservation to the state of all mineral rights. Nothing herein contained shall be construed as a legislative declaration of ownership by the state of Utah of beds of non-navigable lakes or bays thereof or of beds of non-navigable rivers or streams. Construct reservoir, § 5660.

Sink wells, § 5675.

Sections 16 and 36 are not reserved from sale under the general land laws of the United States until official survey.

Ferry v. Street, 4 U. 521; 7 P. 712; 11 P. 571.

The territorial legislature had no power to pass a law authorizing the county court to lease sections of land reserved by the United States for school purposes.

Burrows v. Kimball, 11 U. 149; 41 P. 719.

The U. S. statutes making it unlawful to inclose the public lands applies to surveyed school lands. (Overruling U. S. v. Elliot, 7 U. 389; 26 P. 1117.)

U. S. v. Elliot, 12 U. 119; 41 P. 720.

In the absence of a constitutional provision, the state cannot be sued, and action cannot be maintained against the board of land commissioners for damages resulting from the break of an irrigation canal, as it is in effect an action against the state, and judgment would have to be paid out of state funds.

Wilkinson v. State, 42 U. 483; 134 P. 626.

Where the state constructed an irrigation reservoir and canal more than adequate to take care of ordinary floods, an adjoining land owner cannot recover damages against the engineers or the individual members of the board of land commissioners in charge of the work for damages to his land resulting from a break in the canal due to unprecedented floods.

Id.

The whole matter of disposing of the state lands is placed in the hands of the land board. The courts will not review their acts for irregularities, but can consider only whether they have acted without jurisdiction.

Whitmore v. Candland, 47 U. 77; 151 P. 528.

5576. (2326.) Quorum. Records. Seal. The board shall have a seal to affix, with the secretary's attestation, to all instruments of conveyance, certificates, and other official acts. A majority of the board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. A full record of its proceedings shall be kept by the secretary, who shall preserve all papers and documents submitted to the board. Am'd '99, p. 86; '11, p. 136.

The record of the land board giving the value of the land, but leaving blank the column as to improvements, where there is a blank oath signed by a commissioner stating that the commissioners considered the matter of improvements, is evidence that they did so and found them of no value.

5577. (2327.) Board to select land and invest proceeds. The board shall cause all the public lands now owned by the state, or lands the title to which may hereafter be vested in the state, to be selected and registered, and thereafter sold or leased; and the funds arising from the sale or leasing thereof shall be invested in the manner provided in this chapter. Am'd '99, p. 86.

Investment of funds, § 5607.

Provisions concerning land grants, Con. art. 10, secs. 5, 7, 10; art. 19, sec. 3; art. 20, sec. 1.

5579. (2329.) Board to cause lands to be appraised. The board shall cause the state lands and the improvements thereon to be appraised or reappraised at such times as it may deem for the best interest of the state. The board may appoint one or more suitable persons to select, locate, and appraise all lands granted to the state. Am'd '99, p. 86; '05, p. 34.

While an appraisement of state lands and improvements thereon by a single member of the board may be somewhat irregular, it is not void; the court will not review the land board's appraisement in the absence of fraud or collusion.

Whitmore v. Candland, 47 U. 77; 151 P. 528.

It is only the removable improvements that are to be appraised.
Id.

5580. (2330.) Selections by legal subdivisions. Transfers to and from the United States. All selections of land shall be made in legal subdivisions according to the United States survey, and when the selection has been made and approved by the board, it shall take such action as shall be necessary to secure the approval of the proper officers of the United States, and the final transfer to this state of the lands selected. The board is hereby empowered to cancel, relinquish, or release the claims of the state to, and to re-convey to the United States, any particular tract of land erroneously listed to the state, or any tract upon which, at the time of selection, a bona fide claim has been initiated by an actual settler. Am'd '99, p. 86; '13, p. 21.

Selected under the direction of the secretary of the interior, enabling act, sec. 13.

Secretary of state to transmit to county recorders transcripts of land selected, §§ 5704, 5705.

5581. (2331.) Compensation of assistants. The person or persons appointed under the provisions of § 5579 shall each receive a compensation of not to exceed $4 per day for all the time actually and necessarily employed, and his actual and necessary traveling expenses while in the performance of his duties. Am'd '99, p. 87.

5582. (2332.) Plats. Irrigable lands and water supply. Classification of lands. The board shall provide, for field and office use, uncertified plats of the surveyed lands of the state; shall ascertain, as far as practicable, what of the unappropriated government lands in the state are capable of irrigation, and the sources and reliability of the supply of water for the same; and shall select such lands as may be suitable under the various grants made by the general government to the state, and shall classify said lands upon the office plats according to the following classification: Agricultural, grazing, timber, reservoir sites, natural gas producing, mineral, coal, stone, saline, or arid lands, and show whether the same are improved or occupied. Am'd '99, p. 87.

5583. (2335.) Payment of necessary expenses. All necessary expenses attending the examination, survey, location, selection, appraisement, and sale of state lands, the purchase of blanks, books, and stationery, the compensation of officers, and all expenses necessarily incurred in carrying out the provisions of this chapter shall be paid by the state treasurer from the fund appropriated for that purpose, on the warrants of the auditor issued on vouchers certified to by the board. Am'd '99, p. 87.

5584. (2336.) Sales at auction. Price. Quantity. Preference rights. Payments. In all counties where the public lands or any portion thereof have been appraised, the board shall, when deemed conducive to the best interest of the state, attend in person or by agent, at such time as the board shall direct, and offer at public auction, at the courthouse of the county, and sell to the highest bidder all or any of the appraised and unsold and unleased lands situated in the county where such public auction is held; provided, that no land shall be sold for less than the appraised value thereof, and that no more than 160 acres nor less than a legal subdivision, except as hereinafter provided, shall be sold to any one individual, company, or corporation; and provided, also, that sales of such lands shall be made only to citizens of the United States or to those who have declared their intention to become such; and provided, further, that where cities, towns, or villages desire to purchase grazing lands lying contiguous to said cities, towns, or villages, or other lands which they have used continuously for a period of ten years for grazing purposes, they shall have the preference right to do so. Arid lands may be sold, as in this section provided, in amounts not to exceed 320 acres, and grazing lands in amounts not to exceed four sections. Upon such sale the commissioner in attendance shall receive, from the purchasers, the first payment upon lands sold, and shall issue a receipt therefor, and pay the same over to the secretary of the board with his report of such sale.

Private sale of lands, § 5589.

5585. (2336x.) Regulation of sale of state lands within area of government irrigation works. No lands belonging to the state, within the areas to be irrigated from works constructed or controlled by the United States or its duly authorized agencies, shall hereafter be sold except in conformity with the classification of farm units by the United States, and the title to such land shall not pass from the state until the applicant therefor shall have complied with the provisions of the laws of the United States and the regulations thereunder concerning the acquisition of the right to use water from such works, and shall produce the evidence thereof duly issued; provided, that the area or areas to be so irrigated shall be determined by due notice, given by the United States or its duly authorized agencies, and filed with the state board of land commissioners. After the withdrawal of lands by the United States for any irrigation project, no application for the purchase of state lands within the limits of such withdrawal shall be accepted, except upon the conditions prescribed in this section. Any state lands needed by the United States for irrigation works shall be sold to the United States at private sale at the appraised value of such lands. '05, p. 177.

Right of way granted for federal irrigation works, § 5617.

5586. (2337.) Preference right to settlers. Amount. Price. Improvements. Reservoir sites. U. S. survey defined. Actual and bona fide settlers or occupants who have improved state lands and were, on January 1, 1894, actual settlers or occupants thereon shall have the preference right to purchase the land whereon such settlement has been made or of which such occupancy was had, not exceeding such amount as would, on January 1, 1894, or at the present time, make the entire holding of such person in this state not to exceed 480 acres of land. Where settlers have resided upon, occupied, or cultivated any lands granted to the state for school purposes prior to the extension of the surveys of the United States over said lands, or who hold the same, or the possession thereof, by purchase from the original settlers or their assigns, said original settlers having resided upon, occupied, or cultivated such lands prior to the extension of the surveys of the United States over the same, they may be permitted to purchase such lands at a price not less than twenty-five per cent of their appraised value; provided, that the purchase price of such lands settled upon or occupied prior to the extension of the surveys of the United States over said lands shall be not less than $1.25 per acre. In making such appraisement, the valuation of improvements thereon shall not be taken into consideration. Improvements, within the meaning of this section, shall be held to mean anything permanent in character, the result of labor upon or in connection with the land, which has enhanced the value of the same beyond what said land would be worth had it been permitted to remain in its original state. Application to make such purchase by said preferred claimant must be made prior to July 1, 1897; provided, that such extensions of time shall not be construed to affect the rights of persons whose applications have already been filed. Such lands as are suitable for reservoir sites may be reserved from sale or lease either as agricultural, grazing, or timber lands, and they shall be disposed of by the board in such manner and at such price, not less than the appraised valuation, as in the judgment of the board will benefit the settlers on lands on lower levels, preference being given to such corporations or associations formed by actual settlers for irrigation purposes as will enable the said reservoir sites to be utilized by the greatest number of actual settlers. The United States surveys referred to in this section are hereby declared to be those surveys by which any school lands were first sectionized or subdivided by a United States surveyor or a duly appointed deputy; and all records or plats of such surveys shall be deemed prima facie evidence of such surveys to the state board of land commissioners, and the board may hear and consider other testimony.

This section is continued in force only "until all applications filed by virtue of the same are fully disposed of," by laws of '99, p. 95.

Sec. 5587, enacted 1899, p. 165, did not repeal this section, nor operate retroactively to the prejudice of parties who had filed on school lands in pursuance of this section, as they were expressly provided for by chap. 64, laws of '99. Twiggs v. Land Com'rs, 27 U. 241; 75 P. 729.

It is not necessary that a person shall actually reside upon the land, in order to be an "occupant" thereof.

Id.
One who has purchased a possessory right from an original settler is entitled to the same privileges and benefits under this section as his grantor would have had, had he continued in possession and not parted with his interest.
Id.

On a resurvey of land to establish a lost boundary, the original corners established by the government surveyors, if they can be definitely found, or if the place where they were originally established can be definitely determined are conclusive, regardless of the correctness of their location.
Washington Rock Co. v. Young, 29 U. 108; 80 P. 382.

Refund to lessees of school lands under law of 1892, see note to § 5600.

As to effect of enactment of this section, see note to § 5586.

R. S. '98, § 2337; '99, p. 87.

5589. (2337x2.) Private sale. Price. Whenever any citizen of the United States, or person who has declared his intention to become such, shall make application in writing for the selection by the state of any tract of land in satisfaction of any grant to the state, the board may select and contract to sell the same at private sale to the person requesting the selection thereof at a price to be fixed by the board, not less than one dollar per acre; provided, that at the time of making such contract twenty-five cents per acre shall be deposited with the board to be applied as the first payment on such land after the same is patented to the state, and the remainder of the purchase price shall be paid in not to exceed ten equal yearly payments. All lands heretofore selected by the board upon the application of citizens may be sold to the applicants under the provisions of this section. '99, p. 88.

There are no provisions of this chapter which indicate that the word "may" occurring in the sentence "The board may select and contract to sell," etc., in § 5589, was used in any other than its ordinary sense.
Miles v. Wells, 22 U. 55; 61 P. 534.
Sec. 5589 does not make it the duty of the board to select and contract land applied for, nor to fix a uniform price for all lands selected.
Id.
Under this chapter, after an application for lands is made, until the selection is made and the price to be paid, and the time within which the deferred payments shall be made are fixed by the board, and assented to by the applicant, and a contract of sale containing the stipulation agreed upon is executed, the applicant has no vested rights whatever.
Id.
A court has no jurisdiction to direct, by mandamus, how the discretionary power, vested in the board by this chapter, shall be exercised.
Id.

Am'd '99, p. 88; '01, p. '33; '07, p. 267.

Timber cutting forbidden, § 2354.

Am'd '99, p. 89; '15, p. 44.

5594. (2342.) Payments for land or timber. Notes of purchaser. Interest. Payments for lands and timber sold under the provisions of this chapter shall be as follows: Not less than one-tenth of the purchase price to be paid in cash at the time of sale, and the balance in not to exceed ten equal yearly payments. On all lands on which there is timber appraised at not exceeding $2.50 per acre the board may, in its discretion, add to and consider as a part of the value of the land the value of such timber, and such land shall be sold or leased as agricultural or grazing land and paid for as if no timber were growing thereon. The rate of interest on all deferred payments shall be five per cent per annum, and shall be paid as follows: On the day of sale the interest on the unpaid portion of the purchase price shall be computed and paid up to the 1st day of January next ensuing, and thereafter the interest and one-tenth of the purchase price remaining after the first payment has been made shall become due and payable annually in advance on the 1st day of January of each year. No timber or lands on which timber forms an appreciable part of the value of such lands shall be sold except for cash, unless the purchaser shall secure the state the payment of the full purchase price by giving, at the time of purchase, an execution of notes for purchase, a good and sufficient bond running to the state for double the value of the timber on said lands; said bond to be in such form as the board may direct, and subject to its approval. Any purchaser may make full payment for land purchased at any time, and after the payment of the amount required to be paid at the time of sale, a purchaser may pay any part of the amount due equal to one or more annual payments. Am'd '99, p. 89.

5595. (2343.) Secretary of board to receive payments for land. All payments of principal, interest, or rental shall be made to the secretary of the board, who shall issue his receipt in duplicate therefor, and shall transmit the original receipt to the person making the payment, and deliver the duplicate to the state auditor. Am'd '99, p. 89.

If the appraisers consider any improvements as having no value, the owner may still remove them within the stipulated time. Whitmore v. Candland, 47 U. 77; 151 P. 528.

5597. (2346.) Certificate of sale when full payment not made. Upon the sale of land under the provisions of this chapter, as herein provided, the state board shall issue to the purchaser a certificate of sale, showing the land purchased, the amount paid, the amount due, and the time when the principal and interest shall become due. Am'd '99, p. 90.

Fee for issuance of certificate, § 2514.

5598. (2347.) Lands unsold at auction may be sold at private sale. Whenever the board shall have exposed for sale at public auction any lots of the lands of this state pursuant to law, and any of such lots shall remain unsold, the board may, in its discretion, issue certificates for the sale thereof to such persons, respectively, as shall thereafter make application for any of the said lots, at not less than the appraised value. Am'd '99, p. 90.

5599. (2348.) Patents, how issued. Upon the filing of the certificate of sale with receipts attached, evidencing full payment of principal and interest for any tract of land sold, the governor shall, under the great seal of the state, issue a patent therefor to the purchaser, his assignee, or successor in interest. In case the purchaser shall have died and the land described shall have been sold by order of a court having jurisdiction, and such sale shall have been duly confirmed by order of said court, the patent shall be issued to the purchaser to whom confirmation of sale is made. If the estate of a deceased person shall have been distributed by order of such court, the patent shall be issued to the heirs of said deceased person or to such other person as may be shown by such decree of distribution to be entitled to the same. All patents so issued shall be attested by the secretary of state, and a record thereof shall be kept in the office of the board. Am'd '99, p. 90; '13, p. 51.

Patent when subject to easement for highway, § 2809; for other purposes, §§ 5616, 5617.

5600. (2349.) Lands may be leased. Term. Quantity. Applications. Payment. Preference. All state lands unleased and unsold shall be subject to lease at the actual leasing value thereof as fixed by the board. Lands other than grazing and arid lands shall be leased for terms of not more than five years, and in tracts not exceeding 640 acres in extent to any one person, company, or corporation. Grazing and arid lands may be leased for such terms not exceeding twelve years and in tracts of such quantities as may be for the best interest of the state, at the discretion of the board; provided, that no lease shall exceed 50,000 acres to any one person or corporation; and provided, further, when it shall be shown that a lease has been secured for the purpose of a re-lease, or for the benefit of any person or corporation other than the lessee, the board shall declare such lease void, unless such lease be consented to by the board. Applications for lease shall be made to the board, and shall contain an affidavit that the applicant is not the owner of a lease of state lands of more than 640 acres, except grazing or arid lands, including the amount applied for, and that he desires to lease for his own use and benefit. Applications for lease shall be accompanied by the fees provided by law to be paid for making such lease. If the board deems it advisable to lease said land, it shall cause the same to be appraised and determine the annual rental thereon, and the secretary of the board shall thereupon notify the applicant thereof, and upon receipt of the first instalment of rental, a lease of the land applied for, duly executed, shall be delivered to the lessee. The first payment upon a lease shall be until the 1st day of January next ensuing. Subsequent payments shall be due and payable annually, in advance, on the 1st day of January of each year; provided, that where inhabitants of cities, towns, or villages desire to lease the grazing lands lying contiguous to said cities, towns, or villages, or other lands which they have used continuously for a period of ten years for grazing purposes, they shall have the preference right to do so. In leasing grazing or arid lands, the board shall give the preference right to actual settlers. The board may withhold from sale or lease lands on which there are springs of water, where water for stock purposes is scarce and their sale or lease, if enclosed, would, in the opinion of the board, create a monopoly of large tracts of the United States or state grazing lands in favor of the purchasers or lessees of such lands on which such springs or streams are located; and provided, further, that the board shall give the preference right to lease the grazing lands of the state to citizens of the state. Am'd '99, p. 90; '11, p. 109.

Fee for making leases, § 2514.
Money paid by lessees of school lands refunded by virtue of chap. 76, laws of '92. (On rehearing, 21 U. 187; 60 P. 982.)
Thoreson v. State Board of Ex., 19 U. 18; 57 P. 175.

after service of such notice, such delinquent has not paid such rental, principal, or interest so delinquent, and has procured no extension of time, his lease or contract of sale shall be forfeited, and such forfeiture shall be noted on the records of the board; provided, that where, through good and reasonable cause, such purchaser or lessee has been unable to meet his payments when due, the board may, in its discretion, extend the time for making such payments, not to exceed one year at any one extension, on the person or persons paying interest on such deferred payments at the rate of 5 per cent per annum; provided, further, that no subsequent extension shall be granted until all payments of principal and interest due before such subsequent extension shall have been made. The board may make such rules regarding such extensions as it deems proper. Any person whose contract of sale has been forfeited may, however, be relieved from such forfeiture at any time before the land has been appraised, or reappraised, or has again been sold, by paying all arrears of rental, principal, and interest, and 5 per cent penalty thereon. Any person whose contract of sale has been forfeited, and thereafter the land included therein leased to another person, may be given priority right to repurchase said land at a reappraised price and have credited thereon all moneys paid to the state land board on previous purchase, whenever in the opinion of the board the facts of the particular case would be equitable and just. Am'd '99, p. 91; '07, p. 268; '11, p. 139; '13, p. 8; '17, p. 220.

5604. (2354.) Cutting timber on leased lands. The lessee of state lands shall in no case be allowed to cut or use more timber therefrom than shall be necessary for the improvement of such lands, or for fuel for the use of the family of the lessee. The cutting and hauling of timber from leased agricultural or grazing lands to sawmills is prohibited. Am'd '99, p. 92.

Protection of timber, § 5592.

5605. (2355.) Secretary's fees. For making certified copies of papers, or records,, by the secretary, the same fees as are charged by the secretary of state for like services shall be collected. Am'd '99, p. 92; '05, p. 34.

Fees of board generally, § 2514. Fees of secretary of state, § 2511.

5606. (2356.) Payment of moneys into state treasury. On the first business day of each month, the secretary of the board shall pay into the state treasury all moneys received during the previous month, classified as to sales, leases, interest, fees, penalties, and forfeitures. All sums paid for fees shall go into the general fund. All penalties shall be regarded as interest, and all forfeitures shall go to the respectvie permanent funds. Am'd '99, p. 92.

5608. Investment. In addition to the securities in which public land funds of the state may, under the provisions of § 5607, be invested, the state board of land commissioners are hereby authorized to invest any of the funds derived from the sale and rental of public lands of the state in notes of counties made under the provisions of § 1364; provided, that such loans or investments shall not in any one county exceed one-half of one per cent of the assessed valuation of the county as shown by the last tax assessment. '11, p. 137.

5612. (2360.) Forest and water supply reserves. The board shall set apart and reserve from sale such tracts of timber lands and the timber thereon as may, in the opinion of the board, be required to preserve the forests of the state, prevent the diminution of the flow of rivers, and aid in the irrigation of the arid lands. Am'd '99, p. 93.

Forest reserves authorized, Con. art. 18, s ec. 1.

5613. (2361.) Board to make rules and regulations. Supplies. The board shall have power to make all needful rules and regulations, not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter, for carrying the same into effect; and shall supply all records, books, and papers that may be required for the purposes of this chapter. Am'd '99, p. 93.

5614. (2362.) Employment of counsel. The board shall cause the state to be properly represented in all suits, actions, controversies, or claims relating to state lands. Am'd '99, p. 93.

5615. (2363.) Annual report to be published. The secretary, under the direction of the board, shall annually, on the 1st day of January in each year, make a full report of the board's transactions, showing the amount of lands in each county belonging to the state, to what fund they belong, their value to the amount sold or leased during the year. Said report shall contain such other items of information concerning the state lands as the board may deem proper, and the board shall report the same to the governor. Am'd '99, p. 94.

Right of way granted to railroads, § 1233.

5617. (2364x.) Id. For canals, etc., constructed by United States. There is hereby granted, over all lands now or hereafter belonging to the state of Utah, a right of way for ditches, tunnels, and telephone and transmission lines, constructed by authority of the United States. All conveyances of state lands hereafter made shall contain a reservation of such right of way.

'05, p. 176.

Lands within area of federal irrigation work reserved, § 5585.

5619. (2366.) Testimony in contests. Notice. Where contests arise as to the preference rights of claimants for lands under the control of the board of land commissioners, the board shall have full power to direct the taking of testimony concerning the points involved, which shall be reported in full to said board. It shall be the duty of the secretary of the board to notify the parties to the contest of the findings and conclusions of said board. Am'd '99, p. 94.

5620. (2367.) Members may subpœna witnesses and administer oaths. Any member of the board may issue subpœnas to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books and papers before him or the board, and may administer oaths in the performance of his official duty.

Am'd '99, p. 94.

5621. (2368.) Application for survey of unsurveyed lands. The governor is hereby authorized and directed, by and with the consent of the state board of land commissioners, to make application to the commissioner of the general land office for the survey of public unsurveyed lands for the purpose of satisfying the public land grant to this state, in accordance with the provisions of chap. 301, 28 U. S. statutes at large, pp. 394, 395. Am'd '99, p. 94.

5623. (2369x2.) Must indorse date of receipt on all applications, bids, contracts, or other papers. It is hereby made the duty of the state board of land commissioners, upon the receipt in its office of any application, bid, contract, or other paper, immediately on the receipt thereof to indorse thereon the day and time of the receipt thereof. '07, p. 266.

5625. (2369x4.) Penalty for hindering application. Any member or employe of the state board of land commissioners who, either directly or indirectly, in his own interest, or in the interest of another, interferes with or hinders the application of a bona fide applicant to acquire state lands or any interest therein, shall, upon conviction thereof, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor. '07, p. 267.

CHAPTER 2.

DESERT LAND GRANTED BY THE UNITED STATES.

5632. (2372.) Acceptance. The state of Utah hereby accepts the conditions of § 4 of the act of congress entitled, "An act making appropriations for sundry civil expenses of the government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1895, and for other purposes," approved August 18, 1894, and acts amendatory thereof, and of the act of congress (public 114) approved April 4, 1910, in so far as the same relates to the extension of the provisions of said acts of congress over lands within the former Uintah Indian reservation, together with all grants of lands to the state under the provisions of the aforesaid acts. Am'd '09, p. 29; '11, p. 141.

By the act revising chap. 1 of this title, relating to state board of land commissioners, the entire title was repealed '99, pp. 85-95, apparently by inadvertence, as chap. 2 was thereafter re-enacted, 01, pp. 49-54.

5633. (2373.) Selection and disposal of lands by commissioners. The selection, management, and disposal of said land shall be vested in the state board of land commissioners. Said board is hereby authorized to make all contracts necessary to carry out the provisions of this chapter, and may make such rules not in conflict with this chapter or the said act of congress as it may deem best.

General powers of the board, § 5575.

5634. (2374.) Application to board for selection of arid lands. Any person, company, association, or corporation desiring to construct ditches, canals, reservoirs, or other irrigation works to reclaim lands under the provisions of this chapter, shall file with the board an application for the selection of the lands to be reclaimed, designating such lands by legal subdivisions. This application shall be accompanied by a proposal to utilize or extend an irrigation system already constructed, or one in process of construction, or the rights to construct which have been acquired, or to construct ditches, canals, reservoirs, or other irrigation works, for the complete reclamation of the lands so designated. The proposal shall be prepared in accordance with the rules of the board and the rules, practice, and regulations of the department of the interior, which shall state the source of water supply, whether the right to the same has been acquired or is sought to be acquired; the location and dimensions of the works already constructed or in process of construction, or the location and dimensions of the proposed works, with estimated cost of such proposed works, the maximum price and terms per acre at which perpetual water rights will be sold to settlers on the land to be reclaimed, and the maximum price per acre per annum for maintenance tax. In the case of corporations, it shall state the name of the corporation, the purpose of its incorporation, the names and places of residence of its directors and officers, the amount of its authorized and of its paid-up capital. If the applicant is not a corporation, the proposal shall set forth the name or names of the parties, and such other facts as shall enable the board to determine as to their financial ability to carry out the proposed enterprise.

5638. (2378.) Disapproval of application. When applications and proposals are not approved by the board, it shall cause the parties making the same to be notified of its action and its reasons therefor. The parties so notified shall have sixty days after such notification in which to submit a satisfactory proposal. Should such application upon final hearing be not approved by the board, it shall file in the local land office a request to dismiss the application required to be made under the provisions of § 5637.

with the applicant, which contract shall contain complete specifications of the location, dimensions, character of material, class of work, and estimated cost of the proposed works, and the maximum price and terms per acre at which perpetual water rights shall be sold to settlers, and the maximum cost per annum for the maintenance tax, and the price and terms upon which the state is to dispose of the land to settlers. In the discretion of the board, the contract may provide that the sale to a settler of a tract of land with a permanent water right shall include a pro rata interest in the reservoir and irrigation works, equal to the proportion that the tract of land purchased by him bears to the entire tract to be reclaimed by the said irrigation system; and that upon full payment of the purchase price of the said land and water right, capital stock of the corporation representing such interest shall be transferred to such settler, if the said irrigation system shall be constructed by a corporation, or if by a person or company then such interest shall be conveyed to the settler by the person or company constructing the said irrigation system. The price and terms for water rights, maintenance tax, and land shall in all cases be reasonable; and said contracting party or parties shall have the power to fix, in the conract with the applicant for the land and permanent water right, the amount or quantity of the annual water supply; and said party or parties or corporations shall have the right to provide reasonable rules and regulations for the use and distribution of the annual supply of water, such rules and regulations to be approved by the board; and said contractor shall enter into satisfactory bond in a penal sum equal to five per cent of the estimated cost of the works for the faithful performance of the provisions of the contract with the state; but in no case shall said bond exceed the sum of $50,000.

5640. (2380.) Time for completion. Forfeitures. All contracts shall state that the works covered by the contract shall begin within six months of the day of contract and that the construction shall be prosecuted diligently and continuously to completion, and that the cessation of work under a contract for a period of six months shall forfeit to the state all rights under said contract and the penal sum named in the bond; provided, that no property or right which was vested in the applicant or contractor at the date of the contract shall be forfeited; and provided, also, that in cases of contractors who at the date of the application own or have vested rights in water, and in a reservoir, a reservoir site, canals, or other irrigation works, the forfeiture shall extend only to such portions of the system unconstructed at the time of default and to the penalty of the bond given by such contractor.

5641. Repeal. All laws or parts of laws in conflict with § 5640 are hereby repealed, and no proceedings heretofore taken by the state board of land commissioners, or by applicants under the provisions of this chapter, shall be held or deemed to be irregular or invalid because of the fixing by § 5640 of April 1, 1903, as the limit of time for the construction of works under contracts entered into with applicants, or because of the failure of the state of Utah to accept by express enactment the amendments made by congress to § 4 of the act of congress entitled, "An act making appropriations for sundry civil expenses of the government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1895, and for other purposes," approved August 18, 1894. '09, p. 29.

complete the said works, and supply water rights to the settlers on the lands to be reclaimed, for the price and upon the terms stated in the original contract. If no bid shall be received for the completion of said works and furnishing water rights to such settlers, for the price and upon the terms stated in the original contract, then the board shall bring the proper action for recovering the amount of the bond of the contractor.

5643. (2382.) Citizens may enter land. Conditions. Any citizen of the United States, or any person having declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States, over the age of twenty-one years, may make application to the board to enter any of said lands not exceeding 160 acres, under the regulations of the department of the interior and the rules of the board. Each application must be accompanied by a certified copy of a contract for the perpetual water right made by the applicant with the person or corporation authorized by the board to furnish water for the reclamation of said lands, together with 25 cents per acre for the land applied for, and contain the declaration that he will settle upon and improve said land, and if said application is allowed, the board shall cause to be issued a certificate of the location to the applicant. If the application is not allowed, the 25 cents per acre accompanying it shall be returned to the applicant. If the construction company fails to furnish water to any settler under the provisions of its contract with the state, the state shall refund to such settler all payments that he shall have made to the state. The board shall dispose of all lands accepted by the state under the provisions of this chapter at a price not to exceed $1 per acre, except for lands within the former Uintah Indian reservation, 25 cents per acre to be paid at the time of entry and the remainder at the time of making the final proof by the settler, but no settler shall be entitled to make more than one entry. For lands within the former Uintah Indian reservation the board shall charge a price of not more than $2.25 per acre and not less than $1.50 per acre, 25 cents per acre to be paid at the time of entry and the remainder at the time of making final proof by the settler. Of the price charged for such lands situated within the former Uintah Indian reservation the board shall pay to the United States the sum of $1.25 per acre as provided in the said act of congress referred to in § 5632, and the board is hereby authorized to make all contracts necessary and to pay to the United States the sum necessary to carry out the provisions of this chapter.

Water rights pass with the land, § 3477.

5647. (2386.) Lien on land for cost of reclamation. Under the provisions and subject to the conditions of the act of congress entitled "An act making appropriations for sundry civil expenses of the government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1897, and for other purposes," approved June 11, 1896, and under a section of the sub-title of said act "surveying the public lands," a lien is hereby created in favor of the contractor on and against the separate legal subdivisions of land reclaimed for the actual cost and necessary expenses of reclamation and reasonable interest thereon from the date of reclamation until disposed of to actual settlers.

Liens generally, §§ 3722-3793.

5648. (2387.) Maps of canals and other irrigation works. The maps in the office of the board shall show the location of the canals or other irrigation works approved in the contract with the board, and all lands entered under the provisions of this chapter shall be subject after entry to the rights of way of such canals or irrigation works, said right of way to embrace the entire width of the canals and such additional width as may be required for its proper operation and maintenance, the width of right of way to be specified in the contract provided for in this chapter.

5649. (2388.) Contractors to make annual reports. The board shall require annual reports from each contractor, giving such details respecting the fulfillment of the contract as the board may require.

CHAPTER 3.

RESERVOIR LAND GRANT FUND.

('09, p. 269.)

5659. (2389.) Reservoir land grant fund created. There is hereby created a fund to be known as the reservoir land grant fund, said fund to consist of all moneys received from the sale of land selected under the grant for this state of 500,000 acres of land for the establishment of permanent water reservoirs for irrigating purposes.

By the act revising chap. 1 of this title, relating to state board of land commissioners, the entire title was repealed ('99, pp. 85-95), apparently by inadvertence, as chap. 3 was thereafter re-enacted, '01, pp. 56-58.

General power of land board, § 5575.

of a family upon the lands in question; also the place and time when the lands will be disposed of and also the manner and terms of such disposal. The said charges shall be determined with a view to returning to the reservoir land grant fund the cost of construction of the project, with interest at the rate of 5 per cent per annum, computed from the date of the completion of the project. With reference to lands in private ownership which may be irrigated by the waters of an irrigation project, the board shall make a written contract with each land owner before making any provision for the irrigation of such private lands by means of the irrigation system that is to be constructed. Said contract shall be drawn so as to properly secure the state for the expense of construction of the works necessary to irrigate such private lands and shall provide what the cost of the irrigation of said private land shall be, which in no case shall be less than the actual cost thereof. And the state board of land commissioners is hereby authorized to sell water or water rights pertaining to any state irrigation project to incorporated irrigation companies upon such securities as shall be approved by the said board, and at a price not less than the actual cost of storage and delivery of said water. The board shall have authority, when the interests of the state and the successful sale, development, and colonization of the land require such action, to abate payments of interest due from purchasers of land and water or either of them, or to extend the time of payments on principal and interest due or to become due, with or without interest, upon such terms and conditions as to the board shall seem just. Whenever the board has abated interest or granted extensions under the authority given in this section, the action of the board shall be entered in detail upon the records of the board showing in each case the reasons for the action of the board, and full statement of such action shall be included in the next annual report of the board. Am'd '13, p. 46.

5663. (2395.) State engineer to supervise construction work. During the construction of any reservoir, the said board shall cause the same to be supervised by the state engineer with such assistants as he may deem necessary.

5664. Requisitions for money. As the work progresses, the board shall make requisitions upon the state auditor for such sums of money as may be necessary in payment therefor, and the state auditor must thereupon draw his warrants upon the state treasurer for the amounts specified in such requisitions, the same to be paid out of any money in the reservoir land grant fund.

5665. Funds available. All the reservoir land grant fund is hereby appropriated for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this chapter.

5668. Unpaid warrants to be registered and draw interest. Retirement. If any warrant drawn on the reservoir land grant fund is not paid by the state treasurer upon presentation, he shall register the same and indorse thereon, "not paid for want of funds," giving the date thereof, and such warrants and all warrants heretofore issued and outstanding shall bear interest at the rate of 5 per cent per annum from date of registration until paid, interest payable on the 1st day of April of each year. Whenever the treasurer has the sum of $1000 on hand in said fund, he shall call in the warrants issued on said fund and registered, in the order of their presentation. '15, p. 43.

5670. (2400.) Rules and regulations. The state board of land commissioners is hereby authorized to perform any and all acts and to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary and proper for the purpose of carrying the provisions of this chapter into full force and effect.

SINKING OF WELLS TO PROVIDE SUBTERRANEAN WATERS.

('09, p. 44; '11, p. 89.)

5675. (2369x.) Experiments to be conducted. The state board of land commissioners is hereby authorized and directed to conduct experiments in sinking wells, flowing or artesian wells, and other methods of obtaining subterranean waters for culinary purposes on the arid lands within the state. Am'd '11, p. 89; '13, p. 47.

5678. Appropriation. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of §§ 5675-5677, the sum of $7500, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated from the state treasury. '13, p. 47.

CHAPTER 4.

LAND IN LIEU OF UNSURVEYED SCHOOL LAND.

5681. (2401.) Unsurveyed school land relinquished conditionally. The state of Utah hereby relinquishes and surrenders to the United States of America all its claim and title to the second, sixteenth, thirty-second and thirty-sixth sections in the state of Utah, heretofore granted by the United States, as remain unsurveyed by the United States, at the date of the passage of an act by congress, that may hereafter be enacted, granting to the state of Utah land equal in area to the land hereby relinquished, such grant to be in lieu of the land hereby relinquished. This relinquishment is made upon the express condition that the United States shall grant to the state of Utah land equal in area to the sections two, sixteen, thirty-two, and thirty-six, as remain unsurveyed at the time of such grant, the state to have the right to select the land so granted in the smallest legal subdivisions.

R. S. '98, §§ 2401, 2402; '01, p. 27.

Land grants, enabling act, secs. 6-12.
Acceptance of land grants, Con. art. 20, sec. 1.
By the act revising chap. 1 of this title, relating to state board of land commissioners, the entire title was repealed ('99, pp. 85-95), apparently by inadvertence, as chap. 4 was thereafter re-enacted, '01, p. 27.

TITLE 102.

STATE OFFICERS.

CHAPTER 1.

GOVERNOR.

5682. (2403.) Duties. In addition to those prescribed by the constitution, the governor has the power and must perform the following duties:

1. He is to supervise the official conduct of all executive and ministerial officers;

2. He is to see that all offices are filled and the duties thereof performed, or, in default thereof, apply such remedy as the law allows, and, if the remedy is imperfect, acquaint the legislature therewith at its next session;

3. He is to make the appointments and fill vacancies as required by law;

4. He is the sole official organ of communication between the government of this state and the government of any other state or of the United States.

5. Whenever any suit or legal proceeding is pending against this state, or which may affect the title of this state to any property, or which may result in any claim against the state, he may direct the attorney general to appear on behalf of the state, and may employ such additional counsel as he may judge expedient;

6. He may require the attorney general or the county attorney of any county to inquire into the affairs or management of any corporation existing under the laws of this state;

7. He may require the attorney general to aid any county attorney in the discharge of his duties;

8. He may offer rewards, not exceeding $1,000 each, payable out of the general fund, for the apprehension of any convict who has escaped from the state prison, or of any person who has committed, or is charged with the commission of a felony;

9. He must perform such duties respecting fugitives from justice as are prescribed by law;

10. He must issue and transmit election proclamations as prescribed by law;

11. He must issue land warrants and patents as prescribed by law;

12. He must in the year 1899 and biennially thereafter, prior to the meeting of the legislature, deliver to the secretary of state, for publication, all biennial reports of officers and boards for the two preceding years;

13. He may require any officer or board to make special reports to him, upon demand, in writing;

14. He must discharge the duties of member of all boards of which he is or may be made a member by the constitution or by the laws of the state;

15. He has such other powers and must perform such other duties as are devolved upon him by law.

May permit use of seal of state; when, § 5801.
The failure of the governor to appoint the members of a board within a month after the offices came into existence, as provided by law, did not invalidate the appointments, the provisions as to the time of making such appointments being merely directory.

People v. Hasbrouck, 11 U. 291; 39 P. 918.

5683. (2404.) Recess appointments. Within ten days after the meeting of the legislature, the governor must transmit to the senate a list of all appointments made by him under the provisions of the constitution or of law during the recess of the legislature.

5684. Officers may be removed for cause. All officers who are or shall be appointed by the governor alone, or by the governor by and with the consent of the senate, may, for official misconduct, habitual or wilful neglect of duty, or for other good and sufficient cause, at any time during the recess of the legislature, be removed and the vacancy supplied during such recess, by the governor. '11, p. 64.

5685. Appropriation. Appointment of auditors and counsel. Rights and duties of officials pending examination. There is hereby appropriated the sum of $25,000, or so much thereof as may be required, to be placed at the disposal of the governor, in the appropriate fund; and the governor is hereby authorized to appoint auditors and accountants and employ counsel with the right to examine all books, records, and accounts of any state officer, department, institution, board, commissioner, agency, or persons or corporations in control of any public fund or property, and pending such investigation to suspend any officer appointed by the governor, and to prosecute any inquiry deemed necessary as to the management or disposition of any public funds or property, and to commence and prosecute such action as may be deemed advisable to recover any moneys, funds, or property, if any, improperly converted or disposed of, and for such other relief as the case may require; and the governor is hereby authorized to expend the said $25,000, or so much thereof as may be needed, for the purposes aforesaid. And it shall be the duty of all officers, boards, commissioners, agencies, or other persons or corporations having or having had control of any public funds or property to submit all books, records, accounts, and papers of every description relating to any public funds or property to the persons properly accredited by the governor for the purpose of making the examination and inquiry hereinbefore provided. '17, p. 28.

5686. (2405.) Records to be kept. The governor must cause to be kept the following records:

1. An account of all his official expenses and disbursements, including the incidental expenses of his departemnt, and an account of all rewards offered by him for the apprehension of criminals and persons charged with crime;

2. A register of all appointments made by him, with date of commission and names of appointees and predecessors.

5687. (2406.) Commission all appointive officers. The governor must commission all officers of the militia, and all officers appointed by the governor or by the governor with the consent of the senate.
Mont. Pol. C., § 1002*.

5688. (2407.) Duties and powers of acting governor. Every provision of the laws of this state in relation to the powers and duties of the governor, and in relation to acts and duties to be performed by others toward him, extends to the person performing, for the time being, the duties of governor.

BIENNIAL BUDGET.

5691. Plan of expenditures. State officials to make itemized estimates. Governor to revise and submit budget. Duties and powers of legislature. Limitations. Within twenty days after the convening of the state legislature, the governor shall submit a budget for the two ensuing fiscal years. Said budget shall contain a complete plan of proposed expenditures and estimated revenues for the ensuing biennium. Accompanying said budget shall be a statement showing the revenues and expenditures for the two fiscal years next preceding; the current assets, liabilities, reserves, and surplus or deficit of the state; the debts and funds of the state; an estimate of the state's financial condition as of the beginning and end of the biennium covered by the budget; and any explanation the governor may desire to make as to the important features of the budget and any suggestion as to methods for the reduction or increase of the state's revenue. Said budget shall embrace an itemized estimate of the appropriations for the state legislature as certified to the governor by the president of the senate and the speaker of the house; for the executive department; for the judiciary department; to pay and discharge the principal and interest of the debt of the state of Utah; for the salaries payable by the state under the constitution and laws of the state; and for such other purposes as are set forth in the constitution and laws of the state; and for all other appropriations. The governor shall deliver to the presiding officer of each house the budget, and a bill for all the proposed appropriations of the budget clearly itemized and classified; and the presiding officer of each house shall promptly cause said bill to be introduced therein. The governor may, before final action thereon by the state legislature, amend or supplement the budget to correct an oversight, or in case of an emergency, with the consent of the state legislature, by delivering such amendment or supplement to the presiding officers of both houses; and such amendment or supplement shall thereby become a part of said budget bill as an addition to the items in said bill or as a modification of or substitute for any item in said bill such amendment or supplement may affect. The state legislature may not alter said bill except to strike or reduce items therein; provided, however, appropriations necessary for the payment of interest or principal due on the public debt shall not be reduced or eliminated; and provided, further, that the salary or compensation of any public officer shall not be decreased during his term of office. Neither house shall consider any other appropriation, except an emergency appropriation for the immediate expense of the state legislature, until the budget has been finally acted upon by both houses. Every appropriation in addition to that provided for in the budget shall be embodied in a separate act, and shall be limited to some single work, object, or purpose therein stated. No supplementary appropriation shall be valid if it exceeds the amount in the state treasury available for such appropriation, unless the legislature making such appropriation shall provide the necessary revenue to pay such appropriation by a tax, direct or indirect, to be laid and collected as shall be directed by the state legislature; provided, that such tax shall not exceed the rates permitted under the constitution of Utah. This provision shall not apply to appropriations to suppress insurrections, defend the state, or assist in defending the United States in time of war. The governor, for the purpose of making up said budget, shall have the power, and it shall be his duty, to require from the proper state officials, including all heads of executive and administrative departments and state institutions, bureaus, boards, commissions, and agencies expending or supervising the expenditures of state moneys, and all institutions applying for state moneys and appropriations, such itemized estimates and other information, in such form and at such times as he may direct. The estimate for the legislative department, as certified by the presiding officers of both houses, shall be included in the budget without revision by the governor. The governor may provide for hearings on all estimates and may require the attendance at such hearings of representatives of state departments and institutions and of other institutions or individuals applying for state appropriations. The governor may, in his discretion, revise all estimates, except those relating to the legislative department, those providing for the payment of the principal and interest of the state debt, and for the salaries and expenditures specified by the constitution and laws of the state. The total appropriations made and expenditures authorized by the budget must not exceed the estimated revenues from taxes, fees, and all other sources for the next ensuing biennium, which estimate shall be furnished the governor by the state auditor at least six months prior to the convening of the state legislature in regular session. If any item in the budget as enacted shall be held invalid upon any ground, such invalidity shall not affect the budget itself or any other item in it; providing, however, that no act appropriating money passed by the twelfth session of the legislature shall be affected by this repeal.

CHAPTER 2.

SECRETARY OF STATE.

5694. (2408.) Duties. The secretary of state is charged with the custody:

1. Of the enrolled copy of the constitution;
2. Of the acts and resolutions passed by the legislature;
3. Of the journals of the legislature, and all bills, resolutions, memorials, petitions, and claims introduced in the senate or the house of representatives;
4. Of the great seal;
5. Of all books, records, deeds, parchments, maps, and papers kept or deposited in his office pursuant to law.

5695. (2409.) Id. In addition to the duties prescribed by the constitution, it is the duty of the secretary of state:

1. To attend at every session of the legislature for the purpose of receiving bills and resolutions thereof, and to perform such other duties as may be devolved upon him by resolution of the two houses, or either of them;
2. To keep a register of and attest the official acts of the governor;
3. To affix the great seal, with his attestation, to commissions, pardons, and other public instruments to which the official signature of the governor is required;
4. To record in proper books all conveyances made to the state, and to file all articles of incorporation deposited in his office;
5. To receive and record in proper books the official bonds of all state officers required to give bond, and then to deliver the originals to the state treasurer, excepting the bond of the state treasurer, of which the secretary shall remain the custodian;
6. To take and file in his office receipts for all books distributed by him, and to direct the county clerk of each county to do the same;
7. To certify to the governor the names of those parties who have received at any election the highest number of votes for any office, the incumbent of which is commissioned by the governor;
8. To furnish on demand, to any person paying the fees therefor, a certified copy of all or any part of any law, record, or other instrument filed or deposited or recorded in his office;
9. To deliver to the printer entitled to the same, at the earliest day practicable after a final adjournment of each session of the legislature, copies of all laws, resolutions, and journals kept, passed, or adopted at such session, with proper indexes of the same;
10. To notify in writing the county attorney of the proper county of the failure of any officer in his county to file in his office a sworn statement of fees received by such officer, when such sworn statement is required by law;
11. To present to the legislature, at the commencement of each session thereof, a full account of all purchases made and expenses incurred in furnishing fuel, light, and stationery;
12. To keep a fee-book, as provided by law, which book must be verified annually by his affidavit entered therein;
13. To file in his office descriptions of seals in use by the different state officers, and to furnish such officers with new seals whenever required;

14. To discharge the duties of a member of all official boards of which he is or may be made a member by the constitution or the laws of the state, and all other duties required of him by law;

15. To report to the governor, on or before the 1st day of January preceding the biennial session of the legislature, a detailed account of all official actions since his previous reports, and accompany the report with a detailed statement, under oath, of the manner in which all appropriations for his office have been expended;

16. To receive, designate, and record all trade marks;

17. As soon as he receives the bound reports of the decisions of the supreme court, he shall deliver to the clerk of the supreme court, as state law librarian, a sufficient number, which the latter shall distribute as follows: To the library of congress and to the state law library, each two copies; to such of the states and territories of the United States as will exchange reports with this state, each one copy; to the governor, to the United States district judge for this state, to the justices of the supreme court, to the justices of the district courts, to the attorney general, to county attorneys, and to clerks of the district courts, each one copy; provided, that the clerk of the district court of Salt Lake county shall be entitled to three copies of each report of the decisions of the supreme court of the state, for the use of the district courts of Salt Lake county.

Election, qualifications, term, duties, compensation, Con. art. 7.
Fees of secretary of state, § 2511.
To record bonds of state officers, § 4267.
Duties relating to peddlers' licenses, §§ 4393-4403.
To record contracts for conditional sale of railroad equipment, § 1261.
May appoint deputy, § 5790.
Collect corporation license tax, § 1270-1276.
Duties relating to motor vehicle licenses, §§ 3960-3971.

5696. (2410.) Distribution of laws and journals. Immediately after the laws, resolutions, and journals mentioned in sub. 9 of the preceding section are bound, the secretary of state must distribute them as follows:

1. To each department of the government at Washington and of the government of this state, one copy;

2. To the library of congress and the state law library, two copies each;

3. To each of the states and territories, one copy;

4. To the United States district judge for this state, to each of the judges of the supreme and district courts, and to each of the state officers of this state, one copy;

5. To each member of the legislature and to the secretary of the senate and the chief clerk of the house of representatives at the session at which such laws were adopted, one copy;

6. To the incorporated colleges of the state and to the University of Utah, each one copy;

7. To the county clerk of each county, five copies of such laws for the use of the county;

8. To each county attorney and to each clerk of the district court, one copy of such laws;

9. To each free public library in the state, one copy, to be furnished on the application of the librarian.

5697. (2411.) Must indeliby mark state books. The secretary of state must indelibly mark each book distributed to officers in this state, except legislative members and officers, with the name of the county to which and the official designation of the officer to whom it is sent. Such marked books remain the property of the state, and must be, by the officers receiving them, delivered to their successors.

5698. (2412.) Has charge of capitol. The secretary of state is the superintendent and has charge of the state capitol, or rooms or buildings hired for that purpose, and he must keep the same and property therein in good order and repair, under the direction of the board of examiners.

5699. (2413.) To keep and issue supplies. It is the duty of the secretary of state to receive and keep all supplies and articles purchased by the board of examiners as a board of supplies, and to issue to any state officer or board, on the requisition of the board of examiners, any stationery, book, or other supplies, and take a receipt therefor, and file said requisition and receipt in his office. He must keep a book called "book of supplies," and enter therein a complete list of all stationery, books, articles, or other supplies furnished him under contract made by such board, making a separate list of each class of articles and all purchases made by the board, the amount and cost of each article furnished each state officer or board and each member of the legislature. He must embody in his report to the legislature a statement taken from such book, showing the amount of supplies purchased and disposed of.

5700. (2414.) Public documents, how printed. The public documents of the state of Utah shall be published under the direction of the secretary of state, with the view to such uniformity of size, quality of paper, type, and other particulars as will permit them to be formed in continuous numbers in consecutive volumes.

5701. (2415.) Id. The secretary of state shall divide public documents to be published into several series, according to their several subjects, as nearly as may be, and no moneys shall be paid out of the treasury, except on compliance herewith, for any printing or publishing aforesaid.

5702. (2416.) Id. The provisions of the two sections next preceding shall not apply to the decisions of the supreme court, nor to bills printed for the legislature or other printing for its use during its session, not appropriate to be put in pamphlet form.

5703. (2416x.) Blank forms. Index of county officers. The secretary of state shall, and it is hereby made his duty so to do, prepare the necessary blank forms for the purposes mentioned in §§ 1539, 1540, and forward a supply thereof to each county clerk. The secretary of state shall receive and file in his office all certificates received by him pursuant to said sections, and shall keep as one of the records of his office, a suitably bound and indexed book, in which he shall enter in appropriate columns from the information contained in such certified statement received from the several county clerks, the name of the county, the elective officers of each county, excepting justices of the peace and constables, the name of the person holding each office, the date of the officer's election or appointment, the date of the expiration of the term of such officer, and such other information as said certified statements disclose. '07, p. 205.

5704. (2416x1.) Transcript of state lands filed with county recorder. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state, on or before October 1st, to prepare and transmit to the county recorder of each county a certified transcript of all lands within said county selected for the state of Utah under the provisions of an act of congress, approved July 16, 1894, as shown by the lists approved prior to January 1, 1907, by the commissioner of the United States general land office, and which said lists are now on file in the office of the secretary of state. '07, p. 265.

5705. (2416x2.) Id. On January 1, 1908, and on the 1st days of July and January thereafter, it shall be the duty of the secretary of state to transmit to the county recorder of each county a certified transcript of all lands within said county selected for the state of Utah under the provisions of an act of congress, approved July 16, 1894, as shown by the lists approved during the preceding six months by the commissioner of the United States general land office, and then on file in the said office of the secretary of state.

5706. (2416x3.) List of notaries to be filed with clerks of district courts. The secretary of state shall, on or before the 1st day of May, 1903, furnish to the clerk of the district court of each county of the state of Utah a certified list of all notaries public holding unexpired commissions in the county of said clerk of the district court, and giving the date of the expiration of each of said commissions. '03, p. 120.

5707. (2416x4.) Id. It shall be the duty of the said secretary of state, whenever he shall hereafter issue a notarial commission to any person in any county of this state, to certify such fact to the clerk of the district court of the county for which said commission is issued, giving also the dates of issuance and expiration of the same. '03, p. 120.

Clerk to keep record, § 1537.

5709. (2418.) Great seal. The secretary of state is alone authorized to use or affix the great seal of this state to any document whatever, and he only in pursuance of law; and the said secretary is hereby made responsible for its safe keeping.

Use for trading or advertising purposes prohibited, § 5800. Governor may permit use, when, § 5801.

5710. (2419.) Id. Description. The great seal of the state of Utah shall be two and one-half inches in diameter, and of the following device: The center a shield and perched thereon an American eagle with outstrecthing wings; the top of the shield pierced by six arrows crosswise; under the arrows the motto "Industry"; beneath the motto a bee-hive, on either side growing sego lilies; below the bee-hive the figures "1847"; and on each side of the shield an American flag; encircling all, near the outer edge of the seal, beginning at the lower left-hand portion, the words "The Great Seal of the State of Utah," with the figures "1896" at the base.

5712. (2420x.) Bond. The secretary of state shall execute a bond in the sum of $25,000. '05, p. 13.

CHAPTER 3.

AUDITOR.

5715. (2421.) Duties. It is the duty of the state auditor:

1. To superintend the fiscal concerns of the state;

2. To report to the governor on the 1st of January next preceding each regular session of the legislature, a statement of the funds of the state, its revenues, of the public expenditures during the two preceding fiscal years, together with a detailed estimate of the expenditures to be defrayed from the treasury for the two ensuing fiscal years, specifying therein each object of expenditure and distinguishing between such as are provided for by permanent or temporary appropriation, and such as must be provided for by a new statute, and suggesting the means from which such expenditures are to be defrayed; and to make a semi-annual report to the governor of the condition of the state treasury;

3. To accompany his biennial reports with tabular statements, showing the amount of each appropriation for the two preceding fiscal years, the amount expended, and the balance, if any; also showing the amount of revenue chargeable to each county for such years, the amount paid, and the amount unpaid or due therefrom;

4. When requested, to give information in writing to either house of the legislature relating to the fiscal affairs of the state, or to the duties of his office;

5. To suggest plans for the improvement and management of the public revenues;

6. To keep and state all accounts in which the state is interested;

7. To keep an account of all warrants drawn upon the treasurer, and a separate account under the head of each specific appropriation, showing at all times the unexpended balance of such appropriation;

8. To keep an account between the state and the state treasurer, and therein charge the state treasurer with the balance in the treasury when he came into office, and with all moneys received by him, and credit him with all warrants drawn on and paid by him;

9. To keep a register of warrants showing the fund upon which they are drawn, the number, in whose favor, and the appropriation applicable to the payment thereof;

10. To audit all claims against the state in cases where there are sufficient provisions of law for the payment thereof;

11. To require, in his discretion, any person presenting an account for settlement, to be sworn before him, and to answer orally or in writing, as to any facts relating to it;

12. To require all persons who have received any moneys belonging to the state and have not accounted therefor, to settle their accounts;

13. To inspect at least once a year the books of any persons charged with the receipt, safekeeping, or disbursement of public moneys;

14. To require, in his discretion, all persons who have received moneys or securities, or have had the disposition or management of any property of the state of which an account is kept in his office, to render statements thereof to him; and all such persons must render such statements at such times and in such form as he may require;

15. To direct and superintend the collection of all moneys due the state, and institute suits in its name for all official delinquencies in relation to the assessment, collection, and payment of the revenue, and against persons who by any means have become possessed of public money or property and have failed to pay over or deliver the same, and against all debtors of the state; of which suits the courts of the county in which the seat of government may be located have jurisdiction, without regard to the residence of the defendants;

16. To draw warrants on the state treasurer for the payment of moneys directed by law to be paid out of the treasury; but no warrant must be drawn unless authorized by law. Every warrant must be drawn upon the fund out of which it is payable and specify the appropriation applicable to the payment thereof;

17. In cases where it is inconvenient for parties in whose favor state warrants are drawn to call at the office of state auditor and receipt for same, the auditor is hereby authorized, when the postoffice address of such payee can be conveniently ascertained, to forward by mail, any warrant issued to such party, and in all such cases the indorsement of the payee on the back of warrant shall constitute the auditor's receipt, and no further receipt shall be necessary.

18. To procure and have printed all state licenses, and to sign the same, and furnish the state treasurer with licenses and charge him with the same;

19. To authenticate with his official seal all drafts and warrants drawn by him and all copies of papers issued from his office;

20. To collect and pay into the state treasury all fees received by him;

Am'd '99, p. 108; '05, p. 10; '13, p. 150.

Salary $3,000 per annum, § 5070.

May appoint deputies, § 5790.

Election, qualifications, term, duties, Con. art. 7.

Not to draw warrants unless claim approved by board of examiners, exceptions, § 2482.

Fees of state auditor, § 2512.

Verified report of fees and money collected by state industrial school, state school for deaf and blind, state mental hospital, § 5213; agricultural college, § 5252; university, § 5539, filed with.

Barber's board, bond to be filed, § 365.

It is the duty of the state auditor to examine the accounts of state and county officers, and to satisfy himself that lawful fees are collected, reported, and paid. If fees are not paid as provided in this chapter, it is the duty of the auditor to institute proper proceedings for collection.

State, ex rel. Richards v. Stanton, 14 U. 180; 46 P. 1109.

Sub. 15 authorizes the state auditor to institute mandamus against county assessor and county commissioner to correct erroneous assessment. Ririe, State Auditor, v. Randolph, 50 U. —; 169 P. 941.

5716. (2421x.) Warrant, only when authorized. It shall be unlawful for the state auditor to audit or draw a state warrant in payment of any claim against the state for any money, unless an appropriation has been previously made for such purposes or unless authorized by law. '07, p. 185.

School moneys to be paid over on warrant of state auditor, § 5464.

5718. (2424.) Warrants, order in which issued. All warrants for claims which have been audited by the board of examiners and filed in his office must be drawn in the order of the numbers placed upon them by that board.

The failure of the county clerk to pay fees collected by him as provided by law after an account has been stated with him and demand made entitled the state to charge said clerk twenty-five per cent damages and interest at the rate of ten per cent; nor is payment to the county treasurer a sufficient release. State, ex rel. Richards v. Stanton, 14 U. 180; 46 P. 1109.

5720. (2426.) Access to all state books. The state auditor shall have access to all state offices during business hours for the inspection of such books, papers, and accounts thereof as may concern his duties.

5721. (2427.) Bond. The state auditor must execute an official bond in the sum of $50,000.

Public school fund, Con. art. 10, sec. 3. Annual levy of state school tax, § 5998.

CHAPTER 4.

TREASURER.

5724. (2428.) Duties. It is the duty of the state treasurer:

1. To receive and keep all moneys belonging to the state and not required to be received and kept by some other person;

2. To file and keep the certificates of the state auditor delivered to him when moneys are paid into the treasury;

3. To deliver to each person paying money into the treasury and to the state auditor a duplicate receipt showing the amount, the sources from which the money accrued, and the fund into which it is paid, which receipts must be numbered in order, beginning with number one at the commencement of each fiscal year; provided, where moneys are received from a county treasurer the state treasurer shall issue a receipt therefor in triplicate, one for the county treasurer, one for the county auditor, and the other for the state auditor;

4. To pay warrants drawn by the state auditor out of the funds upon and in the order in which they are presented;

5. Upon payment of any warrant, to take, upon the back thereof, the receipt of the person to whom it is paid, to cancel it with a proper stamp, and to file said warrant with the state auditor on the last day of each month, and take his receipt therefor;

6. To keep an account of all moneys received and disbursed;

7. To keep separate accounts of the different funds;

8. To report to the state auditor on the last day of each month the amount disbursed for the redemption of bonds and in payments of warrants during the month, which reports must show the date and number of such bonds and warrants, the funds out of which they are paid, and the balance of cash on hand in the treasury to the credit of each fund;

9. On the 1st day of January preceding the biennial session of the legislature, to report to the governor the exact balance in the treasury to the credit of the state, with a summary of the receipts and payments of the treasury during the two preceding fiscal years; and to make a semi-annual report to the governor of all moneys received from all sources, and of all moneys disbursed;

10. At the request of either house of the legislature, or of any committee thereof, to give information in writing as to the condition of the treasury, or upon any subject relating to the duties of his office;

11. To authenticate with his official seal all writing and papers issued from his office;

Am'd' 99, p. 100; '07, p. 64.

Election, qualifications, term, duties, compensation, Con. art. 7.
Salary $2,500 per annum, § 5070.
May appoint a deputy; powers, § 5790.
Custodian of bonds of state officers, § 4267.
State industrial school, state school for deaf and blind, state mental hospital, § 5213; agricultural college, § 5252; university, § 5539; state prison, § 5456, filed with.
Barbers' board to pay fees and moneys to state treasurer, § 365.
Corporation license tax turned over to, § 1276.

5726. (2429.) "General fund" defined. The general fund consists of moneys received into the treasury and not specially appropriated to any other fund.

5728. (2431.) To post list of warrants redeemable. The state treasurer must quarterly post upon the door of his office a list of all warrants that he may have funds in the treasury to redeem or pay, the payment of which has not been demanded during the last quarter.

5729. (2432.) Inspection of treasurer's books. The treasurer must keep his books open at all times for the inspection of the governor, state auditor, state board of examiners, bank examiner, members of the legislature, and any committee appointed to examine them by either house thereof.

5730. (2433.) Has access to state books. The state treasurer shall have full access to all offices of the state for inspection of such books, papers, and accounts thereof as concern his duties.

Am'd '03, p. 57.

5732. (2435.) Bond. The state treasurer must execute an official bond in the sum of $350,000.

Board of examiners to publish amount of money in state treasury biennially, § 2485.

CHAPTER 5.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

5736. (2438.) Duties. It is the duty of the attorney-general:

1. To attend the supreme court and all courts of the United States, and prosecute or defend all causes to which the state or any officer thereof in his official capacity is a party;

2. After judgment on any of the causes referred to in the preceding subdivision, to direct the issuing of such process as may be necessary to carry the same into execution;

3. To account for and to pay over to the proper officer all moneys which may come into his possession belonging to the state;

4. To keep a register of all cases in which he is required to appear, which must show the court in which the cases have been instituted and tried, and whether they are civil or criminal; if civil, the nature of the demand, the stage of proceedings, and, when prosecuted to judgment, a memorandum of the judgment, of any process issued thereon, and whether satisfied or not, and if not satisfied, the return of the sheriff; and if criminal, the nature of the crime, the mode of prosecution, the stage of proceedings, and, when prosecuted to sentence, a memorandum of the sentence and of the execution thereof if the same has been executed, and if not executed, of the reason of the delay or prevention; and must deliver the same to his successor in office;

5. To exercise supervisory powers over the county attorneys of the state in all matters pertaining to the duties of their offices, and from time to time require of them reports as to the condition of public business intrusted to their charge;

6. To give his opinion in writing and without fee to the legislature or either house thereof and to any state officer, board, or commission, when required, upon any question of law relating to their respective offices;

7. When required by the public service or directed by the governor, to assist the county attorney of any county in the discharge of his duties;

8. To purchase in the name of the state, under the direction of the state board of examiners, any property offered for sale under execution issued upon judgments in favor of or for the use of the state, and to enter satisfaction, in whole or in part, of such judgments as the consideration of such purchases;

9. Whenever the property of a judgment debtor in any judgment mentioned in the preceding subdivision has been sold under a prior judgment, or is subject to any judgment, lien, or incumbrance taking precedence of the judgment in favor of the state, under the direction of the state board of examiners to redeem such property from such prior judgment, lien, or incumbrance, and all sums of money necessary for such redemption must, upon the order of the state board of examiners, be paid out of any money appropriated for such purposes;

10. When in his opinion it is necessary for the collection or enforcement of any judgment hereinbefore mentioned, to institute and prosecute in behalf of the state such actions or proceedings as are necessary to set aside and annul all conveyances fraudulently made by such judgment debtors, and the cost necessary to the prosecution must, when allowed by the state board of examiners, be paid out of any money not otherwise appropriated;

11. To discharge the duties of a member of all official boards of which he is or hereafter may be made a member by the constitution or by the laws of the state, and such other duties as may be prescribed by law;

13. To institute and prosecute proper proceedings in any court of the state or of the United States to restrain and enjoin corporations organized under the laws of this or any other state or territory from acting illegally or in excess of their corporate powers and contrary to public policy, and, in proper cases, to forfeit their corporate franchises, dissolve such corporations, and wind up their affairs.

Election, qualifications, term, duties, Con. art. 7.
Salary $4,000 per annum, § 5070.
May appoint a deputy; powers, etc., § 5790.
Direct district attorney, § 5764.

5737. (2439.) Bond. The attorney-general must execute to the state an official bond in the sum of $5000.

5738. (2440.) Actions to recover escheat property. It is the duty of the attorney-general to institute investigations for the recovery of all real or personal property which may have escheated or should escheat to the state, and for that purpose he has the power to cite any and all persons before any of the district courts of this state to answer inquiries and render accounts concerning the said property, real or personal, and to examine all books and papers of any and all corporations. When any real or personal property is discovered which should escheat to the state, the attorney-general must institute suit in the district court of the county where said property shall be situated for the recovery, to escheat the same to the state.

CHAPTER 6.

CHAPTER 8.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY.

5757. (2445x3.) Office of district attorney created. There is hereby created within the state of Utah the office of district attorney, whose election, qualifications, duties, and term of office shall be as is hereinafter provided. '99, p. 77.

Salaries of district attorneys, § 5074.

5758. (2445x4.) Election, term of office. At the general election to be held in 1900, and quadrennially thereafter, there shall be elected in each of the several judicial districts of this state an officer to be known as district attorney, whose term of office shall be for four years, beginning on the first Monday of January succeeding his election. The said officer shall be elected by the qualified electors of the respective judicial districts of this state and under the laws and regulations governing the election of the district judges. '99, p. 77.

5760. (2445x6.) Oath and bond. Upon entering upon the duties of his office, each district attorney shall take the constitutional oath and shall give a bond in the penal sum of $5,000 for the faithful performance of the duties of his office, to be approved by the judge of the district. '99, p. 78.

5761. (2445x7.) Duties of. It shall be the duty of the district attorney to appear and prosecute for the state in the district court of his district, and in all criminal prosecutions, and in all civil cases in which the state may be interested, and render such assistance as may be required by the attorney general in all such cases that may be appealed to the supreme court; he shall attend the deliberations of the grand jury; he shall draw all indictments and informations for offenses against the laws of this state within his district, and shall cause all persons indicted or informed against to be speedily arraigned; he shall cause all witnesses for the state to be subpœnaed to appear before the court or grand jury; he shall examine carefully into the sufficiency of all appearance bonds that may be tendered to the district court of his district, and, upon the order of the court, shall institute proceedings in the name of the state for recovery upon the forfeiture of any appearance or other bonds running to the state, and enforce the collection thereof. '99, p. 78.

As far as this chapter attempted to change existing laws relating to the duties of county attorneys without amending or repealing as provided by the constitution, it was held inoperative.
State v. Beddo, 22 U. 432; 63 P. 96.
State v. Morrey, 23 U. 273; 64 P. 764.
The doctrine of the two foregoing cases was materially modified in Mill v. Brown, 31 U. 473; 88 P. 609.
Marioneaux v. Cutler, 32 U. 475; 91 P. 355.
While the district attorney is authorized to incur necessary expenses in the prosecution of criminal cases and to make them county charges, he may not bind the county beyond what is reasonably necessary, or for service rendered beyond the reasonable value thereof.
Kytka v. Weber Co., 48 U. 421; 160 P. 111.

5762. (2445x8.) May prosecute before justice of the peace, when. Other powers and duties. The district attorney shall, when not conflicting with other official duties, attend to all legal business required of him in his district by the attorney-general, without charge, when the interests of the state are involved. Any district attorney may, whenever he deems it necessary, appear and prosecute before any justice of the peace within his district in the preliminary examination of any person charged with a felony. All the duties and powers as public prosecutor now devolving upon county attorneys shall be assumed and discharged by the district attorney, except in cases of prosecutions for misdemeanors and preliminary examinations before justices of the peace; provided, that the district attorney may, whenever he deems it necessary, appear and prosecute for misdemeanors and in preliminary examinations before justices of the peace. Am'd '99, p. 78; '15, p. 41.

and penalties imposed, and the amount collected. He shall call attention to any defect in the particular operation of the law, and suggest such amendments as in his judgment are necessary to perfect the same. '99, p. 78.

5768. (2445x14.) County attorney to report to district attorney. It shall be the duty of the county attorney of any county within his district, immediately upon the termination of any examination before any justice of the peace of any person charged with felony, where such person has been ordered held to answer in the district court, to forward to the district attorney a transcript of the docket in such case, including a copy of the original complaint and of the commitment, a list of the necessary witnesses of the state, with their postoffice addresses, and such a statement of the facts as will enable the district attorney to determine for what specific offense an information should be filed before the district court. '99, p. 79.

5771. (2445x17.) Office forfeited. In case any district attorney shall fail or refuse to perform the duties of his office for a period of thirty consecutive days without reasonable excuse, or in case he shall be absent from the state or the district for ninety days, he shall be deemed to have forfeited his office, except that such absence may be extended as provided by the constitution of this state in the case of judicial officers. And in case any vacancy occur in the office of district attorney by death, resignation, absence, failure, or refusal to perform his duties or otherwise, the said office shall be filled in the manner prescribed for the filling of vacancies in state and judicial offices, and the appointee shall hold his office for the same time as provided in the case of appointees to state and judicial offices. '99, p. 79.

5772. (2445x18.) State officers. How paid. District attorneys shall be deemed to be state officers, and their salaries and such expenses as are provided herein shall be paid by the state in the manner prescribed for the payment of judges of the district court, and they shall receive the same mileage as is provided for such judges, and their salaries shall be as hereinafter provided, which they shall take in lieu of all other compensation; and from and after the approval of this chapter the state shall not be liable for any portion of the salaries of county attorneys in the fourth, fifth, sixth, and seventh judicial districts, nor for any portion of the salaries of county attorneys in the first, second, and third judicial districts after the 1st day of January, A. D. 1901.

Salaries of district attorney, § 5074. Mileage of district attorneys, § 5075.

ASSISTANT TO DISTRICT ATTORNEY.

5773. May appoint deputy. Each district attorney in judicial districts having a population of 90,000 or more inhabitants, such population to be determined by the last preceding United States census, shall have power to appoint a deputy at a salary of $1800 per annum, which shall be paid quarterly out of the state treasury.

5774. Qualifications. Bond. Said deputy shall be an attorney at law in good standing, admitted to practice by the supreme court of the state of Utah, and shall, during the absence or disability of the district attorney, perform all the duties pertaining to the office. The district attorney shall be answerable for neglect or misconduct in office of such deputy and may require from him a bond for his own security. The appointment of such deputy shall be in writing, filed with the secretary of state, and may be revoked at the pleasure of the district attorney.

CHAPTER 9.

STATE GEOLOGIST.

('17, p. 244.)

5778. Office created. Term. Salary. The governor is hereby authorized to appoint, by and with the consent of the senate, a state geologist, who shall be an experienced and reputable geologist and mining engineer. He shall hold his office subject to the pleasure of the governor, and may be removed by the latter at any time. He shall receive a salary to be determined by the governor, not to exceed $5000 per annum, and for any term of service less than a year shall receive such portion of the designated yearly salary as his time of actual service bears to such period.

5779. Examine, classify, and appraise lands. For the purpose of aiding state and county officers, departments, boards, or bureaus of the state or counties, the state geologist shall, when directed by the governor, visit, examine, classify, and appraise the following lands:

1. Any lands owned by the state or in which the state has an interest;
2. Any lands containing coal or hydrocarbons, and any lands chiefly valuable for their porphyritic copper deposits.

5780. Right of inspection. The state geologist shall have the right, at all reasonable times, to enter and examine any and all mine workings, and to go upon any property which he may be called upon to appraise under the provisions of this chapter.

5781. Records. Information. He shall keep an accurate record of his investigations and findings, and shall furnish such information to the governor and to such other public officers as the governor may direct. He shall have access to all books and records of individuals, associations, or corporations having any interest in lands which he is charged with the duty of appraising, when such books or records may assist him in ascertaining the value of such lands.

5782. Duties. When requested so to do by the governor, the state geologist shall attend in person sessions of county or state boards of equalization for the purpose of advising the members of such boards in relation to the value of property subject to ascertainment by such boards for taxation purposes; he shall freely accord to county assessors access to the records of his office for the purpose of assisting such assessors in determining the value of property which they are required to assess.

5783. Assistants. The state geologist is hereby authorized to appoint such necessary assistants and field help as will enable him to properly discharge the duties of his office, and is authorized to appoint such necessary deputies as may be approved by the governor.

5784. Wilful interference a misdemeanor. Any wilful interference on the part of any person or corporation, obstructing the state geologist in the performance of his duties, shall be deemed a misdemeanor.

5785. Appropriation. The sum of $15,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated to be paid out of the general fund for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this chapter, and the state auditor is hereby authorized to draw warrants covering approved claims hereunder.

CHAPTER 10.

DEPUTY STATE OFFICERS.

5790. (2460.) Appointment. Duties. Responsibility of principal. The secretary of state, state auditor, state treasurer, attorney general, and superintendent of public instruction may each appoint a deputy, who may, during the absence or disability of the principal, perform all the duties pertaining to the office, except those required of the principal as a member of any board. The principal shall be answerable for neglect or misconduct, in office, of his deputy, and may require from him a bond for his own security. The appointment of a deputy shall be in writing, and shall be revocable at the pleasure of the principal; and all such appointments and revocations shall be filed with the secretary of state.

Reference to an officer may include deputy, etc., § 5848.

CHAPTER 11.

STATE FISCAL YEAR.

5794. (2460x.) Fiscal year. The fiscal year of the state of Utah shall commence on the 1st day of December of each year. '05, p. 28.

Similar section, § 5992.

Fiscal year to begin Jan. 1st, unless changed by legislature, Con. art. 13, sec. 1.

5795. (2460x1.) Accounts closed end of fiscal year. All officers who are required by law to report annually or biennially to the legislature or governor shall close their accounts on said date, and as soon thereafter as practicable shall prepare and compile their respective reports. '05, p. 28.

5796. (2460x2.) Biennial reports transmitted to secretary of state. All reports intended for the use of the legislature shall be transmitted by the respective officers to the secretary of state on or before the 15th day of December before the assembling of the legislature; and the secretary of state shall cause the same to be printed, in accordance with the laws regulating the public printing, before the assembling of the legislature. '05, p. 28.

5797. (2460x3.) Printed reports transmitted to legislature. Upon the organization of the legislature, the secretary of state shall transmit to the senate and house of representatives copies of each printed report for the use of the members of the legislature. '05, p. 28.

CHAPTER 12.

RESTRICTING USE OF FAC-SIMILE, PHOTOGRAPH, IMPRESSION, OR IMITATION OF THE GREAT SEAL OF THE STATE.

('11 p. 25.)

5800. Prohibiting use for trade or advertising purposes. The use of a fac-simile, photograph, impression, or imitation of the great seal of the state of Utah for trade or advertising purposes is expressly prohibited.

5801. Special uses. The governor may, in his discretion, permit the use of a fac-simile, photograph, impression, or imitation of the great seal of the state of Utah for purposes other than trade or advertising.

5802. Penalty. Any person violating any of the provisions of this chapter shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

TITLE 103.

STATUTE OF FRAUDS.

5811. (2461.) Transfers, etc., affecting lands to be in writing. Exception. No estate or interest in lands, other than leases for a term not exceeding one year, nor any trust or power over or concerning lands, or in any manner relating thereto, shall be created, granted, assigned, surrendered, or declared, unless by act or operation of law, or by deed or conveyance in writing, subscribed by the party creating, granting, assigning, surrendering, or declaring the same, or by his lawful agent thereunto authorized by writing.

Verbal agreement as to boundary line invalid under the statute of frauds; though acquiescence for twenty years will establish same.

Strickley v. Hill, 22 U. 257; 62 P. 893.

A contract by which an old woman in apparent good health agrees to leave all her property, worth about $5,000, to a sixteen-year-old girl, in consideration of the latter's promise to live with and take care of her as long as she lives, is taken out of the statute of frauds by the rendition of the services during the lifetime of the woman, and is not void for want of mutuality and fairness; and after her death the contract will be specifically enforced in favor of the girl who performed her part of the agreement, though the woman died within three or four months after the execution of the contract.

Brinton v. Van Cott, 8 U. 480; 33 P. 218.

If the grantee, in consideration of a conveyance, promises to pay a mortgage on the land given by his grantor, he thereby makes the debt his own, and such promise is not within the statute of frauds.

An implied dedication of land as a highway is not within the statute of frauds, and may be established by parol or in any conceivable way by which the intent of the owner can be made apparent.

Schettler v. Lynch, 23 U. 305; 64 P. 955.

Letters agreeing to exchange real estate constitute a sufficient compliance with the statute of frauds, (Distinguished in Glasmann v. Condon, 27 U. 463; 76 P. 343.)

Leonard v. Woodruff, 23 U. 494; 65 P. 197.

Where a grantor delivers a deed to a third person, absolutely as his deed, without reservation and without intending to reserve any control over the instrument, though it is not to be delivered to the grantee until the grantor's death, the deed, when delivered, is valid and takes effect from the first delivery. (But see Peck v. Rees, 7 U. 467; 27 P. 581.)

Wilson v. Wilson, 32 U. 169; 89 P. 643.

An agreement that a mortgage, signed by several tenants in common was for the benefit of one and that the others should be held harmless and their interest in the property protected by satisfying the mortgage out of the undivided interest in the beneficiary, must be in writing.

Jackson v. Dallin, 47 U. 512; 154 P. 341.

A verbal agreement to convey land may, if part performed, be enforced, but acts done prior to verbal contract to convey land are never a part performance upon which to base specific performance of the agreement.

Price v. Lloyd, 31 U. 86; 86 P. 767.

The making of valuable improvements by the donee in possession is essential to the enforcement of a parol gift of land, but improvements made which do not tend to the permanent improvement of the land but are conducive to the comfort of the tenant will not suffice.

Chambers v. Emery, 13 U. 374; 45 P. 192.

Where a corporation is formed on certain mining claims by the owners, and thereafter for years possesses and develops them, it will be deemed to have title by operation of law, in a case where no formal transfer was made.
Murray Hill M. Co. v. Havenor, 24 U. 73; 66 P. 762.

A trust in personal property may be declared, admitted, or created by parol declarations, and may be proved by parol evidence, and as to such trusts the statute of frauds does not apply; but a trust relating to real property must be declared and proved by some writing executed by the parties creating the trust.
Skeen v. Marriott, 22 U. 73; 61 P. 296.

Property purchased by E., with money furnished by C., pursuant to a parol agreement between the two that such purchase should be a joint enterprise, but that the purchase should be in the name and through the agency of E.; held, to be a resulting trust and not affected by the statute of frauds; held further, that in such case he who furnished the money became the cestui que trust, and the holder of the legal title, the trustee, and that the trust may be proved by parol evidence, even after the death of the trustee.
Chambers v. Emery, 13 U. 374; 45 P. 192.

Where K., C., and R. entered into an agreement to purchase certain lands, to share equally in the payments, and to own equal interests when paid for, and after the first payment made thereon and contract given in the name of C. and R., K. assigned one-half of his interest by oral agreement to E.; held, that such assignment was not within the statute of frauds.
Knauss v. Cahoon, 7 U. 182; 26 P. 295.
Coffin v. McIntosh, 9 U. 315; 34 P. 247.

Where a person having no interest in real estate orally agrees with another that the latter should purchase it with his own funds, taking the title in his name, that he should thereafter convey it to the first person at an agreed price, no resulting or constructive trust arises, and is within the statute of fraud.
Chadwick v. Arnold, 34 U. 48; 95 P. 527.

A trust ex malificio arises whenever a person acquires a legal title to property of another by means of intentional, false, or fraudulent verbal promise to hold the same for a certain purpose, and having thus obtained the title, retains and claims the property as his.
Id.

Where the wife of the debtor of the corporation conveyed her land to the corporation to sell the same for the best price obtainable, and to retain so much of the proceeds as was necessary to pay the husband's debts and to account for the same, the obligation of the corporation was in the nature of a trust, and if it sells the property to one of its officers for a price less than could have been obtainable, it is liable, and the officer so purchasing is charged with the trust, and if he sells the property at an advance he holds the proceeds in trust for the beneficiary.
Gay v. Young Men's Co-op. Insti., 37 U. 280; 107 P. 237.

Where a property is taken in a person's name in trust for another, upon the trustee's death, his administrators may be required to deed the property to beneficiary.
Christensen v. Williams, 34 U. 127; 97 P. 219.

To establish a trust in stolen money, the particular pieces of money need not be identified, but it is enough that among those taken from the thief there is enough of each kind to make up those received by the receiver.
Schramm-Johnson Drugs v. Kleeb, 51 U. —; 169 P. 161.

A trust will not be impressed upon funds in the hands of the alleged trustee where the original trust property or trust fund cannot be traced or identified either in its original or substituted form.
Kent v. Kent, 50 U. —; 165 P. 271.

Where a wife held title to property, real and personal, of which her husband was the sole owner, and the wife, by unequivocal acts and conduct clearly indicated that she always recognized the rights of her husband, and that the equitable title to the property was in him, and made deeds to him of such property, the property was held by her in trust for the husband.
Wheelwright v. Roman, 50 U. —; 165 P. 513.

One desiring to declare and enforce a parol trust must show, with at least reasonable certainty, the terms of the trust, and sufficient facts so that the court may be able to ascertain, with reasonable certainty, the essential terms of the trust before it can declare and enforce it.
Coray v. Holbrook, 40 U. 325; 121 P. 572.

Where one agrees with the owner of real estate subject to a mortgage to bid in the property at a foreclosure sale, and thereafter convey the title to the owner for a certain sum, where the owner relies upon such agreement and the land was bid in for about one-third of its value, and before the redemption period expired the owner paid a portion of the price to be paid, held that a trust ex malificio arose which is enforcible in equity.
Chadwick v. Arnold, 34 U. 48; 95 P. 527.

5813. (2463.) Contracts affecting lands to be in writing. Exception. Every contract for the leasing for a longer period than one year, or for the sale of any lands or any interest in lands, shall be void unless the contract or some note or memorandum thereof is in writing and subscribed by the party by whom the lease or sale is to be made or by his lawful agent thereunto authorized in writing.

Lease for more than a year to be in writing, § 5811, and note.

The rule in this section is applicable only to executory contracts, and has no application to an executed agreement.

Cutright v. Union Savings Inv. Co., 33 U. 486; 94 P. 984.

Where a purchaser on instalments removes from the premises and orally notifies the vendor that he has moved out and would make no further payments and surrenders the keys, held that his interest is forfeited even though the surrender rested in parol.

Id.

Where authority of agent to purchase land was not in writing, it does not invalidate a contract signed by him, there being no statute requiring an agent's authority to be in writing.

Query: Can a contract required to be in writing be modified by parol?

Moon v. Bollwinkel, 47 U. 389; 154 P. 939.

A memorandum reciting the receipt of $30 as part payment of thirty acres of land, is insufficient; it does not describe the land.

Adams v. Manning, 46 U. 82; 148 P. 465.

5814. (2464.) Conveyances to defraud purchasers are void. Every conveyance of any estate or interest in lands, or the rents or profits of lands, and every charge upon lands, or the rents or profits thereof, made or created with intent to defraud prior or subsequent purchasers thereof for a valuable consideration, shall be void as against such purchasers.

Penalty for fraudulent conveyances, §§ 8343, 8346.

Conveyances to defraud creditors are void, §§ 5134, 5135, 5821, and notes.

5815. (2465.) Id. Not if he had notice. No such conveyance or charge shall be deemed fraudulent in favor of a subsequent purchaser who had actual or legal notice thereof at the time of his purchase, unless it appears that the grantee in such conveyance or person to be benefited by such charge was privy to the fraud intended.

Minn. (1894) § 4205.

5816. (2466.) Gifts for use of grantor, when void. All deeds, gifts, conveyances, transfers, or assignments, verbal or written, of goods, chattels, or things in action, made in trust for the use of the person making the same, shall be void as against the existing or subsequent creditors of such person.

Gifts to wife invalid, when, note to § 5821.

5817. (2467.) Certain agreements void unless in writing. In the following cases every agreement shall be void, unless such agreement or some note or memorandum thereof be in writing and subscribed by the party to be charged therewith:

1. Every agreement that by its terms is not to be performed within one year from the making thereof;

2. Every promise to answer for the debt, default, or miscarriage of another;

3. Every agreement, promise, or undertaking, made upon consideration of marriage, except mutual promises to marry;

4. Every special promise made by an executor or administrator to answer damages or to pay the debts of the testator or intestate out of his own estate;

5. Every agreement authorizing or employing an agent or broker to purchase or sell real estate for compensation or a commission.

Am'd '09, p. 119.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1624; Cal. Civ. P., § 1973.

When promise to answer for another need not be in writing, § 5819.

The promise of the defendant for the payment of a subsisting debt of another comes within the statute of frauds; but if the effect of the contract of the defendant had been to discharge the original debt and he became the sole debtor, and there was no debt of another to which his promise was collateral, then the contract would not have been within the statute.

First Nat. Bank v. Kinner, 1 U. 100.

In the absence of proof showing personal liability, no personal judgment can be rendered against an administrator for the debts of the deceased.

Bacon v. Thornton, 16 U. 138; 51 P. 153.

An oral promise to pay a dividend of a certain per cent, within a year, is valid and may be enforced.

Thompson v. Whitney, 20 U. 1; 57 P. 429.

Written contract for leasing of farm on shares held not unilateral and not within the statute of frauds.

Abba v. Smyth, 21 U. 109; 59 P. 756.

An oral agreement by grantee to pay grantor for life one-half of crops that should be grown upon certain premises was not within the provisions of this section, requiring every agreement that by its terms is not to be performed within one year from the making thereof to be in writing since the grantor might die within one year.

Johnson v. Johnson, 31 U. 408; 88 P. 230.

Letters and telegrams containing real estate broker's contract are sufficient to constitute "some notes or memorandum thereof in writing subscribed by the party to be charged therewith."

Fritsch v. Hess, 49 U. 75; 162 P. 70.

Contracts under this section and § 5813 need be signed only by the vendor.

LeVine v. Whitehouse, 37 U. 260; 109 P. 2.

Where the contract has been fully executed, the agent may recover his commission.

Kerr v. Hillyard, 50 U. —; 170 P. 981.

5818. (2468.) Representation as to credit of others to be in writing. To charge a person upon a representation as to the credit of a third person, such representation or some memorandum thereof must be in writing subscribed by the party to be charged therewith.

Contracts concerning sales of goods, and without delivery, etc., see uniform sales act., §§ 5812, 5813.

5819. (2471.) When promise to answer for another need not be in writing. A promise to answer for the obligation of another, in any of the following cases, is deemed an original obligation of the promisor, and need not be in writing:

1. Where the promise is made by one who has received property of another upon an undertaking to apply it pursuant to such promise; or by one who has received a discharge from an obligation in whole or in part in consideration of such promise;

2. Where the creditor parts with value, or enters into an obligation, in consideration of the obligation in respect to which the promise is made, in terms or under circumstnaces such as to render the party making the promise the principal debtor, and the person in whose behalf it is made, his surety;

3. Where the promise, being for an antecedent obligation of another, is made upon the consideration that the party receiving it cancels the antecedent obligation, accepting the new promise as a substitute therefor, or upon the consideration that the party receiving it releases the property of another from a levy, or his person from imprisonment under an execution on a judgment obtained from the antecedent obligation; or upon a consideration beneficial to the promisor, whether moving from either party to the antecedent obligation, or from another person;

4. Where a factor undertakes, for a commission, to sell merchandise and guaranty the sale;

5. When the holder of an instrument for the payment of money, upon which a third person is or may become liable to him, transfers it in payment of a precedent debt of his own, or for a new consideration, and in connection with such transfer enters into a promise respecting such instrument.

Promise to answer for debt, default, or miscarriage of another invalid unless in writing, § 5817.

5820. (2472.) Contracts by telegraph deemed to be in writing. Contracts made by telegraph shall be deemed to be contracts in writing; and all communications sent by telegraph and signed by the person or persons sending the same, or by his or their authority, shall be held and deemed to be communications in writing.

Transactions by telegraph or telephone, §§ 6117-6120.

Chattel mortgages intended to hinder and delay creditors held void, note to § 470.

Conditional sales, note to § 487.

Conveyances to defraud purchasers are void, § 5814.

Gifts for use of grantor void as against creditors, § 5816.

A person, though in debt, may sell his property to whom he pleases, if no lien exists to prevent it, and if the transaction is a fair one, made in good faith, and for a valuable consideration.

Snell v. Crowe, 3 U. 26; 5 P. 522.

An assignment for the benefit of creditors which empowers the assignee to sell on credit is fraudulent and void as to the creditors of the assignor.

Lippincott v. Rich, 19 U. 140; 56 P. 806.

Beus v. Shaughnessy, 2 U. 492.

A fraudulent intent on the part of the debtor alone is not sufficient to avoid the assignment for benefit of creditors when no preferences are made, as in this case, and where neither the assignee nor creditor participated in the fraud.

Billings v. Parsons, 17 U. 22; 53 P. 730.

See Coblentz v. Driver Merc. Co., 10 U. 96; 37 P. 242.

Voluntary conveyance by debtor to his children is void where the effect is to defraud his creditors.

Ogden State Bank v. Barker, 12 U. 13; 40 P. 765.

See also Ogden State Bank v. Barker, 12 U. 27; 40 P. 769.

A conveyance by a husband to his wife of all his property for a nominal consideration is invalid as to a creditor whose debt existed at the time, though not in judgment. No actual fraud need be shown.

Gustin v. Wathews, 25 U. 168; 70 P. 402.

A complaint, to subject to the payment of a judgment property which has been conveyed by a judgment debtor, which alleges facts and transactions constituting fraud in law, is sufficient, though such transactions are not therein characterized as fraudulent.

Cooper v. Utah L. & Ry. Co., 35 U. 570; 102 P. 202.

Where a deed is attacked on ground of fraud, parol evidence is admissible to show the actual consideration in contradition of the consideration expressed in the deed.

Plant v. Ritter, 47 U. 506; 155 P. 426.

5822. (2475.) "Creditors and purchasers" includes heirs, etc. Every conveyance, charge, instrument, or proceeding declared to be void by the provisions of this title, as against creditors and purchasers, shall be equally void as against the heirs, successors, personal representatives, or assigns of such creditors or purchasers.

5823. (2476.) Purchaser in good faith not affected hereby. The provisions of this title shall not be construed in any manner to affect or impair the title of a purchaser for a valuable consideration, unless it appears that such purchaser had previous notice of the fraudulent intent of his immediate grantor or of the fraud rendering void the title of such grantor.

Minn. (1894) § 4225.

5824. (2477.) Specific performance not affected hereby. Nothing in this title contained shall be construed to abridge the powers of courts to compel the specific performance of agreements in case of part performance thereof.

IN CASE OF PART PERFORMANCE:

A parol gift of an unpatented town lot followed by possession cannot thereafter be rescinded.

Cooke v. Young, 2 U. 254.

A parol sale of land without delivery of possession is void though part of the purchase price was paid; and it is immaterial that the contract was a renewal of one under which possession had been delivered, the former contract having been mutually abandoned.

Maxfield v. West, 6 U. 327; 23 P. 754.

Specific performance will not be decreed unless description is sufficient or can be made so.

Easton v. Thatcher, 7 U. 99; 25 P. 748.
Reed v. Lowe, 8 U. 39; 29 P. 740.
Darke v. Smith, 14 U. 35; 45 P. 1006.

A parol partition of lands between co-heirs carried out and followed by actual possession in severalty of the several parcels will be enforced, notwithstanding the statute of frauds, on the ground of part performance when the partition is equitable and the parties acted understandingly.

Whittemore v. Cope, 11 U. 344; 40 P. 256.
Ayres v. Jack, 7 U. 249; 26 P. 300.
Toland v. Corey, 6 U. 395.

In case of part performance, specific performance will be enforced.

Lynch v. Coviglio, 17 U. 106; 53 P. 983.

Verbal transfer of land followed by possession and the making of permanent improvements by the donee may be enforced in equity.

Karren v. Rainey, 30 U. 7; 83 P. 333.
Price v. Lloyd, 31 U. 86; 86 P. 767.
But see Darke v. Smith, 14 U. 35; 45 P. 1006.

Where one who owned considerable land contracted to sell thirty acres, the fact that the purchaser mended fences on a particular thirty acres, and occasionally grazed stock thereon after paying part of the purchase price, is not such a part performance as will take the case out of the statute of frauds; the contract not desginating the particular land.

Adams v. Manning, 46 U. 82; 148 P. 465.

5825. (2478.) Lawful agent may sign for principal. Every instrument required by the provisions of this title to be subscribed by any party may be subscribed by the lawful agent of such party.

Conveyance of real property by agent authorized by writing, §§ 4874, 5811.

TITLE 104.

STATUTES.

CHAPTER 1.

REPEALS.

5829. (2479.) Compiled Laws of 1917. This compilation of the laws of Utah shall be known as the Compiled Laws of Utah, 1917, and may be so cited or referred to, giving number of section when particular reference to any law therein contained is desired.

The above section has been rewritten to refer to this compilation instead of to Revised Statutes of 1898, and C. L. 1907.

Repeal does not affect prosecutions, § 5835.

Decisions on repeal and amendment of statutes, note to § 5839.

Compiled Laws of 1876. An act providing that the Compiled Laws of Utah published under the auspices of the special committee "are hereby approved and adopted" did not amount to the enactment of any new law, but was simply an approval of the work of the compiling committee.

Lyman v. Martin, 2 U. 136.

Compiled Laws of 1888. Where a statute of 1878 was included in the compilation of 1888, '17, p. 381.

but with errors, and in 1890 the legislature enacted that wherever there was a difference between the original acts and the compilation of 1888, the original acts should control; held, that the statute of 1878 was continued in force.
People v. Reggel, 8 U. 21; 28 P. 955.
Revised Statutes of 1898; general repealing clause construed.
Pratt v. Swan, 16 U. 483; 52 P. 1092.

5830. (2480.) All prior laws repealed. Exceptions. All acts and resolutions passed by the legislative assembly of the territory of Utah, and all acts and resolutions passed by the legislature of the state of Utah prior to the second regular session of the legislature are hereby repealed, subject to the limitations and exceptions herein expressed, saving and excepting the following, to wit:

1. Those providing for the issue, validation, disposition, exchange, or redemption of any bonds or warrants of the territory or state of Utah, or of any county, municipality, or school district therein, in so far as such acts or resolutions affect any such bonds or warrants now outstanding and unpaid;

2. Those accepting grants of land, or money, or other property for the territory or state of Utah, or for any subdivision or institution thereof, together with the conditions, restrictions, and limitations attached to such grants;

3. Those changing the names of individuals;

4. Those releasing any individual or public corporation from liability to the state;

5. Those of a private nature, granting any right or franchise;

6. "An act authorizing county clerks and notaries public to take acknowledgments of articles of incorporation of private corporations organized under the provisions of chap. 1, part 4, of the Compiled Laws of Utah, 1888, providing for filing and recording the same, and validating and confirming the acknowledgment, filing, depositing, and recording of articles of incorporation made since the admission of this state by probate judges and clerks, and repealing all inconsistent acts," approved January 24, 1896;

7. "An act authorizing the governor to appoint notaries public, confirming appointments heretofore made, and validating official acts under such appointments," approved January 31, 1986;

8. "An act to provide for the custody of papers and records of United States and supreme court commissioners, for the continuation of actions begun before them, and the issuance of process and proceedings upon judgments obtained in their courts," approved February 7, 1896;

9. "An act providing for the transfer of causes pending in the territorial supreme and district courts to the proper state courts," approved February 18, 1896;

10. "A resolution fixing the termination of the first session of the legislature," approved April 4, 1896.

Effect of repeal on public offenses, § 5835, and note.
Decisions on interpretation of constitution, note to Con. art. 6, sec. 1.
Decisions on repeal and amendment of statutes, note to § 5839.
A general repealing statute like § 5830 must be construed in the light of the circumstances surrounding its enactment; held, that it did not repeal a statute which it purported to repeal.
Pratt v. Swan, 16 U. 483; 52 P. 1092.

5831. (2481.) Laws of 1897 deemed subsequent to Revised Statutes, 1898. The enactment of this revision is not to affect or repeal any act of the legislature passed at any time during the second regular session, and all such acts are to have full effect as if passed after the enactment of this revision, and so far as such acts vary from or conflict with any provision contained in said revision, they are to have effect as subsequent statutes and as repealing any portion of the revision inconsistent therewith.

This section has reference to the Revised Statutes of 1898.
R. S. U. S. (1878) § 5601*; Cal. C. Civ. P., § 2.

5832. (2482.) Repeal not to affect tenure of office. Exceptions. All persons who, at the time when the said repeal shall take effect, shall hold any office under the statutes hereby repealed, shall continue to hold the same under the tenure thereof, except those offices which are abolished and those as to which a different provision is made by the revised statutes.

N. Dak. (1895) §§ 2684, 2685*; Cal. C. Civ. P., § 6*; Mont. Pol. C., § 6*.
Under chap. 37, laws 1894, as reenacted and amended by chap. 73, laws of 1896, the chief of police of Salt Lake City was entitled to hold office during good behavior and until otherwise provided by statute, and, under provisions of § 5832, he was continued in office.

Pratt v. Swan, 16 U. 483; 52 P. 1092.
Where appellant was appointed a policeman under a statute which fixed the tenure of his office to be during good behavior, and he was discharged without cause, under the provisions of this section, such discharge was unlawful.
Everill v. Swan, 17 U. 514; 55 P. 68.
Under provisions of chap. 37, laws of 1894, and chap. 73, laws of 1896, relating to police and fire departments, in so far as they affected the departments of cities of more than 12,000 inhabitants, were not continued in force by § 5832, but were repealed by § 5830, and under § 570x59, the municipality was given the right to enact the ordinance under which petitioner and his assignors were removed from the fire department.
Moreton v. Swan, 20 U. 79; 57 P. 718.

5833. (2483.) Repeal does not affect accrued right. Procedure. This repeal of existing statutes shall not affect any act done, any right accruing or which has accrued or been established, nor any suit or proceeding had or commenced in any civil cause before the time when such repeal takes effect; but the proceedings in such cases shall be conformed to the provisions of the revised statutes as far as consistent.
Iowa, McClain's An. C. (1888) § 54; Cal. C. Civ. P., § 8*; Mont. Pol. C., § 8*.

5834. (2484.) Effect of repeal on limitations. When a limitation or period of time prescribed in any existing statute for acquiring a right or barring a remedy, or for any other purpose, has begun to run before the revised statutes go into effect, and the same or any limitation is prescribed in the revised statutes, the time which has already run shall be deemed a part of the time prescribed as such limitation by the revised statutes.
Cal. C. Civ. P., § 9; Mont. Pol. C., § 9.
Effect on contracts of change in statute of limitations, § 6491, and note to § 6466.

5835. (2485.) Offenses, etc., not affected unless mitigated. No offense committed, and no penalty or forfeiture incurred under any statute hereby repealed and before the repeal takes effect, shall be affected by the repeal, except that when a punishment, penalty, or forfeiture is mitigated by the provisions herein contained, such provisions shall be applied to a judgment to be pronounced after the repeal.
Iowa, McClain's An. C. (1888) § 55; Cal. Pen. C., § 6*.
Effect of enactment of constitution, note to Con. art. 1, secs. 10, 12.
Secs. 4 and 5 of penal code of 1876 provided, in effect, that former statutes concerning crimes remain in force so far as they relate to offenses committed prior to the passage of the code. An offense committed prior to the passage of said code may be prosecuted as if that act had never been passed, notwithstanding the repeal by the penal code of the statute creating such offense.
People v. Idaho Bill, 2 U. 326.
Although § 4643 was repealed by § 4359, R. S. 1898, its provisions were continued in force by this section as to all offenses committed before the revised statutes went into effect, and all penalties incurred thereunder may be enforced the same as if revised statutes had never taken effect.
State v. Woolsey, 19 U. 486; 57 P. 426 and 415.

5836. (2486.) Criminal prosecutions not affected. Procedure. No suit or prosecution pending when this repeal takes effect, for an offense committed or for the recovery of a penalty or foreiture incurred, shall be affected by the repeal, but the proceedings may be conformed to the provisions of the revised statutes as far as consistent.
Iowa, McClain's An. C. (1888) § 56.
One convicted of a crime before statehood must be tried by a jury of twelve, and such jury may under the statutes be called for such trial.
State v. Hart, 19 U. 438; 57 P. 415.

5837. (2487.) "Heretofore" and "hereafter" defined. The terms "heretofore" and "hereafter," as used in the revised statutes, have relation to the time when the same take effect.
Iowa, McClain's An. C. (1888) § 57; Cal. Pe n. C., § 6*.

CHAPTER 2.

CONSTRUCTION.

5838. (2488.) Common law in force. The common law of England, so far as it is not repugnant to, or in conflict with the constitution and laws of the United States, or the constitution and laws of this state, shall be the rule of decision in all the courts of this state.
Cal. Pol. C., § 4468; Nevada (1885) § 3021; Mont. Pol. C., § 5152.
Statutes in derogation of the common law not strictly construed, § 5839, and note.
During all the time since the "Organic Act" was approved (Sept. 9, 1850), the common law has been in force in Utah.
Hilton v. Thatcher, 31 U. 360; 88 P. 20.
People v. Green, 1 U. 11.
Although the common law has not been adopted by any statute, it should be regarded as prevailing here, so far as it is not incompatible with our situation and government.

Thomas v. U. P. Ry. Co., 1 U. 232.
First Nat. Bank v. Kinner, 1 U. 100.
Though the phrase "common law of England," used in the statute, does not include the judicial decisions of England rendered subsequently to July 4, 1776, yet as evidence of what the common law as adopted is they are entitled to respect, and in particular cases may properly be regarded as conclusive.
Johnson v. U. P. Coal Co., 28 U. 46; 76 P. 1089.
A judgment recovered by the sovereign for a penalty in a criminal proceeding creates no lien on the judgment debtor's land.
Thompson v. Avery, 11 U. 214; 39 P. 829.
The definition of an infamous crime against nature denounced by, § 8121, must be sought in the common law.
State v. Johnson, 44 U. 18; 137 P. 632.
By the organic act of congress in 1850 for the government of the territory, the old English common law with reference to women and their status under marriage was not adopted, but only so much thereof as was applicable to the conditions of the new territory which recognized the equitable right of a married woman to a separate estate.
Hatch v. Hatch, 46 U. 116; 148 P. 1096.
A decision of the federal court as to whether an employe is engaged in interstate commerce, will be taken in preference to a decision of a state court since the question involved is one upon which the Federal Courts have the right to speak.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 4*; Mont. C. Civ. P., § 3453*.
Law and equity may be administered in the same action, Con. art. 8, sec. 19.

Common law in force in Utah, § 5838, and notes.
Decisions on general powers of court of equity, note to § 1667.
Distinction between legal and equitable remedies remains, note to § 5982.
See decisions on interpretation of lien law, note to § 3741.
The mere fact that a statute is mandatory in form does not necessarily make it so in its effect.
Eccles Lumber Co. v. Martin, 31 U. 241; 87 P. 713.
In case of doubt as to the construction of a statute regarding the compensation of a public officer, that construction most favorable to the officer should be adopted.
U. S. v. Averill, 4 U. 416; 7 P. 527; sec U. S. v. Averill, 130 U. S. 335.
Where a right exists only by statutory enactment, the statute must be strictly construed and followed, or the right cannot be enforced.
Burrows v. Kimball, 11 U. 149; 41 P. 719.
Statutes in derogation of the common law are to be liberally construed.
In re Garr's Estate, 31 U. 57; 86 P. 757.
Upon a question of the first impression, the court is required to give full effect to this section.
Houston Real Estate Inv. Co. v. Hechler, 44 U. 64; 138 P. 1159.
This section is mandatory,
Hammond v. Wall, 50 U. —; 171 P. 148.

ENACTMENT OF STATUTES; CONSTITUTIONALITY:

The courts have power to declare any act of the government in any of the departments, which violates the constitution, to be utterly void; and, in exercising this function, in regard to an act of the legislature, they do not trench upon the domain of the legislative department.
Ritchie v. Richards, 14 U. 345; 47 P. 670.
When the court construes the law, and holds that it has a certain effect, and bases its judgment upon it, the legislature cannot declare that the law as to that case has any other effect than that declared by the court.
In re Handley's Estate, 15 U. 212; 49 P. 829.
The legislature is the law-making body, and the only limits upon its power are those set by the constitution. If it enacts a law within its authority the courts have no right to arrest its execution.
Kimball v. Grantsville, 19 U. 368; 409, 410; 57 P. 1, 10.
Nichols v. Cherry, 22 U. 1; 60 P. 1103.
State v. Lewis, 26 U. 120; 72 P. 388.
State v. S. L. City, 23 U. 13; 64 P. 460.
A legislative enactment will be presumed constitutional until the contrary is shown; and the courts will resolve a reasonable doubt in favor of constitutionality.
People v. Ritchie, 12 U. 180; 42 P. 209.
State v. Holden, 14 P. 71; 46 P. 756.

Marioneaux v. Cutler, 32 U. 475; 91 P. 355.
When the validity of a statute is questioned, the enrolled act, duly signed, proved, and deposited, is prima facie but not conclusive evidence of its constitutional enactment and of what the law is.
Ritchie v. Richards, 14 U. 345; 47 P. 670.
Lyman v. Martin, 2 U. 136.
Where the invalid portion of a statute is distinctly separable from the remainder, and the remainder in itself is complete, the invalid portion may be rejected and the remainder stand.
City of Eureka v. Wilson, 15 U. 67; 48 P. 150.
Duncan v. McAllister, 1 U. 81.
People, ex rel Dickson v. Clayton, 4 U. 421; 11 P. 206.
But see Bromley v. Reynolds, 2 U. 525.
Where a portion of an act is unconstitutional and the remaining portion can be upheld, it will be done.

INTENTION OF LEGISLATURE; CONSTRUCTION:

A statute should be so expounded as to give effect to what was manifestly the intention of the legislature.
Eclipse Mfg. Co. v. Nichols, 1 U. 252.
State v. Eldredge, 27 U. 477; 76 P. 337.
In construing a constitutional provision, the intention of the framers must prevail, whatever language may have been employed to express it.

State v. Eldredge, 27 U. 477; 76 P. 337.
State v. City Council, 23 U. 13; 64 P. 460.

Where the provisions of a statute are repugnant or susceptible of two constructions, one of which gives effect to all of its provisions, and one of which does not, that construction will be adopted which permits all its provisions to stand in force.
Cary L. Co. v. Partridge, 10 U. 322; 37 P. 572.
Morrison v. Cary L. Co., 9 U. 70; 33 P. 238.

All statutes relating to the same subject matter, which are not necessarily inconsistent with each other, are to be construed together as constituting one act, and, when it can be done with any reasonable construction, made to harmonize.
Twiggs v. Land Com., 27 U. 241; 75 P. 729.
Miles v. Wells, 22 U. 55; 61 P. 534.
Nelden v. Clark, 20 U. 388; 59 P. 524.
State v. Eldredge, 27 U. 477; 76 P. 337.
State v. Richards, 20 U. 457; 59 P. 96.

The true meaning and intent of a statute is to be ascertained from the whole thereof, and, to ascertain such meaning and intent, the court will punctuate or disregard punctuation as may be necessary.
Union R. T. Co. v. Lynch, 18 U. 378; 55 P. 639.
Richardson v. T. Hill M. Co., 23 U. 366; 65 P. 74.

Where one word has been erroneously used in a constitution, statute, or other written instrument for another, and the context affords the means of correction, the proper word will be deemed substituted.
White v. R. G. W. Ry., 25 U. 346; 71 P. 593.

It is a rule of statutory and constitutional construction that the meaning of general words will be restricted when it is found necessary in order to carry out the intention of the lawmakers.
State v. Eldredge, 27 U. 477; 76 P. 337.
People, ex rel. Board of Education v. Utah Com'rs, 7 U. 279; 26 P. 577.

A general rule for the construction of statutes is that, where a part of an act has been repealed, it must, although of no operative force, still be taken in construing the rest.
Ogden City v. Boreman, 20 U. 98; 57 P. 843.
State v. Third District Court, 32 U. 418; 91 P. 133.

In determining whether the legislature has granted to a municipal corporation the power to levy and collect special taxes, the statutes under which such power is claimed are to be strictly construed.
Woodring v. Straup, 45 U. 173; 143 P. 592.

The court, in construing a statute, must give to every word or phrase its ordinary meaning, unless the context shows that to do so will defeat the legislature intent.
Law v. Smith, 34 U. 394; 98 P. 300.

Where the supreme court has made a palpable error in construing a statute, the court should correct the error when the correction will not inflict serious injury to any one, and will enforce the legislative intent.
Id.

Effect must be given to the legislative intent when ascertained, and, where the language is plain and unambiguous, it must be necessarily found in the language itself.
Town of Garland v. Maughan, 35 U. 426; 100 P. 934.

The court will construe transactions so as to avoid a forfeiture, where such construction is permissible, whether the transaction is one in equity or at law.
Moran v. Knights of Col. 46 U. 397; 151 P. 353.

While punctuation may be disregarded for the purpose of ascertaining legislative intent, yet the conjunction cannot be so disregarded.
B. of Ed. v. Hanchett, 50 U. —; 167 P. 686.

The court, to harmonize conflicting statutory provisions and to effectuate the intention of the legislature, may either restrict or enlarge the ordinary meaning of the words in the statutes, and this rule has special force where the statutes must be made to conform with the constitution.
State v. Pay, 45 U. 411; 146 P. 300.

The courts, in construing statutes, must declare the intention of the legislature as manifested by what it said in view of the object sought to be attained, and when the intention is clear, the ordinary rules of construction fail.
Gallagher v. Third Dist. Court, 36 U. 68; 104 P. 750.

The rule laid down in this section should be considered, and in construing § 6546, the action will not be dismissed upon the sole ground that a copy of the complaint was not served or deposited, but only where neither the complaint, summons, and proof of service thereof are filed, and a copy of the complaint has not been served on defendant nor deposited with the clerk for him.
West Mt. L. & S. Co. v. Danley, 38 U. 218; 111 P. 647.

Where a conflict exists between two enactments, whether enacted at the same or different sessions, the court must if possible give force and effect to all the provisions contained in both acts, notwithstanding the apparent conflict.
B. of Ed. v. Hunter, 48 U. 373; 159 P. 1019.

A special statute on a subject matter controls a general statute relating thereto.
Morck v. White, 41 U. 480; 126 P. 330.

REPEALS:

Where a revision covers the same subject and repeals all laws in conflict therewith, a conflicting law will be deemed repealed.
Taylor v. Robertson, 16 U. 330; 52 P. 1.
Pratt v. Swan, 16 U. 483; 52 P. 1092.

Where a law is passed as a substitute for a prior enactment, covering the whole subject of the former law, the latter is repealed without express words of repeal.
Bartch v. Meloy, 8 U. 424; 32 P. 694.
O. S. L. Ry. v. Standing, 10 U. 452; 37 P. 687.

Laws 1903, chap. 86, p. 71, entiled, "An act fixing the salaries of district judges," and fixing such salary at $4,000 and expressly providing that no mileage or expenses should be allowed, though containing no express provisions for repeal, repealed by implication § 2051, R. S. 1898, declaring that district judges should receive mileage at the rate of eight cents for each mile actually and necessarily traveled in the performance of their official duties. (Approving Mill v. Brown, 31 U. 473; 88 P. 609, which case modified State v. Beddo, 22 U. 432; 63 P. 96.)
Marioneaux v. Cutler, 32 U. 475; 91 P. 355.
Nelden v. Clark, 20 U. 382; 59 P. 524.

A subsequent affirmative statute, general in its terms, will not be so construed as to repeal by implication a prior statute, unless there is such a repugnancy between the two as to make them irreconcilable, and then the later in point of time will abrogate the former, though only to the extent of such repugnancy.

Eastman v. Gurrey, 14 U. 169; 46 P. 828.
Rhemke v. Clinton, 2 U. 438.

The act of March 12, 1890, in terms repealing the previous act in regard to mechanics' liens, but covering the same subject and containing many identical provisions, is to be construed as a continuation of the earlier act with modifications.
Garland v. Bear River Irr. Co., 9 U. 350; 34 P. 368; affirmed 164 U. S. 1.

By an act of the territorial legislature of Utah, approved January 19, 1855, the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints was incorporated; held, first, that the act of congress of July 1, 1862, repealing portions of the territorial act was not an implied approval of the remainder of the act; second, that congress had power by an act in force March 3, 1887, to annull the remainder of the law; third, that such disapproval was not a law impairing the obligations of a contract; fourth, that property acquired and held by the church in violation of the act of congress was subject to forfeiture, and the escheating thereof does not interfere with any vested right.

U. S. v. The Church, 5 U. 361; 15 P. 473.

The general rule that an unqualified repeal of a statute creating an office abolishes the office and removes the incumbent is well established; but, where the repealing statute was enacted merely for the purpose of effecting a revision and codification of the laws, it must be construed in the light of circumstances which surrounded its enactment, and effect must be given to the intent of the legislature, even though the repeal appears to be, in terms, express.

Effect of repeals on criminal prosecutions, § 5835, and note.

Where there is any conflict or incongruity between an earlier and a later statute on the same subject, the later, and not the earlier, controls, and it is the earlier and not the later act that is modified.

State ex rel. Gallagher v. Third Dist. Court, 36. U. 68; 104 P. 750.

When a statute repeals another statute or provision on the same subject, so much of the other statute as is superseded by the invalid part of the later statute is not repealed, but continues in full force and effect.

Board of Education v. Hunter, 48 U. 373; 159 P. 1019.

While repeals by implication are not favored, where later provisions are clearly repugnant to existing provisions, the later ones control, and the earlier provisions must be deemed repealed by implication to the extent of the repugnancy.

State v. Carman, 44 U. 353; 140 P. 670.

Sec. 4298, Comp. Laws '07, making the sale of intoxicating liquors to an Indian a felony, was repealed by the Laws of '11, chap. 106, making its sale to an Indian a misdemeanor, so far as to make a sale to a full-blooded Indian a misdemaenor instead of a felony.

State v. Carman, 44 U. 353; 140 P. 670.
State v. Justice, 44 U. 484; 141 P. 109.

While all statutes in pari materia should be construed together, yet where two statutes relating to the same subject matter are repugnant, and cannot be reconciled, the later enactment must be accepted as the legislative will.

B. of Ed. v. Daines, 50 U. —; 166 P. 977.

Where a statute is made effective only from a future date, but in terms repeals a former law on the subject, the repealing clause becomes effective only when the statute goes into effect.

B. of Ed. v. Hunter, 43 U. 373; 159 P. 1019.

And a conviction before the repeal is effective should be sustained.

Salina City v. Nielson, 51 U. —; 172 P. 290.

STATUTE ADOPTED FROM ANOTHER STATE:

The act of Utah having been copied from a statute of California which was itself taken from a statute of another state, the supreme court is not bound by the construction of the statute made by the courts of California.

Coulam v. Doull, 4 U. 267; 9 P. 568; affirmed 133 U. S. 216.

Whitney v. Fox, 166 U. S. 637; affirming Wood v. Fox, 8 U. 380; 32 P. 48.

Where the territorial legislature has adopted portions of the code of a neighboring state, which had previously been construed by the supreme court of such state its takes them with the construction placed upon them, and is not bound to follow a decision of the federal supreme court on the construction of the same statute determined on appeal from a state other than the one from which the law was adopted.

People v. Ritchie, 12 U. 180; 42 P. 209.

It is a general, though not binding, rule of statutory construction, that where the provisions of a statute have received judicial construction in one state and it is then adopted in another, it is adopted with the construction so given it.

Mercur M. Co. v. Spry, 15 U. 222; 52 P. 382.

5841. (2491.) Civil and criminal remedies not merged. When the violation of a right admits of both a civil and criminal remedy, the right to prosecute the one is not merged in the other.

5842. (2492.) Effect of repealing a statute. The repeal of a statute does not revive a statute previously repealed, nor affect any right which has accrued, any duty imposed, any penalty incurred, nor any action or proceeding commenced under or by virtue of the statute repealed.

Has no application to municipal ordinances or proceedings instituted under them.

Pleasant Grove City v. Lindsay, 41 U. 154; 125 P. 389.

5843. (2493.) Time, how computed. The time in which any act provided by law is to be done is computed by excluding the first day and including the last, unless the last is a holiday, and then it is also excluded.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 12; Mont. Pol. C., § 11.

Holidays, §§ 2860, 2861, and notes.

When negotiable instrument matures on a holiday, § 4233.

In the computation of time, fractions of days are not reckoned; and, when an act is required by a contract to be done within a specified period from or after a particular day, the general rule is to exclude the day thus designated, and to include the last day of the specified period.

Tilton v. Sterling Coal Co., 28 U. 173; 77 P. 758.

Where the term of a lease extends "from Dec. 1, 1904, to Dec. 1, 1906, a term of two years," it expires Nov. 30, 1906, if possession is taken Dec. 1, 1904, or Dec. 1, 1906, if possession is taken Dec. 2, 1904.

5844. (2494.) When appointed day is a holiday. Whenever any act of a secular nature, other than a work of necessity or mercy, is appointed by law or contract to be performed upon a particular day, which day falls upon a holiday, such act may be performed upon the next business day with the same effect as if it had been performed upon the day appointed. Nothing in this nor the preceding section shall be so construed as in any manner to change, alter, or modify the time of the maturity of negotiable instruments.

Holidays, §§ 2860, 2861, and notes.
When negotiable instrument falls due on a holiday, § 4233.

5845. (2495.) Seal, how affixed. When the seal of a court, or public officer, is required by law to be affixed to any paper, the word "seal" includes an impression of such seal upon the paper alone, as well as upon wax or a wafer affixed thereto. In all other cases the word seal may include a scroll printed or written.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 14*; Mont. Pol. C., § 13*.
Private seals unnecessary, § 4876.

5846. (2496.) Where authority joint, majority may act. Words giving a joint authority to three or more public officers or other persons are construed as giving such authority to a majority of them, unless it is otherwise expressed in the act giving the authority.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 15; Mont. Pol. C., § 14.
Authority of majority of executors or of administrators, § 7716; of arbitrators, §§ 3226, 6904, 7211; of referees, § 7211.

Tooele Bldg. v. Tooele H. S., 43 U. 362; 131 P. 894.

5847. (2497.) Words and phrases, how construed. Words and phrases are construed according to the context and the approved usage of the language; but technical words and phrases, and such others as have acquired a peculiar and appropriate meaning in law, or are defined by statute, are to be construed according to such peculiar and appropriate meaning or definition.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 16; Mont. Pol. C., § 15.
Certain words and phrases defined, § 5848, and notes.
Use of abbreviations, numerals, § 1824.
Common usage should govern in construing a word or phrase.

Miles v. Wells, 22 U. 55; 61 P. 534.

5848. (2498.) Rules for construction of statutes. In the construction of the statutes, the following rules shall be observed, unless such construction would be inconsistent with the manifest intent of the legislature or repugnant to the context of the statute:

1. The word "month" means a calendar month, unless otherwise expressed, and the word "year" or the abbreviation "A. D." is equivalent to the expression "year of our lord."

2. The word "oath" includes "affirmation," and the word "swear" includes the word "affirm." Every mode of oral statement under oath or affirmation is embraced in the term "testify," and every written one in the term "depose."

3. The word "signature" includes any name, mark, or sign written with the intent to authenticate any instrument or writing.

4. The word "writing" includes printing, writing, and typewriting.

5. The word "person" includes bodies politic and corporate, partnerships, associations, and companies.

6. The singular number includes the plural, and the plural the singular.

7. Words used in the masculine gender comprehend, as well, the feminine and neuter.

8. Words used in the present tense include the future.

9. The word "property" includes both real and personal property.

10. The terms "land," "real estate," and "real property" include land, tenements, hereditaments, water rights, possessory rights, and claims.

11. The term "personal property" includes every description of money, goods, chattels, effects, evidences of rights in action, and all written instruments by which any pecuniary obligation, right or title to property is created, acknowledged, transferred, increased, defeated, discharged, or diminished, and every right or interest therein.

12. The word "will' includes codicils.

13. The word "writ" signifies an order or precept in writing, issued in the name of the state, or of a court or judicial officer; and the word "process" a writ or summons issued in the course of judicial proceedings.

14. The word "state," when applied to the different parts of the United States, includes the District of Columbia and the territories; and the words "United States" may include the district and the territories.

15. The words "highway" and "road" include public bridges, and may be held equivalent to the words "county way," "county road," "common road," and "state road."

16. The words "insane person" include idiots, lunatics, distracted persons, and persons of unsound mind.

17. The words "sheriff," "county attorney," "clerk," or other words used to denote an executive or ministerial officer may include any deputy or other person performing the duties of such officer, either generally or in special cases; and the words "county clerk" may be held to include "clerk of the district court."

18. The word "executor" includes administrator, and the term "administrator" includes executor, when the subject matter justifies such use.

19. The word "population," where used in these revised statutes, or in any statute hereafter passed, shall be taken to be that as shown by the last preceding state or national census, unless otherwise specially provided.

20. The word "councilman" may include trustees of towns.

21. The word "town" may mean incorporated town and may include cities, and the word "city" may mean incorporated town.

22. The word "vessel," when used with reference to shipping, includes steamboats, canal boats, and every structure adapted to be navigated from place to place. Am'd '07, p. 78.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 17*; Cal. Pol. C., § 17*; Mont. Pol. C., § 16*.
The word "process" defined, § 1500.
Construction of "real estate," "conveyance," "heirs," §§ 4868-4871, 6379, 6364.
Public highways defined, § 2800.
"Incompetent person" includes what, § 7817.
When principal includes deputy, § 1462.
Construction of terms used in taxation, § 5865.
Word "property" defined, Con. art. 13, sec. 2.
English language used, § 1823.
Abbreviations and numerals allowable in legal documents, § 1824.
Technical words and phrases, how construed, § 5847.
Words and phrases construed according to the context and the approved use of language, § 5847.

TITLE 105.

SUPPORT OF POOR BY RELATIVES.

of county commissioners deemed adequate and proper to be paid, not exceeding $20 a month for each and every month during which the county may be charged with the support of such poor person; provided, however, that any poor person who is the owner of real property and receiving county aid for their sustenance, by reason of their indigency, or dependency, said amounts so received from the county by such person or persons, together with legal interest thereon, shall, after the decease of said indigent person, be a preferred claim against his estate in favor of the county; provided, that whenever any person becomes a pauper from intemperance or other bad conduct, he shall not be entitled to the support from any relative except parent or child.

Am'd '11, p. 110.

County commissioners to provide for the poor, § 1400x40-52.

Delinquent husband or father, how punished, § 8113.

TITLE 106.

TAXATION.

CHAPTER 1.

PROPERTY LIABLE TO TAXATION.

5861. (2501.) All property taxed, unless exempted. All property in this state, not exempt under the laws of the United States, or under the constitution of this state, shall be taxed in proportion to its value, as hereinafter provided.

Taxation to be equal and uniform, Con. art. 13, sec. 3.

Word "property" defined, Con. art. 13, sec. 2.

Levy of city taxes, § 671, and note.

All property taxable except that specifically exempted, Con. art. 13, secs. 2-4.

Decisions on invalid tax sales, note to § 6018.

Property must be assessed at its fair cash value; the price for which it would sell in the open market.

State v. Thomas, 16 U. 86; 50 P. 615.

State ex rel. v. Armstrong, 19 U. 117; 56 P. 1076.

Home Fire Ins. Co. v. Lynch, 19 U. 189; 56 P. 681.

Under a U. S. statute requiring all banks, associations, corporations, and individuals issuing notes or bills for circulation as currency to pay a tax thereon, Z. C. M. I. merchandise orders held not taxable.

Z. C. M. I. v. Hollister, 3 U. 292; 3 P. 87; affirmed 111 U. S. 62.

A statute imposing taxes should be clear and unambiguous, and when it clearly imposes a tax on a particular class of property it should not be given a forced construction to include other property.

Id.

The fifth amendment to the U. S. constitution, declaring that private property shall not be taken for public use without just compensation, should be applied to the appropriation of private property under the right of taxation as well as to its appropriation under the right of eminent domain.

People v. Daniels, 6 U. 288; 22 P. 159.

A mortgage being a species of property distinct from other property, the holder or owner of it, when residing within the state, is assessed and taxed as the owner of money in use and not upon an interest in land.

Judge v. Spencer, 15 U. 242; 48 P. 1097.

Chap. 48, laws '92, exempting mortgages from taxation, is in conflict with Con. art. 13, sec. 2, and the provisions of this chapter, and is repealed by implication.

Id.

Where a non-resident kept money on deposit in banks of this state, and for which certificates of deposit are issued, it is subject to levy for taxes.

In re Thourot's Etstae, 51 U. —; 172 P. 769.

By amendment to the constitution in 1906, mortgages are no longer taxable, Con. art. 13, secs. 3, 12.

5862. (2502.) Land, except improvements, etc., non-taxable while title is in state. No tax shall be levied upon lands the title to which remains in the state, held or occupied by any person under a contract of sale or lease from the territory or state of Utah, but this provision shall not be construed to prevent the taxation of improvements on such lands and the interest in the land to the extent of money paid prior to the levying such tax in part payment of the purchase price thereof.

List of lands sold, etc., by state to be furnished to assessor, § 5917.

Property exempt under the constitution, and decisions thereunder, Con. art. 13, sec. 3, and note.

Exemptions reserved to U. S. in enabling act, sec. 3.

Exemptions must be in express terms, note to Con. art. 13, sec. 3.

Since this section was enacted, in 1898, Con. art. 13, sec. 3, has been amended to include further exemptions.

The water system for selling water to the inhabitants of a city, and used in conveying the water from the river to such city, is not exempt from taxation.

Bear River Irr. Co. v. Ogden City, 8 U. 494; 33 P. 135.

5864. (2504.) Mines and net proceeds taxable. All mines and mining claims, both placer and rock in place, containing or bearing gold, silver, copper, lead, coal, or other valuable mineral deposits, after purchase thereof from the United States, shall be taxed at the price paid the United States therefor, unless surface ground, or some part thereof, of such mine or claim is used for other than mining purposes, and has a separate and independent value for such other purposes; in which case said surface ground, or any part thereof, so used for other than mining purposes shall be taxed at its value for such other purposes; and all the machinery used in mining, and all property and surface improvements upon or appurtenant to mines and mining claims, which have a value separate and independent of such mines or mining claims, and the net annual proceeds of all mines and mining claims, and also the net annual proceeds of coke made from coal, or bullion or matte made from ore not taxed, which is deemed a product of the mines, shall be taxed as other personal property. Am'd '03, p. 76.

Taxation of mines under authority of the constitution, and decisions thereunder, Con. art. 13, sec. 4, and note.

Assessment of net proceeds of mines, §§ 5929-5936.

List of mining patents to be furnished, § 5916.

The surface and improvements thereon used for other than mining purposes are taxable, and one occupying and paying taxes may acquire adverse possession thereto.

Utah Copper Co. v. Chandler, 45 U. 85; 142 P. 1119.

Utah Copper Co. v. Eckman, 47 U. 165; 152 P. 178

Even against the owner who pays taxes on mining claims.

Utah Copper Co. v. Eckman, 47 U. 165; 152 P. 178.

A tax assessed upon a drain tunnel used to drain a mine was unauthorized where it appeared that the tunnel had no separate and independent value, though used by adjoining mines for a consideration, but that its value was inseparably connected with the operation of the mine.

Ontario S. M. Co. v. Hixon, 49 U. 359; 164 P. 498.

This section prohibits a blanket assessment on all coal lands in the county at a flat rate.

Ririe, State Auditor, v. Randolph, 50 U. —; 169 P. 941.

CHAPTER 2.

DEFINITIONS.

5865. (2505.) Terms used in this title defined. Whenever the terms mentioned in this section are employed in this title, they are employed in the sense hereafter affixed to them, to wit:

1. The term "property" includes moneys, credits, bonds, stocks, franchises, and all other matters and things, real, personal, and mixed, capable of private ownership; but this shall not be so construed as to authorize the taxation of the stocks of any company or corporation, when the property of such company or corporation, represented by such stocks, has been taxed;

2. The term "real estate" includes:

First. The possession of, claim to, ownership of, or right to, the possession of land;

Second. All mines, minerals, and quarries in and under the land subject to the provisions of § 5864, all timber belonging to individuals or corporations, growing or being on the lands of the state or the United States, and all rights and privileges appertaining thereto;

Third. Improvements;

3. The term "improvements" includes all buildings, structures, fixtures, fences, and improvements erected upon or affixed to the land, whether the title has been acquired to said lands or not;

4. The term "personal property" includes everything which is the subject of ownership not included within the meaning of the terms "real estate" and "improvements;"

5. The terms "value" and "full cash value" mean the amount at which the property would be taken in payment of a just debt due from a solvent debtor;

6. The term "credit" means those solvent debts, secured or unsecured, owing to a person;

7. The term "debts" means those secured or unsecured liabilities owing by a person;

8. The term "person" as used in this title shall be construed to include partnerships, corporations, and associations of persons.

Word "property" defined, Con. art. 13, sec. 2.
Construction of terms generally, § 5848.
The test of "full cash value" is the price obtainable in the open market.
State v. Thomas, 16 U. 86; 50 P. 615.
Sub. 1 construed. McCormick v. Bassett, 49 U. 444; 164 P. 852.

CHAPTER 3.

ASSESSMENT OF PROPERTY.

5866. (2506.) Cash value. Land and improvements separately. All taxable property must be assessed at its full cash value. Land and the improvements thereon must be separately assessed.

Property to be assessed according to its value in money, Con. art. 13, sec. 2.
The test of "full cash value" is the price obtainable in the open market.
State v. Thomas, 16 U. 86; 50 P. 615.
"Moneyed capital" means shares of stock or other interest in enterprises in which the capital employed in carrying on the business is money, and the object of the business is the making of a profit by the use of money. Inequality in assessment results when taxing officials assess property of one person or class of persons or a particular class of property at a valuation greater in proportion to its real or cash value than is placed on the mass of other taxable property.
First Natl. Bank of Nephi v. Christensen, 39 U. 568; 118 P. 778.

In the absence of express permission of congress, neither a national bank, nor U. S. bonds, constituting any part of its capital stock, can be taxed by authority of a state. Nor can a state tax a national bank which is the financial agent or public depository of the federal government. But a tax on the capital of such a bank is not the same as a tax on the shares of which the capital is composed; and there is no provision of law which precludes the territorial legislature from taxing the banking franchise by taxing the individual shares of stockholders in national banks.
S. L. C. Nat. Bank v. Golding, 2 U. 1.
Under provisions of this section, and Con. art. 13, secs. 2, 3, and §§ 5866-5868, the only deductions authorized in the assessment for taxes of the shares of stock of any national bank or other corporation organized and doing business in this state are deductions from the value of such shares, of the value of the real estate of such corporation within this state which has been assessed, and deductions of bona fide debts from creditors.

Com'l Nat'l Bk. v. Chambers, 21 U. 324; 61 P. 560; affirmed 182 U. S. 556.

Stocks are not credits, and credits are not stocks within the meaning of the revenue act.

Id.

The individual debts of a shareholder are not required to be deducted from the value of his stock, debts disconnected from the business of such corporation cannot be deducted from the amount of the capital, and the shares of stock cannot be treated as credits.

Id.

Taxation of a bank's capital stock without deducting value of realty owned by building company of which bank held all stock representing one-half of bank's capital, which realty was taxed to building company, was double taxation, prohibited by Con. art. 13, secs. 2 and 3.

McCornick v. Bassett, 49 U. 444; 164 P. 852.

5868. (2508.) Id. Deductions. In the assessment of the shares of stock mentioned in the next preceding section, each stockholder must be allowed all the deductions and exemptions allowed by law in assessing the value of other taxable personal property owned by individual citizens of this state, and the assessment and taxation must not be at a greater rate than is made or assessed upon other moneyed capital in the hands of individual citizens of this state.

What deductions allowed generally, § 5878.

5869. (2509.) Id. In making such assessment, there must also be deducted from the value of such shares such sum as is in the same proportion to such value as the assessed value of the real estate of such bank or banking association in which such shares are held bears to the whole amount of the capital stock, surplus, reserve, and undivided profits of such bank or banking association.

Stock not to be taxed when property represented by such stock has been taxed, Con. art 13, sec. 2.

5870. (2510.) National banks not in Utah. The shares of the capital stock of banks organized under the laws of the United States, not located in this state, owned by residents of this state, are not subject to taxation.

Taxation of national banks; deductions, note to § 5867.

5872. (2512.) Private bankers, brokers, and foreign banks. Statement. Every corporation doing a banking business in this state, which is organized under the laws of another state or of any foreign country, and every private banker, broker, or dealer in stocks must make out and deliver to the assessor, when required to list personal property, a verified statement upon blanks furnished by the assessor, showing:

1. The amount of money on hand or in transit;
2. The amount of funds in the hands of other banks, brokers, or others, subject to draft;
3. The amount of checks or cash items not included in either of the preceding items;
4. The amount of bills receivable, discounted or purchased, and other credits due or to become due, and amounts receivable;
5. All other property appertaining to said business, other than real estate, which real estate must be listed and assessed as other real estate is listed and assessed under this title;
6. The aggregate amount of all deposits;
7. The amount of all accounts payable other than current deposit accounts.

Such corporation, private banker, broker, or dealer in stocks shall be permitted to deduct from the credits the amount of his liabilities as provided in § 5878 and sub. 6 of § 5877. The statement required in this section must be shown to be derived from the books of entry and account ordinarily in use in the business of the person furnishing the statement, and the amount shown therein must be an average of the corresponding amounts as shown by said books of entry and account for a period of ninety days next preceding the furnishing of such statement. The verification required must be made by the highest officer or employe in the county where the assessment is made, or by the banker, broker, or dealer in stocks in person.

National banks, §§ 5867-5870.

5873. (2513.) Railroads, etc., operating in more than one county. Other franchises. Mines, mining property, and net proceeds of mines. All property and franchises owned by railroads, street railroads, car, telegraph and telephone, electric light, pipe line, power, canal, irrigating, and express companies operated in more than one county in this state, and all the machinery used in mining, and all property and surface improvements upon or appurtenant to mines and mining claims, which have a value separate and independent of all such mines or mining claims, and the net annual proceeds of all such mines and mining claims in this state must be assessed by the state board of equalization as hereinafter provided. Other franchises, if granted by the authorities of a county or city, must be assessed in the county or city within which they are granted; if granted by any other authority, they must be assessed in the county in which the corporations, firms, or persons owning or holding them have their principal place of business.

Am'd '99, p. 102; '07, p. 9; '09, p. 93.

Companies operating in more than one country, § 5922.

Duties of state board of equalization, Con. art. 13, sec. 11; §§ 5922-5928, 5983-5991.

Assessment by county assessor when operated wholly in one county, § 5895.

Assessment of capital stock and franchises, § 5890.

Collection of taxes from car companies, §§ 6010, 6016.

The provisions of this section impose upon the state board of equalization the duty of assessing all property and franchises of railroads and other companies operating in more than one county.

Salt Lake Co. v. Board of Equalization, 18 U. 172; 55 P. 378.

The provisions of the amendment of 1899, that property and franchises owned by railroad and other companies must be assessed by state board of equalization, in so far as they confer power on such board to assess property wholly within one county, violate Con. art. 13, sec. 11, and are void.

State ex rel. v. Eldredge, 27 U. 477; 76 P. 337.

5874. (2514.) Railway lands to be assessed by county assessor. All railroad lands in this state not actually used as a road bed or right of way, or for depot, yard, or other necessary railroad purposes, shall be assessed by the assessor of the county in which said lands are situated.

5875. (2515.) Property, where assessed. Land, how assessed. All taxable property must be assessed in the county, city, town, or district in which it is situated. Land must be assessed in parcels or subdivisions not exceeding 640 acres each, and tracts of land containing more than 640 acres, which have been sectionized by the United States government, must be assessed by sections or fractions of sections.

Property assessed where situated, §§ 5888, 5906.

Property must be treated as it exists within the jurisdiction of such taxing power, and without reference to the power of another state over which there is no jurisdiction whatever.

Com. Nat. Bank v. Chambers, 21 U. 324; 61 P. 560.

A band of sheep could not be taxed by city in which the owner lived when the sheep had never been within the city limits.

Murdock v. Murdock, 38 U. 373; 113 P. 330.

DUTIES OF ASSESSOR.

5876. (2516.) Property assessed as of 1st day of January. The assessor must, before the first Monday of May of each year, ascertain the names of all taxable inhabitants, and all property in the county subject to taxation, except such as is required to be assessed by the state board of equalization, and must assess such property to the person by whom it was owned or claimed, or in whose possession or control it was at twelve o'clock m. of the 1st day of January next preceding, and at its value on that date. Credits must be assessed as provided in § 5878 and sub. 6 of § 5877. No mistake in the name of the owner or supposed owner of property renders the assessment thereof invalid. In order that the assessors, as provided in § 5086, shall have their offices fully acquainted with all the property in the respective counties, they shall be required to visit each separate district or precinct, either in person or by deputy, annually, and in person or by deputy annually inspect the property they are required to assess. The intent of the last two provisions is to require assessors to acquire as full knowledge as possible of the property that should be entered upon the assessment roll in their respective counties, so that all property shall be assessed and bear its share of the burden of taxation. Am'd '05, p. 239; '07, p. 45; '09, p. 93.

The tax becomes a lien on personalty first day of January, § 5996; on realty, second Monday in January, § 5997.

Property brought into county after first Monday in May, § 5921.

Action of assessor if owner likely to dispose of property, etc., § 6057.

County assessor assesses for special school tax, § 4626; city school taxes, § 4704; county school districts of first class, § 4624.

State geologist to assist, §§ 5779, 5782.

Under § 14, chap. 129, laws of 1896, it is competent for the assessor to assess personal property at any time before the first Monday in March, in case he has cause to believe the owner is likely to avoid the payment of the tax by disposition of the property or removal from the state.

Taylor v. Robertson, 16 U. 330; 52 P. 1.

Where real estate within the limits of a city has been assessed, but before the rate had been fixed, or levy made, a judgment was rendered disconnecting the property from the city and providing that it should not longer be subject to taxes, the tax did not became a lien upon the property so severed.

Gillmor v. Dale, 27 U. 372; 75 P. 932.

A tax or assessment cannot exist so as to become a lien or incumbrance on real estate until the amount thereof is ascertained.

Id.

Prior to the amendment of '09, a tax lien was an encumbrance within a covenant against encumbrance upon realty purchased after the second Monday in January.

George A. Lowe Co. v. Simmons Warehouse Co., 39 U. 395; 117 P. 874.

5877. (2517.) Assessor may require statement from taxpayer. He may require from any person a statement under oath setting forth specifically all the real and personal property owned by such person, or in his possession or under his control, at twelve o'clock M. on the 1st day of January. Such statement must be in writing, showing separately:

1. All property belonging to, claimed by, or in the possession or under the control or management of such person;

2. All property belonging to, claimed by, or in the possession or under the control or management of any firm of which such person is a member;

3. All property belonging to, or claimed by, or in the possession of, or under the control or management of any corporation of which such person is president, secretary, cashier, or managing agent;

4. The county in which such property is situated or in which it is liable to taxation, and is liable to taxation in the county in which the statement was made, also the city, town, school district, road district, or other revenue district in which it is situated;

5. A statement of all lands in parcels or subdivisions, not exceeding 640 acres each, and the sections and fractional sections of all tracts of land containing more than 640 acres which have been sectionized by the United States government; improvements, and personal property, including all vessels, steamers, and other water craft, and all taxable state, county, city, or other municipal or public bonds, and the taxable bonds of any person, firm, or corporation, and the deposited money, gold dust, and other valuables, and the names of the persons with whom such deposits are made, and the places in which they may be found; all mortgages, deeds of trust, contracts, and other obligations by which a debt is secured, and the property affected thereby;

6. All solvent credits, secured or unsecured, due or owing to such persons, or to any firm of which he is a member, or due or owing to any corporation of which he is president, secretary, cashier, or managing agent, deducting from the sum total of such credits only such debts, secured or unsecured, as may be owing by such person, firm or corporation; provided, that mutual benefit building societies incorporated under the laws of this state or of the territory of Utah shall be allowed to deduct from their taxable credits the amount due to the stockholders of such societeis.

This form to be furnished; affidavit thereto, §§ 5879-5881.

so deducted, must be considered a debt within the intent of this section; and no person is entitled to a deduction on account of an obligation of any kind given to an insurance company for the premium of insurance, nor on account of any unpaid subscription to any institution or society, nor on account of a subscription to, or instalment payable on, the capital stock of any company or corporation; and no liability of any person or persons, company or corporation, as surety for another must be deducted; and no other liability of any person or persons, company, or corporation, on any bond or undertaking must be deducted; and no deduction must be made in any case unless the party claiming such deduction discloses to the assessor, under oath, the name or names of the persons to whom such party is indebted, and the amount of such indebtedness to each, and also that such indebtedness is not barred by the statute of limitations, or, in case such indebtedness is so barred, acknowledges such indebtedness in writing, duly subscribed. No debt is to be deducted unless the statement shows the amount of such debt, as stated under oath in the aggregate. Whenever one member of a firm or one of the proper officers of a corporation has made a statement showing the property of the firm or corporation, another member of the firm or another officer need not include such property in the statement made by him; but this statement must show the name of the person or officer who made the statement in which such property is included. The fact that such statement is not required, or that a person has not made such statement under oath, or otherwise, does not relieve the property from taxation.

A deduction of debts from credits may be authorized, Con. art. 13, sec. 3.

What deductions allowed on assessment of bank stock, note to § 5867.

An insurance company is not entitled to deduct from its credits debts for fire lossses or policy cancellations which may thereafter occur and which, as a matter of fact, do occur before the taxes become delinquent.

Home Fire Ins. Co. v. Lynch, 19 U. 189; 56 P. 681.

Notes and accounts of policy holders representing portions of unearned premiums of an insurance company, although likely to be defeated upon the happening of a contingency, must be assessed at their full value.

Id.

5879. (2519.) Blank statements to be furnished assessors. The state board of equalization must furnish the assessor of each county with blank forms of statements provided for in § 5877, affixing thereto an affidavit, which must be substantially as follows:

I, ..., do swear that I am a resident of the county of ....., and that my postoffice address is .....; that the above list contains a full and correct statement of all property subject to taxation, which I, or any firm of which I am a member, or any corporation, association, or company of which I am president, cashier, secretary, or managing agent, owned, claimed, possessed, or controlled, at twelve o'clock m. on the second Monday of January last, and which is not already assessed this year; and that I have not in any manner whatsoever transferred or disposed of any property, or placed any property out of said county or out of my possession for the purpose of avoiding any assessment upon the same, or making this statement; and that the debts therein stated as owing by me are justly due and owing to others.

The affidavit to the statement on behalf of the firm or corporation must state the principal place of business of the firm or corporation, and in other respects must conform substantially to the preceding form. The time when taxes become delinquent, and the time of the meeting of the county board of equalization must be stated in such form. Am'd '05, p. 240.

5880. (2520.) Id. To taxpayer. Return. Corrections. The blank form of statement must be furnished to the taxpayer by mail or left at his residence or usual place of business, or may be delivered to him personally. The assessor may fill out the statement at the time he presents it, or he may require the taxpayer, within an appointed time, not less than twenty days, to return the same to him, properly filled out. The assessor must, either in person or by mail, deliver to the person making the statement a copy of the same, if corrections are made, showing such corrections.

Form of statement, § 5877; affidavit thereto, § 5879.

5881. (2521.) Assessor may require affidavit. Witnesses. Penalty. Every assessor has power:

1. To require any person found within such assessor's county to make and subscribe an affidavit respecting his property, giving his name and place of residence, and postoffice address;

Every person who wilfully refuses to furnish the statement hereinbefore required, or to make and subscribe such affidavit respecting his name and place of residence, or to appear and testify when requested so to do by the assessor, as above provided, for each and every refusal, and as often as the same is repeated, shall forfeit to the county the sum of $100, to be recovered by action brought in the name of the assessor in a justice's court. In case such affidavit shows the residence of the person making the same to be in any county other than that in which it is taken, or the statement discloses property in any county other than that in which it is made, the assessor must file the affidavit or statement in his office, and transmit a copy of the same, certified by him, to the assessor of the county in which such residence or property is therein shown to be. All money recovered by any assessor under the provisions of this section must be by him paid into the treasury of his county.

Affidavit of taxpayer, § 5879.

5882. (2522.) Refusal to make statement. If any person, after demand made by the assessor, neglects or refuses to give, under oath, the statement herein provided for, or to comply with the other requirements of this title, the assessor must note the refusal on the assessment book opposite his name, and must make an estimate of the value of the property of such person, and the value so fixed by the assessor shall not be reduced by the board of county commissioners.

5883. (2523.) Absent owner. Estimate. If the owner or claimant of any property not listed by any other person is absent or unknown, the assessor must make an estimate of the value of such property.

5884. (2524.) Id. Where known. Where unknown. If the name of the absent owner is known to the assessor, or if it appears of record in the office of the county recorder where the property is situated, the property must be assessed to such name. If unknown to the assessor, and if it does not appear of record as aforesaid, the property must be assessed to "unknown owners."

Where property was owned jointly by W. and H., an assessment to "W. et al." was erroneous.

Asper v. Moon, 24 U. 241; 67 P. 409.

But an assessment to "S. P. R. et al.," S. P. R. being one of the heirs of the deceased owner was sufficient.

O. S. L. R. Co. v. Hallock, 41 U. 378; 126 P. 394.

If name of owner unknown property must be assessed to "unknown owner." If name of owner appears of record, assessment to "unknown owner" is void.

Jungk v. Snyder, 28 U. 1; 78 P. 168.

5885. (2525.) Statement of property in other counties. The assessor, as soon as he receives a statement of any taxable property situated in another county, must make a copy of such statement for each county in which the same is situated, and transmit the same, by mail, to the assessor of the proper county, who must assess the same as other taxable property therein.

5886. (2526.) Goods consigned. All personal property consigned for sale to any person within this state from any place out of the state must be assessed as any other property.

Assessment of merchandise, § 5891.

5887. (2527.) Person assessed as agent, etc. When a person is assessed as agent, trustee, bailee, guardian, executor, or administrator, his representative designation must be added to his name and the assessment entered on a separate line from his individual assessment.

Property in litigation, § 5906.

5888. (2528.) Firm or corporate property, where assessed. The property of every firm and corporation must be assessed in the county where the property is situated, and must be assessed in the name of the firm or corporation.

Property assessed where situated, §§ 5875, 2526.

5889. (2529.) Decedents' estates. The undistributed or unpartitioned property of deceased persons may be assessed to their heirs, guardians, executors, or administrators, or any one of them, and the payment of taxes made by either binds all the parties in interest for their equal proportion.

Tax on estates must be ordered paid, §§ 6013, 7767.

Evidence that in the partition property "was assessed to S. P. R., et al., S. P. R. being one of the heirs of the deceased owner, was sufficient to sustain a finding that the property was properly assessed and the taxes properly levied so as to create a lien thereon.
O. S. L. R. Co. v. Hallock, 41 U. 378; 126 P. 394.

5890. (2530.) Corporate franchise and stock, where assessed. The capital stock and franchises of corporations and persons, except as may be otherwise provided, must be listed and taxed in the county, city, town, or district where the principal office or place of business of such corporation or person is located; if there be no principal office or place of business in the state, then at the place in the state where any such corporation or person transacts business.

Franchises, where assessed, § 5873.

5891. (2532.) Where assessed. Merchants and manufacturers. The personal property belonging to the business of a merchant or manufacturer must be listed in the city, town, or district where such property is situated.

Goods consigned for sale, assessment, § 5886.

5892. (2533.) Id. Express and stage companies, etc. The personal property of express, transportation, and stage companies, steamboats, vessels, and other water craft must be listed and assessed in the county, city, town, or district where such property is usually kept.

5893. (2534.) Id. Gas and water companies. The personal property and franchises of gas and water companies must be listed and assessed in the county, city, town, or district where the principal works are located. Gas and water mains and pipes laid in roads, streets, or alleys are personal property.

5894. (2535.) Id. Bridges and ferries. Bridges and ferries and their franchises owned by persons or corporations must be listed and assessed in the county, city, town, or district where such property, or any portion thereof, is located, and such bridges are personal property.

5895. (2536.) Id. Railroad, telegraph, etc., lines, wholly in one county. Railroads, street railroads, car, telegraph, and telephone lines operated wholly in one county, and electric light lines, and similar improvements, and the franchises; canals, ditches, and flumes, and the franchises of the same, when separately taxable, must be listed and assessed in the county in which such property is located, and the assessor must require the owner of such property, or his agent, or any officer of a corporation owning the same, to make a verified statement, containing a list of the number of miles such property is operated in the county, and the value thereof.

Assessment by state board of equalization if operated in more than one county, §§ 5873, 5984, sub. 5.

State board cannot assess railroad property, etc., situated wholly in one county.

TRANSIENT STOCK.

('09, p. 272; '11, p. 90; '15, p. 92.)

5896. (2537.) "Transient stock" defined. For the purpose of taxation as hereinafter provided, transient stock shall be deemed to be:

1. All stock brought into the state by any person or persons for the purpose of being grazed or fed for any length of time exceeding twenty days.

2. All stock which is driven or removed from one county to another, or from this state to any other state, for the purpose of being grazed or fed for any length of time exceeding twenty days.

R. S. '98, § 2537; '99, p. 62; '01, p. 103; '07, p. 60; '09, p. 272; '15, p. 92.

State of Utah, county of ....., ss.

I hereby certify that on the ..... day of ....., I brought into the county of ..... from ....., ... head of ....., branded ....., on the ..... and marked .....

Dated this ..... day of ....., 19.....

Signed.....

By....., Agent.

R. S. '98, §§ 2537, 2542; '99, p. 62; '01, p. 105; '07, p. 60; '09, p. 272; '11, p. 90; '15, p. 92.

5898. (2538.) Duty of assessor. Certificate of assessment. It shall be the duty of the assessor to procure said certificates and, upon the filing thereof, to keep an index in his office, and provided such transient stock have not been previously assessed, enter an abstract of such certificates on the assessment roll for the current year, and issue any further certificates of assessment of such herd showing the time and place, number and description of the animals assessed, whether the taxes were paid in advance or a bond given, which certificates shall be substantially in the following form:

State of Utah, county of ....., ss.

I hereby certify that I have this day assessed ..... head of ....., branded ..... on ....., and marked as follows ....., property of ....., a resident of ..... county, state of .....

The owner has given bond to secure taxes. Paid taxes in advance for the year .....

Dated this ..... day of ....., 19.....

..... Assessor.

..... Deputy.

'09, p. 274; '11, p. 91.

Where assessor gives the owner a certificate showing the assessment of stock in the county where he resides, such certificate, upon being delivered to the assessor of another county where the stock may thereafter be, exempts such stock from further assessment for that year, and, if the latter assessor again assesses the stock and sells it for taxes, he is liable in damages.

Taylor v. Robertson, 16 U. 330; 52 P. 1.

5900. Exemption from additional taxation, when. Whenever the owner of any transient stock or his agent shall thereafter drive or remove any such stock into another county, he shall not be required to pay any additional taxes to such county; provided, that such owner or his agent shall have complied with § 5897, and filed said certificate within twenty days from the date of entry in each county into which said stock are driven or removed.

tionment to certain funds. It shall be the duty of the county commissinoers of each county wherein such certificates have been filed to make a demand during the month of January upon the commissioners of the county where the entire tax of the previous year on the transient live stock represented by such certificates was collected, claiming from such county such proportion of the taxes as the time during which such live stock ranged in said county would bear to the whole of the year, which claim, after deducting therefrom the cost of assessing and collecting the same, which shall not exceed 5 per cent of the amount claimed, shall be paid by the county receiving the entire tax; provided, that no portion of the tax collected for state or state school or state bounty purposes shall be considered in this connection. Said demand shall be accompanied by certified copies of the certificates upon which said sums are based. All district school funds received hereunder by any county participating in the distribution of taxes on transient stock, other than one county where such stock are assessed, shall be apportioned to the several school districts of the county in the same manner as the county school fund is apportioned.

tire tax so assessed shall be credited to an amount that shall be in the same proportion to the entire tax as the time such property was out of the state bears to the whole year, but such credits shall not in any instance be for more than one-half of the total tax charged for the year. Where transient live stock located in the state at the beginning of the year is, subsequent to the assessment, removed to another state for the purpose of being grazed or fed for a period exceeding twenty days, and not for the purpose of being sold or marketed, the county treasurer of the county in which such live stock is assessable, upon satisfactory proof of such removal and of the time during which such live stock has been out of the state, and of the fact that taxes have been paid on such live stock for a period at least equal to the time such live stock has been out of the state, shall credit the tax chargeable under such assessment pursuant to the provisions of this section, providing for the assessment of transient live stock brought into this state. Am'd '17, p. 104.

OTHER PROPERTY ASSESSABLE.

5906. (2543.) Property in litigation in hands of receiver, etc. Money and property in litigation in possession of a county treasurer or of a court or a clerk thereof, or a receiver, must be assessed to such treasurer, clerk, or receiver, and the taxes paid thereon under the direction of the court.

Property in the hands of executors, guardians, etc., §§ 5887, 5889, 7767.

5907. (2544.) Property concealed, etc., doubly taxed. Any property wilfully concealed, removed, transferred, or misrepresented by the owner or agent thereof, to evade taxation, upon discovery must be assessed at double its value, and the assessment so made must not be reduced by the board of county commissioners.

5908. (2545.) Property escaping assessment. Any property discovered by the assessor to have escaped assessment may be assessed at any time, and when so assessed shall be reported by the assessor to the auditor, and the auditor shall charge the county treasurer with the taxes on such property, and the treasurer shall give notice to the party assessed therewith.

The assessor properly assessed for taxes money on deposit in this state, where the depositor resides in another state.
In re Thourot's Estate, 51 U. —; 172 P. 679.

ASSESSMENT BOOK.

5909. (2546.) State board of equalization must furnish form of assessment book. The state board of equalization must prepare and furnish to each county an assessment book with appropriate headings, in which must be listed by the county assessor of each county all property within the county, and in which must be specified in separate columns under the appropriate head:

1. The name of the person to whom the property is assessed, together with his postoffice address, giving the street and number or the number of lot and block so far as possible to obtain same from taxpayers' statements, county records, or otherwise;
2. Land by township, range, section, or fractional section or lot; and when such land is not a United States land division or subdivision, by metes and bounds, or other description sufficient to identify it, giving an estimate of the number of acres (not exceeding in each and every tract 640 acres), locality, and the improvements thereon;
3. City and town lots, naming the city or town, and number of the lot and block according to the system of numbering in such city or town, and the improvements thereon;
4. Mines and mining claims by name and number of lot;
5. All personal property, showing the number, kind, amount, and quality; but a failure to enumerate in detail such personal property does not invalidate the assessment;
6. The cash value of real estate other than city or town lots;
7. The cash value of improvements on such real estate;
8. The cash value of city and town lots;
9. The cash value of improvements on city and town lots;

10. The cash value of improvements on real estate assessed to persons other than the owners of the real estate;

11. The cash value of all personal property exclusive of money;

12. The purchase price per acre paid the government for mines and mining claims;

13. The amount of money;

14. Taxable improvements owned by the person, firm, association, or corporation located upon land exempt from taxation must, as to the manner of assessment, be assessed as other real estate upon the assessment roll. No value, however, must be assessed against the exempt land, nor under any circumstances must the land be charged with or become responsible for the assessment made against any taxable improvements located thereon;

15. The total value of all property;

16. Such other things as the state board of equalization may require; provided, that all assessments made on property within this state prior to the taking effect of this title, so far as the same have been made in accordance with law, are hereby validated and confirmed; and, provided, further, that the state board of equalization is empowered, whenever it may deem it necessary, to furnish the assessment book required by this section, in two books, viz., one book for the listing of all real estate, improvements, mines, and mining claims, and one book for the listing of all personal property. Am'd '01, p. 124.

If description is not certain no title passes by tax sale, note to § 6018.

5910. (2547.) Completion of assessor's book. Affidavit. On or before the first Monday of May in each year the assessor must complete his assessment book. He must take and subscribe an affidavit in the assessment book, to be substantially as follows:

I, ..., the assessor of ..... county, do swear that before the first Monday in May, 19....., I made diligent inquiry and examination, and visited and inspected, either personally or by deputy, all of the property within the county subject to assessment by me; that the same has been assessed on the assessment book equally and uniformly, according to the best of my judgment, information, and belief, at its full cash value; that I have faithfully complied with all the duties imposed on the assessor under the revenue laws; and that I have not imposed any unjust or double assessments through malice or ill will or otherwise, or allowed any one to escape a just and equal assessment through favor or reward, or otherwise.

The assessor shall not be paid or draw any compensation for services after the first Monday in May of each year, until said affidavit is taken and subscribed. A failure to take or subscribe such affidavit, or any affidavit, will not in any manner affect the validity of the assessment. Am'd '07, p. 46.

5911. (2548.) Assessor's plats. The assessor must, when directed so to do by the board of county commissioners, make in a map book a plat of the various blocks within any county, city, or town, and mark thereon in each subdivision the name of the person to whom it is assessed.

County surveyor shall make maps for assessors, 1618. Present ownership maps, §§ 1596-1598.

may be given in a separate statement, and it may be mailed at any time before the 15th day of September in each year. Am'd '09, p. 199.

5914. (2551.) Failure of assessor to deliver assessment book, etc. Penalties. Every assessor who fails to complete and deliver his assessment book to the county treasurer within the time prescribed by law, or who fails to transmit the information mentioned in the preceding section to the state board of equalization, shall forfeit the sum of $1000, to be recovered on his official bond, for the use of the county, or to be deducted from his salary by the board of county commissioners.

5915. (2552.) Claimant of land assessed to another. Lands once described on the assessment book need not be described a second time, but any person claiming the same and desiring to be assessed therefor may have his name inserted with that of the person to whom such land is assessed.

MAPS, PLATS, AND MINING PATENTS.

5916. (2553.) List of mining patents. Maps and plats. The state board of equalization shall furnish the county assessor, annually, by February 1, a list of all patents of mining locations and of coal lands, and the number of acres in each, and all lands for which receivers' final receipts have been issued for which patents have not been issued, not previously reported. The board of county commissioners must, on or before the first Monday after the first Tuesday of January of each year, provide maps, corrected and revised to the 1st day of January at 12 m. next preceding, for the use of the assessor, showing the private lands owned or claimed in the county, and, if surveyed under the authority of the United States, the divisions and subdivisions of the surveys. Maps of cities and towns or school districts may in like manner be provided. The cost of making such maps where they have not already been made, or of revising the same, shall be paid for, one-half by the state and one-half by the county. Am'd '09, p. 95.

Mines and net proceeds taxable, § 5864.
County surveyor to make maps, § 1618.
Present ownership maps, §§ 1596-1598.
Query, whether this section affected by amendment of § 1618, which also purports to amend § 5916, '01, p. 101.

5917. (2554.) List of state lands sold transmitted to assessor. On or before the first Monday in February of each year, the secretary of the state board of land commissioners must make out and transmit to the assessor of each county where lands or lots lie that may have been sold by the state, for which certificates of purchase, patents, or deeds have issued during the year preceding, certified lists of such lands or lots, giving a description thereof, by divisions or subdivisions or lots and blocks, together with the names of the purchasers thereof.

No tax to be levied upon lands while title remains in the state, except to extent of purchase money paid, § 5862.

ASSESSOR LIABLE FOR FAILURE OF DUTY.

5918. (2555.) Assessor liable for taxes, when. The assessor and his sureties are liable on his official bond for all taxes on property within the county which, through his wilful failure or neglect, is unassessed or which has been by him wilfully assessed at less than its cash value.

5919. (2556.) Id. Action on bond. The county attorney must, after the assessor completes the assessment book for the year, commence an action upon the assessor's bond for all taxes lost from such wilful failure or neglect.

5920. (2557.) Id. Evidence and judgment. On the trial of such action, the value of the property unassessed being shown, judgment for the amount of taxes that should have been collected thereon and remaining uncollected must be entered.

5921. (2558.) Property brought into county after first Monday in May. When any personal property liable to taxation is brought into a county at any time after the first Monday in May, and such property has not been assessed for that year, it must be listed and assessed the same as if it had been in the county at the time of the regular assessment, and such assessment shall be reported by the assessor to the auditor, who shall charge the treasurer with the taxes thereon, and the tax must be collected by the treasurer as provided in this title.

ASSESSMENT BY STATE BOARD.

5922. (2559.) Statement of railroads, etc., to state board. The president, secretary, superintendent, or managing agent, or such other officer as the state board of equalization may designate, of any corporation, and each person or association of persons, owning or operating any railroad, street railroad, car, telegraph, telephone, electric light, pipe line, power, canal, irrigating, or express companies in more than one county in this state, must, on or before the second Monday in February in each year, furnish the said board a statement signed and sworn to by one of such officers, or by the person or one of the persons forming such association, showing in detail for the year ending at 12 o'clock m. on the 1st day of January in each year, all property, real, personal, or otherwise, owned by said corporation, person, or association of persons in the state, including a statement of mileage in each county, as valued at 12 o'clock m. on the 1st day of January of each year, and such other information as the board may require. And the owner or owners of all mines or mining claims in the state must, on or before the second Monday in February in each year, furnish a statement in detail showing the net proceeds of such mines or mining claims for the year ending at 12 o'clock M. on the 1st day of January next preceding and a statement in detail showing all the machinery used in mining and all property and surface improvements upon or appurtenant to such mines or mining claims which have a value separate and independent of all such mines or mining claims as valued at 12 o'clock m. on the 1st day of January of each year, which must be sworn to by the president, secretary, superintendent, or managing agent, or such other officer as the state board of equalization may designate, or by the owners of such mines or mining claims. Any officer of a railroad, street railroad, car, telegraph, telephone, electric light, pipe line, power, canal, irrigating, or express company, or any owner or owners of mines and mining claims, or officers or companies owning mines or mining claims, failing on demand to furnish the statement required, shall be subject to the penalty provided in § 5881. Am'd '99, p. 102; '07, p. 9; '09, p. 96.

No tax to be levied upon lands while title remains in the state except to extent of purchase money paid, § 5862.

Franchises, etc., operating in more than one county, § 5873.

Under this section and §§ 5923, 5924 (prior to amendment of 1907), each county through which a railroad is operated was entitled to a tax upon the average per cent of its rolling stock used within the county, though the principal place of business may be located in another county.

S. L. Co. v. Bd. of Ed., 18 U. 172; 55 P. 378.

The state board has authority to demand and obtain all facts necessary to enable it to make a just assessment and apportionment of the tax upon rolling stock among the various counties, and may reconvene for that purpose.

Id.

State board cannot assess property or franchise situated wholly within one county; law giving such authority is contrary to Con. art 13, sec. 11.

State ex rel. v. Eldredge, 27 U. 477; 76 P. 337.

5923. (2560.) Sessions of board. Assessments. Apportionment. The state board of equalization must meet at the state capital on the first Monday in March and continue in open session at the state capital, or at such other place in the state as the board may determine, until the first Monday in May, and later if the business of the board requires it, and at such meetings assess at their actual value at 12 o'clock m. on the 1st day in January of each year all the property and franchises of railroad, car, street railroad, telegraph, telephone, electric light, pipe line, power, canal, irrigating, and express companies operating in more than one county of this state; and all the machinery used in mining, and all property and surface improvements upon or appurtenant to mines and mining claims, which have a value separate and independent of all such mines or mining claims, and the net annual proceeds of all mines or mining claims, but franchises derived from the United States must not be assessed. All such property must be assessed in the name of the owner, person, corporation, or association owning, leasing, or using the same. As soon as such assessment is completed a copy of same must be furnished to the owner. On the 3rd Monday in May, the board shall again reconvene in open session at the state capital, and continue in session not later than the 3rd Monday in June, and at such session the owner of any property assessed by the state board of equalization may apply to have the same corrected in any particular, and the board may correct and increase or lower the assessment made by it. After all applications for corrections are disposed of, the board must apportion the total assessment of all property and franchises of such companies, mines, and mining claims to the several counties through or into which the property of such companies extends or operates, or in which the mines or mining claims are situated, as follows:

1. All the property of railroads, street railroads, telegraph, telephone, electric light, pipe line, power, canal, irrigating, and express companies, other than franchises and rolling stock, and all the property of mines and mining claims to each county through which said railroad, street railroad, telegraph, telephone, electric light, pipe line, power, canal, irrigating, or express company operates, or in which said mines or mining claims are situated, in proportion to the value thereof in each county;

2. The franchises and rolling stock of all railroads and street railroads to the county through which said railroads or street railroads operate in the proportion that the length of the main tracks, side tracks, passing tracks, switches, and tramways of such railroad or street railroad companies respectively in each county bear to the total length of the main tracks, passing tracks, and side tracks, switches, and tramways thereof in the state. Rolling stock of standard and narrow gauge railroad of said companies shall be apportioned to their standard and narrow gauge lines respectively;

3. The franchises of telegraph, telephone, electric light, pipe line, power, canal, irrigating, and express companies to each county in the proportion that the value of the property of said business in each county bears to the total property of said business in the state;

4. The assessment of property of car companies shall be apportioned to the several counties of the state in which railroads are operated in the proportion that the length of main tracks, passing tracks, side tracks, switches, and tramways of all railroads in each county bear to the total length of the main tracks, passing tracks, side tracks, switches, and tramways of all the railroads in the state; provided, that the railroads mentioned in this subdivision are the railroads assessed by the state board of equalization;

5. The net proceeds of all mines and mining claims shall be apportioned respectively to the county in which the mines or mining claims assessed for same are situated.

On the first Monday in July the board shall again reconvene at the state capital, or at such other place as it may determine, and at such session shall examine and compare the reports of the county auditors made on the first Monday in July for the purpose of equalizing the taxable property of the several counties in the state for the purpose of taxation; make the annual state tax levy, and remain in session until the fourth Monday in July, and later if the business of the board be not completed.

State board to furnish blanks and assessment book, § 5909.

Where a mining company incorrectly reported to the state board of equalization the gross yield of certain mines as located in Utah county when they were largely located in Juab county, and under such report the assessed valuation was apportioned to Utah county, plaintiff, Juab county, after such apportionment, and the rate of taxation had been fixed in accordance therewith and all levies had been completed, could not maintain mandamus to compel the state board of equalization to grant a hearing and reapportion the assessed value of such mining properties to the plaintiff.

Juab County v. Bailey, 44 U. 377; 140 P. 764.

The determination by the state board of equalization, in order to apportion railroad property for taxation, as to the boundary line between two counties, is conclusive for the current year, and the board, even though it apportions all railroad property to one county in May, has power to make a reapportionment of the property to another county on the 3rd of August in the same year.

Union Pac. R. R. Co. v. Summit County, 48 U. 540; 161 P. 463.

The board's determination in apportioning property to counties becomes conclusive for the current year when all the apportionments, including those to lesser taxing units, have been made and the taxes have been levied for the year.

Rich County v. Bailey, 47 U. 378; 154 P. 773.

Where the state board by mistake apportioned to a county railroad property which it afterwards became satisfied should have been apportioned to a different county, it had jurisdiction at any time before the second Monday in August to correct the error.

Id.

5924. (2561.) Entry of assessments. County board cannot change. The state board of equalization shall, before the fourth Monday of June, transmit by mail to the county auditor of each county to which such apportionment has been made, a statement showing the property assessed and the assessed value of same, as fixed and apportioned to the county. The county auditor must enter the statement on the assessment roll or book of the county, and enter the amount of the assessment apportioned to the county in the column of the assessment book or roll, as aforesaid, which shows the total value of all property for taxation of the county. No board of county commissioners or county board of equalization has power to change any assessment fixed by the state board of equalization. Am'd '09, p. 98.

APPORTIONMENT BY COUNTY BOARD.

Levy by county commissioners, § 5993.

5926. (2563.) Application to state board to change assessment. If the owner of any property assessed by the state board of equalization is dissatisfied with the assessment made by such board, such owner may, between the third Monday in May and the second Monday in June, apply to the board to have the same corrected in any particular, and the board may correct and increase or lower the assessment made by it, so as to equalize the same with the assessment of other property in the state. Am'd '09, p. 99.

May change valuations, §§ 5984, 5985.

Under Con. art. 13, sec. 11, the state board of equalization has power, if necessary for the purpose of equalization, either to raise or lower the total valuation of the property of any county fixed by the county board and assessor, even though it may by such action raise or lower the aggregate valuation of all the counties in the state; but it cannot encroach upon the domain of the county boards in an attempt to adjust and equalize valuations of property within the county, as between individuals.

State v. Thomas, 16 U. 86; 50 P. 615.

5927. (2564.) State board to prepare record of assessment of railroads, etc. The state board of equalization must prepare each year a book, to be called "Record Assessment of Railroad and other Companies," in which must be entered each assessment made by the board, either in writing or both writing and printing. Each assessment so entered must be signed by the president and the secretary of the board. The record of the apportionment of the assessment made by the board to the counties must be made in a separate book, to be called "Record of Apportionment of Assessments." In such last described book must be entered the names of the railroad and other lines assessed by the board, the names of the corporations to which, or the name of the person or association to whom, the same were assessed, the whole number of miles of the railroad, car, street railroad, telegraph, and telephone lines in the state, the number of miles in each county, the total assessment of all such property, and the amount of the apportionment of such total assessments to each county. There must be also entered in detail the names of the mines or mining claims whose machinery, and whose property and surface improvements which have a value separate and independent of all such mines or mining claims, which have been assessed by the board, also the name of the owners of the same. Am'd '09, p. 99.

5928. (2565.) County and state assessments the only basis of taxation. The assessment made by the county assessor, and that of the state board of equalization, as apportioned by the board of county commissioners to each city, town, school, road, or other district in their respective counties, is the only basis of taxation for the county or any subdivision thereof, and for incorporated cities and towns. All taxes upon road, school, or other local districts, and all general city, city school, and town taxes must be assessed in the same manner and by the same officers as county taxes, and all such taxes, except the municipal taxes of cities of the third class and of towns, shall be collected in the same manner and by the same officers as county taxes.

Assessment for cities and towns, § 6100. Collection of city and town taxes, § 6105.

ASSESSMENT OF NET PROCEEDS OF MINES.

5929. (2566.) Net proceeds of mines. Every person, corporation, or association engaged in mining upon a vein or lode, or placer mining claim, containing any gold, silver, coal, or other valuable mineral deposits, must each year make out a statement of the gross yield of the above named metals or minerals from each mine owned or worked by such person, corporation, or association during the year next preceding the first Monday in January, and the value thereof, which statement shall give the fine ounces of gold and sliver, and pounds of lead and copper, also the net annual proceeds of coke made from coal, or bullion or matte made from ore not taxed which is deemed a product of mines. Also a statement showing all the machinery used in mining, and all property and surface improvements upon or appurtenant to each mine or mining claim, which have a value separate and independent of all such mines or mining claims owned or worked by such person, corporation, or association during the year preceding the 1st day of January, and the value of the same at 12 o'clock on the 1st day of January. Such statement must be verified by the oath of such person, or by the president, secretary, superintendent, or managing agent of such corporation or association, who must furnish the same to the state board of equalization on or before the second Monday of February in each year. The owner or owners of any mines, dissatisfied with the assessment made upon its net proceeds or other property, may, between the third Monday in May and the second Monday in June, apply to the board to have the same corrected in any particular, and the board may correct and increase or lower the assessment made by it to equalize the same with the assessment of other property. Am'd '99, p. 103; '09, p. 99.

Authority to tax mines, etc., Con. art. 13, sec. 4, and note; also § 5864.

Occupation and privilege tax on mines, §§ 5945-5962.

The fiscal year for the assessment of the net, annual product of mines, under revenue act of 1896, commenced June 1st. Such net product from June 1st to December 31, 1896, was not assessable or taxable until ascertained in June of following year, but could be included in tax of 1897. See Con. art. 13, sec. 4, the provisions of which are held to be not self-executing.

Mercur G. M. & M. Co. v. Spry, 16 U. 222; 52 P. 382.

Prior to the going into effect of laws 1896, p. 423, the net annual proceeds of mines were not taxable.

Centennial-Eureka M. Co. v. Juab Co., 22 U. 395; 62 P. 1024.

The net proceeds of mines are taxable at the place where the ores are taken to the surface through the main workings, and, being personal property should be taxed as other personalty.

Eureka H. M. Co. v. Eureka City, 22 U. 447; 63 P. 654.

Query: Does the failure to make application for reduction between the first and third Monday in June defeat the right?

Bassett v. Utah Copper Co., 219 Fed. 811.

Where ore, thrown in the dump during previous years, is shipped and reduced, the net to be taxed is the gross received less the cost of handling for the particular year for which taxed.

Mammoth M. Co. v. Juab County, 50 U. —; 170 P. 78.

5930. (2567.) Id. What to contain. The statement mentioned in the preceding section as to net proceeds of mines must contain a true and correct account of the actual expenditures of money and labor in extracting the ore or mineral from the mine, transporting the same to the mill or reduction works, and the reduction of the ore and the conversion of the same into money, or its equivalent, during the year. Am'd '09, p. 100.

5931. (2568.) Id. Expenditures allowed. In making the statement of the expenditures mentioned in the preceding section there must be allowed all money expended for necessary labor, machinery, and supplies needed and used in the mining operations, for improvements necessary in and about the workings of the mine for reducing the ore, for the construction of mills and reduction works used and operated in connection with the mine, for transporting the ore, and for extracting the metals and minerals therefrom; but the money invested in the mines or improvements during any year except the year immediately preceding such statement must not be included therein. Such expenditures shall not include the salaries or any portion thereof of any person or officers not actually engaged in the work of the mine, or personally superintending the management thereof. Am'd '09, p. 100.

It is not intended by this section that the state should take over the management of the mine and say that this shaft is unwise or this stripping improper.

Bassett v. Utah Copper Co., 219 Fed. 811.

Money expended for the enlargement of mills used solely in connection with the mine owned by the company should be allowed as a deduction, but expenditures for bunk houses, mess house, and dormitory at the mills should not be allowed.

Id.

5932. (2569.) Id. Special assessment, book for. The state board of equalization must, at its meeting commencing on the first Monday in March, assess the net proceeds of mines, and before the third Monday in June apportion the total assessment of the net proceeds of mines to the several counties in which the mines are located. The state board of equalization must prepare each year a book to be called the "Assessment Book of the Net Proceeds of Mines" in which must be listed the net proceeds of all mines in the state, and in which must be specified, in separate columns, and under the appropriate head:

1. Owner of the mine;
2. Name and description and location of the mine;
3. County in which it is situated;
4. Number of tons extracted during the year;
5. Gross yield in dollars;
6. Actual cost of extracting same from the mine;
7. Actual cost of transportation to place of reduction or sale;
8. Actual cost of reduction or sale;
9. Cost of construction and repairs of mine and reduction work;
10. Net proceeds in dollars;
11. Fine ounces of gold and silver, pounds of lead and copper stated separately. Am'd '99, p. 104; '09, p. 101.

State geologist to assist, §§ 5779, 5782.

CHAPTER 4.

OCCUPATION AND PRIVILEGE TAX ON MINING.

('17, p. 280.)

Tax on mines, § 5864. Tax on improvements on mines, § 5935.

5947. Statements of gross yield. Time. Deductions. Exceptions. Every person, corporation, or association engaged as specified in § 5945, must, each year beginning with the year 1918, make out a statement of the gross yield of all metals or minerals from each mine or mining claim worked or operated by such person, corporation, or association during the calendar year next preceding the first Monday in January of 1918, and every year thereafter, which statement shall contain all the data and information in regard to the net and gross yield of mines required by § 5929; provided, however, that the same statement required by § 5929, if it contain also all the information required by this chapter, may be filed for both the purposes of said section and of this chapter. Said statement must be verified by the oath of the person or by the president, secretary, superintendent, or managing agent of every corporation or association who shall engage in mining as specified in § 5945. Such statement must be furnished to the state board of equalization on or before the second Monday of February in each year. Such statement must contain a true and correct account of the actual expenditures of money and labor in extracting the ore or mineral from the mine, transporting the same to the mill or reduction works, and the reduction of the ore and conversion of the same into money, or its equivalent, during the year. In making the statement of expenditures herein mentioned there shall be allowed a deduction of all money expended for necessary labor, taxes, machinery, and supplies needed and used in the mining operations, for improvements necessary in and about the workings of the mine for reducing the ore, for the construction of mills and reduction works used and operated in connection with the mine, for transporting the ore, and for extracting the metals and minerals therefrom; but the money invested in the mines or improvements during any year except the year immediately preceding such statement must not be included therein. Such expenditures shall not include the salaries, or any portion thereof, of any person or officers not actually engaged in the work of the mine, or personally superintending the management thereof.

5949. Tax book. Contents. Date of assessments. The state board of equalization must prepare and keep each year a book to be known as the tax book of the occupation and business of mining, in which must be listed in separate columns, under the appropriate heads, the following:

1. Owner of the mine;
2. Name and description and location of the mine;
3. County in which it is situated;
4. Number of tons extracted during the year;
5. Gross yield in dollars;
6. Actual cost of extracting same from the mine;
7. Actual cost of transportation to place of reduction or sale;
8. Actual cost of reduction or sale;
9. Cost of construction and repairs of mine and reduction work;
10. Net proceeds in dollars;
11. Amount of levy;
12. Amount of tax.

The state board of equalization shall assess the tax on occupations and businesses, as specified in this chapter, at its meeting commencing in March. Said tax shall be set out in the tax book above mentioned in the column headed "Amount of Tax," and shall include the $1 and the percentage on the net proceeds, if any, provided for in this chapter.

5950. Notice of levy. Hearings by board. Powers. A statement of the amount of the tax, after being so entered in the proper column, shall be sent to each person, corporation, or association liable therefor. On the first Monday in May the board shall again reconvene in open session at the state capitol and continue in session not later than the first Monday in June, and at such session the person, corporation, or association whose mining occupation has been taxed for the privilege of carrying on a mining occupation, if dissatisfied, may apply to the state board of equalization to have the tax corrected in any particular, and the board may correct any error in the amount of said tax.

5952. Notice of taxes due. Collections and delinquents. The state treasurer shall proceed to collect the occupation taxes, and shall furnish to each person, corporation, or association liable therefor, by mail, postage prepaid, a notice of the tax due and when and where the same is payable, and that such tax will be delinquent at twelve o'clock noon on Saturday next prior to the first Monday in December.

together with the penalty, are paid before the third Monday of December next thereafter, the property upon which said taxes are a lien will be sold for taxes, penalty, and costs at the front door of the capitol at Salt Lake City, Utah. The delinquent list shall be published three times in a daily newspaper with a general circulation throughout the state.

5955. Sales for delinquent taxes. Dates. Bids. Record. Receipts. On the third Monday of December of each year, the state treasurer shall expose for sale between the hours of 10 a. m. and 3 p. m. sufficient of the property on which the tax has become a lien to pay the taxes, penalty, and costs at public auction at the front door of the state capitol, and shall sell the same to the highest responsible bidder for cash, and the treasurer shall continue to sell from day to day between such hours until the property of all delinquents is exhausted, or the taxes, penalties, and costs are paid. In offering such property for sale, the treasurer shall offer the entire property on which said taxes are a lien, and the first bid received in an amount sufficient to pay the taxes and costs shall be accepted, unless a further bid in the same amount for less than the entire property be received. The highest and best bid shall be construed to mean the bid of that bidder who will pay the full amount of the taxes and costs for the smallest undivided portion of said property. The state treasurer shall make a record of all sales of property in a book to be kept by him for that purpose, therein describing the several parcels of property on which the taxes and costs were paid by the purchaser, on file in his office, stating in separate columns the amount of taxes and costs due. Purchaser shall not be required to pay the treasurer the amount of the penalty, but the same shall accrue for the benefit of the purchaser. When all sales have been made the treasurer shall file the record in his office. It shall be the duty of the state treasurer to issue a receipt to any person paying taxes on an undivided interest in property showing the property on which the taxes are paid, and in case any portion of the taxes on such property remain unpaid, it shall be the duty of the treasurer to issue a receipt to any person paying taxes and costs as in this chapter imposed.

5957. Sales to the state. Certificate to auditor. Credits. If at any tax sale under this chapter no person shall buy and pay the treasurer the amount of taxes and costs required to be paid, as aforesaid, on any property, the treasurer shall make to the state a certificate of sale and deliver the same to the state auditor, and such sale to the state shall have the same effect as if made to an individual, and the state auditor shall credit the treasurer with the amount of tax due thereon.

5958. Forms. Evidence. Copies for recorders. Credits on sales to state. Redemptions. The certificates of sale, when the property is sold to the state, shall be substantially in the following form:

This certifies that, on the ..... day of ....., 19....., in pursuance of law, I, as treasurer of the state of Utah, offered for sale, subject to redemption, as provided by law, the property situated in the county of ....., state of Utah, hereinafter described, for delinquent occupation tax, which tax is a lien on said property, said tax being assessed on the mining, occupation and business of ..... for the year ....., together with the penalty provided by law, and the costs of sale; that a description of the property sold is as follows, to-wit: .....; that the amount of taxes due is .....; that the penalty is ..... and the costs are ..... That pursuant to said offer no person offered to bid and pay the treasurer the amount of taxes and costs required to be paid as aforesaid; therefore, pursuant to law, said property was sold to the state, and this certificate issued as evidence thereof.

Dated ....., 19.....

Treasurer of the state of Utah.

The certificate of sale to be delivered to a purchaser other than the state shall be substantially in like form, with appropriate changes. Such certificate shall be prima facie evidence of the regularity of all proceedings connected with the assessment notice, levy, advertisement, and sale of the property therein described, and the burden of showing any irregularity in any of the proceedings, resulting in the sale of the property for the non-payment of delinquent taxes, shall be on him who asserts it. The state treasurer shall send by registered mail to the county recorder of every county in which is located property described in said certificate, a copy of said certificate. While a certificate of sale is held by the state, the treasurer shall not sell the property covered by such certificate for taxes, but the state auditor shall credit the treasurer with the amount of any additional taxes due for any occupation specified in this chapter, carried on or pursued in any subsequent year thereafter, and remaining unpaid. In any case the party redeeming shall pay all taxes that may be due, and interest, penalties, and costs that may accrue against any person, corporation, or association subsequently carrying on mining operations upon or in connection with the property sold for any prior delinquent occupation tax.

5959. Additional penalty. Interest. Costs. If any tax provided for by this chapter shall remain unpaid after the time for which said tax shall be delinquent, said tax shall be subject to a penalty of 5 per cent thereof, and shall, in addition, draw interest at the rate of 12 per cent per annum, and shall be subject to all costs incurred in connection with the advertising and sale of the property upon which said tax shall have become a lien.

5960. Redemptions similar. Property sold under the provisions of this chapter shall be subject to redemption in the same manner as property which has been sold for unpaid taxes levied against said property for general purposes.

ignate any county or district attorney in the state to bring and prosecute said action.

5962. Apportionment of funds collected hereunder. Of the funds collected under this chapter, seven-sixteenths thereof shall be covered into the state school fund and shall be apportioned to the several school districts as provided by law; the remaining nine-sixteenths to go to the general fund, and shall be distributed to the University of Utah and to the Agricultural College and to the branch of the Agricultural College at Cedar City in the proportions set forth in §§ 5214-5221. '17, p. 280.

CHAPTER 5.

EQUALIZATION OF TAXES.

5974. (2574.) County board of equalization. Sessions. The board of county commissioners is the county board of equalization, and must meet on the third Monday of May in each year to examine the assessment books and equalize the assessment of property in the county. It must continue in session for that purpose from time to time until the business of equalizing is disposed of, but not later than the second Monday in June. Am'd '15, p. 32.

Duty of the county board of equalization, Con. art. 13, sec. 11; § 1400x38.

To equalize city and town taxes, § 6104.

5975. (2575.) Powers of board. The board has power, after giving notice in such manner as it may by rule prescribe, to increase or lower any assessment contained in any assessment book, so as to equalize the assessment of the property contained therein, and make the assessment conform to the true value of such property in money. Said board may remit the taxes of indigent persons to an amount not exceeding $10 for the current year. Am'd '01, p. 94.

Remission of taxes of indigents authorized, Con. art. 13, sec. 2.

Similar provision as to indigents, etc., § 5979.

A tax law which fails to secure the equality and impartiality of the tax, or to provide for the equalization of the assessments, and for the appropriation of the tax to the purpose for which it is levied, is void.

Kerr v. Woolley, 3 U. 456; 24 P. 831.

Our method of equalizing and collecting taxes has always been considered due process of law.

S. L. City v. Armstrong, 15 U. 472; 49 P. 641.

State v. Armstrong, 19 U. 117; 56 P. 1076.

State v. Thomas, 16 U. 86; 50 P. 615.

A county board of equalization has power to equalize the valuation of property within its county between individuals and between localities.

State v. Thomas, 16 U. 86; 50 P. 615.

This section applies only to cases where individual assessments are affected, not to those involving the property of an entire district or locality. No notice necessary.

State ex rel. v. Armstrong, 19 U. 117; 56 P. 1076.

S. L. City v. Armstrong, 15 U. 472; 49 P. 641.

5976. (2576.) Reductions. Application. No reduction must be made in the valuation of property unless the party affected thereby or his agent makes and files with the board a written application therefor, verified by his oath, or shall appear before the county board of equalization and show facts upon which it is claimed such reduction should be made.

The word "complaint" as applied to boards of equalization is not used in the technical sense in which the word "complaint" is used in the code of civil procedure, and it is not necessary that a formal allegation of the charge in writing should be filed in a case in order to confer jurisdiction upon the board.

Where persons appear before a board of equalization in response to a notice, and are afforded an opportunity to be heard, objections to the form of the notice are waived.

C. P. Railroad Company v. Standing, 13 U. 488; 45 P. 344.

5977. (2577.) Id. Examination of person asking. Before the board grants the application or makes any reduction applied for, it may examine on oath the person or agent making the application touching the value of the property of such person. No reduction must be made unless such person or the agent making the application, if required, attends and answers all questions pertinent to the inquiry.

5978. (2578.) Id. Witnesses. Upon the hearing of the application the board may subpœna such witnesses, and hear and take such evidence in relation to the subject pending as in its discretion it may deem proper.

5979. (2579.) Id. Assessor to be present. Remission or abatement of taxes. During the session of the board, the assessor and any deputy whose testimony is needed must be present, and may make any statement or introduce and examine witnesses on questions before the board. The board may remit or abate the taxes of any insane, idiotic, infirm, or indigent person to an amount not exceeding $10 for the current year.

Remission of taxes of indigents in cities of third class and towns, § 6104.

Remission of taxes of indigents authorized Con. art. 13, sec. 2.

Similar provision, § 5975.

The provisions of this section for the remission or abatement of taxes of certain persons were in conflict with Con. art. 13, secs. 2 and 3, prior to amendment of 1900, and void. State v. Armstrong, 17 U. 166; 53 P. 981.

5982. (2582.) Id. Record of changes. Entry. Affidavit. The county auditor must record, in a book to be kept for that purpose, all changes, corrections, and orders made by the board; and during its session, or as soon as possible after its adjournment, must enter upon the assessment book all changes and corrections made by the board, and on or before the first Monday of July must affix his affidavit thereto, subscribed by him, as follows:

I, ..., do swear that, as county auditor of ..... county, I have kept correct minutes of all the acts of the board of county commissioners touching alterations in the assessment book; that all alterations agreed to or directed to be made have been made and entered in the book, and that no changes or alterations have been made therein except those authorized.

STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION; APPOINTMENT; DUTIES.

5983. (2583.) Appointment. Term. Duties. The governor shall nominate and, by and with the consent of the senate, appoint four residents of the state of Utah to constitute the state board of equalization, not more than two of whom shall belong to the same political party. Of the members first appointed, two shall hold office for a term of two years and two for a term of four years, and thereafter each shall hold his office for four years, and until his successor is appointed and qualified, and each shall receive an annual salary of $1500, payable quarterly out of the state treasury. They shall elect a president and secretary from among the number, and shall, as a board or by committee thereof, in addition to other duties required by law, inspect and examine annually all property it is required to assess, visit each county in the state annually, and examine all the assessment books and all other books in relation to taxation in each county. The terms of office of the members of the state board of equalization, heretofore appointed, shall terminate and cease upon May 13, 1907. Am'd '01, p. 66; '07, p. 31.

Compensation of secretary of board as collector of taxes from car companies, § 6017.

In view of the fact that the requirement as to inspection, while not expressed in the original section, was clearly implied from the character of the board, and that the provision was directory merely though mandatory in form, the assessment being valid without the inspection, the provision for inspection in the amendatory statute was immaterial, and did not render the statute objectionable, as embracing a plurality of subjects. State ex rel. Edler v. Edwards, 34 U. 13; 95 P. 367.

5984. (2584.) Powers and duties. The powers and duties of the state board of equalization are as follows:

1. To prescribe rules for its own government and for the transaction of its business;

2. To prescribe such rules and regulations as the board may deem necessary not in conflict with the constitution and laws of the state, to govern county commissioners when equalizing and assessors when assessing;

3. To make out and prepare and enforce the use of forms in relation to the assessment of property;

4. To hold regular meetings as provided by law and the rules of the board, and such special meetings as may be called by the president or a majority of its members;

5. To annually assess the property, franchises, and roadway of all railroad, street railroad, car, telegraph, telephone, electric light, pipe line, power, canal, irrigating, and express companies, operating in more than one county in the state, and all the machinery used in mining and all the properties and surface improvements upon or appurtenant to mines and mining claims which have a value separate and independent of all such mines or mining claims, and the net annual proceeds of all mines and mining claims;

6. To transmit on or before the fourth Monday in June, to the county auditor of each county its apportionment of the assessment made by such board upon the property and franchises of railroad, street railroad, car, telegraph, telephone, electric light, pipe line, power, canal, irrigating, and express companies operating in more than one county of the state, and upon all machinery used in mining, and all property and surface improvements upon or appurtenant to mines and mining claims, which have a value separate and independent of all such mines or mining claims, and to the state auditor a copy of the apportionment of the assessment made by the board upon the property of car companies;

7. To meet as heretofore provided in § 5923, as follows:

First. On the first Monday in March and continue in session until the first Monday in May, and later if the business of the board requires it;

Second. On the third Monday in May, and continue in session not later than the third Monday in June;

Third. On the first Monday in July, and continue in session until the last Monday in July and later if the business of the board requires it;

8. At its session commencing the first Monday in March, assess the property it is by law required to assess; at its session commencing the third Monday in May, hear and pass upon applications for corrections of assessments made by it, and to apportion the same to the various counties in the state; at its session commencing the first Monday in July, examine the report of county auditors and equalize the valuation of the taxable property of the several counties in this state for the purpose of taxation; and to that end, upon such notice to the county auditor of the county affected thereby as it may prescribe, by rule, to increase or lower any assessment contained in the assessment books, so as to equalize the assessment of the property contained therein, and make assessment conform to the value in money of the property assessed;

9. To visit as a board, or by the individual members thereof, whenever deemed necessary, the several counties of the state, for the purpose of inspecting the property and learning the value thereof;

10. To call before it, or any member thereof, on such visit, any officers of the county, and to require them to produce any public records in their custody;

11. To issue subpœnas for the attendance of witnesses or production of books before the board, or any member thereof; which subpœnas must be signed by a member of the board and may be served by any person;

12. To report biennially to the legislature a statement showing:

First. The assessed acreage of each county in the state;

Second. The amount assessed per acre;

Third. The aggregate value of town and city lots;

Fourth. The aggregate value of all real estate and mining claims stating each separately;

Fifth. The kind of personal property in each county, and the value of each kind;

Sixth. The aggregate value of all personal property in the state;

Seventh. Any further information or suggestion relative to the assessment of property and the collection of revenues;

13. To keep a record of all its proceedings;

14. To appoint a chief clerk, and assistant clerks, when necessary, who shall hold office during the pleasure of the board, the chief clerk to assist the secretary of the board and perform such other duties as the board may require; the assistant clerks to perform such duties as may be assigned to them by the secretary of the board or the chief clerk. The chief clerk shall receive a salary not to exceed $150 per month, and the assistant clerks a salary not to exceed $3 per diem;

15. To reconvene, whenever it may deem necessary, any county board of equalization; and it may, in its discretion, extend the time for which any county board of equalization may sit for the equalization of taxes. The county board of equalization, when thus reconvened, shall transact no business except for which it was reconvened, or such other business as the state board of equalization may call to its attention while in session;

16. To call upon any railroad company for information as to the private car companies operating over its own lines, and the number of cars hauled, and the mileage made by same.

Not to assess property situate wholly in one county, § 5873, and note.

The provisions sub. 8, conferring power upon state board of equalization to raise or lower total valuation of property of any county fixed by county board and assessor, are not in conflict with Con. art. 13, sec. 11. But the state board cannot adjust individual valuations in counties.

State v. Thomas, 16 U. 86; 50 P. 615.

The legislature has power to authorize the state board of equalization to assess, for revenue purposes, property situated partly in one county and partly in another, or operated in two or more counties.

Bassett v. Utah Copper Co., 219 Fed. 811.

Where it is difficult to determine the exact boundary between counties and the state board of equalization in good faith apportioned railroads in this locality to one of the counties, its act will not be reviewed by certiorari, especially where the application was made after the first Monday in August.

Rich County v. Bailey, 47 U. 378; 154 P. 773.

5985. (2585.) State board may change valuations. When, after a general investigation by the board, the property, or any class of property, in any county, is found to be assessed above or below its full cash value, the board may, without notice, so determine, and must add to or deduct from the valuation of all the property, or the following classes of property:

1. Real estate described as town or city lots;
2. Real estate acreage assessed as farm lands;
3. Real estate acreage assessed as fruit lands;
4. Real estate acreage assessed as grazing lands;
5. Real estate acreage assessed otherwise than as farm, fruit, or grazing lands;
6. Improvements on real estate assessed as town or city lots;
7. Improvements on real estate assessed as acreage;
8. Horses or mules assessed on range;
9. Horses or mules otherwise assessed;
10. Cattle assessed on range;
11. Cattle otherwise assessed;

12. Sheep or goats assessed on range;
13. Sheep or goats otherwise assessed;
14. Swine;
15. Banks;
16. Merchandise and trade fixtures;
17. Machinery, tools, implements, and supplies;
18. Personal property not otherwise enumerated.

Such per cent respectively as is sufficient to raise or reduce it to its full cash value. The intent of this section is for the purpose of equalizing, to divide the property assessed by the assessors into the eighteen classes mentioned in this section, and to hereby authorize the state board of equalization to raise or lower, as may be necessary to bring to its full cash value, any one or all of the eighteen mentioned classes of property.

Am'd '99, p. 106; '09, p. 100; '11, p. 119; '17, p. 201.

5986. (2586.) When auditor fails to report. If the county auditor fails to forward to the state board of equalization the statements provided for in § 6000, the board must obtain the statement, or so much thereof as is necessary, from other reliable sources.

5991. (2591.) Member may administer oaths. The president, secretary, or any member of the state board of equalization may administer and certify oaths. Am'd '09, p. 105.

CHAPTER 6.

LEVY AND LIEN OF TAXES.

5992. (2592.) Fiscal year of state. The fiscal year of the state of Utah commences on the 1st day of December of each year. Am'd '05, p. 92.

Fiscal year to begin January 1st, unless changed by the legislature, Con. art. 13, sec. 1.

Similar section, § 5794.

5993. (2593.) Levy by commissioners. Date. Rate. Purposes. The board of county commissioners of each county must, between the last Monday in July and the second Monday in August each year, fix the rate of county taxes, and designate the number of mills on each dollar of valuation of property for each fund, and must levy taxes upon the taxable property of the county for general county purposes, for the care, maintenance, and relief of the indigent sick and otherwise dependent poor; provided, that the maximum levies for the above-mentioned purposes shall be as follows: In any county which has an assessed valuation for the current tax year of less than $2,000,000, the levy for general county purposes shall not exceed three and one-half mills on the dollar, and the levy for the care, maintenance, and relief of the indigent sick and otherwise dependent poor shall not exceed seven-tenths of one mill on the dollar; in counties which have an assessed valuation for the current tax year of more than $2,000,000 and less than $7,000,000, the levy for general county purposes shall not exceed two and one-half mills on the dollar, and the levy for the care, maintenance, and relief of the indigent sick and otherwise dependent poor shall not exceed five-tenths of a mill on the dollar; in the counties which have an assessed valuation for the current tax year of more than $7,000,000 and less than $12,000,000, the levy for general county purposes shall not exceed two mills on the dollar, and the levy for the care, maintenance, and relief of the indigent sick or otherwise dependent poor shall not exceed four-tenths of a mill on the dollar; in counties which have an assessed valuation for the current tax year of $12,000,000 or more, the levy for general county purposes shall not exceed one and eight-tenths mills on the dollar, and the levy for the care, maintenance, and relief of the indigent sick and otherwise dependent poor shall not exceed one-half mill on the dollar. A levy to meet the expenditure provided in the dependent mothers act, §§ 3990-3998, is not in conflict with this section.

D. & R. G. R. R. Co. v. Grand County, —. U. —; 170 P. 74.

Under this section as amended in 1915, the commissioners may segregate the levy, and a designation of a levy for county road purposes is not improper where the entire levy for general county purposes does not exceed the amount authorized by law.

State board to determine rate of state tax, § 5988.

5995. (2595.) Effect of tax and lien. Every tax has the effect of a judgment against the person, and every lien created by this title has the force and effect of an execution duly levied against all personal property of the delinquent. The judgment is not satisfied nor the lien removed until the taxes are paid or the property sold for the payment thereof.

Lien of city and town taxes, § 6108.

5996. (2596.) Effect of tax and lien. Every tax upon personal property is a lien upon the real property of the owner thereof, from and after twelve o'clock m. of the 1st day in January of each year. Am'd '05, p. 241; '09, p. 106.

5997. (2597.) Real property. Every tax upon real property is a lien against the property assessed; and every tax due upon improvements upon real estate assessed to others than the owner of the real estate is a lien upon the land and improvements; which several liens attach as of the second Monday in January in each year. Am'd '07, p. 2.

A tax lien is an incumbrance within a covenant against incumbrances upon realty purchased after the date it becomes a lien; and a contention that there was no breach of covenant until the tax became delinquent and the property was sold was untenable.
Geo. A. Lowe Co. v. Simmons Warehouse Co., 39 U. 395; 117 P. 874.

5998. (2598.) State levy for district school purposes. Limit. The state board of equalization is hereby authorized and directed to levy annually a state tax of not more than two and two-tenths mills on each dollar of valuation of the taxable property in the state, for district school purposes; and the levy and collection of said tax must be performed in the same manner and at the same time as other state taxes are levied and collected, and shall be apportioned to the several school districts as provided by law. CHAPTER 7.

COUNTY AUDITOR'S DUTY IN RELATION TO REVENUE.

5999. (2599.) Auditor to enter total valuations. The county auditor, immediately upon the completion of the work of the county board of equalization, must proceed to add up the valuations, and enter the total valuation of each kind of property, and the total valuation of all property, on the assessment book. The column of acres must show the total acreage of the county.
Yearly settlements made with county auditor, § 6089.

6000. (2600.) To prepare statement. The county auditor must, on or before the first Monday in July of each year, prepare from the "assessment book" of each year, as corrected by the board of county commissioners, a statement showing in separate columns:

1. The total value of all property;
2. The value of real estate, including patented mining claims, stated separately;
3. The value of the improvements thereon;
4. The value of personal property exclusive of money;
5. The amount of money;
6. The number of acres of land and the number of patented mining claims, stated separately;
7. The amount of taxes remitted.

6001. (2601.) To transmit same to state board. The county auditor must, as soon as such statement is prepared, transmit the same by mail to the state board of equalization.

Changes by state board, §§ 5926, 5984, sub. 8; § 5985.

6003. (2603.) County auditor to compute and enter taxes. The county auditor must then compute and enter in a separate money column in the assessment book, the aggregate sum in dollars and cents, rejecting the fractions of a cent, to be paid as taxes on the property therein enumerated; provided, that taxes levied only on a certain kind or class of property for a special purpose, other than for state, county, city, town, and school purposes, etc., shall be separately set out, and shall foot up the column showing the total amount of such taxes, and the column of total value of property in the county, as corrected by the state board of equalization. Am'd '11, p. 192.

6004. (2604.) Classification and correction of assessment rolls. Statement. The county auditor must, on or before the second Monday of September of each year, prepare from the assessment rolls of such year, as corrected by the county board of equalization and by the state board of equalization, a statement showing the amount and value of all property in the county, as classified by the county assessment rolls, and the value of each class; the total amount of taxes remitted by the county board of equalization; the state's share of such taxes remitted; the county's share of such taxes remitted; the rate of county taxes, and such other information as the state auditor may request. Said statement shall be made in duplicate, upon blanks furnished by the state auditor, and as soon as prepared shall be transmitted, by mail, one copy to the state auditor and one copy to the state board of equalization. Am'd '15, p. 32.

6005. (2605.) To charge treasurer with taxes levied. Exception. On delivering the assessment book to the county treasurer, the county auditor must charge the treasurer with the full amount of taxes levied, except the municipal taxes of cities of the third class and of towns, and the taxes of car companies. Am'd '01, p. 147.

6006. (2606.) Id. To be delivered to county treasurer. Affidavit. On or before the third Monday of September, the county auditor must deliver the corrected assessment roll to the county treasurer, with an affidavit attached thereto, and by him subscribed, as follows:

I, ..., county auditor of the county of ....., do swear that I received the accompanying assessment roll of the taxable property of the county from the assessor, and that I have corrected it and made it conform to the requirements of the county and state boards of equalization; that I have reckoned the respective sums due as taxes and have added up the columns of valuations, taxes and acreage as required by law. Am'd '15, p. 32.

6007. (2608.) Statement to be verified. The county auditor must verify, by his affidavit attached thereto, all statements made by him under the provisions of this title.

6008. (2609.) Change of treasurers. The county auditor, if the assessment book or the delinquent tax list is transferred from one treasurer to another, must credit the one and charge the other with the amount then outstanding on the tax list.

CHAPTER 8.

COLLECTION OF TAXES.

6010. (2610.) Index to names. Notice to taxpayers. Collection of taxes from car companies. On receipt of the assessment roll, the county treasurer shall index, in one or more indexes (if more than one, the alphabet shall be so divided that no names shall appear in more than one place in such indexes, unless for lack of space transferred to some other place to be referred to), the names of all property owners shown by the assessment roll; and shall, opposite each name in the index, refer by number of assessment roll (if there be more than one), and by page and line, to all pieces of property standing upon the assessment roll in such names. He shall proceed to collect taxes, and shall furnish to each taxpayer, except car companies, by mail, postage prepaid, or leave at his residence or usual place of business, if known, a notice of the amount of tax assessed against him upon all property, which shall set out the aggregate amount of taxes to be paid, for state, county, city, town, and school purposes, etc., and shall set out separately all taxes levied only on a certain kind or class of property for a special purpose or purposes, and shall have printed or stamped thereon the rate of taxation for each purpose for which taxes have been levied, when and where payable, and that such tax will be delinquent at 12 o'clock noon on the Saturday next prior to the first Monday in December next thereafter, and subject to the penalty provided by law, which shall be stated in the notice. The secretary of the state board of equalization is hereby made the collector of taxes from car companies. He shall, upon receipt of the apportionment of the property of car companies from the county board of equalization, proceed to collect the taxes from said car companies, and shall furnish each company, by mail, postage prepaid, a notice of the amount of the tax assessed against it, when and where payable, and that such tax will be delinquent at 12 o'clock noon on the Saturday next prior to the first Monday in December next thereafter, and subject to the penalty provided by law. On or before the first Monday in January following in each year, the collector of taxes from car companies shall remit to the state treasurer the taxes collected from car companies due the state, and to each county the taxes collected from car companies and due to said counties, and the various taxing districts included therein.

6011. (2611.) Date of payment to be entered. The county treasurer must mark the date of the payment of any tax in the assessment book opposite the name of the person paying. The state treasurer must mark the date of the payment of any tax paid him by car companies in the record kept by him. Am'd '99, p. 107.

6013. (2613.) Decedents' estates. The district court must require every administrator or executor to pay out of the funds of the state all taxes due from such estate; and no order or decree for the distribution of any property of any decedent among the heirs or devisees shall be made until all taxes against the estate are paid.

6014. (2614.) County treasurer's settlements. On the first Monday of March, of June, and of September, and the second Monday of December, the county treasurer must settle with the board of county commissioners for all moneys collected by him, and on said day must deliver to and file in the office of the county auditor a statement under oath showing:

1. An account of all his transactions and receipts since his last settlement;

2. That all money collected by him is in the county treasury.

Settlements with state, § 6064; with cities, § 6107.

6015. (2615.) Taxes due and delinquent, when. Penalty. All taxes provided for in this title shall be due on the third Monday in September in each year, and at 12 o'clock noon on the Saturday next prior to the first Monday in December of each year, all unpaid taxes are delinquent, and the county treasurer shall then close his office for the receipt of taxes until he has prepared his delinquent list for publication. All delinquent taxes shall be subject to a penalty of 3 per cent of the amount of such taxes. Am'd '15, p. 97.

City and town taxes due, when, § 6108.

6016. (2620.) Publication of delinquent tax list. Notice of sale. Car companies. On or before the second Monday in December of each year, the county treasurer must, under the direction of the county commissioners, publish the delinquent list, which must contain the names of the owners, when known, and a description of the property delinquent or subject to lien of taxes, classified in towns and cities by addition, subdivision, plat, block, and lot, and other lands by range, township, and section, or legal subdivision thereof, with the amount of taxes due, exclusive of penalty. The county treasurer must publish with such list a notice that unless the delinquent taxes, together with the penalty, are paid before the third Monday of December next thereafter, the real property upon which such taxes are a lien will be sold for taxes, penalty, and costs, excepting only such property as is held by the county under certificate of tax sale, beginning on said date, at the front door of the county court house. The delinquent list shall be published three times if in a daily newspaper, twice in a semi-weekly, and once if in a weekly paper, commencing on or before the second Monday in December. On or before the second Monday of December of each year, the collector of taxes from car companies shall publish in a newspaper having general circulation in the state the list of the car companies delinquent for taxes, which must contain the names of the owners, when known, and a description of the property delinquent or subject to a lien of taxes. The collector of taxes from car companies shall publish with such list a notice that unless the delinquent taxes, together with the penalty, are paid before the third Monday of December next thereafter, the property upon which such taxes are a lien will be attached and sold for taxes and costs, such sale to be made at the discretion of the collector of taxes from car companies. It is hereby made the duty of all railroads and railways doing business in the state to furnish the collector of taxes from car companies with any information he may desire, and within the knowledge of said railroad or railway companies, that will aid the said collector in the performance of his duties. The laws set forth in this chapter for the sale, redemption, etc., of property delinquent for taxes are hereby made to apply to the sale of property of car companies delinquent for taxes. After all sales are made, the collector of taxes from car companies must, without delay, pay to the state treasurer the amount of taxes due the state, and to the various counties the amounts due such counties, together with the amounts due the various taxing districts in such counties.

6018. (2621.) Sales for delinquency. Date and manner. Record. Penalty. Duties of auditor and treasurer. On the third Monday of December of each year the county treasurer shall expose for sale, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 3 p. m., sufficient of all delinquent real estate to pay the taxes, penalty, and costs for which such real estate is liable, at public auction, at the front door of the county court house, and sell the same to the highest responsible bidder for cash, and the treasurer shall continue to sell from day to day between such hours until the property of all delinquents is exhausted, or the taxes, penalty, and costs are paid. In offering such real estate for sale, the treasurer shall offer the entire tract assessed, and the first bid received in an amount sufficient to pay the taxes and costs shall be accepted, unless a further bid in the same amount for less than the entire tract shall be received; and the highest and best bid shall be construed to mean the bid of that bidder who will pay the full amount of the taxes and costs for the smallest undivided portion of said real estate. After receiving a bid for the full amount of the taxes and costs, it shall not be the duty of the treasurer to attempt to secure a higher bid, but he shall accept it if made. The treasurer shall make a record of all sales of real property in a book to be kept by him for that purpose, therein describing the several parcels of real property on which the taxes and costs were paid by the purchasers, in the same order as the published list of delinquent sales contained in the list of advertisements on file in his office, stating in separate columns the amount, as obtained from the tax list, due each taxing fund. Separate columns shall also be provided in said record in which the treasurer shall enter the description of any tract sold that is less than the entire tract on which the taxes are due, the date of sale, to whom sold, the penalty, and costs, and the date of the redemption. The purchaser shall be required to pay the penalty to the treasurer, which penalty shall in all cases accrue to the benefit of the county. When all sales have been made, the treasurer shall file the record in his office; provided, that in all counties there shall be adopted a uniform system of tax sale record, which shall be recommended by the state auditor, and that a duplicate of said record of each county, so far as it related to sales to the county, shall be furnished by the county treasurer to the state auditor, in loose leaf or bound form, as may be directed by the state auditor, and to which shall be added the subsequent taxes of each succeeding year, together with the redemptions as reported to the state auditor by the treasurers of the various counties, upon blanks to be prescribed by the state auditor. It shall be the duty of the county treasurer to issue a receipt to any person paying taxes on an undivided interest in real estate, showing the interest on which taxes are paid, and in case any portion of the taxes on such real estate remains unpaid, it shall be the duty of the treasurer to sell only such undivided interest in said real estate as belongs to the co-owners who have not paid their portion of the tax.

DESCRIPTION OF PROPERTY:

Description as "W.'s, 80 acres in N. W. ¼ of sec. 23, T. 2 S., R. 1 E." is insufficient, and sale under such assessment is void.
Olsen v. Bagley, 10 U. 492; 37 P. 739.

Where, in a deed for land sold for taxes, it appears the description does not correspond with all its immediate antecedents, where the recitals are not true and do not correctly describe the land referred to in the notice of sale, and where the description in the notice of sale is erroneous and does not correctly describe the property, nor the property described in the tax sale, and it does not affirmatively appear from the notice that defendant had notice of the amount of taxes assessed against him, or when or where the same was payable, as provided by ordinance and law, and where it appears that property was sold for $10.20 more than the amount of the taxes, but nowhere appears what the $10.20 was for, or what the costs of sale were; held, that such tax sale is illegal. (Expressly overruling Hamer v. Weber Co., 11 U. 1; 37 P. 741, and holding that the dissenting opinion in that case states the law correctly. The case of Ogden City v. Hamer, 12 U. 347; 22 P. 1113, is overruled in so far as it conflicts with this opinion, and the opinion in Olsen v. Bagley, 10 U. 492; 37 P. 739.)

Eastman v. Gurrey, 15 U. 410; 49 P. 310.

A description of lots in an assessment roll and published list of delinquent taxes as being in a certain addition, without naming the city of which the addition is a part, is fatally defective.

Asper v. Moon, 24 U. 241; 67 P. 409.

An assessment of land for taxation describing it as "pt. N. E. ¼," and in "N. W. ¼ of N. E. ¼," etc., containing 7 acres, was insufficient, since the tract purporting to be assessed might have been located in any part of the larger tract described.

OVERCHARGES:

Eastman v. Gurrey, 15 U. 410; 49 P. 310.

Where, on sale of two tracts of land for non-payment of taxes, the officers collected fees for certificates in excess of those allowed by law, the sales were void.

STRICT COMPLIANCE WITH STATUTE:

Tax sales being made exclusively under statutory authority, the provisions of the statute conferring such authority must be fully complied with, and any substantial departure therefrom, prejudicial to the owner of the property, will invalidate the sale.

THE CERTIFICATE AND DEED:

Where land was sold for taxes for the year 1901 a certificate of sale issued therefor was not invalid because issuance of it was delayed so that it was upon a form not printed until 1904; the certificate sale not being jurisdictional as to a tax deed, the book or records of delinquent sales, and not the certificate, controls.

Bruno v. Madsen, 38 U. 485; 113 P. 1030.

A plea in an action to quiet title alleging that the property had been sold for taxes, that it had not been redeemed, that a tax deed was issued to the purchaser without touching or referring to the recital of the tax deed itself, was insufficient as a plea of tax title.

Bean v. Fairbanks, 46 U. 513; 151 P. 338.

Where a deed recites that the treasurer offered to sell the property, or sufficient thereof to pay taxes and costs, it shows that he offered the whole property for sale and not sufficient to pay the taxes and costs as required by § 6018, and thereby affirmatively shows want of authority to issue the deed, and it is void on its face.

Wall v. Kaighn, 45 U. 244; 144 P. 1100.

On a sale of land to the county for delinquent taxes, enough of the proceedings must be recited in the certificate or deed to show authority to sell the land and issue certificate to it.

Wall v. Kaighn, 45 U. 244, 144 P. 1100.

A tax deed which recites that property was struck off to the county, which was the highest and best bidder therefor, is void on its face, since the county cannot engage in competitive bidding.

Lawrence v. Murphy, 45 U. 572; 147 P. 903.
Wall v. Kaihn, 45 U. 244, 144 P. 1100.

A certificate of sale, which merely recites that the treasurer sold the whole of the property to the county for the delinquent taxes and costs, is consistent with recitals in the deed that the county was a competitive bidder and a voluntary purchaser, and does not show a valid sale to the county or any right in it to be any kind of a purchaser.

Wall v. Kaighn, 45 U. 244; 144 P. 1100.

6019. (2622.) Fee for certificate of sale. The treasurer shall collect 50 cents for each certificate of sale in full for all his services, which sum shall be paid by him into the county treasury. Am'd '15, p. 139.

6020. (2623.) Treasurer to issue certificate of sale. Description. When real estate is sold for taxes, the treasurer shall make out, sign, and deliver to the purchaser of any real estate sold for the payment of taxes, as aforesaid, a certificate of sale, describing the property on which the taxes and costs were paid by the purchaser, as the same was described in the record of sales; also the description of each tract or lot sold, and stating the amount due each taxing fund, together with the penalty and costs for which the same was sold, as described in the record of sales, and that payment has been made therefor. Am'd '15, p. 139.

Decisions on invalid tax sales for imperfect descriptions, excessive charges for certificates, etc., note to § 6018.

6021. (2624.) Form of certificate. How recorded. Sale to county. Certificate is prima facie evidence of regularity of proceedings. The certificate of sale, when the sale is made to any person other than the county, shall be substantially in the following form, and may be recorded in the office of the county recorder without acknowledgment:

This certifies that on the ..... day of ....., 19....., in pursuance of law, I, as treasurer of ..... county, Utah, sold to ....., subject to redemption, as provided by law, the property situated in the county of ....., state of Utah, hereinafter described, for the delinquent state, state school, state high school, county, city, city school, ..., and district school taxes, for which said property is liable, assessed in the name of ..... as owner, for the year ....., and the costs of sale; that the penalty assessed against the owner for the non-payment of such taxes is $.....; that a description of the property named is as follows, to-wit: ..... That the amount of taxes due the several taxing funds and the costs for which said property was sold are as follows, to-wit:

State, State School, State High School Taxes	County Taxes	Town or City Taxes	City School Taxes	District School Taxes				Penalty	Costs of Sale	Total

and that payment has been made therefor.

Dated ....., 19.....

.....,

Treasurer of ..... county, Utah.

If at any tax sale, no person shall bid and pay the treasurer the amount of tax and costs required to be paid, as aforesaid, on any property, the treasurer shall make to the county a certificate substantially in the form hereinafter prescribed, and deliver the same to the county auditor, and such sale to the county shall have the same effect as if made to an individual, and the county auditor shall credit the treasurer with the amount of the tax due thereon. The certificate of sale, when the property is sold to the county, shall be substantially in the following form, and may be recorded in the office of the county recorder without acknowledgment:

This certifies that on the ..... day of ....., 19....., in pursuance of law, I, as treasurer of ..... county, Utah, offered for sale subject to redemption as provided by law, the property situated in the county of ....., state of Utah, hereinafter described, for the delinquent state, state school, state high school, county, city, city school, ..., and district school taxes, for which said property is liable, assessed in the name of ..... as owner, for the year ....., together with the penalty provided by law and the costs of sale; that a description of the property named is as follows, to-wit: ..... That the amount of taxes due the several taxing funds, penalty and the costs for which the same was offered are as follows, to-wit:

That pursuant to said offer no person offered to bid and pay the treasurer the amount of the tax and costs required to be paid, as aforesaid; therefore, pursuant to law, said property was sold to ..... county, and this certificate issued as evidence thereof.

Dated ....., 19.....

.....,

Treasurer of ..... county, Utah.

The certificate of sale herein provided for, when signed by the county treasurer and delivered to the purchaser, whether the same be the county or an individual, shall be prima facie evidence of the regularity of all proceedings connected with the assessment notice, equalization, levies, advertisement, and sale of the property therein described, and the burden of showing any irregularity in any of the proceedings, resulting in the sale of property for the non-payment of delinquent taxes, shall be on him who asserts it. While a certificate of sale is held by the county, the treasurer shall not sell the property covered by such certificate for taxes, but the county auditor shall credit the treasurer with the amount of tax due thereon. In any case the party redeeming shall pay all taxes that may be assessed, and interest, penalty, and costs that may accrue upon land subsequent to the sale. Am'd '15, p. 139.

6022. (2625.) Default of purchaser. If the purchaser does not pay the tax and costs before five o'clock p. m. of the day following the sale, the property, on the next sale day, before the regular sale, must be resold for taxes and costs. The bid of any person refusing to make the payment for the property purchased by him must not be received on the sale of any other property advertised in the delinquent tax list of that year.

Mont. Pol. C., §§ 3883, 3884*.

6023. (2626.) Property bought by county to be sold at private sale, when. At any time after the sale shall have closed and before the time for redemption has expired, the county treasurer is authorized and required, at private sale, at his office, to sell and assign the interest of the county in any of the real estate sold to the county for delinquency, to any person who will pay the amount of the delinquent taxes, interest, penalty, and costs thereon for the same, and to make out duplicate receipts for the purchaser of such real estate, on which he shall write "sold for taxes at private sale" and deliver such receipts to the purchaser. Upon presentation of one of such receipts to the county auditor, he shall make out and deliver to the purchaser an assignment of the certificate of sale made to the county. Real estate sold to the county and afterward assigned shall be subject to redemption at any time within four years after the date of the original sale, as provided in § 6024, except that the interest charged shall be 1 per cent per month from and after assignment of the certificate by the county. Am'd '15, p. 30.

N. Dak. (1895) § 1263*. Sale of such property at auction, 6056.

6024. (2627.) Manner of redemption from tax sale. Real estate sold for taxes may be redeemed by any person interested therein, at any time within four years after the date of the sale thereof, by such person paying into the county treasury for the use of the purchaser or his legal representatives the amount paid by such purchaser, and all penalties and costs as aforesaid, together with the sum of 50 cents for a redemption certificate, and all taxes that have accrued thereon and which have been paid by the purchaser after his purchase to the time of redemption, together with interest at the rate of 1 per cent per month on the whole from the date of payment to the day of redemption; provided, that when two or more parties are interested in a piece of property which has been sold for taxes, either party may redeem the property in which he is interested, upon a payment of that portion of the taxes, interest, penalties, and costs which his property bears to the whole, together with the sum of 50 cents for redemption certificate.

Am'd '01, p. 122; '15, p. 30.

Possession under a tax sale certificate, during the period of redemption, is an admission that the possession is subject to the owner's right of redemption, and is not adverse to the true owner.
S. L. Inv. Co. v. Fox, 32 U. 301; 90 P. 564.

6025. (2628.) Id. Entry and certificate. The county treasurer shall, when any property is redeemed, make the proper entry in the record of tax sales filed in his office, and issue a certificate of redemption, which entry or such certificate of the fact of the redemption properly certified by the treasurer shall be prima facie evidence of such redemption, and may be recorded in the office of the county recorder without acknowledgment.

of the tract sold, the date of sale, and to whom sold; also a column to show date of redemption and by whom redeemed; also a column to show date and to whom sold at private sale by county treasurer, and each line on each page shall be numbered consecutively; and the county recorder shall, with all due diligence, enter all such items in the abstract records in his office. '99, p. 116.

6027. (2628x1.) Record of tax sales. The county treasurer shall, on or before the 15th day of March, 1900, and of each year thereafter, transmit to the county recorder a certified record, in form prescribed in § 6026, showing all tax sales made by him for delinquent taxes of the preceding year, together with the record of the delinquent tax upon all property not sold for the reason that the county held tax lien thereon for delinquent tax of some preceding year; and the county recorder shall enter all items shown by such record in the abstract books in his office. '99, p. 116.

6029. (2628x3.) Tax sale records kept in recorder's office. The tax sale records hereinbefore provided for shall be transmitted to and kept in the county recorder's office, and shall be considered the official record of tax sales. '99, p. 117.

6030. (2629.) Property not redeemed. Deed to purchaser. If any property sold as aforesaid be not redeemed within the time and in the manner aforesaid, the treasurer shall deposit the record of tax sales in the office of the county auditor, who shall, on presentation of the treasurer's certificate of sale, make out a deed conveying the property therein described to the purchaser, his heirs, or assigns, as the case may be. If any person shall be entitled to receive deeds for more than one parcel of property, he may have the whole included in one deed, but each parcel shall be separately described. Said auditor shall also, as soon as may be after the filing of said record, make out a deed conveying to the county all property purchased by the county and not redeemed, and cause the same to be recorded in the name of the county. Deeds issued by the county auditor in pursuance hereof shall recite substantially the amount of the tax for which the property was sold, the year for which it was assessed, the day and year of sale, the amount for which the real estate was sold, a full description of the property, and the name of the purchaser or assignee; and when attested by the county auditor shall be prima facie evidence of the facts recited therein.

Sufficiency of deed, note to § 6018.

6031. (2630.) Fees. The county auditor shall make and keep on file in his office a record of all tax deeds issued, and shall collect $2 for each deed issued for the first description of property contained in such deed, and for each additional description of property in such deed, one dollar, and pay the same into the county treasury. The acknowledgment of all such deeds shall be taken by the county recorder, or other county officer authorized to take acknowledgments, free of charge. No charge must be made by the county auditor for the making of any such deed where the county is the purchaser.

6032. (2631.) Taxes on personal property, how collected. The treasurer may collect the taxes delinquent on personal property, except when the real estate is liable therefor, by seizure and sale of any personal property owned by the delinquent.

Tax lien, §§ 5995-5997.

6033. (2632.) Sale of property seized. The sale must be at public auction, and of a sufficient amount of property to pay the taxes and costs, and when practicable must be made in the justice's precinct where seized.

Sale of real property, § 6018, and note.
Sale of sheep for taxes is irregular where sheep sold are not separated from herd.
Taylor v. Robertson, 16 U. 330; 52 P. 1.

6034. (2633.) Id. Notice. The sale must be made after one week's notice of the time and place thereof, given by publication in a newspaper published in the county, or by posting in three public places in the county.

6035. (2634.) Id. Fees. Expenses. For seizing or selling personal property, the treasurer may charge in each case the sum of $3, for the use of the county, and actual and necessary expenses for travel, seizing, handling, keeping, or caring for property so seized or sold.

6036. (2635.) Id. Delivery. Bill of sale. On payment of the price bid for any personal property sold, the delivery thereof, with a bill of sale, vests the title thereto in the purchaser.

6037. (2636.) Id. Excess of proceeds. All excess over the taxes and costs of the proceeds of any such sale must be returned to the owner of the property sold, and until claimed must be deposited in the county treasury, subject to the order of the owner, or his heirs, or assigns.

6038. (2637.) Id. Unsold portion. The unsold portion of any property may be left at the place of sale at the risk of the owner.

6039. (2638.) Auditor to compare delinquent with assessment list. The county treasurer must annually, on the third Monday of February, attend at the office of the county auditor with the delinquent list and the assessment book, and the county auditor must then carefully compare the list with the assessments of persons and property not marked as paid on the assessment book.

6040. (2639.) Id. Oath of treasurer. The county auditor must then administer to the county treasurer an oath, to be written and subscribed in the delinquent list, that every person and all property assessed in the delinquent list, on which taxes have been paid, has been credited in the list with such payment.

6041. (2640.) Id. Final settlement with treasurer. The county auditor must then foot up the amount of taxes remaining unpaid, and credit the treasurer with the amount, and have a final settlement with him, and thereafter the delinquent list must remain in the county auditor's office.

6042. (2641.) Id. Affidavit of treasurer. At the time mentioned in § 6039, the treasurer must make an affidavit, indorsed on the list, that the taxes not marked as paid have not been paid, and that he has not been able to discover any property belonging to or in possession of the persons liable to pay the sum, whereof to collect them.

Refunding taxes illegally collected, § 6095.
Action brought for refund of taxes collected on property not subject to taxation is authorized by this section, and payment of such taxes need not be made under protest to compel a refund; but notice of such illegal collection and demand for refund must be made to the board of county commissioners by the taxpayer.
Neilsen v. Sanpete County, 40 U. 560; 123 P. 334.

6044. (2643.) Double assessments. When the treasurer discovers that any property has been assessed more than once for the same year, he must collect only the tax justly due and make a return of the facts, under affidavit, to the county auditor.

6045. (2644.) Sale omitted for irregularity. If the treasurer discovers before the sale that on account of any irregular assessment or of any other error any land ought not to be sold, he must not offer that land for sale; and the board of county commissioners must cause the assessor to enter the uncollected taxes upon the assessment book of the next succeeding year, on the basis of the valuation and rates of the year for which it was erroneously assessed, to be collected as other taxes are collected thereon. Am'd '11, p. 188.

6046. (2645.) Misnomer does not affect sale. When land is sold for taxes, correctly imposed, as the property of a particular person, no misnomer of the owner or supposed owner, or other mistake relating to the ownership thereof, affects the sale or renders it void or voidable.

6047. (2646.) Suit for taxes, when taxpayer removes. If any person removes from one county to another, after being assessed on personal property, the treasurer of the county in which he was assessed may sue for and collect the same in the name of the county where the assessment was made.

Collection of taxes by suit, §§ 6090-6092.

6048. (2647.) Id. Evidence. Judgment. On the trial, a certified copy of the assessment signed by the county auditor of the county where the same was made, with the affidavit of the treasurer thereto attached, that the tax has not been paid, describing it as on the assessment book, or delinquent list, is prima facie evidence that such tax and the interest are due, and entitles him to judgment, unless the defendant proves that the tax was paid.

6049. (2648.) Id. Expenses. The treasurer and the county auditor must allow the expenses of collecting such tax, and permit a deduction thereof from the amount collected, if they do not exceed one-third of the amount of the tax collected.

6050. (2649.) Tax void in part. Sale valid unless taxpayer protests. Whenever property is advertised for sale for the non-payment of delinquent taxes, and the assessment is valid in part, and void for the excess, the sale must not for that cause be deemed invalid, nor any grant subsequently made thereunder be held insufficient to pass a title to the grantee, unless the owner of the property, or his agent, not less than six days before the time at which the property is advertised to be sold, delivers to the treasurer a protest in writing signed by the owner or agent, specifying the portion of the tax which he claims to be invalid, and the ground upon which such claim is based.

Repayment of taxes paid under protest, § 6095.

6051. (2650.) Id. Duty of assessor in case of protest. In case any owner of property advertised to be sold for delinquent taxes, at least six days before the time advertised for the sale to take place, delivers to the county treasurer his protest in writing against such sale, signed by himself or his agent, claiming that the assessment is void, in whole or in part, and if in part only, for what portion, and in either case specifying the ground upon which such claim is founded, it is the duty of the treasurer, either to sell the property assessed for the whole amount appearing upon the assessment book, or to withdraw the property from sale, and report the case to the board of county commissioners for its directions in the premises, and in such case the board may either direct the foreclosure of the lien of such tax by action, which proceeding is hereby authorized to be had, or direct the treasurer to proceed with the sale.

6052. (2651.) Assessment and sale of property bought by county. In case property assessed for taxes is purchased by the county, pursuant to the provisions of this title, it must be assessed in subsequent years for taxes in the same manner as if it had not been purchased. But it must not be exposed for sale so long as the county holds the certificate of the sale thereof, and the sale under any such assessment must be adjourned until the time of redemption under the previous sale shall have expired.

Property bought by county to be sold at private sale, §§ 6023; 6056.

6053. (2652.) Id. In case an assessment is made under the provisions of the preceding section, and the lands are not redeemed from a previous sale, had under § 6020 as provided by law, no sale must be had under the assessment authorized by the next preceding section so long as the county holds the certificate of sale, unless directed by the board.

6054. (2653.) Redemption. Terms. In case property is sold to the county as purchaser pursuant to the provisions of law, and is subsequently assessed, no person must be permitted to redeem from such sale except upon payment also of the amount of such subsequent assessment, interest, penalty, and costs, unless, in the judgment of the county commissioners, the interest of the state and the county will be subserved by accepting a less sum than the amount due for taxes, interest, penalty, and costs. Am'd '11, p. 188; '15, p. 30.

6055. (2654.) Distribution of moneys received from redemption. Whenever property sold to the county pursuant to the provisions of this title is redeemed or the certificate of sale is assigned as herein provided the moneys received on account of such redemption or assignment must be distributed as follows: The original and subsequent taxes, and 40 per cent of interest, penalty, and costs of sale received must be apportioned to the state, county, city, town, school district, and other taxing districts interested, in the proportion of their respective taxes, and the balance must be paid to the county; provided, that in all cases where a sum less than the taxes, interest, penalty, and costs is accepted in settlement, the proceeds of such settlement shall be applied, first to the payment of the original and subsequent taxes, and the remainder, if any there be, to the payment of interest, penalty, and costs. The county treasurer must keep an accurate account of all moneys paid in redemptions of property sold to the county and for assignments of certificates of sale thereof, and must, on the first Monday of March of each year, or at such other time as the state auditor may direct, make a detailed report, verified by his affidavit of each account year for year, to the state auditor, in such form as the state auditor may desire. Whenever the county receives from the county auditor any grant of property so sold for taxes, the same shall be recorded, at the request of the county auditor, free of charge by the county recorder, and shall be immediately reported by the county auditor to the board of county commissioners. Am'd '11, p. 184; '15, p. 30.

Delinquent taxes, etc., to be paid to boards of education as fast as collected, § 4705.

6056. (2655.) Real estate deeded to county to be sold at auction. Whenever a county has received a tax deed for any real estate sold for delinquent taxes, the board of county commissioners shall, during the month of May in each year, after giving the statutory notice, offer for sale at the front door of the county court house, at the time specified in the notice, all such real property not heretofore sold or redeemed; provided, that in cases where the description of such real estate is so defective as to convey no title, such real estate shall not be so offered. The county clerk is authorized to execute deeds therefor in the name of the county and attested by his seal, vesting in the purchaser all of the title of the state, of the county, and of each city, town, school, or other taxing district interested in the real estate so sold. The money arising from such sale must be paid into the county treasury, and the treasurer must settle for the same as in the case of money received for redemption, as provided in the next preceding section. The board of county commissioners may, at any time after the period of redemption has expired and before the sale as herein provided, permit a redemption from any sale where the property has been sold to the county. All property for which there is no purchaser at the sale provided for in this section shall thereafter be disposed of on the day of the first regular meeting of the board of county commissioners in any month, at either public or private sale, as the said board may determine, and the money received therefor shall be apportioned as in the manner of tax sale redemptions. Am'd '11 p. 190.

May be sold at private sale, § 6023.
Assessment and sale, § 6052.
County commissioners have the right to fix the minimum sum to be received for property sold at tax sale at a sum equal to the amount of taxes, interest, and costs due at date of sale.
Heywood v. Co. Com'rs, 18 U. 57; 55 P. 79.

COLLECTIONS BY ASSESSOR IN CERTAIN CASES.

6057. (2656.) Seizure for taxes not due. Security. Sale. At the time of making the assessment, or at any time thereafter, the assessor may collect the taxes by seizure and sale of any personal property owned by the person against whom the tax is assessed, in case he has cause to believe that the owner of such personal property is likely to avoid payment of the tax by disposing of the property or by removal thereof from the county, unless such person gives security to pay the same when due. The provisions of §§ 6033-6038 apply to such seizure and sale.

Assessment when owner likely to remove, § 5876, and note.

6058. (2657.) Id. Amount collected. The assessor shall be governed, as to the amount of taxes to be by him collected on such personal property, by the state, city, town, school, and county rate of the previous year.

6059. (2658.) Id. Excess collection. When the rate is fixed for the year in which such collection is made, then, if a sum in excess of the rate has been collected, such excess shall not be apportioned to the state, but the whole thereof shall remain in the county treasury, and must be repaid by the county treasurer to the person from whom the collection was made or to his assignee on demand therefor.

6060. (2659.) Id. Deficiency. If a sum less than the rate fixed has been collected, the deficiency must be collected as other taxes on personal property are collected.

Taxes on personal property, how collected, §§ 6032-6038.

6061. (2660.) Id. Settlement with county auditor. The assessor, on the first Monday of each month, must make a settlement with the county auditor, and must pay into the county treasury all moneys collected by him for such taxes during the preceding month.

6062. (2661.) Id. Entry of payment. The assessor must note on the assessment book, opposite the names of each person from whom taxes have been collected by him, the amount thereof.

6063. (2662.) Id. Auditor to certify excess, etc. As soon as the rate of taxation for the year is fixed, the county auditor must note, in connection with the entry made under the provisions of the preceding section, the amount of the excess or deficiency.

CHAPTER 9.

SETTLEMENTS WITH STATE.

6064. (2663.) County treasurers to settle with state treasurer, when. The treasurers of the respective counties must at any time, upon the order of the state auditor and state treasurer, settle with the state auditor and pay over to the state treasurer all moneys in their possession belonging to the state, and must, without such order, settle and pay over the moneys on the first Monday of January, April, October, November, and December in each year.

6065. (2664.) Id. Penalty for neglecting to settle. Every county treasurer who neglects or refuses to settle or make payment as herein required shall forfeit three months' salary, and upon notice from the state auditor to the county commissioners that said settlement has not been made, the county commissioners must withhold such compensation. Am'd '05, p. 59.

6066. (2665.) County auditor reports to state auditor. The county auditor of each county, between the 1st and 10th days of each month in which the treasurer of his county is required to settle with the state auditor, must make, in triplicate, in such form as the state auditor may desire, a report showing specifically the amount due the state from each particular source of revenue at the close of business of the last day of the preceding month.

6067. (2666.) Id. Report to state treasurer. The county auditor must at once transmit by mail one copy of the report to the state auditor, one copy to the state treasurer, and must deliver the other copy to the treasurer of his county. Am'd '99, p. 114.

6068. (2667.) Id. Failure to transmit. Every county auditor who fails to make and transmit any report or statement required by this title shall forfeit three months' salary, and the county commissioners must withhold such compensation.

CHAPTER 10.

SETTLEMENT OF TAX SALE ACCOUNTS.

('11, p. 190.)

6073. Classification of unredeemed tax sales. For the purpose of making a settlement of tax sale accounts between the state and the various counties thereof, the county commissioners of each county in the state are hereby directed to make an investigation of the tax sale records of their respective counties, and by and with the assistance of their respective county auditors and county treasurers to classify all unredeemed tax sales, and all sales upon which redemptions have been permitted for a less amount than the taxes, costs, and interest made by their respective counties since 1896, and shall show:

1. (a) The state's equity in proceeds of sale of property acquired by the county under auditor's tax deed; (b) the state's equity in the taxes, interest, and cost in that portion of the property held by the county auditor's tax deed upon which no sale has been made or distribution of funds;

2. The sate's portion of taxes, interest, and costs (stated separately) on sales of property regularly made to the county, under the provisions of law, upon which redemptions have been made for the full amount of taxes, interest, and costs;

3. The state's equity in tax sale redemptions allowed for a less amount than the taxes, costs, and interest, showing separately the amount received and the amount discounted;

4. The state's equity in tax sales canceled by reason of defective description, or other failure to comply with the law;

5. The state's equity in all unredeemed tax sales for which the county holds certificates of tax sale, and for which no auditor's tax deed has been executed;

6. All remittances made to the state since 1896 for redemptions made, showing separately the amount to be credited as taxes, the amount to be credited as interest and costs.

6074. Compromise settlements authorized. After the classification provided for in § 6073 has been completed, said county commissioners are hereby further directed to make diligent effort to secure the settlement of all unsettled tax sales in whatever form the same may exist, made prior to the taking effect of this chapter, and in such settlement such county commissioners are hereby authorized, if in their judgment the interest of the state and the county will be subserved thereby, to accept in settlement of any such tax sale, and any subsequent unpaid taxes, a sum less than the amount due for taxes, interest, and costs.

6075. Cancellation and reassessment. Whenever settlement of tax sales shall be made as provided in § 6074, and in all cases where taxes have not been collected because of defective description or other failure to comply with the law, the county commissioners are hereby authorized and directed to order by resolution the county auditor to cancel all such unpaid tax sales, and to order the county assessor to reassess in correct and proper manner the property so released, for each and every year, and at the respective valuations and rates that have prevailed during which said property has escaped taxation.

6076. County auditors to report to state auditor. The various county auditors are hereby required to report to the state auditor on or before December 1, 1911, the proceedings of the county commissioners under the provisions of this chapter, making settlement for collections made, and claiming credits for all cancellations made by order of the county commissioners, and report the amount chargeable to the county treasurer under all new assessments made as required by § 6075.

6077. State auditor to co-operate. The state auditor is hereby authorized and directed to advise and co-operate with the various county officials in the matter of settlement of tax sale accounts provided for in this chapter and shall submit all reports received hereunder to the state board of examiners, whose approval shall be his warrant for entering credits on all settlements provided for in this chapter.

CHAPTER 11.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.

6080. (2670.) Examination of books by state. The state auditor, as well as any member of the state board of examiners, or any person designated by said board, may examine the books of any officer charged with the collection and receipt of state taxes.

6081. (2671.) Id. Action for fraud or neglect. If on examination it is found that any officer has been guilty of defrauding the state of revenue or has neglected or refused to perform any duty relating to revenue, the state auditor may direct the attorney general to prosecute the delinquent.

6082. (2672.) Id. Counsel to assist. The state board of examiners may employ counsel to assist in such prosecution, and the expenses must be paid out of the state treasury.

6083. (2673.) Assessor may correct errors before sale. Omissions, errors, or defects in form in the assessment book, when it can be ascertained therefrom what was intended, may, with the consent of the county attorney, be supplied or corrected by the assessor at any time prior to the sale for delinquent taxes and after the original assessment was made.

Informality not fatal, § 6087.

6084. (2674.) Id. Republication. When the omission, error, or defect has been carried into a delinquent list or any publication, the list or publication may be republished as amended, or notice of the correction may be given in a supplementary publication.

6085. (2675.) Id. The publication must be made in the same manner as the original publication, for not less than one week.

6086. (2676.) Use of abbreviations. In the assessment of land or the advertisement and sale thereof for taxes, initial letters, abbreviations, and figures may be used to designate the township, range, section, or parts of sections.

6087. (2677.) Informality or delay does not invalidate tax. No assessment or act relating to assessment or collection of taxes is illegal on account of informality or because the same was not completed within the time required by law.

Delay in issuance of tax certificate does not make tax sale invalid. Bruno v. Madsen et al., 38 U. 485; 113 P. 1030.

6088. (2678.) Penalties, to whom paid. The fines, forfeitures, and penalties incurred by violation of any of the provisions of this title must be paid into the treasury for the use of the county where the person against whom the recovery is had resides.

6089. (2679.) County officers to settle with auditor. Every assessor, county attorney, and county treasurer must annually, on the first Monday in January, make a settlement with the county auditor of all transactions connected with the revenue for the previous year, and every county treasurer, on the expiration of his office, must make such settlement.

Suit for taxes when taxpayer removes, § 6047.

Suit is not the proper remedy for the collection of a tax unless expressly given by statute.
Kerr v. Woolley, 3 U. 456; 24 P. 831.

A tax collector who sues for delinquent taxes is, as far as the money due from the delinquent taxpayer is concerned, a trustee for no one, and in bringing suit he acts in his own right, and, in taking an appeal, unless an undertaking is filed, the same will be dismissed.
Collector v. Bingham Co., 3 U. 249; 2 P. 208.

Under §§ 2012, 2028, 2030, 2039, C. L. 1888, the remedy given to the collector by suit is cumulative to the remedy of levy and sale.
Little v. Gibbs, 8 U. 261; 30 P. 986.

6091. (2681.) Id. Complaint. In such action, a complaint in the following form is sufficient:

[Title of court.]

The State of Utah, plaintiff, vs. (naming the defendant), defendant.

The plaintiff avers that defendant is indebted to plaintiff in the sum of $....., state, city, town, school, and county taxes for the fiscal year 19....., and $....., interest and cost of collection to date.

The plaintiff demands judgment for said several sums and for costs of suit, and prays that a writ of attachment may issue in form as prescribed by law. (Signed by the county treasurer or state auditor, or his attorney.)

6092. (2682.) Id. Proceedings. On the filing of such complaint, the clerk must issue a summons and a writ of attachment prayed for, and such proceedings shall be had thereunder as under writs of attachment issued in civil actions. If, in such action, the plaintiff recovers judgment, there shall be included in such judgment an attorney's fee of ten per cent on the amount of the judgment. In such action, a certified copy mentioned in § 6090, made by the treasurer and delivered to the state auditor, is prima facie evidence that the person against whose property the tax was levied is indebted to the state of Utah in the amount of such tax, interest, and costs. In case of payment, after suit as above mentioned shall have been commenced or after the recovery of judgment, such payment must be made to the county treasurer of the county in which such taxes are due, whereupon the treasurer, after distributing to the several funds of the county the portions belonging to them, and paying to the state auditor or his attorney the portion received as attorney's fee and other costs, must pay the remainder to the state treasurer at the times and in the manner prescribed by law for the payment of other state taxes.

No act, or assessment is illegal on account of informality, etc., §§ 6083, 6087.

Property owners may resort to equity to enjoin the collection of a special tax under a void assessment.
Armstrong v. Ogden City, 12 U. 476; 43 P. 119.
Mercur G. M. &. M. Co. v. Spry, 16 U. 222; 50 P. 382.

When sale valid unless protest made, § 6050.
Cited in Bassett v. Utah Copper Co., 219 Fed. 811.

Taxes paid after levy and under protest can be recovered where the tax was unlawful.
S. L. C. Nat. Bank v. Golding, 2 U. 1.

In an action to recover a tax paid under protest, it is not necessary for plaintiff to establish a payment made under duress.
Centennial-Eureka M. Co. v. Juab Co., 22 U. 395; 62 P. 1024.

A cause of action accrues at once in favor of a party who pays an unlawful tax under protest, and the statute of limitations begins to run from the date of such payment, and the limitation under this section is four years. No presentation of claim to the county court is necessary as a prerequisite to the commencement of the action.
Id.

It is not required that the protest be in writing or in any particular form; it is sufficient if payment is made under an oral protest made to collector at time of payment and by him entered or noted on the records.
Murdock v. Murdock et al., 38 U. 373; 113 P. 330.

An action for a refund of taxes collected on property not subject to taxation not authorized under this section but under § 6043.
Neilsen v. Sanpete County, 40 U. 560; 123 P. 334.

Where a liquor license fee was not imposed without authority or contrary to law, payment of the fee under protest is not within this section, and evidence held to support a finding that a payment was not made under protest.
Williams v. Summit County, 41 U. 72; 128 P. 938.

Am'd '01, p. 77.

Payment of judgment against county, § 1430.
Refunding of taxes illegally collected, etc., §§ 6043, 6097.

6097. (2686x.) When judgment recovered for taxes unlawfully collected, state and school districts liable for their proportion. When taxes have been or may hereafter be collected by the authorized officer of any county, and judgment has been or may hereafter be obtained against such county or its authorized officer, determining such taxes to have been unlawfully collected, and any portion of such taxes are state taxes or state school taxes or district school taxes or county school taxes which have been paid over to the state or to any school district by such county or its authorized officer, the state and any school district which has received the same or any part thereof shall be liable to the judgment debtor for the amount so received and lawful interest thereon from the time of receiving the same, and for an equitable portion of the costs of action. '01, p. 121.

CHAPTER 12.

CITY AND TOWN TAXES.

6100. (2687.) Assessment for cities, etc., made by county assessor. Assessments for the taxes of each incorporated city and town in this state shall be made by the county assessor of the county in which such incorporated city or town is situated, at the same time that assessments for state and county taxes are made, and the list of the property in each incorporated city and town in his county, and the valuation thereof, shall be so made by the county assessor that the property in each and the valuation thereof can be separately shown.

Assessment and collection of city and other taxes, §§ 5928, 6105.

6101. (2688.) Assessor's statement. Copy of rolls, when furnished. On or before the first Monday of June in each year, the county assessor of each county in which there is situated any incorporated city or town shall deliver to the clerk or recorder of each city and to the clerk or president of the board of trustees of each town a statement showing the aggregate valuation of all taxable property in such city or town. Am'd '03, p. 184.

Under this section and §§ 5864, 5929, 5931, 5932, it is the duty of the county assessor to assess the taxable property in an incorporated city and deliver a copy of that part of his assessment roll to the city auditor for use of city authorities in levying taxes for city purposes; and the acts of such officer and authorities are presumed to be valid until the contrary is shown.

Eureka Hill M. Co. v. Eureka City, 22 U. 447; 63 P. 654.

6102. City of first class. Date of levy. Purposes. Limitations. During the month of July of each year, the city council or city commission in cities of the first class at a regular meeting thereof shall, by ordinance or resolution, levy on the real and personal property within the city made taxable by law:

1. Not to exceed five mills on the dollar to defray contingent expenses;
2. Not to exceed one and one-half mills on the dollar to purchase water sources, streams, and the land upon which said streams are appropriated, and canals; to construct waterworks, and to supply water for irrigation and other purposes;
3. Not to exceed four mills on the dollar to open, improve, and repair the streets and sidewalks;
4. Not to exceed one mill on the dollar to construct and repair sewers and drains;
5. Not to exceed two mills on the dollar to construct and maintain gas works, electric light works, telephone lines, street railways, or bath houses. '17, p. 433.

6103. (2689.) Rate, when fixed. Levy. Certification. The city council of each city and the board of trustees of each town shall, during the month of July in each year, determine the rate of the general city or town tax, levy the same, and shall certify the rate and levy to the county auditor of the county in which such city or town is situate. Am'd '03, pp. 10, 184.

Legislature prohibited from imposing taxes for municipal purposes, Con., art. 13, sec. 5.

Levy for city school purposes, § 4704.

City and town taxes delinquent, when, § 6108.

Levy and lien of taxes generally, §§ 5993-5998.

All property in city limits subject to tax, note to § 671.

Under the provisions of this section, and § 570x3, and §§ 671, 5876, 5995-5997, 6108, and Con. art. 13, sec. 10, where real estate within the limits of a city had been assessed, but before the rate had been fixed or levy made, a judgment was rendered disconnecting the property from the city and providing that it should no longer be subject to taxes, the tax did not become a lien upon the property so severed.

Gillmor v. Dale, 27 U. 372; 75 P. 932.

6104. (2690.) Equalization of taxes. The county commissioners of each county, as a board of equalization, shall equalize the assessment roll of the whole county, including the assessment for general taxes of all cities and incorporated towns situated in the county, at the times and in the manner provided by law for equalizing assessments for state and county taxes. Am'd '03, p. 184.

Duties and powers of county board, §§ 5974-5982.

6105. (2691.) City and town taxes on general roll. The general city and town tax of each city and incorporated town shall be extended on the general roll by the county auditor, in a separate column, at the rate certified by the city council or town board of trustees, at the time the state and county taxes are extended, and the whole tax shall be carried into a column of aggregates, and shall be collected by the county treasurer at the times and in the manner provided by law for collecting state and county taxes, and the warrant to the county treasurer shall include such city and town taxes, and confer on him the same powers respecting the collection of said taxes and sale of delinquent property as are conferred respecting the collection of state and county taxes. Am'd '03, p. 185.

The assessor and collector for a city, under the provisions of laws of 1892, p. 44, are the county assessor and collector, and the assessment roll is that on which city taxes are extended under the provisions of this act. Board of Education v. Brown, 12 U. 251; 42 P. 1109.

Laws of 1892, p. 131, do not delegate to the assessor and collector the power to levy the tax hereunder. The acts prescribed to be done by the board of education constitute such levy. Id.

6106. (2692.) County officers liable on bonds. County officers intrusted with the assessment, collection, or custody of city or school district taxes, and their sureties, shall be liable upon their official bonds for the faithful performance of their duties in the assessment, collection, and safe keeping of said city and school district taxes.

6107. (2693.) County treasurer's settlement with cities. It shall be the duty of the county treasurer to pay to the treasurer of each city and incorporated town in the county, on the 1st day of October in each year, and on the first day of each succeeding month until final settlement, all moneys in his hands collected for city or town taxes, and on or before the 1st day of March in each year to make final settlement with the treasurer of each such city or town respecting the city and town taxes, and pay over all money then due the city or town. The county treasurer shall pay over to the treasurer of each city and town, as fast as collected or realized, their proportionate amount of delinquent taxes, interest, and costs on all tax sales and redemptions therefrom. The city or town treasurer shall give said county treasurer duplicate receipts for each payment, and the county treasurer shall give one to the city auditor, city recorder, or town clerk, as the case may be, and the other shall be an acquittance to such county treasurer in settling with the county auditor to the extent of the payment shown. Am'd '03, p. 185.

Payment by city for collection, §§ 1559-1561.

6108. (2694.) Municipal taxes due and delinquent, when. Lien attaches. All general city or town taxes levied and assessed under the provisions of this chapter shall become due and delinquent, and shall attach to and become a lien on the real and personal property assessed, at the same time as state and county taxes; and all the provisions of this title in aid of assessing and collecting state and county taxes are hereby made applicable to the assessment and collection of such city and town taxes.

Levy of city and town taxes, § 6103.
Taxes due, when; delinquent, when, § 6015.
Lien of taxes, §§ 5995, 5997.

Where both county and city buy in land by successive delinquent sales, both public corporations have perpetual liens of equal rank. Ogden City v. Hamer, 12 U. 337; 42 P. 1113.

Where property was disconnected from city before levy, the tax did not become a lien. Gillmor v. Dale, 27 U. 372; 75 P. 932.

6109. (2696.) Special taxes. In cities and towns, special taxes shall be levied and collected in the manner and form, and by such officers as are or may hereafter be provided by law and the ordinances of such city or town.

TITLE 107.

TELEGRAPHIC TRANSACTIONS.

6117. (2697.) Notice by telegraph or telephone. Effect. Whenever any notice, information, or intelligence, written or otherwise, is required to be given, the same may be given by telegraph or telephone; provided, that the dispatch containing the same, if sent by telegraph, be delivered in writing to the person entitled thereto or to his agent or attorney, and if sent by telephone, be certified to by an officer or employe of the telephone company. Notice by telegraph or telephone shall be deemed actual notice. All information or intelligence to be transmitted by telegraph or telephone shall be delivered to the telegraph or telephone operator in writing, and delivered to the person for whom it is intended, or his agent or attorney, in writing by the operator at the receiving office. Am'd '07, p. 22.

Summons, writ, order, etc., may be sent by telegraph, or telephone, § 7032.

See public utilities act, §§ 4775-4853.

6118. (2698.) Conveyances, etc., by telegraph or telephone. Any power of attorney or other instrument in writing duly proved or acknowledged and certified so as to be entitled to record may, together with the certificate of its proof or acknowledgment, be sent by telegraph or telephone, and the telegraphic or telephonic copy or duplicate thereof shall, prima facie, have the same force and effect, in all respects, and may be admitted to record and recorded in the same manner and with like effect as the original.

Am' '07, p. 22.

Contracts by telegraph deemed contracts in writing, § 5820.

6120. (2700.) Certified instruments by telegraph or telephone. As evidence. Except as hereinbefore otherwise provided, any instrument in writing, duly certified under his hand and official seal by a notary public, commissioner of deeds, or clerk of a court of record, to be genuine within the personal knowledge of such officer, may, together with such certificate, be sent by telegraph or telephone, and the telegraphic or telephonic copy thereof shall, prima facie only, have the same force, effect, and validity in all respects whatsoever as the original, and the burden of proof shall rest with the party denying the genuineness or due execution of the original. Am'd '07, p. 23.

Seal, how described by telegraph or telephone, § 7032.

TITLE 108.

TOWNSITES.

6121. (2701.) Duty of mayor or district judge under act of congress. When the corporate authorities of any city or town, or the district judge of any county in which any city or town may be situated, shall have entered at the proper land office the land or any part of the land settled and occupied as the site of such city or town, pursuant to and by virtue of the provisions of the act of congress, entitled "An act for the relief of the inhabitants of cities and towns upon the public lands," approved March 2, 1867, and acts amendatory thereto, it shall be the duty of such corporate authorities or judge, as the case may be, to dispose of and convey the title to such land, or to the several blocks, lots, parcels, or shares thereof, to the persons entitled thereto, who are to be ascertained as hereinafter prescribed.

Conveyance by mayor or by district judge, § 6127.

The mayor of Salt Lake City, whenever he enters land under the townsite law, holds legal title of the same in trust for the several use and benefit of the occupants thereof, according to their respective interests.

Pratt v. Young, 1 U. 347.

Stringfellow v. Cain, 99 U. S. 610.

U. S. v. Tithing Yard, 9 U. 273; 34 P. 55.

A claimant who was in the bona fide occupancy of a city lot prior to the entry thereof by the mayor, and was wrongfully ousted, should receive the legal title.

Pratt v. Young, 1 U. 347.

An "occupant," within the meaning of the townsite law, is one who is a settler or a resident of the town, and in the bona fide, actual possession of the lot at the time the entry is made.

Hussey v. Smith, 1 U. 129.

Cain Heirs v. Young, 1 U. 361.

Cooke v. Young, 2 U. 254.

Amy v. Amy, 12 U. 278; 42 P. 1121.

Drake v. Reggel, 10 U. 376; 37 P. 583.

Holland v. Buchanan, 19 U. 11; 56 P. 561.

City lots cannot be taken up by means of agents, but every claimant must himself be an actual settler or occupant.

Cooke v. Young, 2 U. 254.

A non-resident may, by purchase from an occupant, acquire such a right to the occupancy as would entitle him to a judgment for a conveyance under the trust.

Stringfellow v. Cain, 99 U. S. 610.

Under the townsite act, the rights of persons under disability not presented for adjudication will not be preserved.

Drake v. Reggel, 10 U. 376; 37 P. 583.

Amy v. Amy, 12 U. 278; 42 P. 1121.

The possession by the ancestor at his death is possession by the heirs, and minor heirs cannot give up or surrender possession except by proper suit to which they are parties.

Cain Heirs v. Young, 1 U. 361.

The widow and children of the occupant have an inchoate interest after the death of the occupant under the townsite law, which interest they lose by failing to retain possession of the land until entry by the municipal authorities.

West v. Child, 8 U. 223; 30 P. 755.

Stringfellow v. Cain, 99 U. S. 610.

An occupant in possession under the townsite law may sell his equitable right to a lot before patent.

Clawson v. Wallace, 16 U. 300; 52 P. 9.

Hussey v. Smith, 99 U. S. 20.

Stringfellow v. Cain, 99 U. S. 610.

A bona fide occupant may lease the ground and still retain his rights thereto.

Cain Heirs v. Young, 1 U. 361.

Under act of congress of March 2, 1867 (14 Stat. 541), the interests of the occupants attach simultaneously with the making of a townsite entry, and no person who was not a settler and occupant at the time of entry is a beneficiary under the act.

Lockwitz v. Larson, 16 U. 275; 52 P. 279.

By the term "entry" is meant the filing of an application by the proper officer with the register of the land office, and proof showing the performance of the statutory conditions respecting the settlement and occupancy of the land as a townsite.

Id.

Delay on the part of the government in allowing the entry can not affect the rights of those who were bona fide occupants at the time of filing the application and proof, or of those claiming through such occupants, providing the entry is ultimately made on the proof submitted with the application.

Id.

6122. (2702.) Public notice after entry. Within thirty days after the entry of any such lands, the corporate authorities or judge entering the same shall give public notice of the entry in at least five public places within such city or town, and shall publish the notice in some newspaper printed and published in this state, and having a general circulation in such city or town. The notice shall be published once a week for at least three successive months, and shall contain an accurate description of the lands so entered as stated in the certificate of entry or the duplicate receipt received from the officer of the land office.

The intention of this section is to require the notice therein prescribed to be given within thirty days after the issuance of final certificate of entry.

Holland v. Buchanan, 19 U. 11; 56 P. 561.

6123. (2703.) Claims, when and where filed. Effect. Each person claiming any lot or parcel of such land shall, within six months after the first publication of the notice, in person or by his agent or attorney, sign a statement in writing containing an accurate description of the particular lot or parcel of land in which he claims to have an interest, and the specific right, interest, or estate therein which he claims to be entitled to receive, and he shall deliver the same to the clerk of the district court of the county in which such city or town is situated. The clerk of said court shall enter the statements in a book to be kept for that purpose, and shall file and preserve them in his office, noting the day of filing. The filing of each statement shall be considered notice to all persons claiming any interest in the lands described therein, of the claim of the party filing the same; and any person failing to make and deliver a statement within the time limited in this section shall be forever barred the right of claiming or recovering such land, or any interest or estate therein, or in any part thereof, in any court; provided, that when good cause is shown why such statement could not be filed within the time herein specified, the judge may extend the time, not exceeding one year from the first publication of such notice.

Extending time to make application, § 6124.

An applicant for a deed under the townsite act has the right to amend his application, so as to change the number of the lot applied for. Such amendment, although more than one year after the first publication of the notice as provided for in said act, is within time.

In re Faust, 1 U. 197.

When the statement in writing required is signed by an attorney in fact in his own name without disclosing his principal, it is proper to allow an amendment in accordance with the fact, if adverse claimants are not prejudiced thereby.

Clark v. Kirby, 18 U. 258; 55 P. 372.

Where a claim was filed after the expiration of the six months limited by law, and on the same was indorsed the words "by permission, cause considered sufficient;" held, that it would be presumed that the court allowed the filing.

Kinney v. Lewis, 2 U. 512.

The failure of a life tenant, who is also trustee of the remaindermen, to file a statement hereunder showing the interest of the cestuis qui trust bars them from afterward claiming their interest, though some were not born at the time and others were minors; held, the trustee thereby acquired a fee to the land.

Drake v. Reggel, 10 U. 376; 37 P. 583.

6124. (2703x.) Extending time for application. Exception. Any claimant of any lot, block, or parcel of land in any town or city as defined in this title who shall have failed or neglected to make application for said lot, block, or parcel within the time provided by law, may, at any time within five years after the approval of this section, make and file the application provided for in said title; provided, that in no case shall such application be received or entertained by a court of competent jurisdiction if it appears that the title to the lot, block, or parcel shall have been theretofore transferred in any manner by such town or city, adjudged or decreed to any prior claimant by said court; and the same shall be heard and determined in the same manner and with like effect as if made within the time prescribed in said original title; provided, further, that nothing in this section shall be so construed as to enlarge or extend the rights of parties in contest cases now pending in any court. Am'd '05, p. 22; '09, p. 46; '17, p. 47.

Decisions as to filing after six months, note to § 6123.

6125. (2704.) Adverse claims. Proceedings. If at the expiration of six months after the first publication of the notice as aforesaid, it shall be found by the statements filed that there are adverse claimants to any lot or parcel of land, it shall be the duty of the district judge, taking up each case in the order of filing, to cause notice to be served upon the claimants thereto, or their agents or attorneys, to appear before the district court, and prosecute their claims upon a day to be appointed by the court, not less than five nor more than thirty days from the service of such notice. The statements filed as aforesaid shall stand in the place of pleadings, and an issue shall be made thereon. On the day set for the hearing, the judge shall proceed to hear the evidence adduced in support of the allegations of the parties, and shall decide according to the justice of the case.

6126. (2705.) No adverse claims. Proof of statement. After the expiration of the six months for filing statements, and where there are no adverse claimants, the court, taking up the cases in the order of filing, shall cause a summons to be issued and served upon each party filing a statement, or his agent, requiring him, or his agent or attorney, to appear before the court upon a day designated, not less than three nor more than ten days from the service of such summons, and make proof of his statement.

Validation of conveyances under townsite law, §§ 4908-4911.

The mayor's deed under the townsite act need not be witnessed, and is prima facie evidence of title in the grantee.

Kinney v. Lewis, 2 U. 512.

Townsend v. Hooper, 2 U. 548.

Where an adjudication is made in the probate court under the townsite law, such adjudication has the force and effect of a judgment which cannot be collaterally attacked.

Rogers v. Thompson, 9 U. 46; 33 P. 234.

West v. Utah Nat. Bank, 8 U. 374; 31 P. 987.

Amy v. Amy, 12 U. 278; 42 P. 1121.

Where title comes through a mayor's deed or U. S. patent, a purchaser may presume that such deed or patent has been rightfully issued, and need not, at his peril, investigate the preliminary steps.
Drake v. Reggel, 10 U. 376; 39 P. 583.

6128. (2707.) When judge is a claimant. If the district judge shall be a claimant of lands in any city or town in his county, he may file the statement required in § 6123, in the district court of an adjoining district, and a copy of the statement in that of his own county. The judge of the district court of the adjoining county shall then proceed as provided for in § 6125 or § 6126, as the case may be; and he shall, moreover, give notice to the mayor of such city, or the president of the board of trustees of such town, or, in case of an unincorporated town, to the justice of the peace of the precinct in which such town may be situated. The court shall thereafter proceed as in other cases provided for in this chapter, and a deed to the land shall be made to the party entitled thereto.

6129. (2708.) Appeals. Judgment. From the decision of the court in any case under the provisions of this title, appeals shall be allowed as in other cases. In case of appeal, the final judgment thereon shall authorize the mayor, the president of the board of trustees, or the judge to make or withhold a conveyance, as the case may be.
No collateral attack, note to § 6127.

6130. (2709.) When mayor is a claimant. If the mayor of any city or the president of the board of trustees of any town shall be a claimant of lands in such city or town, the recorder or the clerk thereof, as the case may be, shall, upon the certificate of the district court, made as in the case of other claimants, execute a deed of conveyance to such mayor or president of the board for the lands finally adjudged to him by the court.

6131. (2710.) Change of venue. A change of venue as in suits at law shall be allowed in all cases arising under this title.

Validation of conveyances under townsite law, § 4908-4911.

6135. (2714.) Errors in measurement. Errors in measurement or computation shall not invalidate any proceedings under this title.

6136. (2715.) Death of judge, etc. In case of death or disability of the district judge, the mayor, or the president of the board of trustees, before the complete execution of his trust, the same shall vest in his successor in office.

6137. (2716.) Unclaimed lands, how disposed of. If there shall remain any unclaimed lands within such city or town, after the expiration of six months from the publication of the notice provided for in § 6122, the mayor, or the president of the board of trustees, in cases where lands have been entered for a municipal corporation, or the district judge in cases where lands have been entered in trust by him, shall cause the same to be surveyed and platted out into suitable blocks, lots, streets, roads, lanes, and alleys; and may sell or cause to be sold such blocks or lots at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, after public notice of the time and place of such sale, published at least forty days in some newspaper published in the county, if there be any, otherwise in a newspaper having general circulation in the county.

The act of 1869, p. 6, similar to this section, construed.
Linck v. S. L. City, 6 U. 109; 21 P. 459.

6138. (2717.) Id. If any of such lands remain unsold for want of a bidder, the mayor, the president of the board of trustees, or district judge, shall have power to sell or cause the same to be sold at public or private sale, on such terms as may be deemed for the best interest of the city or town; provided, that none of such lands shall be sold for less than $5 per acre.

6141. Persons in possession of certain lands deemed the owners thereof. District judge to convey title. Whenever any lot, piece, or parcel of land shall have passed from the United States to the probate judge of any county in this state or the late territory of Utah, under and by virtue of the provisions of an act of congress entitled "An act for the relief of the inhabitants of cities and towns upon the public lands," approved March 2, 1867, or any amendments thereto, and there is no record of any conveyance from such probate judge or his successors in office to the claimants thereof, any person, who by himself or by or through his predecessors in interest shall have had continuous and exclusive possession of such lot, piece, or parcel of land for the period of ten years before the filing of the petition hereinafter mentioned, and shall have paid the taxes thereon during said time, shall be deemed the rightful owner of such land, and it shall be conclusively presumed that he has complied with all of the provisions of law for obtaining title thereto; and such person may at any time apply to the judge of the district court of the county wherein said land may be situated for a conveyance of the legal title to such land to him, and the judge of the district court of such county is hereby vested with all powers and authority of such probate judge for the purpose of executing such conveyance and carrying out the trust reposed in such probate judge, and such district judge shall execute a conveyance to such person of such lot, piece, or parcel of land, without any expense to such person except the ordinary costs of court; and such conveyance, when so executed by any judge of the district court, shall pass to such person all the right, title, and interest held or enjoyed by such probate judge in and to the said lot, piece, or parcel of land to all intents and purposes and with the same effect as if a proper conveyance had been executed by such probate judge after proper proceedings in the manner provided by law. '15, p. 125.

TITLE 109.

TRADE MARKS.

CHAPTER 1.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

6145. (2720.) Defined. The phrase "trade mark," as used in this chapter, includes every description of word, letter, device, emblem, stamp, imprint, brand, printed ticket, label, or wrapper usually affixed by any mechanic, manufacturer, druggist, merchant, tradesman, association, or union, whether incorporated or unincorporated, to denote any goods to be goods imported, manufactured, produced, compounded, or sold by him, or by such association or union, other than any name, word, or expression generally denoting any goods to be of some particular class or description.

Cal. Pol. C., § 3196*. Mont. Pol. C., § 3160*.
"Trade mark" defined, § 8475.
Brands of cans, bottles, etc., §§ 6150-6156, 8451, 8456.
Brands of closed packages of fruit, §§ 8458, 8461.

The number 888, used by a telephone company as a call for its trouble department, is not a trade mark or trade name, so as to deprive another company, subsequently organized, of the right of using the same number as the call for its trouble department.
R. M. Bell Tel. Co. v. Ind. Tel. Co., 31 U. 377; 88 P. 26.

6146. (2721.) Recorded with secretary of state. Any person, association, or union may record any trade mark or name by filing with the secretary of state his or its claim to the same, and a copy or description of such trade mark or name, with his affidavit attached thereto, certified to by any officer authorized to take acknowledgments of conveyances, setting forth that he, or the firm, corporation, association, or union of which he is a member, is the exclusive owner, or agent of the owner, of such trade mark or name.
Cal. Pol. C., § 3197*. Mont. Pol. C., § 3161*.

6147. (2722.) Record open to public. The secretary of state must keep for public examination a record of all trade marks or names filed in his office, with the date when filed and name of claimant; and must at the time of filing collect from each claimant the authorized fee.
Cal. Pol C., § 3198*. Mont. Pol. C., § 3162*.

6148. (2723.) Ownership. Transfer. Damages for infringement. Any person who has first adopted and used a trade mark or name, whether within or beyond the limits of this state, is its original owner. Such ownership may be transferred in the same manner as personal property, and is entitled to the same protection by suits at law; and any court of competent jurisdiction may restrain, by injunction, and award damages for, any use of trade marks or names in violation of this chapter.

Cal. Pol. C., § 3199. Mont. Pol. C. § 3163.
Illegal use of or counterfeiting trade mark, §§ 8472-8476.

In proceedings against one for a contempt in violating an injunction restraining him from infringing a trade mark, it was proper on a finding for plaintiff to award him a reasonable attorney's fee. Such proceedings are civil.

CHAPTER 2.

MARKING, STAMPING, AND BRANDING RECEPTACLES.

('11, p. 45.)

6150. Owners may adopt marks of ownership. Filing fee. All persons, companies, and corporations engaged in the transportation or manufacture of any dairy product, ice cream, or soda water, or in bottling milk, cream, or soda water for sale and use, may adopt a mark or marks of ownership to be stamped or marked on any can, bottle, cask, keg, barrel, or other receptacle used in the handling and transportation of any of said products, and may file in the office of the secretary of state a description of the name or marks so used by them or either of them, and the use to be made of any such can, bottle, cask, keg, barrel, or other receptacle, and cause the same to be published for two successive weeks in a weekly newspaper published and in general circulation in the state of Utah, and pay to the secretary of state a fee of $2 for filing the same.

6151. Selection of marks. The brand or mark so selected and adopted as herein provided may consist of a name, design, mark or marks, or some particular color of paint or enamel used upon the can, bottle, cask, keg, barrel, or other receptacle, or any part thereof.

6152. Unlawful to duplicate brands or marks. It shall be unlawful for any person, company, or corporation to adopt or use any brand or mark which has already been designated, appropriated, or obtained under the provisions of this chapter.

6153. Unlawful to use branded or marked receptacle. It shall be unlawful for any person other than the rightful owner thereof to use any can, bottle, cask, keg, barrel, or other receptacle marked or branded as herein provided, for any other purpose, or for the transportation or hauling of any other article or product than designated or provided for by such branding.

6154. Defacing of marks or brands unlawful. It shall be unlawful for any person other than the rightful owner thereof to deface or remove any such brand, mark, or stamp put upon any such can, bottle, cask, keg, barrel, or other receptacle as herein provided.

6155. Duty of dairy and food commissioner. For the purpose of preventing the use of said cans, bottles, casks, kegs, barrels, or other receptacles for any purpose other than that herein provided, and to insure the wholesomeness and high quality of said products and the sanitary condition of the receptacles in which the same are transported, it shall be the duty of the dairy and food commissioner to enforce the provisions of this chapter.

6156. Penalty. Whoever shall violate any of the provisions or sections of this chapter shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine of not more than $100, or by imprisonment in the county jail, not exceeding thirty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment, at the discretion of the court.

Marking casks, bottles, etc., §§ 8451-8456.

TITLE 110.

TRADING STAMPS.

CHAPTER 1.

SALE OF TRADING STAMPS.

('15, p. 211.)

6160. Unlawful to sell stamps, when. Penalty. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to sell, issue, transfer, or deliver to any other person, firm, or corporation within this state any trading stamp or stamps to be sold, issued, transferred, or delivered by such other person, firm, or corporation upon, in connection with, or as the result of a sale of any goods, wares, merchandise, or other commodity or thing of value, unless and until the person, firm, or corporation in the first instance so selling, issuing, transferring, or delivering the same shall have established an office within this state where all books of accounts relating to the sale, issue, transfer, or delivery of trading stamps in this state shall be kept, and shall have filed with the secretary of state an appointment of a process attorney upon whom process in all civil actions may be served, and shall also have filed with the secretary of state a good and sufficient bond as hereinafter specified. Any person, firm, or corporation violating any provision of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

6161. Bond required. Action against. Said bond shall be in the sum of $20,000, payable to the state of Utah, and shall be executed by the person, firm, or corporation furnishing the same, as principal, together with at least one corporate surety, and shall provide that the principal shall, upon presentation by the lawful holder of the required quantity of trading stamps in the proper form, redeem the same according to the terms of the contract under which they were issued, and that the said principal shall pay all taxes imposed by law and all fines and penalties imposed for a violation of any law of this state. Said bond shall be in such form and shall contain such other conditions and provisions as the secretary of state shall deem necessary to protect the state and all persons, firms, or corporations holding trading stamps for redemption. Whenever any such bond shall, for breach of any condition therein contained, become forfeited, any person injured thereby may sue thereupon, or all persons so injured may join in prosecuting one action, but any such action must be commenced within one year after the date upon which the cause of action accrued.

CHAPTER 2.

TAX ON TRADING STAMPS.

('15, p. 213.)

inner page of the front cover of the book or pad, or if such stamps are sold, transferred, issued, or delivered in any other container, then the stamps shall be affixed to the front of such container. All trading stamps so sold, transferred, issued, or delivered shall be put up in books, pads, or other containers, and the book, pad, or other container shall have printed on the front cover a statement of the number of trading stamps contained therein.

6166. Tax on trading stamps issued at time of sale of merchandise, etc. Proviso. There is also hereby imposed and levied and there shall immediately accrue and be collected a tax, as herein provided, of 50 cents on each and every sale, transfer, issue, or delivery of one thousand trading stamps, or fraction thereof, made to any person, firm, or corporation upon, in connection with, or as a result of, the sale of any goods, wares, merchandise, or any other commodity or thing of value. The payment of such tax shall be evidenced by an adhesive stamp or stamps affixed as required by § 6165; provided, that when a tax has been paid upon the sale, transfer, issue, or delivery of any such trading stamps at the time the same were purchased or received by the person selling, transferring, issuing, or delivering the same to another upon, in connection with, or as a result of, a sale of goods, wares, merchandise, or any other commodity or thing of value, and such payment is evidenced by stamps affixed as required by § 6165, then no tax shall be levied upon the sale, transfer, issue, or delivery of such trading stamps made upon, in connection with, or as a result of, a sale of goods, wares, merchandise, or other commodity or thing of value; it being the intent to levy a tax upon only one transfer of the same trading stamps.

6167. Failure to pay tax. Penalty. Any person, firm, or corporation who shall sell, transfer, issue, or deliver to another any trading stamp or stamps, and who shall fail to pay the tax levied by the provisions of this chapter, and evidence such payment by affixing and canceling stamps in the manner required herein, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

any counterfeit stamp or any forged stamp, with intent to defraud the state of Utah, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

6172. Dealer to keep record of trading stamps issued. Inspection powers of secretary of state. Every person, firm, or corporation who sells, transfers, or delivers, and every person, firm, or corporation who purchases or receives, any trading stamps to be given or delivered by him or it to any other person, firm, or corporation upon or as a result of a sale of any goods, wares, merchandise, or other commodity or thing of value shall keep and maintain correct books of account in convenient form wherein shall be entered the date of such sale, transfer, delivery, or receipt, as the case may be, the name of the person, firm, or corporation to or by whom such stamps were sold, transferred, delivered, or received, as the case may be, and the number of books, pads, or other containers of stamps, and the quantity of stamps contained in each. Said books of account shall, at all business hours of the day, be open to inspection by the secretary of state, by himself, his agent, or assistant, and should he be refused the right of inspection of any of said books of account he may enforce the same by mandamus. Every person, firm, or corporation purchasing or receiving trading stamps to be by him or it given or delivered to any other person, firm, or corporation upon or as a result of the sale of any goods, wares, merchandise, or other thing or commodity of value, shall keep and carefully preserve the covers of the books, pads, or other containers in which the said stamps were sold or delivered, for a period of at least thirty months after the said sale or delivery, and the same shall, at all business hours of the day during said period, be open to inspection by the secretary of state by himself, his agent, or assistant, and should he be denied this right, he may enforce the same by mandamus.

TITLE 111.

UNIFORMITY OF LEGISLATION.

6180. (2723x) Appointment of board. Term. Within ten days after March 13, 1907, the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, shall appoint for a term of two years, three suitable persons, and they and their successors are hereby constituted the Utah board of commissioners for the promotion of uniformity of legislation in the United States. Any vacancy in said board caused by resignation, death, or otherwise, shall be filled by the appointment of a suitable person by the governor. '07, p. 35.

6181. (2723x1.) Duties of board. It shall be the duty of said board to examine the subjects of insolvency, the descent and distribution of property, the execution and probate of wills, and other subjects upon which uniformity of legislation in the various states and territories of the union is desirable, but which are outside the jurisdiction of the congress of the United States; to confer upon these matters with the commissioners appointed by other states for the same purpose; to consider and draft uniform laws to be submitted for approval and adoption by the several states; and generally, to devise and recommend such other or further course of action as shall accomplish the purposes of this title. '07, p. 36.

6183. (2723x3.) Expenses paid. Report. No member of said board shall receive any compensation for his services, but each member shall be repaid from the state treasury, upon the warrant of the state auditor, the amount of his actual traveling and other necessary expenses incurred in the discharge of his official duty, after the itemized and verified account thereof has been audited, approved, and allowed by the state board of examiners. Said board of commissioners shall keep a full account of its expenditures, and shall report it in each biennial report. '07, p. 36.

TITLE 112.

VETERINARY MEDICAL EXAMINERS.

('11, p. 17.)

6185. (2723x5.) Appointment of board. Qualifications. Vacancies. Removal. The governor shall, as soon as practicable after this title goes into effect, appoint a board of examiners, said board to be known as the Utah state board of veterinary medical examiners. The board shall consist of three qualified veterinarians, each of whom shall be a graduate of a college or university recognized by the department of agriculture, Washington, D. C., and who shall be of good standing in the profession. One of these members shall be appointed for one year, one for two years, and one for three years, and each succeeding appointment shall be for three years. The members of said board shall qualify by taking the usual oath of office before any officer qualified to administer such oath. The governor shall fill any vacancy which may occur on the board, and may remove any member of said board for neglect of duty, for incompetency, unprofessional or dishonorable conduct.
Am'd '07, p. 164.

6186. (2723x6.) Organization. Books and stationery. Said board of examiners shall, within thirty days after appointment, meet and organize by the election of a president, a secretary, and a treasurer, from its own members, who shall be elected for a term of one year, and serve until their successors are elected and qualified, and shall perform the duties prescribed by the board. The board shall procure the necessary books and stationery for its use, the same to be paid for out of its treasury.

to revoke or cancel any certificate issued for any of the causes to-wit: The employment of fraud or deception in applying for said license or certificate, or in passing examinations provided for in this title, conviction of crime involving moral turpitude, habitual intemperance, or in the use of ardent spirits, narcotics, or stimulants. Any person desiring to begin the practice of veterinary medicine within the state of Utah shall present to a member of the board his diploma, and if, in the opinion of said member of said board, the diploma is valid he shall issue a permit to practice until the date of the next examination. Am'd '07, p. 165.

6188. Unlawful practice. It shall be unlawful after July 1, 1911, for any person to practice veterinary medicine, veterinary surgery, or any branch thereof, including veterinary dentistry, in the state of Utah, without previously having obtained a certificate from the board of veterinary examiners, except as hereinafter provided.

6190. (2723x10.) Registration. Examination. All persons who are graduates of veterinary colleges recognized by the department of agriculture, Washington, D. C., and all persons who have practiced veterinary medicine within the state of Utah for a period of five years or more for compensation, prior to the passage of this title shall be entitled to registration. On and after July 1, 1911, all applicants for license to practice veterinary medicine, surgery, and dentistry in this state shall be required to pass a satisfactory examination in such subjects and topics, a knowledge of which is commonly and generally required of candidates for degrees in reputable veterinary colleges or universities in the United States. All examinations provided for in this title shall be conducted under rules and regulations prescribed by the board, which shall provide for fair and wholly impartial methods of examinations.

6191. Certificates, how used. Every certificate issued by the state board of veterinary examiners to practice veterinary surgery, medicine, or dentistry, as the case may be, shall state the provisions, whether graduate or non-graduate, and shall indicate the section of this title under which it is issued, and such certificate must be displayed in a conspicuous place in his place of business at all times; provided, that all veterinarians traveling from place to place shall carry said certificate for inspection in any locality where practicing, and, except when obtained by fraud, shall be conclusive evidence of the right of the holder to practice veterinary medicine, veterinary surgery, or veterinary dentistry in the state of Utah, and each veterinarian registered in the state shall pay to the secretary $1 annually as dues, to be applied to the veterinary fund. The failure to display such certificate or the failure of payment of such dues by the end of any fiscal year, January 31, by the holder of a certificate from such board shall render said certificate null and void.

To examine stallions and jacks, when, § 2890. Must report certain diseases, § 220. Limitations as to prescriptions of alcohol, § 3370; narcotics, § 4432.

6192. Must keep a register of certificates issued. It shall be the duty of the said board of examiners to keep a register of all practitioners to whom certificates are issued under the provisions of this title, and to register the name, age, and time spent in study and practice of veterinary medicine, veterinary surgery, or veterinary dentistry, as the case may be, and, if a graduate, the name and location of the school granting his diploma. Such record will be prima facie evidence of all matters therein recorded, and shall be open for public inspection at all times, within reasonable hours, at the office of the secretary of the board.

6193. Revocation of license. Any veterinary practitioner of the state of Utah convicted of malpractice shall have his license revoked.

Revoked for failure to report certain diseases, § 120

Revoked for prescribing alcohol, § 3371.

6194. Penalty for practicing without a certificate. Any person practicing veterinary medicine, veterinary surgery, or any branch thereof, including dentistry, in the state of Utah, from or after the 1st day of July, 1911, without having first obtained a certificate under the provisions of this title, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor; provided, nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit qualified veterinarians residing outside the state of Utah meeting in consultation with and rendering special assistance to qualified veterinarians of this state.

6195. Construction. Any person shall be regarded as practicing veterinary medicine, veterinary surgery, or veterinary dentistry, within the meaning of this title, who prescribes for or in any way treats a sick or injured animal or animals for compensation therefor; provided, that nothing in this title shall be construed to prohibit castrating, spaying, and dehorning of farm animals by any person for compensation, or of the treatment of sick or injured domestic animals by any persons free of charge, or to prohibit a veterinary student from prescribing under the direction of a preceptor, while actually attending a veterinary school or during a vacation not to exceed eighteen months; provided, further, that this title may not apply to any one in the employ of the United States in the department of agriculture or any officer in the United States army, in discharge of his official duties.

6196. Fee. Disposition of same. The board of examiners shall collect an examination fee of $5 from each applicant for examination and said money shall be paid prior to the examination, and said board shall receive no fees or salaries from the state, but the fees received from applicants for examinations and yearly dues shall defray all expenses of said board.

6198. Penalty for false swearing. Any person who shall swear falsely in any affidavit or oral testimony made or given by virtue of the provisions of this title or the regulations of said board of registration shall be deemed guilty of perjury.

TITLE 113.

WAREHOUSE RECEIPT ACT—LIENS, ETC.

('11, p. 271.)

6201. Warehouse receipts may be issued. Warehouse receipts may be issued by any warehouseman.

6202. What receipts must embody. Warehouse receipts need not be in any particular form, but every such receipt must embody within its written or printed terms:

1. The location of the warehouse where the goods are stored;
2. The date of issue of the receipt;
3. The consecutive number of the receipt;
4. A statement whether the goods received will be delivered to the bearer, to a specified person, or to a specified person or his order;
5. The rate of storage charges;
6. A description of the goods or of the packages containing them;

7. The signature of the warehouseman, which may be made by his authorized agent;

8. If the receipt is issued for goods of which the warehouseman is owner, either solely or jointly or in common with others, the fact of such ownership; and

9. A statement of the amount of advances made and of liabilities incurred for which the warehouseman claims a lien. If the precise amount of such advances made or of such liabilities incurred is, at the time of the issue of the receipt, unknown to the warehouseman or to his agent who issues it, a statement of the fact that advances have been made or liabilities incurred and the purpose thereof is sufficient.

A warehouseman shall be liable to any person injured hereby, for all damages caused by the omission from a negotiable receipt of any of the terms herein required.

6203. Terms and conditions. A warehouseman may insert in a receipt issued by him any other terms and conditions; provided, that such terms and conditions shall not:

1. Be contrary to the provisions of this title;

2. In any wise impair his obligation to exercise that degree of care in the safe keeping of the goods entrusted to him which a reasonably careful man would exercise in regard to similar goods of his own.

6204. Non-negotiable receipts. A receipt in which it is stated that the goods received will be delivered to the depositor, or to any other specified person, is a non-negotiable receipt.

6205. Negotiable receipts. A receipt in which it is stated that the goods received will be delivered to the bearer, or to the order of any person named in such receipt, is a negotiable receipt. No provision shall be inserted in a negotiable receipt that is non-negotiable. Such provision, if inserted, shall be void.

6208. Delivery of goods. A warehouseman, in the absence of some lawful excuse provided by this act, is bound to deliver the goods upon demand made either by the holder of a receipt for the goods or by the depositor, if such demand is accompanied with:

1. An offer to satisfy the warehouseman's lien;

2. An offer to surrender the receipt if negotiable, with such indorsement as would be necessary for the negotiation of the receipt; and

3. A readiness and willingness to sign, when the goods are delivered, an acknowledgment that they have been delivered, if such signature is requested by the warehouseman.

In case the warehouseman refuses or fails to deliver the goods in compliance with a demand by the holder or depositor so accompanied, the burden shall be upon the warehouseman to establish the existence of a lawful excuse for such refusal.

6209. Justifiable delivery. A warehouseman is justified in delivering the goods, subject to the provisions of the three following sections, to one who is:

1. The person lawfully entitled to the possession of the goods, or his agent;
2. A person who is either himself entitled to delivery by the terms of a non-negotiable receipt issued for the goods, or who has written authority from the person so entitled either indorsed upon the receipt or written upon another paper; or
3. A person in possession of a negotiable receipt by the terms of which the goods are deliverable to him or order or to bearer, or which has been indorsed to him or in blank by the person to whom delivery was promised by the terms of the receipt or by his mediate or immediate indorsee.

6210. Liability of warehouseman. Where a warehouseman delivers the goods to one who is not in fact lawfully entitled to the possession of them, the warehouseman shall be liable as for conversion to all having a right of property or possession in the goods if he delivered the goods otherwise than as authorized by subs. 2 and 3 of the preceding section and though he delivered the goods as authorized by said subdivisions he shall be so liable, if prior to such delivery he had either:

1. Been requested, by or on behalf of the person lawfully entitled to a right of property or possession in the goods, not to make such delivery; or
2. Had information that the delivery about to be made was to one not lawfully entitled to the possession of the goods.

6211. Id. Except as provided in § 6236, where a warehouseman delivers goods for which he had issued a negotiable receipt, the negotiation of which would transfer the right to the possession of the goods, and fails to take up and cancel the receipt, he shall be liable to any one who purchases for value in good faith such receipt, for failure to deliver the goods to him, whether such purchaser acquired title to the receipt before or after the delivery of the goods by the warehouseman.

6212. Id. Except as provided in § 6236, where a warehouseman delivers part of the goods for which he had issued a negotiable receipt and fails either to take up and cancel such receipt, or to place plainly upon it a statement of what goods or packages have been delivered, he shall be liable, to any one who purchases for value in good faith such receipt, for failure to deliver all the goods specified in the receipt, whether such purchaser acquired title to the receipt before or after the delivery of any portion of the goods by the warehouseman.

6213. Alteration of a receipt. The alteration of a receipt shall not excuse the warehouseman who issued it from any liability if such alteration was:

1. Immaterial;
2. Authorized; or
3. Made without fraudulent intent.

If the alteration was authorized, the warehouseman shall be liable according to the terms of the receipt as altered. If the alteration was unauthorized, but made without fraudulent intent, the warehouseman shall be liable according to the terms of the receipt, as they were before alteration. Material and fraudulent alteration of a receipt shall not excuse the warehouseman who issued it from liability to deliver, according to the terms of the receipt as originally issued, the goods for which it was issued, but shall excuse him from any other liability to the person who made the alteration and to any person who took with notice of the alteration. Any purchaser of the receipt for value without notice of the alteration shall acquire the same rights against the warehouseman which such purchaser would have acquired if the receipt had not been altered at the time of the purchase.

6214. Lost receipt. Where a negotiable receipt has been lost or destroyed, a court of competent jurisdiction may order the delivery of the goods upon satisfactory proof of such loss or destruction and upon the giving of a bond, with sufficient sureties to be approved by the court, to protect the warehouseman from any liability or expense, which he or any person injured by such delivery may incur by reason of the original receipt remaining outstanding. The court may also in its discretion order the payment of the warehouseman's reasonable costs and counsel fees. The delivery of the goods under an order of the court, as provided in this section, shall not relieve the warehouseman from liability to a person to whom the negotiable receipt has been or shall be negotiated for value without notice of the proceedings or of the delivery of the goods.

6220. Additional liabilities of warehouseman. A warehouseman shall be liable to the holder of a receipt for damages caused by the non-existence of the goods or by the failure of the goods to correspond with the description thereof in the receipt at the time of its issue. If, however, the goods are described in a receipt merely by a statement of marks or labels upon them or upon packages containing them, or by a statement that the goods are said to be goods of a certain kind, or that the packages containing the goods are said to contain goods of a certain kind or by words of like purport, such statements, if true, shall not make liable the warehouseman issuing the receipt, although the goods are not of the kind which the marks or labels upon them indicate, or of the kind they were said to be by the depositor.

6221. Id. A warehouseman shall be liable for any loss or injury to the goods caused by his failure to exercise such care in regard to them as a reasonably careful owner of similar goods would exercise, but he shall not be liable, in the absence of an agreement to the contrary, for any loss or injury to the goods which could not have been avoided by the exercise of such care.

6222. Goods to be kept separate. Except as provided in the following section, a warehouseman shall keep the goods so far separate from the goods of other depositors, and from other goods of the same depositor for which a separate receipt has been issued, as to permit at all times the identification and re-delivery of the goods deposited.

6223. May mingle goods, when. If authorized by agreement or by custom, a warehouseman may mingle fungible goods with other goods of the same kind and grade. In such case the various depositors of the mingled goods shall own the entire mass in common, and each depositor shall be entitled to such portion thereof as the amount deposited by him bears to the whole.

6224. Severally liable to each depositor. The warehouseman shall be severally liable to each depositor for the care and redelivery of his share of such mass to the same extent and under the same circumstances as if the goods had been kept separate.

6228. Enforcement of warehouseman's lien. Subject to the provisions of § 6230, a warehouseman's lien may be enforced:

1. Against all goods, whenever deposited, belonging to the person who is liable as debtor for the claims in regard to which the lien is asserted; and
2. Against all goods belonging to others which have been deposited at any time by the person who is liable as debtor for the claims in regard to which the lien is asserted if such person had been so entrusted with the possession of the goods that a pledge of the same by him at the time of the deposit to one who took the goods in good faith for value would have been valid.

6229. Loses lien, when. A warehouseman loses his lien upon goods:

1. By surrendering possession thereof; or
2. By refusing to deliver the goods when a demand is made with which he is bound to comply under the provisions of this title.

6230. Lien where negotiable receipt is issued. If a negotiable receipt is issued for goods, the warehouseman shall have no lien thereon except for charges for storage of those goods subsequent to the date of the receipt, unless the receipt expressly enumerates other charges for which a lien is claimed. In such case there shall be a lien for the charges enumerated so far as they are within the terms of § 6227, although the amount of the charges so enumerated is not stated in the receipt.

6231. Satisfaction of lien. A warehouseman having a lien valid against the person demanding the goods may refuse to deliver the goods to him until the lien is satisfied.

6232. Warehouseman has legal remedies against debtor. Whether a warehouseman has or has not a lien upon the goods, he is entitled to all remedies allowed by law to a creditor against his debtor, for the collection from the depositor of all charges and advances which the depositor has expressly or impliedly contracted with the warehouseman to pay.

6233. Liens may be satisfied, how. A warehouseman's lien for a claim which has become due may be satisfied as follows:

The warehouseman shall give a written notice to the person on whose account the goods are held, and to any other person known by the warehouseman to claim an interest in the goods. Such notice shall be given by delivery in person or by registered letter addressed to the last known place of business or abode of the person to be notified. The notice shall contain:

1. An itemized statement of the warehouseman's claim, showing the sum due at the time of the notice and the date or dates when it became due;
2. A brief description of the goods against which the lien exists;
3. A demand that the amount of the claim as stated in the notice, and of such further claim as shall accrue, shall be paid on or before a day mentioned, not less than ten days from the delivery of the notice if it is personally delivered, or from the time when the notice should reach its destination, according to the due course of post, if the notice is sent by mail; and
4. A statement that unless the claim is paid within the time specified the goods will be advertised for sale and sold by auction at a specified time and place.

In accordance with the terms of a notice so given, a sale of the goods by auction may be had to satisfy any valid claim of the warehouseman for which he has a lien on the goods. The sale shall be had in the place where the lien was acquired, or, if such place is manifestly unsuitable for the purpose, at the nearest suitable place. After the time for the payment of the claim specified in the notice to the depositor has elapsed, an advertisement of the sale, describing the goods to be sold, and stating the name of the owner or person on whose account the goods are held, and the time and place of the sale, shall be published once a week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper published in the place where such sale is to be held. The sale shall not be held less than fifteen days from the time of the first publication. If there is no newspaper published in such place, the advertisement shall be posted at least ten days before such sale in not less than six conspicuous places therein. From the proceeds of such sale the warehouseman shall satisfy his lien, including the reasonable charges of notice, advertisement, and sale. The balance, if any, of such proceeds shall be held by the warehouseman, and delivered on demand to the person to whom he would have been bound to deliver or justified in delivering the goods. At any time before the goods are so sold, any person claiming a right of property or possession therein may pay the warehouseman the amount necessary to satisfy his lien and to pay the reasonable expenses and liabilities incurred in serving notices and advertising and preparing for the sale up to the time of such payment. The warehouseman shall deliver the goods to the person making such payment if he is a person entitled, under the provisions of this title, to the possession of the goods on payment of charges thereon. Otherwise the warehouseman shall retain possession of the goods according to the terms of the original contract of deposit.

6234. Perishable goods. If goods are of a perishable nature, or by keeping will deteriorate greatly in value, or by their odor, leakage, inflammability, or explosive nature will be liable to injure other property, the warehouseman may give such notice to the owner, or to the person in whose name the goods are stored, as is reasonable and possible under the circumstances, to satisfy the lien upon such goods and to remove them from the warehouse, and in the event of the failure of such person to satisfy the lien and to remove the goods within the time so specified, the warehouseman may sell the goods at public or private sale without advertising. If the warehouseman after a reasonable effort is unable to sell such goods, he may dispose of them in any lawful manner, and shall incur no liability by reason thereof. The proceeds of any sale made under the terms of this section shall be disposed of in the same way as the proceeds of sales made under the terms of the preceding section.

6235. Enforcing of lien not to preclude other remedies. The remedy for enforcing a lien herein provided does not preclude any other remedies allowed by law for the enforcement of a lien against personal property nor bar the right to recover so much of the warehouseman's claim as shall not be paid by the proceeds of the sale of the property.

6237. Receipt may be negotiated by delivery, when. A negotiable receipt may be negotiated by delivery:

1. Where, by the terms of the receipt, the warehouseman undertakes to deliver the goods to the bearer; or

2. Where, by the terms of the receipt, the warehouseman undertakes to deliver the goods to the order of a specified person, and such person or a subsequent indorsee of the receipt has indorsed it in blank or to bearer.

Where, by the terms of a negotiable receipt, the goods are deliverable to bearer or where a negotiable receipt has been indorsed in blank or to bearer, any holder may indorse the same to himself or to any other specified person, and in such case the receipt shall thereafter be negotiated only by the indorsement of such indorsee.

6238. Negotiation by indorsement. A negotiable receipt may be negotiated by the indorsement of the person to whose order the goods are, by the terms of the receipt, deliverable. Such an indorsement may be in blank, to bearer or to a specified person. If indorsed to a specified person, it may be again negotiated by the indorsement of such person in blank, to bearer or to another specified person. Subsequent negotiation may be made in like manner.

6239. May be transferred. A receipt which is not in such form that it can be negotiated by delivery may be transferred by the holder by delivery to a purchaser or donee. A non-negotiable receipt cannot be negotiated, and the indorsement of such a receipt gives the transferee no additional right.

6240. Id. A negotiable receipt may be negotiated:

1. By the owner thereof; or

6241. Rights of purchaser of receipt. A person to whom a negotiable receipt has been duly negotiated acquires thereby:

1. Such title to the goods as the person negotiating the receipt to him had or had ability to convey to a purchaser in good faith for value, and also such title to the goods as the depositor or person to whose order the goods were to be delivered by the terms of the receipt had or had ability to convey to a purchaser in good faith for value; and

2. The direct obligation of the warehouseman to hold possession of the goods for him according to the terms of the receipt as fully as if the warehouseman had contracted directly with him.

6242. Rights of person to whom receipt has been transferred. A person to whom a receipt has been transferred, but not negotiated, acquires thereby, as against the transferor, the title of the goods, subject to the terms of any agreement with the transferor. If the receipt is non-negotiable, such person also acquires the right to notify the warehouseman of the transfer to him of such receipt, and thereby to acquire the direct obligation of the warehouseman to hold possession of the goods for him according to the terms of the receipt. Prior to the notification of the warehouseman by the transferor or transferee of a non-negotiable receipt, the title of the transferee to the goods and the right to acquire the obligation to the warehouseman may be defeated by the levy of an attachment or execution upon the goods by a creditor of the transferor, or by a notification to the warehouseman by the transferor or a subsequent purchaser from the transferor of a subsequent sale of the goods by the tansferor.

6244. Id. A person who for value negotiates or transfers a receipt by indorsement or delivery, including one who assigns for value a claim secured by a receipt, unless a contrary intention appears, warrants:

1. That the receipt is genuine;
2. That he has a legal right to negotiate or transfer it;
3. That he has knowledge of no fact that would impair the validity or worth of the receipt; and
4. That he has a right to transfer the title to the goods, and that the goods are merchantable or fit for a particular purpose whenever such warranties would have been implied, if the contract of the parties had been to transfer without a receipt the goods represented thereby.

6245. Indorser not liable, when. The indorsement of a receipt shall not make the indorser liable for any failure on the part of the warehouseman or previous indorsers of the receipt to fulfill their respective obligations.

6246. Mortgagee, pledgee, etc. A mortgagee, pledgee, or holder for security of a receipt who in good faith demands or receives payment of the debt for which such receipt is security, whether from a party to a draft drawn for such debt or from any other person, shall not by so doing be deemed to represent or to warrant the genuineness of such receipt or the quantity or quality of the goods therein described.

6248. Id. Where a person having sold, mortgaged, or pledged goods which are in a warehouse, and for which a negotiable receipt has been issued, or having sold, mortgaged, or pledged the negotiable receipt representing such goods, continues in possession of the negotiable receipt, the subsequent negotiation thereof by that person under any sale, or other disposition thereof to any person receiving the same in good faith, for value and without notice of the previous sale, mortgage, or pledge, shall have the same effect as if the first purchaser of the goods or receipt had expressly authorized the subsequent negotiations.

6249. Seller's lien. Where a negotiable receipt has been issued for goods, no seller's lien or right of stoppage in transitu shall defeat the rights of any purchaser for value in good faith to whom such receipt has been negotiated, whether such negotiation be prior or subsequent to the notification to the warehouseman who issued such receipt of the seller's claim to a lien or right of stoppage in transitu. Nor shall the warehouseman be obliged to deliver or justified in delivering the goods to an unpaid seller unless the receipt is first surrendered for cancellation.

6250. Receipt when goods have not been received. A warehouseman, or any officer, agent, or servant of a warehouseman, who issues or aids in issuing a receipt knowing that the goods for which such receipt is issued have not been actually received by such warehouseman, or not under his actual control at the time of issuing such receipt, shall be guilty of a crime, and upon conviction shall be punished for each offense by imprisonment in the state prison not exceeding five years, or by a fine not exceeding $5000, or by both.

6251. Issuing fraudulent receipt. A warehouseman, or any officer, agent, or servant of a warehouseman, who fraudulently issues or aids in fraudulently issuing a receipt for goods knowing that it contains any false statement, shall be guilty of a crime, and upon conviction shall be punished for each offense by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year or by a fine not exceeding $1000, or by both.

6253. Ownership must be stated. Where there are deposited with or held by a warehouseman goods of which he is owner, either solely or jointly or in common with others, such warehouseman, or any of his officers, agents, or servants who, knowing this ownership, issues or aids in issuing a negotiable receipt for such goods which does not state such ownership, shall be guilty of a crime, and upon conviction shall be punished for each offense by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by a fine not exceeding $1000, or by both.

6254. Delivery of goods without obtaining receipt. Penalty. A warehouseman, or any officer, agent, or servant of a warehouseman, who delivers goods out of the possession of such warehouseman, knowing that a negotiable receipt the negotiation of which would transfer the right to the possession of such goods is outstanding and uncanceled, without obtaining the possession of such receipt at or before the time of such delivery, shall, except in the cases provided for in § 6214 and § 6236, be found guilty of a crime, and upon conviction shall be punished for each offense by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by a fine not exceeding $1000, or by both.

6255. Depositing goods not owned by depositor. Any person who deposits goods to which he has not title, or upon which there is a lien or mortgage, and who takes for such goods a negotiable receipt which he afterwards negotiates for value with intent to deceive and without disclosing his want of title or the existence of the lien or mortgage, shall be guilty of a crime, and upon conviction shall be punished for each offense by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by a fine not exceeding $1000, or by both.

6256. What rules shall govern. In any case not provided for in this title, the rules of law and equity, including the law merchant, and in particular the rules relating to the law of principal and agent and to the effect of fraud, misrepresentation, duress, or coercion, mistake, bankruptcy, or other invalidating cause, shall govern.

6257. Construction. This title shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it.

6258. Definitions. In this title, unless the context or subject matter otherwise requires:

"Action" includes counterclaim, set-off, and suit in equity.

"Delivery" means voluntary transfer of possession from one person to another.

"Fungible goods" means goods of which any unit is, from its nature or by mercantile custom, treated as the equivalent of any other unit.

"Goods" means chattels or merchandise in storage, or which has been or is about to be stored.

"Holder" of a receipt means a person who has both actual possession of such receipt and a right of property therein.

"Order" means an order by indorsement on the receipt.

"Owner" does not include mortgagee or pledgee.

"Person" includes a corporation or partnership of two or more persons having a joint and common interest.

To "purchase" includes to take as mortgagee or a pledgee.

"Purchaser" includes mortgagee or pledgee.

"Receipt" means warehouse receipt.

"Value" is any consideration sufficient to support a simple contract. An antecedent or pre-existing obligation, whether for money or not, constitutes value where a receipt is taken either in satisfaction thereof or as security therefor.

"Warehouseman" means a person lawfully engaged in the business of storing goods for profit.

A thing is done "in good faith," within the meaning of this title, when it is in fact done honestly, whether it be done negligently or not.

6259. Provisions of this title not to apply, when. The provisions of this title do not apply to receipts made and delivered prior to the taking effect of this title.

6260. Shall be known as "warehouse receipt act." This title may be cited as the warehouse receipt act.

TITLE 114.

WEEDS, DESTRUCTION OF NOXIOUS.

('11, p. 287.)

6265. Noxious weeds to be destroyed by property owners. Every person, company, or corporation owning, controlling, or occupying lands in this state, once in each year, and oftener if required as hereinafter provided, shall cut or destroy all weeds known as thistles, burdocks, cockleburs, Canada and Russian thistle, and all other weeds that may be designated as hereinafter provided, and at such times and in such manner as shall effectually prevent them from bearing seed; provided, that this section shall not apply to uncultivated desert or mountain lands.

gation purposes, or for public use of any kind, in this state, once in each year, and oftener if required as hereinafter provided, shall cut down or destroy before they mature their seed, all thistles, burdocks, cockleburs, sandburs, prickly lettuce, and other noxious weeds that may be capable of dissemination through the agency of said water courses, or that may be found growing along the right-of-way of such reservoir, canals, dams, ditches, or other water courses.

6267. Id. On railroads. Every railroad company operating in this state shall, once in each year and oftener if required as hereinafter provided, clear its right-of-way of thistles, burdocks, cockleburs, Canada and Russian thistle, and other noxious weeds before they mature their seeds; provided, that this section shall apply only to rights-of-way that abut, lie contiguous or adjacent to cultivated lands or pasture lands inclosed by a fence.

A similar provision in an Indiana statute was held to be constitutional. Chicago, etc. v. Anderson, 242 U. S. 283.

6268. Penalty for non-compliance. Any person or persons, company or corporation, or railroad company in this state failing to comply with any of the provisions of §§ 6265-6267 shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than $10 nor more than $300, said fines to be recovered with costs in any action to be brought in the name of the state by the county in which said lands, rights-of-way, reservoirs, dams, canals, ditches, or other water courses are situated.

6270. Id. Fixing time by ordinance. The county commissioners may, by ordinance, fix the time for the destroying or cutting of noxious weeds as in this title provided, and provide for the posting or publishing of notices announcing the time allowed for such purpose, and may require that said noxious weeds be destroyed oftener than once in each year, and may designate and order the destruction of other weeds not enumerated in this title.

TITLE 115.

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

('15, p. 173.)

6277. Office and working standards. Verification. Use. In addition to the state standards of weights and measures, provided for above, there shall be supplied by the state at least one complete set of copies of these, to be kept at all times in the office of the state superintendent, and to be known as office standards; and such other weights, measures, and apparatus as may be found necessary to carry out the provisions of this title, to be known as working standards. Such weights, measures, and apparatus shall be verified by the state superintendent, or his deputy or inspector, at his discretion, upon their initial receipt, and at least once in each year thereafter, the office standards by direct comparison with the state standards, the working standards by comparison with the office standards. When found accurate upon these tests the office and working standards shall be certified to by the superintendent. The office standards shall be used in making all comparisons of weights, measures, and weighing and measuring devices submitted for test in the office of the superintendent, and the state standards shall be used only in verifying the office standards and for scientific purposes.

Railroad weights and scales tested and regulated, § 4813, sub. 3.

Dairy and food commissioner, § 1920.

6279. Superintendent and deputy to give bonds. Terms. The state superintendent of weights and measures shall forthwith, on his appointment, give a bond in the penal sum of $2000, with sureties to be approved by the secretary of state, for the faithful performance of the duties of his office and for the safekeeping of the standards entrusted to his care, and for the surrender thereof immediately to his successor in office or to the person appointed by the governor to receive them. The deputy superintendent of weights and measures, and each inspector of weights and measures shall forthwith, upon his appointment, give a bond in the penal sum of $1000, with sureties to be approved by the secretary of state, for the faithful performance of the duties of his office and for the safe-keeping of any apparatus entrusted to his care.

of city sealers, and the said regulations shall govern the procedure to be followed by the aforesaid officers in the discharge of their duties.

6282. General supervision. Inspection at state institutions. The state superintendent of weights and measures shall have and keep a general supervision of the weights and measures, and weighing or measuring devices offered for sale, sold, or in use in the state. He, or his deputy or inspectors at his direction, shall, at least once annually, test all scales, weights, and measures used in checking the receipts or disbursements of supplies in every institution for the maintenance of which moneys are appropriated by the legislature, and he shall report in writing his findings to the supervisory board and to the executive officer of the institution concerned, and, at the request of such board or executive officer, the superintendent of weights and measures shall appoint in writing one or more employes then in actual service of the institution, who shall act as special deputies without extra compensation, for the purpose of checking the receipts or disbursements.

6283. General powers and duties of superintendent. Annual inspections. When not otherwise provided by law, the state superintendent shall have the power, and it shall be his duty in those parts of the state in which a city sealer is not required to be appointed by the provisions of this title, to inspect, test, try, and ascertain if they are correct, all weights, measures, and weighing or measuring devices kept, offered, or exposed for sale, sold, or used or employed by any proprietor, agent, lessee, or employe, in proving the size, quantity, extent, area, or measurement of quantities, things, produce, or articles for distribution or consumption, purchased or offered or submitted by such person or persons for sale, hire, or award; and he shall have the power to, and shall from time to time weigh or measure and inspect packages or amounts of commodities of whatsoever kind kept for the purpose of sale, offered for sale, or sold in a manner in accordance with law. He shall, at least once each year and as much oftener as he may deem necessary, see that all weights, measures, and weighing or measuring devices used are correct. He may, for the purpose above mentioned, and in the general performance of his official duties, enter and go into or upon, and without formal warrant, any stand, place, building, or premises, or stop any dealer whatsoever, and require him, if necessary, to proceed to some place which the state superintendent may specify, for the purpose of making the proper tests. Whenever the state superintendent finds a violation of the statutes relating to weights and measures, he shall cause the violator to be prosecuted.

6284. Correct standards to be sealed. Whenever the state superintendent compares weights, measures, or weighing or measuring instruments and finds that they correspond, or causes them to correspond with the standards in his possession, he shall seal or mark such weights, measures, or weighing or measuring instruments with appropriate devices.

6286. Powers and duties of deputy and inspectors. The powers and duties given to and imposed upon the state superintendent of weights and measures by §§ 6283-6285 are hereby given to and imposed upon his deputy and inspectors also, when acting under his instructions and at his direction.

6287. City sealer. Appointment. Salary. Deputies. There shall be a city sealer of weights and measures in cities of not less than twenty-five thousand population, according to the latest official state or United States census, to be appointed by the mayor and city commission. He shall be paid a salary, to be determined by the mayor and city commission, and no fee shall be charged by him or by the city for the inspecting, testing, or sealing, or the repairing or adjusting of weights, measures, or weighing or measuring devices. Whenever the mayor and city commission shall deem it necessary, one or more deputy sealers of weights and measures may be appointed, and their salary fixed as above. All deputies appointed shall have the same powers, and may perform the same duties as the city sealer, when acting under his instructions and direction.

6289. City standards. Custody. The mayor and city commission of each city required to appoint a sealer under the provisions of this title shall procure at the expense of the city, and shall keep at all times, a set of weights and measures and other apparatus as complete and of such materials and construction as the said superintendent of weights and measures may direct. All such weights, measures, and other apparatus, having been tried and accurately proven by the state superintendent, shall be sealed and certified to by him as hereinbefore provided, and shall be then deposited with and preserved by the city sealer as public standards for each city.

6290. Powers and duties of city sealer. Where not otherwise provided by law, the city sealer shall have the same powers and shall perform the same duties within his city as are granted to and imposed upon the state superintendent of weights and measures by §§ 6283-6285.

6291. Id. Records. Report. The city sealer shall keep a complete record of all of his official acts, and shall make an annual report, duly sworn to, on the 30th day of November, to the state superintendent of weights and measures, on blanks furnished by the latter; and also, any special reports that the latter may request.

6293. Unlawful interference. Penalty. Any person who shall hinder or obstruct in any way the superintendent of weights and measures, his deputy or inspectors, or any city sealer or deputy sealer of weights and measures, in the performance of his official duties, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof in any court of competent jurisdiction, shall be punished by a fine of not less than $20 or more than $200, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than three months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

than $100, and imprisonment not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

6295. Unlawful to sell coal, etc., except by weight measure. Record. It shall be unlawful to sell or offer to sell any coal, coke, or charcoal in any other manner than by weight. It shall be unlawful for any person to deliver any coal, coke, or charcoal without each such delivery being accompanied by a delivery ticket and a duplicate thereof, on each of which shall be in ink or other indelible substance, distinctly expressed in pounds, the gross weight of the load, the tare weight of the delivery vehicle, and the quantity or quantities of coal, coke, or charcoal contained in the vehicle used in such deliveries, with the name of the purchaser thereof, and the name of the dealer from whom purchased. One of these tickets shall be surrendered to the state superintendent, his deputy or inspectors, or a city sealer or deputy sealer of weights and measures, upon his demand for his inspection, and this ticket or weight slip issued by him when he desires to retain the original shall be delivered to the said purchaser of said coal, coke, or charcoal, or his agent or representative, at the time of the delivery of the fuel; and the other tickets shall be retained by the seller of the fuel. When the buyer carries away the purchase, a delivery ticket showing the actual number of pounds delivered to him must be given to him at the time the sale is made.

6298. Sale of butter and oleomargarine. Sizes of packages. Net weight to show. It shall be unlawful for any person to sell, or offer to sell, any butter or renovated or process butter or oleomargarine in any other manner than by weight. It shall be unlawful for any person to put up, pack, or keep for the purpose of sale, offer or expose for sale, or sell any butter, or renovated or process butter or oleomargarine in the form of prints, bricks, or rolls in any other than the following sizes, to-wit: One-quarter pound, one-half pound, one pound, one and one-half pounds, or multiples of one pound. Each print, brick, or roll shall bear a definite, plain and conspicuous statement of its true net weight, on the principal label, where there be such a label, otherwise on the outside wrapper thereof; such statement shall be in Gothic type, not less than twelve point. The prints, bricks, or rolls referred to in this section shall be construed to include those prints, bricks, or rolls put up by the manufacturer or producer; or when put up prior to the order of the commodity by the vendor.

6300. Measurement of liquid and other commodities. Vegetables and fruit. It shall be unlawful to sell, except for immediate consumption on the premises, liquid commodities in any other manner than by weight or liquid measure, or commodities not liquid in any other manner than by measure of length, by weight, or by numerical count; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the sale of vegetables, fruits, and produce in the standard barrel adopted by the United States government, or of berries and small fruit in boxes as provided in § 6301, usually sold by the head or bunch, in this manner. For the purposes of this section, the term "commodities not liquid" shall be construed to include goods, wares, and merchandise which have heretofore been sold by measure of length, by weight, by measure of capacity, or by numerical count, or which are susceptible of sale in any of these ways.

6301. Berries and small fruit. Measurement and sale. It shall be unlawful after the 1st day of August, 1915, to sell or offer to sell any berries or small fruits in any other manner than by weight, or in the containers described in this section. It shall be unlawful to procure or keep for the purpose of sale, offer or expose for sale, sell or give away any baskets or other open containers for berries or small fruits, holding one quart or less, or to procure or keep for the purpose of sale, offer or expose for sale, or sell berries or small fruits in baskets or other open containers, holding one quart or less of any other than the following capacities, when level full; one quart having a capacity of 67.2 cubic inches and containing not less than twenty-one ounces; one pint having a capacity of 33.6 cubic inches and containing not less than ten and five-tenths ounces, standard dry measure. It shall be unlawful to use berry cups, boxes, crates, or sacks a second time as receptacles for fruits or vegetables, or to use unclean or insanitary crates, boxes, or sacks. It shall be unlawful for any dealer or vendor to transfer berries or small fruits from one container to another, or from the containers in which said fruits or berries are packed by the producer.

6303. Use of false weights and measures. Other violatoins. Penalty. Any person, who by himself, or by his servant or agent, or as the servant or agent of another person, shall offer or expose for sale, sell, use in the buying or selling of any commodity or thing or for hire or award, or retain in his possession a false weight or measure, or weighing or measuring device, which has not been sealed by the state superintendent or his deputy or inspectors, or by sealer or deputy sealer of weights and measures, within one year, or shall dispose of any condemned weight or measure, or weighing or measuring device contrary to law, or remove any tag placed thereon by the state superintendent, or his deputy or inspectors, or by a sealer or deputy sealer of weights and measures; or who shall sell or offer or expose for sale less than the quantity he represents, or shall take or attempt to take more than the quantity he represents, when as the buyer he furnished the weight, measure, or weighing or measuring device by means of which the amount of commodity is determined; or who shall keep for the purpose of sale, offer or expose for sale, or sell any commodity in a manner contrary to law; or who shall violate any provisions of this title for which a specific penalty has not been provided; or who shall sell or offer for sale, or use or have in his possession for the purpose of selling or using, any device or instrument to be used to, or calculated to, falsify any weight or measure, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not less than $20 or more than $200 or by imprisonment for not more than three months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, upon the first conviction in any court of competent jurisdiction; and upon the second or subsequent conviction in any court of competent jurisdiction he shall be punished by a fine of not less than $50 or more than $500, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

6304. Definition of terms. The word "person" as used in this title shall be construed to impart both the plural and singular, as the case demands, and shall include corporations, companies, societies, and associations.

The words "weights, measures, or weighing or measuring devices" as used in this title, shall be construed to include all weights, scales, beams, measures of every kind, instruments and mechanical devices for weighing or measuring, and any appliances and accessories connected with any or all such instruments.

The words "sell" or "sale" as used in this title shall be construed to include barter and exchange.

TITLE 116.

WILLS AND SUCCESSION.

CHAPTER 1.

EXECUTION AND REVOCATION OF WILLS.

6311. (2731.) Who may make a will. Married man limited. Every person over the age of eighteen years, of sound mind, may, by last will, dispose of all his estate, real and personal, and such estate not disposed of by will is succeeded to as provided in chap. 4 of this title, being chargeable in both cases with the payment of all the decedent's debts as provided by law; provided, that a married man shall not devise away from his wife more than two-thirds in value of his legal or equitable estates in real property without her consent in writing.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1270*.

Succession of wife, §§ 6406-6412.

Property subject to payment of debts, §§ 6383, 6405, 6408.

Property not subject to payment of debts, §§ 6409, 7644.

There shall be neither dower nor courtesy in this state, § 6412.

Decisions on wife's dower and statutory interest in husband's property, note to § 6406.

Eccentricities and idiosyncrasies, however gross, do not constitute insanity, and cannot incapacitate one otherwise sound from making a valid will.

In re Hansen's Will, 50 U. —; 167 P. 256.

Lay witnesses cannot pass their opinion as to testator's insanity on hearsay statements or upon matters occurring ten or twelve years before the testator's death.

Id.

6312. (2732.) Fraud, etc., invalidates. A will, or a part of a will, procured to be made by duress, menace, fraud, or undue influence, may be denied probate; and a revocation, procured by the same means, may be declared void.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1272.

When gifts to witnesses void, § 6322.

Undue influence to avoid a will must be such as to destroy the free agency of the testator at the time the will is made. It must be a present restraint operating on the mind of the testator at that time.

Miller v. Livingston, 31 U. 415; 88 P. 338.

Where the sole beneficiary in a will gave instructions for the will and directed its terms, and it was drawn at her request; held, that the will must be regarded as having been written by the beneficiary within the rule casting suspicion on a will drawn at the request and direction of the sole beneficiary, which may be sufficient to prevent the probate thereof unless the suspicion is removed.

Id.

In a contest to have a will declared invalid on the ground of undue influence and want of testamentary capacity, evidence of the contents of a former will may be material on such issues, and should be admitted.

In re Young's Estate, 33 U. 382; 94 P. 731.

It is proper to refuse a request that influence acquired by kindness and affection is not undue influence and to charge that undue influence is that degree of importunity which deprives the testator of his free agency so that the instrument executed is not his free and unconstrained act.

In re Miller's Estate, 36 U. 228; 102 P. 996.

Miller v. Livingston, 36 U. 228; 102 P. 996.

To constitute undue influence which can vitiate a will, the influence must be such that the testament is, in fact, the will of the person exercising the influence and not of the testator, and such undue influence may be established without showing any physical coercion or restraint.

Anderson v. Anderson, 43 U. 26; 134 P. 553.

The fact that the testator did not inform his wife, with whom he was living happily, that he had made a will, is not evidence of undue influence on the part of his brothers, where it did not appear that they had anything to do with the concealment, or even knew of it.

Id.

While undue influence is seldom subject to direct proof, and as a general rule must be established by inferences and circumstances, yet a finding of undue influence cannot rest on mere suspicion.

In re Hansen's Will, 50 U. —; 167 P. 256.

6313. (2733.) Married woman may make will as if single. A married woman may dispose of all her separate estate by will, without the consent of her husband, and may alter or revoke the will in like manner as if she were single. Her will must be executed and proved in like manner as other wills.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1273.

Married woman may devise her property as if she were unmarried, Con. art. 22, sec. 2, and note.

6314. (2734.) Who may take by will. A testamentary disposition may be made to any person capable by law of taking the property so disposed of, but corporations other than those formed for scientific, literary, religious, charitable, benevolent, or solely educational purposes cannot take under a will, unless expressly authorized by statute.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1275*.

Corporations not for pecuniary profit may take by devise, §§ 350x3, 894, 903.

Rule against perpetuities does not apply to grants, bequests, or devises to charitable uses. No uncertainty in this case as to who are the beneficiaries.

Staines v. Burton, 17 U. 331; 57 P. 1015.

6315. (2735.) Written will, how executed. Every will, other than a nuncupative will, must be in writing, and every will other than an olographic or a nuncupative will, must be executed and attested as follows:

1. It must be subscribed at the end thereof by the testator himself;

2. The subscription must be made in the presence of the attesting witnesses;

3. The testator must at the time of subscribing the same declare to the attesting witnesses that the instrument is his will; and,

4. There must be two attesting witnesses, each of whom must sign his name as a witness at the end of the will, at the testator's request, in his presence, and in the presence of the other.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1276*.

Nuncupative will, §§ 6326, 6328.

When gifts to witnesses void, §§ 6322, 6323.

Witnesses must add place of residence, § 6317.

Will invalid unless properly executed, § 7115.

Proof of will, §§ 7115, 7572.

6316. (2736.) Olographic will. Execution. Proof. An olographic will is one that is entirely written, dated, and signed by the hand of the testator himself. It is subject to no other form, and may be made in or out of this state, and need not be witnessed. Such wills may be proved in the same manner as other private writings.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1277*.

A letter written by decedent to petitioner, stating that he would make petitioner his sole heir, whether they were married or not, and if he died before they were married would make her his legal heir, "but I hope I will enjoy your company and association before that. Now this is only talk. I do not expect to die, but I am just telling you what I meant"; held not admissible to probate as a will.

In re Jensen's Estate, 37 U. 428; 108 P. 927.

6317. (2737.) Witness to add residence. A witness to a written will must write, with his name, his place of residence. But a violation of this section does not affect the validity of the will.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1278*.

6318. (2738.) Mutual will valid. Revocation. A conjoint or mutual will is valid, but it may be revoked by any of the testators in like manner with any other will.
Cal. Civ. C., § 1279.

6319. (2739.) Subsequent incompetency of witnesses. If the subscribing witnesses to a will are competent at the time of attesting its execution, their subsequent incompetency from whatever cause it may arise does not prevent the probate and the allowance of the will if it is otherwise satisfactorily proved.
Cal. Civ. C., § 1280.

6320. (2740.) Will may be deposited with county clerk. Wills sealed up and indorsed may be deposited with the county clerk, who shall file and safely preserve the same until the death of the testators, unless such testators shall themselves sooner demand the same.

6321. (2741.) Conditional will. When probate denied. A will, the validity of which is made by its own terms conditional, may be denied probate, according to the event, with reference to the condition.
Cal. Civ. C., § 1281. Conditional wills, §§ 6373, 6378.

6322. (2742.) When gift to witnesses void. All beneficial devises, legacies, and gifts whatever, made or given in any will to a subscribing witness thereto, are void, unless there are two other competent subscribing witnesses to the same; but a mere charge on the estate of the testator for the payment of debts does not exempt his creditors from being competent witnesses to his will.
Cal. Civ. C., § 1282. Will dictated by beneficiary, note to § 7499.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1283.

6324. (2744.) Foreign will valid, if valid where executed. A will of real or personal property, or both, or a revocation thereof, made out of this state by a person not having his domicile in this state, is as valid when executed according to the law of the place in which the same was made, or in which the testator was at the time domiciled, as if it were made in this state and according to the provisions of this chapter.
N. Dak. (1895) § 3652. Mont. Civ. C., § 1731. Alien takes by succession as well as citizen, § 6427.
Validity and interpretation governed by what law, § 6402. Proof of foreign will, § 7586.

6325. (2745.) Republication by codicil. The execution of a codicil referring to a previous will has the effect to republish the will as modified by the codicil.
Cal. Civ. C., § 1287. Will includes codicils, § 5848.

6326. (2746.) Nuncupative will. Definition. A nuncupative will is not required to be in writing nor to be declared or attested with any formalities.
Cal. Civ. C., § 1288.

6327. (2747.) Id. Requisites to validity. To make a nuncupative will valid and to entitle it to be admitted to probate, the following requisites must be observed:

1. The estate bequeathed must not exceed in value the sum of $1000;

2. It must be proved by two witnesses who were present at the making thereof, one of whom was asked by the testator at the time to bear witness that such was his will, or to that effect;

3. The decedent must have been at that time in expectation of immediate death from an injury or casualty happening or occuring within twenty-four hours previous to the making of such nuncupative will.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1289*.

6328. (2748.) Id. Proof. No proof must be received of any nuncupative will unless it is offered within six months after speaking the testamentary words, nor unless the words or the substance thereof were reduced to writing within thirty days after they were spoken.
Cal. Civ. C., § 1290. Admission to probate, § 7570.

6329. (2749.) Will, how revoked. Except in the cases in this chapter mentioned, no written will, nor any part thereof, can be revoked or altered otherwise than:

1. By a written will, or other writing of the testator, declaring such revocation or alteration, and executed with the same formalities with which a will should be executed by such testator; or,

2. By being burnt, torn, canceled, obliterated, or destroyed, with the intent and for the purpose of revoking the same by the testator himself or by some person in his presence and by his direction.
Cal. Civ. C., § 1292.

6330. (2750.) Id. Cancellation, how proved. When a will is canceled or destroyed by any other person than the testator, the direction of the testator and the fact of such injury or destruction must be proved by two witnesses.
Cal. Civ. C., § 1293.

6331. (2751.) Id. Revocation of duplicate will. The revocation of a will executed in duplicate may be made by revoking one of the duplicates.
Cal. Civ. C., § 1295.

6332. (2752.) Id. Effect of subsequent will. A prior will is not revoked by a subsequent will unless the latter contains an express revocation or provision wholly inconsistent with the terms of the former will; but, in other cases, the prior will remains effectual so far as consistent with the provisions of the subsequent will.
Cal Civ. C., § 1296.

6333. (2753.) Id. Revocation of second will does not revive first. If, after making a will, the testator duly makes and executes a second will, the destruction, cancellation, or revocation of such second will does not revive the first will unless it appears by the terms of such revocation that it was the intention to revive and give effect to the first will, or unless after such destruction, cancellation, or revocation, the first will is duly republished.
Cal. Civ. C., § 1297.

6334. (2754.) Id. Effect upon will of subsequent marriage. 1. If, after having made a will, the testator marries, and has issue of such marriage, born either in lifetime or after his death, and the wife or issue survive him, the will is revoked, unless provision is made for such issue by some settlement, or unless such issue are provided for in the will, or in such way mentioned therein as to show an intention not to make such provision; and no other evidence to rebut the presumption of such revocation can be received.

2. If, after making a will, the testator marries, and the wife survives the testator, the will is revoked, unless provision has been made for her either by marriage contract, or by some written settlement showing on its face the testator's intention to substitute such contract or settlement for a provision in her favor in his will, or unless she is provided for in the will, or in any such way mentioned therein as to show an intention not to make such provision; and no other evidence to rebut the presumption of revocation must be received. Am'd '05, p. 15.
Cal. Civ. C., § 1299*. Succession when not limited by marriage contract, § 6408.

6335. (2755.) Id. Contract of sale not a revocation. An agreement made by a testator for the sale or transfer of property disposed of by a will previously made does not revoke such disposal; but the property passes by the will, subject to the same remedies on the testator's agreement, for a specific performance or otherwise, against the devisees or legatees, as might be had against the testator's successors, if the same had passed by succession.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1301.

6336. (2756.) Id. Incumbrance not a revocation. A charge or incumbrance upon any estate for the purpose of securing the payment of money or the performance of any covenant or agreement is not a revocation of any will relating to the same estate which was previously executed; but the devises and the legacies therein contained must pass, subject to such charge or incumbrance.
Cal. Civ. C., § 1302.

6337. (2757.) Id. Partial disposal not a revocation. A conveyance, settlement, or other act of a testator, by which his interest in a thing previously disposed of by his will is altered but not wholly divested, is not a revocation; but the will passes the property which would otherwise devolve by succession.
Cal. Civ. C., § 1303.

6338. (2758.) Id. When conveyance is a revocation. If the instrument by which an alteration is made in the testator's interest in a thing previously disposed of by his will expresses his intent that it shall be a revocation, or if it contains provisions wholly inconsistent with the terms and nature of the testamentary disposition, it operates as a revocation thereof, unless such inconsistent provision depend on a condition or contingency by reason of which they do not take effect.
Cal. Civ. C., § 1304.

6339. (2759.) Id. Revocation revokes codicils. The revocation of a will revokes all its codicils.
Cal. Civ. C., 1305.

6340. (2760.) After-born child not provided for to succeed. Whenever a testator has a child born after the making of his will, either in his lifetime or after his death, and dies leaving such child unprovided for by any settlement, and neither provided for nor in any way mentioned in his will, the child succeeds to the same portion of the testator's real and personal property that he would have succeeded to if the testator had died intestate.
Cal. Civ. C., § 1306.
Posthumous child taking as one of a class, § 6369.
Posthumous child considered living at death of parent, § 6426.

6341. (2701.) Children unprovided for to succeed, when. When any testator omits to provide in his will for any of his children or for the issue of any deceased child, unless it appears that such omission was intentional, such child or the issue of such child must have the same share in the estate of the testator as if he had died intestate, and succeeds thereto as provided in the preceding section.
Cal Civ. C., § 1307.
Where a testator failed to provide in his will for one of his children, and the statute presumed that the omission was not intentional, such presumption may be rebutted by extrinsic evidence, whether of declarations of the testator or collateral facts.
Coulam v. Doull, 4 U. 267; 9 P. 568; affirmed 133 U. S. 216.
Atwood Estate, 14 U. 1; 45 P. 1036.
This section does not apply to an illegitimate child of the testator's daughter, as there is no common law obligation to provide for an illegitimate grandchild.
Mansfield v. Neff et al., 43 U. 258; 134 P. 1160.

6342. (2762.) Share of child unprovided for, how assigned. When any share of the estate of a testator is assigned to a child born after the making of a will, or to a child or the issue of a child omitted in the will as hereinbefore mentioned, the same must first be taken from the estate not disposed of by the will, if any; if that is not sufficient, so much as may be necessary must be taken from all the devisees or legatees, in proportion to the value they may respectively receive under the will, unless the obvious intention of the testator in relation to some specific devise or bequest or other provision in the will would thereby be defeated; in such case such specific devise, legacy, or provision may be exempted from such apportionment, and a different apportionment consistent with the intention of the testator may be adopted.
Cal. Civ. C., § 1308.
That a will made no provision for a granddaughter was not a ground for contest, but a matter which could be presented upon final distribution as provided for in this section.
In re Frandsen's Will, 50 U. —; 167 P. 363.

6343. (2763.) Advancements under three preceding sections. If such children or their descendants so unprovided for had an equal proportion of the testator's estate bestowed on them in the testator's lifetime by way of advancement, they take nothing in virtue of the three preceding sections.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1309.

Effect of advancement, §§ 6381, 6421-6425, 7766.

6344. (2764.) When devisee dies before testator, descendants take. When any estate is devised to any child or other relation of the testator, and the devisee dies before the testator, leaving lineal descendants, such descendants take the estate so given by the will in the same manner as the devisee would have done had he survived the testator.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1310.

When death of devisee causes failure of devise, §§ 6373, 6374.

6345. (2765.) Devise conveys all testator's estate. Exception. Every devise of land in any will conveys all the real estate of the devisor therein which he could lawfully devise, unless it clearly appears by the will that he intended to convey a less estate.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1311.

6346. (2766.) After-acquired property passes by will. Any estate, right, or interest in lands acquired by the testator after the making of his will passes thereby and in like manner as if title thereto was vested in him at the time of making the will, unless the contrary manifestly appears by the will to have been the intention of the testator. Every will made in express terms, devising, or in any other terms denoting the intent of the testator to devise, all the real estate of such testator, passes all the real estate which such testator was entitled to devise at the time of his decease.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1312.

Devise or bequest of all property, § 6361.

CHAPTER 2.

INTERPRETATION OF WILLS.

6347. (2767.) Testator's intention governs. A will is to be construed according to the intention of the testator. Where his intention cannot have effect to its full extent, it must have effect as far as possible.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1317.

Will to be considered in its entirety.

Spencer v. Van Cott, 2 U. 337.

Where the intention of the testator in respect to a matter is clearly expressed, any subsequent expression in order to limit it must be clear and intelligible.

In re Campbell, 27 U. 361; 75 P. 851.

In re Bovier Est., 51 U. —; 172 P. —.

This section controls all other provisions in which rules of construction are given, in that no rule is to be given effect except to ascertain the real intention of the testator as expressed by him.

In re Poppleton's Estate, 34 U. 285; 97 P. 138.

A bequest in trust "of all the rest, residue, and remainder of my property of every kind and nature whatsoever" for my "nephews and nieces" as the trustee may determine, is valid.

In re Dewey's Estate, 45 U. 98; 143 P. 124.

Andrews v. Tuttle, 45 U. 98; 143 P. 124.

A will, providing for equal distribution of the estate between a son and daughter, except so far as sums had been or should be set off against the interest of either, justified parol evidence that testatrix had borrowed and advanced a sum to the son under an agreement that he should repay it, or, if he failed to do so, that it would be regarded as a part of his interest in the estate.

In re Pickard's Estate, 42 U. 105; 129 P. 353.

6348. (2768.) Intention to be ascertained from will. In case of uncertainty arising upon the face of a will as to the application of any of its provisions, the testator's intention is to be ascertained from the words of the will, taking in view the circumstances under which it was made exclusive of his oral declarations.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1318.

Imperfect descriptions, etc., § 6370.

6349. (2769.) Interpretation governed by following rules. In interpreting a will subject to the law of this state, the rules prescribed by the following sections of this chapter are to be observed unless an intention to the contrary clearly appears.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1319.

6350. (2770.) Several wills to be construed together. Several testamentary instruments executed by the same testator are to be taken and construed together as one instrument.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1320.

6351. (2771.) Parts of will to be harmonized. All the parts of a will are to be construed in relation to each other and if possible so as to form one consistent whole; but where several parts are absolutely irreconcilable, the latter must prevail.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1321.

6352. (2772.) Distinct devise not affected by inference. A clear and distinct devise or bequest cannot be affected by any reasons assigned therefor, or by any other words not equally clear and distinct, or by inference or argument from other parts of the will, or by an inaccurate recital of or reference to its contents in another part of the will.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1322.

6353. (2773.) When ambiguous or doubtful. Where the meaning of any part of a will is ambiguous or doubtful, it may be explained by any reference thereto or recital thereof in another part of the will.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1323.

Where will directed executors to make over certain property to the "presiding bishop of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, for the benefit of the members of said church," the trustee was clearly designated and the beneficiaries were sufficiently described.

Staines v. Burton, 17 U. 331; 53 P. 1015.

6354. (2774.) Words taken in ordinary sense. The words of a will are to be taken in their ordinary and grammatical sense unless a clear intention to use them in another sense can be collected and that other can be ascertained.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1324.

6355. (2775.) All provisions given effect, if possible. The words of a will are to receive an interpretation which will give to every expression some effect rather than one which will render any of the expressions inoperative.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1325.

6356. (2776.) Intestacy to be avoided. Of two modes of interpreting a will, that is to be preferred which will prevent a total intestacy.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1326.

6357. (2777.) Technical words. Construction. Technical words in a will are to be taken in their technical sense unless the context clearly indicates a contrary intention.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1327.

This section is merely declaratory of the rule prevailing at common law, and is a rule of construction only.

In re Poppleton's Estate, 34 U. 285; 97 P. 138.

6358. (2778.) Id. Unnecessary. Technical words are not necessary to give effect to any species of disposition by will.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1328.

6359. (2779.) Certain words not necessary to pass fee. The term "heirs," or other words of inheritance, are not requisite to devise a fee, and a devise of real property passes all the estate of the testator, unless otherwise limited.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1329.

Word "heir" not necessary to transfer a fee, § 4870.

6360. (2780.) Property embraced in power passes by will. Real or personal property embraced in a power to devise passes by a will purporting to devise all the real or personal property of the testator.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1330.

Devise passing after-acquired property, etc., § 6346.

6361. (2781.) When all testator's property passes. A devise or bequest of all the testator's real or personal property in express terms, or in any other terms denoting his intent to dispose of all his real and personal property, passes all the real or personal property which he was entitled to dispose of by will at the time of his death.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1331.

After-acquired property passes by will, § 6346.

6362. (2782.) Residuary clause. Real property. A devise of the residue of the testator's real property passes all the real property which he was entitled to devise at the time of his death not otherwise effectually devised by his will.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1332.

6363. (2783.) Id. Personal property. A bequest of the residue of the testator's personal property passes all the personal property which he was entitled to bequeath at the time of his death not otherwise effectually bequeathed by his will.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1333.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1334. Word "heir" not necessary to devise a fee, § 6359.

6365. (2785.) Id. Are words of donation, not limitation. The terms mentioned in the next preceding section are used as words of donation, and not of limitation, when the property is given to the person so designated directly, and not as a qualification of an estate given to the ancestor of such person.
Cal. Civ. C., § 1335.

6366. (2786.) Words referring to death or survivorship. Words in a will referring to death or survivorship simply relate to the time of the testator's death, unless possession is actually postponed, when they must be referred to the time of possession.
Cal. Civ. C., § 1336.

6367. (2787.) Devise to a class, includes whom. A testamentary disposition to a class includes every person answering the description at the testator's death; but when the possession is postponed to a further period, it includes also all persons coming within the description before the time to which possession is postponed.
Cal. Civ. C., § 1337.

6368. (2788.) When realty deemed personalty. When a will directs the conversion of real property into money, such property and all its proceeds must be deemed personal property from the time of the testator's death.
Cal. Civ. C., § 1338.

6369. (2789.) Unborn child. A child conceived before, but not born until after a testator's death, or any other period when a disposition to a class vests in right or in possession, takes, if answering to the description of the class.
Cal. Civ. C., § 1339. Succession of posthumous child, § 6340.

6370. (2790.) Correction of imperfect description. When applying a will, if it is found that there is an imperfect description, or that no person or property exactly answers the description, mistakes and omissions must be corrected, if the error appears from the context of the will or from extrinsic evidence; but evidence of the declarations of the testator as to his intentions cannot be received.
Cal. Civ. C., § 1340. Intention ascertained from words of will, § 6348.

6371. (2791.) When devises and bequests vest. Testamentary dispositions, including devises and bequests to a person on attaining majority, are presumed to vest at the testator's death.
Cal. Civ. C., § 1341. Legacies and annuities due, when, §§ 6394-6396.

6372. (2792.) Id. When divested. A testamentary disposition, when vested, cannot be divested unless upon the occurrence of the precise contingency prescribed by the testator for that purpose.
Cal. Civ. C., § 1342.

6373. (2793.) Death of devisee before testator. If a devisee or legatee dies during the lifetime of the testator, the testamentary disposition to him fails, unless an intention appears to substitute some other in his place, except as provided in § 6344.
Cal. Civ. C., § 1343.

6374. (2794.) Interest in remainder not affected. The death of a devisee or legatee of a limited interest before the testator's death does not defeat the interest of persons in remainder, who survive the testator.
Cal. Civ. C., § 1344.

6375. (2795.) Conditional disposition. A conditional disposition is one which depends upon the occurrence of some uncertain event, by which it is either to take effect or be defeated.
Cal. Civ. C., § 1345. Conditional will denied probate, when, § 6321.

6376. (2796.) Condition precedent. A condition precedent in a will is one which is required to be fulfilled before a particular disposition takes effect.
Cal Civ. C., § 1346.

6377. (2797.) Id. When property vests. Where a testamentary disposition is made upon a condition precedent, nothing vests until the condition is fulfilled, except where such fulfillment is impossible, in which case the disposition vests, unless the condition was the sole motive thereof, and the impossibility was unknown to the testator, or arose from an unavoidable event subsequent to the execution of the will.
Cal. Civ. C., § 1347.

6378. (2798.) Id. When deemed performed. A condition precedent in a will is to be deemed performed when the testator's intention has been substantially though not literally complied with.
Cal. Civ. C., § 1348.

6379. (2799.) Condition subsequent. A condition subsequent is where an estate or interest is so given as to vest immediately, subject only to be divested by some subsequent act or event.
Cal. Civ. C., § 1349.

6380. (2800.) Devise to several. Owners in common. A devise or legacy given to more than one person vests in them as owners in common.
Cal. Civ. C., § 1350. Similar section, § 4873.

6381. (2801.) Advancements, when ademptions. Advancements or gifts are not to be taken as ademptions of general legacies, unless such intention is expressed by the testator in writing.
Cal. Civ. C., § 1351.
Advancements, §§ 6343, 6421-6425, 7766.
Where the testatrix gave the residue of her estate to her son and daughter equally, except so far as sums had been or should be set off against the interest which either should have, it was immaterial whether a sum was advanced to the son as a gift or to be repaid, since in either case an amount equal thereto should be first given to the daughter before an equal division, in view of the fact that the testatrix had the right to give the daughter more than she gave the son.
In re Pickard's Estate, 42 U. 105; 129 P. 353.

CHAPTER 3.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

6382. (2802.) Legacies classified. Legacies are distinguished and designated according to their nature, as follows:

1. A legacy of a particular thing, specified and distinguished from all others of the same kind belonging to the testator, is specific; if such legacy fails, resort cannot be had to the other property of the testator;

2. A legacy is demonstrative when the particular fund or personal property is pointed out from which it is to be taken or paid; if such fund or property fails, in whole or in part, resort may be had to the general assets, as in case of a general legacy;

3. An annuity is a bequest of certain specified sums periodically; if the fund or property out of which they are payable fails, resort may be had to the general assets, as in case of a general legacy;

4. A residuary legacy embraces only that which remains after all the bequests of the will are discharged;

5. All other legacies are general legacies.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1357.
Legacies payable in one year, §§ 6395, 6396.
Annuities payable at once, § 6395.
A clause in a will stating that "it is my further desire that out of the proceeds of said estate, leaving the same to the best judgment and discretion of said executors hereinafter named, to pay" certain sums per month, gave to the administrator a reasonable discretion to fix the amount at what he deemed sufficient, to be paid out of any part of said estate.

Allen v. Barnes, 5 U. 100; 12 P. 912.

Bequests of sums of money to wife and sister for their natural lives, to be paid by executors monthly, beginning at date of decease, constituted annuities commencing at time of testator's death.

In re Sears estate, 18 U. 193; 55 P. 83.

A bequest of $250 to nurse, to be paid as soon as executors had sufficient funds, constituted legacy, which was not due until one year after testator's death.

Id.

The word "legacy" means the money or personal property bequeathed by will. A specific legacy is something distinguished from the rest of the testator's estate, and it is sufficient if it can be specified and distinguished from the rest of the testator's estate at the time of his decease.

In re Campbell, 27 U. 361; 75 P. 851.

6383. (2803.) Property chargeable with payment of debts. When a person dies intestate, all his property, real and personal, without any distinction between them, is chargeable with the payment of his debts, except as otherwise provided by law.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1358.

Property not subject to payment of debts, §§ 6409, 7644.

Property subject to payment of debts, §§ 6311, 6405, 6408.

6384. (2804.) Id. Order in which resorted to. The property of a testator, except as otherwise provided by law, must be resorted to for the payment of debts and expenses in the following order:

1. The property which is expressly appropriated by the will for the payment of the same;
2. Property not disposed of by the will;
3. Property which is devised or bequeathed to a residuary legatee;
4. Property which is not specifically devised or bequeathed; and,
5. All other property ratably.

Before any debts are paid, the expenses of the administration and the allowance to the family must be paid or provided for.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1359*.

Not changed by land registration act, § 4980.

6386. (2806.) Bequest of debt due from executor. Effect. The discharge or bequest in a will of any debt or demand of the testator against the executor named, or any other person, is not valid against the creditors of the decedent, but is a specific bequest of the debt or demand. It must be included in the inventory, and, if necessary, applied in the payment of the debts. If not necessary for that purpose, it must be paid in the same manner and proportion as other specific legacies.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1448.

6387. (2807.) Property available for payment of legacies. Order. The property of a testator, except as otherwise provided by law, must be resorted to for the payment of legacies in the following order:

1. The property which is expressly appropriated by the will for the payment of the legacies;
2. Property not disposed of by the will;
3. Property which is devised or bequeathed to a residuary legatee;
4. Property which is not specifically devised or bequeathed.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1360.

6388. (2808.) Id. Legacies to kindred. Legacies to husband, widow, or kindred of any class are chargeable only after legacies to persons not related to the testator.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1361.

6389. (2809.) Abatement by classes. Abatement takes place in any class only as between legacies of that class, unless a different intention is expressed in the will.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1361.

6390. (2810.) Sale of property bequeathed. In a specific devise or legacy, the title passes by the will, but possession can only be obtained from the personal representative; and he may be authorized by the court to sell the property devised and bequeathed, in the cases herein provided.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1363.

6391. (2811.) Heir's conveyance good notwithstanding devise, when. The rights of a purchaser or incumbrancer of real property, in good faith and for value, derived from any person claiming the same by succession, are not impaired by any devise made by the decedent from whom succession is claimed, unless the instrument containing such devise is duly proved as a will, and recorded in the office of the clerk of the district court having jurisdiction thereof, or unless written notice of such devise is filed with the recorder of the county where the real property is situated, within four years after the devisor's death.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1364*. Purchasers in good faith, §§ 4875, 4901.

6392. (2812.) Duty of legatees for life. Where specific legacies are for life only, the first legatee must sign and deliver to the second legatee, or, if there is none, to the personal representative, an inventory of the property, expressing that the same is in his custody for life only, and that, on his decease, it is to be delivered and to remain to the use and for the benefit of the second legatee, or to the personal representative, as the case may be.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1365. Termination of life estate, § 7312.

6393. (2813.) Accrual of interest or income. In case of a bequest of the interest or income of a certain sum or fund, the income accrues from the testator's death.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1366.

6394. (2814.) Satisfaction of legacy before death. A legacy or gift in contemplation, fear, or peril of death may be satisfied before death.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1367.

6395. (2815.) Legacies and annuities, when due. Legacies are due and deliverable at the expiration of one year after the testator's decease. Annuities commence at the testator's decease.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1368. Legacies and annuities distinguished, note to § 6382.
Testamentary dispositions to persons on attaining majority vest, when, § 6571.

6396. (2816.) Interest on legacies. Legacies bear interest from the time when they are due and payable, except that legacies for maintenance, or to the testator's widow, bear interest from the testator's decease.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1369.

6397. (2817.) Intent governs four preceding sections. The four preceding sections are in all cases to be controlled by a testator's express intention.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1370.

6398. (2818.) Person intended made executor, though not named. Where it appears, by the terms of a will, that it was the intention of the testator to commit the execution thereof and the administration of his estate to any person as executor, such person, although not named executor, is entitled to letters testamentary in like manner as if he had been named executor.

Cal. Civ. C., 1371. Person named as executor appointed, § 7578.

6399. (2819.) Executor cannot appoint executor. An authority to an executor to appoint an executor is void.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1372. Similar section, § 7582.

6400. (2820.) Executor must qualify. No person has any power as an executor until he qualifies, except that, before letters have been issued, he may pay funeral charges and take necessary measures for the preservation of the estate.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1373. Payment of funeral expenses, § 7666.

6401. (2821.) Wills made prior to May 31, 1884, not affected. The provisions of this title do not impair the validity of the execution of any will made prior to the 31st day of May, 1884, nor affect the construction of any such will.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1375*.

6402. (2822.) What law governs construction of wills. Except as otherwise provided, the validity and interpretation of wills are governed, when relating to real property within this state, by the law of this state; when relating to personal property, by the law of the testator's domicile.

Mont. Civ. C., § 1838.
Validity of foreign wills, § 6324.
Proof of foreign will, § 7586.
Where ancillary administration is had in Utah, the court may construe the will affecting real property and devisees in Utah.
In re Campbell Estate, 51 U. —; 172 P. —.

6403. (2823.) Person killing another not to inherit from such other. No person who has been finally convicted of feloniously causing the death of another shall take or receive any property or benefit by succession, will, or otherwise, directly, or indirectly, by reason of the death of such person; but all property of the deceased and all rights of the defendant upon his death shall vest and be determined the same as if the person convicted was dead.

N. Dak. § 3682.

CHAPTER 4.

SUCCESSION.

6404. (2824.) Defined. Succession is the coming in of another to take the property of one who dies without disposing of it by will.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1383.

6405. (2825.) Property passes to heirs. The property, both real and personal, of one who dies without disposing of it by will, passes to the heirs of the intestate, subject to the control of the court, and to the possession of any administrator appointed by the court for the purpose of administration.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1384.
Payment of debts, §§ 6383, 6408.
Under provisions of this section, upon death of an intestate, all his real and personal property passes to his heirs, subject to administration, the payment of debts against the estate and rights of widow and minor children therein.
Snyder v. Murdock, 20 U. 407; 59 P. 88.

6406. (2826.) Wife's interest in husband's real porperty. One-third in value of all the legal or equitable estates in real property possessed by the husband at any time during the marriage, and to which the wife had made no relinquishment of her rights, shall be set apart as her property in fee simple if she survive him; provided, that the wife shall not be entitled to any interest under the provisions of this section in any such estate of which the husband has made a conveyance when the wife, at the time of the conveyance, is not or never has been a resident of the territory or state of Utah. Property distributed under the provisions of this section shall be free from all debts of the decedent, except those secured by mechanics' or laborers' liens for work or labor done or material furnished exclusively for the improvement of the same, and except those created for the purchase thereof, and for taxes levied thereon. The value of such part of the homestead as may be set aside to the widow shall be deducted from the distributive share provided for her in this section. In cases wherein only the heirs, devisees, and legatees of the decedent are interested, the property secured to the widow by this section may be set off by the court in due process of administration.

Iowa, McClain's An. C. (1888) § 3644*.
Limitation on devise by married man, § 6311.
Neither dower nor courtesy in this state, § 6412.
Widow's statutory interest not additional, § 6408, sub. 1.
Relinquishment of insane wife's interest, § 7819.

DOWER RIGHT AND WHO ENTITLED:

By virtue of the organic act, the common law respecting dower was in force during all the time that Utah remained a territory (from September 9, 1850, to January 4, 1896), except when abolished by territorial statute (from February, 1872, to March 3, 1887); being restored by congress on said last named date. By Virtue of Con. art. 24, sec. 2, it remained in force from the admission of the state (January 4, 1896), to January 1, 1898, when it was modified by §§ 2826, 2832, R. S. 1898.
Hilton v. Thatcher, 31 U. 360; 88 P. 20.
Hilton v. Stewart, 31 U. 255; 87 P. 900.
Norton v. Tufts, 19 U. 470; 57 P. 409.

The dower right of a widow, whose husband died after January 1, 1898, in land which he conveyed without her consent in 1888, is not abrogated by § 6412, providing that there shall be no courtesy nor dower in the state, in view of § 6406, giving the widow one-third of all the real property possessed by the husband during marriage to which she made no relinquishment of her rights.
Hilton v. Thatcher, 31 U. 360; 88 P. 20.
Hilton v. Stewart, 31 U. 355; 87 P. 900.

A plural wife acquires no dower right in her husband's property, and has no rights of inheritance.
Raleigh v. Wells, 29 U. 217; 81 P. 908.

A sealing ceremony in accordance with the usages of the Mormon church constituted the parties husband and wife, so as to entitle the woman to dower; though the ceremony was performed in contemplation of her immediate decease and solely for her celestial advantage. There was no cohabitation, a church divorce was granted on her recovery, and she soon married again, living with her second husband nearly thirty years and bearing him ten children.

Hilton v. Roylance, 25 U. 129; 69 P. 660.
Stewart v. Hilton, 25 U. 160; 69 P. 1134.

In an action for dower, the burden is upon the wife to establish a valid marriage, where validity of the marriage is put in issue.

Hilton v. Snyder, 37 U. 384; 108 P. 698.

In a wife's action to establish her dower right in property which her husband sold, judgments in similar actions against other grantees and in an action against the administrator of the estate for a wife's portion, are inadmissible to establish the marriage, and that she was his wife at the time of his death and of the conveyances.

Langton v. Smith, 48 U. 112; 159 P. 49.

The property herein granted to the widow is not received by her under the succession statutes, and is not subject to inheritance tax where she takes by right of this section.

In re Bullen's Estate, 47 U. 961; 151 P. 533.

But where she takes under her husband's will, even though the amount is compromised, it is subject to inheritance tax.

In re Osgood's Estate, 51 U. —; 172 P. —.

Where a wife owned a contingent interest under this section and joined with her husband in giving a warranty deed, her warranty is personal to grantee and he only may sue on it.

H. T. & C. Co. v. White House, 47 U. 323; 154 P. 950.

ITS PROPORTION OR VALUE:

Where the estate is solvent and out of debt, the value of such part of the homestead as may be set aside to the widow should be deducted from her distributive share; she cannot have both unless such design on the part of the testator clearly appears from the will.

In re Little's Estate, 22 U. 204; 61 P. 899.

Under § 2741, C. L. 1888, the widow is not put to her election, but takes one-third of the real property of the intestate in fee and one-third of the personal property, as well as a dower interest of the estate for life in one-third of all the intestate's realty.

Knudsen v. Hannberg, 8 U. 203; 30 P. 749.

Sec. 676 of the Compiled Laws of 1876 gives the widow of an intestate a life interest in the homestead, with remainder over to the children of the deceased.

Dooly v. Stringham, 4 U. 107; 7 P. 405.

A widow cannot complain of a conveyance of land made by her husband without her knowledge upon the eve of marriage, and in contemplation of it, where he held the land as a mere trustee for the grantees, his sons.

Wilson v. Wilson, 31 U. 169; 89 P. 643.

Under this section the widow is not entitled to have the value of her interest set apart; her interest being in the nature of an incumbrance on each parcel.

In re Park's Estate, 31 U. 255; 87 P. 900.

A contract to purchase real estate signed by husband alone is not enforcible after his death so far as wife's one-third is concerned.

Free v. Little, 31 U. 449; 88 P. 407.

A testator having disposed of his personal property by will, and the widow having renounced the will, she cannot claim an interest in the personalty as distributee under § 6408.

The right to dispose of homestead property by will is limited to such estates as exceed the homestead limit in value.

Knudsen v. Hannberg, 8 U. 203; 30 P. 749.
In re Little's Estate, 22 U. 204; 61 P. 899.

Where a widow entitled under Comp. Laws 1876, § 703, to a life interest in one-fourth of her husband's estate, agreed to receive property in lieu of that interest, and the agreement was approved by the commissioner appointed to make partition, and his report was confirmed by the decree of distribution, the widow took the property in fee, and her grantee could hold it free from the claims of other heirs.

Shaw v. Hays, 47 U. 14; 151 P. 337.
Rockwell v. Hays, 47 U. 14; 151 P. 337.

ITS LOSS BY ESTOPPEL, ETC.:

A marital separation by mutual agreement, even if followed by adultery, was not sufficient at common law to disendow the wife, until the husband, by offering to take her back, had withdrawn from the contract of separation, and the wife had thereupon refused such offer.

Norton v. Tufts, 19 U. 470; 57 P. 409.

A widow may, by mere silence, estop herself from claiming dower in husband's estate; but where a concealment by silence is relied upon for estoppel, the party against whom estoppel is claimed must have knowledge of the facts.

An instrument, whereby a wife released her one-third interest for a sum of money on an understanding that the husband should apply for a divorce and that the wife should make no defense thereto, was void as against public policy.

In re Bell's Estate, 29 U. 1; 80 P. 615.
Palmer v. Palmer, 26 U. 31; 72 P. 3.

Complainant was married and afterwards, in 1873, she and her husband obtained a purported church divorce. They lived apart thereafter until 1900, when the latter died. The complainant never asked for or received aid from him, and they both lived as unmarried persons, and complainant went by her maiden name until 1875, when she married another man in the same city, and complainant thereafter was known by the name of her second husband and joined him in conveyances, which were recorded, and complainant raised a large family by her second husband. After the alleged divorce her first husband conveyed the property in controversy as an unmarried man. At least six months before his death, complainant was informed of a decision of the court holding church divorce invalid, but continued to live with her second husband as husband and wife; held, complainant was estopped as against bona fide grantees of her husband, after their alleged divorce, or purchasers therefrom, from claiming dower in the land sold by him.

Hilton v. Sloan, 37 U. 359; 108 P. 689.

The wife's right to dower is not affected by the husband's representations upon selling the land that he is unmarried unless she permits innocent persons to deal with him in good faith with actual or constructive knowledge of his representations.

6407. (2827.) When widow to elect between will and distributive share. If the husband shall make any provision by will for the widow, such provision shall be construed to be in lieu of the distributive share secured by the next preceding section, unless it shall appear from the will that the decedent designed the testamentary provisions to be additional to such distributive share, in which case the widow shall be presumed to have accepted both such testamentary provisions and such distributive share. If, however, it does not appear from the will that its provision for the widow is additional, then the widow shall be conclusively presumed to have renounced such provision, and to have accepted her distributive share, unless within four months after the admission of the will to probate, or within such additional time before distribution as the court may allow, she shall, by written instrument filed with the clerk of the court, accept the testamentary provision, which acceptance shall be construed to be a renunciation of her distributive share. In the event that the wife shall be insane or incompetent, or absent from the state, an election shall be made for her by a general guardian, if she have one, or by a special guardian for the purpose, appointed by the court.

A testator having disposed of his personal estate by will, and the widow having renounced the will, she cannot claim interest in the personalty as distributes under the provisions of § 6408.
In re Little's Estate, 22 U. 204; 61 P. 899.

6408. (2828.) Succession in absence of will and of marriage contract. When any person having title to any estate not otherwise limited by marriage contract dies without disposing of the estate by will, it is succeeded to and must be distributed, unless otherwise expressly provided in this title, or in the probate code, subject to the payment of his debts, in the following manner:

1. Surviving husband or wife; with children or issue. If the decedent leave a surviving husband or wife, and only one child, or the issue of one child, in equal shares to the surviving husband or wife, and child or issue of such child; if the decedent leave a surviving husband or wife, and more than one child living, or one child living and the issue of one or more deceased children, one-third to the surviving husband or wife, and the remainder in equal shares to his children, and to the issue of any deceased child, by right of representation; but if there be no child of the decedent living at his death, the remainder goes to all of his lineal descendants; and if all of the descendants are in the same degree of kindred to the decedent, they share equally, otherwise they take according to the right of representation; provided, that the share in the legal and equitable estates in real property of which an intestate husband died possessed, secured by this section to his widow, shall not be additional to the interest in such estate provided for her in § 6406.

When husband or wife inherits all, sub. 5, hereunder.

2. Issue, but no surviving husband or wife. If the decedent leave no surviving husband or wife, but leave issue, the whole estate goes to such issue, and if such issue consists of more than one child living, or one child living and the issue of one or more deceased children, then the estate goes in equal shares to the children living, or to the child living, and the issue of the deceased child or children by right of representation;

3. Surviving husband or wife; no issue; when father, etc., inherit. If the decedent leave no issue, all of the estate, real and personal, of which the decedent died seized or possessed, if not over $5,000 in value, exclusive of debts and expenses, goes to the surviving husband or wife; and if over that value, $5,000 in value thereof goes to the surviving husband or wife, and the excess goes one-half to the surviving husband or wife, and the other half to the decedent's father and mother, in equal shares, and if either be dead, the whole of said half goes to the other; if there be no father nor mother, then one-half of such excess goes in equal shares to the brothers and sisters of the decedent, and to the children of any deceased brother or sister, by right of representation; if the decedent leave no issue, nor husband, nor wife, the estate must go to his father and mother in equal shares, or if either be dead, then to the other;

When father and mother inherit.
Jones v. Jones, 12 U. 72; 41 P. 563.

4. When brothers and sisters inherit all. If there be neither issue, husband, wife, father, nor mother, then in equal shares to the brothers and sisters of the decedent, and to the children of any deceased brother or sister, by right of representation;

5. When husband or wife inherits all. If the decedent leave a surviving husband or wife, and neither issue, father, mother, brother, nor sister, the whole estate goes to the surviving husband or wife;

6. When no immediate family, next of kin inherit. If the decedent leave neither issue, husband, wife, father, mother, brother, nor sister, the estate must go to the next of kin, in equal degree, excepting that when there are two or more collateral kindred in equal degree, but claiming through different ancestors, those who claim through the nearest ancestors must be preferred to those claiming through an ancester more remote.

7. Death of child under age; other children succeed. If the decedent leave several children, or one child and the issue of one or more children, and any such surviving child dies under age, and not having been married, all the estate that came to the deceased child by inheritance from such decedent descends in equal shares to the other children of the same parent, and to the issue of any such other children who are dead, by right of representation;

8. Death of child under age; when issue of other children succeed. If, at the death of such child who dies under age, not having been married, all the other children of his parents are also dead, and any of them have left issue, the estate that came to such child by inheritance from his parent descends to the issue of all other children of the same parent; and if all the issue are in the same degree of kindred to the child, they share the estate equally, otherwise they take according to the right of representation;

9. When estate escheats to school fund. If the decedent leave no husband, wife, nor kindred, and there be no heirs to take the estate or any portion thereof, the same shall escheat to the state for the benefit of the school fund.

6409. (2829.) Homestead exemption. Debts. A homestead consisting of lands and appurtenances not exceeding in value the sum of $2,000, and $250 additional for each minor child, together with all the personal property exempt from execution, shall be wholly exempt from the payment of the debts of the decedent, and shall be the absolute property of the surviving husband or wife and minor children, or of the minor children in case there be no surviving husband or wife, to be set apart on petition and notice, at any time after the return of the inventory; provided, that the homestead selected shall be subject to any incumbrances given for the purchase price or by the consent of both husband and wife, and to mechanics' liens. This section shall not be construed to prevent the disposition by will of the homestead and exempt personal property.

6410. (2830.) Id. Ownership. Partition. The homestead and exempt personal property shall belong to the surviving husband or wife and minor children; or, if there be no minor children, to the surviving husband or wife; or, if there be no surviving husband or wife, to the minor children. If the surviving husband or wife again marries, or when all of said minor children arrive at the age of majority, the homestead may be partitioned, one-half to the surviving husband or wife and the other half to the said children. The interest of the surviving husband or wife or of any child in the homestead may be disposed of by will, or shall pass by succession in the proportions aforesaid as other real property, but partition shall not be made except at such times as in this section provided.

6414. (2834.) Inheritance from illegitimate child. If an illegitimate child dies intestate, without lawful issue, his estate goes to his mother, or, in case of her decease, to her heirs at law.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1388*.

6415. (2835.) Degrees of kindred, how computed. The degree of kindred is established by the number of generations, and each generation is called a degree.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1389.

6416. (2836.) Id. Lineal and collateral. The series of degrees forms the line; the series of degrees between persons who descend from one another is called direct or lineal consanguinity, and the series of degrees between persons who do not descend from one another, but spring from a common ancestor, is called the collateral line or collateral consanguinity.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1390.

6417. (2837.) Id. Ascending and descending. The direct line is divided into a direct line descending and a direct line ascending. The first is that which connects the ancestor with those who descend from him. The second is that which connects a person with those from whom he descends.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1391.

6418. (2838.) Id. In direct line. In the direct line there are as many degrees as there are generations. Thus the son is, with regard to the father, in the first degree; the grandson, in the second; and vice versa with regard to the father and grandfather toward the sons and grandsons.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1392.

6419. (2839.) Id. In collateral line. In the collateral line the degrees are counted by generations, from one of the relations up to the common ancestor and from the common ancestor to the other relations. In such computation the decedent is excluded, and the relative included, and the ancestor counted but once. Thus, brothers are related in the second degree; uncle and nephew in the third degree; cousins-german in the fourth, and so on.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1393.

6420. (2840.) Kindred of the half-blood inherit equally. Kindred of the half-blood inherit equally with those of the whole-blood in the same degree, unless the inheritance comes to the intestate by descent, devise, or gift of some one of his ancestors, in which case all those who are not of the blood of such ancestor must be excluded from such inheritance.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1394.

Children of decedent's father by another mother cannot inherit from decedent's property which descended to him from his mother and a half-sister on his mother's side.

Amy v. Amy, 12 U. 278; 42 P. 1121.

The phrase "of the blood" includes half-blood as well as whole blood.

Gardner's Estate v. Gardner et al., 42 U. 40; 129 P. 360.

6421. (2841.) Advancements deducted from share. Any estate, real or personal, given by the decedent in his lifetime as an advancement to any child, or other lineal descendant, is a part of the estate of the decedent for the purposes of division and distribution thereof among his issue, and must be taken by such child or other lineal descendant toward his share of the estate of the decedent.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1395. Advancements, §§ 6343, 6381, 7666.

6422. (2842.) Excess not refunded. If the amount of such advancement exceeds the share of the heir receiving the same, he must be excluded from any further portion in the division and distribution of the estate, but he must not be required to refund any part of such advancement; and, if the amount so received is less than his share, he is entitled to so much more as will give him his full share of the estate of the decedent.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1396.

Cited in: In re Pickard's estate, 42 U. 105; 129 P. 353.

6423. (2843.) Advancements defined. All gifts and grants are made as advancements, if expressed in the gift or grant to be so made, or if charged in writing by the decedent as an advancement, or acknowledged in writing as such by the child or other successor or heir.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1397.

6424. (2844.) Value of advancements, how determined. If the value of the estate so advanced is expressed in the conveyance, or in the charge thereof made by the decedent, or in the acknowledgment of the party receiving it, it must be held as of that value in the division and distribution of the estate; otherwise, it must be estimated according to its value when given, as nearly as the same can be ascertained.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1398.

6425. (2845.) Advancements charged to issue of heirs. If any child, or other lineal descendant receiving an advancement, dies before the decedent, leaving issue, the advancement must be taken into consideration in the division and distribution of the estate, and the amount thereof must be allowed accordingly by the representatives of the heirs receiving the advancement, in like manner as if the advancement had been made directly to them.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1399.

6426. (2846.) Inheritance by representation. Posthumous children. Inheritance or succession by "right of representation" takes place when the descendants of any deceased heir take the same share or right in the estate of another person that their parents would have taken if living. Posthumous children are considered as living at the death of their parents.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1403. Succession of posthumous child, §§ 6340, 6369.

6427. (2847.) Aliens may take. Aliens may take in all cases by succession as well as citizens; and no person capable of succeeding under the provisions of this title is precluded from such succession by reason of the alienage of any relative.

Cal. Civ. C., § 1404*. Foreign will, §§ 6324, 6402, 7586.

6428. (2848.) Inheritance by issue of polygamous marriages. Sec. 6413 included when first enacted and effectually operated at all times thereafter and now operates to include the issue of bigamous and polygamous marriages, and entitles all such issue to inherit, as in said section provided, except such as are not included in the proviso of § 11 of the act of congress called the "Edmunds-Tucker act," entitled "An act to amend an act entitled, 'An act to amend § 5352' of the Revised States of the United States, in reference to bigamy and for other purposes."

Inheritance of illegitimate children, § 6413, and note.

6429. (2849.) Id. Cases heretofore determined. New trial. In all cases involving the rights of such issue to so inherit, heretofore determined adversely to such issue in any of the courts of the territory of Utah, a motion for a new trial or rehearing shall be entertained, on application of such issue who was or were parties, at any time before the 10th day of March, 1897; and the case or cases in which said motion is so directed to be heard shall be deemed transferred to the court of the state of Utah corresponding to that of the territory of Utah in which such adverse decision was made, and the courts shall thereupon proceed to hear and determine said motion, and if granted, to proceed to hear and determine the case or cases without prejudice from the lapse of time since the former hearing or any prior determination of a like motion; provided, that this section shall not be construed to affect the rights of bona fide purchasers from any such parties before the approval of this title.

In enacting this section the legislature assumed a control over the judiciary not warranted by the constitution, and such a statute, destroying vested rights and the finality of judicial determination, is unconstitutional and void.

In re Handley, 15 U. 212; 49 P. 829.

6430. (2850.) Polygamous issue born on or prior to January 4, 1896, legitimated. The issue of bigamous and polygamous marriages, heretofore contracted between members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, born on or prior to the 4th day of January, A. D. 1896, are hereby legitimated; and such issue are entitled to inherit from both parents, and to have and enjoy all rights and privileges to the same extent and in the same manner as though born in lawful wedlock.

Legitimation by acknowledgment, §§ 19, 6413.
Succession of illegitimate child, §§ 19, 6413.
This section applies only to the issue of Mormon church plural marriages and not to children illegitimate at common law, and the father of the child born of a plural marriage who has publicly acknowledged the child and has cared for him in his own family as his son, may inherit from such child.

Rohwer v. District Court, 41 U. 279; 125 P. 671.
It was not until the enactment of this section in 1896 that the children of such marriages were legitimate for all purposes, hence such a child would not inherit from its grandfather, who died December 25, 1882.

TITLE 117.

CODE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE.

CHAPTER 1.

PRELIMINARY PROVISIONS.

6441. (2851.) Name of title. This title shall be known as the Code of Civil Procedure.

6442. (2852.) But one form of civil action. There is in this state but one form of civil action for the enforcement or protection of private rights and the redress or prevention of private wrongs.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 307.
Joinder of actions, § 6567.
Recovery on one of two counts, note to § 6567.
Law and equity may be administered in the same action, Con. art. 8, sec. 19.
When there is a variance between rules of common law and of equity, the rules of equity shall prevail, § 5839.

The code applies to and governs all pleadings, modes, and forms at law and in equity.

Houtz v. Gisborn, 1 U. 173.

While all the forms of action have been abolished by the code, the inherent distinction between legal and equitable causes of action, and the remedies appropriate to each, are not changed.

Kahn v. Old Telegraph M. Co., 2 U. 174.

Hamner v. Ballantyne, 13 U. 325; 44 P. 704.

While distinctions as to forms of actions are abolished, the distinction as to causes of actions remains. Plaintiff cannot in one count rely upon false imprisonment and malicious prosecution.

Johnston v. Meaghr, 14 U. 426; 47 P. 861.

Only one cause of action can arise out of a promise or imposed duty, though the pleader may state the facts in different ways.

Williams v. Nelson, 45 U. 255; 145 P. 39.

6443. (2853.) Parties, how designated. In such action the party complaining is known as the plaintiff, and the adverse party as the defendant.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 308.

Parties to actions, §§ 6495-6520.

Title not changed in consequence of an appeal, § 6993.

6444. (2854.) Special issues may be tried by jury. In a case where neither party can, as of right, require a trial by jury of an issue of fact arising upon the pleadings, or where a question of fact, not in issue upon the pleadings, is to be tried, an order for the trial thereof by a jury may be made, stating distinctly and plainly the question of fact to be tried. Such an order is the only authority necessary for the trial.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 309*.

What issues to be tried by jury, what by the court, § 6781.

Submission of special findings to jury, § 6821.

Verdict general or special, § 6820.

Where jury is advisory merely, verdict is not binding on the court.

Smith v. Richardson, 2 U. 424.

Toltec Ranch Co. v. Cook, 24 U. 453; 67 P. 1123.

Grand Central M. Co. v. Mammoth M. Co., 29 U. 490; 83 P. 648.

Where a case, before the rendition of verdict, is treated by the parties and the court as one triable by a jury, the judge should render judgment on the verdict, and should not make findings and judgment at variance therewith.

Houston v. Hechler, 47 U. 215; 152 P. 726.

Naylor v. Jensen, 38 U. 310; 113 P. 73.

CHAPTER 2.

LIMITATIONS—IN GENERAL.

6445. (2855.) Actions to be commenced within periods prescribed. Civil actions can be commenced only within the periods prescribed in the three succeeding chapters, after the cause of action shall have accrued, except where in special cases a different limitation is prescribed by statute.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 312.

Easement acquired in twenty years, note to § 6456; boundary, twenty years, note to § 6456.

Adverse possession of water for seven years, note to § 3450.

Possession open, continuous, etc., and taxes paid, § 6456, and note.

Limitations not affected by the general repeal of 1878, § 5834.

Defense of statute of limitations must be pleaded; by whom, and how, § 6602, and note.

No right of action unless seized or possessed within seven years, §§ 6449, 6450.

The word "action" construed, § 6492.

WHEN STATUTE BEGINS TO RUN:

The statute of limitations should be enforced not only on the presumption that the debt has been paid but because it is essentially a statute of repose; it should be viewed as a wise and beneficial law rather than as a discreditable defense.

Kuhn v. Mount, 13 U. 108; 44 P. 1036.

When the breach of a contract consists in a failure to pay over money balances due thereunder, the liability falls upon the defaulting party, when such failure occurs.

Victor Sewing Machine Co. v. Crockwell, 2 U. 557; 112 U. S. 676, 688.

Statute begins to run from time owner was deprived of his property, notwithstanding his ignorance of defendant's wrongful act, defendant having practiced no deceit or concealment.

Dee v. Hyland, 3 U. 308; 3 P. 388.

Statute of limitations does not begin to run against patentee of land from United States before issuance of patent; date of final payment does not govern.

Steele v. Boley, 7 U. 64; 24 P. 755; overruling same case, 6 U. 308; 22 P. 311.

But see Toltec Ranch Co. v. Babcock, 24 U. 183; 66 P. 876; affirmed 191 U. S. 532.

Where an insurance policy provided that no suit should be sustainable until after an award should have been made, nor unless such action was commenced within twelve months from the date of the fire, and no time was limited within which the award should be made, and suit was begun more than a year after the fire; held, that it was not barred by the statute of limitations.

Hong Sling v. Royal Insurance Co., 8 U. 135; 30 P. 307.

Shipper on railroad is not bound by limitation in contract to present claim for damage to stock within ten days.

Houtz v. U. P. Ry. Co., decided January, 1908.

Where a person is entitled to indemnity on a judgment paid by him, the statute commences to run from the time of such payment.

Culmer v. Wilson, 13 U. 129; 44 P. 833.

See Fullerton v. Bailey, 17 U. 85; 53 P. 1020.

Action to recover payments made on real estate deal where grantor fails to convey accrues at time of such failure.

Duncan v. Geyser M. Co., 17 U. 209; 53 P. 1044.

In an action to foreclose a mortgage upon real property, the statute begins to run when the debt becomes due.

Thompson v. Cheesman, 15 U. 43; 48 U. 477.

The statute of limitations does not commence to run until a cause of action arises.

Crescent M. Co. v. Silver King M. Co., 17 U. 444; 54 P. 244.

Stevens v. Rogers, 16 U. 105; 51 P. 216.

Culmer v. Wilson, 13 U. 129; 44 P. 833.

Where complaint was filed within period prescribed by § 3143, C. L. U. 1888, and defendant appeared generally, though summons was not served until more than four years after maturity of the obligation, the action was not barred.

Keyser v. Pollock, 20 U. 371; 59 P. 87.

The subsequent passage of an act by the legislature increasing the period of limitation could not operate to affect or renew a cause of action already barred.

Ireland v. Mackintosh, 22 U. 296; 61 P. 901.

Amendment extending time from four to six years applied to contracts not already barred.

Guthiel v. Gilmer, 27 U. 496; 76 P. 628.

Where there is an agreement between parties for a mutual exchange of lands, and each puts the other in possession of the lands so exchanged, and the agreement is subsequently violated by one of the parties, by mortgaging the land to be conveyed by him, the cause of action in the other arises when he discovers the violation.

Snow v. Rich, 22 U. 123; 61 P. 336.

Under § 6094, a cause of action accrues at once in favor of a party who pays an unlawful tax under protest.

Centennial-Eureka M. Co. v. Juab Co., 22 U. 395; 62 P. 1024.

When defendant contracted to repay plaintiff certain sums out of profits, the obligation became absolute after the lapse of a reasonable time.

White v. Century M. Co., 28 U. 331; 78 P. 868.

McIntyre v. Ajax M. Co., 20 U. 323; 60 P. 552.

Busby v. Century M. Co., 27 U. 231; 75 P. 725.

Adverse possession of railroad lands is not dependent upon the time when patent passed to the railroad.

Toltec Ranch Co. v. Babcock, 24 U. 183; 66 P. 876; affirmed 191 U. S. 532.

Toltec Ranch Co. v. Cook, 24 U. 453; 67 P. 1123.

But see Steele v. Boley, 7 U. 64; 24 P. 755.

A right of action on a deficiency judgment, entered after foreclosure sale, accrued at the date the amount of the deficiency was ascertained and not at the time the decree of foreclosure was made.

Howe v. Sears, 30 U. 344; 84 P. 1107.

Since the appointment of a receiver to wind up the offairs of an insolvent building and loan association works a practical dissolution of the association, and the mortgage indebtedness of its borrowing members becomes immediately due, when an association went into a receiver's hands, the statute of limitations began to run against an unmatured mortgage held by it.

Graves v. Seifried, 31 U. 203; 87 P. 674.

Causes of action which accrue to the administrator after the death of an intestate are not complete, and do not exist, and limitations do not begin to run until the administrator is appointed.

Hatch v. Hatch, 46 U. 116; 148 P. 433.

Query: As to the right of the holders of tax liens to invoke the statute of limitations against each other.

Lawrence v. Murphy, 45 U. 572; 147 P. 905.

Statute of limitations not applicable to action for divorce.

Tufts v. Tufts, 8 U. 142; 30 P. 309.

A junior lien holder may interpose the statute against a senior mortgagee, to the extent of his interest, and if he acquires title he may bar the senior mortgagee. The mortgagor's absence from the state does not toll the statute in such action, and the statute starts to run against the senior mortgagee at the time the right of action on the mortgage accrues.

Boucofski v. Jacobsen, 36 U. 165; 104 P. 117.

Graves v. Seifried, 31 U. 203; 87 P. 674.

The statute is applicable as a bar to a suit to reform a contract.

Weight v. Bailey, 45 U. 584; 147 P. 899.

Where an excessive payment is barred by limitations, a counterclaim for the the overpayment is barred.

Utah Commr. & Savings Bank v. Fox, 44 U. 323; 140 P. 660.

But where cross demands exist, they may be offset against each other, and claims which are barred so as to prevent judgment may be allowed as an offset.

Utah Commr. & Savings Bank v. Fox, 40 U. 205; 120 P. 840.

Limitation against cause of action arising after intestate's death begins to run when administrator is appointed.

Hatch v. Hatch, 46 U. 116; 148 P. 1096.

A cause of action arises the moment an action may be maintained to enforce a legal right, and the statute of limitations then begins to run.

Sweetser v. Fox, 43 U. 40; 134 P. 599.

WHEN STATUTE BEGINS TO RUN AGAINST A TRUSTEE OR CO-TENANT:

Trusts arising by operation of law, note to § 5812.

Trustee of express trust defined, § 6495.

Where a declaration of trust provided for the payment of the money advanced out of the rents, issues, and profits of a mine, the statute did not begin to run until the trust was closed.

Charter Oak Ins. Co. v. Gisborn, 5 U. 319; affirmed 142 U. S. 326.

An express trust never having been fully performed is still a subsisting and continuing trust, against which limitations do not run.

Felkner v. Dooly, 27 U. 350; 75 P. 854.

Mere lapse of time, when the parties remain in the same relative positions, and the delay has worked no serious wrong to the adverse party, so that justice can still be done, although an important ingredient in the law of laches, will not operate as a bar in equity.

Hamilton v. Dooly, 15 U. 280; 49 P. 769.

Statute begins to run from time of repudiation becoming known to cestui que trust.

Wood v. Fox, 8 U. 380; 32 P. 48; affirmed 166 U. S. 648.

Crofoot v. Thatcher, 19 U. 212; 57 P. 171.

Felkner v. Dooly, 28 U. 236; 78 P. 365.

Chambers v. Emery, 13 U. 374; 45 P. 192.

Thomas v. Glendinning, 13 U. 47; 44 P. 652.

Where a trustee denies the trust or denies the liability under the trust relation, and the beneficiary has notice of such repudiation, then the statute of limitations attaches, and, under this section and § 6474, an action to recover the interest of the beneficiary in the proceeds of a sale made by such trustee, after four years have elapsed, is barred.

Felkner v. Dooly, 28 U. 236; 78 P. 365.

Statute of limitations does not begin to run against a trustee until he denies the trust, or asserts an adverse title.

Schenck v. Wicks, 23 U. 576; 65 P. 732.

Crofoot v. Thatcher, 19 U. 212; 57 P. 171.

The rule that limitations do not run against a trust holds only between cestui que trust and trustee, and does not apply to a cestui que trust and trustee, as against third persons.

Jenkins v. Jensen, 24 U. 108; 66 P. 773.

Where plaintiff is in continuous, open and adverse possession for over twenty years, during which time she pays the taxes and assessments and makes valuable improvements, and the defendant co-tenants had knowledge that she claimed ownership, title by adverse possession, is established in plaintiff, and it is not necessary that she should have given actual notice of her claim to her co-tenants.

Mathews v. Baker, 47 U. 532; 155 P. 427.

Where a tenant in common of corporation stock has the stock issued in his own name, his possession is regarded as for the benefit of all until he unequivocally repudiates the interest of his co-tenants; and voting the stock, transferring it to his name, and exclusively using the water to which it was entitled do not operate as repudiation so as to start the statute in his favor.

Rasmussen v. Sevier Valley Canal Co., 48 U 490; 160 P. 144.

Leaving money with the defendant, with instructions to use a part in paying depositor's debts and to turn the balance over to depositor on demand, does not constitute a trust fund.

Francis v. Gisborn, 30 U. 67; 83 P. 571.

In a suit by a wife's administrator against the husband's executors to recover wife's separate estate, where there has been no demand and refusal, or hostile assertion or holding on the part of the husband against the wife, the statute does not run.

Hatch v. Hatch, 46 U. 116; 148 P. 1096.

CHAPTER 3.

LIMITATIONS—REAL PROPERTY.

6446. (2856.) Action by the state. Seven years. The state will not sue any person for or in respect to any real property, or the issues or profits thereof, by reason of the right or title of the state to the same, unless:

1. Such right or title shall have accrued within seven years before any action or other proceeding for the same shall be commenced; or,

2. The state or those from whom it claims shall have received the rents and profits of such real property, or some part thereof, within seven years.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 315*.

Limitations apply to the state as well as to persons, § 6475.

Limitations do not apply to the streets, parks, etc., § 6457.

6447. (2857.) Action by grantee of the state barred if state barred. No action can be brought for or in respect to real property by any person claiming under letters patent or grants from this state, unless the same might have been commenced by the state as herein specified, in case such patent had not been issued or grant made.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 316. Mont. C. Civ. P., § 481.

6448. (2858.) Action against grantee of the state under void grant. Seven years. When letters patent or grants of real property issued or made by the state are declared void by the determination of a competent court, an action for the recovery of the property so conveyed may be brought either by the state or by any subsequent patentee or grantee of the property, his heirs or assigns, within seven years after such determination, but not after that period.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 317*. Mont. C. Civ. P., § 482.

6449. (2859.) No action unless seized or possessed within seven years. No action for the recovery of real property, or for the possession thereof, shall be maintained, unless it appear that the plaintiff, his ancestor, grantor, or predecessor was seized or possessed of the property in question within seven years before the commencement of the action.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 318*.

See note to § 6450, 6451.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 319*. N. Y. Civ. P., § 366*. N. Dak. (1895) § 5189*.

Limitation of action for mesne profits, § 6466.

When statute begins to run, note to § 6445.

Presumption in favor of legal owner, § 6451.

Possession must have been hostile and continuous, and taxes paid, § 6456, and note.

Easement acquired in twenty years, note to § 6456.

Boundary established by acquiescence for a long period, note to § 6456.

Statute of limitations, how and by whom pleaded, § 6602, and note.

This section applies to suit for accounting against trustee of real property, note to § 6445.

Action against mortgagee in possession barred in seven years, § 6476.

BAR IN SEVEN YEARS:

Where a party enters upon land of another, knowing that the entry is without right or title, and maintains his possession of such property without the owner's permission or consent, such party obtains no right to said land which can ripen into a right of possession, except by adverse possession for the statutory period, even though the owner makes no objection and the trespasser makes valuable improvements.

Coombs v. S. L. & Ft. Douglas Co., 9 U. 322; 34 P. 248.

An action or defense founded on real property is barred by this section where there has been an adverse possession for a period of seven years.

Funk v. Anderson, 22 U. 238; 61 P. 1006.

Adverse possession of settler on railroad land for seven years bars recovery by railroad, though such adverse possession began before patent passed to the railroad and did not continue for seven years thereafter.

Toltec Ranch Co. v. Babcock, 24 U. 183; 66 P. 876; affirmed 191 U. S. 532.

Toltec Ranch Co. v. Cook, 24 U. 453; 67 P. 1123.

But see Steele v. Boley, 7 U. 64; 24 P. 755.

A party who has failed to institute an action to recover possession of a mining claim within seven years after possession by another is barred.

Lavagnino v. Uhlig, 26 U. 1; 71 P. 1046; affirmed 198 U. S. 443.

Where an administrator neglected to bring an action to recover real property within the time prescribed by statute, an heir, although a minor at the time of the accrual of the action, was also barred. In such case the heir has right of action against the administrator and his bondsmen.

Jenkins v. Jensen, 24 U. 108; 66 P. 773.

Where a suit was started, and after pending twelve years was dismissed for want of prosecution, the defendant could not claim acquiescence in a boundary line or set up title by adverse possession to another suit, nor was the plaintiff estopped.

Moyle v. Thomas, 46 U. 542; 151 P. 361.

Where the occupant is in possession of the surface of a mining claim which has a surface value independent of mining, and he pays the taxes on the surface and improvements thereon, he may acquire title to the surface even though the owner has paid taxes on the mining claim.

Utah Copper Co. v. Eckman, 47 U. 165; 152 P. 178.

There can be no adverse possession of land prior to the passing of the title thereto from the United States government.

Id.

The limitation of an action to recover compensation for use of real estate for public use without condemnation is seven years.

Salt Lake Inv. Co. v. O. S. L. R. Co., 46 U. 203; 148 P. 439.

Where a father deeds property to his grandson, reserving from the grant the use and possession of said premises during the natural life of his son, and the son enters into possession, claiming a life estate therein, and improves the same, held seven years possession establishes his life estate.

Wells v. Wells, 7 U. 68; 24 P. 752.

6451. (2861.) Possession presumed in legal owner, unless adversely held. Seven years. In every action for the recovery of real property, or the possession thereof, the person establishing a legal title to the property shall be presumed to have been possessed thereof within the time required by law, and the occupation of the property by any other person shall be deemed to have been under and in subordination to the legal title, unless it appears that the property has been held and possessed adversely to such legal title for seven years before the commencement of the action.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 321*.

When statute begins to run, § 6450, and note.

Actual possession is prima facie evidence of title in fee simple.

Johnston v. Meaghr, 14 U. 426; 47 P. 861.

The presumption is, that one holding the legal title has been possessed of the land within the time required by law, unless it appears that the property was held and possessed adversely to him for seven years.

Funk v. Anderson, 22 U. 238; 61 P. 1006.

Open, notorious, uninterrupted, and peaceable possession of land, under claim of right, will be presumed to have been adverse from its inception as to the holder of the legal title, though not in its character hostile.

Toltec Ranch Co. v. Babcock, 24 U. 183; 66 P. 876; affirmed 191 U. S. 532.

The burden is on one claiming title by adverse possession to prove the same, and not on the defendant to establish that he was in possession under his legal title for the statutory period.

Needham v. S. L. City, 7 U. 319; 26 P. 920.

Smith v. North C. W. Co., 16 U. 194; 52 P. 283.

Funk v. Anderson, 22 U. 238; 61 P. 1006.

Tate v. Rose, 35 U. 229; 99 P. 1003.

Tate v. Shaw, 35 U. 240; 99 P. 1007.

Possession under a tax sale certificate is, during the period of redemption, an admission that the possession is subject to the owner's right of redemption, and is not adverse to the true owner.

S. L. Investment Co. v. Fox, 32 U. 301; 90 P. 464.

The owner of vacant unimproved property is presumed to be in constructive possession and entitled to actual possession, and an adverse possession of two years with payment of taxes for more than seven years does not bar owner.

Ives v. Grange, 42 U. 608; 134 P. 619.

In an action to quiet title, the statute of limitation is an affirmative defense to be proven by defendant.

Tate v. Rose, 35 U. 229; 99 P. 1003.

Tate v. Shaw, 35 U. 240; 99 P. 1007.

Possession under a deed is evidence of title to all of tract described in deed, and the presumption of possession is not affected by the fact that a recent division fence had been erected so as to cut off a few feet.

Cotterel v. Pickering, 32 U. 62; 88 P. 696.

Where a son purchases a home in his name for his father and mother, intending to vest a life estate in them, their possession is in subordination of the legal title, and is not adverse.

Sheppick v. Sheppick, 44 U. 131; 138 P. 1169.

Where an owner in possession conveys an undivided portion and continues in possession of the whole, such possession is not adverse.

English v. Openshaw, 28 U. 241; 78 P. 476.

A tax deed initiates a new title, and possession thereunder is prima facie adverse to the original title.

Welner v. Stearns, 40 U. 185; 120 P. 490.

Whenever possession is of such character that ownership may be inferred therefrom, then the possession may be presumed to be hostile.

Pioneer Inv. Co. v. Bd. of Ed. of S. L. C., 35 U. 1; 99 P. 150.

6452. (2862.) Adverse possession under written instrument, decree, etc. What deemed held. Whenever it shall appear that the occupant, or those under whom he claims, entered into possession of the property under claim of title exclusive of other right, founding such claim upon a written instrument, as being a conveyance of the property in question, or upon the decree or judgment of a competent court, and that there has been a continued occupation and possession of the property included in such instrument, decree, or judgment, or of some part of the property under such claim, for seven years, the property so included shall be deemed to have been held adversely, except that when the property so included consists of a tract divided into lots, the possession of one lot shall not be deemed a possession of any other lot of the same tract.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 322*.

Possession must be continuous, taxes paid, etc., § 6456, and note.

Where a divorced wife under a void decree came into possession of real estate, and remained in possession as a femme sole for the full time of the statute of limitations; held, that she acquired title by adverse possession.

Warr v. Honeck, 8 U. 61; 29 P. 1117.

Where the surviving wife has a life estate in her husband's homestead, the character of her possession may be changed by a parol partition so as to make her possession adverse.

Whittemore v. Cope, 11 U. 344; 40 P. 256.
Where a grantee's use of a property is as a yard in connection with a blacksmith shop, the adverse possession is not interrupted by record owner occasionally driving over premises.
Bingham v. McDonald, 37 U. 457; 110 P. 56.
The purchaser's right to claim adversely to the vendor and the railroad company began only when he had performed all the conditions of such contract and became entitled to a conveyance of the property.
Central Pac. Ry. Co. v. Tarpey, 50 U. —; 168 P. 554.

6453. (2863.) Id. What constitutes possession and occupancy. For the purpose of constituting an adverse possession by any person claiming a title founded upon a written instrument or a judgment or decree, land shall be deemed to have been possessed and occupied in the following cases:

1. Where it has been usually cultivated or improved;
2. Where it has been protected by a substantial inclosure;
3. Where, although not inclosed, it has been used for the supply of fuel or of fencing under timber for the purposes of husbandry, or for pasturage, or for the ordinary use of the occupant;
4. Where a known farm or single lot has been partly improved, the portion of such farm or lot that may have been left not cleared or not inclosed, according to the usual course and custom of the adjoining country, shall be deemed to have been occupied for the same length of time as the part improved and cultivated.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 323.
Whether a tax deed to the south half of a section, a few acres of which defendant had inclosed, occupied, and cultivated, was color of title or not, defendant acquired no title by adverse possession to the land outside of his inclosure, where no part of it was inclosed by a substantial fence, or otherwise, or occupied or used.
Pacific L. & W. Co. v. Hartsough, 50 U. —; 168 P. 552.
Where defendant's claim of title was not founded upon a written instrument, but was based upon actual possession, an open, notorious, peaceable occupation under claim of right was not sufficient without actual cultivation or improvement, or money expended for irrigation or an inclosure.
Central Pac. Ry Co. v. Tarpey, 50 U. —; 168 P. 554.

6454. (2864.) Adverse possession under claim of title only. Land deemed held. Where it appears that there has been an actual continued occupation of land under claim of title, exclusive of any other right, but not founded upon a written instrument, judgment, or decree, the land so actually occupied, and no other, shall be deemed to have been held adversely.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 324.
Possessory rights, § 4867.
Occupying claimants, §§ 5031-5038.
Title to streets, etc., cannot be obtained by adverse possession, § 6457.
Legal owner presumed to have in possession, § 6451.
When statute begins to run, note to § 6445.
A plural wife may accept a gift of her husband's property, or may acquire title to real estate of her husband by adverse possession founded on a gift.
Raleigh v. Wells, 29 U. 217; 81 P. 908.

6455. (2865.) Id. What constitutes possession and occupancy. For the purpose of constituting an adverse possession by a person claiming title not founded upon a written instrument, judgment, or decree, land is deemed to have been possessed and occupied in the following cases only:

1. Where it has been protected by a substantial inclosure;
2. Where it has been usually cultivated or improved;
3. Where labor or money has been expended upon dams, canals, embankments, aqueducts, or otherwise, for the purpose of irrigating said lands, amounting to the sum of $5 per acre.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 325*.
Adverse possession must have been hostile, continuous, etc., § 6456, and note.

6456. (2866.) In all cases adverse possession must be continuous, and taxes paid. In no case shall adverse possession be considered established under the provisions of any section of this code, unless it shall be shown that the land has been occupied and claimed for the period of seven years continuously, and that the party or persons, their predecessors, and grantors have paid all taxes which have been levied and assessed upon such land according to law.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 325*.
When statute begins to run, note to § 6445.
Possession presumed in legal owner, § 6451, and note.
Action or defense founded upon title to realty barred in seven years, § 6450, and note.
Water right by adverse use, etc., note of § 3450.
Allowance for improvements made under color of title, § 5031.
Adverse possession must be for seven full years; the making of valuable improvements without objection from owner does not affect owner's rights.
Coombs v. S. L. & Ft. Douglas Co., 9 U. 322; 34 P. 248.
As among joint tenants a holding does not become adverse until tenant out of possession has notice.
Smith v. North C. Water Co., 16 U. 194; 52 P. 283.

In order to establish adverse possession, the party claiming it must have paid all taxes during the period.
Funk v. Anderson, 22 U. 238; 61 P. 1006.
Dignan v. Nelson, 26 U. 186; 72 P. 936.
Raleigh v. Wells, 29 U. 217; 81 P. 908.
Crane v. Judge, 30 U. 50; 83 P. 566.

Must be founded on actual, open, notorious possession with an intention to claim as owner against the rights of the true owner, continuing for the time prescribed.
Dignan v. Nelson, 26 U. 186; 72 P. 936.
Needham v. S. L. City, 7 U. 319; 26 P. 920.
English v. Openshaw, 28 U. 241; 78 P. 476.
Snow v. Rich, 22 U. 123; 61 P. 336.
Schenck v. Wicks, 23 U. 576; 65 P. 732.
S. L. Inv. Co. v. Fox, 32 U. 301; 90 P. 564.

Where property had been sold to the county for taxes, and the claimant took possession under a claim of title and inclosed the premises in July, 1899, and received a deed from the county therefor in May, 1900, adverse possession against everyone except the county started at the time possession was taken.
Welner v. Stearns, 40 U. 185; 120 P. 490.

Title by adverse possession can be acquired only in accordance with this section, and cannot be acquired by prescription.
R. G. W. Ry. Co. v. S. L. Inv. Co., 35 U. 528; 101 P. 586.

Plaintiff suing to quiet title to a parcel of land 50x75 feet in a city, and relying on title by adverse possession, does not prove payment of taxes thereon by introducing tax receipts describing a tract "50x75 feet, Heber Avenue," where either plaintiffs or his wife claim to own property adjoining said parcel.
Fares v. Urban, 46 U. 609; 151 P. 57.

Where plaintiff is in continuous, open, and adverse possession for over twenty years, during which time she pays the taxes and assessments and makes valuable improvements, and the defendant co-tenants had knowledge that she claimed ownership, title by adverse possession is established in plaintiff, and it is not necessary that she should have given actual notice of her claim to her co-tenants.
Mathews v. Baker, 47 U. 532; 155 P. 427.

Where a railroad company claims ownership of part of a lot, in addition to its right-of-way through such lot, and returns it to the state board of equalization, by whom it is taxed, and the owner of the lot pays the taxes assessed thereon by the county assessor, exclusive of the right-of-way; the state board was without jurisdiction, and the taxes paid by the railroad did not operate as payment of taxes.
R. G. W. Ry. Co. v. S. L. Inv. Co., 35 U. 528; 101 P. 586.

The burden of proof rested on one claiming by adverse possession to show that taxes were not levied and assessed if such was the fact or that they were paid if they were levied and assessed, and the failure to pay for one year defeats the claim of adverse possession.
Central Pac. Ry. Co. v. Tarpey, 50 U. —; 168 P. 554.

Where, before the purchaser under a contract had adverse possession for seven consecutive years, he brought suit against the railroad company for the specific performance of its agreement, on the theory that the party who made the contract with him was the agent, thereby recognizing and admitting its legal title, this broke the continuance of his adverse possession.
Id.

Where plaintiff has paid all taxes levied on a mining claim under § 5864, and defendants have occupied and improved parcels of the surface thereof which have a value independent of mining purposes, and have paid taxes thereon under a very uncertain description, the occupant's possession may ripen into title whether the tax description was sufficient or not, for if there was no legal assessment, payment of taxes was not necessary for the acquisition of title.
Utah Copper Co. v. Chandler, 45 U. 85; 142 P. 1119.

Of course, where the occupant pays taxes his possession ripens into title.
Utah Copper Co. v. Eckman, 47 U. 165; 152 P. 178.

A finding that all the rights of the plaintiff are barred by §§ 6449-6456, inclusive, and that the right of the defendant is perfected by said statutes, is a mere conclusion.
Ives v. Grange, 42 U. 608; 134 P. 619.

EASEMENTS:

See Stephens v. U. P. R. Co., 48 U. 528, 161 P. 459.

A prescriptive easement arises only by an adverse use and enjoyment thereof, continuous and uninterrupted for twenty years under a claim of right.
Harkness v. Woodmansee, 7 U. 227; 26 P. 291.
Yeager v. Woodruff, 17 U. 361; 53 P. 1045.
Coleman v. Hines, 24 U. 360; 67 P. 1122.
Morris v. Blunt, 49 U. 243; 161 P. 1127.

Where a deed granted the use of a passageway "so long as it is used as a passageway," and the grantee used the way under the deed and did not repudiate the license nor apprise the grantor he was using it under a claim of right, such user did not ripen into a prescriptive right.
Reese Howell Co. v. Brown, 48 U. 142; 158 P. 684.

Where defendant had an easement in a street for maintaining a flume for milling purposes, he could not acquire more than a perpetual right to maintain the flume for such purposes, and could not claim by adverse possession legal title to that part of the street so as to enable him to maintain the flume banks at any desired height.
Hague v. Juab County M. & E. Co., 39 U. 290; 107 P. 249.

To acquire a private easement in the nature of a right-of-way over the lands of another, the claimant must have used the same openly, continuously, and adversely for twenty years, and during all of that time title to the lands must have been out of the United States.
Bolton v. Murphy, 41 U. 591; 127 P. 335.

Easement by prescription must be acquired by twenty years' user after patent issues, as no prescriptive rights can be acquired against the United States.
Lund v. Wilcox, 34 U. 205; 97 P. 33.

The complaint in an action to enjoin interference with use of land as a highway did not show a right based on adverse user, where it did not allege that the use of the land was adverse and under a claim of right.
Farr v. Wheelwright C. Co., 49 U. 274; 163 P. 256.

BOUNDARIES:

Where the complaint definitely describes the ground in controversy, plaintiff cannot show acquiescence in a fence line beyond the area described in the complaint.
Tuckfield v. Crager, 29 U. 472; 82 P. 860.

A temporary shed erected without regard to a boundary does not become a boundary line, nor is title by possession acquired by leaving vehicles and occasionally depositing refuse on land.
Peery Estate v. Ford, 46 U. 436; 151 P. 59.

Where there is a surplus of land in a block, such fact will be considered.
Houghton v. Barton, 49 U. 611; 165 P. 471.

In a boundary dispute between the owners of the north half and the south half of a lot, where the owner of the north half took possession of a strip which he believed was a part of the north half, and improved it, and then moved away, and the purchaser of the south half took actual possession of the strip, collected rent from the tenants, made additional improvements and paid taxes including improvements, the owners of the north half being assessed with no improvements, the owner of the south half acquired title by adverse possession.
Id.

A boundary line is established by acquiescence for a long term of years.

Cottrell v. Pickering, 32 U. 62; 88 P. 696.

Streets continue until abandoned, § 2802.
The phrase, "or for other purposes," must be limited to things ejusdem generis with the property especially named, and the city board of education may lose title to property by adverse possession that is not used for school purposes, but held for sale as business property.
Pioneer Inv. & T. Co. v. Bd. Education, 35 U. 1; 99 P. 150.
There is no bar by statute of limitations against a municipality in respect to a public street within its boundaries, but it may be estopped from claiming a portion of a street.
Wall v. Salt Lake City, 50 U. —; 168 P. 766.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 326*.
When statute begins to run, note to § 6445.
Lessee of mine cannot acquire adverse title, note to § 3890.

6459. (2868.) Right of possession not affected by descent cast. The right of a person to the possession of real property is not impaired or affected by a descent cast in consequence of the death of a person in possession of such property.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 327.

6460. (2869.) Action to recover estate sold by guardian. Three years. No action for the recovery of any estate sold by a guardian can be maintained by the ward, or by any person claiming under him, unless it is commenced within three years next after the termination of the guardianship.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1806*.
Sale of land by guardian, § 7838.

6461. (2870.) Action to recover estate sold by executor, etc. Three years. No action for the recovery of any estate sold by an executor or administrator in the course of any probate proceeding can be maintained by any heir or other person claiming under the decedent, unless it be commenced within three years next after such sale. An action to set aside the sale may be instituted and maintained at any time within three years from the discovery of the fraud or other lawful grounds upon which the action is based.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 15736.
Sale of land by executor or administrator, § 7677.

6462. (2871.) Legal disability prevents running of statute. Removal. The two preceding sections shall not apply to minors or others under any legal disability to sue at the time when the right of action first accrues, but all such persons may commence an action at any time within one year after the removal of the disability.

Cal. C. Civ. P., §§ 1574*, 1806*.
Legal disability, actions other than for recovery of real property, § 6480.
Adverse possession for more than seven years against an administrator entitled to sue for recovery of the property will bar an action to quiet title therein brought by an heir who was under disability at the time the cause of action accrued.
Jenkins v. Jensen, 24 U. 108; 66 P. 773.

6463. (2872.) Id. Time of disability not reckoned. If a person entitled to commence an action for the recovery of real property, or for the recovery of the possession thereof, or to make any entry or defense, founded on the title to real property, or to rents or services out of the same, be at the time such title shall first descend or accrue, either:

1. Within the age of majority; or,
2. Insane; or,
3. Imprisoned on a criminal charge, or in execution upon conviction of a criminal offense, for a term less than for life—the time during which such disability continues is not deemed any portion of the time in this chapter limited for the commencement of such actions, or the making of such entry or defense, but such action may be commenced, or entry or defense made, within the period of two years after such disability shall cease, or after the death of the person entitled, who shall die under such disability, but such action shall not be commenced, or entry or defense made, after that period.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 328*.
Disaffirmance of contract by minor, § 3956.
One year after disability removed, in actions personal, § 6480.

UTAH STATE PROPERTY

CHAPTER 4.

LIMITATIONS—OTHER THAN REAL PROPERTY.

6464. (2873.) Periods prescribed. The periods prescribed for the commencement of actions other than for the recovery of real property are as hereinafter provided.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 335.
Statute how pleaded, § 6602, and note.
Statute begins to run when, note to § 6445.

6465. (2874.) Action on judgment. Eight years. Within eight years:

An action upon a judgment or decree of any court of the United States, or of any state or territory within the United States.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 331*.
Judgment a lien for eight years, § 6868.
Execution must issue within eight years, § 6912.
The statute, on a judgment where there is no appeal, starts on the entry of the judgment, not at the expiration of six months allowed for appeal.
Sweetser v. Fox, 43 U. 40; 134 P. 599.

6466. (2875.) Action on written instrument. Mesne profits. Six years. Within six years:

1. An action for the mesne profits of real property;
2. An action upon any contract, obligation, or liability founded upon an instrument of writing, except those mentioned in the preceding section.

Cal. C. Civ. P., §§ 336*, 337*.
Limitation on action to recover rents or profits of real property, § 6450.
Payment or new promise extends time, § 6489, and note.
Statute begins to run when, note to § 6445.
Statute does not begin to run till cause of action arises, note to § 6445.
Effect of limitations in insurance contract and stock-shipper's contract, note to § 6445.
Statute how pleaded, § 6602, and note.

This section applies to a new promise in writing to pay an old account not founded on instrument of writing.
Boukofsky v. Powers, 1 U. 333.
Gruenberg v. Buhring, 5 U. 414; 16 P. 486.
See Anthony v. Savage, 2 U. 466.

An action upon a bond for the payment of indebtedness arising by sales of merchandise upon account is an action founded upon an instrument of writing.
Victor S. M. Co. v. Crockwell, 3 U. 152; 1 P. 470.
See Streeper v. Victor S. M. Co., 112 U. S. 676, 688.

Claim already barred not affected by increase in limitation from four to six years.
Ireland v. McIntosh, 22 U. 296; 61 P. 901.

An action on a written instrument accruing within four years prior to March 20, 1897 (when the statute was extended by amendment from four to six years), might, under provisions of this section, be commenced any time within six years after such accrual.
Guthiel v. Gilmer, 27 U. 496; 76 P. 628.

Note secured by mortgage may be extended by consent of parties, and all parties, including subsequent purchaser with notice, will be bound thereby.
McKay v. Ward, 20 U. 149; 57 P. 1024.

In an action founded upon a receipt given for notes taken for collection, plaintiff had four years, under law of 1888, from the time the statute began to run within which to begin suit.
Stevens v. Rogers, 16 U. 105; 51 P. 216.

An action on the written obligation of one of several uniting in the purchase and sale of corporate stock, all to be interested in proportion to the amount subscribed, is controlled by sub. 2, of this section.
McMillan v. Whitley, 38 U. 452; 113 P. 1026.

6467. (2876.) Action on contract not in writing. Four years. Within four years:

An action upon a contract, obligation, or liability not founded upon an instrument of writing; also on an open account for goods, wares, and merchandise, and for any article charged in a store account; provided, that action in said cases may be commenced at any time within four years after the last charge is made, or the last payment is received.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 339*.
Action upon mutual, open, and current account, § 6473.
Statute begins to run, when, note to § 6445.
Decisions as to trusts and trustees, note to § 6445.
Word "liability" does not embrace torts.
Thomas v. U. P. Ry. Co., 1 U. 235.
Action on a verbal assumption of the payment of a mortgage must be brought within two years, under the statute of 1888.
Thompson v. Cheesman, 15 U. 43; 48 P. 477.
Action against city for money illegally collected for taxes barred in two years, under law of 1888.
Raleigh v. S. L. City, 17 U. 130; 53 P. 974.
See Cent. Eureka M. Co. v. Juab Co., 22 U. 395; 62 P. 1024.
Upon a failure to convey land, a right of action accrues to recover payments made, and the contract, being implied, the action is barred, under § 3145, laws of 1888, if not brought within two years thereafter.
Duncan v. Geyser M. Co., 17 U. 209; 53 P. 1044.
Where a grantee verbally agrees to pay the grantor, for life, a half of the crop grown on the land conveyed, an action therefor for the years 1903 and 1904, brought within four years from January 1, 1903, was not barred.
Johnson v. Johnson, 31 U. 408; 88 P. 230.
Leaving money with the defendant, with instructions to use a part in paying depositors' debts and to turn the balance over to depositor on demand, does not constitute a trust fund, and the limitation is controlled by this section.
Francis v. Gisborn, 30 U. 67; 83 P. 571.

6468. (2877.) Action for liability created by statute. One year. Trespass, waste, fraud, etc. Three years.

1. An action for liability created by the statute of a foreign state or by the statute of this state other than a penalty or forfeiture under the laws of this state shall be begun within one year;

2. An action for waste or trespass of real property, within three years; provided, that when the waste or trespass is committed by means of underground works upon any mining claim, the cause of action shall not be deemed to have accrued until the discovery by the aggrieved party of the facts constituting such waste or trespass;

3. An action for taking, detaining, or injuring personal property, including actions for specific recovery thereof, within three years; provided, that in all cases where the subject of the action is a domestic animal usually included in the term "live stock," having upon it at the time of its loss a recorded mark or brand, and when such animal was strayed or stolen from the true owner without his fault, the statute shall not begin to run against an action for the recovery of such animal until the owner has actual knowledge of such facts as would put a reasonable man upon inquiry as to the possession thereof by the defendant;

4. An action for relief on the ground of fraud or mistake, three years; the cause of action in such case not to be deemed to have accrued until the discovery by the aggrieved party of the facts constituting the fraud or mistake. Am'd '05, p. 114.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 338*. Mont. Civ. P., §524*.
Statute of limitations begins to run, when, note to § 6445.
The right of an abutting property owner to recover damages for change of street grade is governed by Con. art. 1, sec. 22, and not by C. L., § 700, and such action is not based on a statutory liability within sub. 1 hereof, but is governed by § 6474.
Webber v. Salt Lake City, 40 U. 221; 120 P. 503.
An action against a railroad for cattle killed on its right-of-way, predicated on negligence in operating the train, as well as on defective cattle guards and right-of-way fences, is not governed by sub. 1.
Preece v. O. S. L. R. Co., 48 U. 551; 161 P. 40.
Action against a judgment creditor for directing a levy and sale of exempt property is governed by this section, and not by § 6469.
Snow v. West, 35 U. 206; 99 P. 674.
An action against a railroad company for compensation for use of land without condemnation thereof is governed by § 6450, and not by sub. 2 of this section.
Salt Lake Inv. Co. v. O. S. L. R. Co., 46 U. 203; 148 P. 439.
Sub. 2 applies to the action of trespass at common law, and not to an action against a railroad company for injury to a house caused by the jar of trains and the emission of smoke and cinders, to which latter action § 6474 applies.
O'Neill v. San Pedro, L. A. & S. L. R. Co., 38 U. 475; 114 P. 127.
Where the plaintiff does not own the land on which fish ponds are situate, an action for damages for the pollution of such ponds is only for damage to personal property, and is governed by sub. 3.
Reese v. Qualtrough, 40 U. 23; 156 P. 955.
The provisions of this section apply to the fraud of a bank in loaning the money of a depositor in a different manner than he directs for the benefit of the bank, though the fraud is not intentional.
Larsen v. Utah L. & T. Co., 23 U. 449; 65 P. 208.
An action to recover stock on the ground of fraud and non-compliance with the statute is barred by § 3144, laws of 1888, and this section, where complainant participated in proceedings under which levy was made, had notice of sale, acquiesced therein, and slept on his rights for more than three years.
Raht v. Sevier M. & M. Co., 18 U. 290; 54 P. 889.
An action by a city, to set aside a judgment entered upon the disclaimer of its attorney, quieting title to land owned by it and wrongfully sold for taxes from which it was exempt, is barred three years after the entry of such judgment, even though judgment were fraudulently secured, as the city must have known when judgment was rendered that its property was exempt from taxation.
Salt Lake City v. S. L. Inv. Co., 43 U. 181; 134 P. 603.
The statute starts to run from the time plaintiff is informed of such facts tending to show fraud as would put an ordinary person on inquiry; and if the action is barred against the agent of an undisclosed principal, it is barred against the principal, as mere concealment of agency is not such fraud as tolls the statute.
Gibson v. Jensen, 48 U. 244; 158 P. 426.

Where there is no allegation of concealment or estoppel, a mistake in a deed describing the grantee's rights is barred under sub. 4, since the grantee is presumed to have known of the alleged mistake.
Reese Howell Co. v. Brown, 48 U. 142; 158 P. 684.

A mere suspicion of fraud does not start the statute, it requires some tangible information.
Cunningham v. Pettigrew, 169 Fed. Rep. 335.

Where a contract for the sale of an interest in an estate, in which there was a life estate, provided for an adjustment of the price based on the appraised valuation of the estate at the time of final distribution, and in 1895 final distribution thereof was ordered over the objection of the plaintiff that it should not be made until the death of the life tenant, and upon the death of the life tenant in 1909 an action was brought to reform the contract for fraud and mistake in that the contract should have provided that an appraisal of the interest should be made upon partition after the death of the life tenant; such action is barred by sub. 4, as the time began to run from the date of distribution, even though plaintiff interpreted the contract otherwise.
Weight v. Bailey, 45 U. 584; 147 P. 899.

6469. (2878.) Action against officer or for death by negligence. Two years. Within two years:

1. An action against a marshal, sheriff, constable, or other officer upon a liability incurred by the doing of an act in his official capacity, and in virtue of his office, or by the omission of an official duty, including the non-payment of money collected upon an execution; but this section shall not apply to an action for an escape;

2. An action to recover damages for the death of one caused by the wrongful act or neglect of another.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 339*.
Action for damages for negligence of common carrier, four years.
Thomas v. U. P. Ry. Co., 1 U. 235.

Action against judgment creditor for directing levy and sale of exempt property is governed by § 6468, and not by this section.
Snow v. West, 35 U. 206; 99 P. 674.

6470. (2879.) Action for forfeiture, libel, assault, etc. One year. Within one year:

1. An action upon a statute for a penalty or forfeiture where the action is given to an individual, or to an individual and the state, except when the statute imposing it prescribes a different limitation;

2. An action upon a statute, or upon an undertaking in a criminal action, for a forfeiture or penalty to the state;

3. An action for libel, slander, assault, battery, false imprisonment, or seduction;

4. An action against a sheriff or other officer, for the escape of a prisoner arrested or imprisoned upon either civil or criminal process;

5. An action against a municipal corporation for damages or injuries to property caused by a mob or riot.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 340*.

Limitation on notary's bonds, § 4252.

6471. (2880.) Action against officer for seizure or for taxes. Six months. Within six months, an action against an officer, or officers de facto:

1. To recover any goods, wares, merchandise, or other property seized by any such officer in his official capacity, as tax collector, or to recover the price or value of any goods, wares, merchandise, or other personal property so seized, or for damages for the seizure, detention, sale of, or injury to, any goods, wares, merchandise, or other personal property seized, or for damages done to any person or property in making any such seizure;

2. For money paid to any such officer under protest, or seized by such officer in his official capacity, as a collector of taxes, and which, it is claimed, ought to be refunded.

Cal. C. Civ. P., 341*.
Action for money illegally collected for taxes must be brought within six months, if brought against the officer.
Raleigh v. S. L. City, 17 U. 130; 53 P. 974.

6472. (2881.) Action against county or city on rejected claim. One year. Actions on claims against a county, incorporated city, or town, which have been rejected by the board of county commissioners, city council, or board of trustees, as the case may be, must be commenced within one year after the first rejection thereof by such board, city council, or board of trustees. Am'd '03, p. 11.

Presentation of claim against county, §§ 1427-1435; city, §§ 619, 816, 570x2; town, § 788.

6473. (2882.) Action accrues from last item of mutual account. In an action brought to recover a balance due upon a mutual, open, and current account, where there have been reciprocal demands between the parties, the cause of action shall be deemed to have accrued from the time of the last item proved in the account on either side.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 344.
Action upon open account, § 6467, and note.
A statute of limitations commences to run from the date of each transaction in an open account, and not from the date of the last entry. In mutual accounts, the statute runs from the date of the last entry.
Anthony v. Savage, 2 U. 466.
Mutual, open, and current account. Statute runs from last entry.
Toponce v. Corinne M. & S. Co., 6 U. 439; 24 P. 534; affirmed 152 U. S. 405.
That one partner confessed judgment on an account before the statute had run had no effect as against the other after four years, except to make the claim an account stated, so that in an action begun after such time it is immaterial whether one partner could bind the other.
Woolf v. Gray, 48 U. 239; 158 P. 788.

6474. (2883.) Actions for relief not provided for. Four years. An action for relief not hereinbefore provided for must be commenced within four years after the cause of action shall have accrued.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 343.
Statute begins to run, when, note to § 6445.
When statute begins to run against a trustee, note to § 6445.
Debts held to be due in a reasonable time, note to § 6445.
Action for damages for death by negligence, two years, § 6469.
This section embraces actions for negligence against common carrier.
Thomas v. U. P. Ry. Co., 1 U. 235.
The general statute of limitations, which nowhere refers to actions for divorce, does not apply to such actions.
Tufts v. Tufts, 8 U. 142; 30 P. 309.
This section applies to an action for the recovery of unlawful taxes paid under protest.
Centennial-Eureka M. Co. v. Juab Co., 22 U. 395; 62 P. 1024.
An action for compensation for taking land is governed by § 6450.
S. L. Inv. Co. v. O. S. L. R. Co., 46 U. 203; 148 P. 439.
Where a trustee has repudiated the trust, action is barred after a lapse of four years from the time the beneficiary received notice of such repudiation.
Felkner v. Dooly, 28 U. 236; 78 P. 365.
The following actions are governed by this section:
By abutting property owner for damages by a change of street grade.
Webber v. Salt Lake City, 40 U. 221; 120 P. 503.
Against a railroad for injury to adjacent property by jar and emission of smoke and cinders.
O'Neill v. San Pedro, L. A. & S. L. R. Co., 38 U. 475; 114 P. 127.
For a refund of taxes collected on property not subject to taxation.
Neilsen v. Sanpete County, 40 U. 560; 123 P. 334.
To enjoin a special assessment for municipal improvements.
Branting v. Salt Lake City, 47 U. 296; 153 P. 995.

6475. (2884.) Limitations herein apply to state. The limitations prescribed in this chapter shall apply to actions brought in the name of or for the benefit of the state in the same manner as to actions by private parties.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 345.
Limitation, recovery of real property by the state, § 6446.
These statutes are applicable to the agencies of the state.
Pioneer Inv. Co. v. Bd. Ed., 35 U. 1; 99 P. 150.

6476. (2885.) Action against mortgagee in possession. Seven years. An action to redeem a mortgage of real property, with or without an account of rents and profits, may be brought by the mortgagor, or those claiming under him, against the mortgagee in possession, or those claiming under him, unless he or they have continuously maintained an adverse possession of the mortgaged premises for seven years after breach of some condition of the mortgage.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 346*.
Redemption of land sold under foreclosure, § 7235.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 347.

6478. (2887.) No limitation against recovery of deposits. To actions brought to recover money or other property deposited with any bank, banker, trust company, or savings or loan corporation, association, or society, there is no limitation.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 348*.
Suit to recover a fund deposited in the bank for special purpose governed by this section.
Larsen v. U. L. & T. Co., 23 U. 449; 65 P. 208.

CHAPTER 5.

LIMITATIONS—MISCELLANEOUS.

6479. (2888.) Absence suspends running of statute. If when the cause of action accrues against a person he is out of the state, the action may be commenced within the term herein limited after his return to the state; and if after the cause of the action accrues he depart from the state, the time of his absence is not part of the time limited for the commencement of the action.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 351.

Where contracts made between non-residents, statute does not begin to run until defendant comes into the territory.

Burnes v. Crane, 1 U. 179.

Lawson v. Tripp, 34 U. 28; 95 P. 520.

Words "depart" and "return" herein apply as well to non-residents coming into Utah as to residents going abroad and returning, and the words "return to the state" are equivalent to "come within the state."

Id.

The junior lien holder may invoke the statute against the senior mortgagee, and in such action absence from the state of the mortgagor does not toll the statute, though it would be tolled in an action by the mortgagee against the mortgagor.

Graves v. Seifried, 31 U. 203; 87 P. 674.

Boucofski v. Jacobsen, 36 U. 165; 104 P. 117.

A finding that defendant had a home, family, and residence in the state continuously from the time the debt was contracted until two years after the statute of limitation had run, is sufficient evidence of continuous residence in the state to invoke the statute of limitation.

Woolf v. Gray, 48 U. 239; 158 P. 788.

Where, after the cause of action accrued, the defendant departed from the state and was absent for the ensuing six years, with the exception of a period of about four months at one time, the statute is tolled, even though the defendant's wife and family continued to reside in the state during the entire time.

Keith-O'Brien Company v. Snyder, 50 U. —; 169 P. 954.

6480. (2889.) Legal disability prevents running of statute. Removal. If a person entitled to bring an action, other than for the recovery of real property, be at the time the cause of action accrued, either:

1. Within the age of majority; or,
2. Insane; or,
3. Imprisoned on a criminal charge, or in execution under the sentence of a criminal court, for a term less than for life—the time of such disability is not a part of the time limited for the commencement of the action, but such action may be commenced within one year after such disability shall cease.

Cal. C. Civ. P., §§ 352*, 1574*, 1805*, 1806*.

Two years after disability removed, in actions real, § 6463.

Disaffirmance of contract by minor, § 3956.

Disability must exist when right accrues, §§ 6486, 6487.

Actions for recovery of real property, §§ 6462, 6463.

6481. (2890.) Death before expiration of limitation. Effect. If a person entitled to bring an action die before the expiration of the time limited for the commencement thereof, and the cause of action survive, an action may be commenced by his representatives after the expiration of that time, and within one year from his death. If a person against whom an action may be brought die before the expiration of the time limited for the commencement thereof, and the cause of action survive, an action may be commenced against his representatives after the expiration of that time, and within one year after issuing of letters testamentary or of administration.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 353*.

During vacancy in administration, time does not run, § 7690.

Presentment of claim against estate, rejection, limitation of action, §§ 7653-7656

Where a person dies before the statute has run and letters of administration are issued, and suit is started within a year from such date, the action is commenced in time.

Robison v. Gull, 51 U. —; 173 P. —.

6482. (2891.) Death of debtor out of state, statute suspended. If a person against whom a cause of action exists dies without the state, the time which elapses between his death and the expiration of one year after the issuing, within this state, of letters testamentary or letters of administration, is not a part of the time limited for the commencement of an action therefor, against his executor or administrator.

Mont. Civ. P., § 544.

6483. (2892.) War suspends statute as to aliens. When a person is an alien subject, or citizen of a country at war with the United States, the time of the continuance of the war is not part of the period limited for the commencement of the action.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 354.

6484. (2893.) New action after reversal or failure not upon the merits. If any action be commenced within due time, and a judgment thereon for the plaintiff be reversed, or if the plaintiff fail in such action or upon a cause of action otherwise than upon the merits, and the time limited for the same shall have expired, the plaintiff, or, if he die, and the cause of action survive, his representatives, may commence a new action within one year after the reversal or failure.

Kansas (1889) § 4100.

Where the adverse claimant brings an action to quiet title, the running of the statute is not suspended, and upon its dismissal this section is not applicable.

Welner v. Stearns, 40 U. 185; 120 P. 490.

That another action had been commenced, prior to the instant one, to which the bar of the statute of limitations is urged, does not remove the bar if such action was on a different cause or was commenced after the statute had run.

Woolf v. Gray,, 48 U. 239; 158 P. 788.

Where an attorney had prepared two complaints, and by an oversight had filled the wrong complaint, which was not discovered until the case came on for trial, and the action was then dismissed, and the complaint originally intended to be filed, was filed, this section is applicable.

Salisbury v. Poulson, 51 U. —; 172 P. 315.

In the following cases actions were held to have failed "otherwise than on its merits":

Where an action is voluntarily dismissed.

Luke v. Bennion, 36 U. 61; 106 P. 712.

Where a non-suit is granted.

Williams v. Nelson, 45 U. 255; 145 P. 39.

Where a judgment of non-suit is affirmed on appeal, plaintiff has one year from affirmance.

Guthiel v. Gilmer, 27 U. 496; 76 P. 628.

Where, in the justice's court, a motion for judgment on the pleadings was argued and submitted, but not decided, and the action dismissed on the plaintiff's motion.

Quealy v. Sullivan, 42 U. 565; 132 P. 4.

6485. (2894.) Where action stayed by injunction, etc., statute suspended. When the commencement of an action is stayed by injunction, or a statutory prohibition, the time of the continuance of the injunction or prohibition is not part of the time limited for the commencement of the action.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 356.

6486. (2895.) Disability must exist when right of action accrues. No person can avail himself of a disability, unless it existed when his right of action accrued.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 357.

6487. (2896.) Co-existing disability must be removed. When two or more disabilities co-exist at the time the right of action accrues, the limitation does not attach until all are removed.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 358.

6488. (2897.) Action against directors or stockholders. Three years after discovery. This chapter does not affect actions against directors or stockholders of a corporation, to recover a penalty or forfeiture imposed, or to enforce a liability created by law; but such actions must be brought within three years after the discovery, by the aggrieved party, of the facts upon which the penalty or forfeiture attached, or the liability was created.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 359.

Powers and liabilities of directors, § 871, and note.

Kansas (1889) §§ 4101, 4102.

The acknowledgment and new promise is a new contract, notwithstanding it was made before statute had run against original account.

Boukofsky v. Powers, 1 U. 333.

The mere stating of an account between the parties does not take the case out of the statute of limitations, unless such stated account be in writing and signed by the party sought to be charged.

Anthony v. Savage, 2 U. 466.

Where an account is barred, it is still a sufficient consideration for a new promise; and if such new promise be made, the action must be upon such promise, and not upon the original cause of action.

Id.

A new promise in writing made after a cause of action is barred does not revive the former obligation, but creates a new one, which in its turn is subject to a bar by lapse of time as an original promise.

Ireland v. McIntosh, 22 U. 296; 61 P. 901.

Gruenberg v. Buhring, 5 U. 414; 16 P. 486.

A new promise based on a prior agreement, barred by the statute of limitations, is within provisions of § 6823, and must be in writing.

Whitehill v. Lowe, 10 U. 419; 37 P. 589.

For example of sufficient acknowledgment hereunder, see

Thomas v. Glendinning, 13 U. 47; 44 P. 652.

Acknowledgment with promise to pay upon contingency is sufficient. But in action thereon, plaintiff must show that contingency has happened.

Kuhn v. Mount, 13 U. 108; 44 P. 1036.

A payment will not revive an action which was barred when the provision as to payments was enacted.

Francis v. Gisborn, 30 U. 67; 83 P. 571.

Scheduling a claim in bankruptcy does not revive the debt.

O'Donnel v. Parker, 48 U. 578; 160 P. 1192.

Where cross demands exist, they may be offset against each other, and claims which are barred so as to prevent judgment may be allowed as an offset.

Utah C. S. B. v. Fox, 40 U. 205; 120 P. 840.

Where property was pledged under a usurious contract, payments made acceptance thereof and extending time for future payments and promising to keep the property for plaintiff, operates as an extension of time for bringing the action.

Conner v. Smith, 50 U. —; 169 P. 158.

6490. (2899.) Action barred in another state, barred here. Exception. When a cause of action has arisen in another state or territory, or in a foreign country, and by the laws thereof an action thereon cannot there be maintained against a person by reason of the lapse of time, an action thereon shall not be maintained against him in this state, except in favor of one who has been a citizen of this state and who has held the cause of action from the time it accrued.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 361.

Action must be brought within the period prescribed by the local laws of the country where the suit is brought.

Burnes v. Crane, 1 U. 173.

Where a resident plaintiff acquired a cause of action by assignment after it accrued, he does not come within the exception of this section.

Lawson v. Tripp, 34 U. 28; 95 P. 520.

6491. (2900.) Existing rights not affected hereby. This chapter does not extend to actions already commenced, nor to cases where the time prescribed in any existing statute for acquiring a right or barring a remedy has fully run.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 362*.

Through inadvertence, in R. S. 1898, the word "chapter" was inserted in this section instead of a reference to this and the two chapters next preceding.

General repeal not to affect limitations, § 5834.

Effect of increase of limitation on claims, note to § 6466.

6492. (2901.) "Action," how construed. The word "action," as used in this chapter, is to be construed, whenever it is necessary to do so, as including a special proceeding of a civil nature.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 363.

Special proceedings in general, §§ 7374, 7375.

CHAPTER 6.

PARTIES.

6495. (2902.) Action to be in name of real party in interest. Trustee of express trust defined. Every action must be prosecuted in the name of the real party in interest, except that an executor or administrator, a trustee of an express trust, or a person expressly authorized by statute may sue without joining with him the person for whose benefit the action is prosecuted. A person with whom or in whose name a contract is made for the benefit of another is a trustee of an express trust, within the meaning of this section.

Mont. C. Civ. P., § 570.

Corporate and representative capacity may be pleaded generally, § 6610; denial must be under oath, § 6611.

Parties having an interest, etc., may be joined as plaintiffs, § 6506.

Actions by executors, etc., §§ 7718-7720.

Who may sue for wrongful death, §§ 6504, 6505.

Executor who has not qualified not made a party, § 7726.

Substitution of parties, § 6513, and note.

In water suits all parties on the stream may be brought in, § 3485.

Complaint by officer in his official capacity should show same.

Hamilton v. Spiers, 2 U. 225.

An executor has no authority to maintain an action in his own name to have a trust declared in favor of a devisee to real estate, claimed as belonging to such devisee.

Raleigh v. Hulett, 2 U. 122.

In an action against executors de son tort, the complaint must charge them as executors generally.

First N. Bank v. Lewis, 12 U. 84; 41 P. 712.

In an action on a tax collector's bond, for his neglect or refusal to pay over to the treasurer taxes collected, the county court, and not the county, is the proper party plaintiff.

S. L. Co. v. Golding, 2 U. 319.

Suit may be brought in the name of the lessee under a deed giving right to possession, since he is the real party in interest.

Tarpey v. Des. Salt Co., 5 U. 205; 14 P. 338.

Trustees of school district are proper plaintiffs in action on bond of county collector running to "whomsoever it may concern," to recover funds of district in collector's hands.

Walton v. Jones, 7 U. 462; 27 P. 580.

Where a libelous article refers to a family or class of individuals, any one of the family or class may maintain an action therefor.

Fenstermaker v. Tribune Publishing Co., 12 U. 439; 43 P. 112.

Where legal title to homestead is in wife, husband may join as plaintiff, in an action to enjoin sale, where he has an equitable interest.

Anderson v. Davis, 18 U. 200; 55 P. 363.

Wife the proper person to bring action for support of children under decree of divorce, though decree provided that the money was to be paid to a third person for the use of the children.

Hunt v. Monroe, 32 U. 440; 91 P. 269.

Plaintiff, a mortgagee, whose debt exceeded the loss, sued on an insurance policy between defendant (the insurer) and the mortgagor, which provided, "loss, if any, payable to Peck, as his interest may appear." The suit was properly brought by plaintiff alone.

Peck v. Girard F. & M. Ins. Co., 16 U. 121; 51 P. 255.

Actions to enforce the statutory liabilities of the stockholders of an insolvent banking corporation should be brought by the creditors.
McLaughlin v. Kimball, 20 U. 254; 58 P. 685.
Steinke v. Loofbourow, 17 U. 252; 54 P. 120.

Agent is not the real party in interest though he has an interest in the profits.
Tripler v. Mt. Pleasant Bank, 21 U. 313; 61 P. 25.

The beneficiary of a contract may sue on it, although the contract was made without his knowledge and without consideration from him.
Brown v. Markland, 16 U. 360; 52 P. 597.
Thompson v. Cheesman, 15 U. 43; 48 P. 477.
Montgomery v. Rief, 15 U. 495; 50 P. 623.
McKay v. Ward, 20 U. 149; 57 P. 1024.

The trustee of an express trust is the real party in interest, and judgment in suit prosecuted by him is a bar to a suit by those whom he represented.
Com. Nat. Bank v. Paige-Brinton, 45 U. 14; 142 P. 709.

A complaint in an action not brought by the real party in interest cannot be amended by the substitution of the proper party where a wholly new issue is presented by the substitution, or the defendant is prejudiced thereby.
Wilson v. Kiesel, 9 U. 397; 35 P. 488.
Skews v. Dunn, 3 U. 186; 2 P. 64.

That the person making a contract for another makes it in his own name, does not preclude the other from suing thereon, as the real party in interest.
Cole v. Utah Sugar Co., 35 U. 148; 99 P. 681.

Where the plaintiff, in an action to recover on a benefit certificate, alleged that after issuance she became the wife of insured, a denial of the marriage does not raise the question of whether the plaintiff was the real party in interest.
Moran v. Knights of Columbus, 46 U. 397; 151 P. 353.

Where claims against a railroad which were assigned to plaintiff to sue on were assigned to another, who sued the railroad, which settled with the subsequent assignee, taking an indemnity bond holding it harmless against plaintiff's demand, and, thereafter, plaintiff sued the railroad and recovered on the claims not more than the settlement, plaintiff was not entitled to have defendant's appeal dismissed on the ground that any further litigation of the claims by defendant involved merely a question of whether plaintiff or the subsequent assignee was the rightful owner, and hence defendant was no longer the real party in interest.
Broadbent v. D. & R. G. R. Co., 48 U. 598; 160 P. 1185.

ACTION BY ASSIGNEE:

The test of assignability, note to § 6496.
Substitution of parties after assignment pendente lite, § 6513, and note.

Assignment solely for the purpose of suit constitutes the assignee the real party in interest.
Wines v. R. G. W. Ry. Co., 9 U. 228; 33 P. 1042.

Whenever a cause of action is assigned without consideration, the assignor continues to be the real party in interest, the assignee being merely a trustee or collection agent, and the assignment does not deprive a defendant of the privilege to change the place of trial.
Dee v. S. P., L. A. & S. L. , — U. —; 167 P. 246.

Where the owner of a note assigns it, authorizing the assignee to sue thereon and collect it, though the owner retained it in his possession, he cannot maintain an action thereon without a reassignment to him.
Anderson v. Yosemite Mining Company, 9 U. 420; 35 P. 502.

Where plaintiff sues as the assignee of the executors of a certain estate administered in New York, and it appears that under the law of New York the executors had authority to transfer the contract sued on, plaintiff had the right to sue and maintain the suit as such assignee, without regard to any administration of the estate in this state.
Camp v. Simon, 23 U. 56; 63 P. 332.

The objection that the plaintiff is not the real party in interest, when available by way of defense, must be raised by demurrer or answer, or it will be considered to have been waived.
Fritz v. Western U. Tel. Co., 25 U. 263; 71 P. 209.

Assignee of an interest in the cause of action may be made a party plaintiff; defendant will not be heard to object that assignment was without consideration.
Rutan v. Huck, 30 U. 217; 83 P. 833.

The fact that plaintiffs signed acceptances sued upon after the complaint was filed does not render necessary a supplemental complaint showing assignment.
Lowell v. Parkinson, 4 U. 64; 6 P. 58.

The assignee of a part of a claim is the real party in interest; objection to splitting the action is waived if not taken by demurrer or answer.
Nat'l Ins. Co. v. D. & R. G. R. Co., 44 U. 26; 137 P. 653.

6496. (2903.) Assignment of thing in action. Effect. In the case of an assignment of a thing in action, the action by the assignee is without prejudice to any set-off or other defense existing at the time of or before notice of the assignment; but this section does not apply to a negotiable instrument transferred in good faith and upon good consideration, before maturity.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 368.
Action not to abate by death or transfer, § 6513.
Substitution of parties, § 6513, and note.
Party not to be deprived of benefit of cross-demand by death or assignment, § 6578.
Title of indorsee of negotiable instrument transferred before maturity, § 4086.
Assignee a proper party plaintiff, note to § 6495.

The test of the assignability of a chose in action depends upon whether or not it would survive and pass to the personal representative of a decedent; and, under this section and § 6513, the assignee of a claim for money paid by mistake and having an interest therein independent of the assignment may bring an action in his own name.
Lawler v. Jennings, 18 U. 35; 55 P. 60.

6497. (2904.) Married woman as a party. A married woman may sue and be sued in the same manner as if she were unmarried.

Mont. Civ. P., § 572. Ohio, § 4996.
Married woman as a party, §§ 2984-2986.
Judgment against married woman, § 6858.
Property rights, etc., of married woman, Con. art. 22, sec. 2; §§ 2983-2991, and notes.
Wife may be "head of a family" under homestead law, § 2896.

6498. (2905.) Husband and wife sued together. Either may defend. If husband and wife are sued together, the wife may defend for her own right, and if either neglect to defend, the other may defend for both.

Iowa, McClain's An. C. (1888) § 3768*.

6499. (2906.) Deserted husband or wife as a party. When a husband has deserted his family, the wife may prosecute or defend in his name any action which he might have prosecuted or defended, and shall have the same powers and rights therein as he might have, and, under like circumstances, the husband shall have the same right.

Iowa, McClain's An. C. (1888) § 3769*.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 372.
Guardian to appear for ward, §§ 7432, 7877.
Special guardian for insane wife, § 2995.
It is proper to substitute a guardian ad litem for a non-resident general guardian, though action may be maintained by either.
Hyndman v. Stowe, 9 U. 23; 33 P. 227.
This authorizes the appointment of a guardian ad litem before the action is started, and also for a resident and non-resident minor plaintiff, as well as for a resident and non-resident minor defendant.
Schuyler vs. Southern Pacific, 37 U. 581; 109 P. 458.

6501. (2908.) Guardian ad litem, how appointed. When a guardian ad litem is appointed by a court, or the judge thereof, he must be appointed as follows:

1. When the infant is plaintiff, upon the application of the infant, if he be of the age of fourteen years, or if under that age, upon the application of a relative or friend of the infant;

2. When the infant is defendant, upon the application of the infant, if he be of the age of fourteen years and apply within twenty days after the service of the summons, or if under that age or if he neglects so to apply, then upon the application of a relative or friend of the infant, or of any other party to the action;

3. When an infant defendant resides out of this state, the plaintiff, upon motion therefor, shall be entitled to an order designating some suitable person to be guardian ad litem for such infant defendant, unless the defendant, or some one in his behalf, within twenty days after service of notice of such motion shall procure to be appointed a guardian for such infant. Service of such notice may be made upon the general or testamentary guardian of such defendant, if he have one in this state; if not, such notice, together with the summons in the action, shall be served in the manner provided by law for publication of summons upon such infant if over fourteen years of age, or, if under fourteen years of age, by such service on the person with whom such infant resides. The guardian ad litem for such non-resident infant defendant shall have twenty days after his appointment in which to plead to the action;

4. When an insane or incompetent person is a party to an action or proceeding, upon the application of a relative or friend of such insane or incompetent person, or of any other party to the action or proceeding.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 373*. Wisconsin § 2614*.

6502. (2909.) Unmarried female may sue for seduction. An unmarried female, under twenty years of age at the time of her seduction, may prosecute, as plaintiff, an action therefor, and may recover therein such damages, pecuniary or exemplary, as are assessed in her favor.

Cal. C. Civ. P., 374*. Limitation of action, one year, § 6470.

6503. (2910.) Id. When parent or guardian may sue. A father, or, in case of his death or desertion of his family, the mother, may prosecute as plaintiff for the seduction of the daughter, who, at the time of her seduction, is under the age of majority; and the guardian, for the seduction of the ward, who, at the time of her seduction, is under the age of majority, though the daughter or the ward be not living with or in the service of the plaintiff at the time of the seduction, or afterwards, and there be no loss of service.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 375*.

6504. (2911.) Parent or guardian may sue for death of minor child or of ward. A father, or, in case of his death or desertion of his family, the mother, may maintain an action for the death or injury of a minor child, when such injury or death is caused by the wrongful act or neglect of another; and a guardian may maintain an action for the injury or death of his ward, if the ward be of lawful age, when such injury or death is caused by the wrongful act or neglect of another, the action by the guardian to be prosecuted for the benefit of the heirs of the ward. Any such action may be maintained against the person causing the injury or death, or, if such person be employed by another person who is responsible for his conduct, also against such other person. Am'd '01, p. 40.

Elements of damage for loss of child, § 6505, and note.

6505. (2912.) Heirs, etc., may sue for death of adult. When the death of a person not a minor is caused by the wrongful act or neglect of another, his heirs, or his personal representatives for the benefit of his heirs, may maintain an action for damages against the person causing the death, or, if such person be employed by another person who is responsible for his conduct, then also against such other person. If such person have a guardian at the time of his death, only one action can be maintained for the injury to or death of such person, and such action may be brought by either the personal representatives of such adult person deceased for the benefit of his heirs, or by such guardian for the benefit of his heirs as provided in § 6504. In every action under this and the preceding section such damages may be given as under all the circumstances of the case may be just. Am'd '01, p. 40.

Cal. C. Civ. P., 377*.

Amount of recovery not to be limited by law, Con. art. 16, sec. 5.

The fixing of the amount of the damages is a question for the jury alone, note to Con. art. 8, sec. 9.

Persons holding stock in escrow may require the parties interested to interplead and litigate conflicting claims.

Walker v. Bamberger, 17 U. 239; 54 P. 108.

Where the state board of equalization had authority to reapportion railroad property for taxation to a certain county, a demurrer to the complaint, alleging that both counties are attempting to collect taxes, and that plaintiff has refused to pay either county, and that the action was brought to interplead both counties to determine which is entitled to the tax, is properly sustained.

Union Pac. R. R. Co. v. Summit County, 48 U. 540; 161 P. 463.

Where a litigant tenders the money claimed by two other parties into court, no judgment in his favor for the money can be legally entered.

McGuire v. State Bank of Tremonton, 49 U. 381; 164 P. 494.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 387.

In proceedings to forfeit to the U. S. certain real estate whose proceeds are directed to be applied to the use of the common schools of Utah territory; held, that such common schools have not such an interest in the property as to enable them to intervene.

U. S. v. The Church, 6 U. 9; 21 P. 503, 524.

Where it appears from a complaint in intervention that the intervenor and those whom he represents have a common or general interest in the questions involved and either gain or lose by the direct operation and effect of the judgment, and the number of persons who would be joined as intervenors is so large that it would be impracticable to bring them before the court; held, that the intervenor had a standing in court under §§ 6510, 6518.

West Point Irr. Co. v. Moroni & Mt. Pleasant Irr. Co., 14 U. 127; 46 P. 762.

Where a garnishee answers that he is not indebted to the defendant, the defendant may intervene in the action to establish that the garnishee is indebted and to establish his exemption.

Dayton v. Free, 49 U. 221. 162 P. 614.

A receiver of an insolvent corporation, or other persons prejudiced, may intervene in an attachment suit against the corporation and move to set aside an order of sale.

Newell v. Third Dist. Court, 37 U. 418; 108 P. 1121.

A judgment creditor, who had an execution which was served on a bank holding funds of the debtor and returned unsatisfied, could intervene in an action by the debtor against the bank to recover such money.

Wheelwright v. Nat'l. Cop. Bank, 42 U. 579; 133 P. 132.

Where property is attached which claimant claimed, he may intervene in action in which the attachment was issued and contest the title to the attached property.

Houston R. Est. Inv. Co. v. Heckler (Yerrick, Intervenor), 44 U. 64; 138 P. 1159.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 389.

When new party necessary on counterclaim, procedure, § 6580.

One who is necessary to complete determination may be made a party, § 6507.

The court may order necessary parties to be brought in.

Houtz v. Gisborn, 1 U. 173.

New parties brought in by cross-complaint.

Chalmers v. Trent, 11 U. 88; 39 P. 488.

In controversy between contractor and subcontractor, involving questions upon which also depend rights of contractor against owner, this fact is not sufficient to justify making owner a party.

Garland v. McMartin, 8 U. 150; 30 P. 365.

Persons claiming adverse water rights, or who have diverted water from the same stream, may be made parties to a suit to determine their several rights and priorities, even though they reside without the county wherein the suit was commenced.
Des. Irr. Co. v. McIntyre, 16 U. 398; 52 P. 628.

Where a complete determination of a controversy requires presence of persons not already parties, this section prescribes the procedure.
Houser v. Smith, 19 U. 150; 56 P. 683.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 388.
Joinder parties severally liable, § 6511, and note.
Action against joint debtors; service on part, § 6558.
Liability of special partners, §§ 4351, 4357.
When the suit is against two or more defendants by their individual names, not against them by a common name in which they are transacting business, the service of summons on one or more will not give jurisdiction to enter judgment against those not served.
Blyth & Fargo Co. v. Swenson, 15 U. 345; 49 P. 1027.
A judgment against a firm in its firm name is not binding upon the separate property of the individual members.
Hamner v. Ballantyne, 16 U. 436; 52 P. 770.
Where, in the caption of the complaint, the defendants are named individually and described as doing business under the firm name given, though it is alleged in the body of the complaint that they were copartners, the action is against them individually and not against the partnership.
Guthiel v. Gilmer, 27 U. 496; 76 P. 628.
Blyth Co. v. Swenson, 15 U. 345; 49 P. 1027.
A voluntary association cannot be sued in its name as such, but can be brought into court only in the name of its members, or, if they are too numerous, a few of them may be made defendants to represent the interests of all.
Pearson v. Anderburg, 28 U. 495; 80 P. 307.
Where a defendant is sued as a corporation, its corporate existence must be proved, though the answer alleges it to be a joint stock company.
White v. Shipley, 48 U. 496; 160 P. 441.

CHAPTER 7.

PLACE OF TRIAL

6525. (2928.) Action affecting realty tried where subject situated. Actions for the following causes must be tried in the county in which the subject of the action, or some part thereof, is situated, subject to the power of the court to change the place of trial, as provided in this code:

1. For the recovery of real property, or of an estate or interest therein, or for the determination in any form of such right or interest, and for injuries to real property;
2. For the partition of real property;
3. For the foreclosure of all liens and mortgages on real property.

Where the real property is situated partly in one county and partly in another, the plaintiff may select either of the counties, and the county so selected is the proper county for the trial of such action.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 392. Cal. Sup. (1889) p. 356.
Actions to be tried in county in which they arise, Con. art. 8, sec. 5.
Decisions on place of trial, note to Con. art. 8, sec. 5.

6526. (2929.) Action tried where cause arose. Actions for the following causes shall be tried in the county where the cause or some part thereof, arose, subject to the like power of the court to change the place of trial:

1. For a recovery of a fine, penalty, or forfeiture imposed by statute, except that when it is imposed for an offense committed on a lake, river, or other stream of water, situated in two or more counties, the action may be brought in any county bordering on such lake, river, or stream, opposite to the place where the offense was committed;
2. Against a public officer, or person especially appointed to execute his duties, for an act done by him in virtue of his office, or against a person who, by his command or in his aid, does anything touching the duties of such officer.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 393*.
Decisions on place of trial, note to Con. art. 8, sec. 5.

6527. (2930.) Action against a county, where tried. An action against a county may be commenced and tried in such county, unless such action is brought by a county, in which case it may be commenced and tried in any county not a party thereto.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 394*. Cal. Sup. (1893) p. 949.

6528. (2931.) Action on written contract, where tried. When the defendant has contracted in writing to perform an obligation in a particular county of the state and resides in another county, an action on such contract obligation may be commenced and tried in the county where such obligation is to be performed or in which the defendant resides.

Decisions on place of trial, note to Con. art. 8, sec. 5.

An action to foreclose a chattel mortgage may be started in a county where the note is payable though the property is in, and defendants reside in, another county.

Emerson, Brantingham Imp. Co. v. Giles, 52 —; 173 P. —.

6529. (2931x.) Transitory causes. Residence of corporations. All transitory causes of action arising without this state shall, if suit shall be brought thereon in this state, be brought and tried in the county where any defendant in such action resides; and if any such defendant is a corporation, any county in which such corporation has an office or place of business shall be deemed the county in which such corporation resides within the meaning of this section. '01, p. 16; '03, p. 76; '17, p. 437.

Waiver of objection to venue, note to Con. art. 8, sec. 5, and note to § 2934.

A corporation having its principal office located in Salt Lake City and carrying on its general business there is a resident of Salt Lake City within the meaning of the statute.

Crookston v. Centennial-Eureka Mining Co., 13 U. 117; 44 P. 714.

Transitory action arising without the state to be tried in county of defendant's residence, under this section, unless he waives the right.

Farnsworth v. U. P. Coal Co., 32 U. 112; 89 P. 74.

Stone v. U. P. Ry. Co., 32 U. 185; 89 P. 715, 723.

The right of action for wrongful death provided by R. S. Wyoming is transitory, and may be maintained in the courts of another state having jurisdiction of such matters, and having acquired jurisdiction of the parties.

Utah S. & T. Co. v. Diamond C. & C. Co., 26 U. 299; 73 P. 524.

In re Lowham's Estate, 30 U. 436; 85 P. 445.

This section does not go to jurisdiction of subject matter, but merely confers a privilege on a defendant, which it waives by general demurrer, though one of the grounds thereof is that the court has not jurisdiction of the subject matter.

Farnsworth v. U. P. Coal Co., 32 U. 112; 89 P. 74.

Stone v. U. P. Ry. Co., 32 U. 185; 89 P. 715, 723.

Where cattle enter upon land and eat wheat in stacks, the action therefor is transitory.

Allen v. Allen, 47 U. 145; 151 P. 982.

6530. (2931x1.) Id. In favor of residents. All transitory causes of action arising without this state in favor of residents of this state shall, if suit is brought thereon in this state, be brought and tried in the county where such resident resides, or in the county where the principal defendant resides, or if the principal defendant is a corporation, then in the county where such resident resides or in the county where such corporation has its principal place of business, subject, however, to a change of venue as provided by law; provided, however, that this and the next preceding section shall in no way affect any causes in action now pending in any court of this state.

'01, p. 16; '03, p. 76.

This section confers a personal privilege on a defendant corporation, and it is waived unless a seasonable objection or motion is made.

Dee v. S. P., L. A. & S. L. R. Co., 50 U. —; 167 P. 246

Whenever a cause of action is assigned without consideration, the assignor continues to be the real party in interest, the assignee being merely a trustee or collection agent, and the cause of action arises in favor of the assignor, and such assignment does not deprive a defendant in proper proceedings of the privilege to change the place of trial.

Id.

Where defendant corporation moved for change of venue without negativing the fact that plaintiff was a bona fide purchaser of the cause of action, and thereafter it developed on cross-examination of witness that the plaintiff was not a bona fide purchaser, but defendant did not renew its motion, assigning specifically the newly discovered ground, defendant waived its privilege of change of the place of trial.

Id.

ject, however, to the power of the court to change the place of trial as provided by law. Re-enacted '13, p. 165; am'd '17, p. 437.

Secs. 6531 and 6532 having been held unconstitutional, in Konold v. R. G. W. Ry. Co., 16 U. 151, 51 P. 250, were thereafter repealed by Laws of '01, p. 117; the case being subsequently overruled, the sections were re-enacted, Laws '13, p. 165, § 6531 amended, Laws '17, p. 437.

If an action is commenced in the wrong county the remedy is by following this section, not by a demurrer, on the ground that the court is without jurisdiction.

Emerson, Brantingham Imp. Co. v. Giles, 52 U. —; 174 P. 181.

6532. (2933.) Right to change of venue waived if not demanded. If the county in which the action is commenced is not the proper county for the trial thereof, the action may, notwithstanding, be tried therein unless the defendant, at the time he appears and answers or demurs, files an affidavit of merits, and demands, in writing, that the trial be had in the proper county. Re-enacted '13, p. 165.

6533. (2934.) Change of venue. Grounds. The court may, on motion, change the place of trial in the following cases:

1. When the county designated in the complaint is not the proper county;

2. When there is a reason to believe that an impartial trial cannot be had therein;

3. When the convenience of witnesses and the ends of justice would be promoted by the change;

4. When from any cause the judge is disqualified from acting; provided, however, that the court in its discretion may either grant the motion to change the place of trial for the cause stated in this subdivision, or may call in another district judge, not disqualified, to try the case;

5. When all the parties to an action, by stipulation, or by consent in open court, entered in the minutes, may agree that the place of trial may be changed to any county in the state. Thereupon the court must order the change as agreed upon. Am'd '01, p. 17; '13, p. 90.

Mont. Civ. C., §§ 615, 619*. Cal. C. Civ. P., § 397*.

Stipulation to try case in another county, § 1680.

Disqualification of judges, § 1795; Con. art. 8, sec. 13.

Actions to be tried in county where they arise, Con. art. 8, sec. 5.

Change of venue in cases provided by law, Con. art. 8, sec. 5, and note.

Affidavit of party resisting motion for change of venue on ground of inconvenience of witnesses should show names and residence of witnesses, etc.

Crookston v. Centennial-Eureka Mining Co., 13 U. 117; 44 P. 714.

Motion for change of venue must be made before trial.

Anderson v. Mam. M. Co., 26 U. 357; 73 P. 412.

Right to change of venue waived by failure to demand it.

Snyder v. Pike, 30 U. 102; 83 P. 692.

Obligors on a bond who were sued in a county other than that of their residence waived the right to remove by entering demurrer to jurisdiction.

Continental Life Ins. Co. v. Jones, 31 U. 403; 88 P. 229.

An objection to venue under § 6529 is waived by a general demurrer, though one of the grounds thereof is that the court has not jurisdiction of the subject matter.

Farnsworth v. U. P. Coal Co., 32 U. 112; 89 P. 74.

Stone v. U. P. Ry. Co., 32 U. 185; 89 P. 715, 723.

6534. (2935.) Id. Court to which transferred. If any action or proceeding is commenced or pending in a court, and the court orders the place of trial to be changed, it must be transferred for trial to a court the parties may agree upon, by stipulation in writing, or made in open court and entered in the minutes, or if they do not so agree, then to the nearest court where the like objection or cause for making the order does not exist.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 398*.

Stipulation to try case at another place, § 1680.

Order changing venue by court of its own motion is presumed to have been for good cause, and confers jurisdiction on court to which transferred.

Ex parte Whitmore, 9 U. 441; 35 P. 521.

Elliot v. Whitmore, 10 U. 246; 37 P. 461.

Order changing venue is intermediate, not final.

Nounnan v. Aspinwall, 1 U. 140.

6535. (2936.) Id. Transfer of papers. Costs. Effect. When an order is made transferring an action or proceeding for trial, the clerk of the court must transmit the pleadings and papers therein to the clerk of the court to which it is transferred. The costs and fees thereof and of filing the papers anew must be paid by the party at whose instance the order was made; provided, that when said order is made for the reason that the cause was commenced in the wrong county, and this appears affirmatively upon the face of the complaint, said costs of transfer and filing the papers anew shall be paid by the plaintiff in the action within ten days after the making of such order or said cause dismissed for want of jurisdiction. The court to which an action or proceeding is transferred shall have and exercise the like jurisdiction as though it had been originally commenced therein.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 399*.

6536. (2937.) Id. Certification of judgment affecting real estate. When an action or proceeding affecting the title to or possession of real estate has been brought in or transferred to a court for a county other than the county in which the real estate, or some portion of it, is situated, the clerk of such court must, after final judgment therein, certify, under his seal of office, and transmit to the corresponding court of the county in which the real estate affected by the action is situated a copy of the judgment. The clerk receiving such copy must file, docket, and record the judgment in the records of the court, briefly designating it as a judgment transferred from ..... court (naming the proper court).

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 400.

Execution on such judgment, § 6912.

Judgment docketed becomes a lien, § 6868.

CHAPTER 8.

MANNER OF COMMENCING ACTION.

6538. (2938.) Action, how commenced. A civil action shall be commenced by the filing of a complaint with the clerk of the court in which the action is brought or by the service of a summons.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 405*.

Col. Mills' An. C. (1896) § 32*; N. Dak. (1895) § 5246*; Iowa, McClain's An. C. (1888) § 3804*; N. Y. Civ. P., § 416*; Wash. (1896) § 4127*; Wis. § 2629*.

Action deemed pending for what time, § 7220.

Summons must issue within three months, § 6542.

Jurisdiction attaches from time of service of summons or the filing of the complaint, § 6559.

The commencement of a suit must be taken to be the filing of the complaint where summons was not issued within one year, but defendants voluntarily answered without objection.

Needham v. Salt Lake City, 7 U. 319; 26 P. 920.

The complaint in replevin, alleging in the present tense ownership and right of possession, is sufficient, and allows proof thereof as of the time the action was started though the filing of the complaint is a few days after the verification.

James v. Jensen, 50 U. —; 167 P. 827.

Jones v. West Pub. Co., 51 U. —; 174 P. —.

6539. (2939.) Form of summons. When service by publication. The summons in a civil action shall be substantially in the following form:

In the District Court of ..... County, State of Utah.

....., plaintiff, vs. ....., defendant. Summons.

The state of Utah to the said defendant:

You are hereby summoned to appear within twenty days after service of this summons upon you, if served within the county in which this action is brought; otherwise within thirty days after service, and defend the above entitled action; and in case of your failure so to do, judgment will be rendered against you according to the demand of the complaint.

(Signed by).....

Plaintiff (or plaintiff's attorney).

P. O. Address:.....

If the complaint be on file at the time of service of the summons, the words "which has been filed with the clerk of said court," shall be added, following the word "complaint;" otherwise the words, "which, within ten days after service of this summons upon you, will be filed with the clerk of said court," shall be added, following the word "complaint." When service of the summons is made by publication, the summons shall also contain a brief statement of the object of the action, as, for example: "This action is brought to recover a judgment—dissolving the marriage contract (or bonds of matrimony) heretofore existing between you and the plaintiff;" or, "quieting plaintiff's title to the land described in said complaint;" or, "foreclosing plaintiff's mortgage upon the land (or other property) described in said complaint," as the case may be. 6540. (2940.) Who may serve summons. Return. Time valid. The summons, together with a copy of the complaint, if any, may be served by the sheriff of the county where the defendant may be found, or by any other person over twenty-one years of age and not a party to the action. The officer or other person serving a summons shall make due return thereof, within five days after service, to the person whose name is subscribed thereto. The person subscribing the summons may, at his option, by indorsement thereon, fix a time for the service thereof, which shall not exceed three months, and the service shall then be made accordingly.

Service of summons by telegraph or telephone, § 7032.

6541. (2941.) Separate summons for defendants in different counties. Where there are several defendants residing in different counties, a separate summons may be issued to each county for the service of the defendants residing therein.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 406*.
One copy of complaint deposited for defendants in each county, § 6546.

6542. (2942.) Summons must issue within three months. If an action be commenced by the filing of a complaint with the clerk, summons must issue thereon within three months from the date of filing. If the summons be returned without being served upon any or all of the defendants, an alias summons may be issued and served at any time within one year after the filing of the complaint. Am'd '07, p. 28.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 408*. See Sup. (1889) p. 358.
Sec. 3203, C. L. 1888, did not require the service of summons within the year, but the summons was required to be issued within a year from the filing of the complaint.
Culmer v. Caine, 22 U. 216; 61 P. 1008.
The time for serving a cross-complaint not being fixed by statute, it should be served within a reasonable time.
Id.

6543. (2943.) Appearance of one defendant; service upon others. If the action be brought upon a joint contract of two or more defendants, and one of them has appeared within the year, the other or others may be served or appear at any time before trial.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 406*.

6544. (2944.) Time of service to be indorsed on copy. Any officer or other person authorized to serve a summons, and who shall serve the same, shall, at the time of the service thereof, indorse upon the copy or copies of such summons which he shall deliver to the defendant or defendants in such action the date upon which the same was so served, and sign his name thereto, and add, if an officer, his official title.

Wis., S. & B. An. S. (1889) § 2635a*.

6545. (2945.) Appearance or written acknowledgment deemed service. Refusal of copy. The voluntary appearance of a defendant, or an acknowledgment on the back of a summons or other written acknowledgment of service of summons upon him, shall be deemed valid and sufficient service. When the defendant shall refuse to receive a copy of the summons, the offer of the officer or other person to deliver a copy thereof shall be deemed sufficient service of such summons, provided the person serving the same shall state that it is a summons.

Keyser v. Pollock, 20 U. 371; 59 P. 87.
Houtz, v. Gisborn, 1 U. 173.

6546. (2946.) Complaint to be filed within ten days. Copy. Return. Fees. Within ten days after service of the summons, the complaint, if not previously filed, together with the summons and proof of service thereof, must be filed in the office of the clerk of the court in which the action is brought. At the same time, one copy of the complaint shall be deposited with the clerk for the defendants in each county in which the summons shall have been served, unless a copy thereof was served with the summons in each of such counties. Otherwise the action shall be dismissed on motion of any defendant. Whenever any person other than a sheriff shall serve a summons, no fee shall be allowed therefor, either for traveling in making such service or for serving such summons.

Col. Mills' An. C. (1896) § 32*.

Where a complaint, a copy not having been served, is filed within ten days after the summons was served, and a return on the summons by error showed it was served in September instead of October, and by a mistake of the attorney's stenographer a copy of the complaint was not filed, when defendant makes a motion to dismiss because "the face of the record" shows the complaint was not filed within ten days after service of the summons and a copy of the complaint not filed; held the court should have sustained plaintiff's application to amend the return and file a copy of the complaint, and the court erred in dismissing the action.

West Mt. Lime & Stone Co., v. Danley, 38 U. 218; 111 P. 647.

Plaintiff's failure to deposit a copy of complaint for the defendants is an irregularity, and not jurisdictional.

Id.

The filing of the summons and proof of service within ten days is jurisdictional. It cannot be filed afterwards.

Reese v. District Court, 51 U. —; 174 P. —.

6547. (2947.) Objection to summons or service, how taken. Objections to the summons, or the service thereof, or proof of service thereof, may be taken by motion on behalf of the defendant, particularly specifying the objections, accompanied by the certificate of counsel that in his opinion the objection is well taken; after the filing and serving of such motion and certificate, the time for pleading shall be suspended until such objection is passed upon by the court.

Failure to make personal service, leave to answer, § 6619.

6548. (2948.) Summons, how served. The summons must be served by delivering a copy thereof as follows:

1. If the defendant is an incorporated city, to the mayor or recorder; if an incorporated town, to the president or clerk of the board of trustees;

2. If the defendant is a county, to a county commissioner or to the county clerk of such county;

3. If the defendant is a school district, to a trustee thereof; if the board of education of a city, to the president or clerk of such board;

4. If the defendant is an irrigation district, to the president, superintendent, or water master;

5. If the defendant is a domestic corporation, to the president or head of the corporation, secretary, treasurer, cashier, or managing agent thereof. If no such person can be found within the state, then upon a director of the corporation found within the state. If the defendant is a foreign corporation, or non-resident joint stock company or association, to the president, secretary, treasurer, or other officer thereof, or to the person designated by such corporation, company, or association, as one upon whom process may be served. If no such person can be found, then upon any clerk, superintendent, general agent, cashier, principal director, ticket agent, station keeper, managing agent, or other agent having the management, direction, or control of any property of such corporation, company, or association. If none of the persons named in this subdivision can be found in the county in which such action is commenced, then service may be made as provided herein upon any such persons in any county in this state. If there be none of such persons in the state of Utah, and the defendant has, or advertises, or holds itself out as having, an office or place of business in this state, or does business in the state, then upon the person doing such business or in charge of such office or place of business;

6. If the defendant is a minor under the age of fourteen years, to such minor and also to his father, mother, or guardian; or, if there is none within the state, then to any person having the care and control of such minor, or with whom he resides, or in whose service he is employed;

7. If the defendant is a person judicially declared to be of unsound mind or incapable of conducting his own affairs, and for whom a guardian has been appointed, to such guardian;

8. In all other cases, to the defendant personally, or by leaving such copy at his usual place of abode with some suitable person of at least the age of fourteen years. Am'd '99, p. 74; '05, p. 126.

Corporation must have agent upon whom process may be served, Con. art. 12, sec. 9; §§ 915, 917.

Where a foreign corporation has an agent residing in this territory, service of summons can be had on such agent, and after the lapse of the time within which defendant is required to answer, the plaintiff is entitled to judgment by default.

Walker Bros. v. Continental Ins. Co., 2 U. 331.

Where foreign corporation has no designated agent, service upon its attorney having some of its property in charge is valid.

Saunders v. Sioux City Nursery, 6 U. 431; 24 P. 532.

Valid service of summons cannot be made upon one temporarily in the state who is entrusted by a foreign corporation with adjustment of an account with a local company.

Honerine M. & M. Co. v. Tallerday Pipe Co., 31 U. 326; 88 P. 9.

Where the return of the officer does not disclose that a copy was served on the defendant, it is held that there is no service.

Bristol v. Brent, 36 U. 108; 103 P. 1076.

Where none of the officers of a foreign railroad corporation are within the state, and there is no designated agent; held that service on an agent is sufficient where the agent has no assistant, sells no tickets, and issues no bills of lading, but obtains from prospective shippers "routing orders."

Bristol v. Brent, 38 U. 58; 110 P. 336.

The presumption that a man's place of abode is where his family lives is one of fact, and may be overcome.

Grant v. Lawrence, 37 U. 450; 108 P. 931.

6549. (2949.) Id. When service made by publication. When the person on whom the service of a summons is to be made resides out of the state, or has departed from the state, or cannot, after due diligence, be found within the state, or conceals himself to avoid the service of the summons; or when the defendant is a foreign corporation, having no managing or business agent, cashier, secretary, or other officer within the state, and an affidavit stating any of these facts is filed with the clerk of the court in which the action is brought, and such affidavit also states that a cause of action exists against the defendant in respect to whom the service of the summons is to be made, or that he or it is a necessary or proper party to the action, the clerk of the court in which the action is commenced shall cause the service of the summons to be made by publication thereof.

Personal service necessary to personal judgment, note to § 1667.

Party may designate paper for publication, § 7028.

Affidavit should not merely follow the language of the statute, but should show the probatory facts relied on to show the ultimate facts, and service based on an affidavit following the language of the statutes may be set aside on a direct attack.

Liebhardt v. Lawrence, 40 U. 243; 120 P. 215.

6550. (2950.) Id. Order. Mailing copies. Personal service, when complete. The order of the clerk must direct the publication to be made five times, once in each week for five successive weeks, in a newspaper to be designated by him as most likely to give notice to the person to be served. In case of publication, where the residence of a non-resident or absent defendant is known, the clerk must forthwith deposit a copy of the summons and complaint in the postoffice, directed to the person to be served at his place of residence. When publication is ordered, personal service of a copy of the summons and complaint out of the state is equivalent to publication and deposit in the postoffice. The service of summons is complete on the expiration of the thirtieth day after the first publication; or in case of personal service out of the state, on the tenth day after actual service.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 413*.

Judgment after service by publication, § 6844.

Order not specifying the time that publication should continue, nor directing mailing copy of summons and complaint to defendant, fails to confer jurisdiction.

Park v. Higbee, 6 U. 414; 24 P. 524.

In order to grant an order to publish summons and excuse mailing copy thereof to defendant, the clerk should be satisfied from the affidavit that the defendant is a non-resident, and his place of residence is unknown.

Liebhardt v. Lawrence, 40 U. 243; 120 P. 215.

Slight evidence tending to show that the plaintiff securing publication of summons had knowledge, or such information as would, on reasonable inquiry, lead to knowledge, of the place of residence of the defendant, will justify setting aside the judgment, where no summons or complaint was mailed to the defendant.

Id.

"Is known," means to the plaintiff, and the affidavit should state the residence of the defendant.

Id.

In a divorce action on ground of permanent insanity, the summons must be personally served in this state.

Schafer v. Ritchie, 49 U. 111; 162 P. 618.

Col. Mills' An C. (1896) § 44*.
Proceeding where true name of party unknown, § 6621.
Unknown defendants in suit for partition, § 7264.
The allegations must be made in the complaint, and a statement of them in the affidavit is insufficient.
Lawrence v. Murphy, 45 U. 572; 147 P. 903.
An allegation that the interest of the unknown heirs is that derived as heirs of certain named persons and is such an interest as would descend to them on the death of the named person, is insufficient.
Id.

6552. (2952.) Proof of service, how made. Proof of the service of the summons and of the complaint, if any, accompanying the same, shall be as follows:

1. If served by the sheriff, his certificate thereof, showing place, time, and manner of service;

2. If by any other person, his affidavit thereof, showing place, time, and manner of service, that he knew the person served to be the defendant mentioned in the summons, and left with as well as delivered to him a copy; and if the defendant was not personally served, he shall state in such affidavit, when, where, and with whom such copy was left;

3. The written admission of the defendant;

4. In case of publication, the affidavit of the publisher, or printer, or his foreman or principal clerk, showing the same, and specifying the date of the first and last publications; and an affidavit of a deposit of a copy of the summons and complaint in the postoffice as prescribed by law, and the order therefor, if such deposit shall have been required, by the person making the same.

6553. (2953.) Lis pendens. Form. Effect of. In an action affecting the title or the right of possession of real property, the plaintiff at the time of filing the complaint, and the defendant at the time of filing his answer, when affirmative relief is claimed in such answer, or at any time afterward, may file for record, with the recorder of the county in which the property or some part thereof is situated, a notice of the pendency of the action, containing the names of the parties, the object of the action or defense, and a description of the property in that county affected thereby. From the time of filing such notice for record only shall a purchaser or incumbrancer of the property affected thereby be deemed to have constructive notice of the pendency of the action, and only of its pendency against parties designated by their real names.

This section does not in any way change the rule of law relating to actual notice of the pendency of the action, nor the effect of such actual notice upon parties dealing with or obtaining possession or title to land in litigation.
Whittaker v. Greenwood, 17 U. 33; 53 P. 736.
The object of notice of lis pendens is to keep the res within the power of the court until final decree.
Dupee v. Salt Lake V. L. & T. Co., 20 U. 103; 57 P. 845.
Where real property was levied upon under an execution as the property of a judgment debtor, the filing of a lis pendens notice of a suit by the grantor of the judgment debtor one day before the execution sale, imparted notice to the purchasers at such execution sale of plaintiff's claims.

Larson v. Gasberg, 43 U. 203; 134 P. 885.

Query: Does a lis pendens constitute an incumbrance?
Utah S. & T. Co. v. Stout, 36 U. 206; 102 P. 865.

6558. (2954.) Action against joint debtors; service on part. When the action is against two or more defendants jointly or severally liable on a contract, and the summons is served on one or more, but not on all of them, the plaintiff may proceed against the defendants served in the same manner as if they were the only defendants.

CHAPTER 9.

PLEADINGS.

6562. (2956.) Defined. The pleadings are the formal allegations by the parties of their respective claims and defenses for the judgment of the court.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 420.
Parties known as plaintiff and defendant, § 6443.
Title not changed on appeal, § 6993.
The court has the power to expunge from its record scandalous matter which raises no issue and serves no purpose except to injure the reputation of the party at whom it is aimed.
Morrison v. Snow, 26 U. 247; 72 P. 924.
Pleadings are the judicial means of investing the court with jurisdiction of the subject matter, and the court can judicially consider only what is presented thereby.
In re Evans, 42 U. 282; 130 P. 217.

6563. (2957.) Form and sufficiency, how determined. The forms of pleading in civil actions and the rules by which the sufficiency of the pleadings is to be determined, are those prescribed in this code.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 421.
General rules of pleading, §§ 6596-6623.
But one form of civil action, § 6442.
Law and equity may be administered in same action, Con. art. 8, sec. 19.
Rules of equity prevail over common law, § 5839.
Objections which may be raised for the first time in appellate court, note to § 6994.

6564. (2958.) Pleadings of plaintiff. Of defendant. The only pleadings allowed on the part of the plaintiff are:

1. The complaint;
2. The demurrer to the answer;
3. The reply.

And on the part of the defendant:

1. The demurrer to the complaint;
2. The answer;
3. The demurrer to reply.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 422*.
The court possesses the inherent power to direct a judgment on the pleading where the complaint does not state a cause of action, or where the answer does not interpose a defense.
Hancock v. Luke, 46 U. 26; 148 P. 452.

CHAPTER 10.

COMPLAINT.

6565. (2959.) Plaintiff's first pleading. The first pleading on the part of the plaintiff is the complaint.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 425.

6566. (2960.) Complaint, what must contain. The complaint must contain:

1. The title of the action, the name of the court and county in which the action is brought, and the names of the parties to the action;

2. A statement of the facts constituting the cause of action, in ordinary and concise language;

3. A demand of the relief which the plaintiff claims. If the recovery of money or damages be demanded, the amount thereof must be stated.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 426.
Corporate and representative capacity pleaded generally, § 6610, must be denied under oath, § 6611.
On default, relief cannot exceed demand, §§ 6844, 6857.
Supplemental complaint, § 6608.
Relief which may be granted in other than default cases, § 6857.
Pleadings liberally construed, §§ 6596, 6622.
Sufficiency of complaint as against demurrer, note to § 6568.

Description of property in pleading, § 6599.
Sufficiency of complaint may be raised for the first time in appellate court, note to § 6994.
Performance of contract may be pleaded generally, § 6601.

If facts stated show plaintiff entitled to relief, it is sufficient.

The common count, "for goods sold," is defective under the code, where it does not state a delivery or a promise to pay.
Kilpatrick-Koch Dry Goods Co. v. Box, 13 U. 494; 45 P. 629.

Where a party relies upon title by prescription, he must allege the facts showing the existence of the right, averring that the existence of the right was under a claim of right, was peaceable, without interruption, and open, notorious, and exclusive.
Larsen v. Onesite, 21 U. 38; 59 P. 234.
Coleman v. Hines, 24 U. 360; 67 P. 1122.
Description of property in complaint, § 2989, and note.

An allegation, in a complaint to recover certain money, that defendant received the money from plaintiff in trust for certain purposes was not an allegation of fact, but a mere conclusion of the pleader.
Francis v. Gisborn, 30 U. 67; 83 P. 571.

In action to recover personal property complaint must allege that plaintiff is the owner or entitled to the possession at the time of the commencement of the action.
Manti Bank v. Peterson, 30 U. 475; 86 P. 414.

Complaint held defective in action for damages for wrongful attachment.
Cahoon v. Hoggan, 31 U. 74; 86 P. 763, and 87 P. 164.

The prayer is no part of the statement of the facts required to constitute a cause of action and no part of the complaint, except as it may be looked to in aid of an ambiguous complaint.
Wheatley v. O. S. L. R. Co., 49 U. 105; 162 P. 86.

Where interest is a legal consequence of a demand without stipulation, it may be recovered, though not claimed in the pleadings, and interest is allowed on a tort, where personal property is destroyed, from the date of the destruction.
Id.

When a complaint asks for the foreclosure of a mechanic's lien and sale of the property, and no demand is made for personal judgment before the case is finally submitted, if the lien fails it is not error to refuse a personal judgment.
Volker v. Vance, 36 U. 348; 103 P. 970.

6567. (2961.) Joinder of causes of action. The plaintiff may unite in the same complaint several causes of action, legal or equitable, or both, where they all arise out of:

1. The same transaction, or transactions connected with the same subject of action; or,

2. Contract, express or implied; or,

3. Injuries, with or without force, to person and property, or either; or,

4. Injuries to character; or,

5. Claims to recover real property with or without damages for the withholding thereof, and the rents and profits of the same, or waste committed thereon; or,

6. Claims to recover personal property with or without damages for the withholding thereof; or,

7. Claims against a trustee by virtue of a contract, or by operation of law.

But the causes of action so united must all belong to one of these classes, and, except in actions for the foreclosure of mortgages, must affect all the parties to the action, and not require different places of trial, and must be separately stated.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 427*; Kan., § 4166*; Wis., § 2647.
But one form of civil action under the code, § 6442; but the distinction as to causes of action remains, note to § 6442.
Law and equity in same action, Con. art. 8, sec. 19.
Consolidation of actions, § 7219.
Rules of equity prevail over rules of law, § 5839.
Objection on ground of misjoinder or nonjoinder waived, note to § 6573.
Plaintiff may recover on one of two counts in a complaint, though not entitled thereto on the other.
Firman v. Bateman, 2 U. 268.

Count for specific performance and one for money on contract improperly joined in same complaint. Above section construed. (Potter v. Hussey, 1 U. 249; Houtz v. Gisborn, 1 U. 173; and Folsom v. McLaughlin, 1 U. 178, cited, approved, and distinguished.)

Johnston v. Meaghr, 14 U. 426; 47 P. 861.

Where a complaint contains two counts, one on an open account and the other on an account stated for the same cause of action, a motion to compel election between the counts was properly denied, the rule being that when a plaintiff has two or more grounds on which he may have a single cause of action, and there is some uncertainty as to which he will be able to establish, he may set forth his claim in different counts so as to include every ground he may have for recovery. (Distinguishing Anthony v. Savage, 2 U. 466.)

Causes of action, for defendant's sheep trespassing on plaintiff's land and for defendant's sheep infecting plaintiff's sheep with a contagious disease, may be joined.

Thomas v. Blythe, 44 U. 1; 137 P. 396.

Plaintiff alleged he performed labor as a miner on defendant's claim and performed other work thereon as foreman and manager, and that the labor performed and services rendered, and moneys paid out at defendant's request, amounted to $1172; held, this constituted a single cause of action.

Nelson v. Henrichsen, 31 U. 191; 87 P. 267.

A defendant in a counterclaim denied plaintiff's title, and alleged ownership and right of possession in himself, and afterwards amended alleging fee in another, but still relied on right of possession in himself; held, there was but one cause of action relied upon, and no ground to sustain motion for election.

Conner v. Raddon, 16 U. 418; 52 P. 764.

In an action quieting title, plaintiff may also have canceled a fraudulent judgment against him affecting the real estate.

Doyle v. West Temple T. Co., 43 U. 277; 135 P. 103.

A complaint alleging that the defendant had caused large quantities of mud and debris to flow into the plaintiff's fish ponds over a considerable period of time, the wrongful acts being so numerous, continuous, and blended together as to constitute a single wrong, cannot be attacked for commingling different causes of action.

Rees v. Qualtrough, 48 U. 233; 156 P. 955.

A complaint asking for an injunction against the sale of stock for assessment, and that previous assessments be declared null and void because of illegality, that the officers be required to make a full and complete accounting of all assessments on stocks of the corporation, and that a note and other contracts executed in favor of the officers be canceled, improperly joins causes of action in favor of the corporation against its officers, and causes of action in favor of plaintiff against the corporation

Blake v. Boston Dev. Co., 50 U. —; 167 P. 672.

Each assessment was a completed transaction, and, if wrongful, constituted distinct and separate causes of action, and they should be stated separately.

CHAPTER 11.

DEMURRER TO COMPLAINT.

6568. (2962.) Grounds of demurrer to complaint. The defendant may demur to the complaint within the time required in the summons to answer, when it appears upon the face thereof, either:

1. That the court has no jurisdiction of the person of the defendant, or the subject of the action; or,

2. That the plaintiff has not legal capacity to sue; or,

3. That there is another action pending between the same parties for the same cause; or.

4. That there is a defect or misjoinder of parties, plaintiff or defendant; or,

5. That several causes of action have been improperly united; or,

6. That the complaint does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action; or,

7. That the complaint is ambiguous, unintelligible, or uncertain.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 430.

Time to answer or demur may be extended, §§ 6619, 7267.

Objections to complaint which may be raised for the first time in appellate court, note to § 6954.

Objections not taken by demurrer or answer deemed waived, § 6573, and note.

Defects as to parties waived if not taken, § 6573, and note.

Joinder of parties, plaintiff and defendant, §§ 6495-6520, and notes.

Joinder of causes of action, § 6567, and note.
Complaints, sufficient and insufficient, note to § 6566.
Objections not appearing on face of complaint must be taken by answer, § 6572.
Sham and irrelevant matter, etc., may be stricken on motion, § 6597.
Demurrer must specify grounds, § 6569.

Joint demurrer of two defendants should be overruled if complaint states a cause of action against either.
Walker v. Popper, 2 U. 96.
Smith v. Clark, 37 U. 117; 106 P. 653.

Where the promise or agreement is alleged generally, the court will not assume, upon demurrer, that it was not in writing.
Kilpatrick-Koch D. G. Co. v. Box, 13 U. 494; 45 P. 629.

As against a general demurrer, a complaint stating a cause of action in general terms is sufficient.
IXL Furn. Co. v. Berets, 32 U. 454; 91 P. 279.
Haig v. Nephi Irr. Co., 16 U. 421; 52 P. 765.
Linck v. S. L. City, 6 U. 109; 21 P. 459.
Potter v. Hussey, 1 U. 249.

A demurrer admits all facts properly pleaded.
Reams v. Taylor, 31 U. 288; 87 P. 1089.
State ex rel. v. Board Ed. S. L. City, 21 U. 401; 60 P. 1013.
Gammon v. Bunnell, 22 U. 421; 64 P. 958.
Thomas v. Blythe, 41 U. 1; 137 P. 396.

So also an objection to the introduction of any evidence because complaint does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action.
Salt Lake County v. Clinton, 39 U. 462; 117 P. 1075.
Orpheus v. Clayton Inv. Co., 41 U. 605; 128 P. 575.

A complaint which permits proof of such facts and inferences as would withstand a motion for non-suit is not vulnerable to general demurrer.
Eddington v. Union C. Co., 42 U. 274; 130 P. 243.

Formal and technical objections are waived unless made in due time.
Child v. Gillis Constr. Co., 42 U. 120; 129 P. 356.

Defendant, by filing a disclaimer, waives its right to a ruling on a demurrer.
S. L. City v. S. L. Inv. Co., 43 U. 181; 134 P. 603.

Where a complaint against several defendants states a cause of action against some, it is good against a joint demurrer by all of them.
Smith v. Clark, 37 U. 117; 106 P. 653.

A general demurrer should always be overruled unless the complaint clearly fails to state some essential fact or states some act of plaintiff preventing recovery.
Eddington v. Union P. C. Co., 42 U. 274; 130 P. 243.

A general demurrer reaches only defects of substance.
Arnold v. Pope, 37 U. 204; 108 P. 351.
Wheelwright v. Nat. Cop. Bank, 42 U. 579; 133 P. 132.

In an action involving the date of the expiration of a lease, the landlord's demurrer to tenant's complaint raises a question of law, and they are bound by the fair construction of the lease in fixing the term granted.
IXL Furn. Co. v. Berets, 32 U. 454; 91 P. 279.

A complaint containing items of damage presented to the city council under § 816, and other items, is not vulnerable to a general demurrer.
Sweet v. S. L. City, 43 U. 306; 134 P. 1167.

A complaint charging conspiracy, and setting forth a number of acts in furtherance thereof, states but one cause of action.
Purcell v. Hickman, 50 U. —; 170 P. 784.

That several causes of action are contained in one statement in one cause of action is not a ground of demurrer, but requires a motion under § 6566.
Kurtz v. Ogden Canyon S. Co., 37 U. 313; 108 P. 14.

If a complaint will sustain a judgment, a general demurrer should be overruled.
Rasmussen v. Sevier Valley C. Co., 40 U. 371; 121 P. 741.

While a plaintiff suing both at law and in equity at the same time for the same matter may be required to elect which suit he will proceed with, the court must not make the election for him.
Dorsett v. Morse, 36 U. 362; 103 P. 969.

The election to stand upon a demurrer is equivalent to a refusal to plead over, and to abide by the final result, even to judgment.
Gammon v. Bunnell, 22 U. 421; 64 P. 958.

Complaint for services and money paid is not demurrable for failure to state each item more specifically, defendant's remedy being by motion for bill of particulars, under § 6598.
Nelson v. Henrichsen, 31 U. 191; 87 P. 267.

Where a complaint shows on its face that the right to maintain the action is not in plaintiff, but in another, such defect may be reached by demurrer.
Hunt v. Monroe, 32 U. 428; 91 P. 269.

WANT OF JURISDICTION:

Jurisdiction of the person and the cause, notes to § 1667, and to Con. art. 8, sec. 5.

A demurrer for want of jurisdiction of the person raises only the question as to whether defendant is such a person as can be subjected to process and jurisdiction of the court. A court having jurisdiction of the subject matter of a suit acquires jurisdiction of a defendant either by his voluntary appearance or by process served on him.
Continental L. Ins. Co. v. Jones, 31 U. 403; 88 P. 229.
Sanipoli v. P. V. Coal Co., 31 U. 114; 86 P. 865.

A general demurrer is a general appearance, though one of the grounds of demurrer is that the court has no jurisdiction of the subject matter.
Farnsworth v. U. P. Coal Co., 31 U. 112; 89 P. 74.
Stone v. U. P. Ry. Co., 31 U. 185; 89 P. 715, 723.

WANT OF LEGAL CAPACITY TO SUE:

Objection that a corporation has not legal capacity to sue cannot be taken by demurrer.
Crane Bros. Mfg. Co. v. Reed, 3 U. 506; 24 P. 1056.

Want of legal capacity to sue, as used in this section, declaring the same to be a ground of demurrer, means as a general rule a want of capacity to appear in court and maintain an action, regardless of in whom is vested the right of action.
Hunt v. Monroe, 32 U. 428; 91 P. 269.

If the objection that the plaintiff has not legal capacity to sue is not raised by demurrer or in the answer, it is waived.
Tooele Meat & Storage Co. v. Eite Candy Co., 50 U. —; 168 P. 427.

Every natural person of legal age has legal capacity to sue.
Kurtz v. Ogden Canyon S. Co., 37 U. 313; 108 P. 14.

ANOTHER ACTION PENDING:

Pendency of former action is a bar.
Davis v. Flagstaff S. M. Co., 2 U. 74.

Judgment in favor of assignee is a bar to another action thereon by assignor.
Anderson v. Yosemite M. Co., 9 U. 420; 35 P. 502.

Where, in such case, first action was against only one of several parties liable thereon, the others may still avail themselves of it as a bar to action brought by assignor.
Id.

AMBIGUOUS, UNINTELLIGIBLE, ETC.:

Allegations on information and belief do not make complaint demurrable.
Thackara v. Reid, 1 U. 238.

Surplusage in a complaint is no ground of demurrer.
Campbell v. Taylor, 3 U. 325; 3 P. 445.

Demurrer that complaint is "multifarious and improperly confounds two distinct causes of action not belonging to the same class," and that the complaint is "ambiguous, unintelligible, and uncertain," is not specific.
Owen v. Oviatt, 4 U. 95; 6 P. 527.

STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS:

Statute of limitations, how pleaded, § 6602, and note.

Defense of statute of limitations may be taken by demurrer.
Burnes v. Crane, 1 U. 179.

Id. Where defendant relies upon statute of limitations in his demurrer, he should refer to the specific section of the statute relied upon.
Thomas v. Glendinning, 13 U. 47; 44 P. 652.
Fullerton v. Bailey, 17 U. 85; 53 P. 1020.
Nelden-Judson Co. v. Com'l Nat. Bank, 27 U. 59; 74 P. 195.

6469. (2963.) Demurrer must specify grounds. Answer at same time. The demurrer must distinctly specify the grounds upon which any of the objections to the complaint are taken. Unless it do so it may be disregarded. It may be taken to the whole complaint or to any of the causes of action stated therein, or the defendant may demur and answer at the same time.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 431.
May demur and answer at same time, § 6579.
Demurrer not waived by filing answer or reply at same time, § 6618.

6570. (2964.) Amended complaint to be filed and served; answer; default. If the complaint is amended, a copy of the amendments must be filed, or the court may, in its discretion, require the complaint, as amended, to be filed, and a copy of the amendments, or amended complaint, must be served upon the defendants affected thereby, or upon their attorneys if they have appeared by attorney. The defendant must answer the amendment or the complaint as amended, within ten days after service thereof, or such other time as the court may direct, and judgment by default may be entered, upon failure to answer, as in other cases.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 432*.
All pleadings subsequent to complaint to be filed and served, § 6609.
Amendment generally, §§ 6618, 6619.
Time to amend runs from service of notice, except, § 6623.
Service of notices and papers, §§ 7024-7032.
A verification of an unverified complaint is such an amendment as to require service of the amended complaint.
Thero v. Franklin, 48 U. 587; 160 P. 1188.

6571. (2965.) Pleading over not a waiver of demurrer. The pleading over to any action after the overruling of a demurrer shall not be deemed or considered a waiver of the demurrer.

May demur and answer at the same time, § 6579.
This section was enacted in 1894, and the decisions noted hereunder are all of earlier date.
Exception to ruling on demurrer is not waived by answering either at the same time or subsequently.
Wines v. Stevens, 1 U. 305.
Henderson v. Turngren, 9 U. 432; 35 P. 495.
Contra: Young v. Martin, 3 U. 484; 24 P. 909.
But where defendants' demurrer, filed months after their answer, is overruled, whereupon they go to trial on the answer, which states no objection to the complaint, exception to the overruling of demurrer is waived.
Spanish Fork v. Hopper, 7 U. 235; 26 P. 293.
Where a defendant demurs and afterward answers, but before trial withdraws the answer and allows judgment to be entered, he waives the demurrer.
Evans v. Jones, 10 U. 182; 37 P. 262.

6572. (2966.) Other objections taken by answer. When any of the matters enumerated in § 6568 do not appear upon the face of the complaint, the objection may be taken by answer.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 433.
When the misjoinder of defendants does not appear upon the face of the complaint, the objection may be taken advantage of by answer under the provisions of this section.
Preshaw v. Dee, 6 U. 360; 23 P. 763.
In an action for conversion of personal property by one claiming a half interest in the property, a defense that defendants owned the other half, and had taken possession for a legitimate purpose, could not be availed of on demurrer to the complaint, but should be pleaded in the answer.
Boley v. Allred, 25 U. 402; 71 P. 869.
Where the fact of another suit pending does not appear on the face of the complaint, such abatement must be set up in the answer.
Vance v. Heath, 42 U. 148; 129 P. 365.

6573. (2967.) Objections to complaint not taken deemed waived. If no objection be taken, either by demurrer or answer, the defendant must be deemed to have waived the same, excepting only the objection to the jurisdiction of the court, and the objection that the complaint does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 434.
Allegations not denied taken as true, § 6606.
Objections to counterclaim not taken deemed waived, § 6589.
Generally speaking, objections to pleadings, proceedings, etc., can not be raised for the first time in the appellate court, note to § 6994.
Questions of variance cannot be raised for first time in appellate court, note to § 6615.
On appeal, the presumptions are in favor of the judgment, note to § 6994.
Application to amend must be made in court below, note to § 6619.
Waiver of right to judgment on the pleadings by failure to demand it before trial, note to § 6575.
The defect in a complaint in failing to allege notice of protest and non-payment, where the answer alleges want of notice of protest and non-payment, is cured by verdict.
Harkness v. McClain, 8 U. 52; 29 P. 964.
Objection that defenses are inconsistent, if not taken by demurrer or motion, is waived.
Conway v. Clinton, 1 U. 215.
An objection on account of nonjoinder of proper parties plaintiff is waived unless raised by demurrer or answer.
Spencer v. Van Cott, 2 U. 337.
Jungk v. Reed, 9 U. 49; 33 P. 236.
An objection on account of misjoinder of parties defendant is waived unless raised by demurrer or answer.
Stevens Imp. Co. v. South Ogden L. B. & I. Co., 20 U. 267; 58 P. 843.
Fields v. Cobbey, 22 U. 415; 62 P. 1020.
Wenner v. Smith, 4 U. 238; 9 P. 293.
Henderson v. Turngren, 9 U. 432; 35 P. 495.
Objections that plaintiff is not the real party in interest, when available by way of defense, must be raised by demurrer or answer, or it will be considered to have been waived.
Fritz v. W. U. Tel. Co., 25 U. 263; 71 P. 209.

Objection to sufficiency of complaint may be raised for the first time in the appellate court, but in such case the defect may have been cured by verdict; the presumptions are in its favor. (Overruling Holt v. Pearson, 12 U. 63; 41 P. 560.)

Mangum v. Bullion-B. M. Co., 15 U. 534; 50 P. 834.

Voorhees v. Manti, 13 U. 435; 45 P. 564.

See McAllister v. Kuhn, 1 U. 273; affirmed 96 U. S. 87.

Where a complaint states a cause of action in general terms, objections that the allegations are indefinite, or uncertain, or ambiguous must be taken advantage of by proper pleading before judgment, or they will be waived.

Maynard v. Locomotive E. M. L. & A. Assn., 16 U. 145; 51 P. 259.

Mangum v. Bullion-B. M. Co., 15 U. 534; 50 P. 834.

Larson v. Utah L. & T. Co., 23 U. 449; 65 P. 208.

Objections to sufficiency of pleadings cannot be raised for first time on appeal, and will not be considered in determining motion for nonsuit.

Jennings v. Pratt, 19 U. 129; 56 P. 951.

Firman v. Bateman, 2 U. 268.

Wimmer v. Simon, 9 U. 378; 35 P. 507.

Where the allegations of fraud are general, but no objections are made thereto in the trial court, the defect is waived and cannot be raised on appeal.

Larson v. Utah L. & T. Co., 23 U. 449; 65 P. 208.

An omission in the complaint of the technical words rendering a note negotiable in form is supplied by the incorporation in the answer of the note itself, containing the words "or order," and defendant is bound thereby.

Johnson v. Hibbard, 27 U. 342; 75 P. 737.

A defendant waives objection that cause of action is split unless he raises the point by answer or demurrer.

Natl. U. Fire Ins. Co. v. D. & R. G. R. Co., 44 U. 26; 137 P. 653.

Unless the objection that the action should be brought by the personal representative, instead of surviving partner, is made by demurrer or answer, it is waived.

Cobb v. Hartenstein, 47 U. 174; 152 P. 424.

The objection that there is a defect of parties can only be taken advantage of by demurrer or answer.

Cole v. Utah Sugar Co., 35 U. 148; 99 P. 681.

An unverified disclaimer, when acted on, is effective and conclusive.

S. L. City v. S. L. Inv. Co., 43 U. 181; 134 P. 603.

Failure to raise a corporate plaintiff's incapacity to sue by answer or demurrer waives such objection.

Tooele M. & S. Co. v. Eite Candy Co., 50 U. —; 168 P. 427.

CHAPTER 12.

ANSWER.

6575. (2968.) What answer must contain. Denial. Counterclaim. The answer of the defendant must contain:

1. A general or specific denial of each material allegation of the complaint controverted by the defendant, or of any knowledge or information thereof sufficient to form a belief, or a specific admission or denial of some of the allegations of the complaint, and also a general denial of all the allegations of the complaint not specifically admitted or denied in the answer;

2. A statement of any new matter constituting a defense or counterclaim.

Mont. Civ. P., § 690; N. Y. Civ. P., § 500*; Wis., S. & B. An S., § 2655; Cal C. Civ. P., 437*.

Defendant may set forth in his answer as many defenses and counterclaims as he may have, § 6579.

Where answer controverts in part, plaintiff may take judgment by default for undisputed portion, § 6845.

Extension of time to answer, §§ 6619, 7023.

Supplemental answer, § 6608.

Verification, §§ 6593-6595.

Material allegations of complaint taken as true if not controverted, § 6606.

Time to answer after demurrer overruled runs from service of notice, exception, § 6623.

Time to answer complaint, § 6539.

Defendant interposing counterclaim entitled to provisional remedies, § 6773.

Defendant entitled to affirmative relief must demand it, § 6582.

Judgment for defendant on counterclaim, § 6863.

Order to make counterclaim a separate action, § 6580.

Reply to new matter in answer, §§ 6590, 6606.

New matter in answer, to which a reply is not required, deemed controverted, § 6606.

Statute of limitations, how pleaded, § 6902, and note.

What objections to complaint are deemed waived if not taken by demurrer or answer, § 6573, and notes.

Objections to complaint which may be raised for the first time in appellate court, note to § 6994.

Statement of a legal conclusion does not raise an issue.

Lyman v. Martin, 2 U. 136.

Voorhees v. Fisher, 9 U. 303; 34 P. 64.

See Hussey v. Smith, 1 U. 241.

It is sufficient if the denials meet and traverse the allegations of the complaint.

Morrison v. O'Reilly, 2 U. 165.

Where the complaint alleged the wrongful and unlawful conversion of certain property, and the answer merely denied that such property was "wrongfully or unlawfully" converted; held, an admission of the conversion.

Podlech v. Phelan, 13 U. 333; 44 P. 838.

Peterson v. Bean, 22 U. 43; 61 P. 213.

Rock Springs Coal Co. v. Salt Lake Sanitarium Ass'n, 7 U. 158; 25 P. 742.

Conway v. Clinton, 1 U. 215.

The denial on information and belief of the authority of an administrator or an executor is insufficient.

Thompson v. Skeen, 14 U. 209; 46 P. 1103.

"Defendant is informed and believes that the time of payment of said note was extended," etc., is not a sufficient allegation of the fact of extension.

Baskin v. Godbe, 1 U. 28.

An answer denying any material allegation of the complaint raises an issue, and a demurrer on the ground that it is insufficient to constitute a defense was properly overruled.

Haslam v. Haslam, 19 U. 1; 56 P. 243.

In an action for conversion, an answer which refers to the "property mentioned and described in the second paragraph in plaintiff's second cause of action," is sufficiently definite.

Spalding v. Allred, 23 U. 354; 64 P. 1100.

Defects in complaint may be supplied by allegations in the answer.

Johnson v. Hibbard, 27 U. 342; 75 P. 737.

The answer does not correct such defect unless it explicitly states the facts.
Chesney v. Chesney, 33 U. 503; 94 P. 989.
A denial of "the material allegations" of a complaint is sufficient.
Toone v. O'Neill, 40 U. 265; 121 P. 10.
An admission in an action for trespass by sheep and cattle that the defendant was the owner of certain animals, sheep and cattle, is not admission that he owned the trespassing animals, especially when the answer denies all the allegations in the complaint.
Surbaugh v. Butterfield, 44 U. 446; 140 P. 757.
Although an answer contains a prayer for general relief only, the defendant is entitled to such specific relief as the evidence and pleadings authorize.
Wheelwright v. Roman, — U. —; 165 P. 513.
Where a demurrer was sutained to defendant's answer and an amended answer was filed, the original answer went out of the record, and improper refusal of the motion to strike the action was not prejudicial.
Metz v. Jackson, 43 U. 496; 136 P. 784.
An answer in a suit on a note and to foreclose a mortgage on realty, denying all the allegations of the complaint and affirmatively alleging the execution of a note to plaintiff, but denying that it was in form or legal effect as set out in the complaint, did not put in issue and sufficiently state a defense to all the material allegations of the complaint.
Brewer v. Romney, 50 U. —; 167 P. 366.
A defendant is bound by the allegations of the answer admitting that plaintiff's land abutted upon a public street and can not contend that the street was never dedicated or established.
Hague v. Juab County M. & E. Co., 37 U. 290; 107 P. 249.
Where a plaintiff sues to recover an agreed price for merchandise sold the defendant, an answer denying he is in any manner indebted, is a mere conclusion.
Heath v. White, 3 U. 474; 24 P. 762.
An answer, by referring to pleadings in a former action, made such pleadings a part of it.
Holt v. Nielson, 37 U. 566; 109 P. 470.
A defendant is bound by the allegation in his answer, and cannot thereafter contend for something different.
Busby v. Century G. M. Co., 27 U. 231; 75 P. 725.
Where suit is brought against administrator before the time for filing claims has run, without a claim having been filed, and the defendant's answer does not raise this point, he cannot after the time for filing the claim has expired, amend the answer and take advantage of the failure to file the claim.
Clayton v. Dinwoodey, 33 U. 251; 93 p. 723.
An allegation of the answer in an action on a fire insurance policy "that the defendant issued to the plaintiff its policy of insurance," admits the unconditional delivery and acceptance of the policy.
DeMichele v. London & L. F. Ins. Co., 40 U. 312; 120 P. 846.
Matter alleged by way of cross-complaint is a part of the answer.
Haslam v. Haslam, 19 U. 1; 56 P. 243.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES PLEADED:

Fraud must be pleaded, note to § 6566.
Quieting title for defendants, note to § 6576.
Estoppel in pais relied on as defense in ejectment must be pleaded.
Poynter v. Chipman, 8 U. 442; 32 P. 690.
Duke v. Griffith, 9 U. 469; 35 P. 512.
While it is a general rule that estoppel by a former judgment must be pleaded, the rule does not apply to cases when no opportunity to plead the estoppel is given.
R. G. W. Ry. Co. v. Telluride P. T. Co., 23 U. 22; 63 P. 995.
Estoppel must be pleaded, to be available.
Reynolds v. Pascoe, 24 U. 219; 66 P. 1064.
Homberger v. Alexander, 11 U. 363; 40 P. 260.
Knudsen v. Omanson, 10 U. 124; 37 P. 250.
That the agreement was not in writing is a matter of defense.
Kilpatrick K. Co. v. Box, 13 U. 492; 45 P. 629.
The plea of the statute of frauds is a personal privilege, which a party may waive; and when the action is on a contract, admitted by defendant, he must interpose the special plea of the statute of frauds to make it available in his defense.
Abba v. Smyth, 211 U. 109; 59 P. 756.
Steed v. Harvey, 18 U. 367; 54 P. 1011.
Wilson v. Sullivan, 17 U. 341; 53 P. 994.
Lauer v. Rich Merc. Inst., 8 U. 305; 31 P. 397.
Contributory negligence should be affirmatively pleaded; but need not be where plaintiff's evidence shows it.
Bunnell v. Rio Grande W. Ry. Co., 13 U. 314; 44 P. 927.
Anderson v. Ogden Union Ry. Co., 8 U. 128; 30 P. 305.
Assumed risk is available only when pleaded.
Faulkner v. Mammoth M. Co., 23 U. 437; 66 P. 799.
In justifying seizure under attachment of property in hands of and claimed by a third person, the proceedings should be averred, since no intendment of regularity can be indulged.
Jones v. McQueen, 13 U. 178; 45 P. 202.
In an action on a contract, a defense in mitigation of damages cannot be shown under a simple denial; it must be specially pleaded.
Reed v. Union Life Ins. Co., 21 U. 295; 61 P. 21.
Loofbourow v. Hicks, 24 U. 49; 66 P. 603.
One seeking to defend against a defectively executed chattel mortgage on the ground that he is a bona fide purchaser of the property must plead such defense.
Deseret Nat. Bank v. Kidman, 25 U. 379; 71 P. 873.
In an action against a telegraph company for failure to transmit a message, a defense that the claim for damages was not presented within sixty days was not available without being specially pleaded in the court below.
Brooks v. Western U. Tel. Co., 26 U. 147; 72 P. 499.
Where a defendant in replevin desires damages for the taking or detention of property, he must set up his claim by a statement of the facts, and a mere clause in the prayer asking for damages is insufficient.
Shafer v. Russell, 28 U. 444; 79 P. 559.
Where answer alleges grounds for affirmative relief without setting out a formal counterclaim, a judgment for affirmative relief to defendant is not erroneous, where such pleading was not objected to.
Perego v. Dodge, 9 U. 3; 33 P. 221; affirmed 163 U. S. 160.
Haslam v. Haslam, 19 U. 1; 56 P. 243.
North Pt. Irr. Co. v. Little, 14 U. 42; 46 P. 268.
An equitable counterclaim may be set up in a legal action.
Westminster Inv. Co. v. McCurtain, 39 U. 544; 118 P. 564.

JUDGMENT ON THE PLEADINGS:

If answer is insufficient, plaintiff is entitled to judgment on the pleadings.
Smith v. Faust, 1 U. 90.
Dickert v. Weise, 2 U. 350.
Plaintiff is not entitled to judgment on the pleadings where material allegation in the complaint is denied.
Reich v. Rebellion S. M. Co., 3 U. 254; 2 P. 703.
Right to judgment on pleadings by reason of insufficient verification or defective denials in answer is waived unless demanded before entering upon the trial.
Smith v. Faust, 1 U. 90.
Firman v. Bateman, 2 U. 268.
Where allegations of complaint are not denied, judgment will be rendered on the pleadings.
Kevser v. Pollock, 20 U. 371; 59 P. 87.
Had plaintiff asked for it, he would have been entitled to judgment on the pleadings in this case.
Busby v. Century M. Co., 27 U. 231; 75 P. 725.
Where no reply was filed to an equitable counterclaim, judgment thereon should have been granted on motion.
Durham v. Travis, 25 U. 65; 69 P. 468.
Where the answer presents a material issue, the court may not, without a hearing and finding on the issue, enter judgment.
Town of Mapleton v. Kelley, 39 U. 252; 117 P. 52.

6576. (2969.) Counterclaim defined. The counterclaim mentioned in the next preceding section must be one existing in favor of a defendant and against a plaintiff, between whom a several judgment might be had in the action, and arising out of one of the following causes of action:

1. A cause of action arising out of the transaction set forth in the complaint as the foundation of the plaintiff's claim, or connected with the subject of the action;

2. In an action arising upon contract, any other cause of action arising also upon contract, and existing at the commencement of the action.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 438.

Failure to demur or reply admits counterclaim, § 6591.

Improvements allowed as counterclaim, § 7250.

Counterclaim waived if not set up, § 6577.

Defendant entitled to affirmative relief under counterclaim must demand it, § 6582.

Under § 3231, C. L. 1888, and until the revision of 1898, the pleading of a defendant seeking affirmative relief against a party was termed a "cross-complaint" and this term is used in the sense of "counterclaim" in many of the decisions noted hereunder.

Defendant cannot set up a defense in tort, when the tort does not grow out of the cause of action sued on.

Zelle v. Moritz, 1 U. 283.

Allegations of cross-complaint on covenant of warranty in suit to foreclose purchase money mortgage set out and held insufficient.

Kelley v. Kershaw, 5 U. 417; 16 P. 488.

Cannot counterclaim tort against tort, (Approving Marks v. Thompson, 7 U. 421; 27 P. 6.)

Smith v. Alford, 31 U. 346; 88 P. 16.

Condemnation of property for public use cannot be had by way of counterclaim in action brought to restrain a trespass and for damages.

Peterson v. Bean, 22 U. 43; 61 P. 213.

Counterclaim should state clearly and concisely the facts constituting the cause of action, in order that the relief prayed for, if granted, may be decreed in accordance therewith.

Center Creek Irr. Co. v. Lindsay, 21 U. 192; 60 P. 559.

Averments of cross-complaint charging fraud in action of ejectment charging fraud, set out and held sufficient.

Burlock v. Shupe, 5 U. 428; 17 P. 19.

Fraud must be pleaded, note to § 2960.

In an action for damages for trespassing upon a mining claim, a cross-complaint filed by one of the defendants asking to have its title to the Eureka lode quieted held sufficient.

Bullion B. & Champion M. Co. v. Eureka Hill Mining Co., 5 U. 3; 11 P. 515.

Where, in ejectment, defendant files cross-complaint claiming title, and asking affirmative relief, his title may be quieted against plaintiff.

Ayers v. Jack, 7 U. 249; 26 P. 300.

Kahn v. Old. Ted. M. Co., 2 U. 174.

Steele v. Boley, 7 U. 64; 24 P. 755.

Perego v. Dodge, 9 U. 3; 33 P. 221; affirmed 163 U. S. 160.

The suing out and serving of an injunction prohibiting defendant from exercising a right under the contract sued on by plaintiff is a breach of the contract by plaintiff sufficient to form a basis for a counterclaim by defendant.

Driver v. S. L. Gas Co., 22 U. 143; 61 P. 733.

If plaintiff seeks an accounting of rents, issues, and profits of personal property not sold with the realty, and prays for general relief, defendant has a right to file his counterclaim which grew out of the transactions relating to the same property.

Standard S. Laundry v. Dole, 22 U. 311; 61 P. 1103.

Where the answer, to which no reply was filed, alleged that a mutual mistake had been made in the contract and prayed to have it corrected, it constituted a counterclaim and not merely matter alleged in defense, and under § 2981 judgment thereon should have been granted on motion.

Dunham v. Travis, 25 U. 65; 69 P. 468.

It is immaterial what a pleading is called; its character will be determined by the court.

Dunham v. Travis, 25 U. 65; 69 P. 468.

North Pt. Irr. Co. v. Little, 14 U. 42; 46 P. 268.

Perego v. Dodge, 9 U. 3; 33 P. 221; affirmed 163 U. S. 160.

Cross-complaint is a part of the answer.

Haslam v. Haslam, 19 U. 1; 56 P. 243.

Burden of proof is on defendant filing cross-complaint to prove his affirmative allegations.

Stevens v. Higginbotham, 6 U. 215; 21 P. 946.

Where for personal injury only general damages are sought, defendant cannot recoup for hospital fees, etc., expended by it.

Brophy v. Ogden R. Trans. Co., 46 U. 426; 151 P. 49.

An equitable counterclaim may be set up in a legal action.

Westminster Inv. Co. v. McCurtain, 39 U. 544; 118 P. 564.

Where the ground of a special demurrer to a counterclaim is in the nature of abatement merely, the court, on reversing the judgment sustaining it, will not enter or direct a judgment for defendant on the merits of the counterclaim, unless it clearly appears that the demurrer was frivolous, or that no defense to the counterclaim could in any event be made.

Peale v. Clark, 50 U. —; 166 P. 981.

Failure to set up a counterclaim in a former action bars the claim.

Jeremy Fuel & Grain Co. v. Mellen, 50 U. —; 165 P. 791.

6577. (2970.) Effect of failure to set up counterclaim. If the defendant omit to set up a counterclaim in the cases mentioned in the first subdivision of the next preceding section, neither he nor his assignee can afterward maintain action against the plaintiff therefor.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 439.

Defendant entitled to affirmative judgment must demand it in his answer, § 6582.

Failure to demur or reply admits counterclaim, §§ 6589, 6591.

6578. (2971.) Cross-demands compensated as far as equal. When cross-demands have existed between persons under such circumstances that, if one had brought an action against the other, a counterclaim could have been set up, the two demands shall be deemed compensated so far as they equal each other, and neither can be deprived of the benefit thereof by the assignment or death of the other.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 440.

Action by assignee not to prejudice set-off or defense, § 6496.

Claims barred by statute of limitations, in so far as recovering judgment thereon, may be set off against an adversary's claim.

Utah Com. & Svgs. Bk. v. Fox, 40 U. 205; 120 P. 840.

6579. (2972.) Several defenses allowed. Answer and demurrer. The defendant may set forth by answer as many defenses and counterclaims, legal or equitable, or both, as he may have. They must be separately stated, and the several defenses must refer to the causes of action which they are intended to answer in a manner by which they may be intelligibly distinguished. The defendant may also answer one or more of the several causes of action stated in the complaint and demur to the residue, or may demur and answer at the same time.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 441*.
Demurrer not waived by filing answer or reply at same time, § 6618.
Joinder of causes of action, § 6567,, and notes.
May demur and answer at same time, § 6569.
Affirmative defenses must be pleaded, note to § 6575.
Election between counts not required, note to § 6566.
Equitable as well as legal defenses may be set up in ejectment.
Kahn v. Old Telegraph Mining Co., 2 U. 174.
Steele v. Boley, 7 U. 64; 24 P. 755.
Kimball v. McIntyre, 3 U. 77; 1 P. 167.
A defendant may plead separately as many defenses as he may have, provided, when the answer is verified, they are not contradictory. But a party may not take one of two contradictory positions, and, after being defeated in one, choose the other.
Detroit H. & L. Co. v. Stevens, 20 U. 241; 58 P. 193.
Burnham v. Call, 2 U. 433.
Murphy v. Carter, 1 U. 17.
Under this section, where defendant, through mistake, elects to proceed to trial upon an issue not raised by the pleadings and under which no recovery could be had, he is not estopped from setting up by amended pleadings any defense which he may have had and upon which he has never had a trial.
Detroit H. & L. Co. v. Stevens, 20 U. 241; 58 P. 193.

6580. (2973.) Proceeding when new party necessary to decision on counterclaim. When a new party is necessary to a final decision upon a counterclaim, the court may either permit such party to be made, or direct that it be stricken out of the answer and made the subject of a separate action.

Iowa, McClain's An. C., § 3868.
Kansas (1889), § 4180*.
New parties may be brought in, § 6519.

6581. (2974.) Cross-complaint against co-defendants. When a defendant has a cause of action affecting the subject matter of the action against a co-defendant, he may, in the same action, file a cross-complaint against the co-defendant. The defendant thereto may be served as in other cases, and defense thereto shall be made in the time and manner prescribed in regard to the original complaint, and with the same right of obtaining provisional remedies applicable to the case. The prosecution of the cross-complaint shall not delay the trial of the original action unless the court otherwise directs.

Iowa, McClain's An. C., § 3869*.
Cal. C. Civ. P., § 442*.
Court may determine right of parties on each side as between themselves, § 6854.
Under § 3231, C. L. 1888, and until the revision of 1898, the pleading of a defendant seeking affirmative relief against any party was termed a "cross-complaint," and the term is frequently used in the Utah decisions in the sense of "counterclaim."
New parties may be brought in by cross-complaint.
Chalmers v. Trent, 11 U. 88; 39 P. 488.
The time for serving a cross-complaint not being fixed by statute, it should be served within a reasonable time.
Culmer v. Caine, 22 U. 216; 61 P. 1008.
L., having failed to file a cross-complaint demanding affirmative relief, as authorized by this section, the court, on determining that he was the owner of two of the mortgage notes, had no jurisdiction to render judgment in his favor against the mortgagor.
West v. Shurtliff, 28 U. 337; 79 P. 180
See Naylor v. Jensen, 38 U. 310; 113 P. 73.

6582. (2975.) Defendant entitled to affirmative judgment must demand it. Where the defendant deems himself entitled to an affirmative judgment against the plaintiff, by reason of a counterclaim interposed by him, he must demand the judgment in his answer.

N. Y. Civ. P., § 509.
Verdict when counterclaim exceeds plaintiff's demand, § 6822.
Counterclaim not set up is waived, § 6577.
Statement of facts in answer to entitle defendant to affirmative relief, note to § 6575.

CHAPTER 13.

DEMURRER TO ANSWER.

6586. (2976.) Grounds of demurrer to answer. The plaintiff may, within ten days after the service of the answer, demur to the same or any defense therein, upon one or more of the following grounds:

1. That several causes of counterclaim have been improperly joined;
2. That the answer does not state facts sufficient to constitute a defense;
3. That the answer is ambiguous, unintelligible, or uncertain.

Cal. C. Civ. P., §§ 443*, 444*.
Time to answer or demur may be extended, §§ 6619, 7023.
Sham and irrelevant answers stricken out, § 6597.

Objections which may be raised for the first time in appellate court, note to § 6994.
Decisions on demurrer to complaint, notes to §§ 6566, 6568.
Answer containing one good defense is not demurrable.
Groesbeck v. Bell, 1 U. 338.
Haslam v. Haslam, 19 U. 1; 56 P. 243.
In an action for conversion, an answer which refers to the "property mentioned and described in the second paragraph in plaintiff's second cause of action" is sufficiently definite and not demurrable for want of certainty.
Spalding v. Allred, 23 U. 354; 64 P. 1100.

6587. (2977.) Grounds of demurrer to counterclaim. The plaintiff may also demur to a counterclaim where one or more of the following objections thereto appear upon the face of the counterclaim:

1. That the court has not jurisdiction of the subject thereof:
2. That the defendant has not legal capacity to maintain the same;
3. That there is another action pending between the same parties for the same cause;
4. That there is a defect or misjoinder of parties;
5. That the counterclaim does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action;
6. Because the cause of action stated is not pleadable as a counterclaim to the action;
7. Because it is ambiguous, unintelligible, or uncertain.

Mont. Civ. P., § 714*.
Sufficiency of counterclaim, note to § 6576.

6588. (2978.) Id. How taken. Demurrer and reply. Grounds specified. Such demurrer may be taken to the whole answer, or to any of the alleged defenses or counterclaims therein; and the plaintiff may demur to one or more of the several defenses and counterclaims, and reply to the residue of the counterclaims. The demurrer shall distinctly specify the grounds of objection taken, and when to a counterclaim, in a similar manner to that required in a demurrer to the complaint; otherwise, it may be stricken out.

Mont. Civ. P., §§ 712*, 715*.

6589. (2979.) Objections taken by reply. Not taken, deemed waived. Exceptions. When any of the objections to a counterclaim mentioned in §§ 6586, 6587, do not appear upon the face of the answer, the objection may be taken by reply. If not so taken, either by the demurrer or reply, the plaintiff shall be deemed to have waived the same, excepting only the objection to the jurisdiction of the court, and the objection that the counterclaim does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action.

Cal. C. Civ. P., §§ 433*, 434*.
Objections to complaint not taken deemed waived, § 6573 and note.
Failure to demur or reply admits counterclaim, § 6591.
What objections may be raised for the first time in the appellate court, note to § 6994.

CHAPTER 14.

REPLY.

6590. (2980.) Reply to counterclaim. What to contain. There shall be no reply except:

1. Where a counterclaim is alleged; or,
2. Where some matter is alleged in the answer to which the plaintiff claims to have a defense, by reason of the existence of some fact which avoids the matter alleged in the answer. When a reply must be filed, it shall be served and filed within ten days after the service of the answer or of notice of the overruling of a demurrer, and it shall consist of:

First. A general or specific denial of each allegation or counterclaim controverted, or any knowledge or information thereof sufficient to form a belief; or,

Second. Any new matter not inconsistent with the complaint constituting a defense to the matter alleged in the answer; or the matter in the answer may be confessed, and any new matter alleged, not inconsistent with the complaint, which avoids the same. Am'd '03, p. 182; '07, p. 38.

Mont. Civ. P., § 720*.
Supplemental reply, § 6608.
Time for reply may be extended, §§ 6619, 7023.

Time to reply after demurrer overruled runs from service of notice, exception, § 6623.
New matter in reply deemed controverted, § 6606.
New matter in answer to which reply is not required deemed controverted, § 6606.
Failure to demur or reply admits counterclaim, § 6591 and note.
Under § 3248, C. L. 1888, a replication was not permitted, and new facts in avoidance of new matter alleged in the answer might be proven in response and in avoidance, without having been pleaded. And the plaintiff might introduce evidence of fraud in avoidance, though fraud was not alleged in the complaint or in a replication.
Whitney v. Richards, 17 U. 226; 53 P. 1122.
Steed v. Harvey, 18 U. 367; 54 P. 1011.
Prior to amendment in 1903, a reply was not permissible, except when the answer contained a counterclaim.
Anderson v. Anderson, 24 U. 497; 68 P. 319.
The plaintiff cannot enlarge the complaint by allegations in the reply.
Straw v. Temple, 48 U. 258; 159 P. 44.
In a mortgage foreclosure suit, no reply is necessary to an answer claiming a homestead right.
Wherritt, v. Dennis, 48 U. 309; 159 P. 534.
An averment in a reply that a tax sale and purchase "was not in accordance with law, but was contrary to law," in the absence of special demurrer or motion to make specific, was sufficient.
Bean v. Fairbanks, 46 U. 513; 151 P. 338.
A complaint and reply should be taken together in determining the cause of action stated.
Hudson v. Moon, 42 U. 377; 130 P. 774.
Where the defendant in an action on an insurance policy sets up a proviso that the defendant is not liable in the event the insured suicides, unless he suicides when insane; it is unnecessary for plaintiff to reply in order to prove insanity.
Moran v. Knights of Columbus, 46 U. 397; 151 P. 353.
A reply is not necessary to affirmative matter in answer unless the plaintiff wishes to confess and avoid.
Wherritt v. Dennis, 48 U. 309; 159 P. 534.
Where a reply is required and filed, new matter in the answer not denied is deemed to be admitted.
Cain v. Stewart, 47 U. 160; 152 P. 465.
The absence of a reply admits the allegations of a counterclaim and such admission stands, even though there was a trial upon the issues as if a reply had been filed.
Swanson v. Sims, 51 U. —; 170 P. 774.
Where no objection was taken to a reply improperly made or to the introduction of evidence thereunder, the court will pass on the sufficiency of the evidence to support the findings sustaining the reply.
Anderson v. Anderson, 24 U. 497; 68 P. 319.
Anderson v. Anderson, 25 U. 164; 70 P. 608.
In an action to quiet title, defendant's claim of ownership and possession is not in the nature of a counterclaim, and requires no reply.
Tate v. Rose, 35 U. 229; 99 P. 1003.
Tate v. Shaw, 35 U. 240; 99 P. 1007.

6591. (2981.) Failure to demur or reply admits counterclaim. If the plaintiff fails to demur or reply to the counterclaim, the same shall be deemed admitted.

Mont. Civ. P., § 722*.
New matter in counterclaim not controverted taken as true, § 6606.
Judgment on the pleadings, note to § 6575.
Objections to counterclaim not taken deemed waived, § 6589.
Where no reply was filed to an equitable counterclaim set forth in the answer, judgment thereon should have been granted on motion.
Dunham v. Travis, 25 U. 65; 69 P. 468.

6592. (2982.) Demurrer to reply for insufficiency. The defendant may, within ten days, demur to the reply, or any defense therein, when upon the face thereof it does not state facts sufficient to constitute a defense, stating such grounds.

Mont. Civ. P., § 723*.

CHAPTER 15.

VERIFICATION.

6593. (2983.) Verification, how made and by whom. Every pleading must be subscribed by the party or his attorney. When the complaint is verified, or when the state or any state officer in his official capacity is plaintiff, all subsequent pleadings, except demurrers, must be verified, unless an admission of the truth of the allegation might subject the party to a criminal prosecution, or unless a state officer in his official capacity is defendant. The affidavit of verification must state that the pleading is true to the knowledge of the deponent, except as to the matters therein stated on information and belief, and that as to those he believes it to be true. Such verification must be made by a party, unless all the parties are absent from the county where the action is brought, or from some other cause unable to verify it, or the facts are within the knowledge of the attorney or other person verifying the same. The affidavit may also be made by the agent or attorney, if the action or defense is founded upon a written instrument for the payment of money only, and such instrument be in the possession of the agent or attorney. When the pleading is verified by the attorney or other person, except one of the parties, the verification must show the reason why it is not made by a party, and that the matters stated are true to the best knowledge, information, and belief of the deponent. When a corporation is a party, the verification may be made by any officer or agent thereof. Amendments may be made without being verified, unless a new and distinct cause of action or counterclaim is thereby introduced, in which case they shall be verified as other pleadings.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 446*.

Pleading verified by the attorney must be truthful.

Thackara v. Reid, 1 U. 238.

Unverified answer to verified complaint is sham and frivolous.

Crompton v. Crow, 2 U. 245.

Allegations on information and belief are authorized by the statutes.

Flagstaff M. Co. v. Patrick, 2 U. 304.

Denial of matter of record on information and belief is insufficient.

Thompson v. Skeen, 14 U. 209; 46 P. 1103.

Amendment of insufficient verification.

Milner v. Friel, 1 U. 186.

Unverified complaint may be amended by adding verification.

Ruffatti v. Societe des Mines, 10 U. 386; 37 P. 591.

Failure to verify pleadings is waived, unless timely objection is made on that ground; and an unverified disclaimer, when acted on, is effective and conclusive.

Salt Lake City v. Salt Lake Inv. Co., 43 U. 181; 134 P. 603.

The verification of a complaint answers the requirement of a complaint being subscribed by the party or his attorney.

West Mountain Lime & Stone Co. v. Danley, 38 U. 218; 111 P. 647.

6594. (2984.) Certain allegations admitted unless denial verified. In all actions, allegations of the execution of written instruments and indorsements thereon, of the existence of a corporation or partnership, or of any appointment or authority, or the correctness of any account duly verified by the affidavit of the party, his agent or attorney, shall be taken as true, unless the denial of the same be verified by the affidavit of the party, his agent or attorney.

Kan., § 4191.

Corporate capacity pleaded generally, § 6610.

Corporate existence need not be proved unless answer verified and non-existence affirmatively alleged, § 6611.

A specific denial under oath of the execution of note and mortgage sued on is required in order to place plaintiff upon proof of their execution, and the verification by defendant's attorney that it was "true to the best of his knowledge, information, and belief," verified no direct or positive denial of the allegations of the complaint.

Brewer v. Romney, 50 U. —; 167 P. 366.

6595. (2985.) Id. Execution not admitted when inspection refused. Demand. But the execution of the written instruments mentioned in the preceding section is not deemed admitted by a failure to deny the same under oath, if the party desiring to controvert the same is, upon demand, refused an inspection of the original. Such demand must be in writing, served by copy upon the adverse party or his attorney, and filed with the papers in the case.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 449*.

Demand for copy of writing, etc., §§ 7108, 7204.

Refusal to admit genuineness of writing, costs, § 7203.

Admission of genuineness of writing, § 7112.

CHAPTER 16.

GENERAL RULES OF PLEADING.

6596. (2986.) Pleadings liberally construed. In the construction of a pleading for the purpose of determining its effect, its allegations must be liberally construed, with a view to substantial justice between the parties.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 452.

Statutes in derogation of common law not to be strictly construed, § 5839.

Provisions of statutes liberally construed, § 5839.

Errors or defects not affecting substantial rights disregarded, §§ 6622, 6968.

One form of action under the code, § 6442.

Decisions on sufficiency of pleadings, notes to §§ 6566, 6568, 6575.

Objections to pleadings not taken deemed waived, § 6573, and note.

It is the duty of the court, at every stage of the action, to disregard any error or defect in the pleadings or proceedings which does not affect the substantial rights of the parties.

Barton v. S. Jordan Merc Inst., 10 U. 346; 37 P. 576.

The allegation of a pleading for the purpose of determining its effect must be liberally construed.

Mangum v. Bullion B. & C. M. Co., 15 U. 534; 50 P. 834.

Farnsworth v. Holderman, 3 U. 381; 4 P. 337.

An omission in a complaint of the technical words rendering a note negotiable in form is supplied by an incorporation of the note itself, containing the words "or order" in the answer, and defendant is bound thereby.

Johnson v. Hibbard, 27 U. 342; 75 P. 737.

Where plaintiff moves for judgment upon the pleadings, the answer must be construed most favorably to the defendant.

Johnson v. Mountain States T. & T. Co., 48 U. 339; 159 P. 526.

Pleadings cannot be so liberally construed as to cure a defect of complaint which fails to allege an indebtedness.

Chesney v. Chesney, 33 U. 503; 94 P. 989.

Secs. 7447, 7426, and 7448 of this code, concerning justice's court practice, are highly technical, and the court will not require more than a substantial compliance with them.

Burt v. District Court, 39 U. 1; 114 P. 143.

Where it is apparent that the answer denies the allegations of the complaint, the form of denial is immaterial.

Hancock v. Luke, 46 U. 26; 148 P. 452.

A general demurrer should always be overruled unless the complaint clearly fails to state some essential element necessary to a cause of action, or states some acts barring plaintiff.

Eddington v. Union Portland Cement Co., 42 U. 274; 130 P. 243.

6597. (2987.) Sham, irrelevant, and redundant matter stricken out. Sham and irrelevant answers and replies, and irrelevant and redundant matter inserted in a pleading, may be stricken out, upon such terms as the court may in its discretion impose.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 453*.

Unnecessary allegations may be disregarded as surplusage.

Houtz v. Gisborn, 1 U. 173.

Unverified answer to verified complaint is sham and frivolous.

Crompton v. Crow, 2 U. 245.

In no case will a pleading decent and decorous in language be stricken from the files.

Heath v. White, 3 U. 474; 24 P. 762.

It is error to strike from the files a cross-complaint by which defendant seeks affirmative relief and joins necessary parties omitted by plaintiff, though plaintiff amends his complaint by inserting such necessary parties.

Chalmers v. Trent, 11 U. 88; 39 P. 488.

The court has the power to expunge from its record scandalous matter which raises no issue and serves no purpose except to injure the reputation of the party at whom it is aimed.

Morrison v. Snow, 26 U. 247; 72 P. 924.

6598. (2988.) Account, how pleaded. Bill of particulars. It is not necessary for a party to set forth in a pleading the items of an account therein alleged, but he must deliver to the adverse party, within ten days after a demand thereof, in writing, a copy of the account, or be precluded from giving evidence thereof. The court, or a judge thereof, may order a further account when the one delivered is too general or is defective in any particular.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 454*.

Demand for copy of entries, etc., order, § 7204.

This section does not apply to actions upon an account stated.

Robbins v. Woodhull, 1 U. 317.

Where a complain for services and money paid alleged the different items sought to be recovered, and made brief mention of the character of each class, it was not demurrable for failure to state each item more specifically; defendant's remedy, if he desired a more specific statement, being by motion for a bill of particulars, authorized by this section.

Nelson v. Hendricksen, 31 U. 191; 87 P. 267.

This section is not applicable where it is alleged that the defendant had wrongfully taken from the treasury of the plaintiff various sums of money.

Ut. St. Bldg. & Loan Asso. v. Perkins, 51 U. —; 173 P. 950.

6599. (2989.) Description of real property in pleading. In an action for the recovery of real property, it must be described in the complaint with such certainty as to enable an officer, upon execution, to identify it.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 455.

Description in notices of location, note to § 3891.

Description in tax title cases, note to § 6018.

Complaint in ejectment against a co-tenant, and verdict and judgment thereon, failing to specify plaintiff's interest, are fatally defective.

Lillianskyoldt v. Goss, 2 U. 292.

In action to quiet title to a vein, it is sufficiently described by its name, if the boundaries of the claim in which it apexes are given.

Bullion-Beck & C. M. Co., v. Eureka Hill M. Co., 5 U. 3; 11 P. 515.

The court cannot render a decree intelligibly upon default, where the mortgage is not set out in the complaint. (Disapproved on appeal, 99 U. S. 20.)

Hussey v. Smith, 1 U. 241.

A description of the property as a "one-half interest of Hyrum Thatcher, of Logan City, in horses and ranch, etc.," is a sufficient description for specific performance where it appears from parol extrinsic evidence that Hyrum Thatcher owned a one-half interest in but one ranch.

Easton v. Thatcher, 7 U. 99; 25 P. 728.

The statute of frauds is not satisfied in a case of specific performance, by a letter that has been lost, where its contents are testified to by the receiver, and the letter does not contain a description of the land with reasonable certainty.

Darke v. Smith, 14 U. 35; 45 P. 1006.

No reformation of a deed can be had where the complaint asking for such reformation is uncertain in description and amount of property claimed.

Center Creek Irr. Co. v. Lindsay, 21 U. 192; 60 P. 559.

Description of property in action by telegraph company against railroad company to condemn right of way for its line sufficient.

Postal Tel. & C. Co. v. O. S. L. R. R. Co., 23 U. 474; 65 P. 735

6600. (2990.) Judgments, how pleaded. Proof. In pleading a judgment or other determination of a court, board, or officer of special jurisdiction, it is not necessary to state the facts conferring jurisdiction, but such judgment or determination may be stated to have been duly given or made. If such allegation be controverted, the party pleading must establish, on the trial, the facts conferring jurisdiction.

Cal C. Civ. P., § 456.

Similar section, criminal procedure, § 8844.

Judgments, how proved, §§ 7087-7095.

6601. (2991.) Conditions precedent, how pleaded. Proof. In pleading the performance of conditions precedent in a contract, it is not necessary to state the facts showing such performance, but it may be stated generally that the party duly performed all the conditions on his part; and if such allegation be controverted, the party pleading must establish, on the trial, the facts showing such performance.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 457.

Complaints, sufficient and insufficient,, note to § 6566.

6602. (2992.) Pleading statute of limitations. In pleading the statute of limitations, it is not necessary to state the facts showing the defense, but it may be stated generally that the cause of action is barred by the provisions of section (giving the number of the section in the Compiled Laws of Utah of 1917, and, if the said section has been amended, the section and chapter of the laws of Utah amending the same which is relied upon, and of the subdivision thereof if it is so divided); and if such allegation be controverted, the party pleading must establish, on the trial, the facts showing that the cause of action is so barred. Am'd '05, p. 20; '07, p. 3.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 458.
Statute of limitations, §§ 6445-6492.
Compiled Laws of 1907 may be referred to by section, § 5829.
The statute does not operate as a payment or extinguishment of the debt, but as a bar.
Leavitt v. Oxford S. M. Co., 3 U. 265; 1 P. 356.
The statute of limitations should be enforced not only on the presumption that the debt has been paid, but because it is essentially a statute of repose; it should be viewed as a wise and beneficial law rather than as a discreditable defense.
Kuhn v. Mount, 13 U. 108; 44 P. 1036.
Statute runs in favor of one claiming under a life estate.
Wells v. Wells, 7 U. 68; 24 P. 752.
Where a third person acquired an interest in mortgaged property under a tax deed, she could invoke the statute of limitations as against the mortgagee, though it may have been waived by, or not available to, the mortgagor.
Graves v. Seifried, 31 U. 203; 87 P. 674.
Boucofsky v. Jacobsen, 36 U. 165; 104 P. 117.
Answer stating merely that the action is barred by the statute of limitations is insufficient hereunder.
Spanish Fork v. Hopper, 7 U. 235; 26 P. 293.
The defense of the statute of limitations not available unless pleaded.
Whittaker v. Greenwood, 17 U. 33; 53 P. 736.
Hayes v. Lavagnino, 17 U. 185; 53 P. 1029.
Leavitt v. Oxford S. M. Co., 3 U. 265; 1 P. 356.
Form of answer pleading the statute approved.
Snow v. Rich, 22 U. 123; 61 P. 336.
A defendant may demur on the ground that an action is barred by the statute of limitations, when the pleadings show the time has elapsed.
Nelden-Judson Co. v. Com'l Nat. Bank, 27 U. 59; 74 P. 195.
Fullerton v. Bailey, 17 U. 85; 53 P. 1020.
Thomas v. Glendinning, 13 U. 47; 44 P. 652.
Burnes v. Crane, 1 U. 179.
O'Donnell v. Parker, 48 U. 578; 160 P. 1192.

6603. (2993.) Private statute, how pleaded. In pleading a private statute, or a right derived therefrom, it is sufficient to refer to such statute by its title and the day of its passage, and the court shall thereupon take judicial notice thereof.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 459*.
Similar section, criminal procedure, § 8845.
Private statute defined, § 7081.
What private statutes forbidden, Con. art. 6, sec. 26.

6604. (2994.) Libel or slander, how pleaded. Proof. In an action for libel or slander, it is not necessary to state in the complaint any extrinsic facts for the purpose of showing the application to the plaintiff of the defamatory matter out of which the action arose; but it is sufficient to state, generally, that the same was published, or spoken, concerning the plaintiff; and if such allegation be controverted, the plaintiff must establish, on the trial, that it was so published or spoken.

Criminal libel and slander, §§ 8072-8083.
Limitation of action, one year, § 6470.
Freedom of speech and of the press, responsibility for abuse of right, Con. art 1, secs. 1, 15.
Decisions on libel, note to § 3692.
In a suit upon a newspaper article concerning a certain family, a complaint alleging that plaintiff is the head thereof and residing at the place named in the article, and that the publication was made of and concerning him, together with the article itself, and allegations of its falsity, states a cause of action.
Fenstermaker v. Tribune Pub. Co., 12 U. 439; 43 P. 112.
Same case, 13 U. 532; 45 P. 1097.
Fifteen hundred dollars damages for calling a man a liar held not excessive.
Turner v. Stevens, 8 U. 75; 30 P. 24.
Charging one with refusal to pay a debt is not libelous per se.
Nichols v. Daily Rep. Co., 30 U. 74; 83 P. 573.
Where a libelous letter named plaintiff, it was not necessary to allege that the words were written of and concerning plaintiff.
Burton v. Mattson, 50 U. —; 166 P. 979.
An allegation that the matters contained in the alleged libelous letters were false and libelous sufficiently alleges that the communications were made with malice.
Id.
In an action for libel by writing plaintiff's wife letters implying that plaintiff sustained illicit relations with another woman, where the face of the complaint showed that the publication was concerning plaintiff, that it was falsely made with the intent to effect an estrangement between him and his wife, the complaint was not insufficient as containing no inducement, colloquium, or proper innuendoes.
Id.

6605. (2995.) Id. Truth and mitigating circumstances. Evidence. In the actions mentioned in the next preceding section, the defendant may, in his answer, allege both the truth of the matter charged as defamatory, and any mitigating circumstances to reduce the amount of damages, and, whether he prove the justification or not, he may give in evidence the mitigating circumstances.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 461.
Effect of publication of retraction of libelous article, § 1348.
Elements of damage, note to § 3692.
Defendant may deny material allegations of complaint, and also plead justification in mitigation of damages.

Same case, 13 U. 532; 45 P. 1097.
Murphy v. Carter, 1 U. 17.

6606. (2996.) Allegations not controverted taken as true; exception,

Each material allegation of the complaint not controverted by the answer, and each material allegation of new matter in the answer not controverted by the reply, where a reply is required, must, for the purposes of the action, be taken as true. But an allegation of new matter in the answer to which a reply is not required, or of new matter in a reply, is to be deemed controverted by the adverse party.

Where a finding is verbatim the same as new matter alleged in the answer and deemed denied under this section, the finding is not outside the issues.
Snyder v. Emerson, 19 U. 319; 57 P. 300.
Where a reply is required and filed, new matter in the answer not denied is deemed to be admitted.
Cain v. Stewart, 47 U. 160; 152 P. 465.

6607. (2997.) Material allegation defined. A material allegation in a pleading is one essential to the claim, or defense, and which could not be stricken from the pleading without leaving it insufficient.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 463.

6608. (2998.) Supplemental complaint, answer, and reply. Either party may be allowed to make a supplemental complaint, answer, or reply, alleging facts material to the case, which have happened, or have come to his knowledge, since the filing of the former pleading; nor shall such new pleading be considered a waiver of former pleadings.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 464*.
Any title to the premises in dispute that accrued to the defendant after the commencement of the suit must be set up by a supplemental answer, otherwise defendant cannot avail himself of it.
Kahn v. Old Telegraph M. Co., 2 U. 174.
Although the lower court may have decided for the defendant, yet if the case is wholly reversed and plaintiff's rights determined by the supreme court, the plaintiff has a right to file a supplemental complaint alleging and setting forth his damage since the action was commenced, and to make proof under it.
North Pt. C. I. Co. v. Utah & S. L. C. Co., 23 U. 199; 63 P. 812.

6609. (2999.) Pleadings after complaint to be filed and served. All pleadings subsequent to the complaint must be filed with the clerk and copies thereof served upon the adverse party or his attorney.

Papers, how served, §§ 7024-7032.
Extending time for service, § 7023.
Service of amended complaint, § 6570.
After appearance, a party is entitled to notice of subsequent proceedings, § 7029.
Papers, etc., must be served upon the attorney if one appears, § 7030.
Where a demurrer on the last day to plead is served on plaintiff's attorney's wife at his residence, he being in another county attending court, and then mailed to the clerk; held, this is not equivalent to filing a demurrer, and default judgment will not be disturbed.
Cutler v. Haycock, 32 U. 354; 90 P. 897.

6610. (3000.) Corporate, partnership, etc., capacity pleaded generally. A plaintiff suing as a corporation, partnership, executor, guardian, or in any other way implying corporate, partnership, representative, or other than individual capacity, need not state the facts constituting such capacity or relation, but may aver the same generally, or as a legal conclusion, and where a defendant is held in such capacity or relation a plaintiff may aver such capacity or relation in the same general way.

Iowa, McClain's An. C., § 3923.
Allegations as to corporate existence, etc., admitted unless denial verified, § 6594.
When the caption of the complaint gives the title of the corporation with the addition "a corporation under the laws of the state of Iowa," the averment of corporate capacity is sufficient.
Saunders v. Sioux City Nursery, 6 U. 431; 24 P. 532.
Legal capacity to sue incident to corporate existence.
Crane Bros. Co. v. Reed, 3 U. 506; 24 P. 1050.
When corporate existence denied, it is only necessary to prove a party a corporation de facto.

Marsh v. Mathias, 19 U. 350; 56 P. 1074.
Postal Tel. Co. v. O. S. L. R. R. Co., 23 U. 474; 65 P. 735.

6611. (3000x.) Corporate existence need not be proved unless denied. In an action by or against a corporation, the plaintiff need not prove upon the trial the existence of the corporation, unless the answer is verified, and contains an affirmative allegation that the plaintiff or defendant, as the case may be, is not a corporation. '01, p. 41.

Allegations admitted unless denial verified, § 6594.

CHAPTER 17.

VARIANCE, MISTAKES IN PLEADINGS, AND AMENDMENTS.

6615. (3001.) Variance not prejudicial deemed immaterial. Amendment. No variance between the allegations in a pleading and the proof is to be deemed material, unless it has actually misled the adverse party to his prejudice in maintaining his action or defense upon the merits. Whenever it appears that a party has been so misled, the court may order the pleading to be amended, upon such terms as may be just.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 469.

Failure of proof distinguished from variance, § 6617.

Liberal construction of pleadings and of statutes, §§ 5839, 6596.

Errors and defects not affecting substantial rights disregarded, §§ 6622, 6968, note to § 6994.

Amendment when variance not material, §§ 6616, 6619, and notes.

Objections to pleadings, etc., not taken deemed waived, § 6573, and note.

Objections which may be raised for first time on appeal, note to § 6994.

There is no variance between allegation that plaintiff's leg came in contact with defectively insulated wire and proof that electricity could jump or arc three or four inches, and that plaintiff received his first shock before touching the wire.

Speight v. Rocky Mt. B. Tel. Co., 36 U. 483; 107 P. 742.

IMMATERIAL VARIANCE:

The doctrine that a trespass alleged to have been committed on a certain day cannot be shown to have been committed on another day does not obtain here.

Burnham v. Call, 2 U. 433.

In a suit in equity for relief on the ground of fraud, it is enough if the facts found are not materially and substantially different from those alleged in the bill.

Tufts v. Tufts, 123 U. S. 76; same case, 3 U. 361; 3 P. 390

Variance which ought not to have misled appellant will not justify reversal Bullion-Beck & Champion Mining Co. v. Eureka Hill Mining Co., 5 U. 3; 11 P. 515.

Farnsworth v. Holderman, 3 U. 381; 4 P. 337.

Duke v. Griffith, 9 U. 469; 35 P. 512.

Difference between pleading and proof of state of appearance of appropriating water held immaterial.

Holman v. Pleasant Grove City, 8 U. 78; 30 P. 72.

Difference in time of payment of consideration of promissory note is immaterial.

Brown v. Pickard, 4 U. 292; 9 P. 573; 11 P. 512.

Where the allegations of the complaint state that plaintiff furnished materials at request of defendant, and the lien filed in proof states that the materials were furnished in pursuance of contract between plaintiff and the principal contractors of defendant, the variance is not such as to mislead defendant.

Culmer v. Clift, 14 U. 286; 47 P. 85.

Where defendant was convicted for stealing sheep owned, as alleged by ten individuals, and the information alleged a several ownership in six of the same ten men, the variance was not fatal.

State v. McKee, 17 U. 370; 53 P. 733.

There is no material variance between the complaint and the proof where complaint alleges a sale and delivery of water to defendant and that defendant promised to pay a sum certain therefor, and the proof showed a contract for sale and delivery of the water and a promise to pay a certain amount therefor.

Hecla G. M. Co. v. Gisborn, 21 U. 68; 59 P. 518.

Allegations of complaint held sufficiently broad to cover oral contract of earlier date than written contract declared on.

Rutan v. Huck, 30 U. 217; 83 P. 833.

Where a compaint alleges that the plaintiff's decedent at the time of his negligent killing was in the discharge of his duties as a mail clerk, a recovery may be had though the evidence shows that the decedent was a gratuitous passenger.

Schuyler v. S. P. R. R. Co., 37 U. 581; 109 P. 458.

Variance as to time of service of a broker is immaterial.

Beason v. Western Meat Co., 40 U. 398; 124 P. 335.

In view of § 6511, in an action on a judgment where the complaint alleged that the judgment was rendered against defendant, and the proof showed that it was rendered against defendant and another, the court should have permitted the complaint to be amended to comply with the proof.

Dobbs v. Rees, 49 U. 270; 163 P. 255.

In an action for personal injury, it is not error to permit defendant to show that its interest in the mine was a leasehold, even though it was alleged and admitted that it was the owner.

Olsen v. Triangle M. Co., 50 U. —; 167 P. 813.

MATERIAL VARIANCE:

Where plaintiff sues for damages for fire caused by the negligent handling of a locomotive, he cannot on the trial abandon the case, and, without amendment, recover under § 5611, making railroads absolutely liable for such fires irrespective of negligence.

Davis v. Utah Southern Ry., 3 U. 218; 2 P. 521.

Defendant cannot, at the trial without amendment, elect to rescind a contract and recover judgment thereon, when, in a cross-complaint, he has alleged a breach and damages therefor.

Detroit H. & L. Co. v. Stevens, 16 U. 177; 52 P. 379.

Plaintiff in ejectment alleging legal title cannot show equitable title.

Tarpey v. Deseret Salt Co., 5 U. 205; 14 P. 338.

Complaint alleged as breach of contract defendant's having put it out of his power to perform: proof showed he had repudiated and refused to perform; held, a fatal variance.

Vance v. Whalon, 7 U. 44; 24 P. 672.

Plaintiff cannot recover where the complaint alleges a contract of insurance, and the evidence shows an agreement to execute an insurance policy in futuro.

Idaho Forwarding Co. v. Fireman's Fund Insurance Co., 8 U. 41; 29 P. 876.

Where complaint alleged that defendants erected and maintained dams across the outlet of a lake, thus preventing the natural flow of water, and causing it to rise and damage his land, and the proof showed the dams were erected under license from plaintiff, permitting the rising of the water to a certain height, but that they were so erected as to raise it to a greater height, thus causing the overflow and damage alleged; held, a fatal variance.

Peay v. S. L. City, 11 U. 331; 40 P. 206.

Where, in an action for the death of a railroad brakeman, alleged to have been caused by a jolt occasioned by a sudden application of the air brakes by the conductor, there was no allegation of defective couplings, or that the cars were derailed, evidence of such facts was not admissible.

Ohlenkamp v. U. P. R. R. Co., 24 U. 232; 67 P. 411.

Edd v. U. P. Coal Co., 25 U. 293; 71 P. 215.

See Peay v. Salt Lake City, 11 U. 331; 40 P. 206.

Hartog v. Tibbitts, 1 U. 328.

Where the complaint in a suit to restrain defendant from using a certain roadway admitted that defendant acquired rights in the roadway by agreement, but alleged that those rights were limited to the property situate on the east side thereof, and defendant filed a counterclaim asserting a right by prescription acquired anterior to the making of the agreement alleged in the complaint, to which plaintiff answered simply denying the prescriptive right, a decree to the effect that defendant's rights in the roadway had been extinguished by abandonment is a fatal variance from the pleadings.

Tuckfield v. Crager, 29 U. 472; 82 P. 860.
Sowles v. Clawson, 28 U. 74; 76 P. 1067.

Where the purchaser in a contract for the sale of land sued on the contract for specific performance, he could not recover on the theory that his right was that of an equitable owner to redeem the premises.

Free v. Little, 31 U. 449; 88 P. 407.

Allegations of petition in election contest held insufficient to permit evidence as to paper ballots and as to marking of same.

Hamer v. Howell, 31 U. 144; 86 P. 1073.

Under a general denial in a cause of action on a promise to pay for release of plaintiff's interest in certain sheep, defendant cannot prove that plaintiff leased sheep from an incompetent Indian ward of the United States, and that defendant took possession as subagent.

Murdock v. Farrell, 49 U. 314; 163 P. 1102.

VARIANCE WAIVED:

The fact that a complaint contains an allegation of "wrongful taking" does not furnish a sufficient reason for setting aside a verdict for unlawful detention, when such detention was not only the main issue, but was the gravamen of the action, and when the case was tried mainly on that theory and no objection to the complaint based on such allegation was raised by special plea, and the verdict is supported by the evidence.

Nebeker v. Harvey, 21 U. 363; 60 P. 1029.

Defendant cannot on appeal insist that there was a variance in that the complaint was for the purchase price while the proof was for damages for breach of contract, he not having raised the question below, but there insisted, against plaintiff's objections, on trying the case on the theory that the action was for breach of contract.

McCall Co. v. Jennings, 26 U. 459; 73 P. 639.

As a general rule, before a variance is available, the evidence must be objected to when offered.

Geanakoules v. Union Portland Cement Co., 41 U. 486; 126 P. 329.

6616. (3002.) Id. Order, if variance immaterial. Amendment. Where the variance is not material, as provided in the next preceding section, the court may direct the fact to be found according to the evidence, or may order an immediate amendment, without costs.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 470.

Allowance of amendments immaterial or conforming allegations to proof not error.

Walton v. Jones, 7 U. 462; 27 P. 580.

Clerical mistake in name of plaintiff may be corrected.

Greenfield v. Wallace, 1 U. 188.

Variance in ejectment held not to be fatal.

Error not to permit amendment.

Duke v. Griffith, 9 U. 469; 35 P. 512.

Where complaint alleged that goods were turned over to appellant as agent, and the proof showed that they were turned over to the principal, it is such a variance, under §§ 6615-6619, as may be cured by amendment.

Thompson v. Whitney, 20 U. 1; 57 P. 429.

6617. (3003.) Id. Failure of proof distinguished from variance. Where, however, the allegation of the claim or defense to which the proof is directed is unproved, not in some particular or particulars only, but in its general scope and meaning, it is not to be deemed a case of variance within the last two sections, but a failure of proof.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 471.

6618. (3004.) Amendments as of course. If demurrer overruled, facts deemed denied. Pleading over. Any pleading may be amended once by the party as of course, and without costs, at any time before the time for pleading to it has expired, or after demurrer and before the trial of the issue of law thereon, by filing the same as amended and serving a copy on the adverse party, who may have ten days thereafter in which to answer, reply, or demur to the amended pleading. A demurrer is not waived by filing an answer or reply at the same time; and when the demurrer to a complaint or counterclaim is overruled and there is no answer or reply filed, the court may, upon such terms as may be just, allow an answer or reply to be filed. If a demurrer to the answer or reply be overruled, the facts alleged therein must be considered as denied to the extent mentioned in § 6606.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 472*.

Liberal amendments allowed in attachment proceedings, § 6728.

Time to amend or plead runs from service of notice, except, § 6623.

Service of amendment to complaint, § 6570.

Service of papers generally, §§ 7024-7032.

May demur and answer at same time, §§ 6569, 6579.

Amendment when variance not material, §§ 6615, 6616, 6619, and notes.

Where a judgment is reversed and new trial granted without explicit directions, the case stands in the lower court precisely as before the first trial was had, and any amendment may be allowed except such as would open questions adjudicated by the appellate court.

Larsen v. Gasberg, 43 U. 203; 134 P. 885.

pleading or proceeding in other particulars; and may upon like terms allow an answer or a motion for new trial to be made and filed after the time limited by this code; and may, also, upon such terms as may be just, relieve a party or his legal representative from a judgment, order, or other proceeding taken against him through his mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect; and when, for any reason satisfactory to the court, or the judge thereof, the party aggrieved has failed to apply for a new trial or other relief sought during the term at which such judgment, order, or proceeding complained of was taken, the court, or judge thereof in vacation, may grant the relief upon the application made within a reasonable time, not exceeding six months after the adjournment of the term. When, from any cause, the summons in an action has not been personally served on the defendant, the court may allow, on such terms as may be just, such defendant or his legal representative, at any time within one year after the rendition of any judgment in such action, to answer to the merits of the original action. Nothing but the actual, taxable costs of the action accruing, on and after the default, not including attorneys' fees, shall be imposed by the court under the provisions of this section authorizing the imposition of terms as a condition upon which relief is granted.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 473*.

Time allowed by law in which to plead, etc., may be extended, § 7023.

Objections to pleadings, etc., waived if not made, § 6573, and note.

Amendments as of course, § 6618

Amendment when variance not material, §§ 6615, 6616, and notes.

Amendment of finding, note to § 6829.

Motion may be made by real party in interest though not the nominal party of record.

Thomas v. Morris, 8 U. 284; 31 P. 446.

Application to amend must first be made in lower court.

Hussey v. Smith, 1 U. 304.

Reynolds v. Pascoe, 24 U. 219; 66 P. 1064.

As a prerequisite to relief under this section, on failure to move for new trial in time, an application should be made to the court and a showing made.

Felt v. Cook, 31 U. 299; 87 P. 1092.

Statutes relating to a new trial have no application to a case where motion is made to set aside a judgment taken by default against a party in his absence on account of mistake or excusable neglect. Remedy in such case is under this section.

Thomas v. Morris, 8 U. 284; 31 P. 446.

The court cannot tax costs and impose terms on the sovereign when it is a party in litigation, unless there is a statute authorizing it to be done.

U. S. v. Stevens, 8 U. 3; 28 P. 869.

Action of a trial court on motion to set aside default will not be disturbed, except for abuse of discretion.

Walker v. Continental Ins. Co., 2 U. 331.

Enright v. Grant, 5 U. 334; 15 P. 268.

Where trial court improperly refuses to grant relief, judgment will be reversed.

Utah Com'l Bank v. Trumbo, 17 U. 198; 53 P. 1033.

Cutler v. Haycock, 32 U. 354; 90 P. 897.

An objection and motion to disregard a bill of exceptions not served within the time, is a "proceeding" in an action within the provisions of this section, and the court may relieve against the failure to serve in time and settle the bill, through mistake, inadvertence, surprise or excusable neglect.

Morgan v. O. S. L. R. R. Co., 27 U. 92; 74 P. 523.

An order denying a motion to correct a judgment is not a final judgment from which a separate appeal may be taken.

Cullen v. Harris, 27 U. 4; 73 P. 1048.

It is not error to refuse to allow a defendant to amend his answer after the jury is sworn, and the examination of witnesses begun, when at a former term he had failed to amend knowing the trial court to hold such amendment necessary.

Rhemke v. Clinton, 2 U. 230.

Party having opportunity to amend before trial and failing to do so may be refused leave at trial where the amendment would change the issue.

Kelley v. Kershaw, 5 U. 295; 14 P. 804.

Amendment striking out admission may be properly refused.

Peck v. Rees, 7 U. 467; 27 P. 581.

When a party litigant offers to file an amendment or an additional pleading at the close of the trial without an offer of further proof, the offer to file may be properly rejected, in the absence of variance between the pleadings and proof.

Grand Central M. Co. v. Mammoth M. Co., 29 U. 490; 83 P. 648.

AMENDMENTS PROPERLY ALLOWED:

Insuffcient verification may be amended.

Milner v. Friel, 1 U. 186.

Or verification added to unverified complaint.

Ruffatti v. Societe des Mines, 10 U. 386; 37 P. 591.

Clerical mistake in name of plaintiff may be corrected.

Greenfield v. Wallace, 1 U. 188.

Amendment as to damages claimed held proper.

Rhemke v. Clinton, 2 U. 230.

Amendment dismissing as to one defendant held not prejudicial.

Brown v. Pickard, 4 U. 292; 9 P. 573; 11 P. 512.

Amendment of affidavit on attachment permitted.

McCord Merc. Co. v. Glenn, 6 U. 139; 21 P. 500.

Amendment of complaint held not to dissolve attachment.

Barton Bros. v. S. J. Merc. & Mfg. Inst., 10 U. 346; 37 P. 576.

The allegation "two bundles of carpet and one box of household goods" may be amended by a detailed description of all the articles included in the above.

Benson v. O. S. L. R. Co., 35 U. 241; 99 P. 1072.

On the trial, answer may be amended after introduction of evidence.

Am. Pub. Co. v. Fisher, 10 U. 147; 37 U. 250.

An amendment which does not add a new cause of action nor additioal parties relates back to the time of filing complaint.

Billings v. Parsons, 17 U. 22; 53 P. 730.

Complaint may be amended to conform to the proofs when all the parties have been permitted to introduce their evidence on the issues as presented by the amendments, and when the court can see that no injustice could result.

Walker v. Bamberger, 17 U. 239; 54 P. 108.

Where action is reversed on appeal on account of variance, leave to amend may be granted.

Tarpey v. Madsen, 26 U. 294; 73 P. 411.

Where notice of a proposed amendment setting up the defense of res judicata is given before the trial, and the court offers to grant a continuance if the opposite counsel is taken by surprise, the granting of the amendment is not erroneous.

Murphy v. Ganey, 23 U. 633; 66 P. 190.

In an action to recover a loan, the court, after rendering judgment for plaintiff, granted defendant's motion for a new trial and permitted him to file an amended answer which disclosed the fact that the debt was the result of a gambling transaction, whereupon judgment was rendered for defendant; held, that the granting of the new trial and permitting the filing of an amended answer were matters resting in the sound discretion of the trial court and no circumstances appeared to show an abuse of discretion.
Collet v. Beutler, 27 U. 540; 76 P. 707.

An amendment to a pleading is properly allowed when the nature of the action is not changed, nor one cause substituted for another, nor an additional cause therein stated.
Cassady v. Cassady, 31 U. 394; 88 P. 32.
Fell v. U. P. Ry Co., 32 U. 101; 88 P. 1003.

Amended cost bill may be filed.
Larsen v. Gasberg, 43 U. 203; 134 P. 885.
Smith v. Nelson, 23 U. 512; 65 P. 485.
Dignan v. Nelson, 26 U. 186; 72 P. 936.

AMENDMENTS IMPROPERLY REFUSED:

It was error to refuse to allow defendant to file an amended answer setting up contract between the parties which was void as against public policy, on the ground that the answer set up no defense.
Haddock v. S. L. City, 23 U. 521; 65 P. 491.

Where an action for wrongful death was erroneously commenced by intestate's widow and children, who were the only parties in interest, instead of by the personal representative, it was error not to allow an amendment of the complaint substituting the widow in her capacity as administratrix. (Distinguishing Skews v. Dunn, 3 U. 186; 2 P. 64.)
Pugmire v. Diamond Coal & C. Co., 26 U. 115; 72 P. 385.

Error to refuse to allow plintiff to amend complaint for damages by adding to period of disability.
Jones v. Ogden City, 32 U. 221; 89 P. 1006.

AMENDMENTS PROPERLY REFUSED:

Amendment bringing in new parties without leave of court is improper, and should be stricken out.
Salt Lake Co. v. Golding, 2 U. 319.

Independently of § 6828, providing that the court may, on notice, change a finding, the lower court has no jurisdiction to modify a finding after term, even though a motion to retax costs be pending.
Hohn v. Davis, 41 U. 200; 125 P. 403.

An application to serve and file a bill of exceptions after the time has expired must set forth the facts justifying the delay; a mere statement of conclusions will not suffice.
Toole Imp. Co. v. Hoffman, 44 U. 532; 141 P. 744.

A party applying for leave to file motion for new trial after time must produce evidence on which the court may make findings that, through no fault of the party, he was prevented from filing motion in time, where no application for extension had been made; and findings on this point should be made so it may be reviewed on appeal.
Audia v. D. & R. G., 45 U. 459; 146 P. 559.

That it was impossible to prepare bill of exceptions because of the voluminous record is not a sufficient reason to permit the filing of the bill of exceptions after the time allowed therefor has expired, and no application for an extension of time had been granted.
Moyle v. McKean, 49 U. 93; 162 P. 63.

The setting aside of a default and allowing defendant to plead on the merits is in the sound discretion of the trial court, which, in the absence of abuse, will not be reviewed.
Aaron v. Holmes, 35 U. 49; 99 P. 450.

It is not error to strike out the names of two deceased partners as the plaintiffs, and permit the action to proceed to judgment under the names of the surviving partners.
Sweetser v. Fox, 43 U. 40; 134 P. 599.

Pleadings may be amended even after trial to show true facts and conform to the proof.
Rosenthyne v. Matthews-McCulloch Co., 50 U. —; 168 P. 957.

The court has no discretion to permit a party to file his cost bill on appeal where it was not filed within time, he not having notice of the filing of the remittitur, the remittitur having been issued prior to the amendment requiring notice of the filing thereof.
Hirsh v. Ogden Furniture & Carpet Co., 51 U. —; 172 P. 318.

JUDGMENTS VACATED:

Facts held to justify setting aside default for inadvertennce and excusable neglect.
Nounnan v. Toponce, 1 U. 168.
Thomas v. Morris, 8 U. 284; 31 P. 446.
McCormick Harvesting Machine Co. v. Marchant, 11 U. 68; 39 P. 483.
Utah Com'l Bank v. Trumbo, 17 U. 198; 53 P. 1033.

Decree of probate court ignoring wife in distribution of estate was vacated though time to appeal had expired.
Benson v. Anderson, 10 U. 135; 37 P. 256.

Where case was set for trial without notice to plaintiff's counsel, who resided in another county, though they wrote several times to the clerk to ascertain if the case had been set for trial, but received no answer till after judgment was entered, plaintiff's failure to appear at the time of trial was excusable, and the judgment should be set aside.
Western L. & S. Co. v. Berg, 24 U. 278; 67 P. 669.

In all doubtful cases, the general rule of courts is to incline towards granting relief from the default, and to bring about a judgment on the merits. Under the facts in this case, trial court should have set aside default.
Cutler v. Haycock, 32 U. 354; 90 P. 897.
Utah Com. Bank v. Trumbo, 17 U. 198; 53 P. 1033.

Where defendants relied on a rule of court requiring notice of the placing of cases on the trial calendar, and plaintiff obtained judgment in defendant's absence by disregarding the rule, it was within the sound discretion of the trial court to vacate the judgment in an equitable action brought for that purpose; defendants being free from culpable negligence.
Riddle v. Quinn, 32 U. 341; 90 P. 893.

Where plaintiff, having a default judgment quieting title, causes defendant by fraud and deceit to believe he will convey the property to him, and after the judgment has been entered for a year refuses to do so, the default should be set aside and defendant permitted to answer.
Liebhardt v. Lawrence, 40 U. 243; 120 P. 215.

Plaintiff brought a friendly mortgage foreclosure suit to aid defendant's mortgagors in settling a third person's claim which purpose was accomplished, and the suit lay dormant for nearly six years pending a dispute over plaintiff's attorney's fee and the question of interest; the dispute not having been adjusted, the plaintiff then took a default judgment for the unpaid part of the debt and attorney's fees, and the defendant moved to set aside the default, tendering an answer denying the default pleaded in the complaint and alleging payment; held, that the motion was improperly overruled as there was no injury to plaintiff through the delay.
Quealy v. Willardson, 35 U. 414; 100 P. 930.

Meritorious defense must be shown.
Kuhn v. McAllister, 1 U. 273.

Where an agent of a foreign corporation fails to inform his principal of the commencement of a suit, and has no power himself to employ counsel to defend such action, the court will not set aside the default. The fact that there was no time in which to prepare and file an answer, owing to the distant residence of defendant, furnishes no ground upon which to set aside judgment by default.
Walker Bros. v. Continental Ins. Co., 2 U. 331.

A final decree after a hearing on the merits cannot be amended or set aside after the term has ended and the time within which a motion for a new trial may be made has passed; it can only be opened upon a bill of review or for fraud; but this rule does not apply to void decrees or clerical errors.
Benson v. Anderson, 14 U. 334; 47 P. 142.
Jones v. N. Y. Life Ins. Co., 14 U. 215; 47 P. 74.

No relief from result of deliberate choice on part of party and his counsel.

Peterson v. Crosier, 29 U. 235; 81 P. 860.

Where defendant's attorney was told that the plaintiff would press the case and would no longer be bound by an oral stipulation by his former attorney extending time to answer, and three weeks thereafter a default judgment was entered, such judgment will not be set aside.

McWhirter v. Donaldson, 36 U. 293; 104 P. 731.

JUDGMENTS NOT VACATED:

Facts held not to justify setting aside default.

Crompton v. Crow, 2 U. 245.

Negligence of attorney or reliance on promises of others not sufficient ground.

Kuhn v. McAllister, 1 U. 273.

Crompton v. Crow, 2 U. 245.

But see Thomas v. Morris, 8 U. 284; 31 P. 446.

TIME OF APPLICATION:

Judgment, though erroneous, will not be vacated on motion made over one year after its rendition.

Darke v. Ireland, 4 U. 192; 7 P. 714.

Judgment void for lack of jurisdiction will be set aside upon motion, though after six months.

Park v. Higbee, 6 U. 414; 24 P. 524.

Power of court to set aside judgment voidable on account of prior death of party against whom it was rendered ceases after six months from adjournment of term.

Elliott v. Bastian, 11 U. 452; 40 P. 713.

A motion to vacate a final judgment on the merits is too late after the term, and after the time has expired within which a motion for a new trial can be made.

Jones v. N. Y. Life Ins. Co., 14 U. 215; 47 P. 74.

Benson v. Anderson, 14 U. 334; 47 P. 142.

Where judgment is rendered against defendant without service of summons or appearance, he may, within one year, enter a motion to set it aside and ask leave to answer. If the motion is served and filed within the year the court may hear it after the year expires, and, upon sufficient proof, set the judgment aside.

Blyth & Fargo Co. v. Swenson, 15 U. 345; 49 P. 1027.

After a reasonable time, not exceeding six months after the term, the court has no jurisdiction to modify a judgment.

Lees v. Freeman, 19 U. 481; 57 P. 411.

A petition and motion for modification of findings and decree filed more than nine months after decree was entered came too late and are properly denied.

Stevens Imp. Co. v. South Ogden Co., 20 U. 267; 58 P. 843.

Where foreclosure was had by publication, defendants, by leave of court, could come in at any time within a year and answer to the merits; therefore, they were not entitled to maintain a suit in equity to set aside the proceedings.

Baer v. Higson, 26 U. 78; 72 P. 180.

On a question as to whether appellant moved for a new trial during the term, the supreme court cannot take judicial notice as to when the term adjourned in the absence of any statutory or constitutional provision fixing the same.

Felt v. Cook, 31 U. 299; 87 P. 1092.

Where a copy of the complaint is not filed within ten days after service of summons, owing to a misunderstanding by the stenographer of the attorney for plaintiff, the lower court should have permitted a copy to be filed and not have dismissed the suit.

West Mountain L. & S. Co. v. Danley, 38 U. 218; 111 P. 647.

6620. (3006.) Officer sued for conversion may plead and prove value. When in an action to recover the possession of personal property, the person making an affidavit did not truly state the value of the property, and the officer taking the property or the sureties on any bond or undertaking are sued for taking the same, the officer or sureties may in their answers set up the true value of the property, and that the person in whose behalf said affidavit was made was entitled to the possession of the same when said affidavit was made, or that the value in the affidavit stated was inserted by mistake, and the court shall disregard the value as stated in the affidavit, and give judgment according to the right of possession of said property at the time the affidavit was made.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 473*.

Justification of officer, note to § 6713.

Parties in action against sheriff, etc., to recover personal property, § 6515.

6621. (3007.) Defendant's name unknown, fictitious name used. When the plaintiff is ignorant of the name of a defendant, he must state that fact in the complaint, and such defendant may be designated in any pleading or proceeding by any name, and when his true name is discovered, the pleading or proceeding must be amended accordingly.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 474.

Service by publicattion upon unknown party, § 6551.

6622. (3008.) Errors and defects not substantial, disregarded. The court must in every stage of an action disregard any error or defect in the pleadings or proceedings, which does not affect the substantial rights of the parties, and no judgment shall be reversed or affected by reason of such error or defect.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 475.

Exception not regarded unless substantial right affected, § 6968, and note.

Provisions to be liberally construed, § 5839, 6596.

Similar section, criminal procedure, § 9365.

Proceedings on attachment to be liberally construed, § 6728.

Case will not be reversed on appeal for harmless errors and technicalities, note to § 6994.

Objections to pleadings, etc., not taken deemed waived, § 6573, and note.

Examining criminal jury, § 8927.

It is the duty of the court in every stage of the action, to disregard any error or defect in the pleading or proceedings which does not affect the substantial rights of the parties.

Barton v. S. Jordan Merc. Inst., 10 U. 346; 37 P. 576.

Mills v. Gray, 50 U. —; 167 P. 358.

Where the judgment comes within the issue, and the facts show a right of recovery in the plaintiff, the mere fact that language is used in the complaint which technically applies to another form of action will not, under the circumstances, warrant a reversal.

Nebeker v. Harvey, 21 U. 363; 60 P. 1029.
A defendant cannot on appeal attack the ruling of the lower court on a special demurrer alleging misjoinder of parties and causes of action without showing he was injuriously affected thereby.
Morris v. Salt Lake City, 35 U. 474; 101 P. 373.

Hogge v. S. L. & O. R. Co., 47 U. 266; 153 P. 585.

6623. (3009.) Time to amend, answer, etc., runs from service of notice. Exception. When a demurrer to any pleading is sustained or overruled and time to amend, answer, or reply is given, the time so given runs from service of notice of the decision or order, except when the party against whom the decision is made, or his attorney, is present and asks for and is given time to amend, answer, or reply, in which case no notice of the decision is required.
Cal. C. Civ. P., § 476*.
Time for service, etc., of bill of exceptions, § 6969, and note.
Time to move for new trial does not begin to run until notice of decision has been served, note to § 6980.
Time to answer did not begin to run until notice, though defendant, being in court, had actual knowledge of the order made.
McCord & N. Mer. Co. v. Glenn, 6 U. 139; 21 P. 500.

CHAPTER 18.

ARREST.

6630. (3010.) Arrest in civil action. No person shall be arrested in a civil action except an absconding debtor.
Cal. C. Civ. P., § 478*.
There shall be no imprisonment for debt, except in cases of absconding debtors, Con. art. 1, sec. 16.
Member militia exempt, when, § 2871.

6631. (3011.) Order, by whom made. An order for such arrest must be obtained from a judge of the court in which the action is brought.
Cal. C. Civ. P., § 480.

6632. (3012.) Id. Made on affidavit showing cause. The order may be made whenever it appears to the judge by the affidavit of the plaintiff or of some other person that a sufficient cause of action exists, and that the case is such as is mentioned in § 6630. The affidavit must be either positive or upon information and belief; and when upon information and belief, it must state the facts upon which the information and belief are founded. If an order of arrest be made, the affidavit must be filed with the clerk of the court.
Cal. C. Civ. P., § 481.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 482.
If action dismissed, undertaking delivered to defendant, § 6848.
Qualifications of sureties generally, § 7223.
Where undertaking is not given until after arrest, but sureties have full knowledge of the facts and without objection as to time of its execution, they cannot afterward be heard to complain.
Vanderberg v. Connoly, 18 U. 112; 54 P. 1097.

6634. (3014.) Order made at any time before judgment. Contents. The order may be made at the time of the filing of the complaint, or at any time afterward, before judgment. It must require the sheriff of the county where the defendant may be found forthwith to arrest him and hold him to bail in a specified sum, and to return the order at a time therein mentioned to the clerk of the court in which the action is pending.
Cal. C. Civ. P., § 483*.

6635. (3015.) Copy of affidavit and order delivered to defendant. The order of arrest, with a copy of the affidavit upon which it is made, must be delivered to the officer, who, upon arresting the defendant, must deliver to him a copy of the affidavit, and also, if desired, a copy of the order of arrest.
Cal. C. Civ. P., § 484.

6636. (3016.) Arrest, by whom and how made. The sheriff must execute the order by arresting the defendant and keeping him in custody until discharged by law.
Cal. C. Civ. P., § 485.

6637. (3017.) Defendant discharged on bail or deposit. The defendant, at any time before execution, must be discharged from the arrest, either upon giving bail or upon depositing the amount mentioned in the order of arrest.
Cal. C. Civ. P., § 486.

6638. (3018.) Id. Form of undertaking. The defendant may give bail by causing a written undertaking to be executed by two or more sufficient sureties, to the effect that they are bound in the amount mentioned in the order of arrest, that the defendant will at all times render himself amenable to the process of the court during the pendency of the action, and to such as may be issued to enforce the judgment therein, or that they will pay to the plaintiff the amount of any judgment which may be recovered in the action.
Cal. C. Civ. P., § 487. Qualifications of bail, § 3025.

6639. (3019.) Bail may surrender defendant. Voluntary surrender. At any time before judgment or within ten days thereafter, the bail may surrender the defendant in their exoneration, or he may surrender himself to the sheriff of the county where he was arrested.
Cal. C. Civ. P., § 488. Execution against the person, §§ 6913, 6916.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 489.

6641. (3021.) Action against bail. If the bail neglect or refuse to pay the judgment within ten days after they are finally charged, an action may be commenced against such bail for the amount of the original judgment.
Cal. C. Civ. P., § 490.

6642. (3022.) Bail exonerated by death, etc., of defendant. The bail are exonerated by the death of the defendant, by his imprisonment in the state prison, or by his legal discharge from the obligation to render himself amenable to the process.
Cal. C. Civ. P., § 491.

6643. (3023.) Return of officer. Plaintiff may except to bail. Within the time limited for that purpose, the sheriff must file the order of arrest in the office of the clerk of the court in which the action is pending, with his return indorsed thereon, together with a copy of the undertaking. The original undertaking he must retain in his possession until filed, as herein provided. The plaintiff, within ten days thereafter, may serve upon the sheriff notice that he does not accept the bail, or he is deemed to have accepted them, and the officer is exonerated from liability. If no notice be served within ten days, the original undertaking must be filed with the clerk of the court.
Cal. C. Civ. P., § 492.

6644. (3024.) Notice of qualification of bail. Within five days after the receipt of notice, the sheriff or defendant may give to the plaintiff, or his attorney, notice of the justification of the same, or other bail (specifying the places of residence and occupations of the latter), before the judge of the court, or clerk, at a specified time and place; the time to be not less than five nor more than ten days thereafter, except by consent of parties. In case other bail be given, there must be a new undertaking.
Cal. C. Civ. P., § 493.

6645. (3025.) Qualifications of bail. The qualifications of bail are as follows:

1. Each of them shall be a resident and householder or freeholder within the state;

2. Each must be worth the amount specified in the order of arrest, or the amount to which the order is reduced, as provided in this chapter, over and above all his debts and liabilities, exclusive of property exempt from execution; but the judge or clerk, on justification, may allow more than two sureties to justify severally in amounts less than that expressed in the order, if the whole justification be equivalent to that of two sufficient bail.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 494. Qualifications of sureties generally, § 7223.

6646. (3026.) Justification of bail, how conducted. For the purpose of justification, each of the bail must attend before the judge or clerk, at the time and place mentioned in the notice, and may be examined on oath, on the part of the plaintiff, touching his sufficiency, in such manner as the judge or clerk in his discretion may think proper. The examination must be reduced to writing, and subscribed by the bail, if required by the plaintiff.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 495.

6647. (3027.) Allowance of bail exonerates officer. If the judge or clerk find the bail sufficient, he must annex the examination to the undertaking, indorse his allowance thereon, and cause them to be filed, and the officer is thereupon exonerated from liability.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 496.

6648. (3028.) Deposit in lieu of bail. Certificate. Discharge. The defendant may, at the time of his arrest, instead of giving bail, deposit with the sheriff the amount mentioned in the order. In case the amount of the bail be reduced as provided in this chapter, the defendant may deposit such amount instead of giving bail. In either case, the sheriff must give the defendant a certificate of the deposit made, and the defendant must be discharged from custody.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 497.

6649. (3029.) Sheriff must pay deposit into court. The sheriff must, immediately after the deposit, pay the same into court, and take from the clerk receiving the same two certificates of such payment, one of which he must deliver or transmit to the plaintiff, or his attorney, and the other to the defendant. For any default in making such payment, the same proceedings may be had on the official bond of the sheriff to collect the sum deposited as in other cases of delinquency.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 498.

6650. (3030.) Undertaking may be substituted for deposit. If money be deposited, as provided in the two next preceding sections, bail may be given, and may justify upon notice at any time before judgment; and on the filing of the undertaking and justification with the clerk, the money deposited must be refunded to the defendant.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 499.

6651. (3031.) How deposit disposed of. Where money has been deposited, if it remain on deposit at the time of the recovery of a judgment in favor of the plaintiff, the clerk must, under the direction of the court, apply the same in satisfaction thereof, and after satisfying the judgment must refund the surplus, if any, to the defendant. If the judgment be in favor of the defendant, the clerk must, under the direction of the court, refund to him the whole sum deposited and remaining unapplied.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 500.

6652. (3032.) When sheriff liable as bail. Discharge. If, after being arrested, the defendant escape, or be rescued, or bail be not taken, or be adjudged insufficient, the sheriff is liable as bail; but he may discharge himself from such liability by giving bail at any time before judgment.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 501*. Limitation of action against sheriff, one year, § 6470.
Escape, liability of sheriff, § 1514.

6653. (3033.) Id. Recovery on sheriff's official bond. If a judgment be recovered against the sheriff upon his liability as bail, and an execution thereon is returned unsatisfied, in whole or in part, the same proceedings may be had on his official bond for the recovery of the whole or any deficiency, as in other cases of delinquency.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 502.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 503. Motion to obtain discharge from arrest, §§ 6657-6661.
Effect of discharge from arrest, § 6661.

6655. (3035.) Id. Order. If upon application it appears that there was not sufficient cause for the arrest, the order must be vacated; or if it appears that the bail was fixed too high, the amount must be reduced.
Cal. C. Civ. P., § 504.

CHAPTER 19.

DISCHARGE FROM ARREST.

6656. (3036.) Discharge from arrest as provided in this chapter. Any person confined in jail on an execution issued on a judgment recovered in a civil action must be discharged therefrom upon the conditions in this chapter specified.
Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1143. Execution against the person, §§ 6913, 6916.

6657. (3037.) Notice of application to court. Such person must cause a notice in writing to be given to the plaintiff, his agent, or attorney when and where he will apply to the district judge of the county in which he may be confined for the purpose of obtaining a discharge from his imprisonment.
Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1144. Application to vacate order of arrest, § 6654.

6658. (3038.) Id. Service, upon whom and when made. Such notice must be served upon the plaintiff, his agent, or attorney one day at least before the hearing of the application. But if the plaintiff be not a resident of the county, and have no agent or attorney in the county, no such notice will be served.
Mont. Civ. P., § 2062. Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1145*.

6659. (3039.) Hearing. Creditor may have evidence written. At the time and place specified in the notice, such person must be taken under the custody of the sheriff before the district judge and examined on oath concerning his property and effects and the disposal thereof and his ability to pay the judgment for which he is committed. The district judge shall also hear any other legal and pertinent evidence that may be produced by the debtor or creditor. Such examination must, at the election of the creditor, be reduced to writing and subscribed and sworn to by the debtor and other witnesses.
N. Dak. (1895) § 6139. Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1146*.

6660. (3040.) If not discharged, may apply again at end of every ten days. If, upon the examination, the judge is satisfied that the prisoner is entitled to his discharge, he must so order. If such judge does not discharge the prisoner, he may apply for his discharge at the end of every succeeding ten days in the same manner as above provided, and the same proceedings must thereupon be had.
Cal. C. Civ. P., §§ 1148*-1150*.

6661. (3041.) Discharge final for same debt. Exception. The prisoner, after being so discharged, shall be forever exempt from arrest or imprisonment for the same debt, unless he shall be convicted of having wilfully sworn falsely upon his examination or in taking the oath before prescribed.
Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1151.

6662. (3042.) Judgment remains in force though defendant discharged. The judgment against any prisoner who is discharged remains in full force against any estate which may then or at any time afterward belong to him, and the plaintiff may take out a new execution against the goods and the estate of the debtor, in like manner and with like effect as if he had never been committed.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1152.

6663. (3043.) Plaintiff may order discharge. Effect. The plaintiff in the action may at any time order the prisoner to be discharged, and he is not thereafter liable to imprisonment for the same cause of action.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1153.

6664. (3044.) Plaintiff must advance jailer's costs. Whenever a debtor is committed to jail on execution in a civil action, the creditor, his agent, or attorney must advance to the jailer, on such commitment, sufficient money for the support of the prisoner for one week, and must make the like advance for every successive week of his imprisonment, and in case of a failure to do so, the jailer must forthwith discharge such prisoner from custody; and such discharge shall have the same effect as if made by order of the creditor.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1154.

Payment of cost of keeping person committed on civil process, § 1508.

CHAPTER 20.

CLAIM AND DELIVERY.

6670. (3045.) Delivery may be claimed before answer. The plaintiff in an action to recover the possession of personal property may, at the time of issuing the summons, or at any time before answer, claim the delivery of such property to him as provided in this chapter.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 509.

Limitation on action for personal property, three years, § 6468.

In replevin, the rule that a party who relies upon fraud must allege and prove it does not always apply.

Munns v. Loveland, 15 U. 250; 49 P. 743.

Jones v. McQueen, 13 U. 178; 45 P. 202.

Where an organ was set up in a church by plaintiff upon an agreement made with one who represented that he was the agent of the trustees, when he was not, and trustees refused to ratify the contract and pay for it, plaintiff might recover the organ or its value in case the organ could not be returned.

Farrand & V. O. Co. v. M. E. Church, 18 U. 29; 54 P. 818.

Without alleging special damages plaintiff may recover in replevin what the use of the property was reasonably worth during its detention.

Id.

A cause of action arises when and where the demand is made and the refusal occurs; and the fact that thereafter process may have been served in another county is immaterial, because the question is not where the property was when process was served, but where it was when demand was made for its possession.

Nebeker v. Harvey, 21 U. 363; 60 P. 1029.

Complaint in action to recover personal property must allege that plaintiff is the owner or entitled to the possession at the time of the commencement of the action.

Manti Bank v. Peterson, 30 U. 475; 86 P. 414.

Chambers v. Emery, 36 U. 380; 103 P. 1081.

One cannot maintain replevin against a joint tenant.

Hill v. Saeger, 3 U. 379; 3 P. 545.

Where a person comes lawfully into possession of another's property, a demand by the person entitled thereto must first be made before institution of action, unless the defendant's conduct obviates the necessity for demand.

Nielson v. Hyland, 51 U. —; 170 P. 778.

Where the only issue is as to the alleged wrongful taking, no demand is necessary, and the cause of action arises when the unlawful taking and detention occur.

Woodward v. Edmunds, 20 U. 118; 67 P. 848.

Judgment for defendant, in replevin on a bill of sale unconnected with plaintiff's title, was unjustified where there is uncontradicted evidence that the plaintiff had previously bought the property, and no evidence that it had parted with it.

Hydraulic, etc. v. Christensen, 38 U. 525; 114. P. 524.

Where the defendant in replevin claims only a special interest in the property under an attachment, a judgment for the defendant should state the value of the property and the value of the defendant's interest therein.

Bolitho v. East, 45 U. 181; 143 P. 584.

Where inseverable personal property is held by several persons as joint tenants, the tenant in actual possession may retain it as against the co-tenants.

Rocky Farm Co. v. Lunt, 46 U. 299; 151 P. 521.

A tenant in common of sheep may maintain replevin against his co-tenant for his individual interest.

Manti Savings Bk. v. Peterson, 33 U. 209; 93 P. 566.

Where a party taking up animals fails to impound them as estrays, and deliver them to the poundkeeper, he becomes a trespasser ab initio, and no demand by the owner is necessary.

Neilsen v. Hyland, 51 U. —; 170 P. 778.

No damages for the use of a work horse can be awarded where there is no evidence as to the rental value of horses at the place of defendant's residence or that plaintiff could have used the horses at any time during the period of their wrongful detention.

Id.

The complaint in replevin, alleging in the present tense ownership and right of possession, is sufficient, and allows proof thereof as of the time the action was started, though the filing of the complaint was a few days after the verification.

James v. Jensen, 50 U. —; 167 P. 827.
Jones v. West Pub. Co., 51 —; 174 P. —.

Ordinarily counterclaims or counterdemands cannot be litigated in replevin actions, though in certain instances setoffs may be allowed to a limited extent.
Beck v. Lee, 51 U. —; 172 P. 686.

6671. (3046.) Requirements of affidavit. By whom made. When a delivery is claimed, an affidavit must be made by the plaintiff, or by some one on his behalf, showing:

1. A description of the property claimed;
2. That the plaintiff is the owner of the property claimed or has a special ownership or interest therein, stating the facts in relation thereto, and that he is entitled to the possession thereof;
3. That the property is wrongfully detained by the defendant;
4. The alleged cause of the detention thereof, according to his best knowledge, information, and belief;
5. That it has not been taken for a tax, assessment, or fine, pursuant to a statute, or seized under an execution or an attachment against the property of the plaintiff; or if so seized, that it is by statute exempt from such seizure; and,
6. The actual value of the property.

Kansas (1889) § 4260*. Cal. C. Civ. P., § 510*. In action to recover personal property taken by an officer under protest, the officer is not bound by the value stated in the affidavit, § 6620.

6672. (3047.) Order to sheriff indorsed on affidavit. The plaintiff or his attorney may, thereupon, by an indorsement in writing upon the affidavit, require the sheriff of the county where the property claimed may be to take the same from the defendant.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 511.
To excuse omission of sheriff, directions by party or attorney must be in writing, § 1517.
In an action of replevin where, after judgment against plaintiffs, they denied that the attorney who brought the suit was authorized to bring such action, but the evidence showed that they had taken possession of the goods through their agent; held, that by accepting the goods they ratified the attorney's acts in bringing the suit.
Brown v. Parsons, 10 U. 322; 37 P. 346.

6673. (3048.) Undertaking. Sheriff to take property and serve papers. Upon receipt of the affidavit and notice with a written undertaking, executed by two or more sufficient sureties, approved by the sheriff, to the effect that they are bound to the defendant in double the value of the property, as stated in the affidavit, for the prosecution of the action, for the return of the property to the defendant, if return thereof be adjudged, and for the payment to him of such sum as may from any cause be recovered against the plaintiff, the officer must forthwith take the property described in the affidavit, if it be in the possession of the defendant or his agent, and retain it in his custody. He must without delay, serve on the defendant a copy of the affidavit, notice, and undertaking, by delivering the same to him personally, if he can be found, or to his agent, from whose possession the property is taken; or if neither can be found, by leaving them at the usual place of abode of either, with some person of suitable age and discretion, or if neither have any known place of abode, by putting them in the nearest postoffice postpaid directed to the defendant.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 512.
If action dismissed, undertaking delivered to defendant, § 6848.
Qualifications of sureties hereunder, § 6677.
Qualifications of sureties generally, § 7223.
Return of notice, undertaking, and affidavit, § 6681.
Verdict in action to recover personal property, § 6823; judgment, § 6864; execution, §§ 6913, 6916.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 513.
Surety company not required to justify, § 1210.

6675. (3050.) Redelivery to defendant on giving bond. At any time before the delivery of the property to the plaintiff, the defendant may, if he do not except to the sureties of the plaintiff, require the return thereof, upon giving to the sheriff a written undertaking, executed by two or more sufficient sureties, to the effect that they are bound in double the value of the property, as stated in the affidavit of the plaintiff, for the delivery thereof to the plaintiff, if such delivery be adjudged, and for the payment to him of such sum as may, for any cause, be recovered against the defendant. If a return of the property be not so required within two days after the taking and service of notice to the defendant, it must be delivered to the plaintiff, except as provided in § 6680.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 514*.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 515.

6677. (3052.) Qualifications of sureties and manner of justification. The qualifications of sureties and their justification must be such as are prescribed by this code in respect to bail upon an order of arrest.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 516*. Qualifications of bail on arrest, § 6645.

6678. (3053.) Concealed property may be taken by force after demand. If the property, or any part thereof, be concealed in a building or inclosure, the sheriff must publicly demand its delivery. If it be not delivered, he must cause the building or inclosure to be broken open, and take the property into his possession, and if necessary, he may call to his aid the power of the county.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 517.

6679. (3054.) Delivery of property on payment of fees, etc. When the sheriff has taken the property as in this chapter provided, he shall keep it in a secure place and deliver it to the party entitled thereto, upon receiving his fees for taking, and necessary expenses for keeping the same.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 518.

6680. (3055.) Claim by third person. Plaintiff to indemnify officer. If the property taken be claimed by another person than the defendant, or his agent, and such person make affidavit of his title thereto, or right to the possession thereof, stating the grounds of such title or right, and serve the same upon the sheriff, such officer is not bound to keep the property, or deliver it to the plaintiff, unless the plaintiff, on demand of him or his agent, indemnify the officer against such claim by an undertaking, by two sufficient sureties.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 519*.

6681. (3056.) Return to be made within twenty days. The sheriff must file the notice, undertaking, and affidavit, with his proceedings thereon, with the clerk of the court in which the action is pending, within twenty days after taking the property mentioned therein.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 520.

CHAPTER 21.

INJUNCTION.

6687. (3057.) Injunction defined. Granted by court or judge. An injunction is a writ or order requiring a person to refrain from a particular act. The writ or order may be granted by the court in which the action is brought, or by a judge thereof, and when made by a judge may be enforced as the order of the court.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 525.

When judge may hear ex parte applications from another district, § 1677.

Power of judge at chambers, §§ 1679, 1805.

Original jurisdiction in district court, Con. art. 8, sec. 7, § 1667.

May be issued and served on legal holiday, § 1806.

Appeal does not stay injunction, note to § 6693.

Appeal does not lie from an order granting an injunction pendente lite.

North Point Canal Co. v. Utah & S. L. Canal Co., 14 U. 155; 46 P. 824.

CONTEMPT:

When the court, in allowing an appeal and supersedeas, has expressly refused to suspend the injunction appealed from, it may punish a breach of said injunction pending appeal.

In re Whitmore, 9 U. 441; 35 P. 524.

See Elliot v. Whitmore, 10 U. 238; 37 P. 459.

An order restraining certain officers of a corporation from selling treasury stock was in force when the stock was sold on a judgment obtained by a third person. The defendants were elected directors partly through the votes of the execution purchaser; held, that the defendants constituted a lawful board of directors, and that the officers had committed no breach of the restraining order.

Coit v. Freed, 15 U. 426; 49 P. 533.

To constitute a violation of an injunction, it must satisfactorily appear that the acts performed were included within the scope of the order.

Id.

6688. (3058.) In what cases granted. An injunction may be granted in the following cases:

1. When it appears by the complaint that the plaintiff is entitled to the relief demanded, and such relief, or any part thereof, consists in restraining the commission or continuance of the act complained of, either for a limited period or perpetually;

2. When it appears by the complaint or affidavit that the commission or continuance of some act, during the litigation, would produce great or irreparable injury to the plaintiff;

3. When it appears during the litigation that the defendant is doing or threatens or is about to do, or is procuring or suffering to be done, some act in violation of the plaintiff's rights respecting the subject of the action, and tending to render the judgment ineffectual;

4. An injunction may also be granted on the motion of the defendant, upon filing an answer praying for affirmative relief upon any of the grounds mentioned in this section, subject to the rules and provisions provided for the issuance of injunctions on behalf of the plaintiff.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 526*.

Injunction to restrain waste during period of redemption, § 6946.

Restraining order when trial postponed to permit further development of mining claim, § 6787.

Injunction to restrain waste during foreclosure, § 7254.

Injunction to restrain foreclosure of chattel mortgage by advertisement and sale, § 472.

Injunction not to be granted to restrain collection of taxes, etc., exception, §§ 6094-6096.

Injunction to restrain publication of name, portrait, or picture for advertising purposes, § 8179.

Public utility commission may secure against public utility, § 4842.

Injunction, when issued in labor disputes, § 3652.

Injunction, abating nuisance, §§ 8177-8179.

Injunction, not granted against industrial commission, § 3161; dissolution fraternal insurance society, § 3297; public utility commission, except by supreme court, § 4834.

Facts sufficient to warrant relief must be alleged.

Mercur G. M. & M. Co. v. Spry, 16 U. 222; 52 P. 382.

The collection of an illegal tax by sale of a railroad company's cars will not be enjoined on the ground that a cloud will thereby cast on the company's realty, though it does not affirmatively appear that the personal property levied on is of sufficient value to pay the tax, as the presumption always is that a levy is sufficient to satisfy the demand.

O. S. L. Ry. Co. v. Standing, 10 U. 452; 37 P. 687.

Appellants owned the alternate sections of land through a district forty miles long and thirty-six miles wide, which were unfenced, and remaining sections of which belonged to the government. In an action brought for an injunction to restrain defendants from crossing over said alternate sections and from pasturing their sheep thereon, held, that the facts stated in the complaint were not sufficient to warrant the granting of the injunction.

Buford v. Houtz, 5 U. 591; 18 P. 633; affirmed, 133 U. S. 320.

Where acts of trespass are repeated, continuing, and ruinous, or the damage irreparable, and the remedy at law is inadequate, injunction will lie.

Strawberry Valley C. Co. v. Chipman, 13 U. 454; 45 P. 348.

Where an assessment on the capital stock of a corporation has been made by a board of directors de jure, and there is no question as to any irregularity in the levy, or any want of authority on the part of the lawful board to make it, the assessment will be valid, and an injunction to restrain the collection denied.

Chandler v. Sheep Rock M. Co., 15 U. 434; 49 P. 535.

Where, by reason of the destruction of the record, a party has been prevented from appealing, a court of equity may enjoin the execution of the judgment and grant a new trial, but not unless it is made to appear that material errors were committed affecting the substantial rights of the party seeking relief.

Bailey v. Stevens, 11 U. 175; 39 P. 828.

In refusing to permit the board of public works of Salt Lake City to act in accordance with law, and directing the superintendent of waterworks and city engineer to construct improvements independent of said board, defendants are acting without authority of law and should be enjoined.

A party basing his right to enjoin another from interfering with the use of land, upon either adverse user or upon dedication, whether express or implied, must plead facts constituting such right or claim.

Farr v. Wheelwright C. Co., 49 U. 274; 163 P. 256.

The court may, in a proper case where there are both legal and equitable remedies, limit the complaining party to his legal remedy, especially where the injury may be fully compensated by damages and where, to do otherwise, would inflict an unnecessary expense on the wrongdoer.

Lewis v. Pingree Natl. Bank, 47 U. 35; 151 P. 558.

Equity has no jurisdiction to restrain prosecutions for violation of an ordinance prohibiting the sale of liquor in a "dry" city.

Hoffman v. Tooele City et al., 42 U. 353; 130 P. 61.

In a boundary dispute where it is claimed one of the parties has built over the line, but there is uncertainty as to the real line, where no injury would result to complaining party by granting him what he was entitled to according to his possessory rights, and injustice would result if more were given, the doubt should be resolved in favor of the party on whom unnecessary injury would be inflicted by compelling the other to undo what he had done, though in good faith and under a claim of right.

Mayor v. Flynn, 46 U. 598; 150 P. 962.

RAILROADS:

Injunction may command removal of obstruction on railroad.

Henderson v. Ogden City Ry., 7 U. 199; 26 P. 286.

An injunction at the suit of abutting owners will be issued against a street railway which, pursuant to a franchise, is proceeding to construct a railway upon a street already incumbered by two tracks and numerous poles, where the tracks already on the street are sufficient for the public uses and the new track will seriously injure the use of the street for ordinary purposes.

Dooly Block v. S. L. Rapid Transit Co., 9 U. 31; 33 P. 229.

The owner of land who makes no objection to the construction of a railway track thereon does not by his mere silence and inaction lose the right to obtain an injunction restraining the operation of such railway, unless damages are paid for the land.

Coombs v. Salt Lake and Ft. Douglas Co., 9 U. 322; 34 P. 248.

In case of a railroad track about to be laid in a street and across a sidewalk, without lawful authority, in such a way as to become a public and private nuisance, a private citizen specially damaged may have the threatened damage enjoined.

Cereghino v. O. S. L. R. R. Co., 26 U. 467; 73 P. 634.

A switch track which is a part of a general railway system, which is not designed for the exclusive use of any particular shipper, but may be used by all shippers, is a public utility, and the operation thereof in the streets, when properly authorized, will not be enjoined but the extension which runs in private property for individual use may be enjoined.

One tenant in common of mine will not be enjoined from working the same at suit of his co-tenant, he being pecuniarily able to respond in damages.

Kahn v. Old Tel. Mining Co., 2 U. 13.

An injunction is a preventive remedy only and cannot be invoked to restrain a party from doing an act which he has already done.

Kahn v. Old Tel. Mining Co., 2 U. 13.

But see Henderson v. Ogden City Ry., 7 U. 199; 26 P. 286, and Paragoonah F. & C. Co. v. Edwards, 9 U. 477; 35 P. 487.

The court will not ordinarily exercise the summary and extraordinary remedy of injunction, except where there is probability of irreparable injury, inadequacy of pecuniary compensation, or to prevent a multiplicity of suits, where there is reason to fear substantial, serious, and irreparable damage, for which a court of law would furnish no adequate relief.

McGregor v. Silver King M. Co., 14 U. 47; 45 P. 1091.

The entering upon defendant's mining claim and the digging of a trench and laying of a pipe therein is not such a violation of defendant's rights as to entitle him to an injunction.

Crescent M. Co. v. Silver King M. Co., 17 U. 444; 54 P. 244.

Same case, 14 U. 47; 45 P. 1091.

INTERFERENCE WITH WATER RIGHTS:

To compel removal of obstructions from canal.

To prevent the pollution of waters used for irrigation and domestic purposes.

Crane v. Winsor, 2 U. 248.

North Point C. I. Co. v. Utah & S. L. C. Co., 16 U. 246; 52 P. 168.

In order to successfully maintain an injunction proceeding it must appear that the acts of those sued caused the injury, and that if such acts are continued, damages will follow.

West Point Irr. Co. v. Moroni, etc., Ditch Co., 21 U. 229; 61 P. 16.

Before an appropriator of water can be enjoined for diversion by an appropriator farther down the stream, it must satisfactorily appear that, had the water been allowed to pass down the stream, it would have reached plaintiff's ditch.

Id.

6689. (3059.) Notice. Restraining order. Application, how made. Evidence on hearing. An injunction shall not be granted, except upon notice, or upon an order to show cause; but, in the meantime, the defendant may be restrained until the decision of the court or judge, granting or refusing the injunction is rendered. When an order to show cause is granted without notice, a copy of the pleadings and affidavits upon which it was allowed must be served with the order. An application for an injunction or order to show cause may be made on verified pleadings, or on verified pleadings and affidavits, and the application for the injunction may be heard upon the pleadings, affidavits, and other evidence. Satisfactory cause must be shown for the issuance of the injunction or restraining order.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 528*.

6690. (3060.) Undertaking, when required. Justification of sureties. Failure. On granting a restraining order or an injunction, the court or judge must require, except when the state, a county, or a municipal or other public corporation, or a married woman in a suit against her husband, is plaintiff, a written undertaking on the part of the plaintiff, with sufficient sureties, to the effect that the plaintiff will pay to the party enjoined such damages, not exceeding an amount to be specified, as such party may sustain by reason of the injunction, if the court finally decides that the plaintiff was not entitled thereto. Within five days after the service of the restraining order or injunction, the defendant may except to the sufficiency of the sureties. If he fails to do so, he is deemed to have waived all objections to them. When excepted to, the plaintiff's sureties, upon notice to the defendant of not less than two nor more than five days, must justify before a judge or clerk of the court in the same manner as upon bail upon arrest, and upon failure to justify, or if others in their place fail to justify at the time and place appointed, the order granting a restraining order or an injunction shall be dissolved. If an injunction be asked against any person or corporation alleged to be maintaining a nuisance, the court may, if it be a proper case therefor, refuse the granting of an injunction which would prevent the operation of the business creating such nuisance, requiring the defendant, as a condition of such refusal, to execute and file with the clerk of the court a bond or undertaking in such amount as the court may fix, with sureties approved by the court, conditioned to pay to the plaintiff all damages that may be recovered on account of a continuance of the nuisance complained of. Am'd '03, p. 52.

If action dismissed, undertaking delivered to defendant, § 6848.
Justification of bail on arrest, §§ 6645, 6646.
Qualifications of sureties generally, § 7223.

6691. (3061.) Business of corporation suspended only upon notice. Exception. An injunction to suspend the general and ordinary business of a corporation cannot be granted without due notice of the application therefor to the proper officer or agent of the corporation, except when the state is a party to the proceeding.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 531*.

6692. (3062.) Motion to dissolve or modify. Notice. Hearing. If an injunction be granted without notice, the defendant, at any time before the trial, may apply, upon reasonable notice, to the judge who granted the injunction, or to the court in which the action is pending, or a judge thereof, to dissolve or modify the same. The application may be made upon the complaint and the affidavit or affidavits on which the injunction was granted, if any were used, or upon affidavits or other testimony on the part of the defendant, with or without the answer. If the application be made upon affidavits, or other evidence on the part of the defendant, but not otherwise, the plaintiff may oppose the same by affidavits or other evidence in addition to those on which the injunction was granted, and the defendant may then, in proper cases, introduce rebutting affidavits or other evidence; provided, that for the purpose of allowing the plaintiff to introduce further evidence, the answer or verification thereto attached shall be deemed an affidavit.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 532*. See Sup. (1889) p. 369.

6693. (3063.) Id. Order dissolving or modifying. If upon such application it satisfactorily appears that there is not sufficient ground for the injunction, it must be dissolved; or if it satisfactorily appears that the extent of the injunction is too great, it must be modified.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 533.
Where defendants were deprived of possession of mining ground under a restraining order improperly issued, the judge who granted the same cannot without notice, restore defendants to possession.

CHAPTER 22.

ATTACHMENT.

1. Is not residing in this state; or,

2. Stands in defiance of an officer, or conceals himself so that process cannot be served upon him; or,

3. Has assigned, disposed of, or concealed, or is about to assign, dispose of, or conceal, any of his property with intent to defraud his creditors; or,

4. Has departed or is about to depart from the state to the injury of his creditors; or,

5. Fraudulently contracted the debt, or incurred the obligation respecting which the action is brought.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 537*.

Sufficiency of affidavits, notes to §§ 6706, 6128.

Property exempt from attachment, §§ 6712, 6923-6927.

No exemption for non-resident or person about to depart except ordinary wearing apparel, § 6927.

Causes for attachment shall not be stated in the alternative, § 6728.

Writ of garnishment may be issued when attachment issued or thereafter, § 6730.

Attachment of property of lessee by landlord, §§ 3778-3782.

Fraudulent sales, etc., void, §§ 5135, 5821.

Fraudulent concealment or disposal of property, a misdemeanor, §§ 8006, 8007.

May not defeat title of transferee under non-negotiable document of title, when, § 5143.

Will not lie against goods for which negotiable document of title issued, when, § 5148.

Will not lie where negotiable warehouse receipt is issued unless surrendered, § 6225.

Under the facts stated; held, that the right of stoppage in transitu prevailed over the attempted levy by an attachment:

Kissel v. U. P. Ry. Co., 6 U. 128; 21 P. 499.

Plaintiff brought suit on a note not asking foreclosure of the mortgage, and obtained a writ of attachment on defendant's property on an affidavit that the mortgage had become nugatory by the act of the defendant; held, that such action was a waiver of the mortgage lien.

Bacon v. Reybould, 4 U. 357; 10 P. 481, 11 P. 510.

Whatever motive or malice prompts the bringing of an attachment suit, and though it terminates in favor of defendant, no action will lie unless the attachment was sued out without probable cause.

Cahoon v. Hoggan, 31 U. 74; 86 P. 763.

Hamer v. First N. Bank, 9 U. 215; 33 P. 941.

One who claims the attached property may intervene in the attachment suit and have his rights determined but he cannot question the regularity and validity of the attachment.

Houston etc. v. Hechler, 44 U. 64; 138 P. 1159.

Under § 6323, the sale of chattels in the vendor's possession without a delivery and actual and continual change of possession is such a fraud as permits the issuance of an attachment irrespective of any actual intent to defraud.

Charleston Co-op. v. Allen, 40 U. 575; 123 P. 578.

Mortgaging property pursuant to an agreement to secure an accommodation indorser of the mortgagor's note is not a fraudulent disposition of the property so as to permit an attachment.

Godbe v. Allen, 8 U. 117; 29 P. 881.

If the res are in the state, the court has jurisdiction.

Thum v. Pingree, 31 U. 348; 61 P. 18.

An attachment proceeding is essentially one in rem.

Bristol v. Brent, 36 U. 108; 103 P. 1076.

Griffin v. Howell, 38 U. 357; 113 P. 326.

But if the court has jurisdiction of the defendant, the proceeding is in the nature of a personal action.

Id.

Where property alleged to belong to defendant was released from attachment on a claimant depositing a sum of money to secure plain-tiff's recovery, if any, and the property was thereupon returned to the claimant, the court in which the attachment was pending had no jurisdiction, on motion, to enter an order discharging the same or releasing the deposit on affidavits of the claimant that the property attached and deposit made in lieu thereof belonged to him and not to the attachment defendant.

Larsen v. Richards, 43 U. 196; 134 P. 583.

6705. (3065.) Attachment before maturity of claim. Judgment. A creditor may bring an action on his claim before it is due and have an attachment against the property of the debtor in the cases mentioned in subs. 3, 4, and 5 of the next preceding section, and the property attached, or its proceeds, after its disposition as provided in §§ 6718, 6719, may be held subject to the judgment thereafter to be rendered; but no judgment shall be rendered thereon until such obligation shall, by its terms, become due.

Judgment against garnishee for debt not due, § 6746.

Where an attachment is issued on a debt not due, the complaint, to constitute a proper pleading, must contain in addition to the allegations of fraud, a statement of the facts constituting the fraud. Fraud cannot be alleged in general terms.

Claflin Co. v. Simon, 18 U. 153; 55 P. 376.

Selz, Schwab & Co. v. Tucker, 10 U. 132; 37 P. 249.

6706. (3066.) Affidavit required. Contents. The clerk of the court shall issue the writ of attachment upon receiving an affidavit by or on behalf of the plaintiff, which shall be filed, setting forth:

1. That the defendant is indebted to the plaintiff, specifying the amount of such indebtedness as near as may be over and above all legal counterclaims, and whether upon a judgment or an express or implied contract, and that the payment of the same has not been secured by any mortgage or lien upon real or personal property, or any pledge of personal property, situate or being in this state; or, if originally so secured, that such security has, without any act of the plaintiff, or the person to whom the security was given, become valueless; and that the same is an actual bona fide existing demand due and owing from the defendant to the plaintiff;

2. And in all cases that the attachment is not sought and the action is not prosecuted to hinder, delay, or defraud any creditor of the defendant, and also specifying one or more of the causes set forth in § 6704 as the ground of the attachment.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 538*.

Causes for attachment not to be stated in alternative, § 6728.

Provisions liberally construed, § 6728.

Sufficiency of affidavit, note to § 6726.

Unlawful to issue writ before filing of affidavit, or when affidavit does not substantially conform to this section, § 8512.

Affidavit showing an express contract for direct payment of money in the general statement of how the debt accrued, and that it is the same demand sued for, is sufficient.

Bowers v. London Bank of U., 3 U. 417; 4 P. 225.

Amount stated in writ must conform to amount alleged in complaint.

Id.

When letters "ss" are omitted, county being stated, affidavit is not defective.

McCord & N. Mer. Co. v. Glenn, 6 U. 139; 21 P. 500.

Affidavit that "defendant has disposed of and concealed, and is about to assign, dispose of, and conceal" his property, etc., is good.

McCord & Nave Mer. Co. v. Glenn, 6 U. 139; 21 P. 500.

Deseret Bank v. Little, R. & Co., 13 U. 265; 44 P. 930.

An allegation in the language of the statute under § 6704, sub. 3, held sufficient.

Johnson v. Emery, 31 U. 126; 86 P. 869.

An attachment rests on the affidavit, not the complaint.

Griffin v. Howell, 38 U 357; 113 P. 326.

6707. (3067.) Id. Undertaking required. Before issuing the writ, the clerk must require a written undertaking on the part of the plaintiff, with sufficient sureties, in a sum not less than the amount claimed by the plaintiff, but in no case shall an undertaking be required exceeding $10,000 nor less than $200 in amount. The condition of such undertaking shall be to the effect that if the defendant recover judgment, or if the attachment be wrongfully issued, the plaintiff will pay all costs that may be awarded to the defendant, and all damages which he may sustain by reason of the attachment, not exceeding the sum specified in the undertaking.

6708. (3068.) Exception to sureties. Justification. Within five days after the levy of the attachment, the defendant may except to the sufficiency of the sureties. If he fails to do so, he is deemed to have waived all objections to them. When excepted to, the plaintiff's sureties, upon notice to the defendant of not less than two nor more than five days, must justify before a judge of the district court, or before the clerk, thereof, and upon failure to justify, or if others in their places fail to justify, at the time and place appointed, the clerk or judge shall issue an order vacating the writ of attachment.

Property exempt, §§ 6923-6927.
No exemption, except of wearing apparel, for non-resident or one about to depart, § 6927.

6713. (3073.) Writ, how executed. The officer to whom the writ is directed and delivered must execute the same without delay, and if the undertaking mentioned in § 6709 be not given, as follows:

1. Real property, standing upon the records of the county in the name of the defendant, must be attached by filing with the recorder of the county a copy of the writ, together with a description of the property attached and a notice that it is attached, and by leaving a similar copy of the writ, description, and notice with an occupant of the property, if there is one; if not, then by posting the same in a conspicuous place on the property attached.

2. Real property or an interest therein belonging to the defendant and held by any other person, or standing on the records of the county in the name of any other person, must be attached by filing with the recorder of the county a copy of the writ, together with a description of the property and a notice that such real property and any interest of the defendant therein, held by or standing in the name of such other person, naming him, are attached; and by leaving with the occupant, if any, and with such other person or his agent if known and within the county, or at the residence of either, if within the county, a copy of the writ, with a similar description and notice. If there is no occupant of the property, a copy of the writ, together with such description and notice, must be posted in a conspicuous place upon the property. The recorder must index such attachment when filed, in the names both of the defendant and the person by whom the property is held, or in whose names it stands on the records.

3. Personal property capable of manual delivery must be attached by taking it into custody.

4. Upon cattle, horses, or sheep running at large and commonly known as range stock, between the 1st day of November and the next succeeding 15th day of May, by the sheriff's filing with the recorder of the county in which such property is running at large, a notice as hereinbefore described, specifying the number as nearly as may be and containing a description of such stock by marks and brands; and such levy shall be equally valid and effectual as if such cattle, horses, or sheep had been seized and the possession and control thereof retained by the officer. The recorder shall receive and file all such notices, numbering the same consecutively, and must keep the same in his office in regular and orderly file, and shall make an entry thereof in his record of chattel mortgages. Notwithstanding the provisions of this subdivision, an attachment may, by direction of the plaintiff or his attorney, be levied upon the property mentioned in this subdivision by taking the same into custody; but if additional costs are made by such levy, the same shall not be allowed to the plaintiff, if, in the judgment of the court, the taking of the property into the custody of the sheriff was unnecessary.

6. Debts and credits and other personal property not capable of manual delivery must be attached by leaving with the person owing such debts, or having in his possession, or under his control, such credits or other personal property, or with his agent, a copy of the writ and a notice that the debts owing by him to the defendant, or the credits or other personal property in his possession or under his control belonging to defendant, are attached in pursuance of said writ.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 548.

6720. (3080.) Judgment, how satisfied. Sale, notice of. If judgment be recovered by the plaintiff, the officer must satisfy the same out of the property attached by him which has not been delivered to the defendant, or a claimant, as hereinbefore provided, or subjected to execution on another judgment recovered previous to the issuing of the attachment, if it be sufficient for that purpose:

1. By paying to the plaintiff the proceeds of all sales of perishable property sold by him, or of any debts or credits collected by him or so much as shall be necessary to satisfy the judgment;

2. If any balance remains due, and an execution shall have been issued on the judgment, he must sell under the execution so much of the property, real or personal, as may be necessary to satisfy the balance, if enough for that purpose remains in his hands. Notice of the sales must be given, and the sales conducted as in other cases of sales on execution.

6721. (3081.) Id. Deficiency. Collected as upon execution. Redelivery. If, after selling all the property attached by him remaining in his hands, and applying the proceeds, together with the proceeds of any debts or credits collected by him, deducting his fees, to the payment of the judgment, any balance shall remain due, the officer must proceed to collect such balance, as upon an execution in other cases. Whenever the judgment shall have been paid, the officer, upon reasonable demand, must deliver over to the defendant the attached property remaining in his hands, and any proceeds of the property attached unapplied on the judgment.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 551.

6722. (3082.) Action on defendant's undertaking. If the execution be returned unsatisfied, in whole or in part, the plaintiff may prosecute any under taking given pursuant to § 6709, or § 6725, or he may proceed as in other cases upon the return of the execution.

Woolley v. Maynes-Wells Co., 15 U. 341; 49 P. 647.

6725. (3085.) Id. Undertaking for release. Justification of sureties. Before making such order, the court or judge must require an undertaking on behalf of the defendant, by at least two sureties, residents and freeholders or householders in the state, to the effect that in case the plaintiff recover judgment in the action, defendant will, on demand, deliver the attached property so released to the proper officer, to be applied to the payment of the judgment, or, in default thereof, that the defendant and sureties will, on demand, pay to the plaintiff the full value of the property released. The court or judge making such order may fix the sum for which the undertaking must be executed, and if necessary, in fixing such sum, to know the value of the property released, the same may be appraised by one or more disinterested persons, to be appointed for that purpose. The sureties may be required to justify before the court or judge, and the property attached cannot be released from the attachment without their justification, if the same be required.

CHAPTER 23.

GARNISHMENT.

6730. (3090.) Garnishment issuable with attachment or afterward; or upon commencement of action in certain instances. At the time of issuing a writ of attachment in an action, or at any time thereafter, the plaintiff may have a writ of garnishment issue, and thereupon attach the credits, effects, debts, choses in action, and other personal property of the defendant in the possession or under the control of any third person, as garnishee, for the security of any judgment the plaintiff may recover in such action against the defendant; but any indebtedness owing to a defendant not personally served in this state with summons, when such indebtedness arises and is payable outside the state, shall not be subject to attachment, garnishment, or execution, except in cases where the plaintiff is a citizen of this state and sues in his own right, and not as an assignee; but in such cases these facts must affirmatively appear by affidavit served with the writ of attachment or garnishment. If such facts do not appear, then the garnishee shall be under no liability on account of such writ of attachment or garnishment. Where the indebtedness arises outside of the state the presumption is that it is payable outside of the state. It is further provided that, upon the commencement of any personal action arising upon a contract, express or implied, or upon any judgment or decree already obtained, the plaintiff may obtain a writ of garnishment by making and filing with the justice of the peace in a justice court, or with the clerk of the court in which said action was brought, an affidavit stating that he has good reason to believe and does believe that any certain person, firm, or corporation, private or public, has property, money, goods, chattels, credits, or effects in his or its hands or under his or its control belonging to the defendant or defendants, or any or either of them, or that such person or persons, firm, or corporation is indebted to the defendant; that the defendant is indebted to him or it on such contract, judgment, or decree sued upon, and that he is justly apprehensive of the loss of the same unless writ of garnishment issue. The garnishee thereupon is liable to the plaintiff from the time of the service of such writ to the amount of the aforesaid property or indebtedness belonging or due to the defendant, and shall make answer to the writ as provided by law. Before issuing said writ of garnishment, the justice or the clerk must require a written undertaking on the part of the plaintiff, with sufficient sureties, in a sum not less than double the amount claimed by the plaintiff, but in no case shall the undertaking required exceed $10,000 or be less than $50 in amount. The condition of said undertaking shall be to the effect that if the defendant recover judgment, or if a writ of garnishment be wrongfully issued, the plaintiff will pay the defendants all costs that may be awarded to the defendants, and all damages which he may sustain by reason of the issuance of the said writ of garnishment, not exceeding the sum specified in the undertaking. If the defendant is a non-resident of the state, said fact must be set forth in the affidavit. Further and subsequent or supplemental proceedings may be had as herein elsewhere provided.

Col., Mills' An. C. (1896) § 118.
Attachment, § 6704.
Attachment of property of debtor in hands of third parties, §§ 6714-6716.
Municipal corporations subject to garnishment, § 6754.
Garnishment statutes are liberally construed.
Cole v. Utah-I. Sugar Co., 35 U. 148; 99 P. 681.
Garnishment proceedings are in aid of the main action.
Bristol v. Brent, 35 U. 213; 99 P. 1000.
The court may issue the writ of garnishment only at the time the action is commenced.
Slaughter v. Robinson, 51 U. —; 172 P. —.
An attachment of a credit prevents the debtor from disposing of the property, while a garnishment requires him to answer, and places the debt in the custody of the law.
Bristol v. Brent, 36 U. 108; 103 P. 1076.
Cole v. Utah Sugar Co., 35 U. 148; 99 P. 681.
Prior to the amendment of 1913 it was held that the debtor's debtor could be garnished regardless of the residence of the debtor or place debt was contracted.
Bristol v. Brent, 38 U. 58; 110 P. 356.
But the amendment lays down a different rule.
Mathison v. Rickard, 48 U. 226; 158 P. 787.

6731. (3091.) When garnishee ordered to appear. Whenever, in any action pending in any court in the state, a writ of attachment has been issued and delivered to the proper officer, and the officer after diligent search shall not be able to find property of the defendant sufficient to satisfy the claim of plaintiff, the officer shall, upon the request of the plaintiff, his agent, or attorney, summon such person or persons as the plaintiff may direct, as garnishees to appear before the court wherein such action is pending. Am'd '09, p. 117.

Col., Mills' An. C. (1896) § 119.
A debt that may be enforced in any jurisdiction by a person against his debtor may also be, by a creditor of such person, attached by garnishment in any jurisdiction where the debtor of said person may be found and served.
Bristol v. Brent, 38 U. 58; 110 P. 356.
This decision was rendered before the amendment of this section in 1911.

6732. (3092.) Writ issued by the officer. Form. The writ of garnishment shall be issued by the officer to whom the writ of attachment is delivered, and may be in substance as follows:

In the district court of ..... county, state of Utah.

....., plaintiff, vs. ....., defendant.

The state of Utah, to ....., garnishee:

You are hereby notified that you are attached as garnishee in the above entitled action, and you are commanded not to pay any debt due or to become due from yourself to the said ....., defendants, or either of them, and that you must retain possession and control of all personal property, effects, and choses in action of said ....., defendants, or either of them, in order that the same may be dealt with according to law; you are required to answer the interrogatories attached hereto within ten days from the date of the service of this writ upon you if you are served in the county in which said action is brought, otherwise within twenty days from the date of such service. In case of your failure within the time aforesaid, the plaintiff may apply to the court for relief against you.

Given under my hand this ..... day of ....., 19.....

Col., Mills' An. C. (1896) § 120.

6733. (3093.) Names of garnishees inserted in writ. Service and return. Alias writ. The names of as many individuals, corporations, or other persons as are sought to be charged as garnishees may be inserted in the same or different writs of garnishment; and the writ shall be served and returned by the officer issuing the same, in the same manner as a summons in the action; and in like manner alias writs may be issued, served, and returned.

Col., Mills' An C. (1896) § 121.

A notice in garnishment proceeding to a person as "manager" is not notice to the company of which he is manager.

Cole v. Utah-I. Sugar Co., 35 U. 148; 99 P. 681.

The return should be endorsed on or annexed to the writ and and should show that all has been done which is required by statute; there is no presumption that the officer has done his duty, the return must show it. If the return is defective, it may be amended on application.

Bristol v. Brent, 36 U. 108; 103 P. 1076.

6734. (3094.) Service and return of writ give court jurisdiction. It shall not be necessary for the sheriff to return the writ of attachment before serving the writ of garnishment, but the return of the latter writ, showing due service on the person therein named as garnishee, shall give the court jurisdiction to proceed against such garnishee as hereinafter provided.

Col., Mills' An. C. (1896) § 122.

The garnishee cannot, by voluntary appearance, waive jurisdicitonal defects so as to confer jurisdiction over the res, and where the defendant is a non-resident and not personally served, jurisdiction must be had over the res to render a valid judgment.

Bristol v. Brent, 36 U. 108; 103 P. 1076; 38 U. 58; 110 P. 356.

When, with a writ of execution, is served a notice that the property in the hands of the person served belonging to the execution debtor is attached, and shoula not be transferred, with a request to furnish a statement, the court has no jurisdiction to render any judgment, as no writ of garnishment was served, and the appearance of the attachee does not confer jurisdiction.

Cole v. Utah-I. Sugar Co., 35 U. 148; 99 P. 681.

6735. (3095.) Garnishee to answer under oath. Fee. Substance of interrogatories. The garnishee shall answer the interrogatories in writing upon oath or affirmation; but in no case shall the garnishee be required to answer any interrogatories unless and until he is paid or tendered by the plaintiff in the action or the officer serving the writ a fee of $2, and unless such sum is paid or tendered to him or to the person making the answer in his behalf, no answer can be required of such garnishee or any person acting for him. In case such fee is paid or tendered, it is hereby made the duty of the officer serving the writ of garnishment to administer such oath or affirmation and to take and return such answer with the writ, or the garnishee after receiving the fees aforesaid may answer in like manner before anyone authorized to administer oaths and affirmations, and in the latter case it shall be the duty of the garnishee to file his answer, or to cause the same to be filed, in the proper court within the proper time required by the writ, or he shall be deemed in default.

The interrogatories may be in substance as follows:

1. Are you in any manner indebted to the defendants, or either of them, either in property or money, and is the same now due? If not due, when is the same to become due? State full particulars.

Answer. .....

2. Have you in your possession, in your charge, or under your control, any property, effects, goods, chattels, rights, credits, or choses in action of said defendants or either of them, or in which he is interested If so, state what is the value of the same, and state fully all particulars.

Answer. .....

3. Do you know of any debts owing to the said defendant, whether due or not due, or any property, effects, goods, chattels, rights, credits, or choses in action belonging to him, or in which he is interested, and now in the possession or under the control of others? If so, state the particulars.

Answer. .....

.....,

Signature of garnishee.

I, (insert the name of the garnishee), do solemnly swear (or affirm) that the answers to the foregoing interrogatories by me subscribed are true, so help me God.

.....,

Signature of garnishee.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this ..... day of ....., 19.....

The plaintiff may, in his discretion, add other pertinent interrogatories.

Am'd '05, p. 35.

Col., Mills' An. C. (1896) § 123*.
The defense that a debt is payable at a particular place or under special conditions must be set out in the answer.
Bristol v. Brent, 38 U. 58; 110 P. 356.
Where a garnishee answers that he is not indebted to the defendant, the defendant may intervene in the action to establish that the garnishee is indebted and to establish his exemption.
Dayton v. Free, 49 U. 221; 162 P. 614.

6736. (3096.) Property to be delivered to sheriff. Sale. Judgment against garnishee. If the answer of the garnishee shows that he has personal property of any kind in his possession, or under his control, belonging to the defendant, the court shall enter judgment that the garnishee deliver the same to the sheriff, and if the plaintiff recover judgment against the defendant in the action, such property or so much thereof as may be necessary shall be sold as upon execution, and the proceeds applied toward the satisfaction of such judgment, together with the costs of the action and proceedings, and if there be a surplus of such property, or of the proceeds thereof, it shall be restored to the defendant. If the answer shows that the garnishee is indebted to the defendant, then, if the plaintiff recover judgment against the defendant in the action, the court shall also enter judgment in favor of the defendant for the use of the plaintiff against the garnishee for the amount of the indebtedness admitted in the answer; provided, that the judgment against the garnishee shall not be for a greater sum than is necessary to satisfy the judgment of the plaintiff against the defendant, together with costs as aforesaid; and in no case shall the garnishee be chargeable with costs unless his answer shall be successfully controverted as hereinafter provided.

Col., Mills' An. C. (1896) § 124.

6737. (3097.) Garnishee may deliver property or money. Release. Return. In all cases the garnishee, upon making answer, may deliver to the officer serving the writ the property belonging to the defendant, together with the money due to the defendant, as shown by the answer, and the officer shall make return of such property and money with the writ to the court, to be dealt with as provided in the foregoing section; and thereupon the garnishee shall be relieved from further liability in the proceedings, unless his answer shall be successfully controverted as hereinafter provided.

Col., Mills' An. C. (1896) § 125.
Similar provision on attachment, §§ 6715, 6718.
Where a garnishee, because of jurisdictional defects, is not required to pay the money and does so, he has no defense as against the real owner who was not the judgment debtor, nor has the creditor any defense in such suit.
Cole v. Utah-I. Sugar Co., 35 U. 148; 99 P. 681.

6738. (3098.) Judgment against garnishee on failure to answer. If the garnishee, having been duly served with the writ of garnishment and interrogatories, and has been paid or tendered the fee of $2, and the fact of such payment or tender is duly certified by the officer who served the writ over his official signature, or such fact is made to appear by the person serving the writ under oath, by affidavit, and after such payment or tender, when duly certified or proved as above provided, the garnishee fails or refuses to answer the interrogatories within the time required, the plaintiff may enter a default against him and proceed before the court to prove the liability of the garnishee according to the provisions of this chapter (and in such case the garnishee, after the payment of the fee of $2 to him and not before, may be compelled to give testimony orally as a witness as in other cases), and upon a verdict or finding in that behalf the plaintiff may have judgment entered the same as if the garnishee had answered according to such verdict or finding; and if the verdict or finding charge the garnishee with any liability, the plaintiff may recover costs of the proceedings against the garnishee, but if the garnishee answers he shall be discharged without cost; provided, that the $2 herein required to be paid to the garnishee shall be paid by the plaintiff in the action and shall be taxed against the defendant in the original action, in cases where the garnishee is found to have credits due the defendant in excess of legal exemptions; and provided, that in cases where the garnishee is found to have no credits due the defendant, the said $2 shall not be taxed against the defendant; provided, that the payment of costs by the defendant shall not apply in cases provided for in sub. 7 of § 6925; and, provided further, that in the event the garnishee shall be required to appear personally in court to testify he shall, in addition to the fee of $2, receive the usual witness fee and mileage, which shall be paid to him in advance if so demanded, otherwise shall be taxed as costs in the action. Am'd '05, p. 37.

Col., Mills' An. C. (1896) § 126*.

Col., Mills' An. C. (1896) § 127.
Reply generally, §§ 6590-6592.
Answer of public corporation is conclusive, § 6755.

6740. (3100.) New matter in plaintiff's reply deemed denied. Trial. Judgment. Costs. New matter in the affidavit replying to the answer of the garnishee shall be taken as denied or avoided, and the matter thus at issue without further pleadings shall be tried in the same manner as other issues of like nature, and upon the verdict or finding thereon, judgment shall be entered the same as if the garnishee had answered according to such verdict or finding; provided, that if the verdict or finding be as favorable to the garnishee as his answer, he shall recover costs of the proceeding against the plaintiff, otherwise the plaintiff may recover costs against the garnishee.

Col., Mills' An. C. (1896) § 128.
Where the judgment debtor was a party to the garnishment proceedings, he has the right to appeal from the judgment rendered against a garnishee, though the garnishee was satisfied with the judgment and refused to appeal, and the judgment requiring the garnishee to pay plaintiff an amount, and a further amount when it became due, was final.
Giesy-Walker v. Briggs, 49 U. 205; 162 P. 876.

N. Dak. (1895) § 5397.
Interpleader generally, § 6517.
Where a garnishee answers that he is not indebted to the defendant the defendant may intervene in the action to establish that the garnishee is indebted and to establish his exemption.
Dayton v. Free, 49 U. 221; 162 P. 614.

6742. (3102.) Garnishee may deduct sums due him by either party. Record. Every garnishee shall be allowed to retain or deduct out of the property, effects, or credits of the defendant in his hands all demands against the plaintiff and all demands against the defendant of which he could have availed himself if he had not been summoned as garnishee, whether the same are at the time due or not, and he shall be liable for the balance, only after all mutual demands between himself and plaintiff and defendant are adjusted, not including unliquidated damages for wrongs and injuries; provided, that the verdict or finding as well as the record of the judgment shall show in all cases against which party, and the amount thereof, any counterclaim shall be allowed, if any shall be allowed.

Col., Mills' An. C. (1896) § 130*.
Property attached subject to claims, §§ 476, 6716.
If the garnishee claims an offset or counterclaim to the debt, the court should at once arrest the proceedings and require the parties to settle the controversies in a proper proceedings.
Bd. of Home Missions v. Maughan, 35 U. 516; 101 P. 581.

6743. (3103.) Garnishee not liable on negotiable instrument not due. No person shall be liable as garnishee, by reason of having drawn, accepted, made, or indorsed any negotiable instrument, when the same is not due, in the hands of the defendant at the time of service of the writ of garnishment.

Col., Mills' An. C. (1896) § 131.

6744. (3104.) Judgment acquits garnishee for amounts paid. The judgment against a garnishee shall acquit him from all demands by the defendant for all goods, effects, and credits paid, delivered, or accounted for by the garnishee by force of such judgment.

Col., Mills' An. C. (1896) § 132.

6745. (3105.) Discharge of garnishee does not bar action by defendant. If the person summoned as garnishee is discharged, the judgment shall be no bar to an action brought against him by the defendant for the same demand.

Col., Mills' An. C. (1896) § 133.

6746. (3106.) Judgment against garnishee for debt not due. Execution deferred. When the judgment is rendered against any garnishee, and it shall appear that the debt from him to the defendant is not yet due, execution shall not issue until the debt shall have become due.

Col., Mills' An. C. (1896) § 134.
Attachment of debt not yet due, § 6705.

6747. (3107.) Property pledged to garnishee delivered on payment. When any personal property, choses in action, or effects of the defendant in the hands of a garnishee are mortgaged or pledged, or in any way liable for the payment of a debt to him, the plaintiff may, under an order of the court for that purpose, pay or tender the amount due to the garnishee, and thereupon the garnishee shall deliver the personal property, choses in action, and effects to the sheriff, as in other cases.

Col., Mills' An. C. (1896) § 135.
Attachment of mortgaged personal property, § 476.

Col., Mills' An. C. (1896) § 136.

6749. (3109.) Id. Disposal of proceeds. Plaintiff reimbursed. All personal property, choses in action, and effects received by the sheriff under either of the two preceding sections shall be disposed of in the same manner as if they had been delivered by the garnishee without condition, except that the plaintiff shall, out of the proceeds thereof, be first repaid the amount paid by him to the garnishee for the redemption of the same, or shall be indemnified for any other act or thing by him done or performed, pursuant to the order of the court for the redemption of the same.

Col., Mills' An. C. (1896) § 137.

6750. (3110.) Garnishee liable for contempt. If any garnishee refuses or neglects to deliver any personal property, choses in action, or effects in his hands, when thereto lawfully required by the court, he shall be liable to be attached or punished for contempt.

Col., Mills' An. C. (1896) § 138.

6751. (3111.) Costs taxed in discretion of court. Garnishee paid witness fee. The court may order the costs of the proceedings in any garnishment to be paid by the plaintiff, or out of the effects or credits garnished, or by the garnishee, or may apportion the same as shall appear to be just and equitable. The garnishee shall be entitled to fees and mileage as a witness, where he does not improperly resist or make costs.

Col., Mills' An. C. (1896) § 139.

6752. (3112.) Garnishment after judgment. Procedure. Liberal construction. Any person having a judgment remaining unsatisfied in any court in the state, upon which execution has been issued and delivered, and which remains in the hands of the proper officer uncollected and unsatisfied, may have a writ of garnishment issued, and thereupon attach the credits, effects, debts, choses in action, and other personal property of the judgment debtor in the possession or under the control of any third person as garnishee, for the security of such judgment, and all the rights, remedies, and proceedings under this chapter are hereby made specially available and applicable for the relief and security of such judgment creditor, the same as for a plaintiff in attachment, and the same are also made specially available and applicable for the protection and security of the judgment debtor and the garnishee, the same as for the defendant and garnishee in attachment; and the forms of all affidavits, interrogatories, writs, answers, oaths, orders, trials, judgments, and other process and proceedings hereinbefore provided for cases of garnishment before judgment, with appropriate variations, shall apply to cases of garnishment after judgment; and all courts shall be liberal in allowing amendments, and in construing this chapter so as to promote the objects thereof. Am'd '09, p. 118.

Col., Mills' An. C. (1896) § 140.

Liberal amendments, etc., in attachment proceedings, § 6728.

Proceedings supplementary when judgment remains unsatisfied, §§ 6955-6964.

Liberal construction generally, §§ 5839, 6596, 6622.

The city court has the same power to entertain a motion to set aside a garnishment and release the garnishee as has the district court.

Hewlett Bros. v. Mallett, 39 U. 357; 117 P. 68.

6753. (3113.) New trials and appeals as in other cases. Motions for new trial may be made in the same time and manner and shall be allowed for the same grounds in garnishment proceedings as in other civil trials; and appeals may be taken and prosecuted from any final judgment or order in such proceedings as in other civil cases.

Col., Mills' An. C. (1896) § 141.

Where defendant had right of appeal and the time in which garnishee could appeal had not expired at the time of application for writ of prohibition, the appellant had an adequate remedy at law and the proceedings and writ were properly dismissed.

Overland M. Co. v. McMaster, 19 U. 177; 56 P. 977.

After final judgment in original action, an order setting aside and releasing a garnishment was final and appealable.

Hewlett Bros. v. Mallett, 39 U. 357; 117 P. 68.

Where defendant in an action on a note is a non-resident and does not appear, an appeal lies from the judgment dismissing the garnishment.

Bristol v. Brent, 35 U. 213; 99 P. 1000.

6754. (3113x.) Salaries of public officers or employes subject to garnishment. The state of Utah, or any county, city, town, district, board of education, or other subdivision of the state, or any officer, board, or institution, or either of the same having in possession or under control any credits or other personal property of, or owing any debt to the defendant in any action, whether as salary or wages, as a public official or employe, or otherwise, shall be subject to attachment, garnishment, and execution under such rights, remedies, and procedure as are or may be made applicable by statute to attachment, garnishment, and execution, respectively, in other cases, except as hereinafter provided. '05, p. 113.

Salaries of public officers not subject to levy, etc., prior to this enactment.

This section does not validate assignment of wages made by public officials. The section is constitutional.

Tribune-Reporter Ptg. Co. v. Homer, 51 U. —; 169 P. 170.

6755. (3113x1.) Id. Process, upon whom served. Answer conclusive. The process shall be served only upon the auditor of the legal subdivision garnished and in case there is no auditor, then on the clerk of the county, city, town, district, board of education, or other subdivision of the state, or board, or institution, or either of the same, and the answer of such auditor or clerk shall be final and conclusive, and the truth of such answer shall not be subject to further examination or proceedings of any kind. '05, p. 113.

CHAPTER 24.

RECEIVERS.

6764. (3114.) Receivers, when appointed. A receiver may be appointed by the court in which an action is pending or has passed to judgment, or by the judge thereof:

1. In an action by a vendor to vacate a fraudulent purchase of property, or by a creditor to subject any property or fund to his claim, or between partners or others jointly owning or interested in any property or fund, on the application of the plaintiff, or of any party whose right to or interest in the property or fund, or the proceeds thereof, is probable, and where it is shown that the property or fund is in danger of being lost, removed, or materially injured;

2. In an action by a mortgagee for the foreclosure of his mortgage and sale of the mortgaged property, where it appears that the mortgaged property is in danger of being lost, removed, or materially injured, or that the condition of the mortgage has not been performed, and that the property is probably insufficient to discharge the mortgage debt;

3. After judgment, to carry the judgment into effect;

4. After judgment, to dispose of the property according to the judgment, or to preserve it during the pendency of an appeal, or in proceedings in aid of execution, when an execution has been returned unsatisfied, or when the judgment debtor refuses to apply his property in satisfaction of the judgment;

5. In the cases when a corporation has been dissolved, or is insolvent, or in imminent danger of insolvency, or has forfeited its corporate rights;

6. In all other cases where receivers have heretofore been appointed by the usages of courts of equity.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 564*.

Receiver may be appointed for bank failing to keep up reserve, etc., §§ 1007.

Receiver for building and loan association, §§ 1107, 1108; for insurance company, § 1176; for loan, trust, and guaranty association, § 1207.

Receiver of property of judgment debtor, § 6964.

What orders relating to receivers are appealable, note to Con. art. 8, sec. 9.

Courts of equity have no power to appoint a receiver for a corporation in the absence of a statute conferring such power.

Davis v. Flagstaff Mining Co., 2 U. 74.

Allegations of a bill in chancery set out and held sufficient to authorize the appointment of a receiver.

U. S. v. The Church, 5 U. 361; 15 P. 473.

When corporations are mismanaged and their property misappropriated by their officers, and a continuance thereof threatened, receivers will be appointed for them.

Stevens v. S. Ogden L. B. & I. Co., 14 U. 232; 47 P. 81.

A receiver will not be appointed to take possession of property and charge of business in the hands of a defendant, unless the plaintiff's right is sufficiently probable, or when it is not probable that such property will be lost or will sustain injury during the suit, if the same is left in defendant's hands, or that the business will be mismanaged.

Ogden City v. Bear Lake & R. W. W. & I. Co., 16 U. 440; 52 P. 697.

The court may, as a condition of issuing an order appointing a receiver of railroad property, direct the receiver to pay debts for oustanding labor, supplies, etc., out of money coming into his hands from such business.

Central Trust Co. v. Utah Cen. Ry. Co., 16 U. 12; 50 P. 813.

Litzenberger v. Jarvis C. Co., 8 U. 15; 28 P. 871.

Under § 6764, sub. 6, an appointment for the purpose of enforcing stockholders' statutory liabilities over and above the amount of their stock is not authorized.

McLaughlin v. Kimball, 20 U. 254; 58 P. 685.

Steinke v. Loofbourow, 17 U. 252; 54 P. 120.

Where a receiver is appointed of an insolvent corporation, and thereafter, by consent of all parties, many suits against it, some legal and some equitable, are consolidated and tried together, in which the receiver is recognized and takes part, an objection first made after judgment that the appointment of the receiver was illegal because made in an action at law should not be considered.

Pitts v. New Mammoth G. M. Co., 23 U. 623; 65 P. 1076.

An oral understanding between counsel and the judge that an order appointing a receiver, entered prior to the commencement of an action, should not take effect until after its commencement does not validate the appointment.

Popp v. Daisy G. M. Co., 27 U. 83; 74 P. 426.

After the occasion for a receiver has passed, an order declaring void the appointment will not be reversed for technical errors involving no substantial rights.

6765. (3115.) Appointment on dissolution of corporation. Upon the dissolution of any corporation, the district court of the county in which the corporation carries on its business, or has its principal place of business, on application of any creditor of the corporation, or of any stockholder or member thereof, may appoint one or more persons to be receivers or trustees of the corporation, to take charge of the estate and effects thereof, and to collect the debts and property due and belonging to the corporation, and to pay the outstanding debts thereof, and to divide the moneys and other property that shall remain over, among the stockholders or members.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 565.

Voluntary dissolution of corporations, §§ 7418-7424.

6766. (3116.) Party in interest appointed only on consent. Undertaking on ex parte application. No party or attorney, or person interested in the action, can be appointed receiver therein, without the written consent of the parties, filed with the clerk. If a receiver be appointed upon an ex parte application, the court, before making the order, may require from the applicant an undertaking, with sufficient sureties, in an amount to be fixed by the court, to the effect that the applicant will pay to the defendant all damages he may sustain by reason of the appointment of such receiver, and the entry by him upon his duties, in case the applicant shall have procured such appointment wrongfully, maliciously, or without sufficient cause; and the court may, in its discretion, at any time after said appointment, require an additional undertaking.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 566.

Qualifications of sureties generally, § 7223.

Loan, trust, and guaranty association may act as receiver, § 1201.

A creditor, or his representative, should not be appointed receiver or be allowed to act; nor should an attorney of such creditor, or defendant, or any other party whose interest may conflict with that of other parties, be employed by the receiver.

Geyser M. Co. v. Bank of S. L., 16 U. 163; 51 P. 151.

6767. (3117.) Oath and undertaking of receiver. Before entering upon his duties the receiver must be sworn to perform them faithfully, and with one or more sureties, approved by the court or judge, execute an undertaking to such person and in such sum as the court or judge may direct, to the effect that he will faithfully discharge the duties of receiver in the action, and obey the orders of the court therein.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 567.

6768. (3118.) Powers of receivers. The receiver has, under the control of the court, power to bring and defend actions in his own name, as receiver; to take and keep possession of the property, to receive rents, to collect debts, to compound for and compromise the same, to make transfers, and generally to do such acts respecting the property as the court may authorize.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 568.

The receiver of the late Church of Jesus Christ, etc., might attack any assignment of property made prior to the dissolution of the church which was illegal as to third parties.

U. S. v. The Church, 5 U. 538; 18 P. 35.

General discussion of the rights, powers, and duties of a receiver and his attorney.

U. S. v. The Church, 6 U. 9; 21 P. 503, 524.

A reasonable compensation should be allowed a receiver for his services in handling property.

Id.

The attorney of an interested party should not be employed by the receiver, but if such attorney serves without objection, he may be allowed reasonable compensation.

Geyser M. Co. v. Bank of S. L., 16 U. 163; 51 P. 151.

When appointment of receiver is revoked as erroneous, the only expenses allowable are such as would necessarily have been incurred had no receiver been appointed.

Ogden City v. Bear Lake Irr. Co., 18 U. 279; 55 P. 385.

A receiver, either general or special, whether appointed at the suit of a stockholder or at the suit of a creditor, has no power to bring action to enforce stockholders' liability.

McLaughlin v. Kimball, 29 U. 254; 58 P. 685.

Steinke v. Loofbourow, 17 U. 252; 54 P. 120.

The appointment of a receiver by a state court has no extra-territorial effect, and property situated without the state where such appointment is made is subject to attachment.

Thum v. Pingree, 21 U. 348; 61 P. 18.

An attaching creditor, as well as a receiver, has an insurable interest in the property attached.

McLaughlin v. Park City Bank, 22 U. 473; 63 P. 589.

The receiver of an insolvent corporation is authorized to intervene in an attachment suit against the corporation and file a motion to set aside an order of sale of attached property.

Newell v. Third Dist. Court, 37 U. 418; 108 P. 121.

The court may permit an applicant to sell property which is in the hands of a receiver on which he has a lien, the proceeds to be applied on the lien.

Id.

6769. (3119.) Funds invested by consent on order of court. Funds in the hands of a receiver may be invested upon interest, by order of the court; but no such order can be made, except upon the consent of all parties to the action.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 569.

CHAPTER 25.

DEPOSIT IN COURT.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 572.

6771. (3121.) Id. With whom deposited. Liability of treasurer. If the money is deposited in court, it must be paid to the clerk, who must deposit it with the county treasurer, by him to be held subject to the order of the court. For the safe keeping of the money deposited with him, the treasurer is liable on his official bond.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 573.

Money paid to clerk or authorized deputy, § 7214.

6772. (3122.) Id. Disobedience. Procedure. Whenever a court has ordered the deposit or delivery of money or other thing, and the order is disobeyed, the court, besides punishing the disobedience, may make an order requiring the sheriff to take the money or thing, and deposit or deliver it in conformity with the direction of the court.

Cal. C .Civ. P., § 574.

CHAPTER 26.

PROVISIONAL REMEDIES ON BEHALF OF DEFENDANT.

6773. (3123.) Defendant asking affirmative relief may have provisional remedies. When the defendant interposes a counterclaim, and thereupon demands an affirmative judgment against the plaintiff, his right to a provisional remedy is the same as in an action brought by him against the plaintiff, for the cause of action stated in the counterclaim, and demanding the same judgment; and for the purpose of applying to such a case the provisions of this code relating to provisional remedies, the defendant is deemed the plaintiff, the plaintiff is deemed the defendant, and the counterclaim so set forth in the answer is deemed the complaint.

Mont. Civ. P., § 981.

Counterclaim, §§ 6575-6577.

CHAPTER 27.

ISSUES, MODE OF TRIAL, AND POSTPONEMENT.

6777. (3124.) Issues defined. Law, fact. Issues arise upon the pleadings when a fact or conclusion of law is maintained by the one party and is controverted by the other. They are of two kinds:

1. Of law; and
2. Of fact.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 588.

6778. (2125.) Issue of law arises upon a demurrer. An issue of law arises upon a demurrer to the complaint, answer, or reply, or to some part thereof.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 589*.

6779. (3126.) Issue of fact arises, how. An issue of fact arises:

1. Upon a material allegation in the complaint controverted by the answer; or,

2. Upon a material allegation of any counterclaim in the answer controverted by the reply; or,

3. Upon a material allegation of new matter in the answer, not requiring a reply, unless an issue of law is joined thereon; or,

4. Upon a material allegation of new matter in the reply, unless an issue of law is joined thereon.

Wis., S. & B. An. S. (1889) § 2839; Cal. C. Civ. P., § 590*.

6780. (3127.) Issue of law tried by court, unless referred. An issue of law must be tried by the court, unless it is referred upon consent.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 591.

All questions of law to be decided by the court, § 7209.

6781. (3128.) Issue of fact, how tried. Issue of law first disposed of. In actions for the recovery of specific real or personal property, with or without damages, or for money claimed as due upon contract, or as damages for breach of contract, or for injuries, an issue of fact may be tried by a jury, unless a jury trial is waived, or a reference is ordered, as provided in this code. Where in these cases there are issues both of law and fact, the issue of law must first be disposed of. In other cases, issues of fact must be tried by the court subject to its power to order any such issue to be tried by a jury or to be referred to a referee, as provided in this code.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 592*.

Questions of fact to be decided by the jury, § 7208.

Powers of court of equity, note to § 1667.

Questions of law to be decided by the court, § 7209.

Special issues may be tried by jury, order, § 6444.

Court may direct jury to find special verdict, § 6821.

When reference may be directed, §§ 6827, 6831, 6836, 6844, 6955. 7661.

All issues in civil actions tried by the court unless jury demanded, § 6827.

Separate trial between plaintiff and defendants, § 6783.

Parties entitled under § 3350, C. L. 1888, to jury trial of issues of fact in mandamus proceedings.

Chamberlain v. Warburton, 1 U. 267.

In an equity case the court has the power, under our system of practice, to submit special issues to a jury, and a verdict thereon when rendered is only advisory and not binding upon the court.

Smith v. Richardson, 2 U. 424.

Wasatch M. Co. v. Jennings, 14 U. 221; 46 P. 1106.

Grand Cen. M. Co. v. Mammoth M. Co., 29 U. 490; 83 P. 648.

Swanson v. Sims, 51 U. —; 170 P. 774.

Equitable defense first disposed of. When in ejectment two defenses, one legal, one equitable, are interposed, the equitable should first be disposed of.

Kahn v. Old Tel. Mining Co., 2 U. 174.

Steele v. Boley, 7 U. 64; 24 P. 755.

Kimball v. McIntyre, 3 U. 77, 1 P. 167.

In an action for specific performance, where such relief cannot be granted because plaintiff had previously refused to accept such performance, the court should submit the case to a jury instead of itself assessing damages.

Goldthwait v. Lynch, 9 U. 186; 33 P. 699.

Where there are both equitable issues and issues of fact, the court should first determine the equitable issue and then submit the issues of fact to a jury upon proper instructions, and a failure to do so constitutes reversible error.

Park v. Wilkinson, 21 U. 279; 60 P. 945.

Kimball v. McIntyre, 3 U. 77; 1 P. 167.

Actions to quiet title or to determine adverse claims under § 7247 may be legal or equitable, depending upon the pleadings.

Park v. Wilkinson, 21 U. 279; 60 P. 945.

Where, in an equitable action for an injunction, damages are claimed, the court may order, on the stipulation of counsel, that the question of damages be reserved for hearing after the determination of the equitable issues.

North Pt. C. I. Co. v. Utah & S. L. C. Co., 23 U. 199; 63 P. 812.

Goldthwait v. Lynch, 9 U. 186; 33 P. 699.

In an action to quiet title and enjoin defendants, the court, treating the case as having both legal and equitable issues, proceeded with a jury, stating that if it appeared that the case was equitable only, the jury might be considered as merely advisory, and the jury found a verdict for each defendant as to each parcel of land, and, under instructions, brought in a special verdict, in which special separate findings were made as to each defendant, all of which were in harmony with the general verdict and judgment, there was no such irregularity as would warrant a reversal.

Toltec Ranch Co. v. Cook, 24 P. 453; 67 P. 1123.

An action to restrain trespass and for damages, against which prescriptive right pleaded, held to constitute an action at law.

State v. Hart, 26 U. 229; 72 P. 938.

Where the district court refuses to grant a jury trial in an action at law on demand duly made, mandamus will issue.

State v. Hart, 26 U. 229; 72 P. 938.

State v. Cherry, 22 U. 1; 60 P. 1103.

A suit to set aside a transfer of corporate stock because of the transferee's fraudulent representations, for an injunction restraining persons holding the stock in trust for the transferee from disposing of the same, and for a decree compelling the delivery of the certificates representing the stock and requiring the corporation to reissue the stock to plaintiff, is exclusively an equitable action, and neither party has a right to a jury trial.

Morrison v. Snow, 26 U. 247; 72 P. 924.

Where a case, until the rendition of verdict, is treated by the parties and the court as one triable by a jury, the judge was required to render judgment on the verdict, and could not make findings at variance with the verdict and thereon render judgment.

Houston v. Hechler, 47 U. 215; 152 P. 726.

Naylor v. Jensen, 38 U. 310; 113 P. 73.

The court may in an equitable action, even though a jury is impanelled, dismiss the jury and make findings.

Shaffer v. Killpack, 51 U. —; 173 P. 948.

6782. (3129.) Jury trial must be demanded. Deposit. Failure to appear waives demand. Either party to an action of the kind enumerated in the preceding section who desires a jury trial of the same, or of any issue thereof, must demand it, either by written notice to the clerk prior to the time of setting such action for trial, or within such reasonable time thereafter as the court may order, or orally in open court at the time of such setting, and must at the same time deposit with the clerk the sum of $5; whereupon it shall be the duty of the court to order jurors to be in attendance at the time set for the trial of the cause. Money paid in accordance with this section shall be taxable as costs in the action. But the failure of a party who has demanded a jury to appear at the trial shall be deemed a waiver of such demand.

All issues triable by the court, § 6827.
Deposit of jury fee, § 2553.
Jury waived unless demanded, Con. art. 1, sec. 10; § 6827.
Where record shows trial by the court without jury, on appeal waiver of trial by jury will be presumed.
Perego v. Dodge, 9 U. 3; 33 P. 221.
Refusal of jury trial when demanded in a proper case is error.
Goldthwait v. Lynch, 9 U. 186; 33 P. 699.
Park v. Wilkinson, 21 U. 279; 60 P. 945.
The provisions of this section are not in violation of Con. art. 1, sec. 10.
State v. Cherry, 22 U. 1; 60 P. 1103.
Under provisions of this section, where a case is called for setting three days before commencement of term, a jury is demanded and fees paid, the statute has been complied with, notwithstanding a rule of court requiring such demand at least five days before commencement of term.
Id.
Though no demand was made in time for a jury, it was not error to order one on request of plaintiff.
Wood v. R. G. W. Ry. Co., 28 U. 351; 79 P. 182.
Where a claimant to property sues under § 7247, to quiet title, or in ejectment, and does not demand a jury trial, he waives his right thereto.
Gibson v. McGurrin, 37 U. 158; 106 P. 669.
The provisions of this section are not for the benefit of an adversary, and even though a jury was not demanded at the time prescribed, the court may, in its discretion on demand and payment of fee, proceed with a trial by the jury.
Davis v. D. & R. G. Ry. Co., 45 U. 1; 142 P. 705.
A demand for a jury at the time the case comes on for trial is too late.
Ut. St. Bldg. & Loan Asso. v. Perkins, 51 U. —; 173 P. 950.

6783. (3130.) Separate trial or change in order of issues discretionary. A separate trial between the plaintiff and one or more defendants of some or all of the issues of fact, or a trial of some or all the issues of law, or a change in the order of the disposition of the issues, may be directed by the court, in its discretion.

Mont. Civ. P., § 1035. Kan. (1889) § 4363*.

6784. (3131.) Calendar, how made up. Dropping and restoring cases. The clerk must enter causes upon the calendar of the court according to the date of issue. Causes once placed on the calendar must remain until finally disposed of; but causes may be dropped from the calendar by consent of parties, or by order of the court or judge, and may be again restored upon notice.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 593*.
Terms cannot be imposed upon the sovereign in absence of statutory authority.
U. S. v. Stevens, 8 U. 3; 28 P. 869.

6785. (3132.) Either party may bring issue to trial. Absence of party. Either party may bring an issue to trial, or to a hearing, and in the absence of the adverse party, unless the court for good cause otherwise direct, may proceed with his case and take a dismissal of the action, or a verdict or judgment, as the case may require.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 594.
Dismissal of action, § 6848.
In liquor prosecutions, §§ 3355, 3368.
A rule of the court requiring the making up of a calendar and of giving notice to place case thereon for trial, is valid.
Riddle v. Quinn, 32 U. 341; 90 P. 893.

6786. (3133.) Continuance for absence of evidence, etc. Affidavit required. Admission. A motion to postpone a trial on the ground of the absence of evidence can only be made upon affidavit showing the materiality of the evidence expected to be obtained, and that due diligence has been used to procure it. The court may also require the moving party to state, upon affidavit, the evidence which he expects to obtain, and if the adverse party thereupon admit that such evidence would be given, and that it be considered as actually given on the trial, or offered and overruled as improper, the trial must not be postponed; and upon terms, the court may, in its discretion, upon good cause shown, postpone a trial or proceeding upon other grounds than absence of evidence.

Mont. Civ. P., § 1039. Cal. C. Civ. P., § 595*.
Costs on postponement, § 7043.
An order of the court below refusing a continuance cannot be reversed unless there has been an abuse of discretion.

Charter Oak Ins. Co. v. Gisborn, 5 U. 319; 15 P. 253.
Church v. Watson, 30 U. 126; 83 P. 731.
Motion for continuance will be overruled where there is no affidavit showing the facts or the testimony expected to be given.
McGrath v. Tallent, 7 U. 256; 26 P. 574.
Affidavit held insufficient to justify continuance.
Almy v. Hess, 2 U. 223.
People v. Garns, 2 U. 260.
People v. Wiggins, 1 U. 324.
It is not "due diligence" to issue subpoena on the morning of the trial.
Church v. Watson, 30 U. 126; 83 P. 731.
Nor where no attempt is made to subpoena witness about to leave the territory.
People v. Garns, 2 U. 260.
People v. Wiggins, 1 U. 324.
When the trial calendar is several days behind, and a party, relying upon statements of attorneys having cases set for trial before his, fails to be prepared with his witnesses, upon the day set, but learning that such intervening cases have been passed, makes due effort to procure the attendance of his witnesses, it is error to refuse a continuance.

McCormick v. Marchant, 11 U. 68; 39 P. 483.

Where a continuance was granted on an affidavit because of the absence of a party who was the principal witness, a granting of another continuance upon the statement of an attorney that the same grounds exist that existed before is not an abuse of discretion.
Lancino v. Smith, 36 U. 462; 105 P. 914.

6787. (3134.) Id. Testimony of witnesses present may be taken. Order when mining case continued. The party obtaining a postponement of a trial must, if required by the adverse party, consent that the tesitmony of any witness of such adverse party, who is in attendance, be then taken by deposition before a judge or clerk of the court in which the case is pending, or before such other officer as the court may direct, which must accordingly be done, and the testimony so taken may be read on the trial with the same effect, and subject to the same objections, as if the witnesses were produced. In actions involving the title to mining claims, if it be made to appear to the satisfaction of the court that, in order that justice may be done and the action fairly tried on its merits, it is necessary that further developments should be made, and that the party applying has been guilty of no laches and is acting in good faith, the court shall grant the postponement of the trial of the action, giving the party a reasonable time in which to prepare for trial. And in granting such postponement, the court may, in its discretion, annex as a condition thereto an order that the party obtaining such postponement shall not, pending the trial of the action, remove from the premises in controversy any valuable quartz, rock, earth, or ores, and for any violation of an order so made, the court, or judge thereof, may punish for contempt as in the cases of violation of an order of injunction, and may also vacate the order of postponement.

When testimony officially reported may be used at subsequent trial, § 7205.
Order for survey of mining claim, §§ 7251-7252.
Taking of depositions generally, §§ 7178-7188.

CHAPTER 28.

TRIAL BY JURY.

6790. (3135.) Clerk to draw jury. When an action is called for trial by jury, the clerk must draw from the trial jury box the ballots containing the names of the jurors, until the jury is completed or the ballots are exhausted.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 600.
Number of jurors, Con. art. 1, sec 10; § 3595.
Selection, drawing, and summoning of jury, §§ 3606-3620.
Impaneling of jury in criminal cases, §§ 8936-8964.
When juror may be excused, § 3600.
The court may, when necessary and there is no regular jury in attendance, impanel a jury to try a case properly set and ready for trial.
Bennett v. Tintic Iron Co., 9 U. 291; 34 P. 61.

On the day set for trial, defendant requested a postponement, which was granted, the court stating that he would issue a special venire if the regular jury were discharged by that day. The defendant made no objection at the time, and the regular jury having been discharged, a special venire was summoned for the case; held, that defendant was estopped from objecting to such jury.
Id.

6791. (3136.) Challenge defined. Of two kinds. A challenge is an objection made to the trial jurors and is of two kinds:

1. To the panel;
2. To an individual juror.

Cal. Pen. C., § 1055.

6792. (3137.) Parties united must join in challenge. Either party may challenge the jurors, but where there are several parties on either side, they must join in a challenge before it can be made.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 601*.

Applied in criminal case.
People v. O'Loughlin, 3 U. 133; 1 P. 653.

6793. (3138.) Panel defined. The panel is a list of jurors returned to serve at a particular court, or for the trial of a particular action.

Cal. Pen. C., § 1057.

6794. (3139.) Challenge to panel defined. A challenge to the panel is an objection made to all the jurors returned.

Cal. Pen. C., § 1058*.

6795. (3140.) Id. Upon what founded. A challenge to the panel can be founded only on a material departure from the forms prescribed in respect to the drawing and return of the jury, or on the intentional omission of the proper officer to summon one or more of the jurors drawn.

Cal. Pen. C., § 1059*.

Drawing, return, summoning, §§ 3606-3620.

Where a jury was not selected and summoned in conformity with the territorial law, a challenge to the array should have been allowed.

Clinton v. Englebrecht (Utah), 80 U. S. 434.

In a criminal case, a challenge to the panel on the ground that members of a certain church had been purposely excluded in the selection thereof, because the officer deemed that they would not be impartial jurors, is properly denied. A defendant cannot claim as a matter of right that a man of his color or his faith should be upon the jury.

People v. Hampton, 4 U. 258; 9 P. 508.

In an action against the sheriff, a reversal for the denial of plaintiff's challenge to the panel on the sole ground that the sheriff served the venire, it not being claimed that he exercised partiality in such service, would not be justified under this section and §§ 597 and 1306 et seq.

Whipple v. Preece, 24 U. 364; 67 P. 1072.

The fact that the judge excused individual jurors is not ground for challenge to the panel.

State v. Bates, 25 U. 1; 69 P. 70.

6796. (3141.) Id. When and how taken. A challenge to the panel must be taken before a juror is sworn and must be in writing or be noted by the stenographer, and must plainly and distinctly state the facts constituting the ground of challenge.

Cal. Pen. C., § 1060.

In absence of stenographer, clerk to take testimony in writing, § 7206.

6797. (3142.) Id. Jury discharged, if allowed; impaneled, if disallowed. If the challenge to the panel is allowed, the court must discharge the jury, so far as the trial in question is concerned. If it is disallowed, the court must direct the jury to be impaneled.

Cal. Pen. C., § 1065*.

6798. (3143.) Peremptory or for cause. Three peremptory challenges, when taken. The challenges to individual jurors are either peremptory or for cause. Each party is entitled to three peremptory challenges. If no peremptory challenges are taken until the panel is full, they must be taken by the parties alternately, commencing with the plaintiff.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 601*.

6799. (3144.) Grounds of challenge for cause. Challenges for cause may be taken on one or more of the following grounds:

1. A want of any of the qualifications prescribed by law to render a person competent as a juror;

2. Consanguinity or affinity within the fourth degree to either party;

3. Standing in the relation of debtor and creditor, guardian and ward, master and servant, employer and clerk, or principal and agent to either party; or being a member of the family of either party; or a partner, or united in business with either party; or being on any bond or obligation for either party;

4. Having served as a juror or been a witness on a previous trial between the same parties for the same cause of action, or being then a witness therein;

5. Pecuniary interest on the part of the juror in the event of the action, or in the main question involved in the action, except his interest as a member or citizen of a municipal corporation;

6. That a state of mind exists on the part of the juror with reference to the case or to either party which will prevent him from acting impartially and without prejudice to the substantial rights of the party challenging; but no person shall be disqualified as a juror by reason of having formed or expressed an opinion upon the matter or cause to be submitted to such jury founded upon public rumor, statements in public journals, or common notoriety; provided, that it satisfactorily appear to the court that the juror can and will, notwithstanding such opinion, act impartially and fairly upon the matter to be submitted to him.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 602*.

Who competent as jurors, § 3597.

Who exempt from jury duty, § 3599.

Religious belief or absence thereof not to disqualify juror, Con. art. 1, sec. 4.

Challenge for cause, criminal procedure, § 8954.

The grounds of a challenge for cause must be specifically stated.
People v. Hopt, 3 U. 396; 4 P. 250.
Same case, 4 U. 247; 9 P. 407; affirmed 120 U. S. 430.
People v. Thiede, 11 U. 241; 39 P. 837; affirmed 159 U. S. 510.

The necessary qualifications of a juror must exist at the time he is offered as a juror, and it is not enough that he possessed such qualifications when the jury list was prepared.
Conway v. Clinton, 1 U. 215.

A person pardoned under act of congress, 1882, stands before the law precisely as if he had committed no offense, and when summoned as a juror cannot be challenged for formerly being a polygamist.
U. S. v. Bassett, 5 U. 131; 13 P. 237.

Where a juror falsely claims to be a citizen, or where he conceals material facts on his examination, new trial will be granted, note to § 6978.

The object of the examination of jurors on their voir dire is to ascertain whether there are grounds for a challenge for either actual or implied bias, and to enable an accused to exercise intelligently his peremptory challenge.
Tarpey v. Madsen, 26 U. 294; 73 P. 411.
State v. Morgan, 23 U. 212; 65 P. 356.
State v. Thompson, 24 U. 314; 67 P. 789.

When a challenge for cause is disallowed and the juror is thereupon peremptorily challenged and excused and an impartial competent juror obtained in his place, no injury is done to the party if until the jury is sworn he has other peremptory challenges which he can use.
People v. Hopt, 4 U. 247; 9 P. 407; affirmed 120 U. S. 430.
Conway v. Clinton, 1 U. 215.
People v. Thiede, 11 U. 241; 39 P. 837; affirmed 159 U. S. 510.

Not material whether opinion founded on rumor or on fact.
Conway v. Clinton, 1 U. 215.

One who has formed an unqualified opinion which it would take evidence to remove should, upon challenge, be excluded from the jury.
Conway v. Clinton, 1 U. 215.
U. S. v. Reynolds, 1 U. 319; affirmed 98 U. S. 145.
People v. O'Loughlin, 3 U. 133; 1 P. 653.

One having an opinion founded upon public rumor, etc., is not disqualified thereby, if he is able to act impartially and not let such opinion influence his verdict.
People v. Thiede, 11 U. 241; 39 P. 837; affirmed 159 U. S. 510.
People v. O'Loughlin, 3 U. 133; 1 P. 653.
U. S. v. Reynolds, 1 U. 319; affirmed 98 U. S. 145.

That a juror has an erroneous idea of the law governing a case does not make him subject to challenge for cause.
Johnson v. Park City, 27 U. 420; 76 P. 216.

That juror had on another case expressed prejudice against that class of cases not grounds for new trial.
Hern v. S. P. Co., 29 U. 127; 81 P. 902.

That a juror was married to a daughter of a half-sister of one of defendant's secret service employes, which fact, if known, would have induced the exercise of a peremptory challenge, was immaterial.
Id.

Is not a ground for challenge for cause by one being tried for murder committed in the perpetration of robbery that a juror believes that the murders so committed should be punished by death without recommendation for life imprisonment.
State v. Thorne, 41 U. 414; 126 P. 286.

Error in not overruling challenges for cause will not be presumed prejudicial, though the peremptory challenges are exhausted before the last juror is obtained, unless it is shown that an objectionable juror was forced upon defendant after his peremptory challenges had been exhausted, whom he would have removed but for such exhaustion, and such showing is not made unless objection to a juror is thereafter made.
Id.

It is not ground for challenge for cause that a juror believes that in case of guilt the full measure of punishment allowed should be given, without recommendation.
Id.

Acceptance of a juror without the defendant's peremptory challenges having been exhausted, held to waive any right to object to the manner of drawing return to the jury.
State v. White, 40 U. 342; 121 P. 579.

In a prosecution for homicide, the sustaining of objections to questions to venireman held not erroneous, he having already been examined on such matter.
State v. Hillstrom, 46 U. 341; 150 P. 935.

A juror who is personally acquainted with the condition of the walk, and has an opinion, is disqualified.
Johnson v. Park City, 27 U. 420; 76 P. 216.

6800. (3145.) Id. Tried by the court. Witnesses. Challenges for cause must be tried by the court. The juror challenged, and any other person, may be examined as a witness on the trial of the challenge.

Cal C. Civ P., § 603.
Where a juror is challenged for actual bias, an issue of fact is raised, and if no exception is taken to the admission or rejection of evidence upon the voir dire examination, the action of the trial court is conclusive and cannot be reviewed on appeal.
People v. Thiede, 11 U. 241; 39 P. 837; affirmed 159 U. S. 510.

6801. (3146.) Oath of jury. As soon as the jury is completed, an oath must be administered to the jurors, in substance, that they and each of them will well and truly try the matter in issue between ....., plaintiff, and ....., defendant, and a true verdict render according to the evidence.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 604.

6802. (3147.) Order of trial. Court to instruct in writing at conclusion of evidence. Argument. When the jury has been sworn, the trial must proceed in the following order, unless the judge for special reasons otherwise directs:

1. The plaintiff, after stating the issue, shall open the case and produce the evidence on his part;

2. The defendant may then open his defense, and offer his evidence in support thereof;

3. The parties may then respectively offer rebutting evidence only, unless the court for good reasons, in furtherance of justice, permit them to offer evidence upon their original case;

4. When the evidence is concluded, the court shall instruct the jury in writing upon the law applicable to the case, and, if it state the testimony of the case, it must inform the jury that they are the exclusive judges of all questions of fact; provided, that with the consent of both parties entered in the minutes, the court may instruct the jury orally, in which case the instructions shall be taken down by the court stenographer;

5. When the court has instructed the jury, unless the case is submitted to the jury on either side, or on both sides, without argument, the plaintiff must commence and may conclude the argument;

6. If several defendants, having separate defenses, appear by different counsel, the court must determine their relative order in the evidence and argument.

ADMISSION OF EVIDENCE, ETC.; DISCRETION OF COURT:

Rebutting evidence is such as explains, repeals, or counteracts evidence that comes out on the defense.
Smith v. Richardson, 2 U. 424.
The court may permit plaintiff, after defendant has rested, to introduce evidence in chief.
Godbe v. Young, 1 U. 55.
It is error to refuse to allow a witness to answer questions tending to affect his credibility, which questions are also proper as laying a foundation for impeachment.
Walley v. Des, Nat. Bank., 14 U. 305; 47 P. 147.
The trial court has the power to make the record of the case correspond with the actual ruling, notwithstanding an appeal may have been taken to the supreme court.
Wasatch Mining Co. v. Jennings, 14 U. 221; 46 P. 1106.
What may be admitted in rebuttal rests in the sound discretion of the court.
Harrington v. Chambers, 3 U. 94; 1 P. 362.
Court has discretion in a proper case to limit number of witnesses as to one point, and also time consumed in argument.
Skeen v. Mooney, 8 U. 157; 30 P. 363.
It is discretionary with the court to permit counsel to read from a law book to the jury.

Brown v. Markland, 16 U. 360; 52 P. 597.
Johnson v. R. G. W. Ry., 7 U. 346; 26 P. 926.
Whether a case shall be reopened to allow testimony which should have been introduced in chief rests in the discretion of the trial court.
Musgrave v. Studebaker Bros. Co., 48 U. 410; 160 P. 117.
The admission or exclusion of evidence not strictly in rebuttal rests primarily in the discretion of the trial court.
In re Miller's Estate, 36 U. 228; 102 P. 996.
When, and under whatever circumstances, a leading question may be put is a matter which can be assigned for error.
R. G. W. Ry. Co. v. Utah Nursery Co., 25 U. 187; 70 P. 859.
The extent of cross-examination is largely in the discretion of the trial court.

Stephens v. Union Assurance Soc., 16 U. 22; 50 P. 626.
In a suit to recover the price of corporate stock sold to defendant, he could not be cross-examined, in order to test his credibility, as to a judgment rendered in another suit in favor of one who claimed to have a contract similar to plaintiff's.
Spratt v. Paulson, 49 U. 9; 161 P. 1120.
Where the defendant, in his answer and in open court, conceded the execution and delivery and non-payment of the note sued on, but defended on the ground of false representations, he is entitled to open and close.
Ogden Valley T. & R. Co. v. Lewis, 41 U. 183; 125 P. 687.
Where a question does not indicate that the answer will be objectionable, an objection to it should be overruled, and if the answer contains objectionable matter, the remedy is by motion to strike.
Cromeenes v. S. P., L. A. & S. L. R. Co., 37 U. 475; 109 P. 10.

Where the question indicates that it calls for an incompetent answer and such answer is given without objection, the court may refuse to strike the answer out.
Spiking v. Con. Ry. & P. C., 33 U. 313; 93 P. 838.

The jury should be instructed not to consider letters admitted in evidence, except for the purpose for which they were offered, if the defendant makes such request.
McKinney v. Carson, 35 U. 180; 99 P. 660.

Where an offer of proof is made including some immaterial matters, and is refused, the exclusion of the material evidence is error.
In re Young's Estate, 33 U. 382; 94 P. 731.

Where partnership books were produced in court and were available to either party, defendant could not object that they were not introduced in evidence by plaintiff.
Deming v. Moss, 40 U. 501; 121 P. 971.

ELECTION BETWEEN COUNTS:

When plaintiff rested her case, defendants moved that she be required to elect on which benefit certificate she proposed to stand. Thereupon, her counsel stated, "We are not seeking to recover on one certificate any more than on the other," but claimed to recover, however, only on one. Held, that the refusal to require the plaintiff to elect was error.
Sterling v. Woodmen of W., 28 U. 505; 80 P. 375.

Where a complaint contains two counts, one on an open account and the other on an account stated for the same cause of action, a motion to elect between the counts was properly denied. (Distinguishing Anthony v. Savage, 2 U. 466.)
Oberndorfer v. Moyer, 30 U. 325; 84 P. 1102.
Shaw v. Utah N. Ry., 6 U. 253; 21 P. 994.
See Conner v. Raddon, 16 U. 418; 52 P. 764.

CONDUCT AND ARGUMENT OF COUNSEL:

Misconduct of counsel in making improper remarks to the jury, where no exception is taken thereto and no request for instructions thereon is made, is not reviewable.
Johnson v. U. P. Ry. Co., 35 U. 285; 100 P. 390.
Andrews v. Free, 45 U. 505; 146 P. 555.

Unless so flagrantly improper that no ruling could have cured the harm.
Andrews v. Free, 45 U. 505; 146 P. 555.

Where, in an action for injury to a passenger, a carrier admitted that it had settled with most of the persons injured in the same accident, argument of plaintiff's counsel that such settlements were an admission of liability was not improper.
Johnson v. U. P. R. Co., 35 U. 285; 100 P. 390.

Statement by defendant's counsel to plaintiff's counsel during the noon recess, in hearing of the jury, held not to constitute improper conduct requiring reversal.
Requa v. Daly-Judge M. Co., 46 U. 92; 148 P. 448.

Where counsel, in argument to jury, makes statements in disparagement of a party and the court instructs that such remarks are to be considered as conclusions of counsel and not as statements of fact, refusal to grant a new trial for misconduct of counsel was not erroneous.
Prye v. Kalbaugh, 34 U. 306; 97 P. 331.

Argument of counsel, when it was incidentally shown that the defendant had an indemnity policy, that it would make no difference to the defendant whether judgment was for or against it, was improper.
Andrews v. Free, 45 U. 505; 146 P. 555.

The admission by defendant's counsel in argument that on the trial there was no evidence, independent of that relating to the counterclaim, to dispute plaintiff's evidence as to the amount of its claim, would not estop it from controverting the whole or a part of plaintiff's claim.
Sierra Nevada Mill Co. v. Keith-O'Brien Co., 48 U. 12; 156 P. 943.

McKinney v. Carson, 35 U. 180; 99 P. 660.

Where an instruction offered by defendant covered no issue in the case, a modification of it, making it neither better nor worse, was harmless error.
Kimball v. S. L. City, 32 U. 253; 90 P. 395.

Where plaintiff was instructed to work at a particular place, but not to do any particular act, it was error to charge that a servant acting under the direct command of the master does not assume the risks incident to the act commanded to be done unless the danger is appreciated by him.
Bakka v. Kemmerer Coal Co., 43 U. 345; 134 P. 888.

In a negligence case a request to charge that one is only required to exercise reasonable and ordinary care in doing a thing, while abstractly correct, was not applicable to the facts, and imparted no practical information to the jury, so that its refusal was not error.

Furkovich v. Bingham Coal & L. Co., 45 U. 89; 143 P. 121.

An instruction that it is the duty of a city to keep its streets in repair is inapplicable and misleading where part of the street has not been prepared and used for public travel.
Herndon v. Salt Lake City, 34 U. 65; 95 P. 646.

Where the court is required to charge with respect to conflicting theories of the plaintiff and the defendant, it may not instruct the jury that they may render a verdict for one of the parties, without considering and finding all of the elements necessary to support such verdict both in law and in fact, and it is error, in an action between partners, to ignore, in such instruction, their special agreement defining and limiting their rights as to the sale of partnership property.
Morgan v. Child, Cole & Co., 47 U. 417; 155 P. 451.

An instruction that if the plaintiff was injured as alleged, without fault on his part, he was entitled to a verdict, is not erroneous as casting upon plaintiff the burden of proving that he was free from contributory negligence, where the court also charged that contributory negligence constituted a defense, and that the burden of establishing it by a preponderance of the evidence was on the defendant.
Grow v. U. L. & Ry. Co., 37 U. 41; 106 P. 514.

An instruction charging that train operatives are bound to use ordinary care to avoid injuring plaintiff attempting to board moving freight train, held authorized under the averments of the complaint.

Loofbourow v. Utah L. & Ry. Co., 31 U. 283; 88 P. 19.
Rogers v. R. G. W. Ry. Co., 32 U. 367; 90 P. 1075.

Where it does not appear that the jury was misled by an erroneous instruction, it will not be held error; particularly where the charge as a whole appears to state the law fully and correctly.
Holland v. O. S. L. R. R. Co., 26 U. 209; 72 P. 940.
Major v. O. S. L. R. R. Co., 21 U. 141; 59 P. 522.
Martin v. Hill, 3 U. 157; 2 P. 62.

Where correct instructions are first given, and afterwards another instruction is given at the request of the appellant, which is favorable to him, but which is erroneous and in conflict with the previous ones, the error is not cause for reversal.
Wood v. R. G. W. Ry. Co., 28 U. 351; 79 P. 182.
Davis v. Utah South R. R. Co., 3 U. 218; 2 P. 521.

Where conflicting instructions are given, one of which is erroneous, it is to be presumed that the jury may have followed that which is erroneous.

People v. Berlin, 10 U. 39; 36 P. 199.
Marti v. Am. S. & R. Co., 23 U. 52; 63 P. 184.

Instructions should be considered together.
Utah A. C. M. v. Boyle Fur. Co., 43 U. 523; 136 P. 572.

An erroneous charge held harmless in view of the whole charge.

Hunt v. Moran Constr. Co., 46 U. 388; 150 P. 953.

The rule that one or more erroneous instructions cannot be cured by other correct instructions does not apply where the instructions objected to are not erroneous, but merely incomplete, and further instructions are given covering the issues, and the verdict shows that the entire instructions were considered by the jury.

Gimnich Fur. Co. v. Sorenson, 34 U. 109; 96 P. 121.

In a will contest, where the court ruled at the beginning of the trial that the burden of proof was on the proponent, but, in charging the jury, charged that as to the issue of insanity only the burden of proof was on the protestant, the court erred in failing to charge as to the burden on issue of undue influence, though the proponent's counsel did not request an instruction thereon.

In re Hansen's Will, 50 U. —; 167 P. 256.

Where the court granted motion for nonsuit on certain questions, it was error thereafter in the charge to submit such questions to the jury.

Derrick v. S. L. & O. Ry. Co., 50 U. —; 168 P. 335.

INVADING PROVINCE OF JURY:

It is error for the court to intimate an opinion as to the weight of evidence or facts.

Hawley v. Corey, 9 U. 175; 33 P. 695.

See Cooper v. D. & R. G. Ry., 11 U. 46; 39 P. 478.

Loofbourow v. Utah L. & Ry. Co., 31 U. 283; 88 P. 19.

In an action for damages, an instruction which assumes that plaintiff has proven damages is in effect a usurpation of the province of the jury by the court, and necessarily prejudicial to the defendant, notwithstanding the fact that another portion of the charge tells the jury that they are the judges of the facts and the credibility of the witnesses.

Marti v. A. S. & R. Co., 23 U. 52; 63 P. 184.

Instruction as to credibility, etc., not an invasion of province of jury.

R. G. W. Ry. Co. v. Utah Nursery Co., 25 U. 187; 70 P. 859.

It is proper for the court, in instructing the jury, to assume the existence of those facts which are shown beyond controversy.

Shafer v. Russell, 28 U. 444; 79 P. 559.

Kipros v. Uintah Ry. Co. 45 U. 389; 146 P. 292.

In an action against a carrier for the death of a railway mail clerk, an instruction that it is presumed that deceased was in the car lawfully and in the discharge of his duties, but such presumption would be overcome if it were shown by preponderance of the evidence that he was not there in discharge of his official duties, was erroneous as invading the province of the jury on the weight to be given a mere inference of fact.

Schuyler v. So. Pac. Co., 37 U. 581; 109 P. 458, 1025.

An instruction which assumes the truth of controverted facts is erroneous.

Davidson v. Utah Ind. Tele. Co., 34 U. 249; 97 P. 124.

Bills v. S. L. City, 37 U. 507; 109 P. 745.

Where the court takes judicial knowledge of a fact and proof thereof is excluded, the court may, in its instructions, assume such fact to be true.

Spiking v. Cons. R. & P. Co., 33 U. 313; 93 P. 838.

In the absence of a statute, the court cannot, as a matter of fact, declare what effect shall be given to any particular fact or circumstance.

Smith v. Cummings, 39 U. 306; 117 P. 38.

Where, in an action for injury in a mine, it appeared without dispute that explosive gas was found in defendant's mine on one occasion about two months prior to the death, the court properly told the jury that defendant's mine was a mine known to generate explosive gas instead of submitting that question to the jury.

Eleganti v. Standard Coal Co., 50 U. —; 168 P. 266.

DIRECTING A VERDICT:

The court has no authority to entertain a motion for judgment notwithstanding the verdict on the ground that there was a failure of proof as to some essential element of the cause of action; but that question must be raised by a motion for nonsuit, a request to direct the verdict, or, after verdict, by motion for a new trial.

Kirk v. Salt Lake City, 32 U. 143; 89 P. 458.

Verdict for plaintiff properly directed, in ejectment case.

Jones v. Memmott, 8 U. 212; 30 P. 752.

Where there is a substantial conflict in the evidence it is error to instruct the jury to find a verdict.

Johnston v. Meaghr, 14 U. 426; 47 P. 861.

Lepper v. Reilley, 47 U. 567; 155 P. 444.

Verdict properly directed under facts in replevin case against sheriff.

Munns v. Loveland, 15 U. 250; 49 P. 743.

Verdict directed where facts undisputed.

Centennial-Eureka M. Co. v. Juab Co., 22 U. 395; 62 P. 1024.

In determining whether lower court should have directed a verdict, the appellate court must consider the evidence in the aspect most favorable to the respondent.

Merrill v. O. S. L. Ry., 29 U. 264; 81 P. 85.

Where it appears that the contract sought to be enforced is contrary to public policy, the court of its own motion should dismiss the action, regardless of whether the parties request it.

Boyd v. Topham, 47 U. 224; 152 P. 1185.

Where defendant, by erecting and maintaining a dam for thirty years, acquired a prescriptive right to divert the flood waters of a stream, it is not entitled to a directed verdict where there is evidence that the original dam has been raised and the diversion increased.

Stephens R. & L. S. Co. v. U. P. R. Co., 48 U. 528; 161 P. 459.

The propriety of an order directing a verdict for defendant is tested by the question whether all reasonable men would draw the same conclusions from the evidence, and whether such conclusion requires a verdict for defendant

Peterson v. Bullion-Beck & C. M. Co., 41 U. 364; 126 P. 310.

A party other than the one against whom a verdict is directed cannot complain of the absence of a reason for such direction.

Morris v. Salt Lake City, 35 U. 474; 101 P. 717.

Where the net damage to grape vines could not be ascertained from the evidence, the court should withdraw it from the jury.

Sagers v. International Smelting Co., 50 U. —; 168 P. 105.

Where there is no evidence of the cost of harvesting crops, the court should withdraw from the jury the question of damages.

Id.

Where plaintiff's evidence and the inferences therefrom would authorize reasonable men to arrive at different conclusions, the question is one of fact, though the evidence on some points may be very unsatisfactory.

Robinson v. Salt Lake City, 37 U. 520; 109 P. 817.

Where, in an action against an initial and connecting carrier for negligence in transporting sheep, there is no evidence that the cars provided by the initial carrier were not proper, nor that there was any delay or injury while sheep were in its possession, the court did not err in directing a verdict for the initial carrier.

The court is not bound to accept a witness's statement as conclusive because there is no direct testimony of an eyewitness to the contrary, when there are other facts and circumstances from which a jury could properly find otherwise.

Condie v. R. G. W. Ry. Co., 34 U. 237; 97 U. 120.

Motion for a directed verdict must specify the grounds thereof, and in a motion for nonsuit a general statement that the plaintiff has not made a sufficient case to go to the jury is not sufficient; but the rule is qualified to the extent that where it is manifest on what question of law the case was taken from the jury and the defect does not admit of correction, a failure to specify the ground of motion does not justify a reversal.

Smalley v. D. & R. G. R. Co., 34 U. 423; 98 P. 311.

The trial court is not required to specify its reasons for directing a verdict.

Owens v. S. P., L. A. & S. L. R. Co., 32 U. 208; 89 P. 825.

If the grounds for motion for a directed verdict are not specified, the supreme court will not review the ruling denying the motion.

Bown v. Owens, 37 U. 177; 106 P. 708.

Nor is the overruling of such motion error.

Kytka v. Weber Co., 48 U. 421; 160 P. 111.

In passing on motion to direct a verdict, the court should determine what the undisputed evidence establishes; it does not weigh the evidence to determine what facts are established.

Law v. Smith, 34 U. 394; 98 P. 300.

Where, in an action for negligence, the answer puts in issue the allegations of the complaint and sets up contributory negligence, assumption of risk, settlement, etc., the court, in directing the verdict, must specify the ground therefor.

Smalley v. D. & R. G. R. Co., 34 U. 423; 98 P. 311.

MISCELLANEOUS AS TO INSTRUCTIONS:

When trial court erred in instructing the jury, in spite thereof they found a proper verdict supported by the evidence, on appeal from order setting aside such verdict as against law, and granting new trial, the same will be reversed and original verdict reinstated.

Krantz v. R. G. W. Ry. Co., 12 U. 104; 41 P. 717.

Where it is clear almost beyond reasonable controversy that the instructions of the court to the jury respecting the question of damages had been disregarded, the supreme court may order a new trial; the same influence which caused the jury to disregard the instructions of the court may have misled them in passing upon other questions in the case.

Wright v. Southern Pacific Co., 14 U. 383; 46 P. 375.

Harmless instruction no error.

Leak v. R. G. W. Ry., 9 U. 246; 33 P. 1045.

When evidence is introduced which is not admissible except for a special purpose, the jury should be instructed, upon the request of the party prejudiced thereby, to limit its use to that purpose only.

Neilson v. Nebo Brown Stone Co., 25 U. 37; 69 P. 289.

Marks v. Culmer, 6 U. 419; 24 P. 528.

Instructions as to elements of damage in negligence cases. notes to §§ 6504-6505.

Although the instructions of the court were not set out in the bill of exceptions, it will be presumed that they were in writing in the absence of any showing that they were given verbally in pursuance of this section.

Utah Optical Co. v. Keith, 18 U. 464; 56 P. 155.

Instructions presumed correct.

Flint v. Nelson, 10 U. 261; 37 P. 479; affirmed 166 U. S. 276.

The verdict of a jury in an equity suit on controverted questions of fact submitted to it being merely advisory, error cannot be predicated on instructions given or refused.

Grand Cen. M. Co. v. Mammoth M. Co., 29 U. 490; 83 P. 648.

Smith v. Richardson, 2 U. 424.

The instructions are the law of the case which the jury must follow, whether they consider them correct or not, and whether the instructions are, in fact, correct or not; and where a verdict is in disregard of instructions, it should be set aside by trial court.

Bently v. Brossard, 33 U. 396; 94 P. 736.

Where all the facts alleged as to plaintiff's right to recover were denied in the answer, it is not reversible error for the court to copy the complaint and such parts of the answer as raised the issues in the case, it not appearing that the jury was thereby misled as to the issues.

Smith v. Columbus Buggy Co., 40 U. 500; 123 P. 580.

A party is entitled to have instruction given on its theory of the case, provided there is any evidence to support it.

Pratt v. Utah Light & Traction Co., 51 U. —; 169 P. 868.

Anderson v. Nielson, 43 U. 564; 137 P. 152.

The refusal of instruction not justified by the evidence, though reflecting a party's theory is not error.

Ulrich v. Utah Apex Mining Co., 50 U. —; 169 P. 263.

An instruction that the mere fact that an accident happened was not sufficient to charge defendant with negligence held not objectionable, as there was some evidence of defendant's negligence.

Boyd v. S. P., L. A. & S. L. R. Co., 45 U. 449; 146 P. 282.

An instruction that the jury are to exclude from their minds any special knowledge of the case "except such matters as are of common knowledge" is not erroneous.

The court's admonition to jury before viewing premises that it was to merely view the premises "and not to talk about the case at all; to look is all you are to do; not to take account, measurements, or go out to act as detectives; not to be searchers for anything that has not been brought before you or suggested to you"—was proper.

Sorenson v. D. & R. G. Ry. Co., 49 U. 548; 164 P. 1020.

In a will case, where the court ruled at the beginning of trial that the burden of proof was on the proponent, but, in charging the jury, charged that as to the issue of insanity only the burden of proof was on the protestant, the court erred in failing to charge as to the burden on issue of undue influence, though proponent's counsel did not request an instruction thereon.

In re Hansen's Will, 50 U. —; 167 P. 256.

An instruction permitting jury to construe the contract sued on is erroneous.

Bailey v. Spalding-Livingston Inv. Co., 43 U. 535; 136 P. 962.

Where a part of a requested instruction was bad, the court was justified in refusing the whole of it.

Jensen v. D. & R. G. R. Co., 44 U. 100; 138 P. 1185.

Requested instructions containing correct statement but ending by directing the jury to determine the whole case on a single issue not decisive of the whole case, is properly refused.

Herndon v. S. L. City, 34 U. 65; 95 P. 646.

A charge that it is a presumption that every man exercises due care for his own safety when in a place of danger, and that decedent did so when he approached the railroad crossing, and plaintiff need not affirmatively prove he looked and listened, and burden of proof that he did not is on defendant, is not erroneous.

Evans v. O. S. L. R. Co., 37 U. 431; 108 P. 638.

A party requesting the court to charge on a subject may complain that the court erroneously stated the law where it was not stated as requested.

Smith v. Ogden & M. W. R. Co., 33 U. 129; 93 P. 185.

It was not prejudicial error to charge in language of the pleadings as to what constituted the issues in the case, where the issues were stated in plain and concise language.

Dimmick v. Utah Fuel Co., 49 U. 430; 164 P. 872.

Mallett v. Velie M. Co., 49 U. 567; 164 P. 877.

Where a court admits proof of a contract as of a different date than that alleged without requiring any amendment to the pleadings to conform to the proof, it is error to instruct that the jury must find that the contract was performed on the dates alleged.

Beason v. Western Meat Co., 40 U. 398; 124 P. 335.

An instruction that if a jury find "by preponderance of the evidence" that plaintiff has failed to prove his case the verdict should be for the defendant, was erroneous in requiring defendant to establish his case by a preponderance of the evidence.

Hillyard v. Bair, 47 U. 561; 155 P. 449.
Where the defendant objects to certain evidence which may be admissible for a certain purpose only, the court overrules the objection, and states that it will instruct fully thereon, and counsel excepted to the ruling, and relying on the court's promise to instruct, failed to submit a request thereon, and the court does not instruct thereon, it is erroneous.
State v. McCurtain, 51 U. —; 172 P. —.

6803. (3148.) Requests for instructions; numbered and in writing; refusal; modification. Either party may, before the court has instructed the jury, or later by consent of the court, ask special instructions, which shall be in writing and numbered, and the court must either give such instructions as requested or refuse to do so, or give the instructions with modifications. Those refused shall be so marked; those modified shall be marked in such manner as clearly to point out the changes therein by words indicating the same.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 609*; Col., Mills' An. C. § 187*; Kansas (1889) § 4370*.
Instructions generally, including requests, note to § 6802.
Instructions requested or given become part of judgment roll, § 6806.

6804. (3149.) Instructions to be numbered and read without comment. The instructions given shall be in consecutively numbered paragraphs, and shall be read to the jury without oral comment or explanation.

6805. (3150.) Instructions to be signed; may be taken by jury. When the charge is in writing, it must be signed by the judge and delivered to the jury, and may be taken by the jury in their retirement and returned with their verdict into court.

Col., Mills' An. C., § 187*; Kansas (1889) § 4370*.
Court may allow the jury to take the written charge into the jury room.
Scoville v. S. L. City, 11 U. 60; 39 P. 481.

6806. (3151.) Instructions to be filed. Exceptions to charge, when and how taken. All instructions requested or given shall be filed by the clerk and become a part of the judgment roll. Exceptions to the charge or any portion thereof, or to the refusal or modification of any instruction requested, shall be taken at the time the charge is given or before verdict. No reason need be given for such exceptions, but the exceptions shall be noted upon the minutes of the court, or by the court stenographer if one is in attendance.

Iowa, McClain's An. C., § 3994*; N. Dak. (1895) § 5433*.
Exceptions generally, §§ 6965-6973.
Exceptions must be taken at the time the decision is made, § 6965.
Presumption in favor of charge, note to § 6994.
Judgment roll, how made up, § 6867.
No particular form of exception required, except, § 6967.
What deemed excepted to, § 6966.

Errors not properly excepted to are not considered on appeal, note to § 6994.
Assignments of error, note to 6994.
Requests to charge are a part of the judgment roll.
Lindsay L. & L. Co. v. Smart L. & L. Co., 43 U. 554; 137 P. 837.
Where a requested instruction is refused, an exception to the refusal to give it is sufficient.
Farnsworth v. U. P. Coal Co., 32 U. 112; 89 P. 74.

EXCEPTIONS TO CHARGE:

In the absence of exceptions to the charge, it cannot be reviewed.
Jenkins v. Mammoth M. Co., 24 U. 513; 68 P. 845.
Kunkel v. Utah Lumber Co., 29 U. 13; 81 P. 897.
The suggestion that the specific objectionable matter in an instruction was not pointed out by the counsel in taking an exception to the action of the court in the premises cannot avail where the exception relates to a request which was deemed excepted to, and not to an original instruction given by the court of its own motion.
Mickelson v. East Tintic Ry. Co., 23 U. 42; 64 P. 463.
Specific exceptions to parts of charge objected to should be taken before verdict, so that trial court may have opportunity to correct errors, if any.

Grow v. Utah L. & Ry. Co., 37 U. 41; 106 P. 514.

Where an instruction includes different and independent subjects, a general exception thereto cannot be considered on appeal unless the instruction as a whole is incorrect.

Mathews v. Daly-West M. Co., 27 U. 193; 75 P. 722.

Smith v. Columbus Buggy Co., 40 U. 580; 123 P. 580.

An exception to an instruction on the ground that it contains a partial and incomplete statement of the evidence and an inaccurate statement of the law, but without showing wherein it is inaccurate, raises no question on appeal.

State v. Clark, 27 U. 55; 74 P. 119.

An exception need not give any reason why an instruction is bad, but the word or phrase or paragraph complained of must be specifically pointed out, so that the trial court may have the opportunity of making corrections.

Farnsworth v. U. P. Coal Co., 32 U. 112; 89 P. 74.

Doubtful practice for counsel to agree that exceptions to charge can be taken after retirement of jury.

Ruffatti v. Societe des Mines, 10 U. 386; 37 P. 591.

Farr v. Swigart, 13 U. 150; 44 P. 711.

Without knowledge of plaintiff's counsel, defendant's counsel, with consent of the court, went to the court reporter's room and there caused exceptions to be noted by the reporter to parts of the charge and refusal to charge; held, that errors assigned on exceptions so noted should not be considered.

Ober v. Schenck, 23 U. 614; 65 P. 1073.

General exceptions to a number of paragraphs of a charge is insufficient to preserve for review the propriety of giving any of such instructions.

Murray M. & L. Co. v. Newhouse Realty Co., 47 U. 622; 155 P. 442.

6807. (3152.) View by jury. When, in the opinion of the court, it is proper for the jury to have a view of the property which is the subject of litigation or of the place in which any material fact occurred, it may order them to be conducted in a body under the charge of an officer to the place, which shall be shown to them by some person appointed by the court for that purpose. While the jury are thus absent, no person other than the person so appointed shall speak to them on any subject connected with the trial.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 610.

The court's admonition to jury before viewing premises, "not to talk about the case at all; to look is all you are to do; not to take accounts, measurements, or go out to act as detectives; not to be searchers for anything that has not been brought before you, or suggested to you"—was proper.

P. A. Sorenson Co. v. D. & R. G. R. Co., 49 U. 548; 164 P. 1020.

The viewing of the premises is within the discretion of the trial court.

Shortino v. S. L. & U. R. Co., 51 U. —; 174 P. 860.

6808. (3153.) Admonition to jury upon separating. If the jury are permitted to separate, either during the trial or after the case is submitted to them, they shall be admonished by the court that it is their duty not to converse with, or suffer themselves to be addressed by, any other person on any subject of the trial, and that it is their duty not to form or express an opinion thereon until the case is finally submitted to them.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 611.

6809. (3154.) What papers may be taken to jury room. Upon retiring for deliberation, the jury may take with them all papers which have been received as evidence in the cause, except depositions, or copies of such papers as ought not, in the opinion of the court, to be taken from the person having them in possession, and they may also take with them notes of the testimony or other proceedings on the trial, taken by themselves or any of them, but none taken by any other person.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 612.

6810. (3155.) Jury may decide in court or retire. Duty of officer. When the case is finally submitted to the jury, they may decide in court or retire for deliberation. If they retire they must be kept together in some convenient place under charge of an officer until they agree upon a verdict or are discharged by the court. Unless by order of the court, the officer having them under his charge must not suffer any communication to be made to them, or make any himself, except to ask them if they have agreed upon their verdict; and he must not, before the verdict is rendered, communicate to any person the state of their deliberations or the verdict agreed upon.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 613*.

6811. (3156.) Further instructions to jury on request; notice. After the jury have retired for deliberation, if there be a disagreement among them as to any part of the testimony or if they desire to be informed of any point of law arising in the cause, they may require the officer to conduct them into court. Upon their being brought into court, the information required must be given in the presence of, or after notice to, the parties or counsel. Such information must be given in writing or taken down by the stenographer.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 614*.

Instructions may be given on a legal holiday, § 1806.

Where a jury asks about an instruction which erroneously made the time of employment controlling, and the court fails to withdraw or modify the instruction, it is prejudicial error.

Beason v. Western Meat Co., 40 U. 398; 124 P. 335.

6812. (3157.) Sick juror may be discharged. Effect. If, after the impaneling of the jury and before verdict, a juror becomes sick so as to be unable to perform his duty, the court may order him to be discharged. In that case the trial may proceed with the other jurors, or another juror may be sworn and the trial begin anew, or the jury may be discharged and a new jury then or afterwards impaneled.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 615.

6813. (3158.) Action retried when jury discharged or fail to render verdict. In all cases where the jury are discharged, or prevented from giving a verdict by reason of accident or other cause during the progress of the trial or after the cause is submitted to them, the action may be again tried immediately or at a future time, as the court may direct.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 616.

Judge or juror may be called as a witness, effect, § 7125.

6814. (3159.) Court open during deliberation of jury. Sealed verdict. While the jury are absent the court may adjourn from time to time in respect to other business, but it is nevertheless open for every purpose connected with the cause submitted to the jury until a verdict is rendered or the jury discharged. The court may direct the jury to bring in a sealed verdict at the opening of the court, in case of an agreement during a recess or adjournment for the day.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 617.

Courts open on legal holiday when jury out, § 1806.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 618.

Verdict may be received or jury discharged on a legal holiday, § 1806.

Three-fourths of the jurors may find a verdict, Con. art. 1, sec. 10.

Prior to statehood a similar statute held unconstitutional, note to § 3595.

6816. (3161.) Informal or insufficient verdict, how corrected. When the verdict is announced, if it is informal or insufficient, in not covering the issue submitted, it may be corrected by the jury under the advice of the court, or the jury may be again sent out.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 619.

CHAPTER 29.

THE VERDICT.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 624.
Report of referee on the facts has the effect of a special verdict, § 6840.
Presumption in favor of verdict, note to § 6994.
Defects cured by verdict, note to § 6573.
Directing a verdict, note to § 6802.
Judgment to be entered on verdict within twenty-four hours, § 6861.
Cases on chance verdict, § 6978.

Where, in an action against three defendants to rescind a sale, the jury were justified in finding that the defendant wagon company alone made the contract of sale, and it appeared that the jury intended to render a verdict against it alone, failure to find in favor of the other two defendants did not prejudice such defendant.
Smith v. Columbus Buggy Co., 40 U. 580; 123 P. 580.

6821. (3163.) Court may direct special verdict or special findings. In all cases, the court may direct the jury to find a special verdict in writing upon all or any of the issues, or may instruct them, if they render a general verdict, to find upon particular questions of fact, to be stated in writing, and may direct a written finding thereon. The special verdict or finding must be filed with the clerk and entered upon the minutes. When a special finding of facts is inconsistent with the general verdict, the former controls the latter, and the court must give judgment accordingly.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 625*.
Special verdict defined, § 6820.
Issues of fact, how tried, §§ 6781, 7208.
Special issues may be tried by jury, order, § 6465.

Verdict containing a finding on the whole issue, also special findings, is good.
Smith v. Ireland, 4 U. 187; 7 P. 749.

Where special verdict is capable of two constructions, one supporting general verdict, the other not, appellate court will adopt the one that sustains the general verdict.
Warner v. U. S. Mutual Accident Ass'n, 8 U. 431; 32 P. 696.
Issues in civil cases tried by the court unless jury demanded, § 6827.

The submission of special findings is within the discretion of the court, and its refusal to do so is not error.
Genter v. Conglomerate M. Co., 23 U. 165; 64 P. 362.
Webb v. R. G. W. Ry., 7 U. 17; 24 P. 616.

Toltec Ranch Co. v. Cook, 24 U. 453; 67 P. 1123.
Grand Cent. M. Co. v. Mammoth M. Co., 29 U. 490; 83 P. 648.

It is in the discretion of the court to direct a general or special verdict.
Smith v. Ireland, 4 U. 187; 7 P. 749.

In an action for wrongful death of plaintiff's intestate, it is within the discretion of the court to direct special findings.
Webb v. D. & R. G. Co., 7 U. 17; 24 P. 616.

Where a cause is tried as a law action without special interrogatories and a general verdict is returned, such verdict cannot be set aside on the ground that it was advisory on an issue in equity.
Naylor v. Jensen, 38 U. 310; 113 P. 73.
Houston v. Hechler, 44 U. 64; 138 P. 1159.

It was not an abuse of the discretion of the trial court to refuse to submit special issues to the jury because there were different items of damages claimed.
Lindsay L. & L. Co. v. Smart L. & L. Co., 43 U. 554; 137 P. 837.

6822. (3164.) In action for recovery of money, verdict must state amount. When a verdict is found for the plaintiff in an action for the recovery of money, or for the defendant when a counterclaim for the recovery of money is established exceeding the amount of the plaintiff's claim as established, the jury must also find the amount of the recovery.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 626.
Judgment on counterclaim, § 6863.
Special damages can not be recovered unless specially pleaded, note to § 6566.
Judgment in action for money, etc., § 6864.
Where there are several counts, a verdict should specify the judgment of the jury on each; but where the objection was not made in the court below it was not available on appeal.
Smith v. Fisher, 24 U. 506; 68 P. 849.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 627.
Judgment in action to recover personal property, § 6864.
In an action in replevin, brought against the county collector, to recover possession of cattle levied upon for taxes, where the plaintiff between the time of levy and the bringing of the action had paid the taxes, and the jury returned a verdict finding for the defendant and assessing his damages at $24 over and above what has been paid in tax receipts; held, that the verdict meant that the jury found $24 damages for the defendant.
Ryan Cattle Co. v. Slaughter, 6 U. 278; 21 P. 997.
In order to warrant a jury in assessing damages in replevin, the damages claimed must be set up by a statement of the facts, and a mere clause in the prayer asking for damages is insufficient.
Shafer v. Russell, 28 U. 444; 79 P. 559.

6824. (3166.) Clerk to enter verdict, etc. Upon receiving a verdict, an entry must be made by the clerk in the minutes of the court, specifying the time of trial, the names of the jurors and witnesses, and setting out the verdict at length; and where a special verdict is found, either the judgment rendered thereon, or if the case be reserved for argument or further consideration, the order thus reserving it.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 628.

Judgment must be entered within twenty-four hours, exception, § 6861.

CHAPTER 30.

TRIAL BY THE COURT.

6827. (3167.) Actions tried by court unless jury demanded or case referred. All issues in civil actions shall be tried by the court, unless, in cases where a jury may be had, the same shall be demanded in the manner prescribed in § 6782, or unless, in a proper case, a referee or master in chancery shall be appointed.

Submitting special issues to jury, §§ 6444, 6781.

Trial by judge pro tempore, Con. art. 8, sec. 5; § 1682.

Jury waived unless demanded, Con. art. 1, sec. 10, § 6782.

Court may direct special verdict or verdict on special issues, § 6821.

References and trials by referee, §§ 6835-6841, and notes.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 632.

Trial by jury, judgment within twenty-four hours after verdict, § 6861.

Dismissal of action for failure to demand judgment within six months, § 6848.

Judgment in general, §§ 6853-6871.

Decrees and judgments may be entered in vacation, the case having been submitted in open court.

Russell v. Hank, 9 U. 309; 34 P. 245.

In an equity case, the court may treat a verdict of a jury or the findings of a referee as advisory and make such findings as the evidence will warrant, and enter a decree thereon.

Wasatch Mining Co. v. Jennings, 14 U. 221; 46 P. 1106.

Smith v. Richardson, 2 U. 424.

Grand Cent. M. Co. v. Mammoth M. Co., 29 U. 490; 83 P. 648.

Findings left with the clerk to be filed are as effectually filed as if he placed his file mark upon them.

Fisher v. Emerson, 15 U. 517; 50 P. 619.

Billings v. Parsons, 17 U. 22; 53 P. 730.

The provisions respecting time of filing decision are directory merely, and a court has the right to file findings and decree after the expiration of the time designated.

Lynch v. Coviglio, 17 U. 106; 53 P. 983.

Victor M. Co. v. Natl. Bank of Rep., 18 U. 87; 55 P. 72.

Headlund v. Daniels, 50 U. —; 167 P. 1170.

The judgment appointing a guardian in a contested case must be based on findings.

In re Manning, 38 U. 281; 112 P. 167.

ADDITIONAL FINDINGS AFTER JUDGMENT:

The decisions hereunder, except the last two cases, were rendered prior to the amendment of § 6828 in 1907.

Additional findings made after judgment without notice to the adverse party may be stricken from the transcript.

Kahn v. Central Smelting Co., 102 U. S. 641; 2 U. 371.

It is not good practice, in either law or equity cases, nor is it proper in either, after findings and judgment, for the court to file additional findings at the request of either party, while the judgment is allowed to stand.

Clawson v. Wallace, 16 U. 300; 52 P. 9.

Fisher v. Emerson, 15 U. 517; 50 P. 619.

Lynch v. Coviglio, 17 U. 106; 53 P. 983.

Klopenstine v. Hays, 20 U. 45; 57 P. 712.

Amendments to findings, while motion for new trial is pending, are authorized and justified when they are responsive to the issues and are supported by the evidence.

Hayes v. Lavagnino, 17 U. 185; 53 P. 1029.

An opinion of the court in deciding a case, setting forth its reasons for the judgment, is not a finding of facts within the meaning of this section, and the appellate court cannot disregard findings of fact simply because they were filed subsequently to rendering of the opinion.

Victor M. Co. v. Natl. Bank of Rep., 18 U. 87; 55 P. 72.

Grand Cent. M. Co. v. Mammoth M. Co., 29 U. 490; 83 P. 648.

The amendment, effective March 25, 1907, authorizing additional findings and conclusions after the entry of judgment, applies to a judgment entered March 16, 1907, so as to make the time for appeal run from September 21, when the additional findings were made.

Boucofski v. Jacobsen, 36 U. 165; 104 P. 117.

Independent of the provision that after judgment the court may make additional findings, the court had no jurisdiction to so do after the term at which judgment was entered, even though there was pending a motion to retax costs.

Holm v. Davis, 41 U. 200; 125 P. 403.

6829. (3169.) Findings and conclusions to be separately stated. In giving the decision, the facts found and the conclusions of law must be separately stated, and the judgment must thereupon be entered accordingly.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 633.

Referee to state facts found, and conclusions of law, separately, § 6840.

Additional or modified findings, § 6828, and note.

Opinion of court not a finding, note to § 6828.

Harmless errors and technicalities disregarded, note to § 6994.

Findings left with the clerk for filing, note to § 6828.

Advisory verdict or findings by referee may be disregarded, note to § 6828.

Findings are not construed as strictly as special findings. If the findings and pleadings taken together fairly justify the judgment, notwithstanding a want of precision and an occasional intermixture of matters of fact and conclusions of law, it is sufficient.

O'Reilly v. Campbell, 116 U. S. 418: (Not reported in Utah Reports.)

Where, after the taking of evidence in an action by a client against an attorney for an accounting, and after the judge had found that plaintiff was entitled to an accounting and had ordered defendant to account on a future day, the defendant objected to the judge's future proceeding in the cause and another judge was authorized to try it, the substitute judge could make findings on the whole case.

Everett v. Jones 32 U. 489; 91 P. 360.

In a law case the supreme court may not make findings nor treat as found that which might have been or ought to have been found.

Lyman v. Title Guarantee & Surety Co., 48 U. 230; 158 P. 423.

Duggins v. Colby, 45 U. 335; 145 P. 1042.

In the absence of the testimony, if the findings are supported by the pleadings, the supreme court assumes that there was testimony to support the trial court's findings.

Cain v. Stewart, 50 U. —; 167 P. 265.

NECESSITY FOR FINDINGS:

A judgment must find support in the findings.

Kahn v. Central Smelting Co., 2 U. 371.

Reich v. Rebellion S. M. Co., 3 U. 254; 2 P. 703.

Blumenthal v. Asay, 3 U. 507; 24 P. 1056.

Hennefer v. Hays, 14 U. 342; 47 P. 90.

Walley v. Deseret Nat. Bank, 14 U. 305; 47 P. 147.

Maynard v. Loco. Eng. Ins. Ass'n, 14 U. 458; 47 P. 1030.

A judgment must be based either upon a verdict or upon findings, and cannot be based on a motion.

(Criticised in Kirk v. S. L. City, 32 U. 143; 89 P. 458.)

Reich v. Reb. M. Co., 3 U. 254; 2 P. 703.

Findings of fact are required in all cases where issues of fact are tried without a jury; they should be filed before the entry of the judgment or decree.

Kahn v. Central Smelting Co., 2 U. 371; affirmed 102 U. S. 641.

Nephi Irr. Co. v. Jenkins, 8 U. 369; 31 P. 986.

An express finding that the applicant for a patent is in possession is not necessary where the facts show that he is constructively if not actually in possession.

Eilers v. Boatman, 3 U. 159; 2 P. 66.

Total absence of findings is reversible error.

Reich v. Rebellion M. Co., 3 U. 254; 2 P. 703.

Blumenthal v. Asay, 3 U. 507; 24 P. 1056.

But see Haynes v. Roberts, 4 U. 405; 11 P. 512.

Error is not presumed on appeal, but must be affirmatively shown, and when the trial court filed no findings, it will be presumed, on appeal, that the findings were waived unless the contrary appears from the record.

Haynes v. Roberts, 4 U. 405; 11 P. 512.

Where a judgment is taken by default, no finding of the court is necessary.

Walker Bros v. Continental Ins. Co., 2 U. 331.

No findings necessary where a cause is submitted upon the pleadings to the court, and the court finds that the answer raised no issue.

Dickert v. Weise, 2 U. 350.

Secs. 3379, 3380, C. L. 1888, require findings in case of a final judgment only, and an order refusing to confirm a sale of real estate is not a final judgment.

In re Gibbs, 4 U. 97; 6 P. 525.

Findings of fact are required only in trials on the merits, and findings on a motion for new trial are not required, neither are they necessary nor usual in practice.

Wright v. U. P. R. R. Co., 22 U. 338; 62 P. 317.

In a contested application for appointment of a guardian because of incompetency, findings of fact are essential.

In re Manning, 38 U. 281; 112 P. 167.

Where the defendant set up an affirmative reply, there must be findings on the issue raised, and findings that none of the allegations of the answer are true is a conclusion, and insufficient.

Westminster Inv. Co. v. McCurtain, 39 U. 544; 118 P. 564.

On plaintiff's suggestion that return of service did not correctly show when service of summons was made, and it moved to amend, the court should have made findings as to the actual time of service of summons.

West Mt. L. & S. Co. v. Danley, 38 U. 218; 111 P. 647.

FINDINGS ON ALL MATERIAL ISSUES:

A judgment for plaintiff in an action to recover on certificates of deposit alleged to have been assigned to plaintiff in consideration of $1,000 will be reversed where the consideration is attacked for fraud, and the court fails to find any consideration for the assignment.

Turner v. Utah Title Ins. Co., 10 U. 61; 37 P. 91.

Failure to find on immaterial issues is not error nor is it prejudicial error to fail to find on material issues, when they would necessarily have been prejudicial to appellant, and when those already found are sufficient to sustain the judgment.

Maynard v. Loco. Eng. Ins. Ass'n, 16 U. 145; 51 P. 259.

Connor v. Raddon, 16 U. 418; 52 P. 764.

Hague v. Nephi Irr. Co., 16 U. 421; 52 P. 765.

Billings v. Parsons, 17 U. 22; 53 P. 730.

Groome v. Ogden City, 10 U. 54; 37 P. 90.

Chambers v. Emery, 13 U. 374; 45 P. 192.

Orr v. Rich, 7 U. 519; 17 P. 261.

Farnsworth v. Holderman, 3 U. 381; 4 P. 337.

Mills v. Gray, 50 U. —; 167 P. 358

The findings must support the judgment, and when it affirmatively appears that they fail to do so, the judgment will be reversed on appeal.

Karren v. Karren, 25 U. 87; 69 P. 465

If there be no finding on a material issue the judgment must be set aside.

Mitchell v. Jensen, 29 U. 346; 81 P. 165.

Thomas v. Clayton, 47 U. 96; 151 P. 543.

Unless under the evidence no findings, other than in support of the judgment, were permissible.

Snyder v. Allen, 50 U. —; 168 P. 945.

Under § 6995, as amended in 1907, if the trial court fails to find upon all material issues, the appellate court may remand case with directions to trial court to make complete findings and enter judgment thereon (Distinguishing Dillon Imp. Co. v. Cleaveland, 32 U. 1; 88 P. 670.)

Everett v. Jones, 32 U. 489; 91 P. 360.

The court must find on all the material issues, including those raised by counterclaims, regardless of the insufficiency of the evidence to support them, or though no evidence in their support is introduced. No judgment can properly be rendered until there are such findings.

Everett v. Jones, 32 U. 489; 91 P. 360.

Dillon Imp. Co. v. Cleaveland, 32 U. 1; 88 P. 670.

Failure to find on immaterial issues, or where findings must have been adverse to defeated party, not error, note to § 6994.

In a law case the supreme court is not authorized to find facts or to draw deductions from them, and treat as found that which might have been found, Con. art. 8, sec. 9, and note.

Affirmative matter entitling defendant to findings and decree may be set up in an answer, not by way of counterclaim.

Welch, Driscoll & Buck v. Buck, 48 U. 653; 161 P. 455.

In an action on notes where the facts are stipulated and it is clear that plaintiff cannot recover for a reason not involved in the issue of payment upon which no finding is made, want of such finding is immaterial.

I. X. L. Stores Co. v. Moon, 49 P. 262; 162 P. 622.

A finding that a mechanic's lien claimant had not been paid sufficiently meets the contention that the claimant had been paid by work done for it by the contractor.

Langton Lime & Cement Co. v. Perry, 48 U. 112; 159 P. 49.

Langton Lime & Cement Co. v. Smith, 48 U. 112; 159 P. 49.

In an action for dower, a finding that plaintiff must fail because she failed to establish the existence of a lawful marriage between herself and decedent is a negative finding, and is sufficient to support a judgment for defendant on that ground.

Hilton v. Snyder, 37 U. 384; 108 P. 698.

Where the court makes affirmative findings of fact on the material issues which are necessarily a complete negative of the truth of the matter set forth in the pleadings of the other party, the failure of the court to expressly find on the matters, the truth of which is thus negatived, is not error.

Skliris v. Melis, 50 U. —; 170 P. 968.

FINDINGS MUST BE CERTAIN:

"That there was no such co-tenancy between the plaintiff and defendants in the mine in controversy as entitled the plaintiff to an accounting," is not a sufficient finding of fact upon which to base a decree.

Kahn v. Central Smelting Co., 102 U. S. 641; same case, 2 U. 371.

In an action of replevin for the recovery of one hundred and four cattle described, and finding of fact by the court that the plaintiffs were not at that time the owners of the cattle sued for, describing them, is not inconsistent with another finding, that the defendent levied upon one hundred and two head of cattle described, the two descriptions not being exactly the same.

Blish v. McCornick, 15 U. 188; 49 P. 529.

Findings that are inconsistent with each other and against the pleadings and the preponderance of the evidence will be set aside on appeal, and new findings rendered.

Sandberg v. Victor M. Co., 24 U. 1; 66 P. 360.

Findings and decree as to water rights not sufficiently specific will be set aside or modified.

Nephi Irr. Co. v. Jenkins, 8 U. 369; 31 P. 986.

Nephi Irr. Co. v. Vickers, 15 U. 374; 49 P. 301.

Smith v. Phillips, 6 U. 376; 23 P. 932.

Holman v. Pleasant Grove, 8 U. 78; 30 P. 72.

Findings should be definite and certain.

Bartholomew v. Fayette Irr. Co., 31 U. —; 86 P. 481; 87 P. 707.

Maynard v. Loco. Eng. Ins. Ass'n, 14 U. 458; 47 P. 1030.

Where the ultimate fact is found, no finding of probative facts which may tend to establish that the ultimate fact was found against the evidence, can overcome the finding of the ultimate fact.

Sierra Nev. Lumber Co. v. McCornick, 37 U. 150; 106 P. 666.

A finding that plaintiff was an innocent purchaser for value, without knowledge of any defect in or defense to the notes and acted in good faith in the transaction, and was the holder in due course for a valuable consideration paid before maturity, was sufficient though in the nature of conclusions.

Miller v. Marks, 46 U. 257; 148 P. 412.

A finding that there is an enforcible contract is sufficient.

Chadwick v. Arnold, 34 U. 48; 95 P. 527.

A finding that an action was barred by limitations is a mere conclusion.

Rasmussen v. Sevier Valley Can Co., 40 U. 371; 121 P. 741.

Findings of fact which merely announce legal conclusions deducible from facts not stated will not support a judgment.

Utah Ass'n of Cred. Men v. Home Fire Ins. Co., 36 U. 20; 102 P. 631.

A general finding that all the complainant's material allegations are true, or that the allegations of a pleading, contrary to the findings are untrue, and defendant failed to established its defense by any competent proof, is too indefinite, and a conclusion.

Munsee v. McKellar, 39 U. 282; 116 P. 1024.

Westminster I. Co. v. McCurtain, 39 U. 544; 118 P. 564.

A finding that plaintiff has consorted with women other than his wife is sufficient as a finding of adultery, and that the plaintiff has deserted the defendant without good cause or any cause, and ever since and still continues to so wilfully and without cause desert said defendant and to live separate and apart from her without any cause or sufficient cause, or any cause or reason, against her will, without her consent, would ordinarily be a sufficient finding of desertion, but is insufficient in view of the plaintiff's showing of cruelty of defendant.

Doe v. Doe, 48 U. 200; 158 P. 781.

In an action to quiet title, a finding that the lease was obtained by defendant's fraud and was void, might be construed to amount to a finding that the lease, as a mere instrument in writing, containing the evidence of the agreement between the parties was obtained by defendant's fraud, justifying a conclusion that the lease was void.

Morgan v. Simons, 34 U. 146; 96 P. 1018.

A finding that it affirmatively appears from the record that summons was not served and the complaint not deposited with the clerk in time is not necessarily equivalent to finding that such acts were not done.

West Mt. L. & S. Co. v. Danley, 38 U. 218; 111 P. 647.

A finding, in an action to quiet title, that all claims of the plaintiff were barred by the provisions of certain statutes and the right of the defendants was perfected by limitations, is a nullity.

Ives v. Grange, 42 U. 608; 134 P. 619.

A finding that the evidence is manifestly insufficient to support the allegations of the complaint is a mere conclusion.

Monataire Mining Company v. Columbus Rexall Con. Mining Co., 51 U. —; 170 P. —.

JUDGMENT SUPPORTED BY EVIDENCE:

If a decree is according to the evidence in a suit in equity, it makes no difference whether it is supported by the findings or not.

Maxfield v. West, 6 U. 379; 24 P. 98.

Fisk v. Patton, 7 U. 399; 27 P. 1.

Where there is no proof to show the existence of a fact found, the finding is nugatory, and the judgment which it is to support is subject to attack and avoidance.

Bacon v. Thornton, 16 U. 138; 51 P. 153.

Where there is no evidence to support the findings, the judgment will be set aside.

Walley v. Deseret Nat. Bank, 14 U. 305; 47 P. 147.

Eastman v. Gurrey, 15 U. 410; 49 P. 310.

Stevens v. Rogers, 16 U. 105; 51 P. 216.

Coates v. Metcalf, 29 U. 209; 81 P. 900.

Hathaway v. United Tintic Mg. Co., 42 U. 520; 32 P. 388.

Greenhalgh v. United Tintic Mg. Co., 42 U. 524; 132 P. 380.

Smoot v. Checketts, 41 U. 211; 125 P. 412.

Fowles v. Case Threshing M. Co., 42 U. 502; 151 P. 53.

Pennington v. Redman Van & Stor. Co., 34 U. 223; 97 P. 115.

Under the constitution, the appellate court has nothing to do with the sufficiency of the evidence to justify the findings or judgment, unless there is no competent evidence to support them, decision under Con. art 8, sec. 9.

A finding on conflicting evidence will not be disturbed where it depended largely upon the determination of the credibility of witnesses.

Utah Black Marble Co. v. American Marble & Onyx Co., 43 U. 68; 133 P. 472.

A finding in equity will not be disturbed where there is evidence supporting it.

Montgomery v. Berrett, 40 U. 385; 121 P. 569.

But where findings in an equity case are clearly against the weight of evidence, the supreme court will vacate them and substitute others.

Leland v. Bourne, 41 U. 125; 125 P. 652.

Where there is evidence to support findings, though conflict, they will not be disturbed on appeal.

D. & R. G. R. Co. v. Bollogenese, 45 U. 65; 143 P. 129.

Where the evidence in support of plaintiff's plea of title was insufficient, and there was no finding on defendant's claim of adverse possession which was not established by the evidence, cause should be remanded.

Peery Estate v. Ford, 46 U. 436; 151 P. 59.

Hearsay evidence could be ignored by the court in making findings on question of facts.

Holt v. Nielson, 37 U. 566; 109 P. 470.

Where the burden of proof cast on one party is not met, or where there is no evidence on a material issue, the adverse party is entitled to a finding which may be either affirmative or negative, depending on the circumstances.

Utah Com'l Svgs. Bank v. Fox, 40 U. 205; 120 P. 840.

Where the amount which the plaintiff admitted to be the value of the labor claimed as an offset, together with the amount found to have been paid on the contract and that allowed as damages, aggregated more than the contract price claimed by plaintiff, the finding that $403 was due on the contract was inconsistent with the facts found.

Miller v. Mt. Nebo L. & I. Co., 37 U. 1; 106 P. 504.

The findings must be viewed in the light of all the evidence and reasonable inferences warranted thereby.

Roberts v. Braffet, 33 U. 51; 92 P. 789.

If the findings on immaterial issues are harmless, or, anyway, not prejudicial to the losing parties, then the losing parties may not complain thereof.

Amunssen v. Hansen, 51 U. —; 172 P. —.

MUST CORRESPOND TO THE ISSUES:

A fact found not included within the issues is nugatory.

Maynard v. Loco. Eng. Ins. Ass'n, 14 U. 458; 47 P. 1030.

In a suit for specific performance of a contract to convey land to plaintiff, findings by the court giving plaintiff a right to a conveyance on a verbal gift, ratified by possession, violated the rule that the findings must correspond to the issues.

Price v. Lloyd, 31 U. 86; 86 P. 767.

Where the findings are not responsive to the pleadings, the judgment on the findings is without support, and must be reversed.

Florence Mfg. Co. v. Pacific Ex. Co., 36 U. 346; 103 P. 966.

Where a finding is properly within the purview of the allegations and responsive thereto, it is proper.

Moyle v. McKean, — U. —; 162 P. 63.

Findings outside the issues and contrary to the theory on which an action is based, are improper.

Kimball v. Success Mining Co., 38 U. 78; 110 P. 872.

It is not necessary for the court to make a finding upon a matter not in issue.

Neuberger v. Robbins, 37 U. 197; 106 P. 933.

Kimball v. Success Mining Co., 38 U. 78; 110 P. 872.

In an action to quiet title, plaintiff claimed to own the land, and prayed that it be quieted in him, a finding that plaintiff had paid taxes on the land which belonged to the defendant and was entitled to lien therefor is within the issues.

Salt Lake Inv. Co. v. Fox, 37 U. 334; 108 P. 1132.

Findings and conclusions, though general, will support a judgment where they follow the allegations of the complaint, but a judgment for an amount in excess of the amount prayed for and any possible award of interest, cannot be sustained.

Cain v. Stewart, 47 U. 160; 152 P. 465.

Where the actual location of the south boundary line of the block in which the lot was situated was in issue, a finding that the south boundary line was marked by plaintiff's picket fence, did not conform to the issues.

Giauque v. S. L. City, 42 U. 89; 129 P. 429.

Upon a complaint alleging a specific contract, and also an account stated as to the balance due; held, that findings that contract had been completed and that, after certain payments, the parties had agreed on a balance due with interest, and finding the amount due as agreed, conformed to the pleadings

Brittain v. Gorman, 42 U. 586; 133 P. 370.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW:

A finding "that there was no partnership between the plaintiff and the defendants" is not a conclusion of law, but is a finding of fact.

Kahn v. Central Smelting Co., 2 U. 371.

Findings of fact and conclusions of law may be on the same paper.

Fisk v. Patton, 7 U. 399; 27 P. 1.

When findings of fact are correct, the judgment will not be disturbed if in accordance therewith, even if the conclusions of law are incorrect in technical language.

McKibbon v. Brigham, 18 U. 78; 55 P. 66.

It is of no consequence whether a certain finding is a finding of ultimate fact or a conclusion of law, where there are other findings supporting the questionable finding and rendering it practically unnecessary.

Snyder v. Emerson, 19 U. 319; 57 P. 300.

Surplusage in a conclusion of law not reversible error.

Thompson v. Hays, 24 U. 275; 67 P. 670.

Blish v. McCornick, 15 U. 188; 49 P. 529.

A finding of negligence is a conclusion of law.

Warren v. Robison, 25 U. 205; 70 P. 989.

Where the facts found support a conclusion of law, the fact that the conclusion was stated in the findings of fact, instead of in the conclusions of law made by the court, is immaterial.

Gay v. Young Men's, etc., 37 U. 280; 107 P. 237.

In an action on a note which defendant claimed was usurious, the transaction being effected through agents on the part of both parties, a finding that the agreement was entered into "between plaintiff and defendant," held, a conclusion of law, and improper.

Brown v. Johnson, 43 U. 1; 134 P. 590.

A finding, in a suit involving the ownership and use of waters of springs, that plaintiff has no right, title, or interest in or to the waters, is a mere conclusion, and insufficient.

Munsee v. McKellar, 39 U. 282; 116 P. 1024.

In an action for injury to a shipment of sheep, a finding, not based on any pleading or evidence, that the stipulation requiring notice within ten days of claim for damages is reasonable, is a mere conclusion of law, and without effect.

Houtz v. Union Pac. R. R. Co., 33 U. 175; 93 P. 439.

Where the conclusions of law are palpably at variance with the findings as to the amount of plaintiff's recovery, the supreme court will order the lower court to set aide its erroneous conclusions of law and to substitute conclusions in accordance with the findings.

Parrott Bros. v. Ogden City, 50 U. —; 167 P. 807.
Where there can be only one conclusion of law, the failure to make it is harmless.
Skliris v. Melis, 51 U. —; 170 P. 968.
In an action for damages for breach of contract for failure to furnish water for irrigation as agreed, a finding that the shortage of water was caused by act of God was a mere conclusion which could not aid the judgment.
Miller v. Mt. Nebo Irr. Co., 37 U. 1; 106 P. 504.
A finding that the officer of a corporation, by reason of his relation to it, was chargeable with knowledge of the trust agreement entered into between the corporation and a stranger, whereby the latter conveyed real estate to the corporation in trust, etc., is not finding of fact, but a conclusion of law deducible from the fact.
Gay v. Young Men's, etc., 37 U. 380; 107 P. 237.
A finding that the note sued on, alleged generally by the answer to have been without consideration, was delivered for a valuable consideration, was a finding of an ultimate fact, and not a conclusion of law.
Utah Nat'l Bank v. Nelson, 38 U. 169; 111 P. 907.

6830. (3170.) Findings of fact may be waived. Findings of fact may be waived by the several parties to an issue of fact:

1. By failing to appear at the trial;
2. By consent in writing, filed with the clerk;
3. By oral consent, in open court, entered in the minutes.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 634.

6831. (3171.) Proceedings after issues of law determined. On a judgment for the plaintiff upon an issue of law, he may proceed in the manner prescribed by the first two subdivisions of § 6844, upon the failure of the defendant to answer. If judgment be for the defendant upon an issue of law, and the taking of an account or the proof of any fact be necessary to enable the court to complete the judgment, a reference may be ordered, as in that section provided.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 636.

When a reference may be ordered, § 6836, and note.

CHAPTER 31.

REFERENCES AND TRIALS BY REFEREES.

6835. (3172.) Reference on written consent of parties. Fees of referee. All or any of the issues in an action whether of fact or law, or both, may be referred by the court or judge thereof upon the written consent of the parties. The fees of referees shall be fixed by the court and shall in no case exceed $10 per day, except upon the written consent of both parties to the reference.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 638*.

6836. (3173.) When court may order a reference. When the parties do not consent to the reference, the court may, upon the application of either party or of its own motion, direct a reference in the following cases:

1. When the trial of an issue of fact will require the examination of a long account on either side, in which case the referee may be directed to hear and decide the whole issue or to report upon any specific question of fact therein; or,
2. When the taking of an account is necessary for the information of the court before judgment or for carrying a judgment or order into effect; or,
3. When a question of fact other than upon the pleadings shall arise upon motion or otherwise in any stage of the action; or,
4. Where it is necessary for the information of the court in a special proceeding.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 639.
Trial by judge pro tempore, Con. art. 8, sec. 5; § 1682.
Court may order reference to try an issue of fact, §§ 6781, 6827.
Appointment of referee to hear evidence on default, § 6844.
Appointment of referee in proceedings supplementary, § 6955.
Appointment of referee in probate proceedings, § 7661.
Referee to take an account, etc., § 6831.
The territorial district courts had exclusive original chancery jurisdiction and the inherent power to refer a case to a master to take testimony and report findings.
Nephi Irr. Co. v. Jenkins, 8 U. 369; 31 P. 986.

6837. (3174.) Referees agreed upon or appointed by court. Number. Qualifications. A reference may be ordered to any person or persons, not exceeding three, agreed upon by the parties. If the parties do not agree, the court or judge must appoint one or more referees, not exceeding three, who reside in the judicial district in which the action or proceeding is triable and against whom there is no legal objection.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 640*.

When three appointed, all must meet, but majority may act, § 7211.

6838. (3175.) Objections to referees same as to petit jurors. Either party may object to the appointment of any person as referee for the same cause for which challenges for cause may be taken to a petit juror in the trial of a civil action.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 641*.

6839. (3176.) Id. Must be heard by court. Evidence. The objections taken to the appointment of any person as referee must be heard and disposed of by the court or judge thereof. Affidavits may be read and witnesses examined as to such objections.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 642.

6840. (3177.) Trial by referee. Power. Findings and conclusions. Appeal. The trial by referee shall be conducted in the same manner as a trial by the court. Upon such trial the referee shall have the same power to grant adjournments and allow amendments to any pleading as the court would have, and upon the same terms and with like effect. He shall give to the parties or their attorneys at least ten days' notice of the time and place of trial; and, upon the written request of either party, it shall be his duty to fix such time and place for trial and give such notice thereof. He must state the facts found by him and conclusions of law separately, and report the same to the district court, and the district court may review such report and on motion enter judgment thereon, or set aside, alter, or modify the same, and enter judgment thereon so altered or modified, and may require the referee to amend his report when necessary. The judgment so entered by the district court may be appealed from to the supreme court in like manner as from judgments in other cases. When the reference is to report the facts, the report shall have the effect of a special verdict.

Wis., S. & B. An. S. (1889) § 2865*.

Referee to settle and sign bill of exceptions, § 6973.

Postponement by referee, costs, §§ 6786, 7043.

Provisions respecting evidence equally applicable to trial before referee, § 7210.

Special verdict, §§ 6820, 6821.

Contempt before referee, punishment, § 7072.

Findings of referee are advisory only, note to § 6828.

The order of reference may be amended and sent back to the referee at any stage in the proceedings.

U. S. v. The Church, 6 U. 9; 21 P. 503, 524.

Referee may grant a nonsuit, subject to approval of the court.

Reever v. White, 8 U. 188; 30 P. 685.

Findings of referee merely advisory.

Wasatch M. Co. v. Jennings, 14 U. 221; 46 P. 1106.

The referee has the same power in trying a cause that the court would have; the court passes on motion for new trial.

Reever v. White, 8 U. 188; 30 P. 685.

Hanks v. Matthews, 8 U. 181; 30 P. 504.

See Whitmore v. Harris, 10 U. 259; 37 P. 464.

The findings of a referee and a decree of the court thereon may be set aside by the court at a subsequent term.

Wasatch M. Co. v. Jennings, 14 U. 221; 46 P. 1106.

Findings of fact of referee on conflicting evidence held conclusive on appeal, notwithstanding inconsistencies in the testimony of the witnesses of one party; this going only to the weight of evidence and credibility of the witnesses.

Hannaman v. Karrick, 9 U. 236; 33 P. 1039.

6841. (3178.) Referee must be sworn. May administer oaths. The referees before proceeding to hear any testimony must be sworn well and truly to hear and determine the facts referred to them and true findings render according to the evidence, and they have power to administer oaths to all witnesses produced before them.

N. Dak. (1895) § 5461.

On default, plaintiff is entitled to relief according to his pleadings and evidence.

Hartog v. Tibetts, 1 U. 328.

Pendency of motion to strike out complaint does not prevent judgment by default.

Greenfield v. Wallace, 1 U. 188.

Where a judgment is taken by default, no finding of the court is necessary.

Walker Bros v. Continental Insurance Co., 2 U. 331.

No judgment entered where there is no liability, though no answer filed.

Munns v. Loveland, 15 U. 250; 49 P. 743.

The recital in a decree of divorce that "defendant was duly served with process by publication," not being contradicted by anything appearing in the judgment roll, is conclusive upon the court's jurisdiction of defendant's person when assailed in a collateral proceeding, even though the affidavit of publication failed to allege that the summons was published as provided by statute.

Amy v. Amy, 12 U. 278; 42 P. 1121.

Where a party has failed to file a pleading within the time required, and the default has been entered of record before the pleading is filed, a judgment entered upon the default after the filing of the pleading was entered is a matter of strict legal right, and can only be set aside by the court for cause.

Cutler v. Haycock, 32 U. 366; 90 P. 897.

CHAPTER 32.

JUDGMENT BY DEFAULT.

6844. (3179.) Failure to answer, etc., judgment by default; verification of complaint; reference; damages. Judgment may be had, if the defendant fail to answer the complaint, as follows:

2. In other actions, if no answer, demurrer, or motion has been filed with the clerk of the court within the time specified in the summons, or such further time as may have been granted, and the complaint and proof of service of the summons shall have been filed, the clerk must enter the default of the defendant, and thereafter the plaintiff may apply for the relief demanded in the complaint. If the taking of an account or the proof of any fact is necessary to enable the court to give judgment, or to carry the judgment into effect, the court may take the account or hear the proof, or may in its discretion order a reference for that purpose. And where the action is for the recovery of damages, in whole or part, the court may order the damages to be assessed by a jury; or if, to determine the amount of damages, the examination of a long account is necessary, by a reference as above provided.

3. In actions where the service of the summons was by publication or personal service out of the state, the plaintiff, upon the expiration of the time for answering, may, upon proof of service, and that no answer, demurrer, or motion has been filed, apply for judgment; and the court must thereupon require proof to be made of the demand mentioned in the complaint, and if the defendant be not a resident of the state, must require the plaintiff, or his agent, to be examined on oath respecting any payments that have been made to the plaintiff, or to any one for his use, on account of such demand, and may render judgment for the amount or other relief which he is entitled to recover.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 585*.

Judgment on failure to answer in garnishment proceedings, § 6738.

Setting aside judgment by default, § 6619.

Time to appear after service, § 6539.

On default, relief cannot exceed demand, § 6857.

Presumption in favor of judgment, note to § 6994.

Judgments may be entered in term time or in vacation; and in any county in the district, § 1678.

The clerk acts ministerially, not judicially, in entering a judgment hereunder. In action for damages for conversion requiring proof to ascertain proper amount of damages, the clerk cannot enter judgment by default.

Nounnan v. Toponce, 1 U. 168

This act is not unconstitutional as imposing judicial functions on the clerk, and if he refuses to enter judgment in cases under Sub. 1, he may be compelled to do so by mandamus.

Utah, etc. v. Bowman, 38 U. 326; 113 P. 63.

A defendant in an action to quiet title whose demurrer was overruled, who then refused to plead further and was in default, was not entitled to object to the introduction of evidence.

Doyle v. West Temple, 43 U. 277; 135 P. 103.

Where an unverified complaint is filed and summons served and judgment entered by the clerk, and then, about eight years thereafter, upon plaintiff's motion, the judgment is set aside and the complaint verified, and no copy of the amended complaint served, held the judgment entered thereon is void.

Thero v. Franklin, 48 U. 587; 160 P. 1188.

A motion to require plaintiff to separately state causes of action is sufficient to prevent the entry of default until it is disposed of.

Felt v. Felt, 50 U. —; 167 P. 835.

6845. (3180.) Judgment for part not controverted. Formalities. If the answer in any case denies or controverts only part of the cause or causes of action alleged in the complaint, the plaintiff may take judgment by default for the undisputed portion, leaving the action to proceed, as to the part controverted by the answer. Any of the formalities of the preceding section, if not insisted on at the proper time, shall be deemed waived.

Col., Mills' An. C. (1896) § 168*.

Judgment on the pleadings, note to § 6575.

Allegations not denied taken as true, §§ 6591, 6606.

CHAPTER 33.

JUDGMENT ON DISMISSAL OR NONSUIT.

6848. (3181.) When action may be dismissed or nonsuit entered. An action may be dismissed or a judgment of nonsuit entered in the following cases:

1. By the plaintiff himself at any time before trial, upon the payment of costs, if counterclaim has not been made, or affirmative relief sought by the answer of the defendant. If a provisional remedy has been allowed, the undertaking must thereupon be delivered by the clerk to the defendant, who may have his action thereon;

2. By either party upon the written consent of the other;

3. By the court when the plaintiff fails to appear on the trial, and the defendant appears and asks for the dismissal;

4. By the court, when upon the trial and before the final submission of the case the plaintiff abandons it;

5. By the court upon motion of the defendant, when upon the trial the plaintiff fails to prove a sufficient case for the jury; provided, that the offering of evidence after the overruling of a motion for a nonsuit shall not be deemed or considered a waiver of the exception taken by the defendant to the order overruling such motion;

6. By the court, when after verdict or final submission the party entitled to judgment neglects to demand and have the same entered for more than six months.

The dismissal mentioned in the first two subdivisions is made by an entry in the clerk's register. Judgment may thereupon be entered accordingly.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 581*. See Sups. (1889) p. 371, and (1895) p. 14, § 581*.

Judgment of dismissal does not bar new action unless rendered upon the merits, § 6859.

Costs on dismissal, etc., § 6860.

Upon an order of reference requiring the referee to make findings of facts and conclusions of law, the referee may grant a nonsuit.

Reever v. White, 8 U. 188; 30 P. 685.

The provisions of sub. 6 are directory, and the failure of the plaintiff to demand entry of judgment within six months after the court rendered its oral decision does not preclude the court from thereafter entering judgment for the plaintiff.

Headlund v. Daniels, 50 U. —; 167 P. 1170.

DISMISSAL BY PLAINTIFF:

But where answer, though demanding affirmative relief, fails to set up facts entitling to it, dismissal on motion of plaintiff is proper.

Flygare v. Maloney, 12 U. 497; 23 P. 879.

Where no counterclaim is made or affirmative relief asked for by the owner, plaintiff is entitled as of course to dismiss the cause pending the selection of the jury.

McCready v. R. G. W. Ry. C., 30 U. 1; 83 P. 331.

GROUNDS FOR NON-SUIT; WHEN GRANTED:

Nonsuit on grounds of variance, note to § 6615.

Non-joinder of necessary parties plaintiff is ground for nonsuit.

Goodspeed v. Wasatch S. L. Works, 2 U. 263.

Fact that plaintiff is a minor is no ground for nonsuit.

Newton v. Brown, 1 U. 287.

Where plaintiffs show contract but no damages, granting nonsuit not reversible error.

Ternes v. Dunn, 7 U. 497; 27 P. 692.

Fraud cannot be presumed from mere suspicious circumstances, but must be proved, and a nonsuit will be granted where there is no testimony offered by the plaintiff in his direct case tending to establish a prima facie case.

Ensign v. Fisher, 14 U. 477; 47 P. 950.

Variance. Motion improperly refused in case of failure of proof and variance.

Vance v. Whalan, 7 U. 44; 24 P. 672.

Nonsuit will not be granted unless a verdict for plaintiff would necessarily have to be set aside.

Saunders v. Sou. Pac. Co., 13 U. 275; 44 P. 932.

Bowers v. U. P. Ry. Co., 4 U. 215; 7 P. 251.

S. P. Co. v. Pool, 160 U. S. 438; reversing 7 U. 303; 26 P. 654.

Where evidence tends to show a case in all its parts, though slight, inconclusive, and far from satisfactory, nonsuit should be denied.

Cunningham v. U. P. Ry. Co., 4 U. 206; 7 P. 795.

Trihay v. Brooklyn Lead M'g. Co., 4 U. 468; 11 P. 612.

Johnson v. R. G. W. Ry., 19 U. 77; 57 P. 17.

Silcock v. R. G. W. Ry., 22 U. 179; 61 P. 565.

Where the court is unable to say that the injury was not caused by defendant's negligence, motion for nonsuit should be denied.

Olson v. O. S. L. R. R. Co., 24 U. 460; 68 P. 148.

Holland v. O. S. L. R. R. Co., 26 U. 209; 72 P. 940.

Saunders v. Sou. Pac. Co., 13 U. 275; 44 P. 932.
Wright v. Sou. Pac. Co., 14 U. 383; 46 P. 374.
Handley v. Daly M. Co., 15 U. 176; 49 P. 295.
Reese v. Morgan S. M. Co., 15 U. 453; 49 P. 824.
Dryberg v. Mercur G. M. Co., 18 U. 410; 55 P. 367.
Miller v. Bullion-B. & C. M. Co., 18 U. 358; 55 P. 58.
Dwyer v. S. L. City, 19 U. 521; 57 P. 535.
Pool v. Sou. Pac. Co., 20 U. 210; 58 P. 326.

On a motion for nonsuit, plaintiff's evidence together with all legitimate inferences therefrom, is to be taken as true, and it can be granted only if plaintiff has failed to prove his case.

McGarry v. Tanner & B. Co., 21 U. 16; 59 P. 3.
Jennings v. Pratt, 19 U. 129; 56 P. 951.
Lowe v. S. L. City, 13 U. 91; 44 P. 1050.
Smith v. Columbus Bug. Co., 40 U. 580; 123 P. 580.
Dunn v. S. L. & Ogden Ry. Co., 47 U. 137; 151 P. 979.

Motion for nonsuit on counterclaim properly denied, where its allegations are fairly established.

First Nat. Bank of Nephi v. Brown, 20 U. 85; 57 P. 877.

MOTION FOR NONSUIT SHOULD BE SPECIFIC:

A party moving for nonsuit is required to state in his motion the specific grounds relied on; he will not be permitted to rely on other grounds on appeal.

Boyle v. U. P. R. R. Co., 25 U. 420; 71 P. 988.
Frank v. Bullion-Beck & C. M. Co., 19 U. 35; 56 P. 419.
McIntyre v. Ajax M. Co., 20 U. 323; 60 P. 552.
Lewis v. Silver King M. Co., 22 U. 51; 61 P. 860.
Wild v. U. P. R. R. Co., 23 U. 265; 63 P. 886.
Boyd v. L. A. & S. L. Ry. Co., 45 U. 449; 146 P. 282.

A motion for a nonsuit must specify the grounds, and the plaintiff should then be permitted, if he desires, to supply the defects.

Gesas v. O. S. L. Ry. Co., 33 U. 156; 93 P. 274.

A motion for a nonsuit "on the ground of a fatal variance between the pleadings and the proof, and also upon the ground that the evidence fails to show any negligence or carelessness whatever on the part of the defendant company," is too general to be considered.

Lewis v. Silver King M. Co., 23 U. 51; 61 P. 860.
White v. R. G. W. Ry. Co., 22 U. 138; 61 P. 568.
Skeen v. O. S. L. R. R. Co., 22 U. 413; 62 P. 1020.

In an action between lessor and lessee, a motion for nonsuit on the ground, among other things, that the proof showed no contract requiring defendant to leave improvements on the premises was sufficiently specific.

Couch v. Welsh, 24 U. 36; 66 P. 600.

MISCELLANEOUS AS TO NONSUIT:

Prior to amendment of 1894, offering of evidence after motion overruled constituted a waiver.

Brown v. Sou. Pac. Co., 7 U. 288; 26 P. 579.
Thompson v. Avery, 11 U. 214; 39 P. 829.

After amendment of 1894, offer of evidence after motion overruled not a waiver.

Ensign v. Fisher, 14 U. 477; 47 P. 950.
Petrovitzky v. Brigham, 14 U. 472; 47 P. 666.

If further evidence is introduced by plaintiff after motion for nonsuit is overruled, defendant should renew his motion.

Wild v. U. P. Ry. Co., 23 U. 265; 63 P. 886.

The directing of a verdict for defendant at the time of granting a nonsuit, while not commendable practice, was not prejudicial error.

Couch v. Welsh, 24 U. 36; 66 P. 600.

The court cannot entertain a motion for judgment notwithstanding the verdict on the ground that there was a failure of proof to some essential element of the cause of action; that question must be raised by a motion for nonsuit, a request to direct the verdict, or, after verdict, by motion for a new trial.

Kirk v. S. L. City, 32 U. 143; 89 P. 458.

Where the jury rendered a verdict, supported by the evidence, necessitating affirmance, the question urged by respondent whether the court should have directed a verdict in favor of the successful party was immaterial.

Rogers v. R. G. W. Ry. Co., 32 U. 377; 90 P. 1075.

Where judgment of nonsuit is reversed on appeal, and case remanded without instructions to grant a new trial, the effect is to place the case in the same position, in the court below, as it was when the progress of the trial was interrupted by the motion for nonsuit.

Warren v. Robinson, 21 U. 429; 61 P. 28.

A judgment of nonsuit, on motion of the defendant, is not on the merits, so as to bar another action for the same cause.

Guthiel v. Gilmer, 27 U. 496; 76 P. 628.
Couch v. Welsh, 24 U. 36; 66 P. 600.
Robinson v. S. L. City, 37 U. 520; 109 P. 817.

Where nonsuit has been granted on plaintiff's evidence, the reviewing court should construe his evidence most favorably to him.

Jeppson v. Jensen, 47 U. 536; 155 P. 429.

Error, if any, in vacating non-suit before trial, is not prejudicial to defendant in view of the practice permitting the commencement of a new action on the same cause of action.

Brittain v. Gorman, 42 U. 586; 133 P. 370.

Defendant, who offered evidence after overruling of his motion for non-suit, might present the ruling on his exceptions for review, and be entitled to a review on the evidence adduced when motion was overruled.

Boyd v. S. P., L. A. & S. L. Co., 45 U. 449; 146 P. 282.

Any error in denying motion for nonsuit for insufficiency of evidence is cured where evidence subsequently introduced by defendant supplies the deficiency, and the error, though not waived, is without prejudice, even though the defendant assigned error on the ruling.

Id.

Where a motion for non-suit is made and the record states, "It is hereby ordered that the motion be and the same is hereby granted and the within case dismissed;" held, to constitute a judgment.

Robinson v. S. L. City, 37 U. 520; 109 P. 817.

The court may direct a verdict.

Smalley v. R. G. W. Ry. Co., 34 U. 423; 98 P. 311.

Defendant, by introducing evidence after his motion for a non-suit has been erroneously overruled, waives the error.

Thompson v. Avery, 11 U. 214; 39 P. 829.

6849. (3182.) Judgment on merits in all other cases. In every case, other than those mentioned in the next preceding section, judgment must be rendered on the merits.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 582.

CHAPTER 34.

JUDGMENT IN GENERAL.

6853. (3183.) Judgment defined. A judgment is a final determination of the rights of parties in an action or proceeding.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 577.
Judgment by default, §§ 6844, 6845.
Judgment by confession, §§ 6887-6890.
Judgment on demurrer, § 6831.
Judgment on offer of compromise, § 6893.
Judgment on submission of action, § 6894.
Judgment on dismissal, § 6848.
Judgment docket, entries, § 6870.
Judgment roll, § 6867.
Costs, §§ 7035-7054.
Res adjudicata, note to § 6994.
Judgment on the pleadings, note to § 6575.
Appeal only from final judgment, Con. art. 8, sec 9, and note.
On appeal, court may reverse, affirm, or modify judgment, § 6995, and note.
Interest before and after judgment, §§ 3330, 7050.
Relief against judgments taken by surprise, mistake, etc., § 6619, and note.
Conclusiveness of probate orders and decrees, §§ 7559, 7560, 7564, 7752, 7796, 7867, 7870.
Defects in pleadings cured by judgment, note to § 6573.
Personal service necessary to obtain personal judgment, note to § 1667.
Findings; materiality, certainty, etc., note to § 6829.
Certified copy court-martial judgment filed and enforced in civil court, § 3858.
Judgment in certain cases relates to date of lis pendens, § 6555.
Judgment of industrial commission, § 3135.
Decree in settlement of rights of parties in water cases, §§ 3422, 3485.
Presumptions in favor of judgment, note to § 6994.
Judgments may be entered in term time or in vacation; and in any county in the district, § 1678.
Indefinite and uncertain judgment will be set aside, note to § 6994.
Where judgment directs execution of conveyance, §§ 6963, 7000.

The amount of a judgment upon a promissory note should not be left open for computation. A judgment to be valid must be for a fixed and definite amount.
Baskin v. Godbe, 1 U. 28.

When order for judgment was entered on the 5th, but the amount was not ascertained so as to be entered before the 9th; held, not to be error.
Potter v. Hussey, 1 U. 249.

Clerical error in rendering judgment not material.
McClelland v. Dickenson, 2 U. 100.

Judgment in excess of value of property claimed in claim and delivery is not void but voidable.
Darke v. Ireland, 4 U. 192; 7 P. 714.

Amendment of judgment not entered in conformity with verdict.
R. & R. Cattle Co. v. Slaughter, 6 U. 278; 21 P. 997.
If the judgment of a court having jurisdiction has never been reversed or modified, it is binding upon a party and their privies, and conclusive of the questions litigated.
Hodson v. U. P. Ry. Co., 14 U. 381; 47 P. 859.
First Nat. Bank of Hailey v. Lewis, 12 U. 84; 41 P. 712.

Judgment rendered after party's death not void but voidable.
Elliott v. Bastian, 11 U. 452; 40 P. 713.

On collateral attack, a decree is conclusive unless invalid by defects appearing in the record.
Amy v. Amy, 12 U. 278; 42 P. 1121.
Hoagland v. Hoagland, 19 U. 103; 57 P. 20.

Where an attorney appears without authority, judgment rendered against a party by virtue of such appearance will not be allowed to stand.
Blyth & Fargo Co. v. Swenson, 15 U. 345; 49 P. 1027.

Legislature may validate a voidable judgment, not one that is void.
In re Christensen, 17 U. 412; 53 P. 1003.

Judgment obtained by fraud set aside on direct attack.
Mosby v. Gisborn, 17 U. 257; 54 P. 121.

Distinction between direct and collateral attack.
Id.

Where wife collusively permitted husband to obtain a divorce, she was not entitled to have same vacated.
Karren v. Karren, 25 U. 87; 69 P. 465.

Judgment of an inferior court is not res judicata pending appeal where it will be tried de novo.
Schramm-Johnson Drugs v. Kleeb, 50 U. —; 169 P. 161.

Judgment should be construed as other writings. Judgment for "the sum of 242.98" will be construed as for that many dollars.
Snow v. West, 37 U. 528; 110 P. 52.

An order quashing the service of summons without dismissing the action is not a final judgment.
Honerine v. Tallerday, 30 U. 449; 85 P. 626.

One to whose use a judgment is obtained in another's name can use the judgment by way of offset, and a parol assignment of a judgment is valid in absence of a prohibitory statute.
Snow v. West, 37 U. 528; 110 P. 52.

For the purpose of its enforcement, a judgment is evidence of its own existence immediately upon rendition and entry, and suit may be immediately started thereon.
Sweetser v. Fox, 43 U. 40; 134 P. 599.

A judgment is sufficient if, by the use of proper language, it states what the prevailing party shall receive and what the losing party is required to do.
Robinson v. Salt Lake City, 37 U. 520; 109 P. 817.

A judgment, in the absence of fraud, is conclusive on collateral attack as to the relation of debtor and creditor and the amount of the indebtedness, not only between the parties, but as to a third person on a subsequent action in which said relation and indebtedness are called in question.
Cooper v. Utah L. & Ry. Co., 35 U. 570; 102 P. 202.

A judgment debtor, seeking to enjoin the, collection of a judgment because of insolvency of the judgment creditor, and because he has a valid and subsisting judgment against the creditor which is a setoff, has no cause of action against the sheriff alone to whom an execution has been given by the judgment creditor.
Arnold v. Pope, 37 U. 204; 108 P. 351.

A judgment, in an action against an estate, declaring the claimant to be the widow of the deceased is not binding on the grantees of the decedent in an action by the widow to establish dower in land conveyed to them, and a judgment was not admissible to prove her marriage.
Hilton v. Snyder, 37 U. 384; 108 P. 698.

A judgment is not admissible in evidence to prove a material issue in another case before the time of appeal shall have expired.
Vance v. Heath, 42 U. 148; 129 P. 365.

Where a judgment was recovered on perjured testimony, equity is without power to grant relief, especially where defendant knew in advance that testimony of that character would be introduced.
Cantwell v. Thatcher Bros. Banking Co., 47 U. 150; 151 P. 986.

Unless a judgment accords with and is warranted by the pleadings of the party in whose favor it is rendered, it is fatally defective.
Rosenthyne v. Matthews-McCulloch Co., — U. —; 168 P. 957.

The judgment debtor had title to certain land on the entry of judgment; before execution was issued thereon, suit was commenced against the judgment debtor to cancel the deed for fraud; lis pendens was filed, and judgment rendered canceling the deed. The judgment creditor purchasing it at execution sale is not bound by the judgment canceling the deed.

Larson v. Gasberg, 30 U. 470; 86 P. 412.
Where a question has been adjudicated, it is conclusive between the parties, though it arises again in a different form even though the findings in the former adjudication, went beyond the allegations of the defendant's answer in the instant case.
Jeremy Fuel & Grain Co. v. Mellen, 50 U. —; 165 P. 791.
A judgment may be set aside in a direct proceeding where the only service of summons was by publication and the affidavit was made by an agent of the plaintiff and states the defendant's residence was unknown when by diligence plaintiff could have learned defendant's address.
Leibhart v. Lawrence, 40 U. 243; 120 P. 215.

6854. (3184.) Judgment for or against one or more parties. Judgment may be given for or against one or more of several plaintiffs, and for or against one or more of several defendants; and it may, when the justice of the case requires it, determine the ultimate rights of the parties on each side, as between themselves.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 578.
Cross-complaint may be filed against co-defendant, § 6581.
Power of the court in cases involving water rights, §§ 3422-3485.
Judgment against partnership, etc., § 6520.
Action against parties jointly liable, § 6511; judgment against one or more, §§ 6558, 6856, 6914.

Mont. Civ. P., § 1001*.
Decisions on indorsers and sureties, note to § 4097.
Surety paying may be substituted to rights of judgment creditor, § 7226.
Surety paying may file notice and enforce repayment, § 6950.

6856. (3186.) Judgment against one or more; proceedings as to others. In an action against several defendants, the court may, in its discretion, render judgment against one or more of them, leaving the action to proceed against the other whenever a several judgment is proper.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 579.
Action against parties jointly or jointly and severally liable, §§ 6511, 6558.
Judgment against persons associated, § 6520.
Judgment as to parties not originally served, §§ 6874-6879.
Execution against joint property of all defendants and individual property of defendants served, § 6914.

6857. (3187.) Relief not to exceed demand in default case; in other cases. The relief granted to the plaintiff, if there be no answer, cannot exceed that which he shall have demanded in his complaint; but in any other case the court may grant him any relief consistent with the case made by the complaint and embraced within the issue.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 580.
Judgment on the pleadings, note to § 6575.
Special damages must be specially pleaded in order to recover, note to § 6566.
On default, the plaintiff is entitled to such a decree as his allegations and evidence will justify.
Hartog v. Tibbitts, 1 U. 328.
Where one of the defendants fails to make answer, but the plaintiff upon trial fails to show liability as to any of the defendants, it is not error to deny judgment against the defendant thus in default.
Munns v. Loveland, 15 U. 250; 49 P. 743.
Where defendant defaults and third parties intervene, the court may find that at the commencement of the action plaintiff was a creditor of defendant.
Am. Oak Leather Co. v. Union Bank, 9 U. 87; 33 P. 246.

6858. (3188.) Married woman liable as if single. Judgment for or against a married woman may be rendered and enforced as if she were single.

Mont. Civ. P., § 1006.
Equal property and constractual rights of married woman, Con. art 22, sec. 2, and §§ 2983-2992.
Homestead rights, §§ 2862-2882, and notes.
Decisions on dower rights, etc., note to § 6406.
May sue and be sued as if single, § 6497.
May defend for her husband, §§ 6498, 6499.

6859. (3189.) Judgment of dismissal, except on merits, not a bar. A final judgment dismissing the complaint, either before or after a trial, does not prevent a new action for the same cause of action, unless it expressly declares, or it appears by the judgment roll, that it is rendered upon the merits.

Mont. Civ. P., § 1007.
Judgment of dismissal, §§ 6848, 6849.
A judgment of nonsuit, on motion of the defendant, is not on the merits, so as to bar another action for the same cause.
Guthiel v. Gilmer, 27 U. 496; 76 P. 628.
Couch v. Welsh, 24 U. 36; 66 P. 600.

6860. (3190.) Judgment for costs upon dismissal, etc. Upon the dismissal or disposition of an action in which the court has jurisdiction of the subject matter of the action, it is the duty of the court to render judgment for costs.

Mont. Civ. P. § 1008.
Costs when action dismissed for want of jurisdiction, § 7042.

This includes only such costs as are taxable under the statute.
McCready v. R. G. W. Ry. Co., 30 U. 1; 83 P. 331.

6861. (3191.) Entry of judgment on verdict within twenty-four hours; stay. When trial by jury has been had, judgment must be entered by the clerk in conformity to the verdict, within twenty-four hours after the rendition of the verdict, unless the court order the case to be reserved for argument, or further consideration, or grant a stay of proceedings.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 664.
Entering verdict, § 6824.
Trial by court, decision within thirty days, § 6828.
Entry of judgment on referee's report, § 6840.
Dismissal of action for failure to demand judgment within six months, § 6848.
Judgment may be amended where not entered in conformity with verdict.

Ryan and Ream Cattle Co. v. Slaughter, 6 U. 278; 21 P. 997.
Where a judgment was rendered in open court for plaintiff on motion of his attorneys, and he paid to the clerk the proper fees and demanded that a judgment be entered, but the clerk failed to make the entry, it was proper for the court to order its entry nunc pro tunc.
Oberndorfer v. Moyer, 30 U. 325; 84 P. 1102.

6862. (3192.) Calling up case reserved for argument. When the case is reserved for argument or further consideration, as mentioned in the next preceding section, it may be brought by either party before the court for argument.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 665.

6863. (3193.) Judgment for defendant on counterclaim, etc. If a counterclaim established at the trial exceed the plaintiff's demand, judgment for the defendant must be given for the excess; or if it appear that the defendant is entitled to any other affirmative relief, judgment must be given accordingly.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 666.

Verdict on counterclaim, § 6822.

6864. (3194.) Form of judgment in action for personal property. Judgment for kind of money specified. In an action to recover the possession of personal property, judgment for the plaintiff may be for the possession, or the value thereof, in case a delivery cannot be had, and damages for the detention. If the property has been delivered to the plaintiff, and the defendant claims a return thereof, judgment for the defendant may be for a return of the property, or the value thereof, in case a return cannot be had, and damages for taking and withholding the same. In an action on a contract or obligation in writing for the direct payment of money, made payable in a specified kind of money or currency, judgment for the plaintiff, whether it be by default or after verdict, may follow the contract or obligation, and be made payable in the kind of money or currency specified therein; and in all actions for the recovery of money, if the plaintiff allege in his complaint that the same was understood and agreed by the respective parties to be payable in a specified kind of money or currency, and this fact is admitted by the default of the defendant or established by the evidence, the judgment for the plaintiff must be made payable in the kind of money or currency so alleged in the complaint; and in an action against any person for the recovery of money received by such person in a fiduciary capacity, or to the use of another, judgment for the plaintiff must be made payable in the kind of money or currency so received by such person.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 667.
Interest and costs to be included in judgment, § 7050.
Judgment directing conveyance of real property, proceedings if not delivered, § 6962.
Verdict in action to recover personal property, § 6823.

How judgment entered in judgment docket, § 3199.
Verdict in action to recover money, etc., § 6870.
Judgment in claim and delivery for an amount in excess of that claimed is erroneous, but not void.
Darke v. Ireland, 4 U. 192; 7 P. 714.

6865. (3195.) Judgment book. Entries. The clerk must keep with the records of the court a book to be called the judgment book, in which the judgments and findings of fact must be entered.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 668*.
An appeal should not be taken before judgment is entered in the judgment book, but it will be presumed on appeal that the judgment was so entered, and this presumption will not yield to a collateral attack by affidavit, but can only be overcome by amendment to the record.

Robinson v. Salt Lake City, 37 U. 520; 109 P. 818.

6866. (3196.) Judgment rendered when party dies after verdict. Not a lien; paid by estate. If a party dies after a verdict or decision upon any issue of fact, and before judgment, the court may nevertheless render judgment thereon. Such judgment is not a lien on the real property of the deceased party, but is payable in the course of administration of his estate.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 669.

Death pending action, substitution, § 6513.

Presentment to executor or administrator, § 7657.

Execution of judgment rendered before death, §§ 6918, 7660.

Judgment rendered after party's death is voidable.

Elliott v. Bastian, 11 U. 452; 40 P. 713.

6867. (3197.) Judgment roll. Immediately after entering the judgment the clerk must attach together and file the following papers, which constitute the judgment roll:

1. In case the complaint be not answered by any defendant, the summons, with the affidavit of proof of service, and the complaint, with a memorandum indorsed thereon that the default of the defendant in not answering was entered, and a copy of the judgment;

2. In all other cases, the pleadings, a copy of the verdict of the jury, or findings of the court or referee, all bills of exception taken and filed, all orders, matters, and proceedings deemed excepted to without a bill of exceptions, and a copy of any order made on demurrer, or relating to a change of parties, a copy of the judgment and the order overruling the motion for a new trial. If there are two or more defendants in the action, and any one of them has allowed judgment to pass against him by default, the summons, with proof of its service upon such defendant, must also be added to the other papers mentioned in this subdivision. Am'd '11, p. 136.

Mont. Civ. P., § 1196; Cal. C. Civ. P., § 670*. See Sup. (1895) p. 19, § 670*.

Instructions requested or given become part of judgment roll, § 6806, and note.

Presumption in favor of judgment, note to § 6994.

When appeal decided on judgment roll, note to § 6994.

Appeal decided on record as made in court below, note to § 6994.

The instructions form part of judgment roll and are properly before the court for review.

Utah Optical Co. v. Keith, 18 U. 464; 56 P. 155.

Pleading which has been stricken from the files is still a part of the judgment roll.

Gregg v. Groesbeck, 11 U. 310; 40 P. 202.

Also order overruling demurrer.

Thomas v. Glendinning, 13 U. 47; 44 P. 652.

Unless the record shows that an order denying a motion for new trial was made so as to become a part of the judgment roll, under this section and § 6966, such ruling should be preserved in a bill of exceptions, in order to be considered on appeal; the clerk's certificate of minute entry of such order is not of itself sufficient.

Hecla G. M. Co. v. Gisborn, 21 U. 68; 59 P. 518.

Walker Brothers V. Skliris, 34 U. 353; 98 P. 114.

Warnock v. Peterson, 35 U. 542; 101 P. 699.

(The above cases were decided before the amendment of 1911.)

Where a reply was, on a date after the appeal was perfected, ordered filed nunc pro tunc as of the date of the trial of the case, it will not be considered as a part of the judgment roll.

Swanson v. Sims, 50 U. —; 170 P. 774.

Where the record and judgment itself show the summons issued on an original complaint and under the order of court the same was amended by adding a verification thereto but no new service was made, default judgment was improperly rendered on the amended complaint; and inasmuch as the record shows what was done, there can be no presumption indulged in to aid it.

Thero v. Franklin, 48 U. 587; 160 P. 1188.

The following papers are not a part of the judgment roll, and can be considered only when preserved in a bill of exceptions, viz:

Petition for removal of the case to the federal court.

Neesley v. S. P. R. Co., 35 U. 259; 99 P. 1067.

Affidavits and proceedings in discharge of an attachment.

Taylor v. Paloma M. Co., 50 U. —; 171 P. 147.

Exceptions based on the stenographer's certificate.

Thomas v. Blythe, 44 U. 1; 137 P. 396.

An order of nonsuit attached to transcript but not part of the judgment.

Lukich v. Utah Con. Co., 46 U. 317; 150 P. 298.

Denial of motion for change of venue.

Broadbent v. D. & R. G. R. Co., 48 U. 598; 160 P. 1185.

An order vacating a motion to substitute an administrator and denying motion to modify the judgment.

McCullough v. McCullough, 37 U. 148; 106 P. 665.

Intermediate orders.

Reever v. White, 8 U. 188; 30 P. 685.

Lowell v. Parkinson, 4 U. 64; 6 P. 58.

Affidavits used on motion for new trial.

Hecla G. M. Co. v. Gisborn, 21 U. 68; 59 P. 518.

6868. (3198.) Docketing judgment. Lien for eight years. Filing transcript in other counties. Immediately after filing the judgment roll, the clerk must make the proper entries of the judgment, under appropriate heads, in the docket kept by him, and from the time the judgment is docketed it becomes a lien upon all the real property of the judgment debtor not exempt from execution in the county in which the judgment is given, owned by him at the rendition of the judgment, or by him thereafter acquired during the existence of said lien in his own right. A transcript of the original docket, certified by the clerk, may be filed with the recorder of any other county, and from the time of the filing, the judgment becomes a lien upon all the real property of the judgment debtor not exempt from execution in such county, owned by him at the time, or which he may afterward, and before the lien expires, acquire. The lien shall continue for eight years unless the judgment be previously satisfied or unless the enforcement of the judgment be stayed on appeal by the execution of a sufficient undertaking as provided in this code, in which case the lien of the judgment ceases. Am'd '99, p. 34.

Judgments of city courts may be docketed by clerk of any district court; lien; execution, § 1719; from justices' courts, §§ 7501-7503.

6870. (3199.) Judgment docket defined; entries, how made. The docket mentioned in § 6868 is a book which the clerk keeps in his office with each page divided into columns and heads as follows: Judgment debtors, judgment creditors, judgment, time of entry, where entered in judgment book, appeals—when taken, judgment of appellate court, satisfaction of judgment—when entered. If judgment be for the recovery of money or damages, the amount must be stated in the docket under the head of judgment; if the judgment be for any other relief, a memorandum of the general character of the relief granted must be stated. The names of the judgment debtors must be entered in the docket, or in an index kept in connection therewith, in alphabetical order. Am'd '05, p. 17.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 672.

Entry of satisfaction of judgment, § 6883.

6871. (3200.) Docket open to inspection. The docket kept by the clerk is open at all times during office hours for the inspection of the public without charge; the clerk must arrange the several dockets kept by him in such manner as to facilitate their inspection.

Books to be kept by clerk, § 153€.

CHAPTER 35.

PARTIES NOT SUMMONED.

6874. (3201.) Joint debtors not originally served may be summoned to show cause. When a judgment is recovered against one or more of several persons jointly indebted upon an obligation by proceeding as provided in § 6558, those who were not originally served with the summons and did not appear in the action may be summoned to show cause why they should not be bound by the judgment in the same manner as though they had been originally served with the summons.

Judgment against one or more, §§ 6854-6856.
Party not served, time to answer after judgment, § 6619.

6875. (3202.) Id. Summons. Service. New complaint unnecessary. The summons, as provided in the next preceding section, must describe the judgment and require the person summoned to show cause why he should not be bound by it, and must be served in the same manner and returnable within the same time as the original summons. It is not necessary to file a new complaint.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 990.

6876. (3203.) Id. Affidavit accompanying summons showing amount due. The summons may be accompanied by an affidavit of the plaintiff, his agent, representative, or attorney, that the judgment, or some part thereof, remains unsatisfied, and must specify the amount due thereon.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 991*.

6877. (3204.) Id. Answer. Defenses allowed. Upon such summons the defendant may answer within the time specified therein, denying the judgment, or setting up any defense which may have arisen subsequently, or he may deny his liability on the obligation upon which the judgment was recovered. Am'd '15, p. 121.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 992.

6878. (3205.) Id. What constitute the written allegations. If the defendant, in his answer, deny the judgment, or set up any defense which may have arisen subsequently, the summons, with the affidavit annexed, and the answer constitute the written allegations in the case; if he deny his liability on the obligation upon which the judgment was recovered, a copy of the original complaint and judgment, the summons, with the affidavit annexed, and the answer constitute such written allegations.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 993.

6879. (3206.) Issues tried as in other cases. Judgment. The issues formed may be tried as in other cases, but when the defendant denies in his answer any liability on the obligation upon which the judgment was rendered, if a verdict be found against him, it must be for not exceeding the amount remaining unsatisfied on such original judgment, with interest thereon.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 994.

CHAPTER 36.

SATISFACTION OF JUDGMENT.

Wis., S. & B. An. S. (1889), § 2908.
Satisfaction of judgment of U. S. Court, record, § 3590.

6882. (3208.) Effect of satisfaction by attorney whose authority is revoked. No satisfaction by an attorney shall be conclusive upon the judgment creditor in respect to any person who shall have notice of revocation of the authority of such attorney, before any payment made thereon, or before any purchase of property bound by such judgment shall have been effected.

Wis., S. & B. An. S. (1889) § 2909. Authority of attorney, § 326.

6883. (3209.) When satisfaction filed, entries by clerk. On filing with him an instrument of satisfaction, duly executed and acknowledged, the clerk shall file the same with the papers in the case, and enter the same on the court record, if any, of the case, and shall also enter a brief statement of the substance thereof, including the amount paid, on the margin of the judgment docket, with the date of filing the satisfaction.

Wis., S. & B. An. S. (1889) § 2910. Satisfaction to be entered on docket, § 6870.

6884. (3210.) Satisfaction directed by court, when. When a judgment shall have been fully paid and not satisfied, or the instrument of satisfaction shall have been lost, the court in which the same was recovered may, upon satisfactory proof, authorize the attorney of the judgment creditor to satisfy the same, or may by order declare the same satisfied, and direct satisfaction to be entered upon the docket.

Wis., S. & B. An. S. (1889) § 2911.
Where judgment has been satisfied in part by collection under attachment proceedings, the court may order partial satisfaction.
Blake v. Farrell, 31 U. 110; 86 P. 805.

6885. (3211.) Satisfaction discharges lien. Partial satisfaction to be indorsed on execution. When a judgment shall have been satisfied, in whole or in part, or as to any judgment debtor, and such satisfaction entered upon the docket as aforesaid, such judgment shall, to the extent of such satisfaction, be discharged and cease to be a lien; and if any execution shall be thereafter issued thereon, it shall be indorsed with a memorandum of such partial satisfaction, and a direction to collect only the residue thereof, or to collect only from the judgment debtors remaining liable thereon.

Wis., S. & B. An. S. (1889) § 2912.
Lien of judgments, §§ 6868, 6869.
Where execution was issued for full amount of judgment, though more than half had been paid, a levy and sale thereunder of property in excess of the amount remaining unpaid was void.
Young v. Schroeder, 10 U. 155; 37 P. 252; affirmed 161 U. S. 334.

6886. (3212.) Transcript of satisfaction may be filed in other counties. When any satisfaction of a judgment shall have been entered on the docket, as aforesaid, in the county where the same was first docketed, a certified transcript of such docket, or a certificate by the clerk, under his official seal, showing such satisfaction, may be filed with the clerk of the district court in any other county where the same may have been docketed, and such clerk shall thereupon make a similar entry on the docket of such judgment, in his county, which shall have the same effect as in the county where the same was originally entered.

Wis., S. & B. An. S. (1889) § 2913.

CHAPTER 37.

JUDGMENT BY CONFESSION.

6887. (3213.) Confession of judgment for debt or contingent liability. Jurisdiction. A judgment by confession may be entered without action, either for money due or to become due or to secure any person against contingent liability on behalf of the defendant, or both, in the manner prescribed by this chapter. Such judgment may be entered in any court having jurisdiction for like amounts.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1132. Offer to allow judgment, effect, § 6893.

6888. (3214.) Verified statement in writing required. A statement in writing must be made, signed by the defendant and verified by his oath, to the following effect:

1. It must authorize the entry of judgment for a specified sum;

2. If the judgment to be confessed be for money due or to become due, it must state concisely the facts out of which the indebtedness arose and show that the sum confessed therefor is justly due or to become due;

3. If the judgment to be confessed be for the purpose of securing the plaintiff against a contingent liability, it must state concisely the facts constituting the liability and show that the sum confessed therefor does not exceed the same.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1133.
A confession of judgment must strictly pursue the statute, and a judgment entered thereon without the sworn statement required by this section is void as to creditors of the defendant not made parties to the action.
Bacon v. Raybould, 4 U. 357; 10 P. 481; 11 P. 510.
Confession of judgment entered without compliance herewith is void. Warrant of attorney to confess judgment is abrogated by our statute.
Utah Nat. Bank v. Sears, 13 U. 172; 44 P. 832.

6889. (3215.) Id. To be filed with clerk. Entry of judgment. Judgment roll. The statement must be filed with the clerk of the court in which the judgment is to be entered, who must indorse upon it, and enter in the judgment book, a judgment of such court for the amount confessed, with costs of entry. The statement and affidavit with the judgment indorsed thereupon becomes the judgment roll.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1134*. Fee for filing, § 2521. Judgment roll, § 6867.

6890. (3216.) Id. In justice's court. Transcript. In a justice's court, where the court has the authority to enter the judgment, the statement may be filed with the justice, who must thereupon enter in his docket a judgment of his court for the amount confessed, with costs of entry. If a transcript of such judgment be filed with the clerk of the district court, a copy of the statement must be filed with it.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1135*.
Judgment by confession in justice's court, § 7490; fee for filing, § 2527.
In city court, §§ 1719, 1722.
Offer to allow judgment, effect, § 7498.

CHAPTER 38.

OFFER OF COMPROMISE.

6893. (3217.) Either party may offer compromise. Effect of acceptance or rejection. Either party in any action may, at any time before the trial or judgment, serve upon the adverse party an offer in writing to allow judgment to be taken against him for the sum or property, or to the effect therein specified. If the latter accept the offer and give notice thereof within five days, he may file the offer with proof of notice of acceptance, and the clerk must thereupon enter judgment accordingly. If the notice of acceptance be not given, the offer is to be deemed withdrawn and cannot be given in evidence upon the trial; and if the party refusing the offer fails to obtain a more favorable judgment, he cannot recover costs, but must pay the costs of the adverse party from the time of the offer.

Where defendants at commencement of trial offered to allow judgment for a certain sum and accrued costs, in satisfaction of plaintiff's claims, plaintiff could file a bill of costs.
Smith v. Nelson, 23 U. 512; 65 P. 485.
A letter written before suit offering to pay a certain amount is privileged.
McKinney v. Carson, 35 U. 180; 99 P. 660.

CHAPTER 39.

SUBMITTING CONTROVERSY WITHOUT ACTION.

6894. (3218.) Parties may submit case upon agreed statement. Hearing. Parties to a question in difference, which might be the subject of a civil action, may without action agree upon a case containing the facts upon which the controversy depends, and present a submission of the same to any court which would have jurisdiction if an action had been brought. But it must appear by affidavit that the controversy is real, and the proceeding in good faith, to determine the rights of the parties. The court must thereupon hear and determine the case and render judgment thereon as if an action were pending.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1138.

6895. (3219.) Entry of judgment. Cost. Judgment roll. Judgment must be entered in the judgment book as in other cases, but without costs for any proceeding prior to the trial. The case, the submission, and a copy of the judgment shall constitute the judgment roll.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1139. Judgment roll, § 6867.

6896. (3220.) Judgment may be enforced or appeal taken as in other cases. The judgment may be enforced in the same manner as if it had been rendered in an action, and shall be subject to appeal in like manner.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1140.

CHAPTER 40.

ARBITRATION.

6899. (3221.) Parties may arbitrate controversy, except title to realty. Persons capable of contracting may submit to arbitration any controversy which might be the subject of a civil action between them, except a question of title to real property in fee, or for life; this qualification does not include questions relating merely to the partition or boundaries of real property, nor to questions involving the title to water or water rights. Am'd '03, p. 48.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1281*.

Arbitration of claim against estate of decedent, § 7661.

Submission to arbitration of "certain matters in controversy in relation to the title of a certain piece of land" is invalid hereunder.
Thygerson v. Whitbeck, 5 U. 406; 16 P. 403.

Provisions of the constitution of an unincorporated association, providing that death claims should be arbitrated by a board whose decision shall be final, constitute merely a revocable agreement to arbitrate, and do not preclude resort to the courts, nor is such a submission to arbitration a condition precedent to action.
Daniher v. A. O. U. W., 10 U. 110; 37 P. 245.

The law tends strongly to favor the settlement of controversies by arbitration.
Jensen v. Deep Cr. Farm & L. S. Co., 27 U. 66; 74 P. 427.

An agreement submitting a controversy to arbitration held to include both the question of contract and of damages.
Richards v. Smith, 33 U. 8; 91 P. 683.

Submissions to arbitration are to be liberally construed.
Id.

6900. (3222.) Submission to be in writing and acknowledged. Arbitrators. The submission to arbitration must be in writing, duly acknowledged, and may be to one or more persons.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1282*.

6901. (3223.) Id. Entered as order of court. Revocation. Court may compel award. It may be stipulated in the submission that it be entered as an order of the district court, for which purpose it must be filed with the clerk of the district court of the county where the parties, or one of them, reside. The clerk must thereupon enter in his register of actions a note of the submission, with the names of the parties, the names of the arbitrators, the date of submission, when filed, and the time limited by the submission, if any, within which the award must be made. When so entered, the submission cannot be revoked without the consent of both parties. The arbitrators may be compelled by the court to make an award, and the award may be enforced by the court in the same manner as a judgment. If the submission is not made an order of the court, it may be revoked at any time before the award is made.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1283.

It is not part of the duty of the arbitrators to file their award with the clerk.
Richards v. Smith, 33 U. 8; 91 P. 683.

The effect of a failure to file a submission in court before the hearing was only to permit the parties to revoke the submission, and prevent the court from acquiring jurisdiction until filed, and did not affect the right of the arbitrators to proceed to a hearing.
Id.

6902. (3224.) Powers of arbitrators. Arbitrators have power to appoint a time and place for hearing, to adjourn from time to time, to administer oaths to witnesses, to hear the allegations and evidence of the parties, and to make an award thereon.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1284.

6903. (3225.) Witnesses compelled to appear as in other cases. Witnesses may be compelled to appear before such arbitrators by subpœna to be issued by the clerk of the district court, in the same manner and with like effect, and subject to the same penalties for disobedience, as in other cases.

N. Dak. (1895) § 5984*.
Contempts before other than judicial officers, punishment, § 7072.

6904. (3226.) All arbitrators must meet. Majority controls. Oaths. All the arbitrators must meet and act together during the investigation, but when met, a majority may determine any question. Before acting they must be sworn, before an officer authorized to administer oaths, faithfully and fairly to hear and examine the allegations and evidence of the parties in relation to the matters in controversy, and to make a just award according to their understanding.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1285.
When three arbitrators, all must meet, but majority may act, § 7211.
Where authority joint, majority may act, § 5846.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1286.
Where parties submitted to arbitration generally all claims and controversies arising out of a lease of a number of sheep, and a suit commenced thereon, it was the duty of the arbitrators to pass on every point in difference arising out of the transaction.
Jensen v. Deep Cr. Farm & L. S. Co., 27 U. 66; 74 P. 427.
Presumption in favor of award.
Id.
Where mutual claims submitted to arbitration are all for money damages, an award in a gross sum is sufficient, without findings as to the separate claims.
Id.
No time being specified by a submission to arbitrators, nor by this section, for the filing of the award, mere delay in filing it did not deprive the court of jurisdiction to enter judgment on the award.
Richards v. Smith, 33 U. 8; 91 P. 683.

6906. (3228.) Vacation of award; grounds. The court, on motion, may vacate the award upon any of the following grounds, and may order a new hearing before the same arbitrators, or not, in its discretion:

1. That it was procured by corruption or fraud or other undue means;

2. That the arbitrators were guilty of misconduct or committed gross error in refusing, on cause shown, to postpone the hearing, or in refusing to hear pertinent evidence, or otherwise acted improperly, in a manner by which the rights of the party were prejudiced;

3. That the arbitrators exceeded their powers in making their award; or that they refused or improperly omitted to consider a part of the matters submitted to them; or that the award is indefinite or cannot be performed.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1287*.
Where a stipulation submits a matter to arbitration, but reserves the right to have the court determine whether there should be any damages, and the arbitrators submit the evidence with their report and judgment, the court may read the evidence, not to determine its probative value, but to ascertain if there is any evidence to sustain the arbitration judgment.
Bivans v. U. L. L. W. & P. Co., 51 U. —; 174 P. 1128.

6907. (3229.) When award may be modified or corrected. The court may, on motion, modify or correct the award when it appears:

1. That there was a miscalculation in figures upon which it was made, or that there is a mistake in the description of some person or property therein;

2. When a part of the award is upon matters not submitted, which part can be separated from other parts and does not affect the decision on the matters submitted;

3. When the award, though imperfect in form, could have been amended if it had been a verdict, or the imperfection disregarded.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1288.

6908. (3230.) Id. Decision on motion appealable, when. The decision upon the motion is subject to appeal in the same manner as an order which is subject to appeal in a civil action; but the judgment, if entered before a motion is made, cannot be subject to appeal.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1289.

Where the court modifies the award and enters judgment, it is appealable.

Bivans v. U. L. L. W. & P. Co., 51 U. —; 174 P. 1128.

6909. (3231.) Damages for revoking submission, limited. If a submission to arbitration be revoked and an action be brought therefor, the amount to be recovered can only be the costs and the damages sustained in preparing for and attending the arbitration.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1290.

CHAPTER 41.

EXECUTION.

6912. (3232.) Execution may issue within eight years. The party in whose favor judgment is given may, at any time within eight years after the date of entry thereof, have a writ of execution issued for its enforcement, either in the county in which said judgment was rendered, or in any county in which a transcript thereof has been filed and docketed in the office of the clerk of the district court. A judgment may be enforced by execution immediately after rendition, unless execution be stayed.

Sweetser v. Fox, 43 U. 40; 134 P. 599.

6913. (3233.) Requirements of execution. The writ of execution must be issued in the name of the state of Utah, sealed with the seal of the court and subscribed by the clerk, and must be directed to the sheriff of the county in which the writ is to be executed, and must intelligibly refer to the judgment, stating the court, the county where the judgment roll is filed, the names of the parties, the judgment, and, if it be for money, the amount thereof, and the amount actually due thereon, and if made payable in a specified kind of money or currency, as provided in § 6864, the execution must also take the kind of money or currency in which the judgment is payable, and must require substantially as follows:

1. If it be against the property of the judgment debtor, it must require the officer to satisfy the judgment, with interest, out of the personal property of such debtor; and if sufficient personal property cannot be found, then out of his real property; or if the judgment be a lien upon real property, then out of the real property belonging to him on the day when the judgment was docketed, or at any time thereafter; or if the execution be issued to a county other than the one in which the judgment was recovered, on the day when the transcript of the docket was filed in the office of the recorder of such county, stating such day, or any time thereafter;

2. If it be against real or personal property in the hands of the personal representatives, heirs, devisees, legatees, tenants, or trustees, it must require the officer to satisfy the judgment, with interest, out of such property;

3. If it be against the person of the judgment debtor, it must require the officer to arrest such debtor, and commit him to the jail of the county until he pay the judgment, with interest, or be discharged according to law;

4. If it be issued on a judgment made payable in a specified kind of money or currency as provided in § 6864, it must also require the officer to satisfy the same in the kind of money or currency in which said judgment is made payable, and the officer must refuse payment in any other kind of money or currency; and in case of levy and sale of the property of the judgment debtor, he must refuse payment from any purchaser at such sale in any other kind of money or currency than that specified in the execution; the officer collecting money or currency in the manner required by this chapter must pay to the plaintiff or party entitled to recover the same kind of money or currency received by him, and in case of neglect or refusal so to do, he shall be liable on his official bond to the judgment creditor in three times the amount so collected;

5. If it be for the delivery of the possession of real or personal property, it must require the officer to deliver the possession of the same, describing it, to the party entitled thereto, and may at the same time require the officer to satisfy any costs, damages, rents, or profits recovered by the same judgment out of the personal property of the person against whom it was rendered, and the value of the property for which the judgment was rendered to be specified therein; if a delivery thereof cannot be had, and if sufficient personal property cannot be found, then out of the real property, as provided in the first subdivision of this section.

6915. (3235.) Execution, when returnable. "Execution book." Entries. The execution may be made returnable at any time not less than ten nor more than sixty days after its receipt by the officer, to the clerk with whom the judgment roll is filed. When the execution is returned, the clerk must attach it to the judgment roll. If any real estate be levied upon, the clerk must record the execution and the return thereto at large, and certify the same under his hand as true copies, in a book to be called the execution book, which book must be indexed with the names of the plaintiffs and defendants in execution, alphabetically arranged, and kept open at all times during office hours for the inspection of the public without charge. It is evidence of the contents of the originals whenever they or any part thereof may be destroyed, mutilated, or lost.

Return, if first officer shall die or be incapable of completing service and return, § 6932.
Service may be completed and return made after return day, § 6932.
Return of sheriff, prima facie evidence, § 1510.

6916. (3236.) Judgment, how enforced. When the judgment is for money or the possession of real or personal property, the same may be enforced by a writ of execution; and if the judgment direct that the defendant be arrested, the execution may issue against the person of the judgment debtor, after the return of an execution against his property unsatisfied in whole or in part. When the judgment requires the sale of property, the same may be enforced by a writ reciting such judgment, or the material parts thereof, and directing the proper officer to execute the judgment by making the sale and applying the proceeds in conformity therewith. When the judgment requires the performance of any other act than as above designated, a certified copy of the judgment may be served upon the party against whom the same is rendered, or upon the person or officer required thereby or by law to obey the same, and obedience thereto may be enforced by the court.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 687.

6920. (3240.) Property liable to execution. Personal property not affected until levy. All goods, chattels, money, and other property, both real and personal, or any interest therein of the judgment debtor not exempt by law, and all property and rights of property seized and held under attachment in the action, are liable to execution. Shares and interests in any corporation or company, and debts and credits, and all other property, both real and personal, or any interest in either real or personal property, and all other property not capable of manual delivery, may be attached on execution in like manner as on writs of attachment. Gold dust and bullion must be returned by the officer as so much money collected at its current value, without exposing the same to sale. Until a levy on personal property, it shall not be affected by the execution.

Wheelwright v. National Copper Bank, 42 U. 579; 133 P. 132.

6921. (3241.) Debtor of judgment debtor may pay officer. After the issuing of an execution against property, and before its return, any person indebted to the judgment debtor may pay to the officer the amount of his debt, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the execution, and the officer's receipt is a sufficient discharge for the amount paid.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 716.

6922. (3242.) When property claimed by third person, plaintiff must indemnify officer. If the officer, by virtue of an execution issued from any court, shall levy the same on any goods and chattels claimed by any person other than the defendant, or be requested by the plaintiff to levy on any such goods and chattels, the officer may require the plaintiff to give him an undertaking with good and sufficient sureties to pay all costs and damages that he may sustain by reason of the detention or sale of such property; and until such undertaking shall be given, the officer may refuse to proceed as against such property.

EXEMPTIONS.

6923. (3243.) Exemption of earnings of minor child of debtor. The earnings of any minor child of any debtor within this state and the proceeds thereof are exempt from execution against such debtor by reason of any debts or liability of such debtor, not contracted for the special benefit of such minor child.

Minn. (1894) § 5461*.

6924. (3244.) Judgment for unlawfully taking exempt property is exempt. Whenever any personal property exempt, as provided in this title, is levied upon, seized, or sold by virtue of any execution, or wrongfully and unlawfully taken or detained by any person, the damages sustained by the owner thereof by reason of such levy, seizure, or sale, or unlawful detention or taking, and any judgment recovered therefor, shall be exempt from execution.

Minn. (1894) § 5462*.

A judgment for the value of exempt property wrongfully sold under execution is exempt.

Snow v. West, 37 U. 528; 110 P. 52.

One who left the state in 1905 lost the right to claim as exempt a judgment rendered in an action begun in March, 1906, on the ground it was for damages for wrongful levy on exempt property. One to whom he assigned the claim sued on, in 1907, could not claim that the judgment rendered thereon was exempt.

Id.

6925. (3245.) Property exempt from execution. The following property is exempt from execution, except as herein otherwise specially provided:

1. Chairs, tables, and desks, to the value of $200, and the library belonging to the judgment debtor; also musical instruments in actual use in the family;

2. Necessary household, table, and kitchen furniture belonging to the judgment debtor, to the value of $300; also one sewing machine, all family hanging pictures, oil paintings and drawings, portraits, and their necessary frames; all carpets in use; provisions actually provided for individual or family use sufficient for three months; two cows, with their sucking calves; two hogs, with all sucking pigs; all wearing apparel of every person or family; also all beds or bedding of every person or family; provided, that if the judgment debtor be the head of a family consisting of five or more members, there shall be a further exemption of two cows and their sucking calves;

3. The farming utensils or implements of husbandry of a farmer not exceeding in value the sum of $300; also two oxen, or two horses, or two mules, and their harness, one cart or wagon; also all seed, grain, or vegetables actually provided, reserved, or on hand for the purpose of planting or sowing at any time within the ensuing six months, not exceeding in value the sum of $200; crops, whether growing or harvested, and the proceeds thereof, not exceeding in value $200;

4. The tools, tool chest, and implements of a mechanic or artisan, necessary to carry on his trade, not exceeding in value the sum of $500; the notarial seal and records of a notary public; the instruments and chests of a surgeon, physician, surveyor, and dentist, necessary to the exercise of their professions, with their scientific and professional libraries, and the law professional libraries and office furniture of attorneys, counselors, and judges, and the libraries of ministers of the gospel, and the typewriting machine of a stenographer, typewritist, copyist, and reporter; and the type, presses, and material of a printer or publisher necessary in the pursuit of his business, not exceeding in value the sum of $500;

In re Farmer's Estate, 17 U. 80; 52 P. 972.

LEVY AND SALE.

Snow v. West, 35 U. 206; 99 P. 674.

6929. (3249.) Notice of sale, how given. Form. Before the sale of the property on execution, notice thereof must be given as follows:

1. In case of perishable property, by posting written notice of the time and place of sale in three public places of the precinct or city where the sale is to take place, for such a time as may be reasonable, considering the character and condition of the property;

2. In case of other personal property, by posting a similar notice in three public places of the precinct or city where the sale is to take place, for not less than five nor more than ten days;

3. In case of real property, by posting a similar notice, particularly describing the property, for twenty days, in three public places of the precinct or city where the property is situated, and also where the property is to be sold, and publishing a copy thereof once a week for the same period in some newspaper published in the county, if there be one; which notice shall be substantially as follows:

SHERIFF'S SALE.

In ..... Court, ... County, Utah:

.....,
Plaintiff,
vs.
.....,
Defendant.

To be sold at sheriff's sale, on the ..... day of ....., 19....., at ....., in ....., Utah. (Here insert brief description of property.)

.....,
Sheriff.

Any sheriff publishing a notice not in accordance with this form, and which shall cost more than said notice, shall not be entitled to any costs for the publication of the same, but shall be personally liable for the payment of such publication;

4. When the judgment under which the property is to be sold is made payable in a specified kind of money or currency, the kind of money or currency in which bids may be made at such sale must be stated in the several notices required by this section immediately following the description of the property, and shall be substantially as follows: "Purchase price payable in (here insert the kind of money or currency specified in the judgment)."

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 6926.

6930. (3250.) Penalties for selling without notice. Interfering with notice. An officer selling without the notice prescribed by the next preceding section forfeits $500 to the aggrieved party, in addition to his actual damages; and a person wilfully taking down or defacing the notice posted, if done before the sale or the satisfaction of the judgment, if the judgment be satisfied before sale, forfeits $500.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 693.

6933. (3253.) Service begun may be completed after return day. When an officer shall have begun to serve an execution issued out of any court of record on or before the return day of such execution, he may complete the service and return thereof after such return day.

Execution returnable, when, § 6915.

6934. (3254.) Execution sale, how conducted. Officer not to purchase. Debtor may direct. All sales of property under execution must be made at auction to the highest bidder, between the hours of nine in the morning and five in the afternoon. After sufficient property has been sold to satisfy the execution, no more can be sold. Neither the officer holding the execution nor his deputy can become a purchaser, or be interested in any purchase at such sale. When the sale is of personal property, capable of manual delivery, it must be within view of those who attend the sale, and be sold in such parcels as are likely to bring the highest price; and when the sale is of real property, and consisting of several known lots or parcels, they must be sold separately; or when a portion of such real property is claimed by a third person, and he requires it to be sold separately, such portion must be thus sold. All sales of real property must be made at the courthouse of the county in which the property, or some part thereof, is situated. The judgment debtor, if present at the sale, may also direct the order in which the property, real or personal, shall be sold, when such property consists of several known lots or parcels, or of articles which can be sold to advantage separately, and the officer must follow such directions.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 694*.
Where two lots of land were offered for sale, first separately, and no bids were made, and then were offered together, and bid in for the judgment; held, to be valid.
Dickert v. Weise, 2 U. 350.

6935. (3255.) Bidder refusing to pay, liable for loss on resale. Contempt. If a purchaser refuses to pay the amount bid by him for the property struck off to him at a sale under execution, the officer may again sell the property at any time to the highest bidder, and if any loss be occasioned thereby, the officer may recover the amount of such loss, with costs, from the bidder so refusing, in any court of competent jurisdiction; and the person refusing to pay the costs which have accrued by reason of his bid shall be deemed guilty of contempt of court, and punished accordingly.

Mont. Civ. P., § 1228. Cal. Civ. P., § 695*.
But if part of property remain unsold, creditor may insist upon its being sold for deficiency, and is not confined to the uncertain remedy this section gives.
Kershaw v. Dyer, 6 U. 239; 24 P. 621; 21 P. 1000.

6936. (3256.) Id. Officer may refuse subsequent bid of defaulting bidder. When a purchaser refuses to pay, the officer may, in his discretion, thereafter reject any subsequent bid of such person.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 696.

6937. (3257.) Id. Liability of officer under two preceding sections. The two preceding sections must not be construed to make the officer liable for any more than the amount bid by the second or subsequent purchaser, and the amount collected from the purchaser refusing to pay.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 697.

6938. (3258.) Property capable of delivery to be delivered. Certificate. Effect. When the purchaser of any personal property capable of manual delivery pays the purchase money, the officer making the sale shall deliver to the purchaser the property, and if desired, execute and deliver to him a certificate of the sale and payment. Such certificate conveys to the purchaser all the right, title, and interest which the debtor had in and to such property on the day the execution or attachment was levied.

Cal. C. Civ., § 698*.

6939. (3259.) Property not capable of delivery. Certificate. Effect. When the purchaser of any personal property not capable of manual delivery pays the purchase money, the officer making the sale must execute and deliver to the purchaser a certificate of sale and payment. Such certificate conveys to the purchaser all right, title, and interest which the debtor had in and to such property on the day the execution or attachment was levied.

Cal. C. Civ., § 699*.

6940. (3260.) Real property except leaseholds of less than two years subject to redemption. Certificate of sale. Upon a sale of real property, the purchaser is substituted for and acquires all the right, title, interest, and claim of the judgment debtor thereto; and when the estate is less than a leasehold of two years' unexpired term, the sale is absolute. In all other cases, the real property is subject to redemption as provided in this chapter. The officer must give to the purchaser a certificate of the sale, containing:

1. A particular description of the real property sold;
2. The price bid for each distinct lot or parcel;
3. The whole price paid;
4. When subject to redemption, it must be so stated.

And when the judgment under which the sale has been made is made payable in a specified kind of money or currency, the certificate must also show the kind of money or currency in which such redemption may be made, which must be the same as that specified in the judgment. A duplicate of such certificate must be filed by the officer in the office of the recorder of the county.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 700*. Redemption after mortgage foreclosure, § 3503. Redemption after sale under trust deed, § 3271.

REDEMPTION.

6941. (3261.) Who may redeem. Property sold subject to redemption, as provided in the next preceding section, or any part sold separately, may be redeemed in the manner hereinafter provided by the following persons or their successors in interest:

1. The judgment debtor, or his successor in interest, in the whole or any part of the property;

2. A creditor having a lien by judgment or mortgage on the property sold, or on some share or part thereof, subsequent to that on which the property was sold.

The persons mentioned in the second subdivision of this section are in this chapter termed redemptioners.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 701.

Where both plaintiff and defendant claimed the right to redeem.

Victor M. Co. v. Nat. Bank Rep., 15 U. 391; 49 P. 826.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 702*. See Sup. (1895) p. 21. When the price obtained on a judicial sale is grossly inadequate, and there were other circumstances impeaching the fairness of the transaction, such sale will be set aside and the judgment debtor allowed to redeem even after the statutory time for redemption has expired, especially when the sale was attended with serious irregularities, and it appeared that the judgment debtor relied upon the assurance of one of the attorneys that the statutory period of redemption would not be insisted upon.

6943. (3263.) Id. Subsequent redemptions. Notice thereof and of taxes paid, liens bought, etc., necessary. Deed. If the property be so redeemed by a redemptioner, another redemptioner may, within sixty days after the last redemption, and within six months after the sale, again redeem it from the last redemptioner, on paying the sum paid on such last redemption, with three per cent thereon in addition, and the amount of any assessment or tax which the last redemptioner may have paid thereon, after the redemption by him, with interest on such amount, and, in addition, the amount of any liens held by said last redemptioner prior to his own, with interest; but the judgment under which the property was sold need not be so paid as a lien. The property may be again, and as often as a redemptioner is so disposed, redeemed from any previous redemptioner within sixty days after the last redemption, and within six months after the sale, on paying the sum paid on the last previous redemption, with three per cent thereon in addition, and the amount of any assessments or taxes which the last previous redemptioner paid after the redemption by him, with interest thereon, and the amount of any liens other than the judgment under which the property was sold, held by the last redemptioner previous to his own, with interest. Written notice of redemption must be given to the officer, and a duplicate filed with the recorder of the county; and if any taxes or assessments are paid by the redemptioner, or if he has or acquires any lien, other than that upon which the redemption was made, notice thereof must in like manner be given to the officer, and filed with the recorder; and if such notice be not filed, the property may be redeemed without paying such tax, assessment, or lien. If no redemption be made within six months after the sale, the purchaser, or his assignee, is entitled to a conveyance; or if so redeemed, whenever sixty days have elapsed, and no other redemption has been made, and notice thereof given, the time for redemption by a redemptioner has expired, and the last redemptioner, or his assignee, is entitled to a sheriff's deed, at the expiration of six months after the sale; but in all cases the judgment debtor shall have the entire period of six months from the date of the sale to redeem the property. If the judgment debtor redeem, he must make the same payments as are required to effect a redemption by a redemptioner. If the debtor redeem, the effect of the sale is terminated, and he is restored to his estate. Upon a redemption by the debtor, the person to whom the payment is made must execute and deliver to him a certificate of redemption, acknowledged and proved before an officer authorized to take acknowledgments of conveyances of real property. Such certificate must be filed and recorded in the office of the recorder of the county in which the property is situated, and the recorder must note the record thereof in the margin of the record of the certificate of sale.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 703*. See Sup. (1895) p. 22.
Where a purchaser at a marshal's sale waives his rights under the sale, he becomes an equitable mortgagee, with the right of redemption in the judgment debtor; and a subsequent judgment debtor, after sale, could exercise the same right to redeem.
McCormick v. Greenhow, 2 U. 363.
In an action to reform a written instrument on the ground of mistake, a court of equity will not only reform the instrument in which the mistake occurred but all subsequent instruments which have perpetuated such mistake, including sheriff's deed, so as to administer a full measure of relief, avoid circuity of action and promote justice. (Modified on rehearing, 23 U. 470; 65 P. 203, so as to reform mortgage alone.)
Marks v. Taylor, 23 U. 152; 63 P. 897.

6944. (3264.) Id. Payments made to purchaser, etc., or to officer. The payments mentioned in the next two preceding sections may be made to the purchaser or redemptioner, or for him to the officer who made the sale or, in case his term of office has expired, then to his successor in office. When the judgment, under which the sale has been made, is payable in a specified kind of money or currency, payments must be made in the same kind of money or currency, and a tender of the money is equivalent to payment.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 704*.

6945. (3265.) Proof to be made by redemptioner. A redemptioner must produce to the officer or person from whom he seeks to redeem, and serve with his notice to the officer:

1. A copy of the docket of the judgment under which he claims the right to redeem, certified by the clerk of the court or recorder of the county where the judgment is docketed or filed; or if he redeem upon a mortgage, or other lien, a note of the record thereof certified by the recorder;

2. A copy of an assignment necessary to establish his claim, verified by the affidavit of himself or of subscribing witnesses thereto; and,

3. An affidavit by himself or his agent, showing the amount then actually due on the lien.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 705*.

6946. (3266.) Waste restrained during period of redemption. Defined. Until the expiration of the time allowed for redemption, the court may restrain the commission of waste on the property by order granted with or without notice, on the application of the purchaser or the judgment creditor. But it is not waste for the person in possession of the property at the time of sale, or entitled to possession afterward, during the period allowed for redemption, to continue to use it in the same manner in which it was previously used; or to use it in the ordinary course of husbandry; or to make the necessary repairs of buildings thereon, or to use wood or timber on the property therefor, or for the repair of fences, or for fuel in his family while he occupies the property.

Injunction generally, §§ 6687-6693.
Recovery of damages for injury to property after sale, § 7255.

6947. (3267.) Purchaser or redemptioner entitled to rents. Accounting.

Extension of period. The purchaser from the time of sale until a redemption, and a redemptioner from the time of his redemption until another redemption, is entitled to receive from the tenant in possession the rents of the property sold or the value of the use and occupation thereof. But when any rents or profits have been received by the judgment creditor or purchaser, or his or their assigns, from the property thus sold, preceding such redemption, the amounts of such rents and profits shall be a credit upon the redemption money to be paid, and if the redemptioner or judgment debtor, before the expiration of the time allowed for such redemption, demands in writing of such purchaser or creditor, or his assigns, a written and verified statement of the amounts of such rents and profits thus received, the period for redemption is extended five days after such sworn statement is given by such purchaser or his assigns to such redemptioner or debtor. If such purchaser or his assigns shall for a period of one month from and after such demand fail or refuse to give such statement, such redemptioner or debtor may, within sixty days after said demand, bring an action in any court of competent jurisdiction to compel an accounting and disclosure of such rents and profits, and until fifteen days from and after the final determination of such action, the right of redemption is extended to such redemptioner or debtor.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 707*.
If a judgment debtor seeks an accounting of rents, issues, and profits of personal property not sold with the realty, and prays for general relief, defendant has a right to file his counterclaim which grew out of the transactions relating to the same property, and plaintiff cannot be heard to complain if all issues thus before it are heard and determined by the trial court.

Execution creditor not entitled to possession and rents before sale and before the time for redemption has expired.
McLaughlin v. Park City Bank, 22 U. 473; 63 P. 589.

6948. (3268.) Remedies of purchaser dispossessed through irregularity or defect. If the purchaser of real property sold on execution, or his successors in interest, be evicted therefrom in consequence of irregularities in the proceedings concerning the sale, or of the reversal or discharge of the judgment, he may recover the price paid, with interest, from the judgment creditor. If the purchaser of property at an officer's sale or his successor in interest fail to recover possession in consequence of irregularity in the proceedings concerning the sale, or because the property sold was not subject to execution and sale, the court having jurisdiction thereof must, after notice, and on motion of such party in interest, or his attorney, revive the original judgment in the name of the petitioner for the amount paid by such purchaser at the sale, with interest thereon from the time of payment at the same rate that the original judgment bore; and the judgment so revived has the same force and effect as would an original judgment of the date of the revival, and no more.

Revivor of judgment, § 6917.
Word "property" in second sentence means personal as well as real property. "Possession" means possession with title, not mere naked possession.
Utah Nat. Bank of Ogden v. Beardsley, 10 U. 404; 37 P. 586.

6949. (3269.) Sheriff to deed lands sold by U. S. marshal under territorial laws. Whenever any real estate has been sold on execution or other judicial sale by any United States marshal under the laws of the territory of Utah, and the time for redemption has expired, a deed to the purchaser or purchasers thereof, or assignee of such purchaser or purchasers, or other person entitled to the same, shall be executed by the sheriff of the county where the property or any part thereof is situated.

6950. (3270.) Contribution. Person paying entitled to benefit of judgment. Procedure. When, upon an execution against several persons, more than a due proportion of the judgment is satisfied out of the proceeds of the sale of the property of one of them, or one of them pays, without a sale, more than his proportion, he may compel contribution from the others; and when a judgment is against several, and is upon an obligation of one of them as security for another, and the surety pays the amount or any part thereof, either by sale of his property or before sale, he may compel repayment from the principal. In such cases, the person so paying or contributing is entitled to the benefit of the judgment, to enforce contribution or repayment, if, within ten days after his payment, he files with the clerk of the court where the judgment was rendered notice of his payment and claim to contribution or repayment. Upon filing of such notice, the clerk must make an entry thereof in the margin of the docket.

REDEMPTIONS UNDER TRUST DEEDS.

6951. (3271.) Real estate. Water right stock. Subject to redemption. Deeds of trust made to secure the payment of money, and all real estate, including shares of corporate stock evidencing title to a water right used, or intended to be used, or suitable for use, on the land covered by said trust deed, which may be sold by the trustee, or anyone representing him in any deed of trust hereafter made, according to the terms of said deed of trust, and which shall be bought in at said sale by the cestui que trust, or his assignee, or by any other person, shall be subject to redemption by the grantor in said deed of trust, or his executors, administrators, or assigns, or any legal redemptioner, at any time within six months from the date of said sale, on payment of the debt and interest secured by said deed of trust, and all legal charges and costs incurred in making said sale up to the time of redemption; and on such sale the trustee shall issue to the purchaser a certificate setting forth the property sold and the amount of purchase money received, and, at the expiration of said six months, said trustee shall issue a deed to the legal holder of such certificate; provided, that upon the death, resignation, or removal from the state of said trustee, or his refusal or inability to act from any cause, the sheriff of the county in which said real estate is situated shall become the successor in trust of said trustee. CHAPTER 42.

PROCEEDINGS SUPPLEMENTARY TO EXECUTION.

6955. (3272.) Execution unsatisfied, debtor cited to answer. When an execution against property of the judgment debtor or of any one of several debtors in the same judgment issued to a proper officer is returned unsatisfied in whole or in part, the judgment creditor, at any time after such return is made, is entitled to an order from the judge of the court in which such judgment was given, or from the judge of the district court of any county in which a transcript of said judgment has been filed and docketed in the office of the clerk of the district court of said county, requiring such judgment debtor, or, if a corporation, any officer thereof, to appear and answer upon oath concerning his or its property before such judge, or a referee appointed by him, at a time and place specified in the order; but no judgment debtor must be required to attend before a judge or referee out of the county in which he resides.

Enright v. Grant, 5 U. 334; 15 P. 268.

ing the same, and such proceedings may thereupon be had for the application of the property of the judgment debtor toward the satisfaction of the judgment as are provided upon the return of an execution. Instead of the order requiring the attendance of the judgment debtor, the judge may, upon affidavit of the judgment creditor, his agent or attorney, if it appear to him that there is danger of the debtor absconding, order the sheriff of the county to arrest the debtor, and bring him before such judge. Upon being brought before the judge, he may be ordered to enter into an undertaking, with sufficient surety, that he will attend from time to time, before the judge or referee, as may be directed during the pendency of the proceedings, and until the final determination thereof, and will not, in the meantime, dispose of any portion of his property not exempt from execution. In default of entering into such undertaking, he may be committed to prison.

6957. (3274.) Order to examine debtor of judgment debtor. Affidavit. After the issuing or return of an execution against property of the judgment debtor, or of any one of several debtors in the same judgment, and, upon proof by affidavit or otherwise, to the satisfaction of the judge, that any person or corporation has property of such judgment debtor, or is indebted to him in an amount exceeding $50, the judge may, by an order, require such person or corporation, or an officer or member thereof, to appear at a specified time and place before him, or a referee appointed by him, and answer concerning the same.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 717. See garnishment, §§ 6730-6753.

6958. (3275.) Witnesses must testify as on trial of issue. Witnesses may be required to appear and testify before the judge or referee, upon any proceeding under this chapter in the same manner as upon the trial of an issue.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 718.

6959. (3276.) Order to apply property on execution. Judgment. The judge or referee may order any property of the judgment debtor, not exempt from execution, in the hands of such debtor, or any other person, or due to the judgment debtor, to be applied toward the satisfaction of the judgment.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 719.
In a proceeding supplemental to execution; held, that the court exceeded its jurisdiction, first, in adjudicating the rights of parties who were not parties to the action; second, in determining issues of fact respecting property rights and bona fides of transactions of various persons without pleadings or issues joined; and third, that in supplemental proceedings it is a gross perversion of the statute to hold that a court can exercise all the powers of a court of equity, and pass upon questions of fact, the determination of which is within the province of a jury.
Wallace, Smuin & Co. v. McLaughlin, 12 U. 411; 43 P. 109.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 720.
Garnishment after judgment, procedure, § 6752.

6961. (3278.) Disobedience to order of referee a contempt. If any person, party, or witness disobeys an order of the referee, properly made, in the proceedings before him under this chapter, he may be punished, by the court or judge ordering the reference, for a contempt.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 721. Punishment of contempt in such cases, § 7072.

6962. (3279.) Duty of court when conveyance not executed as ordered. When the judgment requires the person against whom it is rendered to execute and deliver to any other person a conveyance of any specific real property, and the person against whom it is rendered shall refuse or neglect to execute and deliver said conveyance for five days after the service upon him of a certified copy of such judgment, or if he is absent or concealed, so that service of such certified copy cannot be had, upon proof satisfactory to the court that such service has been made, or that it cannot be made by reason of such absence or concealment, the person entitled to the conveyance may obtain from the court an order that the certified copy of the judgment, together with the order, be recorded by the recorder of deeds of the county where the real property is situated; and when recorded, it shall give to the person entitled to such conveyance a right to the possession of the real property described in the judgment, and to hold the same according to the terms of the conveyance ordered, in like manner as if it had been conveyed in pursuance of the judgment. The recording of any judgment as above provided shall not prevent the court rendering such judgment from enforcing the same by any proper process, according to the course of proceedings therein.

Where judgment directs execution of conveyance, appeal does not stay such execution, though it does the delivery, § 7000.

6963. (3280.) No person excused from answering on the ground of fraud, etc. A party or witness examined in proceedings authorized by this chapter is not excused from answering a question on the ground that his examination will tend to convict him of the commission of a fraud, or to prove that he has been a party or privy to, or has knowledge of, a conveyance, assignment, transfer, or other disposition of property for any purpose, or that he or any other person claims to be entitled, as against the judgment creditor, or a receiver appointed or to be appointed in the proceedings, to hold property derived from or through the judgment debtor, or to be discharged from the payment of a debt which was due to the judgment debtor, or to a person in his behalf. But an answer cannot be used as evidence against the person so answering in a criminal action or criminal proceeding.

Mont. Civ. P., § 1268.

6964. (3281.) Receiver for property of judgment debtor. Order to be recorded. The court may appoint a receiver of the property of the judgment debtor, not exempt from execution, and forbid a transfer or other disposition thereof or interference therewith until its further order therein. But before such receiver shall be vested with the real property of the judgment debtor, a certified copy of the order of appointment shall be filed and recorded in the office of the county in which any real estate sought to be affected by such order is situated.

An objection after cross-examination to testimony given on direct examination is not seasonably made.
Garr v. Cranney, 25 U. 193; 70 P. 853.

Misconduct of counsel in making improper remarks to the jury in his argument, to which no objection was made, nor any request for an instruction to the jury on the subject, is not reviewable.
Johnson v. U. P. R. Co., 35 U. 285; 100 P. 390.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 647
Judgment roll, how made up, § 6867.
Appeals decided on judgment roll, note to § 6994.

No bill of exceptions is necessary where the error alleged is apparent on the record.
Young v. Martin, 75 U. S. 354.

Unless the record affirmatively shows that an error denying motion for new trial was made under such circumstances as to become a part of the judgment roll under § 6867 and this section, such ruling should be preserved in a bill of exceptions, in order to be considered on appeal the clerk's certificate of minute entry of such order is not of itself sufficient.
Hecla G. M. Co. v. Gisborn, 21 U. 68; 59 P. 518.

The sustaining of a motion for non-suit cannot be reviewed unless there is an exception thereto.
Stewart v. O. S. L. R. R. Co., 39 U. 375; 117 P. 465.

Denial of motion for change of venue will not be considered on appeal unless made to appear by bill of exceptions.
Broadbent v. D. & R. G. R. R. Co., 48 U. 598; 160 P. 1185.

6967. (3284.) Form of exceptions. How bill made up. No particular form of exception is required, but when the exception is to the verdict or decision, upon the ground of insufficiency of the evidence to justify it, the objection must specify the particulars in which such evidence is alleged to be insufficient. The objection must be stated, with so much of the evidence or other matter as is necessary to explain it. The stenographer's notes of the evidence may be stated. Documents on file in the action or proceeding may be copied, or the substance thereof stated, or a reference thereto sufficient to identify them may be made. Am'd '03, p. 33.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 648*.
Bill must contain all the exceptions relied upon, § 6969.
Objections to instructions must specifically point out objectionable proposition, note to § 6806.
Certificates held sufficient as showing that all the evidence was contained in bill of exceptions, note to § 6969.
For decisions as to the extent to which the supreme court will consider the evidence, under the constitution, note to Con. art. 8, sec. 9.
Judgment does not become final until motion for new trial disposed of, note to Con. art. 8, sec. 9.

Rule 26 of the supreme court is in substantial compliance with this section, and the specifications of particulars do not need to be settled in the bill of exceptions.
Eglund v. Fayter, 51 U. —; 172 P. 313.

The court may permit a party to amend the assignments of error.
Thomson v. Reynolds, 51 U. —; 174 P. 164.
Assignments of error should not be considered as merely directory, but absolutely binding upon the court and parties litigant.
Holt v. Great Eastern Casualty Co., 51 U. —; 173 P. 1168.

AS TO INSUFFICIENCY OF EVIDENCE:

Formerly it was held that the objections to the insufficiency of the evidence to justify the findings or verdict must be settled in the bill of exceptions, and that the objections must specify the particulars in which the evidence is alleged to be insufficient.
Van Pelt v. Park, 18 U. 141; 55 P. 381.
O. S. L. R. R. Co. v. Russell, 27 U. 457; 76 P. 345.
Mader v. Taylor, Romney, Armstrong Co., 15 U. 161; 49 P. 255.
Marks v. Taylor, 23 U. 152; 63 P. 897.
Genter v. Conglomerate M. Co., 23 U. 165; 64 P. 362.
Wasatch Irr. Co. v. Fulton, 23 U. 466; 65 P. 205.

And that the judgment would be affirmed without regard to the bill of exceptions unless some fatal error not required to be shown by the bill of exceptions appeared on the face of the record.
Wild v. U. P. R. Co., 23 U. 265; 63 P. 886.

And that the question of the sufficiency of the evidence would not be considered on appeal unless an exception on that ground was settled in the bill of exceptions.
Klenk v. O. S. L. R. Co., 27 U. 428; 76 P. 214.

But later it was held, in view of the change of procedure and that an appeal is made from a judgment and not from an order overruling a motion for new trial, that the specification of the particulars in which the evidence is not sufficient need not be included in the bill of exceptions, but may be made in the assignments of error, and if made with such particularity as to enable respondent to prepare its brief and collect its evidence and show its force and effect as applied to the question at issue, it is sufficient.
Little v. Gorman, 39 U. 63; 114 P. 321.

But where an appeal is taken without a transcript of the evidence, but an abstract thereof, stated in a narrative form, and contains a statement that the substance of all the evidence is embodied in the bill, then a specification of the particulars should be settled in the bill.

But where the court submitted the case to the jury on all the issues presented by the pleadings, and in the bill of exceptions it was certified that there was evidence tending to establish all the issues, the bill was sufficient for review of the instructions.
Bills v. Salt Lake City, 37 U. 507; 109 P. 745.

Whether a motion for non-suit should have been sustained will not be reviewed, unless it is apparent from the record that the motion was made before the trial court and properly included in the record on appeal.
Russell v. Watkins, 49 U. 598; 164 P. 867.

Where trial was to the court and all the evidence was not certified, the admission of a deposition is not reviewable since the court may have disregarded the deposition and based its finding on other evidence.

A bill of exceptions reciting that the court sustained plaintiff's motion for non-suit and stating that the judgment for non-suit might be granted, held insufficient to show entry of judgment.
Lukich v. Utah Constr. Co., 46 U. 317; 150 P. 298.

Where errors assigned by appellant are based on the evidence and are determined against him thereon, respondent cannot complain, although it does not affirmatively appear from the records that the bill of exceptions contains all the evidence.
Honorine v. Tallerday, 31 U. 326; 88 P. 9.

6968. (3285.) Exception disregarded unless substantial right prejudiced. No exception shall be regarded unless the decision excepted to is material and prejudicial to the substantial rights of the party excepting.

6969. (3286.) Preparation, settlement, and signing of bill of exceptions. Time allowed. When a party desires to have exceptions taken at a trial settled in a bill of exceptions, he may, within thirty days after the entry of judgment if the action were tried with a jury, or after service of notice of the entry of judgment if the action were tried without a jury, or after service of notice of the determination of a motion for a new trial, prepare a draft of a bill and serve the same, or a copy thereof, upon the adverse party. Such draft must contain all the exceptions taken upon which the party relies. Within ten days after such service, the adverse party may propose amendments thereto, and serve the same, or a copy thereof, upon the other party. The proposed bill and amendments must, within ten days thereafter, be presented by the party seeking the settlement of the bill to the judge who tried or heard the case, upon five days' notice to the adverse party, or be delivered to the clerk of the court for the judge. When received by the clerk, he must immediately deliver them to the judge, if he be in the county; if he be absent from the county, and either party desires the papers to be forwarded to the judge, the clerk must, upon notice in writing from such party, immediately forward them by mail or other safe channel; if not thus forwarded, the clerk must deliver them to the judge immediately after his return to the county. When received from the clerk, the judge must designate the time at which he will settle the bill, and the clerk must immediately notify the parties of such designation. At the time designated, the judge must settle the bill. If no amendments are served, or if served are allowed, the proposed bill may be presented, with the amendments, if any, to the judge for settlement, without notice to the adverse party. It is the duty of the judge, in settling the bill, to strike out of it all redundant and useless matter, so that the exceptions may be presented as briefly as possible. When settled, the bill must be signed by the judge, with his certificate to the effect that the same is allowed, and shall then be filed with the clerk. A bill of exceptions shall in all cases be prepared, settled, signed, and filed within ninety days after the entry of judgment, or after notice of the same if the action were tried without a jury, or after notice of the determination of a motion for a new trial. Am'd '05, p. 7.

The bill of exceptions was allowed in time.

McGuire v. State Bank of Tremonton, 49 U. 381; 164 P. 494.

An objection and motion to disregard a bill of exceptions, because not filed within time required by this section, is a "proceeding" within § 6619, and the court may relieve against the failure to serve in time and settle the bill.

Morgan v. O. S. L. R. R. Co., 27 U. 92; 74 P. 523.

The attorney for the successful party who agreed that a proposed bill of exceptions presented after the time had expired might be settled as the bill of exceptions, but who objected to the time of service, and who insisted that the proposed bill was not served in time, did not waive the delay in the service.

Bryant v. Kunkel, 32 U. 377; 90 P. 1079.

Where proposed amendments are not accepted by appellant, and no notice of presenting bill of exceptions is given within the ten days, a motion on appeal to strike the bill will be sustained.

Van Why v. S. P. Co., 31 U. 15; 86 P. 485.

That it was impossible to prepare bill of exceptions because of the voluminous record is not sufficient excuse to permit the filing after the time expires.

Moyle v. McKean, 49 U. 93; 162 P. 63.

Where judgment became final on May 9, an order on May 27 granting sixty days to serve and file a bill of exceptions, meant sixty days from the date thereof, and on the death of the plaintiff after judgment the time in which defendant was required to serve a bill of exceptions was suspended until the appointment of administrator, or the court, on defendant's application, had the power to extend the time until there was an administrator.

Candland v. Mellen, 46 U. 519; 151 P. 341.

Where the plaintiff served notice of judgment on the defendant, who then prepared a bill of exceptions covering only such part of the proceedings as were material to his appeal, and the plaintiff, objecting to a portion of the judgment, attempted to perfect second appeal, is not entitled to a notice entering judgment in order to start time against the filing of his bill.

Jensen v. Lichtenstein, 45 U. 320; 145 P. 1036.

Where defendants moved separately for new trials, without serving on each other notice of intention to do so, the time for filing and serving the bill of exceptions commenced to run from the time the order was made striking such motions.

Jones v. Williamson, 50 U. —; 168 P. 110.

Where a motion for new trial was denied March 12, the bill of exceptions was served April 4, no amendments were suggested and it was filed before settlement April 24, and signed by the judge on May 10, there is a substantial compliance with the statute, and it will not be stricken.

Love & Meek v. St. Joseph Stock Yards, 50 U. —; 169 P. 951.

AMENDMENTS:

Trial court has discretion to allow amendments by adding specifications of error to statement.

Gill v. Hecht, 13 U. 5; 43 P. 626.

After settlement, bill of exceptions can only be amended by the judge upon notice to the parties, or by both parties with the consent of the judge.

Whipple v. Preece, 18 U. 454; 56 P. 296.

Where no amendments are proposed under this section, but settlement of bill of exceptions is consented to, supplemental findings and decree will be presumed to rest upon evidence contained in the bill.

Nephi Irr. Co. v. Vickers, 20 U. 310; 58 P. 836.

Under Con. art. 8, sec. 9, this section, § 6973, and supreme court rule 25, the supreme court cannot allow amendments to be made to a bill of exceptions after it has been signed, certified, and allowed by the trial judge.

Boyle v. U. P. Ry. Co., 25 U. 420; 71 P. 983.

Where trial judge refuses to allow an exception, § 6972.

While a defect or omission in the bill of exceptions not of substance could be supplied by a nunc pro tunc order, the trial court could not, after the time expired, amend it by inserting a copy of the motion for new trial and order overruling the same.

Warnock v. Peterson, 35 U. 542; 101 P. 699.

CONTENTS:

Where it is not made to appear that bill of exceptions contains all the evidence, objections to its insufficiency not considered on appeal, note to § 6967.

Affidavits used on motion for new trial, etc., may be reviewed on appeal, but not unless preserved in bill of exceptions, note to § 6994, under sub-title "Record as made in court below."

It is the duty of the trial judge to settle a bill of exceptions as briefly as possible, but if anything material is omitted, respondent may object to the settlement, and if his objections are disregarded, he must proceed under § 6972. When he fails to proceed and it does not appear that any material proof has been omitted, the supreme court cannot refuse to consider the assignments of error.

Center Creek Irr. Co. v. Thomas, 19 U. 360; 57 P. 30.

A bill of exceptions, from which redundant and useless matter is not eliminated, does not conform to the provisions of this section, so that the exceptions may be presented as briefly as possible.

Whipple v. Preece, 24 U. 364; 67 P. 1072.

Wild v. U. P. R. R. Co., 23 U. 265; 63 P. 886.

In order that an appellate court may determine whether or not a lower court proceeded in accordance with mandate of appellate court on a former appeal, it is not necessary that the remittitur should be contained in the bill of exceptions.

Warren v. Robinson, 21 U. 429; 61 P. 28.

Bill of exceptions should exhibit errors relied upon, and should show that objections were properly made and exceptions taken.

Fields v. Daisy G. M. Co., 26 U. 373; 73 P. 521.

Braegger v. O. S. L. Co., 24 U. 391; 68 P. 140.

Boyle v. U. P. Ry. Co., 25 U. 420; 71 P. 988.

Burt v. Utah L. & P. Co., 26 U. 157; 72 P. 497.

Where record fails to disclose what instructions were given, the appellate court cannot review the refusal of certain requests.

Garr v. Cranney, 25 U. 193; 70 P. 853.

Kunkel v. Utah L. Co., 29 U. 13; 81 P. 897.

Where bill of exceptions is eliminated from the record, the court can determine only whether the judgment is supported by the pleadings, findings, etc.

Bryant v. Kunkel, 32 U. 377; 90 P. 1079.

It is not necessary to include all the evidence in the bill of exceptions; a party may include such portion thereof as may bear upon a certain point, or he may recite the evidence in a narrative form, and the judge may settle it, providing it includes everything bearing upon the point.

Henriod v. East Tintic Development Co., 51 U. —; 173 P. 134.

THE CERTIFICATE AND SERVICE:

Service of bill of exceptions should be made on the attorneys of record of the appellee rather than upon the appellee, and where a stipulation attached to bill purports to be signed by appellee's attorney, in the absence of showin that he repudiated or did not sign it, it is sufficient to authorize service on him.

Walker Bros. v. Skliris, 34 U. 353; 98 P. 114.

The bill must be served.

Metz v. Jackson, 43 U. 496; 136 P. 784.

A purported transcript of the evidence, authenticated only by a stenographer's certificate, cannot be considered.

State v. Delvecchio, 25 U. 18; 69 P. 58.

Exceptions based on stenographer's certificate cannot be considered.

Thomas v. Blythe, 44 U. 1; 137 P. 396.

Where the parties stipulated that the transcript of evidence might be used by either on appeal, and should be taken as the whole evidence without certificates from the judge, neither party can complain if the court gives the stipulation effect.

Houtz v. Union Pac. R. R. Co., 35 U. 220; 99 P. 997.

A judge's certificate to a bill of exceptions, reciting: "Inasmuch as the foregoing matters do not otherwise appear of record, I hereby certify that that bill of exceptions has been by me settled and allowed," does not show that the bill contains all the evidence.

Stone v. Ogden Packing Co., 30 U. 460; 85 P. 1004.

Statement that the bill of exceptions contains all the "testimony" is not sufficient as showing that it contains all the evidence.

Crooks v. Harmon, 29 U. 304; 81 P. 95.

A bill of exceptions not certified by the trial judge in the manner prescribed by law will, on motion, be stricken from the record.

Hannan Bros. v. Waltenspiel, 29 U. 466; 82 P. 859.

Snow v. Tarpay, 25 U. 126; 69 P. 718.

Where an official stenographer certifies that the transcript contains all the evidence, and it was accepted as and for the bill of exceptions and no amendments were proposed and the bill showed by the court as a true and correct bill of exceptions; held, that though the court's certificate of settlement did not specifically state that the bill contained all the evidence, yet it by implication certified to the truth of the stenographer's certificate, though the better practice is to state that it contains all the evidence.

Mitchell v. Jensen, 29 U. 346; 81 P. 165.

Bowman v. Ogden City, 33 U. 196; 93 P. 561.

Where a stenographer's certificate recites that the transcript contains a full and true transcript of the testimony taken on oral proceedings had on the trial, and an order of the judge settling the bill of exceptions recites that the foregoing is a correct transcript of the proceedings herein; held, it does not show that the transcript contains all the evidence.

Carter v. Cummings-Neilson Co., 34 U. 215; 97 P. 334.

A defaulting contractor need not be served with a bill of exceptions in a mechanic's lien case, since a reversal or modification of the judgment would not adversely affect him.

Langton Lime & Cement Co. v. Peery, 48 U. 112; 159 P. 49.

Langton Lime & Cement Co. v. Smith, 48 U. 112; 159 P. 49.

6970. (3287.) Exception may be settled, signed, and filed at time of decision. An exception to any decision may be presented to the court or judge or judicial officer or referee for settlement at the time the decision is made, and after having been settled shall be signed by the judge, judicial officer, or referee, and filed with the clerk.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 649*.

Exception must be taken at the time, § 6965, and note.

6971. (3288.) Exception to decision after judgment. Settlement. Ex-

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 651.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 652.

In a case where the court granted a new trial on its own motion, and a contest arose over the settlement of a bill of exceptions, the supreme court on appeal refused to settle the same.

Cache County v. Kiesel, 9 U. 379; 36 P. 633.

If matter stricken from a bill of exceptions by a trial judge is regarded as important or necessary by appellant, he has a remedy under this section.

Whipple v. Preece, 18 U. 454; 56 P. 296.

Center Cr. Irr. Co. v. Thomas, 19 U. 360; 57 P. 30.

6973. (3290.) Settlement of bill by referee. Settlement after death, removal, etc., by judge or officer. When the decision excepted to was made by a referee or any judicial officer other than a judge, the bill of exceptions shall be presented to such referee or judicial officer, and be settled and signed by him in the same manner as it is required to be presented to, settled, and signed by a court or judge. A judge, referee, or judicial officer may settle and sign a bill of exceptions after as well as before he ceases to be such judge, referee, or judicial officer. If such judge, referee, or judicial officer, before the bill of exceptions is settled, dies, is removed from office, becomes disqualified, is absent from the state, or refuses to settle the bill of exceptions, or if no mode is provided by law for the settlement of the same, it shall be settled and certified in such manner as the supreme court may, by its orders or rules, direct.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 653*.

Referee should settle statement on motion for new trial of cause tried by him.

Doane v. Clinton, 2 U. 417.

Whitmore v. Harris, 10 U. 259; 37 P. 464.

The provisions of this section, that a judge may settle and sign a bill of exceptions after he ceases to be a judge, are not in violation of Con. art. 8, sec. 5, limiting the term of office of district judges to four years.

Larkin v. Saltair Beach Co., 30 U. 86; 83 P. 686.

CHAPTER 44.

NEW TRIALS.

6977. (3291.) New trial defined. A new trial is a re-examination of an issue of fact in the same court after a trial and decision by a jury, court, judicial officer, or referee.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 656.

When the written findings and conclusions were filed, the trial was ended. A new trial is a re-examination of the issues of fact, and has nothing to do with the judgment, which is a sentence of law upon the facts. Proceedings for a new trial may be commenced either before or after entry of judgment.

Fisher v. Emerson, 15 U. 517; 50 P. 619.

6978. (3292.) Grounds for new trial. The former verdict or other decision may be vacated and a new trial granted, on the application of the party aggrieved, for any of the following causes materially affecting the substantial rights of such party:

1. Irregularity in the proceedings of the court, jury, or adverse party, or any order of the court, or abuse of discretion by which either party was prevented from having a fair trial;

2. Misconduct of the jury; and whenever any one or more of the jurors have been induced to assent to any general or special verdict, or to a finding on any questions submitted to them by the court, by a resort to the determination of chance, such misconduct may be proved by the affidavit of any one of the jurors;

3. Accident or surprise, which ordinary prudence could not have guarded against;

4. Newly discovered evidence, material for the party making the application, which he could not, with reasonable diligence, have discovered and produced at the trial;

5. Excessive damages, appearing to have been given under the influence of passion or prejudice;

6. Insufficiency of the evidence to justify the verdict or other decision, or that it is against law;

7. Error in law occurring at the trial, and excepted to by the party making the application.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 657.

Motion for new trial in garnishment proceedings, § 6753.

Exceptions to instructions given or refused, § 6806.

Notice of motion in language of statute, § 6979.

On affidavits or on minutes of the court, § 6979.

Errors relating to instructions to jurors, note to § 6802.

Harmless errors disregarded, note to § 6994.

Discretion of court in conduct of trial, note to § 6802.

When granted by court of its own motion, § 6983.

Errors in allowing or overruling challenge to juror, when ground for new trial, note to § 6799.

The pendency of an appeal does not deprive the lower court of jurisdiction to hear and grant motion for new trial.

Corinne Mill Co. v. Johnston, 5 U. 147; 13 P. 17.

A motion for new trial is not necessary to review all errors during the trial in any case. (Overruling Touse v. Consol. Ry. & Power Co., 29 U. 506; 80 P. 506.)

Law v. Smith, 34 U. 394; 98 P. 300.

In order to review grounds stated in subs. 1-5, or anything occurring after the trial, a motion for a new trial based thereon must be made.

Id.

Motion may be submitted to the referee who tried the case, subject to court's decision.

Wasatch M. Co. v. Jennings, 14 U. 221; 46 P. 1106.

Findings are not required on a motion for new trial.

Wright v. U. P. R. R. Co., 22 U. 338; 62 P. 317.

In case of motion for new trial supported and resisted by ex parte affidavits, and in equity cases where the evidence consists exclusively of depositions, the rule that the findings of the trial court will not be set aside when the evidence is conflicting, unless it is clearly insufficient, does not apply.

Wright v. U. P. R. R. Co., 22 U. 338; 62 P. 317.

Action on motion for new trial is largely in court's discretion.

Monmouth P. Co. v. White, 27 U. 236; 75 P. 622.

State v. Haworth, 26 U. 310; 73 P. 413.

Heath v. White, 3 U. 474; 24 P. 762.

Davis v. Utah Sou. Ry. Co., 3 U. 218; 2 P. 521.

Bate v. Am. Fork, 7 U. 189; 26 P. 296.

White v. U. P. Ry. Co., 8 U. 56; 29 P. 1030.

Tousey v. Etzel, 9 U. 329; 34 P. 291.

Lancino v. Smith, 36 U. 462; 105 P. 914.

Action of trial court in granting new trial for insufficiency of the evidence will not be disturbed on appeal, unless there has been a clear abuse of discretion.

White v. U. P. Ry. Co., 8 U. 56; 29 P. 1030.

Davis v. Utah Southern R. R. Co., 3 U. 218; 2 P. 521.

Newton v. Brown, 2 U, 126.

Collet v. Beutler, 27 U. 541; 76 P. 707.

An order granting a new trial is reviewable on appeal from the final judgment, and if erroneously granted, the subsequent judgment will be set aside and original judgment reinstated.

Hirabelli v. Daniels, 44 U. 88; 138 P. 1172.

Where court improperly refused to grant a continuance, it was error to refuse to grant a new trial.

McCormick Machine Co. v. Marchant, 11 U. 68; 39 P. 483.

A district court has chancery power to enjoin the issuing of an execution and grant a new trial, when by the destruction of the records of the case, an appeal has been prevented.

Bailey v. Stevens, 11 U. 175; 39 P. 828.

Where a case is reversed and a new trial ordered the case is reopened for a trial de novo.

Church v. Watson, 27 U. 538; 76 P. 706.

A new trial cannot be granted on the ground of prejudice of the people of the county where the action was tried, to such extent that an impartial jury could not be obtained.

Anderson v. Mammoth M. Co., 26 U. 357; 73 P. 412.

In an action to recover a loan, the court, after rendering judgment for plaintiff, granted defendant's motion for a new trial, and permitted him to file an amended answer which disclosed the fact that the debt was the result of a gambling transaction, whereupon judgment was rendered for defendant; held, that the granting of a new trial and permitting the filing of the amended answer were matters resting in the sound discretion of the trial court, and no circumstances appeared to show an abuse of such discretion.

Collet v. Beutler, 27 U. 541; 76 P. 707.

Affidavits on motion for new trial may be reviewed on appeal, when, note to § 6994.

A notice of motion for new trial cannot be amended after the expiration of the time by adding a ground not germane to anything contained in the original notice.

Blue Creek Land & Livestock Co. v. Anderson, 35 U. 61; 99 P. 444.

The district court has power to grant a rehearing of its determination on motion for a new trial in a case pending before it on appeal from city court; but the time for appeal starts from the overruling of the motion.

Luke v. Coleman, 38 U. 383; 113 P. 1023.

Where a party has not taken, and the statute has not given him, an exception to a ruling before moving for new trial, he cannot obtain a review of the ruling by simply filing a motion for new trial and excepting to an adverse ruling thereon.

Law v. Smith, 34 U. 394; 98 P. 300.

Where a surety files a separate answer setting up both affirmative and negative defenses, and judgment is rendered against the property, but the surety's motion for non-suit is improperly sustained at the close of plaintiff's evidence, the surety is entitled on a new trial to present its evidence on the issues of fact set up by its answer.

Christensen v. Hamilton Realty Co., 40 U. 70; 129 P. 412.

MISCONDUCT OF JURY:

A conversation had with a juror, pending a trial, which does not tend to influence his mind, or involve any of the material issues, is not sufficient ground for a new trial.

Tiernan v. Trewick, 2 U. 393.

Where a juror states that he is a citizen of the U. S., and after verdict it appears that such answer was false, a new trial will be granted.

People v. Reece, 3 U. 72; 2 P. 61.

Where diligence used in interrogating jury is slight and insufficient to discover the disqualifications, the jurors not being examined individually, new trial will be denied.

People v. Lewis, 4 U. 42; 5 P. 543.

Where a juror denies any knowledge or opinion about the case, and defendant, after conviction first learns that such juror was one of the grand jury that found the indictment, he is entitled to a new trial.
U. S. v. Christensen, 7 U. 26; 24 P. 618.

Where juror conceals fact that relation of debtor and creditor exists, party entitled to new trial.
Tarpey v. Madsen, 26 U. 294; 73 P. 411.
State v. Morgan, 23 U. 212; 64 P. 356.
State v. Thompson, 24 U. 314; 67 P. 789.

That juror had on another case expressed prejudice against that class of cases not grounds for new trial.
Hern v. S. P. Co., 29 U. 127; 81 P. 902.

In order to constitute misconduct which would affect a verdict, it must be made apparent that the acts complained of reached the jurors or some of them.
Paul v. S. L. R. R. Co., 34 U. 1; 95 P. 363.

If a party during the trial thought a juror guilty of misconduct in noting points adverse to him, he should have called the court's attention to the fact when it occurred and not have waited to see whether the controversy would be determined in accordance with his wishes.
Ogden L. & I. Ry. Co. v. Jones, 50 U. —; 168 P. 548.

If a juror is actually guilty of misconduct, one or more of the other jurors may testify to the facts constituting the alleged misconduct, or it may be proved by any witness who observed and knows the facts.
Id.

CHANCE VERDICT:

Where it appears that the amount of the verdict was determined by each juror fixing the amount to be awarded, adding them together and dividing the result by the number of jurors, a new trial will be granted.
Lambourne v. Halfin, 23 U. 489; 65 P. 206.

Where it clearly appears by affidavit that one of the concurring jurors was "induced to assent" to a verdict "by a resort to the determination of chance" a new trial should be granted.
Wright v. U. P. Ry. Co., 22 U. 338; 62 P. 317.

An average verdict is not objectionable where the jurors do not agree before voting to be bound by the result, but accept the average only after further deliberation and discussion as a fair and reasonable finding.
Pence v. California M. Co., 27 U. 378; 75 P. 934.
Archibald v. Kolitz, 26 U. 226; 72 P. 935.
Midgley v. Bergerman, 30 U. 17; 83 P. 466.

A new trial may not be had, on the ground that the jury resorted to the determination of chance, unless it appears that the assent of one or more jurors was thereby obtained to the verdict.
Midgley v. Bergerman, 30 U. 17; 83 P. 466.
Pence v. California M. Co., 27 U. 378; 75 P. 934.
Archibald v. Kolitz, 26 U. 226; 72 P. 935.

The burden of proof to show that the assent of one or more jurors was obtained by the determination of chance, or that it was in fact a chance verdict, is on the party assailing the same.
Pence v. California M. Co., 27 U. 378; 75 P. 934.
Archibald v. Kolitz, 26 U. 226, 72 P. 935.

USE OF AFFIDAVITS:

Affidavits of jurors will not be received to show misconduct except resort to chance.
Homer v. Inter-Mountain Abs. Co., 9 U. 193; 33 P. 700.
People v. Ritchie, 12 U. 180; 42 P. 209.
Black v. Rocky Mt. Bell Tel. Co., 26 U. 451; 73 P. 514.
People v. Flynn, 7 U. 378; 26 P. 1114.

ACCIDENT OR SURPRISE:

Production of pertinent, relevant testimony, no trick or artifice having been perpetrated, is not surprise hereunder.
Snell v. Cisler, 1 U. 298.

Where a cause is called for trial in its regular order, the absence of the defendant's counsel from the court is no ground for a new trial.
Crompton v. Crow, 2 U. 245.

A new trial will not be granted on the ground of accident and surprise to a party who, by the exercise of ordinary diligence, might have avoided the effects of what he complained of as the grounds of surprise.
Stewart M. Co. v. Coulter, 3 U. 174; 5 P. 557.

Affidavits held not to show surprise, such as entitled the defendant to a new trial.
Id.

Affidavits upon the ground of surprise must be made by the attorney and not by the defeated party, and should show that the facts from which the surprise resulted were material, and that the verdict is merely attributable to them.
Martin v. Hill, 3 U. 157; 2 P. 62.

In a criminal action, where it clearly appears by affidavit that defendant was surprised at testimony of prosecutrix, and that much of her testimony was untrue, new trial will be granted.
State v. Halford, 17 U. 475; 18 U. 3; 54 P. 819.

Where a judgment was rendered against defendant by default after answer, he was not entitled to a new trial by reason of the fact that such default was the result of negligence on the part of his attorney.
Peterson v. Crosier, 29 U. 235; 81 P. 860.

An order denying the motion to set aside a judgment rendered on a rehearing in defendant's absence and to grant a new trial on alleged grounds of mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or inexcusable neglect cannot be interfered with on appeal, unless an abuse of discretion is shown.
S. L. Hdwe. Co. v. Neilsen L. & W. Co., 43 U. 406; 134 P. 911.

Where a defendant gives notice to take the deposition of a non-resident whose testimony the plaintiff knows would be favorable to him, and the defendant fails to take such deposition, or to inform plaintiff's counsel of such failure; held, not to authorize a new trial on the ground of misconduct.
Rydalch v. Anderson, 37 U. 99; 107 P. 25.

NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE:

New trial will not be granted for newly discovered evidence which is merely cumulative or immaterial and irrelevant.
Foster v. Reich, 1 U. 192.
People v. Lyman, 2 U. 30.
U. S. v. Eldredge, 5 U. 161; 13 P. 673.
Long v. Citizens' Bank, 8 U. 104; 29 P. 878.

Where it appears that newly discovered evidence is merely cumulative, and that if it had been produced at the trial, the findings would not necessarily have been different from what they were, a new trial is properly denied.
Larson v. Onesite, 21 U. 38; 59 P. 234.

A new trial should not be granted upon the ground of newly discovered evidence where no proper diligence had been used to procure it at the trial.
Snell v. Cisler, 1 U. 298.
Tiernan v. Trewick, 2 U. 393.
People v. Peacock, 5 U. 237; 14 P. 332.
McKay v. Farr, 15 U. 261; 49 P. 649.
Hydraulic Cement Co. v. Christensen, 38 U. 525; 114 P. 524.

Where newly discovered evidence would not be decisive of the case upon another trial, the judgment will not be reversed.
Turner v. Stevens, 8 U. 75; 30 P. 24.
Tiernan v. Trewick, 2 U. 393.
Baumgarten v. Hoffman, 9 U. 338; 34 P. 294.
Wimmer v. Simon, 9 U. 378; 35 P. 507.

To entitle a party to a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence, it must appear:
1st. That he used reasonable diligence to discover and produce such evidence at the former trial, and that his failure was not due to his own negligence.
2nd. That it is not simply cumulative.
3rd. That such evidence does not tend simply to impeach an adverse witness.
4th. That the evidence is material and would likely have produced a different result if introduced at the former trial.
5th. That the defeated party had no opportunity to make the defense, or was prevented from so doing by unavoidable accident or the fraud or improper conduct of the other party.
Klopenstine v. Hays, 20 U. 45; 57 P. 712.

Where defendant moved for a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence, which consisted of a lease of the land from her to plaintiff for his life, executed and delivered to him at the time he deeded to her, motion was properly overruled.

Stringfellow v. Hanson, 25 U. 480; 71 P. 1052.

Affidavit of newly discovered evidence must show that it can be produced on a new trail.

Heath v. White, 3 U. 474; 24 P. 762.

Where the order refusing a new trial recites that "it was heard upon the record and statement and upon the affidavits filed by the defendants in support of their motion," it cannot be contended that the trial court did not consider affidavits as to newly discovered evidence presented on the motion.

Haws v. Victoria M. Co., 160 U. S. 303; same case, 7 U. 515; 27 P. 695.

A new trial will not be granted where the only new evidence contradicts defendant's testimony on a collateral matter.

Rydalch v. Anderson, 37 U. 99; 107 P. 25.

New trial may be granted for newly discovered cumulative evidence which renders clear and positive that which was before indefinite and uncertain, as, for instance, photographic enlargements of alleged forged checks which clearly reveal differences not discernible from the originals, and where the bank refused to deliver the checks to the depositor, he is not lacking in diligence in failing to secure an order of court for production.

Van Dyke v. Ogden Savings Bank, 48 U. 606; 161 P. 50.

Where counsel have withheld material evidence or denied the other party access thereto before trial, they are estopped from saying the other side should have applied for order compelling production.

Id.

Ordinarily granting of a new trial for newly discovered cumulative evidence is left wholly to the discretion of the trial court; but in case of abuse of discretion, it is subject to review,

Id.

Where an affidavit of newly discovered evidence is filed thirty days after the motion for new trial was filed, and the party and attorney filed affidavits alleging want of knowledge on their part as to what the witness would testify, the discretion of the lower court in rejecting the affidavit will not be interfered with.

Eglund v. Fayter, 5 U. —; 172 P. 330.

EXCESSIVE OR INADEQUATE DAMAGES:

Under the constitution, the question of damages is one for the jury, and the supreme court cannot interfere if there is any legitimate proof in the record to sustain the verdict, note to Con. art. 8, sec. 9.

Prior to adoption of constitution, verdicts held not excessive in the following cases.

Farr v. Griffith, 9 U. 416; 35 P. 506.
Griffiths v. Clift, 4 U. 462; 11 P. 609.
Thirkfield v. Mt. View Cem. Ass'n, 12 U. 76; 41 P. 564.
Naylor v. Salt Lake City, 9 U. 491; 35 P. 509.
Lowe v. Herald Co., 6 U. 175; 21 P. 991.
Bowers v. U. P. Ry. Co., 4 U. 215; 7 P. 251.
Bitner v. Utah Central Ry. Co., 4 U. 502; 11 P. 620.
Reddon v. U. P. Ry. Co., 5 U. 344; 15 P. 262.
Lashus v. Chamberlain, 6 U. 385; 24 P. 188.
Daniels v. U. P. Ry. Co., 6 U. 357; 23 P. 762.
Webb v. D. & R. G. W. Co., 7 U. 363; 26 P. 981.
Turner v. Stevens, 8 U. 75; 30 P. 24.
Durfee v. U. P. Ry. Co., 9 U. 213; 33 P. 944.
Chapman v. S. P. Co., 12 U. 30; 41 P. 551.
Chipman v. U. P. Ry. Co., 12 U. 68; 41 P. 562.

Where the damages are excessive, the trial court or the supreme court may authorize the remission of the excess as a condition of refusing new trial.

Brown v. S. P. Co., 7 U. 288; 26 P. 579.
Mayhood v. P. V. Coal Co., 8 U. 85; 30 P. 149.
Riley v. S. L. Rapid Transit Co., 10 U. 248; 37 P. 681.
English v. S. P. Co., 13 U. 407; 45 P. 47.
Yost v. Tracy, 13 U. 431; 45 P. 346.

The action of the trial court in granting a new trial on account of an excessive or unjust verdict, due solely to passion or prejudice may be reviewed as a question of law and not of fact upon an alleged abuse of discretion or capricious or arbitrary exercise of power.

Jensen v. D. & R. G. Co., 44 U. 100; 138 P. 1185.

The trial court may grant a new trial on the ground of inadequacy of damages.

Hirabelli v. Daniels, 44 U. 88; 138 P. 1172.

Where a court orders a new trial, unless the plaintiff shall consent to a reduction, a remittitur by plaintiff without service is sufficient acceptance.

Prye v. Kalbaugh, 34 U. 306; 97 P. 331.

The supreme court cannot say that the trial court abused its discretion in refusing a new trial on the ground that a verdict of $7620 for the death of a 14-year-old son at a crossing was excessive.

Jensen v. D. R. G. Ry. Co., 44 U. 100; 138 P. 1185.

INSUFFICIENCY OF THE EVIDENCE:

Sufficiency of evidence to support findings, note to § 6829.

Sufficiency of exceptions to evidence, note to § 6967.

Motion for new trial necessary in order to review evidence in case tried by jury, § 6994, and note.

Before statehood it was the rule that where the evidence was conflicting, new trial would not be granted on ground that verdict or findings are contrary thereto, unless there was clear and marked preponderance against them.

Newton v. Brown, 2 U. 126.
Firman v. Bateman, 2 U. 268.
Harrington v. Chambers, 3 U. 94; 1 P. 362.

McDonough v. Smith, 5 U. 276; 15 P. 3.
Brooks v. Warren, 5 U. 118; 13 P. 175.
Orr v. Rich, 5 U. 519; 17 P. 261.
Wells v. Wells, 7 U. 68; 24 P. 752.
Slater v. Cragan, 7 U. 412; 27 P. 4.
Victoria Mining Co. v. Haws, 7 U. 515; 27 P. 695; 160 U. S. 303.
Dooly Block v. Rapid Tr. Co., 9 U. 31; 33 P. 229.
Smith v. R. G. W. Ry. Co., 9 U. 141; 33 P. 626.
Stahn v. Hall, 10 U. 400; 37 P. 585.
Darke v. Smith, 14 U. 35; 45 P. 1006.

Since statehood the supreme court will not review the evidence in cases at law except to determine questions at law, and will not ordinarily disturb the judgment in an equity case, note to Con. art. 8, sec. 9.

A party challenging the sufficiency of the evidence must do so by a motion for new trial, unless, during the trial, he raised the question of motion for non-suit or for a directed verdict, in which case a motion for new trial is not necessary to obtain a review on appeal.

Law v. Smith, 34 U. 394; 98 P. 300.

A motion for new trial must be based on insufficiency of evidence to justfy the verdict, not the judgment.

Bellion v. Durand, 39 U. 532; 117 P. 798.

6979. (3293.) Application for new trial. In an application for a new trial, it shall be sufficient for the party applying for the same to state, in the language of the statute only, one or more grounds as specified in § 6978; provided, that when the application is made upon subs. 1, 2, 3, or 4 of § 6978, it must be supported by affidavit. In all other cases it may be made upon the minutes of the court. Am'd '99, p. 82.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 658*.

Affidavits, note to § 6978.

6980. (3294.) Notice to be filed and served within five days after verdict or after notice of decision of court or referee. Grounds. The party intending to move for a new trial must, within five days after the verdict of the jury, if the action were tried by a jury, or after notice of the decision of the court or referee, if the action were tried without a jury, file with the clerk, and serve upon the adverse party a notice of his intention, designating the grounds upon which the motion will be made, and whether the same will be made upon affidavits or upon the minutes of the court.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 659*.
Extension of time generally, § 7023.
Notices and services, §§ 7024-7032.
Motion for new trial may be made and filed after time limited, on terms, § 6619.

Order extending time for filing statement does not embrace notice of motion nor bill of exceptions.
McGrath v. Tallent, 7 U. 256; 26 P. 574.
East v. Mooney, 7 U. 414; 24 P. 4.

Order extending time granted though not filed withtin statutory time is valid.
Elliot v. Whitmore, 10 U. 253; 37 P. 463.

Under § 3400, C. L. 1888, only the defeatedf party has the right to move for a new trial; if notice is served within ten days after notice of the decision of the court, it is in full compliance.
Hamilton v. Dooly, 15 U. 280; 49 P. 769.

Right to move for a new trial is waived if not taken.
Cereghino v. Cereghino, 4 U. 100; 6 P. 523.

Though judgment has not been entered, motion for new trial may be made upon the filing of findings and conclusions.
Fisher v. Emerson, 15 U. 517; 50 P. 619.

Notice of motion must be filed and served within five days after verdict, unless time extended under § 7023, or unless relief granted under § 6619.
Felt v. Cook, 31 U. 299; 87 P. 1092.

The court cannot extend the time for filing a motion for new trial beyond the period of time allowed for appeal.
Minneapolis Threshing Machine Co. v. Fox, 51 U. —; 172 P. 699.

Notice does not need to be served upon co-defendants, where they all joined in preparing the bill of exceptions, and joined in the appeal.
Jones v. Williamson, 50 U. —; 168 P. 110.

A second notice of motion for new trial, filed more than five days after the jury rendered its special verdict, though within five days after judgment denying probate was entered, was properly stricken from the files as too late.
In re Hansen's Will, 50 U. —; 167 P. 256.

A second motion for a new trial setting forth an additional ground should not be permitted to be filed after time without sufficient application and showing, and if a showing is sufficient, findings thereon should be made.
Audia v. D. & R. G., 45 U. 459; 146 P. 559.

Where an appeal is taken within six months from the denial of motion for a new trial, but the judgment and the records show that a notice of motion for new trial was not given in time, there is no presumption that the time was extended for filing the motion for new trial and appeal is not within time.
Progress v. Dixie Ins. Co., 43 U. 303; 134 P. 1166.

An extension of time must be granted before the expiration of time.
Id.

Where the trial court sets aside the verdict and it makes findings and enters judgment thereon, notice may be served and filed within statutory time after judgment has been entered on the original verdict in obedience to mandate of the appellate court ordering the finding set aside and judgment to be entered upon the verdict.
Yerrick v. District Court, 48 U. 619; 161 P. 55.

NOTICE OF DECISION:

Written notice of a decision may be waived, but, to constitute a waiver, the party must do some affirmative act pointed out in the statute as not necessary to be done until after the notice.
Everett v. Jones, 32 U. 489; 91 P. 360.

One intending to move for new trial has a right to wait for a notice in writing of the decision from the adverse party before giving notice of intention though the movant participated in the final proceedings, objecting to the findings and the signing of a decree.
Everett v. Jones, 32 U. 489; 91 P. 360.
Mercantile Co. v. Glenn, 6 U. 139; 21 P. 500.
Burlock v. Shupe, 5 U. 429; 17 P. 19.

Where plaintiff is granted a decree of divorce, and the finding and decree was prepared by her attorney, no notice of decision is necessary in order to set in motion the time for filing and serving a motion for new trial by plaintiff, because of refusal of permanent alimony.
Cody v. Cody, 47 U. 456; 154 P. 952.

6981. (3295.) Affidavits filed and served within five days. Counter affidavits. If the motion is to be made upon affidavits, the moving party must, within five days after serving the notice, file such affidavits with the clerk, and serve a copy upon the adverse party, who shall have five days to file counter affidavits, a copy of which must be served upon the moving party.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 659*.

6982. (3297.) Time of hearing application. Proceedings. The application for a new trial shall be heard at the earliest practicable period after notice of the motion, if the motion is to be heard upon the minutes of the court, and in other cases after the affidavits are filed, and within sixty days thereafter unless no session of the court is held in the county within that time. It may be brought to a hearing upon motion of either party. On such hearing, reference may be had in all cases to the pleadings and the orders of the court, and, when the motion is made on the minutes, reference may also be had to the depositions, documentary evidence, and the stenographic report of the testimony.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 660*.
Motion for new trial may be heard at chambers, § 1679.

Motion may be oral, proper notice having been given.
Needham v. Salt Lake City, 7 U. 319; 26 P. 920.
East v. Mooney, 7 U. 414; 27 P. 4.

Lack of diligence in prosecuting motion for new trial is question in discretion of trial court.
Burlock v. Shupe, 5 U. 428; 17 P. 19.

Allowance of a substituted statement under pretense of amendment is error.
Wines v. Stevens, 1 U. 305.

Motion for new trial made within proper time may be heard and granted at a subsequent term of court.

Wasatch M. Co. v. Jennings, 14 U. 221; 46 P. 1106.
Under provisions of this section, if a motion for a new trial is to be heard upon the minutes of the court, it shall be heard at the earliest practicable moment after notice of the motion; but if it is to be heard upon affidavits, then within sixty days after the affidavits are filed, unless no session of the court is held in the county within that time.
Smidt v. Cherry, 23 U. 302; 64 P. 869.
Respondent having sought delay in the hearing of motion for new trial, and having stipulated that it be heard at a definite date, cannot complain that it was not heard at an earlier date.
Id.

6983. (3298.) When court may grant new trial on its own motion. The verdict of a jury may also be vacated and a new trial granted by the court in which the action is pending, on its own motion, without the application of either of the parties, when there has been such a plain disregard by the jury of the instructions of the court, or the evidence in the case, as to satisfy the court that the verdict was rendered under a misapprehension of such instructions, or under the influence of passion or prejudice.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 662*.

McKinney v. Carson, 35 U. 180; 99 P. 660.

6984. (3299.) When motion heard in another county. When the action is tried by a district judge out of the county of his residence, the motion for a new trial may, upon the consent of the parties, be brought to a hearing before such judge at chambers or in open court in any other county in the state.

Parties may stipulate in writing that a matter be heard at any place, § 1680.

CHAPTER 45.

APPEALS.

6990. (3300.) Appeal lies from final judgments. Record. Equity and law cases. Probate matters. From all final judgments of the district courts, there shall be a right of appeal to the supreme court. The appeal shall be upon the record made in the district court. In equity cases the appeal may be on questions of both law and fact; in cases at law the appeal shall be on questions of law alone. Appeals shall also lie from the final orders and decrees of the court in the administration of decedent estates, and in cases of guardianship.

The provisions of this section are taken from Con. art. 8, sec. 9; decisions construing same have been placed thereunder.
Appeals to supreme court lie from final judgments only, Con. art. 8, sec. 9, and note.
Where actions shall be begun, Con. art. 8, sec. 9, and note.
Review by supreme court in cases at law, in equity cases, and in probate cases, Con. art. 8, sec. 5, and note.
Appeals in cases commenced in justice's courts, Con. art. 8, sec. 9, and notes.
Appeal from final judgment on garnishment proceedings, § 6753.
Record on appeal, assignments of error, etc., note to § 6994.
Appeal from land registration judgments, § 4930.
Appeal in intoxicating liquor prosecutions, §§ 3360, 3363.
Right of appeal does not exist unless given by statute expressly or by necessary implication.
Golding v. Jennings, 1 U. 135.
Benson v. Anderson, 9 U. 154; 33 P. 691.
State v. Olson, 39 U. 177; 115 P. 958.
A writ of error is a writ of right allowable at common law.
Reece v. Knott, 3 U. 436; 24 P. 759.
The policy of the law is to discourage unnecessary appeals.
North Point Irr. Co. v. Utah & S. L. Canal Co., 14 U. 155; 46 P. 824.
A statutory right to have any particular question reviewed on appeal may be taken away by a repeal of the statute.
Eastman v. Gurrey, 14 U. 169; 46 P. 828.
North Point Irr. Co. v. Utah & S. L. Canal Co., 14 U. 155; 46 P. 824.
Consent cannot confer jurisdiction on appeal.
White v. Seely, 1 U. 191
Thomas v. U. P. Ry. Co., 1 U. 184.
Case in which the supreme court, at request of parties, declared the point at issue, though there was a vital defect of parties, but no demurrer.
Fritsch v. Bd. Com., 15 U. 83; 47 P. 1026.
Where the court modifies an arbitrators' award and enters judgment thereon, it is appealable.
Bivans v. U. L. L. W. & P. Co., 51 U. —; 174 P. 1126.

APPEAL IN CONTEMPT CASES:

Where a contempt proceeding is remedial, for the benefit of the opposing party, to compel the doing or omission of an act necessary to the administration of justice, appeal lies.
Snow v. Snow, 13 U. 15; 43 P. 620.
Ex parte Whitmore, 9 U. 441; 35 P. 524.
In re Kelsey, 12 U. 393; 43 P. 106.
Davidson v. Munsey, 27 U. 87; 74 P. 431; same case, 29 U. 181; 80 P. 743.
No appeal lies from conviction for contempt where the proceedings are criminal in their nature, for the purpose of vindicating the dignity and authority of the court, or to prevent the doing of an act injurious to the opposite party, and where the punishment is purely punitive.
People v. Owens, 8 U. 20; 28 P. 871.
Ex parte Whitmore, 9 U. 441; 35 P. 524.
Elliot v. Whitmore, 10 U. 246; 37 P. 461.
Ex parte Whetstone, 9 U. 156; 36 P. 633.

REVIEW OF EVIDENCE ON APPEAL:

Under the constitution the supreme court will not interfere with the verdict of a jury or the judgment of a court in a law case, if there is any legal evidence to sustain it, Con. art. 8, sec. 9, and note.

Prior to the adoption of the constitution, the supreme court would not interfere with the verdict of the jury or the judgment of the trial court where there was any substantial conflict in the evidence.

In re Faust, 1 U. 197.
Nor are orders permitting parties to intervene and refusing to strike out an answer as sham.
Jones v. N. Y. Life Ins. Co., 11 U. 401; 40 P. 702.
No appeal lies from order in divorce suit for payment of temporary alimony, suit money, and counsel fees.
In re Kelsey, 12 U. 393; 43 P. 106.
Neither this section nor § 7382 authorizes an appeal from an allowance for support of a child made incident to a decree of divorce.
Thompson v. Thompson, 5 U. 401; 16 P. 400.
Where demurrer of one of several defendants is sustained and the action dismissed as to him, this is not an appealable final judgment.
Lowell v. Parkinson, 2 U. 370.

NON-APPEALABLE ORDERS SINCE STATEHOOD:

See decisions under Con. art. 8, sec. 9.

6991. (3301.) Appeal taken within six months. An appeal may be taken within six months from the entry of the judgment or order appealed from.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 939*.
Time may not be extended, § 7023.
Notice of appeal, filing, service, § 6996.
Court cannot extend the time limited by statute for taking an appeal.

Mount v. Simons, 3 U. 230; 5 P. 563.
Dismissal of appeal generally, note to § 7009.
Where the record affirmatively shows the appeal was not taken in time, it must be dismissed.
Progress v. Dixie Ins. Co., 42 U. 263; 134 P. 1166.
An appeal in forcible entry and detainer must be taken within the time prescribed in § 7326.
Hunsaker v. Harris, 37 U. 226; 109 P. 1.
An appeal may be taken upon the entry of the judgment in the judgment book, and time does not begin to run until it is so entered.
Robinson v. S. L. City, 37 U. 520; 109 P. 817.
If taken before such entry, it must be dismissed and judgment cannot be entered.
Luckich v. Utah Con. Co., 48 U. 452; 160 P. 270.
An application for a rehearing of the order of the district court denying a motion for a new trial, not being recognized by the practice of this state, does not extend the time for appeal.
Luke v. Coleman, 38 U. 383; 113 P. 1023.
The time for appeal starts from the entry of judgment or overruling of motion for a new trial, not from the service of notice thereof, even though notice is served.
Jones v. Evans, 39 U. 291; 116 P. 333.
Lindley v. Bradshaw, 45 U. 83; 141 P. 300.
Lorntzen v. Hansen, 50 U. —; 171 P. 515.
Fuller v. Ferrin, 50 U. —; 168 P. 1179.
Provided the motion for new trial is filed within the period allowed for appeal, the court having no power to grant an extension of time beyond such period.
Minneapolis Threshing Machine Co. v. Fox, 51 U. —; 172 P. 699.
An appeal on the final decree of divorce, taken more than six months after the entry of interlocutory and within six months of entry of final decree, does not bring up for review the proceedings resulting in the interlocutory decree.
Custer v. Custer, 41 U. 575; 126 P. 880.
Where a motion for a new trial was overruled June 5, notice of appeal served December 6 following is too late.
Fuller v. Ferrin et al., 50 U. —; 168 P. 1170.

6992. (3302.) Record on appeal. The judgment roll and bill of exceptions, if there be one, shall constitute the record on appeal to the supreme court.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 161*.
Judgment roll, § 6867.
Bill of exceptions, § 6969.
When appeal considered on judgment roll, note to § 6994.
Appeal shall be on record as made in court below, Con. art. 8, sec. 9.
Record on appeal; assignments of error, etc., note to § 6994.
Statutes contemplate but one record on appeal.
San Pedro, etc. v. S. L. City, 35 U. 13; 99 P. 263.
Where respondent has no cross-appeal and does not assign cross-errors the supreme court cannot review a decision in favor of appellant.
Gilbourne v. O. S. L. Ry. Co., 39 U. 80; 114 P. 532.
The opinion of the trial court, if properly a part of the record, cannot be looked to to ascertain what the court found or decided, but may be examined to ascertain the court's reason for its decision.
Miller v. Marks, 46 U. 257; 148 P. 412.
The record on appeal cannot, as a general rule, be amended by the appellate court.
State ex rel. Snell v. Third Dist. Court, 36 U. 267; 103 P. 261.

6993. (3303.) Any party may appeal. Designation of parties. Title unchanged. Any party to a judgment or decree may appeal therefrom. The party appealing is known as the appellant, the adverse party as the respondent. The title of the action or proceeding is not changed in consequence of the appeal.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 938*.
Parties designated as plaintiff and defendant, § 5983.
On appeal to the district court, a guardian ad litem may properly be substituted for a general guardian appointed in another state.
Hyndman v. Stowe, 9 U. 23; 33 P. 227.
One of two or more defendants may appeal, the other not having been served with process nor appearing in the action.
Winters v. Hughes, 3 U. 438; 24 P. 907.
Parties having an interest in an estate can appeal from an order refusing to remove an administrator, and revoke letters of administration.
In re Reese Estate, 9 U. 171; 33 P. 698.
A brother of a deceased person who dies intestate without issue, but leaving a mother and father, cannot appeal from an order of the probate court made in the administration of the estate of the deceased.
Jones v. Jones, 12 U. 72; 41 P. 563.
Under provisions of § 7558, a failure to demur below to a petition to set aside the appointment of an administrator is a waiver of the objection, and, under this section, the petitioner cannot appeal from a denial of his petition, because not a party to the probate proceedings.
In re Tasanen's Estate, 25 U. 396; 71 P. 981.
Where plaintiff does not appeal, he cannot obtain a review of a ruling of the court against him, though he excepted to it when the ruling was made.
Betz v. People's Bldg. & L. S. Ass'n, 23 U. 604; 65 P. 592.
Sandberg v. Victor M. Co., 24 U. 1; 66 P. 360.
See Snyder v. Pike, 30 U. 102; 83 P. 692.
If an appeal is from a specific part of the judgment, and respondent desires review of matters not coming within the appeal taken, he must take a cross appeal; but when the whole judgment is appealed from, he needs only to serve and file his cross-assignments of error.
San Pedro, etc. v. Board of Education, 35 U. 13; 99 P. 263.
Gwilliam v. Ogden City, 49 U. 555; 164 P. 1022.
Co-parties desiring relief against each other on appeal must present such matters by cross-appeals, and one co-defendant may not, by merely filing cross-errors, assail the judgment in favor of plaintiff upon his co-defendant's appeal.
McCornick & Co. v. National Copper Bk., 49 U. 296; 163 P. 1097.
Big Cottonwood T. D. Co. v. Shurtliff, 49 U. 569; 164 P. 856.
To modify an independent portion of the decree not touched by the appeal is not the office of mere cross-assignments, but the peculiar province of a cross-appeal.
Id.
Where, in consolidated actions by material men against a contractor and a school district, the trial court rendered judgment in favor of the contractor's trustee in bankruptcy for the fund due the contractor from the school district, and part only of the material men appealed, those not appealing waived their rights to participate in the fund, and were not entitled to relief on appeal.
Geo. A. Lowe & Co. v. Leary, 49 U. 506; 164 P. 1052.
The defendant in a habeas corpus proceeding may appeal; it is not an attempted appeal by the state.
Winnovitch v. Emery, 33 U. 345; 93 P. 988.
In an action on a note where stock is pledged and personal judgment is waived, denial by the defendant administrator that the deceased owned any property in the county alleged is not a denial that he left property elsewhere, nor does it disclaim any interest in the stock, and the court has jurisdiction of an appeal.
Robison v. Gull, 51 U. —; 173 P. 905.

6994. (3304.) What may be reviewed on appeal. Necessity of motion for new trial. Upon an appeal from a judgment, all orders, rulings, and decisions in the action or proceeding to which exceptions have been taken in the court below, or which are deemed excepted to as provided by this code, are before the supreme court for review, and in equity cases any question of fact shall be reviewable by the supreme court without a motion for a new trial, and in all cases at law tried before the court without a jury, all questions of errors in findings of fact and conclusions of law legally reviewable by the supreme court shall be before the supreme court for review without a motion for a new trial, and either party to the appeal may assign any errors in findings of fact or conclusions of law, or that any findings of fact by the court are not supported by evidence, on appeal to the supreme court, without filing a motion for a new trial in the court below; provided, that this section shall apply to appeals hereafter taken, in all cases herein provided. Am'd '01, p. 25.

Cal. C. Civ. P., §956*.
Appeals to supreme court lie from final judgment only, Con. art. 8, sec. 9, and note.
Where actions shall be begun, Con. art. 8, sec. 5, and note.
Review by supreme court in cases at law, in equity cases, and in probate cases, Con. art. 8, sec. 9, and note.
Supreme court may reverse, affirm, or modify judgment; may direct trial court to correct findings and enter judgment thereon, etc., § 6995, and note.

An error of the trial court, in directing or refusing to direct a verdict, is one of law, and reviewable by the supreme court.

Law v. Smith, 34 U. 394; 98 P. 300.

NECESSITY OF MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL:

Where record does not set forth any motion for new trial, but only order denying such motion, the appeal will be considered as though no such motion had been made. Evidence not considered.

Thompson v. Hays, 24 U. 275; 67 P. 670, which

On appeal, in a cause tried by the court without a jury, the sufficiency of the evidence to support the findings and the conclusions of law might be reviewed, though there had been no motion for a new trial. (Distinguishing Thompson v. Hays, 2 4U. 275; 67 P. 670, which was decided before amendment of 1901.)

Paulson v. Lyon, 26 U. 438; 73 P. 510.

A motion for new trial is not necessary in any case in order for the supreme court to review all matters which the lower court had an opportunity to pass on.

(Touse v. Con. Ry. & Power Co., 29 U. 95; 80 P. 506 overruled.)

Law v. Smith, 34 U. 394; 98 P. 300.

But respecting matters covered by subs. 2 to 5, § 6978, a motion for new trial involving such matters must be made, or same cannot be reviewed.

Sargent v. Union Fuel Co., 37 U. 392; 108 P. 928.

RECORD AS MADE BELOW:

Sufficiency of certificate as showing that bill of exceptions contains all the evidence, note to § 6969.

Sufficiency of the evidence to support the findings or the verdict not considered on appeal unless the record purports to contain all the evidence, note to § 6967.

Sufficiency of evidence on disputed points not considered unless bill of exceptions purports to contain all the evidence on such points, note to § 6967.

Dismissal of appeal for imperfect record, etc., note to § 7009.

Imperfect record may be cured, § 7011.

Exceptions not taken in time deemed waived, § 6965, and note.

Papers filed with the record, but not made a part thereof, cannot be considered.

Hussey v. Smith, 1 U, 129.

Bachman v. Smith, 1 U. 237.

Upon an appeal from the judgment alone, the appellate court may order records affecting the judgment to be certified up, although they form no part of the judgment roll.

McClelland v. Dickenson, 2 U. 100.

The supreme court will not review a cause upon an agreed statement of the evidence not referred to in the record.

Klimer v. Schnorf, 3 U. 442; 24 P. 909.

Intermediate orders will not be reviewed unless presented to the appellate court by bill of exceptions or statement on motion for new trial.

Reever v. White, 8 U. 188; 30 P. 685.

Lowell v. Parkinson, 4 U. 64; 6 P. 58.

An affidavit not included in the bill of exceptions or transcript and not presented to the trial judge on motion for new trial, which is brought to the attention of the supreme court for first time on argument on appeal, without notice to the other side, can form no part of the record in the appellate court, and is without legal merit.

Recitals in record cannot be impeached by anything outside the record.

Center Cr. Irr. Co. v. Thomas, 19 U. 360; 57 P. 30.

The instructions form a part of the judgment roll under § 6806, and being a part of the record, were properly before the court for review.

Utah Opt. Co. v. Keith, 18 U. 464; 56 P. 155.

Where the bill of exceptions is eliminated from the record on appeal, the court can determine only whether the judgment is supported by the pleadings, findings of fact, and conclusions of law.

Bryant v. Kunkel, 32 U. 377; 90 P. 1079.

Thompson v. Hays, 24 U. 275; 67 P. 670.

An order denying a motion to correct a judgment may be reviewed on appeal from the judgment, if properly preserved in the record.

Cullen v. Harris, 27 U. 4; 73 P. 1048.

The written opinion of a trial judge, stating the reasons for his action or judgment, cannot qualify or limit the finding or decision.

Grand Central M. Co. v. Mammoth M. Co., 29 U. 490; 83 P. 648.

Victor M. Co. v. Natl. Bank of Rep., 18 U. 87; 55 P. 72.

If preserved in a bill of exceptions it may be examined to ascertain the court's reason for its decision, but not what it found or decided.

Miller v. Marks, 46 U. 257; 148 P. 412.

The appellate court will pass on a point where error is assigned, though it was not argued in the lower court.

Holland v. C. W. & M. Co., 49 U. 43; 161 P. 922.

The supreme court, in reviewing a ruling on a motion for new trial, is ordinarily limited to the review of the specific rulings made by the trial court.

Law v. Smith, 34 U. 394; 98 P. 300.

The question of jurisdiction may be raised for the first time on appeal.
Davidson v. Munsey, 27 U. 87; 74 P. 431.
Jurisdiction of the appellate court must be made to appear from the record.
State ex rel. Snell v. Third Dist. Court, 36 U. 267; 103 P. 261.
The appellate court is restricted to the issues below, and the only question on appeal from findings is the sufficiency of evidence to support them.
Woolf v. Gray, 48 U. 239; 158 P. 788.
Where there might have been reasons for refusing to distribute an estate, and the trial court's reason did not appear, the appellate court will not search the record to ascertain whether a distribution should be ordered.
In re Pickard's Estate, 42 U. 105; 129 P. 353.

Pleadings:

Where defendant has obtained a ruling sustaining objections to any evidence on the ground that the complaint does not state a cause of action, and the complaint is dismissed, the sufficiency of the complaint is the only question before the appellate court, and the allegations of the answer are not available to defendant for any purpose.
Salt Lake County v. Clinton, 39 U. 462; 117 P. 1075.
A party whose counsel filed a motion invoking the action of the court, and on the hearing thereof repeatedly stated that pleadings were unnecessary, and all other parties who acquiesced in such action, were estopped thereafter from complaining that pleadings were not filed.
Salt Lake City v. Salt Lake County Canal Co., 43 U. 591; 137 P. 638.
Plaintiff cannot urge negligence or estoppel upon appeal, where the complaint does not allege either.
Simpson v. Denver & Rio Grande R. Co., 43 U. 105; 134 P. 883.
An objection to an assessment on corporate stock, not within any issue raised by the pleadings, will not be considered on appeal.
Smith v. Sinaloa L. & F. Co., 42 U. 445; 132 P. 556.

Instructions and Requests:

Instructions generally and decisions thereon, § 6802, and note.
Exceptions to instructions, when and how taken, § 6806, and note.
Exceptions to charge, when and how taken, note to § 6806.
Where the record fails to show what instructions were given, the supreme court cannot review the refusal of the court to give those which were requested.
Garr v. Cranney, 25 U. 193; 70 P. 853.
Kunkel v. Utah L. Co., 29 U. 13; 81 P. 897.
Where no exception to an erroneous charge is shown by the record on appeal, and error in giving such charge is not assigned, the judgment will not be reversed on that account.
Braegger v. O. S. L. R. R. Co., 24 U. 391; 68 P. 140.
Burt v. Utah L. & P. Co., 26 U. 157; 72 P. 497.
Boyle v. U. P. R. R. Co., 25 U. 420; 71 P. 988.
Where plaintiff requests that an issue be submitted to the jury, he cannot complain if such issue is found against him.
Gibson v. Doyle Co., 37 U. 21; 106 P. 512.
Where the jury could properly render a verdict for plaintiff by following either of two conflicting instructions, defendant, whose request induced the conflict and caused the error, cannot complain thereof.
Pulos v. Denver & Rio Grande R. Co., 37 U. 238; 107 P. 241.
A party who induced a trial court to give an improper instruction cannot complain thereof on appeal.
Hunter v. Roylance, 45 U. 135; 143 P. 140.
Where the only exception taken to an instruction was to one portion, the appellate court cannot consider as ground for a reversal complaints of other portions of the instruction urged for the first time in appellant's brief.
Dimmick v. Utah Fuel Co., 49 U. 430; 164 P. 872.
Where an instruction given and excepted to made proof of the time laid in the complaint material, requesting an instruction that such proof was not material, was not a condition precedent to review on appeal.
Beason v. Western Meat Co., 40 U. 398; 124 P. 335.
On appeal from a judgment awarding compensatory and punitive damages for assault and battery, appellant is not entitled to complain of plaintiff's failure to show right to punitive damages where he did not object to instructions thereon, nor present requests to charge thereon.
Hirabelli v. Daniels, 40 U. 513; 121 P. 966.
Where a requested instruction was given, word for word, except for the addition of two small phrases, an exception to the refusal of the instruction as requested and to the giving of the same as modified, was sufficient to warrant a review on appeal.
Jensen v. Ut. L. & Ry. Co., 42 U. 415; 132 P. 8.
Where evidence as to damages, not alleged, was admitted without objection, and defendant merely excepted to the charge given and failed to request withdrawal of such issue from the jury, he could not allege the error, if any, for the first time on appeal.
Woodward v. Daly West M. Co., 47 U. 411; 154 P. 782.

Evidence:

Where the court knows what the answer of the witness will be to a question, not indicating that the testimony sought is objectionable, and overrules the objection thereto, a motion to strike out the answer is not necessary for review on appeal.
Cromeenes v. S. P., L. A. & S. L. R. Co., 37 U. 475; 109 P. 10.
Where evidence is admitted conditionally upon other evidence being introduced, and such other evidence is not introduced, motion should be made, and excepted to if denied, to strike out the evidence conditionally admitted, in order to present the question for review on appeal.
Hydraulic C. B. Co. v. Christensen, 38 U. 525; 114 P. 524.
Where defendant objected to testimony of expert witness on the ground that no proper foundation had been laid and that he was not qualified, it could not on appeal claim that the admission of his opinion was erroneous in that he stated his "own opinion" as to value instead of his opinion as to market value.
S. L. Inv. Co. v. Oregon Short Line R. Co., 46 U. 203; 148 P. 439.
Where evidence of a damage, not alleged, was admitted without objection, defendant cannot on appeal urge that pleadings were not sufficient to warrant submission to the jury on such issue.
Woodward v. Daly West M. Co., 47 U. 411; 154 P. 782.

Orders and Rulings:

In determining whether error was committed in overruling a motion for a non-suit, the supreme court will consider only the evidence and record before the court when the motion was overruled.
Boyd v. S. P., L. A. & S. L. R. Co., 45 U. 449; 146 P. 282.
An order granting a new trial is reviewable on appeal from the second or final judgment.
Hirabelli v. Daniels, 44 U. 88; 138 P. 1172.
The ruling on a motion for non-suit will not be considered unless it is preserved in the record.
Russell v. Watkins, 49 U. 598; 164 P. 867.
Where the court dismisses an action and no exception is entered, the dismissal cannot be reviewed.
Beck v. Lee, 51 U. —; 172 P. 686.

Theory of Case:

Where trial court, at appellant's request, passed upon but one issue in rendering judgment, the supreme court cannot consider other issues.
Fee v. Natl. Bank of Rep., 37 U. 28; 106 P. 517.
A party is restricted on appeal to the theory of the case adopted by him at the trial.
Aaron v. Holmes, 35 U. 49; 99 P. 450.
Salt Lake Inv. Co. v. Fox, 37 U. 334; 108 P. 1133.

Schuyler v. Southern Pac. R. Co., 37 U. 581, 612; 109 P. 458-1025.

The rule that appellant may not depart from the theory of his case followed by him in the trial court does not apply to an appeal from a judgment dismissing the action upon sustaining a demurrer to the complaint, where the question is whether the complaint entitled the plaintiff to the relief prayed for or to any substantial relief.

Neilson v. Sanpete County, 40 U. 560; 123 P. 334.

Where an action is tried in lower court as for property damaged without just compensation, judgment for plaintiff cannot be sustained, on appeal, on the ground that the acts complained of constitute a private nuisance.

Twenty-second Corporation of Church, etc. v. O. S. L. R. Co., 36 U. 238; 103 P. 243.

Where case is tried as at issue upon a material point involved, plaintiff could not for the first time on appeal assume that the allegations regarding that point were not denied by the answer.

Surbaugh v. Butterfield, 44 U. 446; 140 P. 757.

Where, in an action for goods sold, defendant set up a breach of warranty, and plaintiff made no claim to the court below for recovery on the ground that the goods were of some value and that they had not been returned, such claim cannot be asserted on appeal.

Roylance Co. v. Pyne, 45 U. 75; 141 P. 301.

In an action for the death of a servant, held that the plaintiff did not base her entire right to recover upon the federal employers' liability act, and was not prevented from claiming on appeal that she was entitled to recover under the common law.

Grow v. Oregon Short Line R. Co., 44 U. 160; 138 P. 398.

Where the return on garnishment was not attacked below on the ground that it did not show proper service of garnishment, on which decision an appeal is based, the proceedings will be remanded with instructions to vacate the order of discharge and permit an amendment.

Bristol v. Brent, 36 U. 108; 103 P. 1076.

Where defendant merely excepted to the charge given and failed to request withdrawal of the issue of rib fractures from the jury because not complete, he should not urge the error, if any, for the first time on appeal.

Woodward v. Daly West M. Co., 47 U. 411; 154 P. 782.

Where the defendant adopted a definite theory in the trial court as to the facts established by the evidence, he would not be permitted to change that theory on appeal, and to assert that such facts were not established, and that he is entitled to a new trial.

Schuyler v. Southern Pacific Company, 32 U. 612; 109 P. 1025.

Assignments of Error:

General assignments of error for insufficiency of evidence without stating the particulars in which evidence is insufficient cannot be considered on appeal.

Marks v. Taylor, 23 U. 152; 63 P. 897.

Genter v. Conglomerate M. Co., 23 U. 165; 64 P. 362.

Wasatch Irr. Co. v. Fulton, 23 U. 466; 65 P. 205.

Van Pelt v. Park, 18 U. 141; 55 P. 381.

O. S. L. Ry. v. Russell, 27 U. 457; 76 P. 345.

Houtz v. U. P. Ry. Co., 35 U. 220; 99 P. 997.

Where record fails to show that exceptions were taken, assignments of error for instructions refused and given will not be considered on appeal.

Burt v. U. L. & P. Co., 26 P. 157; 72 P. 497.

Boyle v. U. P. Ry. Co., 25 U. 420; 71 P. 988.

An assignment that defendant excepts to a certain finding of fact or conclusion of law, without stating that such finding or conclusion is erroneous, is not an assignment of error.

Thompson v. Hays, 24 U. 275; 67 P. 670.

Where a judgment is based on findings of fact, an assignment of error against the judgment on the ground that it is not supported by the evidence raises no question as to sufficiency of the evidence to support the findings, and presents no question for review.

Crooks v. Harmon, 29 U. 304; 81 P. 95.

The only questions before an appellate court on appeal are those raised by assignments of error and also presented in appellant's brief.

Herriman Irr. Co. v. Keel, 25 U. 96; 69 P. 719.

Jenkins v. Mammoth M. Co., 24 U. 513; 68 P. 845.

First Natl. Bank v. Brown, 20 U. 85; 57 P. 845.

Errors assigned, but not argued in the brief or on oral argument, are deemed to be waived.

Jenkins v. Mammoth M. Co., 24 U. 513; 68 P. 845.

France v. Salt Lake & O. Ry. Co., 31 U. 302; 88 P. 1.

Firman v. Bateman, 2 U. 268.

State v. Campbell, 25 U. 342; 71 P. 529.

Morris v. Salt Lake City, 35 U. 474; 101 P. 373.

Bowes v. Stilwell, 39 U. 377; 117 P. 876.

Vance v. Heath, 42 U. 148; 129 P. 365.

Connell v. O. S. L. R. Co., 50 U. —; 168 P. 337.

Where neither the transcript on appeal nor the abstract contains any assignments of error nor any points relied on for a reversal of the judgment, as required by supreme court rules 6 and 26, the appeal will be dismissed.

Ferris v. Modern Woodmen, 29 U. 309; 81 P. 141.

Supreme court rule 26, requiring appellant to assign errors in writing, signed by himself or counsel, to be served on the respondent and filed with the clerk of the supreme court, is not complied with by appellant placing in his abstract what purports to be an assignment of errors.

Lyon v. Mauss, 31 U. 283; 87 P. 1014.

Failure to file amended abstract and assignments of error within time allowed when they had been served in time is not jurisdictional, and where appellee is not prejudiced thereby, appeal will not be dismissed.

Bean v. Fairbanks, 46 U. 513; 151 P. 338.

Direction of a verdict for defendant cannot be reviewed on appeal where ruling is not assigned as error.

Teakle v. S. P., L. A. & S. L. R. Co., 32 U. 276; 90 P. 102.

An assignment of error that the decision is against the law is sufficient to present the failure of the court to find on all the material issues for review on appeal.

Dillon Imp. Co. v. Cleveland, 32 U. 1; 88 P. 670.

An assignment of error for overruling of demurrer is abandoned by failure to argue or refer to it in brief or in oral argument; but the sufficiency of the complaint to support the judgment may, nevertheless, be considered.

Dayton v. Free, 46 U. 277; 148 P. 408.

A question raised by appellee is not presented for review without a cross-assignment of error.

LeVine v. Whitehouse, 37 U. 260; 109 P. 2.

Propositions discussed in the brief, but not mentioned in assignments of error, will not be considered on appeal.

Beatty v. Shelley, 42 U. 592; 132 P. 1160.

Where defendant objected to admission of evidence, then moved to strike it out, and then requested the court to charge the jury to disregard it, assigning error only for the refusal of the court so to charge was not a waiver of the error.

Sweet v. Salt Lake City, 43 U. 306; 134 P. 1167.

Where an assignment of error for the refusal of a new trial relates to matters involving the discretion of the trial court, the supreme court can interfere only upon a showing of abuse of discretion.

Anderson v. S. L. & Ogden Ry. Co., 35 U. 509; 101 P. 579.

Unless proper assignments of error as to rulings on evidence are made on appeal, so that it appears what questions were raised in the trial court and what exceptions were reserved, error in rulings are deemed to be waived.

Loftis v. Pac. Mutual Life Ins. Co., 38 U. 532; 114 P. 134.

Assigning as error that the court erred in refusing a request does not raise the question of error in failing to charge the jury on a material issue, since if request did not correctly state the law applicable to the facts, it was not error to refuse it.

McKinney v. Carson, 35 U. 180; 99 P. 660.

A question raised for the first time in the petition and argument for rehearing will not be considered.
Harrison v. Harker, 44 U. 541; 142 P. 716.
Swanson v. Sims, 51 U. —; 170 P. 774.

If an appeal is from a specified part of the judgment, and respondent desires to review matters not coming within the appeal taken, he must take a cross-appeal; but where the whole judgment is appealed from, he need only file an assignment of errors, in which event dismissal of the appeal by the appellant does not affect respondent's right to be heard on his assignment; and all parties affected by cross-error assigned should be served.
S. P., L. A. & S. L. R. Co. v. Board of Education, 35 P. 13; 99 P. 263.

Finding not assigned as error is not presented for review
Mountain Lake Mining Co. v. Midway Irr. Co., 47 U. 371; 154 P. 584.

Where several appellants jointly assign errors, an assignment bad as to one of them must be bad as to all.
McGuire v. State Bank of Tremonton, 49 U. 381; 164 P. 494.

Assignments that the findings are not supported by the evidence are sufficient, where there is no bill of exceptions, to permit the court to set aside the findings where the judgment roll is not sufficient to support the findings.
Swanson v. Sims, 51 U. —; 170 P. 774.

An assignment which simply says, "The court erred in rendering the following findings of fact," is not sufficient to permit a review of the evidence.
Eglund v. Fayter, 51 U. —; 172 P. 313.
Holt v. Great Eastern Casualty Co., 51 U. —; 173 P. 1168.

OBJECTIONS NOT MADE BELOW NOT CONSIDERED ON APPEAL:

Failure to take exceptions at proper time, § 6965, and note.
Objections to pleadings, etc., not taken deemed waived, § 6593, and note.
Objections to evidence must be specific or they will not be considered, § 6967, and note.

Matters not urged in court below cannot be considered on appeal.

Kunkel v. Utah Lumber Co., 29 U. 13; 81 P. 897.
Karren v. Rainey, 30 U. 7; 83 P. 333.

Appellate court will not consider any questions not properly brought before it by demurrer, exception, or otherwise.
Garner v. Van Patten, 20 U. 342; 58 P. 684.
State v. Morgan, 22 U. 162; 61 P. 527.

Objection to contempt proceedings having been heard on a legal holiday, contrary to § 1806, goes to the jurisdiction of the court, and may properly be raised for the first time on appeal.
Davidson v. Munsey, 27 U. 87; 74 P. 431.

Where defendant objected and excepted to the granting of a motion for new trial, his participation in a new trial without further objection is not a waiver of his right to urge upon appeal from final judgment the error in granting the new trial.
Hirabelli v. Daniels, 44 U. 88; 138 P. 1172.

Judgment will not be modified or reversed because of error of which no one complained in the lower court.
Snow v. West, 37 U. 528; 110 P. 52.

Pleadings:

The failure of the complaint to state a cause of action may be raised for the first time on appeal.
Aaron v. Holmes, 35 U. 49; 99 P. 450.

Where a complaint is amended without objection in the lower court by changing the name of the plaintiff, defendant is estopped from demanding a dismissal of the case on appeal.
Sargent v. Union Fuel Co., 37 U. 382; 108 P. 928.

Instructions and Requests:

Argument of counsel is not reviewable in the absence of a request for action by lower court thereon.
Andrews v. Free, 45 U. 505; 146 P. 555.

Evidence:

Where counsel on a trial remain silent and permit testimony, now complained of, to go to the jury, all objections that might legally have been interposed to its introduction are waived, and this court will not review the same on appeal.
Lebcher v. Lambert, 23 U. 1; 63 P. 628.

Where the cross-examination discloses that a witness giving expert evidence has no knowledge entitling him to testify, the matter cannot be reviewed in the absence of a motion to strike such evidence; and where objections to a hypothetical question did not point out what facts were erroneously included or omitted they may not later be reviewed on appeal.
Sargent v. Union Fuel Co., 37 U. 392; 108 P. 928.

A party objecting to evidence upon one ground may not, on appeal, complain of its admission upon other grounds.
Kipros v. Uintah Ry. Co., 45 U. 389; 146 P. 292.

In an action for death, where the complaint alleged that the widow was the sole heir, and no objection was made at the trial to evidence showing there was also a father surviving, it cannot be first claimed on appeal that the court should have granted a motion to dismiss because of such variance.
Sargent v. Union Fuel Co., 37 U. 392; 108 P. 928.

Where the defendant objected in the lower court to evidence as not proper for any purpose, it could not, on appeal, urge an additional specific objection.
Evans v. O. S. L. R. Co., 37 U. 431; 108 P. 638.

Orders and Rulings:

Where plaintiff both demurred and answered to cross-complaint, it not appearing that demurrer was ever called to court's attention, failure to rule thereon is not reversible error.
Darke v. Smith, 14 U. 35; 45 P. 1006.

Theory of Case:

Where the want of good faith in making a claim of a mechanic's lien was first raised on appeal, it will not be considered.
Sandberg v. Victor M. Co., 24 U. 1; 66 P. 360.

Where, in an action for trespass, the objection that plaintiff could not recover more than one-half of the costs was not made in the trial court, it will not be considered on appeal.
Smith v. Nelson, 23 U. 512; 65 P. 485.

In a suit to determine the ownership of a part of the consideration for the conveyance of realty, which was claimed as commissions by the grantee, the question of grantee's right to commissions for procuring the sale, not having been urged in the trial court, cannot be raised on appeal.
Hall v. McNally, 23 U. 606; 65 P. 724.

A point upon which error has been assigned and which has been argued in appellant's brief may be considered by the supreme court, though it was not argued in the court below.
Holland-Cook Mfg. Co. v. Con. W. & M. Co., 49 U. 43; 161 P. 922.

OBJECTIONS TO PLEADINGS, PARTIES, ETC., NOT MADE BELOW:

Objections to pleadings, etc., not taken in time deemed waived, § 6573, and note.

Where both parties have admitted certain facts to be true, neither of them, on appeal, will be heard to contest or deny such admitted facts.

Metz v. Schweitzer, 8 U. 184; 30 P. 683.
Hamilton v. Dooly, 15 U. 280; 49 P. 769.

Pleadings:

Parties who admit a fact in their pleadings cannot question such fact on appeal.
Rogers v. Ogden Bldg. & S. Ass'n, 30 U. 188; 83 P. 754.

Objections to sufficiency of complaint may be raised for the first time in the appellate court, but in such case the defect may have been cured by verdict; the presumptions are in its favor. (Overruling Holt v. Pearson, 12 U. 63; 41 P. 560.)
Mangum v. Bullion-B. M. Co., 15 U. 534; 50 P. 834.

See Kuhn v. McAllister, 1 U. 273; affirmed 96 U. S. 87.
Auerbach v. S. L. Co., 23 U. 103; 63 P. 907.

Where the allegations of fraud in a complaint are general, but no objections are made thereto in the trial court, the defect is waived and cannot be raised on appeal.
Larsen v. Utah Loan & T. Co., 23 U. 449; 65 P. 208.

Where a complaint states a cause of action in general terms, objections that the allegations are uncertain, or indefinite, or ambiguous, must be taken advantage of by proper pleading before judgment or they will be waived.
Maynard v. Locomotive E. M. L. & A. Ass'n, 16 U. 145; 51 P. 259.

Objections to sufficiency of pleadings cannot be raised for the first time on appeal, and will not be considered in determining motion for nonsuit.
Jennings v. Pratt, 19 U. 129; 56 P. 951.

Defendant cannot for the first time object on appeal to prolixity of statement or mingling of causes of action in the complaint.
Brittain v. Gorman, 42 U. 586; 133 P. 370.

Where an ordinance is pleaded and made part of the complaint, whether a particular provision is legal or illegal, in connection with the other provisions and the allegations of the complaint, may present a mere question of law, and if it does, the grounds of illegality of the particular provision need not be specially pleaded to authorize its consideration on appeal.
Brummitt v. Ogden Waterworks Co., 33 U. 285; 93 P. 829.

A defense, to be available on appeal, must have been pleaded.
Mills v. Gray, 50 U. —; 167 P. 358.

Parties:

An objection on the ground of non-joinder of parties plaintiff is waived unless raised by demurrer or answer.
Spencer v. Van Cott, 2 U. 337.
Jungk v. Reed, 9 U. 49; 33 P. 236.

An objection on account of misjoinder of parties defendant is waived unless raised by demurrer or answer.

Henderson v. Turngren, 9 U. 432; 35 P. 495.
Wenner v. Smith, 4 U. 238; 9 P. 293.

The objection that the plaintiff is not the real party in interest, when available by way of defense, must be raised by demurrer or answer, or it will be considered to have been waived.
Fritz v. Western Union T. Co., 25 U. 263; 71 P. 209.

PRESUMPTIONS IN FAVOR OF JUDGMENT:

Evidence presumed to have been sufficient to support the findings or the verdict, where the record does not purport to contain all the evidence, note to § 6969.

Unless the bill of exceptions purports to contain all the evidence on contested points, objections to its sufficiency on such points cannot be considered, note to § 6969.

Presumption in favor of action of court on motion for nonsuit, note to § 6848; on directing a verdict, note to § 6802; on conduct of trial generally, note to § 6802; in favor of findings, etc., note to § 6829; on motion for new trial, note to § 6978.

On appeal, all presumptions are in favor of the judgment; where record does not show grounds urged on motion for new trial, question will not be considered.
Thompson v. Hays, 24 U. 275; 67 P. 670.
McKay v. Farr, 15 U. 261; 49 P. 649.

Error appearing in the record can be avoided only by matter affirmatively shown by the record.
Conway v. Clinton, 1 U. 215.

Where appeal is taken on judgment roll alone, findings of lower court are conclusive.
Doane v. Snow, 2 U. 417.

Flint v. Nelson, 10 U. 261; 37 P. 479; affirmed 166 U. S. 276.

The rule that the lower court is presumed to have acted regularly and for sufficient cause has no application where the record affirmatively shows upon what ground the court based its action, and where the record speaks, presumptions will not be indulged.
Moyle v. McKean, 49 U. 93; 162 P. 63.

Judgment is presumed to be regular on appeal until the contrary is made to appear from the face of the record.
Hulse v. Swicegood, 49 U. 89; 162 P. 89.

In the absence of objection to the findings, they will be presumed to have been sustained by the evidence.
Larsen v. O. S. L. R. Co., 38 U. 130; 110 P. 983.

It is presumed that the jury has followed the instructions of the court.
Harris v. Ogden Steam L. Co., 39 U. 436; 117 P. 700.

Where findings are based merely on a presumption of fact, and such presumption is entirely dissipated, the findings are unsupported by the evidence, and the question becomes one of law.
Leland v. Bourne, 41 U. 125; 125 P. 652.

Unless it can be shown that the jury considered other causes of damage than that submitted to it by the court, it must be presumed that it followed the court's instruction.
Dee v. S. P., L. A. & S. L. R. Co., 50 U. —; 167 P. 246.

Where, under the findings, the court rendered judgment for the plaintiff on two theories, the judgment must, on defendant's appeal on the judgment roll without bill of exceptions, be upheld if either theory was correct.
Swanson v. DeVine, 49 U. 1; 160 P. 872.

In a law case, the findings of the trial court, if supported by some substantial evidence, are binding, and cannot be disturbed on appeal.
In re Frandsen's Will, 50 U. —; 167 P. 362.

Where the plaintiff's evidence tends to support the findings, they will not be disturbed on appeal.
Henker v. Lindsay, 34 U. 298; 97 P. 329.

On appeal, the presumption is that the findings of the lower court are correct, and unless this presumption is overcome, the judgment will be affirmed.
Roberts v. Bertram, 49 U. 280; 163 P. 787.

In cases involving water rights in arid regions, the appellate court should be very slow to interfere with judgments unless it is clear that equity and justice require such interference.
Big Cottonwood T. D. Co. v. Shurtliff, 49 U. 569; 164 P. 856.

Every presumption must be indulged on appeal in favor of the correctness of the judgment below, and in the absence of anything in the record to the contrary, the supreme court must presume that the trial court properly directed judgment for defendant.
Hutchinson v. Smart, 50 U. —; 169 P. 166.

People's B. L. & S. Ass'n v. Fowble, 18 U. 206; 55 P. 57.

Fenton v. S. L. County, 4 U. 466; 11 P. 611.

The decision of an appellate court constitutes the law of the case only as to such questions as were necessarily involved in such decision, and were presented to the court and expressly or impliedly decided.

Herriman Irr. Co. v. Keel, 25 U. 96; 69 P. 719.

Where a case is reversed and a new trial ordered without any restrictions or limitations, the entire case is reopened, and the parties hold the same relative positions with respect to the introduction of evidence, burden of proof, etc., as if the case had never been tried.

Church v. Watson, 27 U. 538; 76 P. 706.

The decision of the supreme court on appeal from a judgment denying a motion for new trial based on the ground of the misconduct of the jury is res judicata on a subsequent application for a new trial based on the same ground, though the affidavits supporting the second motion show more in detail the misconduct complained of.

State v. Mortensen, 27 U. 16; 74 P. 120, 350.

The duty of a trustee to account for all funds received by him, including the proceeds of a mortgage sale to him of a part of the trust property, having been determined in a prior action, the decision is res judicata in a subsequent action against him by other cestui que trust in so far as it related to his duty to account to them with respect to the same funds.

Felkner v. Dooly, 27 U. 350; 75 P. 854.

A judgment is conclusive not only as to matters actually determined, but also as to every other matter which might have been litigated between the parties as part of the subject in controversy, but which was omitted from the case by negligence, inadvertance, or accident.

Peay v. Salt Lake City, 11 U. 331; 40 P. 206.

Everill v. Swan, 20 U. 56; 57 P. 716.

The fact that the finding in the former action quieting title to the crusher and motor in the defendant went beyond the allegations of defendant's answer in the instant case is immaterial, and in no way affects the question of res adjudicata.

Jeremy etc. v. Mellen, 50 U. —; 165 P. 791.

The decision of the supreme court that a certain defendant is not liable in an action for personal injuries controls that question on a subsequent appeal.

Requa v. Daly-Judge M. Co., 46 U. 92; 148 P. 448.

A decision affirming a judgment is of no controlling force in a subsequent case as to any question involved, but not argued or presented, and left unnoticed or not passed on by the court.

Salt Lake Inv. Co. v. O. S. L. R. Co., 46 U. 203; 148 P. 439.

Where the supreme court, on a prior appeal from a judgment dismissing a counterclaim, decided that the judgment was final and appealable, it also necessarily decided that the case was divisible, and that the judgment dismissing the counterclaim was independent of the case named in the original complaint.

Grand Central v. Mammoth, 36 U. 364; 104 P. 573.

DISCRETION OF LOWER COURT:

As to amendments, pleadings, etc., § 6620, and note.

The supreme court may not exercise the discretion which the lower court should have exercised in granting a new trial, and where the trial court has refused a new trial, the supreme court may only look to the evidence to ascertain whether any substantial evidence supports the verdict.

James v. Robertson, 39 U. 414; 117 P. 1068.

It is within the discretion of the lower court to submit or refuse to submit particular questions of fact to the jury, and error therein cannot be imputed without a showing of abuse of discretion.

Prye v. Kalbaugh, 34 U. 306; 97 P. 331.

In the absence of an abuse of discretion the denial of a motion for new trial will not be disturbed on appeal.

Lancino v. Smith, 36 U. 462; 105 P. 914.

Ruling of the trial court allowing amendments will not be disturbed except for abuse of discretion.

Benson v. O. S. L. R. Co., 35 U. 241; 99 P. 1072.

Denial of motion for continuance on the ground of absence of witness will not be disturbed on appeal, unless an abuse of the discretion of the court appears.

Lancino v. Smith, 36 U. 462; 105 P. 914.

It is within the discretion of the trial court to permit a witness to examine an instrument before testifying whether his alleged signature to it is genuine.

Fee v. National Bank of Republic, 37 U. 28; 106 P. 517.

6995. (3304x.) May reverse, affirm, or modify. Remittitur. Decision in writing. The court may reverse, affirm, or modify any order or judgment appealed from, and may, in case the findings are incomplete in any respect, order the court from which the appeal is taken to add to, modify, or complete the findings, so as to make the same conform to the issues presented and the facts as the same may be found to be by the trial court from the evidence, and may direct the trial court to enter judgment in accordance with the findings when corrected as aforesaid, or may direct a new trial, in any case, or further proceedings to be had. Its judgments or orders must be remitted to the court from which the appeal is taken. The decisions of the court shall be given in writing; and in giving a decision, if a new trial is granted, the court shall pass upon and determine all the questions of law involved in the case presented upon such appeal and necessary to the final determination of the case. Any justice dissenting may give the reasons thereof in writing over his signature, and file the same in the case. R. S. '98, § 655; '07, p. 260.

Decisions to be in writing and filed, Con. art 8, sec. 25.

Shall prepare a syllabus of all points adjudicated, Con. art. 8, sec. 26.

Review by supreme court in equity cases and in cases at law, note to Con. art. 8, sec. 9.

Jurisdiction of supreme court, Con. art. 8, secs. 4, 9.

Decisions on record on appeal, presumptions, etc., note to § 6997.

Remittitur to lower court within thirty days, § 7013.

Appeals lie to supreme court from final judgments only, Con. art. 8, sec. 9, and note.

Sufficiency of findings to support judgment, note to § 6829.

Instructions to jury, generally, note to § 6802, exceptions to same, note to § 6806.

Judgment roll, how made up, § 6867, and note.

The supreme court is the exclusive judge of its own jurisdiction.

First Nat. Bank v. Lewis, 13 U. 507; 45 P. 890.

It is not necessary or usual for the supreme court to pass upon each and every question raised on appeal when the case is reversed. It is sufficient to pass upon and determine such questions raised on the appeal as are necessary to the final determination of the case.

Wright v. S. P. Co., 15 U. 421; 49 P. 309.

MODIFICATION OF JUDGMENTS, ETC.:

Supreme court may modify judgments.

Salt Lake City v. Colladge, 13 U. 522; 45 P. 891.

First Nat. Bank of Hailey v. Lewis, 13 U. 507; 45 P. 890.

Having all the evidence before it, court may modify decree as seems just, irrespective of findings below.

Salina Creek Irr. Co. v. Salina Stock Co., 7 U. 456; 27 P. 578.

Paragoonah F. & C. Co. v. Edwards, 9 U. 477; 35 P. 487.

Findings and decree as to water rights not sufficiently specific will be set aside or modified.

Nephi Irr. Co. v. Vickers, 15 U. 374; 49 P. 301.

Same case, 20 U. 310; 58 P. 836.

Lost Cr. Irr. Co. v. Rex, 26 U. 485; 73 P. 660.

Smith v. Phillips, 6 U. 376; 23 P. 932.

Holman v. Pleasant Grove, 8 U. 78; 30 U. 72.

The opinion of a justice concurring in the reversal of judgment for plaintiff held to have necessarily concurred in the affirmative judgment for defendant.

Mountain L. M. Co. v. Midway Irr. Co., 47 U. 371; 154 P. 584.

Where the evidence in an action to determine the right to certain waters is conflicting and insufficient upon which to base a decree, the cause will be remanded with directions to the trial court to permit the introduction of additional evidence in order to determine definitely the rights of the parties.

Nephi Irr. Co. v. Vickers, 20 U. 310; 58 P. 836.

Same case, 15 U. 374; 49 P. 301.

Immaterial findings may be set aside and others modified and judgment allowed to stand.

Conner v. Raddon, 16 U. 148; 52 P. 764.

The supreme court has power to order judgment entered for plaintiff on the demurrer in the court below.

Gammon v. Bunnell, 22 U. 421; 64 P. 958.

Fenton v. S. L. County, 4 U. 466; 11 P. 611.

Findings that are inconsistent with each other, and against the pleadings and the preponderance of the evidence, will be set aside on appeal.

Sandberg v. Victor M. Co., 44 U. 1; 66 P. 360.

In a law case the supreme court is not authorized to find facts or to draw deductions from them, and treat as found that which might have been found.

Mitchell v. Jensen, 29 U. 346; 81 P. 165.

In an equity case, where findings and decree were against the weight of the evidence, case remanded with directions to adopt findings and decree proposed by appellant.

Nephi Irr. Co. v. Vickers, 29 U. 315; 81 P. 144.

Copper Globe M. Co. v. Allman, 23 U. 410; 64 P. 1019.

Under this section, as amended in 1907, if the trial court fails to find upon all material issues, the appellate court may remand case with directions to trial court to make complete findings and enter judgment thereon. (Distinguishing Dillon Imp. Co. v. Cleaveland, 32 U. 1; 88 P. 670.)

Everett v. Jones, 32 U. 489; 91 P. 360.

Utah Ass'n Credit Men v. Home Fire Ins. Co., 36 U. 20; 102 P. 631.

A judgment entered according to such a direction is appealable.

Id.

Where plaintiff's actual damages were certain and ascertainable, amounting to $54.60, and he was erroneously permitted to recover exemplary damages and the verdict called for $854.60, the court on appeal would not reverse the judgment unconditionally, but will affirm it for $54.60 conditioned on remittitur of $800.

Rugg v. Tolman, 39 U. 295; 117 P. 54.

Where a judgment is reversed, and it is apparent from the entire record that plaintiff cannot make a proper case for relief under the facts as set forth in the complaint, nor under any proper amendment thereof, the lower court will be directed to dismiss the action.

Jones v. Bonanza M. Co., 32 U. 489; 91 P. 273.

Where, in an equity case, it appears that the lower court erroneously overruled a demurrer to the complaint, and that if the demurrer had been sustained the complainants would probably have amended their complaint to permit the introduction of evidence sustaining their claim, the supreme court, instead of making or directing findings for a judgment for appellant, will remand the case for another trial.

Farr v. Wheelwright C. Co., 49 U. 274; 163 P. 256.

Where the supreme court is satisfied that the findings are clearly against the evidence, or that the presumption of their correctness has been overcome by the record, it must make or direct findings according to the evidence and the law applicable thereto.

Little v. Stringfellow, 46 U. 576; 151 P. 347.

Where findings are uncertain and insufficient, the supreme court may remand case with instructions to vacate findings and judgment, to make findings of fact on all issues, and to make conclusions of law on the facts so found, and to enter judgment accordingly.

Utah Ass'n of Credit Men v. Home Ins. Co., 36 U. 20; 102 P. 631.

In an equity case, the supreme court may try the case de novo on the record, and make or direct the necessary findings before any question of law can be considered or conclusion reached either on the law or facts.

Doe v. Doe, 48 U. 200; 158 P. 781.

Where inadmissible evidence was received in an action for damages, the judgment will be reversed, notwithstanding there is evidence to support the verdict.

Cleary v. Shand, 48 U. 640; 161 P. 453.

A judgment in favor of defendant upon its counterclaim for conversion will be reversed without remand, where evidence is not sufficient to sustain it, and the judgment was rendered in obedience to an erroneous instruction, and where the verdict on a previous trial, when the evidence was the same but no such instruction was given, was in favor of plaintiff.

Utah Foundry Co. v. Utah Gas & Coke Co., 42 U. 533; 131 P. 1173.

Where the lower court held that the evidence of defendant was immaterial and struck it out and thereupon plaintiff did not cross-examine, the court upon reversing the case should not enter the judgment but should remand it for new trial.

Thomson v. Reynolds, 51 U. —; 174 P. 164.

Where it appears, in an action at law, that the plaintiff is not entitled to any damages for breach of contract, the supreme court, on reversing judgment, will not remand the case for a new trial, but will direct its dismissal.

Depp v. Richards, 43 U. 332; 135 P. 98.

Where the evidence did not establish a mechanic's lien, but would support a judgment for a specified sum, the court, on appeal, will not enter judgment where claimant may be able to establish a lien, but will remand the case for a new trial.

Hathaway v. United Tintic Co., 42 U. 520; 132 P. 388.

Greenhalgh v. United Tintic Co., 42 U. 524; 132 P. 390.

The supreme court will not finally determine the rights of parties where the issues raised were not disposed of in the court below, and evidence was not heard thereon.

Brunswick Realty Co. v. University Inv. Co., 43 U. 75; 134 P. 608.

Where judgment was reversed and a new trial directed, without explicit directions being given, the case stands in the lower court as it did before the first trial, and the lower court may allow amendments except such as would open questions adjudicated by the appellate court.

Larsen v. Gasberg, 43 U. 203; 134 P. 885.

In a suit to enjoin the collection of an improvement assessment in which the trial court refused all relief, and it appears that only a portion of the tax was valid, and the record does not sufficiently show on appeal what portion of the tax is valid, the appellate court, on reversing the case, will not order new trial, but will remand to ascertain the extent to which the tax is invalid and should be enjoined.

Gwilliam v. Ogden City, 49 U. 555; 164 P. 1022.

After two appeals had previously been taken and four juries had passed on the facts and found in the plaintiff's favor, judgment will not be interfered with unless defendant has been prejudiced in some substantial right during progress of trial or in submission of case to jury.

Tyng v. Constant-Loraine Inv. Co., 50 U. —; 165 P. 509.

Where it was more convenient to make and enter conclusions of law in the district court, the supreme court will do no more than indicate and direct what the findings, conclusions of law, and judgments shall be, and remand.

Wheelwright v. Roman, 50 U. —; 165 P. 513.

Am'd '99, p. 83.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 940*.

Appeal taken within six months, § 6991.

Imperfect appeal may be cured by permission, § 7011.

Notices, and filing and service of papers, §§ 7024-7032.

Record as made in court below, note to § 6994.

When executors, etc., need not give bond on appeal, § 7005, and note.

Time to file undertaking may be extended, § 7023.

Where findings only show service of notice of appeal from inferior court, it will be sufficient as against collateral attack.

Kinney v. Lewis, 2 U. 512.

One notice and undertaking only are required on appeal from judgment and order denying new trial in same case.

Mount v. Simons, 3 U. 230; 5 P. 563.

Judgment on appeal from probate court is not binding on parties who are not made such in the appellate court.

In re Gibbs, 4 U. 97; 6 P. 525.

Appeal will be dismissed where record fails to show service of notice.

Voorhees v. Manti City, 13 U. 435; 45 P. 564.

That the notice of appeal shows an attempt thereby to appeal from the order overruling motion for new trial is immaterial if the notice is otherwise sufficient, as such part is mere surplusage.

Lyon v. Mauss, 31 U. 283; 87 P. 1014.

An appeal on a pauper oath is constitutional.

Eddington v. Union Portland Cement Co., 42 U. 274; 130 P. 243.

Sheppick v. Sheppick, 44 U. 131; 138 P. 1169.

Where a pauper oath is filed on appeal, typewritten abstract and brief may be filed.

Dunn v. S. L. & Ogden Ry. Co., 47 U. 137; 151 P. 979.

The insertion of the wrong date of rendition of the judgment does not vitiate the appeal.

Price v. Western L. & S. Co., 35 U. 379; 100 P. 677.

Where the court makes an allowance to the defendant on his counterclaim and renders judgment for the plaintiff for the balance due, plaintiff's notice of appeal from the specific part of the judgment entered therein, wherein the court on the counterclaim entered judgment in favor of the defendant and deducted the same from the balance due, is not sufficient, as there is only one judgment.

Sierra Nevada Mill Co. v. Keith-O'Brien, 48 U. 12; 156 P. 943.

Where the plaintiff appealed from only so much of the judgment as decreed a lien upon the land against her, the defendants merely assigning cross-errors thereon, the main judgment for cancellation of the deed could not be disturbed on appeal.

Rosenthyne v. Matthews-McCulloch Co., 50 U. —; 168 P. 957.

ADVERSE PARTIES, ETC.:

Appeal dismissed for failure to serve all adverse parties with notice.

Com'l Nat. Bank v. U. S. Sav. Co., 13 U. 189; 44 P. 1043.

Rache v. Stanley, 15 U. 314; 49 P. 648.

Griffin v. S. P. Co., 31 U. 296; 87 P. 1091.

Walker Bros. v. Skliris, 34 U. 353; 98 P. 114.

Where in a water case various defendants owned separate, not joint interests, and the judgment was several not joint, failure to join all of the defendants in an appeal is not fatal.

Gunnison Irr. Co. v. Gunnison High Canal Co., 51 U. —; 174 P. 852.

Where there is a joint judgment against two, and only one appeals, if the other is not served with notice, the appeal must be dismissed.

Mallett v. Velie Motor Car Co., 50 U. —; 164 P. 877.

The supreme court is bound by the record as certified, and the service of notice of appeal on the attorneys of record is conclusive, even though they filed no pleadings.

Walker Bros. v. Skliris, 34 U. 353; 98 P. 114.

In an action in rem notice must be served on adverse party, even though he is a nonresident, and service of summons was by publication.

Allen v. Garner, 45 U. 39; 143 P. 228.

The filing and service of notice of appeal within the time required by law is essential to clothe the supreme court with jurisdiction. Consent cannot confer jurisdiction.

Anderson v. Halthusen Merc. Co., 30 U. 31; 83 P. 560.

Adverse party herein means every party to the action, however brought in, whose interests require that the order, decree, or judgment appealed from be sustained.

Com'l Nat. Bank v. U. S. Sav. L. & B. Co., 13 U. 189; 44 P. 1043.

Rache v. Stanley, 15 U. 314; 49 P. 648.

On appeal by one of three defendants from an order overruling motion to set aside a judgment as to himself, it is not necessary to serve notice on those not appealing, when they concede it correct as to themselves but not as to him. In that case, under § 3636, C. L. U. 1888, they cannot be regarded as adverse parties.

Blyth & Fargo Co. v. Swenson, 15 U. 345; 49 P. 1027.

Co-defendants not served with notice of appeal may waive same in writing and consent to jurisdiction of appellate court.

Works v. Samuelson, 16 U. 119; 51 P. 150.

Provided such waiver be filed within the time an appeal may be taken.

Allen v. Garner, 45 U. 39; 143 P. 228.

Where additional parties were made defendants, and findings and decree recited that judgment could be entered against them for excess required to be paid by original defendants, on application to the court, they were adverse parties under this chapter, providing for service of notice of appeal on adverse parties.

Stephens v. Stevens, 27 U. 261; 75 P. 619.

All defendants who are made parties and served, and against whom judgment is had, are adverse parties who must be served with notice of appeal.

Griffin v. S. P. Co., 31 U. 296; 87 P. 1091.

An assignment of judgment, under provisions of this section, does not abate the action, but the same may be carried on in the name of the original party, or the court may allow substitution of the transferee, but, until substitution has actually been made, a notice of appeal may be served on the judgment creditor.

Schroeder v. Pratt, 21 U. 176; 60 P. 512.

Defendants disclaiming all interest in the subject matter, or who did not answer and are shown to have no interest, are not necessary parties to an appeal.

Plough v. Nelson, 45 U. 35; 161 P. 1134.

A contractor who defaulted in a mechanic's lien case need not be joined in an appeal.

Langton Lime & Cement Co. v. Perry, 48 U. 112; 159 P. 49.

Langton Lime & Cement Co. v. Smith, 48 U. 112; 159 P. 49.

UNDERTAKING:

Failure to file undertaking or make deposit within time hereunder renders appeal a nullity, and its dismissal imperative. Sec. 3650, C. L. 1888, has no application.

Cook v. O. S. L. Co., 7 U. 416; 27 P. 5.

Dismissal for failure of sureties to justify.

Pratt v. Jarvis, 8 U. 5; 28 P. 869.

Prior to amendment of this section in 1899, the filing of an affidavit of poverty, under §§ 2576, 2580, relieved the necessity of advancing officers' fees which belong to the state, but not the filing of an undertaking on appeal.

Hoagland v. Hoagland, 18 U. 304; 54 P. 978.

Benson v. Anderson, 9 U. 154; 33 P. 691.

The undertaking is filed for the benefit of the respondent, and is a right which he may waive.

Id.

The clerk's certificate that an undertaking on appeal in due form has been properly filed, is conclusive.

Hathaway v. United Tintic Mg. Co., 42 U. 520; 132 P. 388.

Greenhalgh v. United Tintic Mg. Co., 42 U. 524; 132 P. 390.

When new undertaking may be filed, §§ 7004, 7011, and note.

6997. (3306.) Requisites of undertaking. The undertaking on appeal must be in writing, and must be executed on the part of the appellant, by at least two sureties, to the effect that the appellant will pay all damages and costs which may be awarded against him on the appeal, or on a dismissal thereof, not exceeding $300; or that sum must be deposited with the clerk with whom the judgment or order was entered, to abide the event of the appeal.

Cal. C. Civ P., § 941.

Sureties on undertaking are liable though appeal dismissed because undertaking not filed in time.

Pratt v. Gilbert, 8 U. 54; 29 P. 965.

Undertaking need not be signed by appellant, he being already bound by judgment.

Butterfield v. Mountain Ice Cold Storage Co., 11 U. 194; 39 P. 824.

An undertaking is sufficient as an undertaking on appeal, where its terms are broad enough to constitute it such, though they are also broad enough under § 6998, and it is for a greater amount than required by § 6997.

Peale v. Clark, 50 U. —; 166 P. 981.

6998. (3307.) Undertaking on appeal from money judgment. If the appeal be from a judgment or order directing the payment of money, it does not stay the execution of the same, unless a written undertaking be executed on the part of the appellant by two or more sureties, to the effect that they are bound in double the amount named in the judgment or order; that if the judgment or order appealed from, or any part thereof, be affirmed or the appeal be dismissed, the appellant will pay the amount directed to be paid by the judgment or order, or the part of such amount as to which the judgment or order is affirmed, if affirmed only in part, and all damages and costs which may be awarded against the appellant upon the appeal, and that if the appellant does not make such payment within thirty days after the filing of the remittitur from the supreme court in the court from which the appeal is taken, judgment may be entered on motion of the respondent, in his favor against the sureties, for such amount, together with the interest that may be due thereon, and the damages and costs which may be awarded against the appellant upon the appeal. If the judgment or order appealed from be for a greater amount than $2,000, and the sureties do not state in their affidavits of justification accompanying the undertaking that they are each worth the sum specified in the undertaking, the stipulation may be that the judgment to be entered against the sureties shall be for such amounts only as in their affidavits they may state they are severally worth, and judgment may be entered against the sureties by the court from which the appeal is taken, pursuant to the stipulations herein designated. When the judgment or order appealed from is made payable in a specified kind of money or currency, the judgment entered against the sureties upon the undertaking must be made payable in the same kind of money or currency.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 942.
Qualifications of sureties generally, § 7223.
Receiver may be appointed to preserve property pending an appeal, § 6764.
Dismissal for failure to file undertaking, note to § 6996.
Undertaking may be in one or in several instruments, § 7002.
When undertaking is or becomes insufficient, §§ 7004, 7011.
When undertaking on appeal not required, § 6996.

6999. (3308.) Id. When judgment directs delivery of personal property, etc. If the judgment or order appealed from direct the assignment or delivery of documents or personal property, the execution of the same cannot be stayed by appeal unless the things required to be assigned or delivered be placed in the custody of such officer or receiver as the court or the judge thereof may appoint, or unless an undertaking be entered into on the part of the appellant, with at least two sureties, and in such amount as the court or the judge thereof may direct, to the effect that the appellant will obey the order of the appellate court upon the appeal.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 943.

7000. (3309.) Id. When judgment directs conveyance. If the judgment or order appealed from direct the execution of a conveyance or other instrument, the execution of the same cannot be stayed by the appeal until the instrument is executed and deposited with the clerk with whom the judgment or order is entered, to abide the judgment of the appellate court.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 944.
When judgment directing conveyance not complied with, § 6260.

7001. (3310.) Id. When judgment directs sale or possession of real property. If the judgment or order appealed from direct the sale or delivery of possession of real property, the execution of the same cannot be stayed unless a written undertaking be executed on the part of the appellant, with two or more sureties, to the effect that during the possession of such property by the appellant, he will not commit, or suffer to be committed, any waste thereon, and that if the judgment be affirmed or the appeal dismissed, he will pay the value of the use and occupation of the property from the time of the appeal until the delivery of the possession thereof and of any waste committed thereon, pursuant to the judgment or order, not exceeding a sum to be fixed by the judge of the court by which the judgment was rendered or order made, and which must be specified in the undertaking. When the judgment is for the sale of mortgaged premises, and the payment of a deficiency arising upon the sale, the undertaking must also provide for the payment of such deficiency.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 945*.
Judgment giving plaintiff certain water, and restraining defendant from taking or using same, is one directing delivery of possession of real property under this section.
Elliot v. Whitmore, 10 U. 238; 37 P. 459.

7002. (3311.) Id. May be in one or several instruments. The undertakings prescribed by the foregoing sections may be in one instrument or several, at the option of the appellant.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 947.

7003. (3312.) Exception to sureties. Justification. Failure. Deposit. The adverse party may except to the sufficiency of the sureties to the undertakings mentioned in this chapter at any time within ten days after the filing of such undertakings; and, unless they or other sureties, within ten days after the appellant has been served with notice of such exception, justify before a judge of the court below, or clerk thereof, upon five days' notice to the respondent, of the time and place of justification, execution of the judgment, decree, or order appealed from is no longer stayed. In all cases where an undertaking is required on appeal by the provisions of this chapter, a deposit in the court below of the amount of the judgment appealed from and such additional amount as the court may order, and the $300 in addition, is equivalent to filing the undertaking. In all cases the undertaking or deposit may be waived by the written consent of the respondent.

Cal. C. Civ., P. § 948*.
Qualifications of sureties generally, § 7223.
Where sureties fail to justify within time under § 3660, C. L. 1888, appeal must be dismissed.
Pratt v. Jarvis, 8 U. 5; 28 P. 869.

7004. (3312x.) Id. When undertaking is or becomes insufficient. In proceedings on appeal from any court, when any surety on the undertaking is or becomes insufficient, or when such undertaking is or becomes insufficient in form or in amount, the appellate court, on motion, may order a new and sufficient undertaking to be filed. On failure to comply with such order, such appeal may be dismissed, in the discretion of the court. '07, p. 229.

When a new undertaking may be filed, note to § 7011.

7005. (3313.) Effect of stay. Court may relieve administrator, etc., from giving bond. Attachment not continued, unless. Whenever an appeal is perfected, as provided in the preceding sections of this chapter, it stays all further proceedings in the court below, upon the judgment or order appealed from, or upon the matter embraced therein, and releases from levy property which has been levied upon under execution issued upon said judgment; but the court below may proceed upon any other matter embraced in the action and not affected by the order appealed from. The court below may, in its discretion, dispense with or limit the security required by this chapter, when the appellant is an executor, administrator, trustee, or other person acting in another's right. An appeal does not continue in force an attachment, unless an undertaking be executed and filed on the part of the appellant, by at least two sureties, in double the amount of the debt claimed by him, that the appellant will pay all costs and damages which the respondent may sustain by reason of the attachment, in case the judgment of the court below be sustained or the appeal be dismissed.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 946*.

Provision hereof that court may dispense with undertaking in certain cases does not embrace action brought by collector in his own right for delinquent taxes.

Crismon v. Bingham C. &. C. F. Ry. Co., 3 U. 249; 2 P. 208.

An administrator who has been removed and his letters revoked by the probate court could appeal under rule 24 of the supreme court, without filing any undertaking on appeal.

Uebel v. Maltese, 2 U. 430.

The supreme court rule 24 (9 U. 521) providing that an administrator who has given an official bond may appeal without giving an additional undertaking, does not apply to a case where the sureties have been discharged before the appeal is taken. (For former opinion see 11 U. 421; 40 P. 705.)

Wells v. Kelley, 12 U. 437; 42 P. 1133.

Bond covers rents and profits pending appeal.

Tarpey v. Sharp, 12 U. 383; 43 P. 104.

Where the appellant had sued out a writ of error, and filed a supersedeas bond, and had taken all the steps necessary to remove the cause to the U. S. supreme court; held, that the territorial supreme court had not lost jurisdiction to remit its judgment to the lower court.

Openshaw v. Utah & Nevada Ry. Co., 6 U. 268; 21 P. 999.

Perfecting an appeal and giving a supersedeas bond in a case where an injunction has been granted does not nullify decree or suspend injunction.

Bullion-Beck & Champion M. Co., v. Eureka Hill M. Co., 5 U. 151; 13 P. 174.

Elliot v. Whitmore, 10 U. 238; 37 P. 459.

But appeal in a water case from decree dividing waters of a stream and enjoining defendant from taking more than his share, when the court has refused to suspend such injunction pending the appeal, does not deprive lower court of jurisdiction to punish as contempt violation of such injunction.

Ex parte Whitmore, 9 U. 441; 35 P. 524.

Upon appeal an attachment will not continue in force unless appellant files a separate bond therefor.

Wells v. Loofbourow, 49 U. 200; 162 P. 375.

7006. (3314.) Undertaking where judgment directs or prohibits particular act. Stay. If the judgment appealed from directs or prohibits the doing of any particular act or thing, and no express provision is made by statute in regard to the undertaking to be given on appeal therefrom, the execution thereof shall not be stayed by an appeal therefrom, unless an undertaking be entered into on the part of the appellant, in such sum as the court or judge shall direct, and by at least two sureties, to the effect that the appellant will pay all damages which the opposite party may have sustained by the not doing or the doing of the particular act or thing directed to be done or prohibited from being done by the judgment appealed from, and to such further effect as the court or judge shall, in discretion, direct.

Wis., S. & B. An. S. (1889) § 3059*.

A judgment revoking a liquor license, being self-executing, an appeal therefrom does not suspend it or stay its force, at least where a supersedeas bond is not given.

In re Grant, 44 U. 386; 140 P. 226.

7007. (3315.) No stay in case of usurpation of office. Sale of perishable property. Where the defendant is adjudged guilty of usurping, intruding into, or unlawfully holding public office, civil or military, within this state, the execution of the judgment shall not be stayed by an appeal. Where the judgment appealed from directs the sale of perishable property and proceedings are stayed, the court may order the property to be sold and the proceeds thereof to be deposited, to abide the judgment of the appellate court.

Cal. C. Civ P., § 949*.

Judgment of ouster not stayed by appeal, § 7371.

7008. (3316.) Appeal perfected. Papers sent. Upon an appeal being perfected, the clerk of the court from which the appeal is taken shall, at the expense of the appellant, forthwith transmit to the supreme court the papers constituting the record on appeal. The court may, however, for good cause shown, direct copies to be sent in lieu of the originals. The clerk shall also, in all cases, transmit to the supreme court the notice of appeal, together with a certificate of the clerk that an undertaking on appeal, in due form, or a stipulation of the parties waiving an undertaking, or an affidavit under § 2577, has been properly filed; and he shall annex to the papers so transmitted a certificate under his hand and the seal of the court from which the appeal is taken, certifying that they are the original papers, or copies, as the case may be, and that they are transmitted to the supreme court pursuant to such appeal. No further certificate or attestation shall be necessary.

What constitutes record on appeal, § 6992.

7009. (3317.) Id. Dismissal for failure to file transcript in thirty days. If the appellant shall fail to cause such papers to be transmitted and filed in the supreme court within thirty days after the perfecting of the appeal, the appeal may be dismissed on motion of the respondent.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 954*. See Sup. (1895) p. 28.

Smith v. Fisher, 3 U. 24; 5 P. 545.

Unless satisfactory showing of reasonable diligence be made.
Corinne Mill Co. v. Johnston, 5 U. 147; 13 P. 17.

Where a transcript is not filed until nearly eight months after settlement of the bill of exceptions, appeal will be dismissed.
State v. Grisolio, 49 U. 195; 162 P. 613.

DISMISSAL OF APPEAL GENERALLY:

Appeal on judgment roll, note to § 6994.
Imperfect appeal may be cured, § 7011.
Appeals dismissed because not taken in time, note to § 6991.
Dismissal for failure to serve notice on all adverse parties, note to § 6996.
Dismissal for failure to file undertaking, etc., notes to §§ 6996, 7003, 7004.
When new undertaking may be filed, § 7004, and note to § 7011.

Motion to dismiss must be based on all grounds then existing therefor; grounds not specified are waived.
Stevens v. Higginbotham, 6 U. 341; 23 P. 757.

When motion to dismiss appeal is denied, the appellant is estopped from claiming that he afterward abandoned the appeal.
Corinne Mill Co. v. Johnston, 5 U. 147; 13 P. 17.

Where upon appeal the only errors assigned are such as have either been waived in the court below, or such as cannot be considered by reason of the laches of the appellant, the appeal will be dismissed on proper motion.
Young v. Martin, 3 U. 484; 24 P. 909.

Where an appeal is regular, a motion to dismiss on the ground that no exceptions were saved to any of the rulings of the court below in a bill of exceptions will be denied, since the appeal must stand as an appeal upon the judgment roll.
U. S. v. Duggins, 11 U. 430; 40 P. 707.
People v. March, 11 U. 432; 40 P. 708.

Where the abstract on appeal is in disregard of the rules of the court, and does not show that any motion for a new trial was made nor that any appeal was taken from the judgment, the court will dismiss the appeal on its own motion.
Anderson P. B. Co. v. Dubois, 10 U. 60; 37 P. 90.

Where record shows findings of fact and conclusions of law; that no judgment was entered; that notice of appeal was filed but never served; that statement on motion for new trial was settled but motion never heard—attempted appeal will be dismissed.
Voorhees v. Manti City, 13 U. 435; 45 P. 564.

Appeal from orders which are not final, dismissal. No bill of exceptions in record.
Welsh v. Lambert, 18 U. 1; 54 P. 975.

Where the transcript on appeal does not contain a chronological arrangement of the proceedings and papers in the cause, and is not prefaced by an alphabetical index, required by rule 2, and there is no statement of the contents of each paper embodied in the transcript, as required by rule 6, nor any reference in any of the assignments of error to the pages of the abstract on which the error is based, the appeal will be dismissed.
Hannan Bros. v. Waltenspiel, 29 U. 466; 82 P. 859.
Standard Steam Laundry v. Dole, 20 U. 469; 58 P. 1109.

Where neither the transcript on appeal nor the abstract contains any assignment or specifications of error, nor any points relied on for a reversal of the judgment, as required by rules 6 and 26, the appeal will be dismissed.
Ferris v. Modern Woodmen, 29 U. 309; 81 P. 141.

Supreme court rule 26, requiring appellant to assign errors in writing, signed by himself or counsel, to be served on the respondent and filed with the clerk of the supreme court, is not complied with by the appellant placing in his abstract what purports to be an assignment of errors, and appeal will be dismissed.
Lyon v. Mauss, 31 U. 283; 87 P. 1014.

Where the parties stipulated to use an abstract which was used in a former appeal but it did not contain the judgment, the appeal will not be dismissed as the provision for printing the judgment is directory.
Lukich v. Utah Constr. Co., 48 U. 452; 160 P. 271.

Though the supreme court rules 6 and 10, as to contents of the abstract, the time of filing and serving brief, be not complied with, yet where no prejudice results and there is no delay in the hearing, the appeal will not be dismissed.
Grosteit v. Miller, 48 U. 511; 160 P. 769.

Appeal will be dismissed, the trial clerk certifying that no notice of or undertaking on appeal has been filed there, and no assignment of errors, abstracts, or briefs having been served or filed by appellant, though the transcript has been on file in the appellate court for nearly a year.

McEwan v. Anderson, 50 U. —; 167 P. 685.

7010. (3318.) Dismissal affirms judgment. Exception. Amendments permitted. The dismissal of an appeal is in effect an affirmance of the judgment or order appealed from, unless the dismissal is expressly made without prejudice to another appeal.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 955.

7011. (3319.) Imperfect appeal may be cured by permission. When a party shall in good faith give notice of appeal, and shall omit, through mistake or accident, to do any other act necessary to perfect the appeal or make it effectual, or to stay proceedings, the court from which the appeal is taken or the judge thereof, or the supreme court or one of the justices thereof, may permit an amendment or the proper act to be done, on such terms as may be just.

Wis., S. & B. An. S. (1889) § 3068. Minn. (1894) § 6134*.

When undertaking is or becomes insufficient, § 7004.

Where a motion to dismiss an appeal is made upon the ground that no undertaking on appeal has been filed in the court below, and such motion is met by an affidavit that the appeal has been taken in good faith, the court will allow a new and additional undertaking on appeal to be filed.

Almy v. Raybould, 2 U. 277.

Sec. 3650, C. L. 1888, did not authorize the giving of an undertaking in the supreme court in the first instance, but only in a case where an insufficient undertaking has been given in the lower court within the time prescribed by law.

Cook v. O. S. L. Ry., 7 U. 416; 27 P. 5.

Prior to amendment of § 6996 in 1899, the affidavit of poverty did not obviate the necessity of undertaking on appeal, but the appeal having been taken in good faith, the defect might be cured.

Smith v. Hoagland, 18 U. 304; 54 P. 978.

But see Benson v. Anderson, 9 U. 156; 36 P. 633.

An appeal will not be dismissed because the undertaking is defective in giving the wrong date of judgment; if necessary, the supreme court could permit a new undertaking to be filed.

Price v. Western Loan & Svgs. Co., 35 U. 379; 100 P. 677.

7012. (3320.) Restitution. Innocent parties protected. Damages for appeal for delay. When the judgment or order is reversed or modified, the appellate court may make complete restitution of all property and rights lost by the erroneous judgment or order, so far as the restitution is consistent with the protection of a purchaser of property at a sale ordered by the judgment or had under process issued upon the judgment on the appeal from which the proceedings were not stayed; and for relief in such cases, the appellant may have his action against the respondent enforcing the judgment for the proceeds of the sale of the property, after deducting therefrom the expenses of the sale. When it appears to the appellate court that the appeal was made for delay, it may add to the cost such damages as may be just.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 957.

Costs on appeal, § 7041.

Supreme court, how constituted, quorum, powers, etc., §§ 1642-1660.

Damages for appeal for delay from justice's court, § 7520.

Where, pending an appeal, an execution is issued, and the property of the defendant levied upon, there being no supersedeas bond, and afterward the judgment is reversed and case dismissed, the lower court cannot entertain any motion on behalf of the party redeeming from the execution, and render judgment for costs in his favor against the plaintiff.

Wall v. Dodge, 3 U. 168; 2 P. 206.

Where appellant executes a good supersedeas bond, he will not be penalized on the ground that the appeal was taken merely for delay.

Brophy v. Ogden Rapid Transit Co., 46 U. 426; 151 P. 49.

7013. (3321.) Remittitur within thirty days. Exception. The clerk of the supreme court shall remit to the lower court the papers transmitted to the supreme court on the appeal, together with the judgment or decision of the supreme court thereon, within thirty days after the same shall have been made, unless the supreme court, on application of either of the parties, shall direct them to be retained for the purpose of enabling such parties to move for a rehearing.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 958*.

Cost bill must be filed within thirty days, § 7048.

Judgment to be remitted, § 6995.

On notice, remittitur may be ordered at any time, § 7014.

Supreme court may reverse, affirm, or modify judgment; may direct trial court to correct findings and enter judgment thereon, etc., § 6995, and note.

No appeal lies from judgment entered in substantial compliance with terms of remittitur, note to § 6994.

Judgment in supreme court is effective before remititur. Where it dismisses the action, the lower court can take no further proceedings therein.

Wall v. Dodge, 3 U. 168; 2 P. 206.

Judgment upon remittitur, directing demurrer to be sustained, plaintiff having elected to stand upon complaint, leaves no error to be considered.

Fenton v. Salt Lake County, 4 U. 466; 11 P. 611.

If a cause is reversed and remanded without instructions, where the findings are full and are not excepted to, the trial court must enter such judgment as the record and opinion warrant without a retrial.

Coombs v. S. L. & Ft. D. Ry. Co., 11 U. 137; 39 P. 503.

Where a judgment of nonsuit, entered by a court of equity, is ordered set aside by appellate court and the cause is remanded, and neither the opinion nor the mandate requires a trial de novo to be granted, the effect is to place the case in the same position, in the court below, as it was in at the time when the progress of the trial was interrupted by the motion for nonsuit.

Warren v. Robinson, 21 U. 429; 61 P. 28.

Where the supreme court remanded a cause with directions to enter judgment awarding plaintiff railroad a title to a right-of-way, a decree adjudging that plaintiff was the owner of the right-of-way (describing it) conforms to the mandate, though it did not adjudge plaintiff to be the owner in fee simple of the right-of-way described.

R. G. W. Ry. Co. v. Stringham, 39 U. 236; 115 P. 967.

Where no petition for rehearing has been filed, it is proper for either party to secure and file the remittitur.

Hirsh v. Ogden F. & C. Co., 50 U. —; 171 P. —.

7014. (3322.) Petition for rehearing; contents; stay. Remittitur at any time. A petition for a rehearing shall operate as a stay of proceedings until a decision of the motion therein. The petition therefor shall state the grounds upon which it is based, and shall present at large the points, authorities, and reasons relied upon therefor, and shall be supported by the certificate of the attorney of the party, if he has appeared by attorney, to the effect that, in his opinion, there is good reason to believe the judgment objected to is erroneous and that the cause ought to be re-examined. In all cases where, on notice to the party against which the judgment is entered in any case, the party does not signify an intention to move for a rehearing, the court may order a remittitur at any time.

Petition for rehearing is a pleading, and not an argument. Points and authorities should be submitted in a separate paper.

Enright v. Grant, 5 U. 400; 16 P. 595.

The question whether one of the justices who sat in a hearing of a case upon appeal, but who dissented from the decision, was legally a member of the court will not be examined on motion for rehearing, no such question having been raised before, and no facts being shown to warrant the inquiry.

People v. Tidwell, 5 U. 88; 12 P. 638.

Error of lower court not presented upon the hearing will not be considered upon motion for rehearing.

Farrell v. Pingree, 5 U. 531; 17 P. 735.

A rehearing may be granted, even when the result must be the same as announced in the original opinion, when the concurrence of one of two judges constituting the court delivering the judgment on appeal is limited to the result, and thereby the law of the case is not made; and (2) the original opinion fails to consider a point raised upon the appeal, which, if tenable, might be fatal to the cause of action set forth in the complaint; and (3) the former opinion announces certain rules of law which, in the judgment of the court as constituted when the motion for rehearing is considered, require modification to prevent misapplication of same upon a new trial of the cause.

Fenstermaker v. Tribune Pub. Co., 13 U. 532; 45 P. 1097.

Rehearing will be denied unless the court is convinced either that it failed to consider some material point in the case, that it erred in its conclusions, or that some matter has been discovered that was unknown when the case was argued.

Switzgable v. Worseldine, 5 U. 386; 16 P. 400.
Cummings v. Neilson, 42 U. 157; 129 P. 619.

A petition for rehearing could not be entertained, it appearing that the identical questions raised were those twice considered.

State v. Mortensen, 27 U. 16; 74 P. 120, 350.

Question raised for the first time in the petition and argument for rehearing will not be considered.

Harrison v. Harker, 44 U. 541; 142 P. 716.
Swanson v. Sims, 50 U. —; 170 P. 774.

In a capital case, a rehearing, after considering an assignment shown by the records to have been deliberately and intentionally abandoned, may be granted.

State v. Riley, 41 U. 225; 126 P. 294.

CHAPTER 46.

MOTIONS AND ORDERS.

7017. (3323.) Order and motion defined. Every direction of a court or judge made or entered in writing, and not included in a judgment, is denominated an order. An application for an order is a motion.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1003.

7018. (3324.) Motions and orders, where made. Motions must be made in the court in which the action is pending. Orders made out of court may be made by the judge of the court in any part of the state.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1004*.
Powers at chambers, §§ 1678, 1679, 1817.
When order refused, application not to be made to another judge, § 1820.

Parties, by taking part in proceedings, waive any defect in the motion by which the action of the court was invoked.

S. L. City v. Salt Lake & Utah Canal Co., 43 U. 591; 137 P. 638.

7019. (3325.) Five days' notice of motion. Shortening time. Affidavits. When a written notice of a motion is required by this code, or by a rule of the supreme or district court, it must be given, if the court be held in the same county with both parties, five days before the time appointed for the hearing; otherwise, ten days. When the notice is served by mail, the number of days before the hearing must be increased one day for every twenty-five miles of distance between the place of deposit and the place of service; such increase, however, not to exceed in all thirty days; but in all cases the court, or a judge thereof, may prescribe a shorter time. Testimony to sustain or resist a motion may be in the form of affidavits, or in such other form as the parties may agree on or the court or judge direct. If by affidavit, the person making the same may be required to appear by the court or judge and submit to cross-examination upon the matters contained in his affidavit. On failure to submit to such cross-examination, the court, in its discretion, may strike out the affidavit of such witness, and take such other measures as it may deem proper. Am'd '01, p. 11.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1005*.

Where motion to set aside default was made orally and does not appear in the record but notice stated the grounds, motion will be held sufficient, no objection having been made.

Utah Com. Bank v. Trumbo, 17 U. 198; 53 P. 1033.

7020. (3326.) Hearing of motion or order continued or transferred, when. When a notice of motion is given, or an order to show cause is made returnable before a judge out of court, and at the time fixed for the motion or on the return day of the order, the judge is unable to hear the parties, the matter shall stand continued until the further order of the court or judge, or it may be transferred by his order to some other judge.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1006*.

7021. (3327.) Order to pay money enforcible as if a judgment. Whenever an order for the payment of a sum of money is made by a court, or judge thereof, pursuant to the provisions of this code, it may be enforced by execution in the same manner as if it were a judgment.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1007.

7022. (3328.) Vacating order made out of court without notice. An order made out of court without notice to the adverse party may be vacated or modified without notice by the judge who made it, or may be vacated or modified on notice, in the manner in which other motions are made.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 937.

This section applies to temporary injunction.

Leitham v. Cusick, 1 U. 242.

Where a party appears in opposition to an ex parte motion, he is thereafter precluded from treating the order as ex parte.

Smith v. Fisher, 3 U. 24; 5 P. 545.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1054*. See Sup. (1889) p. 406, and Sup. (1895) p. 30.

Service of notices, §§ 7024-7032.

Time to answer demurrer, or reply may be extended, § 6619.

Motion for new trial may be allowed after time limited, § 6619.

Time to file bill of exceptions may be extended.

Gorringe v. Read, 24 U. 455; 68 P. 147.

Olson v. O. S. L. R. R. Co., 24 U. 460; 68 P. 148.

But after the time limited by statute for settling bill of exceptions has expired, court can not give an extension.

Butter v. Lamson, 29 U. 439; 82 P. 473.

Bryant v. Kunkel, 32 U. 377; 90 P. 1079.

Tooele Imp. Co. v. Hoffman, 4 U. 532; 141 P. 744.

An extension cannot be granted after expiration of time for filing transcript on appeal in the supreme court.

Smith v. Fisher, 3 U. 24; 5 P. 545.

Order extending need not necessarily be filed before the original time allowed by statute has expired.

Elliot v. Whitmore, 10 U. 253; 37 P. 463.

Court cannot extend time to appeal.

Brough v. Mighell, 6 U. 317; 23 P. 673.

Jones v. Evans, 39 U. 291; 116 P. 333.

Time to appeal cannot be extended by stipulation.

Anderson v. Halthusen Merc. Co., 30 U. 31;

Where copy of complaint was not served on defendant nor deposited with the clerk of court, as required by § 6546, owing to mistake, upon application, the court should have permitted plaintiff to deposit copy of complaint, and should not have dismissed the action.

West Mt. L. & S. Co. v. Danley, 38 U. 218; 111 P. 642.

The court cannot extend the time for filing a motion for new trial beyond the period of time allowed for appeal.

Minneapolis Threshing Machine Co. v. Jesse W. Fox et al., 51 U. —; 172 P. 699.

CHAPTER 47.

NOTICES, AND FILING AND SERVICE OF PAPERS.

7024. (3330.) Notices must be in writing. Service when not prescribed. Notices must be in writing, and notices and other papers may be served upon the party or attorney in the manner prescribed in this chapter, when not otherwise provided by this code.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1010.
Pleadings subsequent to complaint to be filed and served, § 6609.
Time for service of notice may be extended, § 7023.
Order granted without notice may be vacated without notice, § 7022.
Written notice of a decision may be waived; but, to constitute a waiver, the party must do some affirmative act pointed out in the statute as not necessary to be done until after the notice.
Everett v. Jones, 32 U. 489; 91 P. 360. 83 P. 560.

The giving of a notice in writing of the setting of a trial by justice's court is jurisdictional.
Griffiths v. Justice Court, 35 U. 443; 100 P. 1064.
One intending to move for new trial has a right to wait for a notice in writing of the decision from the adverse party before giving notice of intention, though the movant participated in the final proceedings, objecting to the findings and the signing of a decree.
Everett v. Jones, 32 U. 489; 91 P. 360.
Mercantile Co. v. Glen, 6 U. 139; 21 P. 500.
Burlock v. Shupe, 5 U. 429; 17 P. 19.

7025. (3331.) Service of notices, etc., how made. The service may be personal, by delivery to the party or attorney on whom the service is required to be made, or it may be as follows:

1. If upon an attorney, it may be made during his absence from his office by leaving the notice or other papers with his clerk therein, or with a person having charge thereof; or when there is no person in the office, by leaving them, between the hours of six in the morning and nine in the evening, in a conspicuous place in the office; or if it be not open so as to admit of such service, then by leaving them at the attorney's residence, with some person of suitable age and discretion; and if his residence be not known, then by putting the same, inclosed in an envelope, into the postoffice directed to such attorney;

2. If upon a party, it may be made by leaving the notice or other paper at his residence, between the hours of six in the morning and nine in the evening, with some person of suitable age and discretion; and if his residence be not known, by putting the same, inclosed in an envelope, into the postoffice directed to such party.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1011*.
Service upon sheriff, § 1522.
Notice by telegraph or telephone, §§ 6117-6120, 7032.
Service must be made upon attorney, § 7030.

Service of pleading is ineffectual unless same be filed within time limited by statute, or before entry of default is ordered.
Cutler v. Haycock, 31 U. 366; 90 P. 897.

7026. (3332.) Id. Service by mail. Service by mail may be made when the person making the service, and the person on whom it is to be made, reside or have their offices in different places, between which there is a regular communication by mail.

*Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1012.

7027. (3333.) Id. How made. When complete. In case of service by mail, the notice or other paper must be deposited in the postoffice, addressed to the person on whom it is to be served at his office or place of residence, and the postage paid. The service is complete at the time of the deposit, but if within a given number of days after such service a right may be exercised, or an act is to be done by the adverse party, the time within which such right may be exercised or act be done is extended one day for every twenty-five miles distance between the place of deposit and the place of address; such extension, however, not to exceed thirty days in all.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1013*.
Service by telegraph or telephone, §§ 6117-6120, 7032.

Mailing a copy of notice of appeal on the thirtieth day is sufficient service.
Greenwood v. Bramel, Judge, 51 U. —; 174 P 637.

7028. Newspaper selected by applicant to be designated. Proviso. In all actions, suits, and proceedings where summons or other notice is required to be published, and the judge or clerk of court is authorized or directed to give notice or to designate the newspaper in which such publication shall be made, the judge or clerk, upon the request of the party applying for such publication, shall designate the newspaper that such party may select, and shall authorize and direct that such publication be made therein; provided, that the newspaper selected is a newspaper published in the English language, and of general circulation in the county where such publication is required to be made. '15, p. 199.

Probate notices, § 4026.
Summons, § 2949.
Summons on unknown heirs, § 2951.
Powers of clerk, § 7561.

7029. (3334.) Appearance defined. After appearance, defendant entitled to notice. A defendant appears in an action when he answers, demurs, or gives the plaintiff written notice of his appearance, or when an attorney gives notice of appearance for him. After appearance a defendant or his attorney is entitled to notice of all subsequent proceedings of which notice is required to be given. But where a defendant has not appeared, service of notice or papers need not be made upon him unless he is imprisoned for want of bail.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1014.
Guardian may appear for ward and waive service of process, § 7877.
Appearance or acknowledgment of service, § 6545.
Filing and service of pleadings subsequent to complaint, § 6609.
Service must be upon attorney, if one appears, § 7030.
Defendant's appearance on motion to dismiss appeal precluded him from treating the order dismissing the appeal as an ex parte order.
Smith v. Fisher, 3 U. 24; 5 P. 545.
General appearance of defendant waives all objections to service of summons.
Keyser v. Pollock, 20 U. 371; 59 P. 87.
Kuhn v. Mount, 13 U. 108; 44 P. 1036.
Houtz v. Gisborn, 1 U. 173.
Where a corporation domiciled in Utah was sued in Illinois, appeared and filed a pleading, without challenging the court's jurisdiction, it submitted to the jurisdiction of the Illinois court, precluding it from assailing the judgment in an action thereon in Utah.
Richardson v. Utah Stove & H. Co., 28 U. 85; 77 P. 1.
A court having jurisdiction of the subject matter of a suit acquires jurisdiction of a defendant either by his voluntary appearance or by process served upon him.
Continental L. Ins. Co. v. Jones, 31 U. 403; 88 P. 229.
Keyser v. Pollock, 20 U. 371; 59 P. 87.
Page v. Commr. National Bank, 38 U. 440; 112 P. 816.
A general demurrer is a general appearance, though one of the grounds of demurrer is that the court has no jurisdiction of the subject matter.
Farnsworth v. U. P. Coal Co., 32 U. 112; 89 P. 74
Stone v. U. P. Ry. Co., 32 U. 185; 89 P. 715, 723.

7030. (3335.) Service on non-residents. On attorney. When a plaintiff or a defendant who has appeared resides out of the state, and has no attorney in the action or proceeding, the service may be made on the clerk for him. But in all cases where a party has an attorney in the action or proceeding, the service of papers when required must be upon the attorney instead of the party, except of subpœnas, writs, and other process issued in the suit, and of papers to bring him into contempt.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1015.
Notice of entry of judgment for plaintiff in a justice court was properly served on defendant's attorney.
Tooele, etc. v. Morse, Judge, 43 U. 515; 136 P. 965.

7031. (3336.) Provision not applicable to process or contempt. The foregoing provisions of this chapter do not apply to the service of a summons or other process, or of any paper to bring a party into contempt.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1016.

7032. (3337.) Summons, writs, etc., may be sent by telegraph or telephone. Any summons, writ, or order in any civil suit or proceeding, and all other papers requiring service, may be transmitted by telegraph or telephone for service in any place, and the telegraphic or telephonic copy of such writ or order or paper so transmitted may be served or executed by the officer or person to whom it is sent for that purpose, and returned by him, if any return be requisite, in the same manner, and with the same force and effect, in all respects, as the original thereof might be delivered to him, and the officer or person serving or executing the same has the same authority, and is subject to the same liabilities as if the copy were the original. The original, when a writ or order, must also be filed in the court from which it was issued, and a certified copy thereof must be preserved in the telegraph or telephone office from which it was sent. In sending it, either the original or the certified copy may be used by the operator for that purpose. Whenever any document to be sent by telegraph or telephone bears a seal, either private or official, it is not necessary for the operator in sending the same to telegraph or telephone a description of the seal or any word or device thereon, but the same may be expressed in the telegraphic or telephonic copy by the letters "L. S.," or by the word "Seal." Am'd '07, p. 28.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1017*.
Warrant sent by telegraph or telephone, §§ 8728-8730.
Notices, conveyances, notes, etc., may be sent by telegraph or telephone, §§ 6117-6120.

UTAH STATE PROPERTY

CHAPTER 48.

COSTS.

7035. (3338.) Compensation of attorneys left to agreement. Costs. The compensation of attorneys and counselors at law is left to the agreement, express or implied, of the parties; but parties to actions or proceedings are entitled to costs and disbursements, as hereinafter provided.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1021.
Compensation of attorneys left to agreement of parties, liens, § 346, and note.

7036. (3339.) When costs allowed as of course. Costs are allowed of course to the prevailing party in the following cases:

1. In an action for the recovery of real property;
2. In an action to recover the possession of personal property;
3. In an action for the recovery of money or damages;
4. In a special proceeding;
5. In an action which involves the title or possession of real estate, or the legality of any tax, impost, assessment, toll, or municipal fine.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1022*.
Costs on appeal in special proceedings, § 7046.
Costs where party acts in representative capacity, § 7045.
When costs in discretion of court, § 7038.
What taxable as costs, note to § 7047.

COSTS IN SPECIAL PROCEEDING:

Where a writ of certiorari is directed to a justice of the peace, who is the only party to the proceedings in the district court, it is error, upon setting aside the judgment of the justice, to enter judgment for costs against him.
In re Hamilton v. Spiers, 24 U. 225.

Upon obtaining a perpetual injunction restraining all further proceedings to collect the tax, including all proceedings upon a judgment, the complainant will be allowed his costs in defending the action in the inferior court.
Kerr v. Woolley, 3 U. 456; 24 P. 831.

The costs of the proceeding in which a writ of prohibition issues from the district court to arrest the doing of a ministerial act by a justice of the peace, when such justice is wilfully assuming an unauthorized jurisdiction, are properly taxed against him.
Ducheneau v. House, 4 U. 369; 10 P. 838.

Where court commissioner refuses in good faith to pay fees of a witness, costs will not be awarded against him.
People v. Pyper, 6 U. 160; 21 P. 722.

Mandamus to compel the canvassing board to issue a certificate of election is a special proceeding hereunder, so as to entitle plaintiff on a judgment in his favor to an allowance for costs, as of course.
Page v. Utah Com., 11 U. 119; 39 P. 499.

Prosecution in the name of a city for the violation of its ordinance is in its nature criminal, and one acquitted is not entitled to costs.
Nephi City v. Forrest, 41 U. 433; 126 P. 332.

When one convicted of a breach of a city ordinance appeals, and there is no claim of impecuniosity, cost on appeal, except clerk's fees, may be taxed against him.
S. L. City v. Robinson, 39 U. 260; 116 P. 442.

Costs in certiorari and mandamus proceedings rest in the discretion of the court, and where a party suggests to the district court that it had no jurisdiction to hear an appeal, and the court so decides, and mandamus is brought against the judge, who resists only to settle the law, and the party making the suggestion did not appear in the proceedings, costs will not be taxed against him.
State v. Ritchie, 32 U. 91; 91 P. 24.

In mandamus proceedings against a judge of the district court, costs may be taxed against the parties to the original action who resist the mandamus.
Christensen v. Christensen, 51 U. —; 173 P. 383.

COSTS GENERALLY:

A party to an action has no vested right to costs until the rendition of the judgment, and the statute as to costs in existence at that time will control the question.
Hepworth v. Gardner, 4 U. 439; 11 P. 566.

Statute void so far as it made the rights to costs dependent on amount recovered, being a penalty for bringing suit in district court, which had general equity and law jurisdiction under organic act.
Hepworth v. Gardner, 4 U. 439; 11 P. 566.
See also Miller v. Zeigler, 3 U. 17; 5 P. 518.

Although one of the rules of equity is that costs are in the discretion of the chancellor, yet the legislature can regulate the question of costs in causes in equity.
Dudley v. Facer, 8 U. 403; 32 P. 668.

Where a party who obtained judgment in an action in which the referee refused to sign a proposed statement on motion for a new trial appears by counsel and resists the application for a writ of mandate to compel the referee to sign the statement, costs will be awarded against him and not against the referee.
Whitmore v. Harris, 10 U. 259; 37 P. 464.

Where an action is continued in the name of the original plaintiff after he deeded the land in controversy, costs may be awarded against defendant, though, after issue is found against him, he purchases the land from plaintiff's grantee.
Christofferson v. Craghead, 26 U. 483; 73 P. 639.

In an action for personal property, though plaintiff recovered a portion only of the property sued for, the court is not authorized to apportion the costs, but should allow costs as a matter of course to the prevailing party.
Freed F. & C. Co. v. Sorensen, 28 U. 419; 79 P. 564.
Miller v. Zeigler, 3 U. 17; 5 P. 518.
Dudley v. Facer, 8 U. 403; 32 P. 668.

Where a plaintiff in an action for personal property recovers only a part, he is entitled to costs, and the court cannot apportion them.
Freed v. Sorensen, 28 U. 419; 79 P. 564.

Where, in a decree quieting title, it is found that the defendant wrongfully removed a division fence, a judgment dividing the costs and dismissing the claim for damages is erroneous.
Swenson v. Snell, 22 U. 191; 61 P. 555.

Judgment for costs against a defendant, was erroneous where the findings and judgment were in her favor.
Moyle v. McKean, 49 U. 93; 162 P. 63.

Where a counterclaim was pleaded, the court's action will not be disturbed except for abuse of discretion.
Smith v. Gilbert, 49 U. 511; 164 P. 1026.

7037. (3340.) Costs in several actions which might have been joined. When several actions are brought on one bond, undertaking, promissory note, bill of exchange, or other instrument in writing, or in any other case for the same cause of action, against several parties who might have been joined as defendants in the same action, no costs can be allowed to the plaintiff in more than one of such actions, which may be at his election, if the party proceeded against in the other actions were at the commencement of the previous action openly within the state. But the disbursements of the plaintiff must be allowed to him in the action.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1023.

Action against parties severally liable, §§ 6511, 6558.
Judgment in such action, § 6520.

7038. (3341.) When costs in discretion of court. In other actions than those mentioned in § 7036, costs may be allowed or not, and, if allowed, may be apportioned between the parties, on the same or adverse sides, in the discretion of the court.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1025*.
Cost in garnishment proceedings, § 6751.

Costs on dismissal, §§ 6860, 7042.
Decisions on costs generally, note to § 7036.

7039. (3342.) Defendants making separate defenses; costs. When there are several defendants in the actions mentioned in § 7036, not united in interest, and making separate defenses by separate answers, and the plaintiff fails to recover judgment against all, the court must award costs to such of the defendants as have judgment in their favor.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1026.

7040. (3343.) Costs on appeal from justice's court. In civil actions tried before a justice of the peace, if the prevailing party appeals, and does not recover in the district court a sum greater than the first judgment and costs on appeal, he shall not recover costs on appeal; if the losing party appeals and the prevailing party's judgment before the justice is reduced by an amount greater than the costs on appeal, the former shall be entitled to costs on appeal. In all other cases of appeal from the judgment of a justice of the peace in such actions, the prevailing party shall be entitled to costs.

Minn. (1894) § 5511*. Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1027*.
Appeal from justices' courts, general provisions, §§ 7514-7521.

Appeal from justices' to supreme court, note to Con. art. 8, sec. 9.
Costs on dismissal, §§ 6860, 7042.

7041. (3344.) When costs of appeal are discretionary; when not. In the following cases, the costs of appeal are in the discretion of the court:

1. When a new trial is ordered;
2. When a judgment is modified.

In all other cases the prevailing party shall recover from the other party his costs.

Mont. Civ. P., § 1855.
Costs on appeal generally, § 7048.
Except where a judgment of the lower court is unconditionally affirmed, the apportionment of the costs on appeal rests in the sound discretion of the court.
Schwab S. & L. Co. v. Snow, 47 U. 199; 152 P. 171.
Where a new trial is granted, and the costs greatly exceed the amount involved, the costs will be awarded appellant.
Smith v. Cummings, 39 U. 306; 117 P. 38.
Costs will not be awarded where appellants file an affidavit of impecuniosity.
Cody v. Cody, 47 U. 456; 154 P. 952.
Where counsel for appellant was personally served with notice of trial, but did not appear, the court, on reversing the judgment, will deny appellant his costs on appeal.
Hathaway v. United Tintic Mg. Co., 42 U. 520; 132 P. 388.
Greenhalgh v. United Tintic Mg. Co., 42 U. 524; 132 P. 390.

7042. (3345.) Costs on dismissal for want of jurisdiction or for irregularity. When an action is dismissed from any court for want of jurisdiction or because it has not been regularly transferred from an inferior to a superior court, the costs must be adjudged against the party attempting to institute or bring up the action.

N. Dak. (1895) § 5582.
Costs on dismissal generally, § 6860.
Damages added to costs when appeal taken for delay, § 7012.
Where district court dismisses action for want of jurisdiction in justice's court, appellee may recover costs. (Apparently overruling Wall v. Dodge, 3 U. 168; 2 P. 206, which holds that costs under such circumstances cannot be allowed in absence of statute authorizing it).
Cereghino v. Third Dist. Ct., 8 U. 455; 32 P. 697.

7043. (3346.) Costs on granting continuance. When an application is made to a court or referee to postpone a trial, the payment of costs occasioned by the postponement may be imposed, in the discretion of the court or referee, as a condition of granting the same.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1029.
Postponement, costs, § 6786.

Referee may postpone, § 6840.

7044. (3347.) Costs when tender made before suit. Deposit. When, in an action for the recovery of money only, the defendant alleges in his answer that before the commencement of the action he tendered to the plaintiff the full amount to which he was entitled, and thereupon deposits in court, for the plaintiff, the amount so tendered, and the allegation be found to be true, the plaintiff cannot recover costs, but must pay costs to the defendant.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1030.
Offer of executor to allow claim in part, effect as to costs, § 7658.
Tender, § 7215.
Offer to allow judgment, costs, § 6893.
Where the purchaser on an equity of redemption tendered more than the amount due upon the mortgage; costs and attorney's fees expended by the mortgagee in foreclosure cannot be assessed against the land.
Brunswick Realty Co. v. University Inv. Co., 43 U. 75; 134 P. 608.
Where check is mailed in payment of an account, and no objections are made thereto, the bringing of an action waives all objections to the tender and stops interest and costs, and where it is shown at the trial that there was sufficient at the bank at all times to meet the check, the failure to produce the money in court is waived unless special objection was made to the tender on that ground.
Hirsh v. Ogden Fur. & Carpet Co., 48 U. 434; 160 P. 283.

7045. (3348.) Costs when party acts in representative capacity. In an action prosecuted or defended by an executor, administrator, trustee of an express trust, or a person expressly authorized by statute, costs may be recovered as in actions by and against a person prosecuting or defending in his own right; but such costs must, by the judgment, be made chargeable only upon the estate, fund, or party represented, unless the court directs the same to be paid by the plaintiff or defendant personally for mismanagement or bad faith in the action or defense.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1031.
Cost of bond included, when, § 1214.
When executor, etc., individually liable for costs, §§ 7662, 7876.
Applied in Moyle v. McKean, 49 U. 93; 162 P. 63.

7046. (3349.) Costs on review of special proceedings, same as on appeal. When the decision of a court of inferior jurisdiction in a special proceeding is brought before a court of higher jurisdiction for review, in any other way than by an appeal, the same costs must be allowed as in cases on appeal, and may be collected by execution or in such manner as the court may direct, according to the nature of the case.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1032.
Costs in special proceeding, § 7036.

7047. (3350.) Filing and service of verified cost bill. Retaxing. The party in whose favor judgment is rendered, and who claims his costs, must deliver to the clerk, and serve a copy upon the adverse party, within five days after the verdict or notice of the decision of the court or referee, or, if the entry of the judgment on the verdict or decision be stayed, then before such entry is made, a memorandum of the items of his costs and necessary disbursements in the action or proceeding, which memorandum must be verified by the oath of the party, or his attorney or agent, or by the clerk of his attorney, stating that to the best of his knowledge and belief the items are correct, and that the disbursements have been necessarily incurred in the action or proceeding. A party dissatisfied with the costs claimed may, within five days after notice of filing of the bill of costs, file a motion to have the same taxed by the court in which the judgment was rendered, or by the judge thereof at chambers.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1033.
Stenographer's fees taxed up as costs, § 1907.
Costs of surety bond included, §§ 1214, 1215.
Witness fees and mileage paid are taxable.
Grant v. U. P. Ry. Co., 6 U. 270; 21 P. 996.
Cost bill containing sheriff's fees for subpoenaing witnesses should show upon whom and where subpoenas were served and number of miles traveled. Where witness fees are taxed, the name, residence, distance traveled from residence to court, and number of days' attendance of each witness should be stated.
Cole v. Ducheneau, 13 U. 42; 44 P. 92.
Smith v. Nelson, 23 U. 512; 65 P. 485.
A party may serve his own subpoena and need not file the return until after the time limited for objections to the cost bill.
Smith v. Nelson, 23 U. 512; 65 P. 485.
Fees for witnesses subpoenaed in good faith and attending, though not actually sworn, may be taxed.
Cole v. Ducheneau, 13 U. 42; 44 P. 92.
Smith v. Nelson, 23 U. 512; 65 P. 485.
In an action for trespass, where the objection that plaintiff could not recover more than one-half of the costs was not made in the trial court, it will not be considered on appeal.
Smith v. Nelson, 23 U. 512; 65 P. 485.
In taxing the costs in an action for damages caused by the trespass of sheep, it was prejudicial error not to apply § 58, providing that the fees in an action for trespass by certain animals shall be one-half the fees in other civil cases.
Smith v. Valentine, 23 U. 539; 66 P. 295.
Where plaintiff filed cost bill, which did not comply with the statute, and within time allowed, filed a second one in proper form, costs were properly taxed under the latter.
Smith v. Nelson, 23 U. 512; 65 P. 485.
Where party securing judgment files cost bill within time, the court may permit the filing of a supplemental bill, as an amendment, his right not being necessarily exhausted by filing of the first bill.
Dignan v. Nelson, 26 U. 186; 72 P. 936.
Where the defendant in his suit for injunction filed his memorandum of costs after special findings by the jury in his favor, but before any findings or conclusions were made by the court, and the plaintiff appeared and objected to the memorandum on the merits, he could not thereafter, on motion for retaxation of costs, assert that the memorandum was filed prematurely.

Smith v. Alvord, 31 U. 346; 88 P. 16.

A cost bill filed within five days after entry of final judgment is in time.

Moapa v. L. A. & S. L. Ry. Co., 45 U. 151; 143 P. 218.

The filing of a cost bill before the entry of judgment is not a compliance with the statute, and it should be stricken.

Houghton v. Barton, 49 U. 611; 165 P. 471.

7048. (3351.) Costs on appeal. Judgment and execution therefor. Whenever costs are awarded to a party by an appellate court, if such party claims costs, he shall, within thirty days after the remittitur is filed with the clerk below, serve upon the opposite party a memorandum of his costs, verified as prescribed by law, and deliver the same to the clerk of the court below; provided, that if a remittitur be filed by the party against whom the costs are awarded, that party shall serve written notice of the filing thereof on the party to whom the costs are awarded, and the period for filing the cost bill shall begin to run with the service of such notice. The cost to be awarded to a party as provided in this and the preceding sections shall include the reasonable cost of printing transcripts and briefs, and of transcribing the stenographer's notes or minutes of the trial or hearing. The opposite party may, within ten days after service of the memorandum of costs, upon notice given, move the court below to correct the bill of costs as in other cases. Upon the decision of the motion, the clerk shall forthwith attach the memorandum of costs to the remittitur, and annex both to the judgment roll, and enter minutes of his doings in the judgment docket. Thereafter the judgment of the appellate court shall constitute and stand as the judgment of the court below and become a lien upon the real property of the party against whom the costs are awarded, with the right of execution therefor as in other cases.

When costs on appeal discretionary, § 7041.

Costs on dismissal, § 7042.

Damages for appeal for delay may be added to costs, § 7012.

Cost of surety bond, § 1215.

A party ordering transcript could not, under § 3099, C. L. 1888, tax expense thereof as costs; nor will more than the usual and reasonable expense of printing proofs and abstracts, not exceeding one dollar per page, be allowed.

Marks v. Culmer, 7 U. 163; 25 P. 743.

When the omissions and inaccuracies of appellant's abstract render the filing of an additional abstract necessary, the cost of such additional abstract may be taxed against appellant.

Munns v. Loveland, 15 U. 250; 49 P. 743.

Where the appeal is on the ground that two instructions are in conflict, and they are in the appellant's abstract, the costs of an additional abstract containing evidence and other instructions will not be taxed.

Gimnich v. Sorenson, 34 U. 109; 96 P. 121.

Costs cannot be awarded for unnecessary repetitions of evidence in the briefs which was in the abstract.

Cobb v. Hartenstein, 47 U. 174; 152 P. 424.

Bastian v. Nebeker, 49 U. 391; 163 P. 1092.

Prior to the amendment of 1917 requiring notice of the filing in order to start time running for filing cost bill, no notice was necessary, and if the cost bill was not filed within the time required, it should be stricken, and the lack of knowledge of the filing of the remittitur does not require the court to grant relief under § 6619.

Hirsh v. Ogden Furniture & Carpet Co., 51 U. —; 172 P. 318.

Where, on appeal, the plaintiff succeeded in modifying a judgment against him on defendant's counterclaim, but practically plaintiff's whole record and brief are devoted to combating a ruling of the court against him which was affirmed, costs should be awarded to neither party.

Jeremy Fuel & Grain Co. v. Mellen, 50 U. —; 165 P. 791.

While the cost bill should state the number of pages in the abstract or brief on appeal, yet the failure so to do affords no grounds for the disallowance thereof.

Big Cottonwood Tanner Ditch Co. v. Shurtliff, et al., 51 U. —; 174 P. 1124.

7049. (3352.) Costs taxed in justice's court. Itemized. In a justice's court no cost bill need be filed, but the justice must tax the same, and make an itemized statement of all the costs incurred by each party, in his docket. In such court the fees paid to jurors must be taxed against the unsuccessful party.

Mont. Civ. P., § 1868.

Costs on appeal from justice's court, § 7040.

Justice to tax and allow costs, § 7512.

7050. (3353.) Interest and costs after verdict or decision to be included in judgment. The clerk must include, in the judgment entered up by him, any interest on the verdict or decision of the court from the time it was rendered or made, and the costs, if the same have been taxed or ascertained, and he must, within two days after the same are taxed or ascertained, if not included in the judgment, insert the same in a blank left in the judgment for that purpose, and must make a similar insertion of the costs in the copies and docket of the judgment.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1035.

Interest before and after judgment, § 3330.

Failure of the clerk to insert in judgment the amount of costs within two days after taxation thereof does not defeat recovery of costs, this section being merely as to time, and not prohibiting their entry after expiration of two days.

Smith v. Nelson, 23 U. 512; 65 P. 485.

7051. (3354.) Non-resident plaintiff to furnish security for costs, if required. When the plaintiff in an action resides out of the state, or is a foreign corporation, security for the costs and charges which may be awarded against such plaintiff may be required by the defendant. When required, all proceedings in the action must be stayed until an undertaking executed by two or more persons is filed with the clerk, to the effect that they will pay such costs and charges as may be awarded against the plaintiff by judgment, or in the progress of the action, not exceeding the sum of $300. A new or an additional undertaking may be ordered by the court or judge, upon proof that the original undertaking is insufficient security, and proceedings in the action stayed until such new or additional undertaking is executed and filed.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1036.
Qualifications of sureties generally, § 7293.
Expense of bond included in costs, § 1215.
The act of defendant in pleading to the merits and making no mention of security for costs until the case was called for trial was a waiver of its right to demand security.
Sciutti v. U. P. Coal Co., 30 U. 462; 85 P. 1011.

7052. (3355.) Id. If security not given, action dismissed. After the lapse of thirty days from the service of notice that security is required, or of an order for new or additional security, upon proof thereof, and that no undertaking as required has been filed, the court or judge may order the action to be dismissed.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1037.

7053. (3356.) Costs awarded against state, how paid. When the state is a party and costs are awarded against it, they must be paid out of the state treasury, and the auditor shall draw his warrant therefor on the general fund.

7054. (3357.) Costs awarded against county, how paid. When a county is a party and costs are awarded against it, they must be paid out of the county treasury.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1039.
Undertaking not to be required of a county, § 7225.

CHAPTER 49.

CONTEMPT.

7058. (3358.) Enumeration of contempts. What constitutes contempt. The following acts or omissions, in respect to a court of justice or proceedings therein, are contempts of authority of the court:

1. Disorderly, contemptuous, or insolent behavior toward the judge while holding the court, tending to interrupt the due course of a trial or other judicial proceeding;

2. Breach of the peace, boisterous conduct, or violent disturbance, tending to interrupt the due course of a trial or other judicial proceeding;

3. Misbehavior in office, or other wilful neglect or violation of duty by an attorney, counsel, clerk, sheriff, or other person appointed or elected to perform a judicial or ministerial service;

4. Deceit or abuse of the process or proceedings of the court by a party to an action or special proceeding;

5. Disobedience of any lawful judgment, order, or process of the court;

6. Assuming to be an officer, attorney, or counsel of a court, and acting as such without authority;

7. Rescuing any person or property in the custody of an officer by virtue of an order or process of such court;

8. Unlawfully detaining a witness or party to an action while going to, remaining at, or returning from, the court where the action is on the calendar for trial;

9. Any other unlawful interference with the process or proceedings of a court;

10. Disobedience of a subpœna duly served, or refusing to be sworn or to answer as a witness;

11. When summoned as a juror in a court, neglecting to attend or serve as such, or improperly conversing with a party to an action to be tried at such court, or with any other person, in relation to the merits of such action, or receiving a communication from a party or other person in respect to it, without immediately disclosing the same to the court;

12. Disobedience by an inferior tribunal, magistrate, or officer, of the lawful judgment, order, or process of a superior court, or proceeding in an action or special proceeding contrary to law, after such action or special proceeding is removed from the jurisdiction of such inferior tribunal, magistrate, or officer. Disobedience of the lawful orders or process of a judicial officer is also a contempt of the authority of such officer.

Where a witness before a referee refuses to answer a question upon the advice of his counsel, honestly given and accepted in good faith, he will be excused from punishment, which would otherwise be imposed.

U. S. v. The Church, 6 U. 9; 21 P. 503, 524.

Language used in a certain paper submitted to the court quoted and held to be a contempt of court.

Id.

Where an injunction enjoined appellant and its agents from entering upon, digging in, or extracting ores from a certain mining claim; held, that appellant and its agents were not guilty of a contempt.

Bullion-B. & C. M. Co. v. Eureka Hill M. Co., 5 U. 151; 13 P. 174.

A commissioner of the supreme court has no authority to punish for newspaper articles.

People v. Carrington, 5 U. 531; 17 P. 735.

The court has the right to commit for contempt one persuading a witness subpoenaed before the grand jury to leave the territory.

In re Whetstone, 9 U. 156; 36 P. 633.

Wilful refusal of a witness to answer a proper and material question may be punished as contempt.

Ex parte Harris, 4 U. 5; 5 P. 129.

Ex parte Hendrickson, 6 U. 3; 21 P. 396.

When a witness contumaciously refuses to answer a proper question on cross-examination, it is the duty of the court to strike out his entire testimony.

Hadra v. Utah N. Bank, 9 U. 412; 35 P. 508.

When witness a party, pleading stricken, § 7133.

Non-payment of alimony on the order of the court, punishable as contempt.

In re Kelsey, 12 U. 393; 43 P. 106.

Snow v. Snow, 13 U. 15; 43 P. 620.

Lower court may punish violation of injunction notwithstanding appeal.

Ex parte Whitmore, 9 U. 441; 35 P. 524.

A distinction exists between that class of contempt proceedings wherein it is sought to vindicate the authority of the court, or where the contempt consists in the doing of a forbidden act injurious to the opposite party, wherein the process is criminal in its nature and conviction is followed by fine or imprisonment, and that other class of contempts where the proceeding is intended for the benefit or advantage of the opposite party.

Snow v. Snow, 13 U. 15; 43 P. 620.

Ex parte Whitmore, 9 U. 441; 35 P. 524.

See Elliot v. Whitmore, 10 U. 246; 37 P. 461.

In determining whether an actual breach of an injunction has been perpetrated, its terms must be considered, and when the writ does not specifically restrain the parties enjoined from the commission of definite acts, but only in a general way enjoins them from the performance of acts complained of in the complaint, it must satisfactorily appear, in order to constitute a breach of the injunction, that the acts performed were included within its scope.

Coit v. Freed, 15 U. 426; 49 P. 533.

The court has right to rebuke counsel for language and conduct tending to bring it into contempt, and in proper cases to punish by fine or imprisonment.

Lisonbee v. Monroe Irr. Co., 18 U. 343; 54 P. 1009.

Briefs in supreme court may be stricken from the files on account of the use of language disrespectful and insulting to the court below.

Nephi Irr. v. Vickers, 20 U. 310; 58 P. 836.

A court has power to expunge from its records scandalous matter which raises no issue and serves no purpose except to injure the reputation of the parties at whom it is aimed.

Morrison v. Snow, 26 U. 247; 72 P. 924.

See In re Snow, 27 U. 265; 75 P. 741.

Under section 324, requiring an attorney to abstain from all offensive personalities, etc., an attorney who, as a party to an action, knowingly makes defamatory charges against a judge may be disbarred.

Morrison v. Snow, 26 U. 247; 72 P. 924.

In re Snow, 27 U. 265; 75 P. 741.

Where the damage by defendant's act in taking water from an irrigation ditch in violation of an injunction, if any, resulted to all the landowners in common, who were entitled to water from the ditch, a proceeding for contempt for violating such injunction, even if maintainable by a corporation entitled to a portion of the water, was not maintainable in the absence of proof of actual or special damage.

Thompson v. McFarland, 29 U. 455; 82 P. 478.

A judgment of conviction for contempt cannot be entered on pleadings on the theory that intent, motive, and circumstances are immaterial, and then be defended on appeal on the theory that the burden of proof on such matters was on the accused.

Herald-Republican Co. v. Lewis, 42 U. 188; 129 P. 624.

A party to a decree, who for a long time asserted rights thereunder, cannot escape punishment for contempt for violation because it is not alleged in the application that he was served with a copy or notice of the decree.

In re Hoover, 44 U. 476; 141 P. 101.

Where a decree was rendered restraining a bank from disposing of certain funds and appointing a receiver therefor, subsequent discharge of a portion of the funds from receivership was in effect a discharge of the injunction pro tanto.

Commr. Natl. Bank v. Page-Brinton, 45 U. 14; 142 P. 709.

Failure to comply with a void court order is not contempt.

Hammond v. Wall, 50 U. —; 171 P. 148.

Affidavit charging that defendant newspaper, well knowing that certain publications were calculated to greatly prejudice the minds of the summoned jurors and other persons against the defendant then on trial, caused copies containing such publication to be delivered to said veniremen and others, and that such publication did prejudice many of them, making it difficult to obtain qualified jurors, showed contempt.

Herald-Republican Co. v. Lewis, 42 U. 188; 129 P. 624.

The old rule that a constructive criminal contempt was purged by denial under oath is changed, and the matter is regulated by statute.

Id.

Although newspaper may publish anything said or done in court while attempting to empanel a jury in a criminal action, it cannot go beyond this and print facts and conclusions and evidence and a confession by an alleged confederate which would not be admissible upon trial where such matters had been published fully at the time of the crime, such matters not being news.

Id.

The statement of counsel in an altercation over the exclusion of evidence that the court was wishy-washy was contemptuous.

Hogge v. S. L. & Og. Ry. Co., 47 U. 266; 153 P. 585.

Evidence in a contempt proceeding held to show that the construction of a dam did not interfere with water rights of another.

Geddes v. North Ogden Irrigation Co., 33 U. 456; 94 P. 822.

One turning water into a stream and withdrawing it without any order of court fixing the place of diversion and the amount to be withdrawn is not guilty of contempt, even though he should have first secured permission from the court.

Spanish Fork City v. Spanish Fork East Bench Irr. Co., 46 U. 487; 151 P. 46.

7059. (3359.) Entry after eviction by lawful process. Contempt. Restoration. Every person dispossessed of, or ejected from or out of, any real property, by the judgment or process of any court of competent jurisdiction, and who, not having a right so to do, re-enters into or upon, or takes possession of, any such real property, or induces or procures any person not having a right so to do, or aids or abets him therein, is guilty of a contempt of the court by which such judgment was rendered, or from which such process issued. Upon a conviction for such contempt, the court must immediately issue an alias process, directed to the proper officer, and requiring him to restore such possession to the party entitled thereto under the original judgment or process.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1210.
Re-entry a misdemeanor, § 8231.
Disobedience of judgment or order of the court, § 7058.

7060. (3360.) Contempt in presence of court summarily punishable. Affidavit in other cases. When a contempt is committed in the immediate view and presence of the court, or judge at chambers, it may be punished summarily, for which an order must be made, reciting the facts as occurring in such immediate view and presence, adjudging that the person proceeded against is thereby guilty of a contempt, and that he be punished as in § 7067 prescribed. When the contempt is not committed in the immediate view and presence of the court, or judge at chambers, an affidavit shall be presented to the court or judge of the facts constituting the contempt, or a statement of the facts by the referees or arbitrators or other judicial officer.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1211.
Where contempt committed out of court, affidavit clearly stating particular acts of contempt is necessary to give jurisdiction.
Young v. Cannon, 2 U. 560.
Affidavits in this case held insufficient.
Id.
Person put under bonds for assault in presence of court, § 8579.
One charged with criminal contempt out of the presence of the court must be given a hearing and evidence be taken unless the answer is or amounts to a plea of guilty.
Herald-Republican v. Lewis, 42 U. 188; 129 P. 624.

7061. (3361.) Contempt not committed in presence of court. Warrant. When the contempt is not committed in the immediate view and presence of the court or judge, a warrant of attachment may be issued to bring the person charged to answer, or, without a previous arrest, a warrant of commitment may, upon notice, or upon an order to show cause, be granted; and no warrant of commitment can be issued without such previous attachment to answer, or such notice or order to show cause.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1212.

7062. (3362.) Id. Order to specify amount of bail. Whenever a warrant of attachment is issued pursuant to this chapter, the court or judge must direct, by an indorsement on such warrant, that the person charged may be let to bail for his appearance, in an amount to be prescribed in such indorsement.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1213.

7063. (3363.) Id. Sheriff to keep prisoner until discharged or bailed. Upon executing the warrant of attachment, the sheriff must keep the person in custody, bring him before the court or judge, and detain him until an order be made in the premises, unless the person arrested entitle himself to be discharged, as provided in the next section.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1214.
A warrant of commitment for contempt for refusing to answer a question before the grand jury is not nullified by reason of the grand jury taking a recess for more than three months.
Ex parte Harris, 4 U. 5; 5 P. 129.

7064. (3364.) Id. Bail bond. Form. When a direction to let the person arrested to bail is contained in the warrant of attachment, or indorsed thereon, he must be discharged from the arrest upon executing and delivering to the officer, at any time before the return day of the warrant, a written undertaking, with two sufficient sureties, to the effect that the person arrested will appear on the return of the warrant, and abide the order of the court or judge thereon, or that the sureties will pay, as may be directed, the sum specified in the warrant.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1215.

7065. (3365.) Id. Officer's return of warrant and bond. The officer must return the warrant of arrest and undertaking, if any, received by him from the person arrested, by the return day specified therein.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1216.

7066. (3366.) Id. Court must hear defendant. Witnesses. Adjournment. When the person arrested has been brought up or has appeared, the court or judge must proceed to investigate the charge, and must hear any answer which the person arrested may make to the same, and may examine witnesses for or against him; for which an adjournment may be had from time to time, if necessary.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1217.
In labor disputes, how tried, §§ 3654, 3658.

7067. (3367.) Id. Judgment. Penalty. Upon the answer and evidence taken, the court or judge must determine whether the person proceeded against is guilty of the contempt charged, and if it be adjudged that he is guilty of the contempt, a fine may be imposed on him not exceeding $200, or he may be imprisoned not exceeding thirty days, or both. Am'd '07, p. 6.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1218*.
Decisions on contempt and punishment therefor, note to § 7058.
When conviction for contempt appealable, note to § 6990.
The recital in a judgment that the accused, "having stated that they had no legal reason to give why judgment should not be pronounced against them," etc., does not show that they were given an opportunity to be heard.
Herald-Republican Pub. Co. v. Lewis, 42 U. 188; 129 P. 624.
In a prosecution for criminal contempt for publishing matters which interfered with judicial action, evidence that there was no intent to interfere or that there was no harm done in fact, is admissible in mitigation of punishment.
Id.

7068. (3368.) Court may impose damages to indemnify party injured. Bar. If an actual loss or injury to a party in an action or special proceeding, prejudicial to his right therein, is caused by the contempt, the court, in addition to the fine or imprisonment imposed for the contempt, or in place thereof, may order the person proceeded against to pay the party aggrieved a sum of money sufficient to indemnify him and to satisfy his costs and expenses; which order and the acceptance of money under it is a bar to an action by the aggrieved party for such loss and injury.

Minn. (1894) § 6167.
Measure of damages for breach, § 7070.
Under this section, in proceedings against one for a contempt in violating an injunction restraining him from infringing a trade mark, it was proper to award plaintiff a reasonable attorney's fee.
Davidson v. Munsey, 29 U. 181; 80 P. 743.
Damage must be shown in order to maintain contempt proceeding for taking water.
Thompson v. McFarland, 29 U. 455; 82 P. 478.
Where a decree has been entered in a water case, and one of the parties violated it by taking excess water, the damage to each of those injured must be ascertained in the usual way, and a joint judgment in a lump sum for all injured is erroneous, even though there was no objection for misjoinder.
In re Hoover, 44 U. 476; 141 P. 101.

7069. (3369.) Imprisonment to compel performance. When the contempt consists in the omission to perform an act enjoined by law, which is yet in the power of the person to perform, he may be imprisoned until he has performed it, or until released by the court, and, in that case, the act must be specified in the warrant of commitment.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1219*.
Applied to case of violation of an injunction.
Elliot v. Whitmore, 10 U. 246; 37 P. 461.
Imprisonment of witness for refusal to answer proper question.
Ex parte Harris, 4 U. 5; 5 P. 129.

Ex parte Hendrickson, 6 U. 3; 21 P. 396.
In cases of criminal contempt, court may impose costs in addition to fine or fine and imprisonment, and may order contemnor imprisoned until such fine and costs are paid at the rate of one day for each dollar of such fine and costs.
Ex parte Whitmore, 9 U. 441; 35 P. 524.

7070. (3370.) Proceeding upon failure of defendant to appear. Damages. When the warrant of arrest has been returned served, if the person arrested does not appear on the return day, the court or judge may issue another warrant of arrest, or may order the undertaking to be prosecuted, or both. If the undertaking be prosecuted, the measure of damages in the action is the extent of the loss or injury sustained by the aggrieved party by reason of the misconduct for which the warrant was issued, and the costs of the proceeding.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1220. Court may assess damages, § 7068.

7071. (3371.) Illness of defendant excuses officer. Unnecessary restraint forbidden. Whenever, by the provisions of this chapter, an officer is required to keep in custody a person arrested on a warrant of attachment, and to bring him before a court or judge, the inability, from illness or otherwise, of the person to attend is a sufficient excuse for not bringing him up; and the officer must not confine a person arrested upon the warrant, in a prison, or otherwise restrain him of personal liberty, except so far as may be necessary to secure his personal attendance.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1221.

7072. (3372.) Disobedience of order of referee, board, etc., reported to district judge. Attachment. Whenever authority is given to any person, officer (other than a judicial officer), referee, board, or committee to issue process to compel the attendance of witnesses or the production of books or papers before such person, officer, referee, board, or committee, and any person duly subpœnaed to appear and give evidence, or to produce any books or papers, shall neglect or refuse to appear or to produce such books or papers according to the requirement of such subpœna, or shall refuse to testify, or to answer any question which said person, officer, referee, board, or committee shall decide to be proper and pertinent, he shall be deemed in contempt, and it shall be the duty of the person, officer, referee, board, or committee, as the case may be, to report the fact to the judge of the district court of the county, who shall thereupon issue an attachment in the form usual in the district court, directed to the sheriff of the county, commanding him to attach said person and forthwith bring him before the judge by whose order such attachment was issued.

Wis., S. & B. An. S. (1889) § 4066*. Disobedience of order of referee, etc., § 7058, and note.
Before public utility commission, §§ (2) 4822, 4848. Before industrial commission, § 3079.

7073. (3373.) Id. Hearing before judge. Penalty. On the return of the attachment and the production of the body of the defendant, the said judge shall have jurisdiction of the matter, and the person charged may purge himself of the contempt in the same way, and the same proceeding shall be had, and the same penalty may be imposed, and the same punishment inflicted, as in the case of a witness subpœnaed to appear and give evidence on the trial of a civil case before a district judge.

Wis., S. & B. An. S. (1889) § 4066*.
Witness, subpoenaed, contempt, §§ 7133, 71 34.

CHAPTER 50.

JUDICIAL KNOWLEDGE.

7076. (3374.) Courts take judicial notice of what. Reference to appropriate books, etc. Courts take judicial notice of the following facts:

1. The true signification of all English words and phrases, and of all legal expressions;

2. Whatever is established by law;

3. Public and private official acts of the legislative, executive, and judicial departments of this state and of the United States;

4. The seals of all the courts of this state and of the United States;

5. The accession to office and the official signatures and seals of office of the principal officers of government in the legislative, executive, and judicial departments of this state and of the United States;

6. The existence, title, national flag, and seal of every state or sovereign recognized by the executive power of the United States;

7. The seals of courts of admiralty and maritime jurisdiction, and of notaries public;

8. The laws of nature, the measure of time, and the geographical divisions and political history of the world.

In all these cases the court may resort for its aid to appropriate books or documents of reference.

CHAPTER 51.

PUBLIC WRITINGS.

7079. (3375.) Citizens may inspect and copy public writings. Every citizen has a right to inspect and take a copy of any public writing of this state, except as otherwise expressly provided by statute.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1892.
Copies of records in county recorders' offices may be taken in pencil only, § 1594.

7080. (3376.) Public officer to furnish copy on payment of fee. Every public officer having the custody of a public writing which a citizen has the right to inspect is bound to give him, on demand, a certified copy of it, on payment of the legal fees therefor.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1893.

7081. (3377.) Public and private statutes defined. Statutes are public or private. A private statute is one which concerns only certain designated individuals, and affects only their private rights. All other statutes are public, in which are included statutes creating or affecting corporations.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1898.
Pleading private statute, § 6603.
Private statute as evidence, § 7086.
Corporations not to be created by special law, Con. art. 6, sec. 26.
Special laws forbidden, Con. art. 6, sec. 26.

7082. (3378.) Kinds of public writings. Public writings are divided into four classes:

1. Laws;
2. Judicial records;
3. Other official documents;
4. Public records, kept in this state, of private writings.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1894.

7083. (3379.) Statutes of other states, etc., admitted in evidence. Books purporting to be printed or published under the authority of another state or a territory, or foreign country, and to contain the statutes, code, or other written law of said state, territory, or country, or proved to be commonly admitted in the tribunals of such state, territory, or country as evidence of the written law thereof, are admissible in this state as evidence of such law.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1900*.
Proof of laws of foreign state as to the validity and effect of a judgment.
Hunt v. Monroe, 32 U. 428; 91 P. 269.
A book purporting to be Mills' Code of Colorado, and which contains what purports to be a copy of legislative enactment making it prima facie evidence, is, when a practicing attorney testifies that it was in common use by the attorneys of Colorado and cited by the courts there, admissible on either ground, to prove the laws of Colorado.
Stuart v. Pederson, 41 U. 308; 125 P. 395.

7084. (3380.) Properly certified law, etc., of another state admitted in evidence. A copy of the written law or other public writing of any other state, or of a territory, or a foreign country, attested by the certificate of the officer having charge of the original under the public seal of the state, territory, or country, or attested by the certificate of the keeper thereof and the seal of his office annexed, if there be a seal, together with the certificate of the presiding justice of the county, parish, or district in which such office may be kept, or of the governor, secretary of state, or chancellor, or, if of a foreign country, the certificate of the minister or ambassador, or a consul, vice-consul, or consular agent of the United States in such foreign country, that the attestation of such keeper is in due form and by the proper officer, is admissible as evidence of such law or writing.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1901*.

7085. (3381.) Unwritten law of another state, etc., how proved. The oral testimony of witnesses skilled therein is admissible as evidence of the unwritten law of another state, or of a territory, or of a foreign country, as are also printed and published books of reports of decisions of the courts of such state, territory, or country, commonly admitted in such courts.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1902*.

7086. (3382.) Effect of recitals in statutes. The recitals in a public statute are conclusive evidence of the fact recited, for the purpose of carrying it into effect, but no further. The recitals in a private statute are conclusive evidence between parties who claim under its provisions, but no further.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1903. Private statute defined, § 7081.

7087. (3383.) Judicial record defined. A judicial record is the record or official entry of the proceedings in a court of justice, or of the official act of a judicial officer, in an action or special proceeding.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1904.

7088. (3384.) Id. Of court within the United States, how proved. A judicial record of this state, or of the United States, may be proved by the production of the original, or by a copy thereof certified by the clerk or other person having the legal custody thereof. That of another state or of a territory may be proved by the attestation of the clerk and the seal of the court annexed, if there be a clerk and seal, together with a certificate of the chief judge or presiding magistrate that the attestation is in due form.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1905. Judgment of justice of the peace of another state, how proved, §§ 7094, 7095.
Judgment, how pleaded and proved, § 6600. Entries in justice's docket prima facie evidence, § 7531.
Authentication of judgment of another state in clerk's name, by deputy clerk, is sufficient. Steinke v. Graves, 16 U. 293; 52 P. 386.

7089. (3385.) Id. Of foreign country, how proved. A judicial record of a foreign country may be proved by the attestation of the clerk, with the seal of the court annexed, if there be a clerk and seal, or of the keeper of the record, with the seal of his office annexed, if there be a seal, together with a certificate of the chief judge or presiding magistrate, or minister, or ambassador, or a consul, vice-consul, or consular agent of the United States in such foreign country, that the attestation is in due form and by the proper officer.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1906*.

7090. (3386.) Id. Other proof. A copy of the judicial record of a foreign country is also admissible in evidence upon proof:

1. That the copy offered has been compared by the witness with the original, and is an exact transcript of the whole of it;

2. That such original was in the custody of the clerk of the court, or other legal keeper of the same; and,

3. That the copy is duly attested by a seal which is proved to be the seal of the court where the record remains, if it be the record of a court; or, if there be no such seal, or if it be not a record of a court, by the signature of the legal keeper of the original.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1907.

7091. (3387.) Other official documents, how proved. Other official documents may be proved as follows:

1. Acts of the executive of this state, by the records, and of the United States, by the records of the departments of the United States certified by the heads of those departments respectively. They may also be proved by public documents, printed by the order of the legislature or congress, or either house thereof;

2. The proceedings of the legislature of this state or of congress, by the journals of those bodies respectively, or either house thereof, or by published statutes or resolutions, or by copies certified by the clerk, or printed by their order;

3. The acts of the executive or the proceedings of the legislature of another state or of a territory in the same manner;

4. The acts of the executive, or the proceedings of the legislature of a foreign country, by journals published by their authority, or commonly received in that country as such, or by a copy certified under the seal of the country or sovereign, or by a recognition thereof in some public act of the executive of the United States;

5. Acts of a municipal corporation of this state or of a board or department thereof, by a copy certified by the legal keeper thereof, or by a printed book published by the authority of such corporation;

6. Documents of any other class in this state, by the original, or by a copy, certified by the legal keeper thereof;

7. Documents of any other class in another state or a territory, by the original, or by a copy, certified by the legal keeper thereof, together with the certificate of the secretary of state, judge of the supreme, superior, circuit, district, or county court, or mayor of a city of such state or territory, that the copy is duly certified by the officer having the legal custody of the original;

8. Documents of any other class in a foreign country, by the original, or by a copy, certified by the legal keeper thereof, with a certificate under the seal of the country or sovereign, or with the certificate of the minister or ambassador, or a consul, or vice-consul, or consular agent of the United States in such foreign country, that the document is a valid and subsisting document of such country, and that the copy is duly certified by the officer having the legal custody of the original;

9. Documents in the departments of the United States government, by the certificate of the legal custodian thereof.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1918*.

7092. (3388.) Public record of private writing, how proved. A public record of a private writing may be proved by the original record, or by a copy thereof, certified by the legal keeper of the record.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1919.

Proof of conveyances, etc., § 7116.

7093. (3389.) Entries in official records prima facie evidence. Entries in public or other official books or records, made in the performance of his duty by a public officer of this state; or by any other person in the performance of a duty specially enjoined by law, are prima facie evidence of the facts stated therein.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1920.

Entries in justice's docket prima facie evidence, § 7531.

When courts take judicial notice of the records of public officers, note to § 7076.

Certified copy of industrial commission admissible, § 3067.

Certified copy of files and orders of public utility commission admissible, § (1) 4823.

Reports to public utility commission on accidents not admissible, § 4812.

In order to introduce evidence of the local mining law of a district, it is necessary that it should be made to appear aliunde that the copy offered comes from the proper custodian, and that such person was empowered to give certified copies thereof, so as to become evidence, and that such was a copy of the laws in force in such district.

Roberts v. Wilson, 1 U. 292.

7094. (3390.) Judgment of justice of another state, etc., how proved. A transcript from the record or docket of a justice of the peace of another state, or of a territory, of a judgment rendered by him, of the proceedings in the action before the judgment, of the execution and return, if any, subscribed by the justice and verified in the manner prescribed in the next section, is admissible evidence of the facts stated therein.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1921.

Judicial record of this state, how proved, § 7088.

7095. (3391.) Id. Certification. Justice as a witness. There must be attached to the transcript a certificate of the justice that the transcript is in all respects correct, and that he had jurisdiction of the action, and also a further certificate of the clerk or prothonotary of the county in which the justice is a resident at the time of rendering the judgment, under the seal of the county, or the seal of the court of common pleas or county court or court of general jurisdiction thereof, certifying that the person subscribing the transcript was, at the date of the judgment, a justice of the peace in the county, and that the signature is genuine. Such judgment, proceedings, and jurisdiction may also be proved by the justice himself, on the production of his docket, or by a copy of a judgment, and his oral examination as a witness.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1922*.

7096. (3392.) Form of certificate to copy. Whenever a copy of a writing is certified for the purpose of evidence, the certificate must state in substance that the copy is a correct copy of the original, or of a specified part thereof, as the case may be.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1923.

7097. (3393.) Such certificate to be under seal. Such certificate must be under the official seal of the certifying officer, if there be any, or, if he be the clerk of a court having a seal, under the seal of such court.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1923.

7098. (3394.) Effect of certificate of purchase as evidence. A certificate of purchase or of location of any lands in this state, issued or made in pursuance of any law of the United States, is prima facie evidence that the holder or assignee of such certificate is the owner of the land described therein; but this evidence may be overcome by proof that, at the time of the location, or time of filing a pre-emption claim on which the certificate may have been issued, the land was in the adverse possession of the adverse party, or those under whom he claims, or that the adverse party is holding the land for mining purposes.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1925*.

7099. (3395.) Id. By officer, or board of officers. An entry made by an officer, or board of officers, or under the direction and in the presence of either, in the course of official duty, is prima facie evidence of the facts stated in such entry.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1926.

CHAPTER 52.

PRIVATE WRITINGS.

7103. (3396.) Private writings defined. Private writings are either:

1. Sealed; or,
2. Unsealed.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1929.

7104. (3397.) Seal defined. A seal is a particular sign, made to attest in the most formal manner, the execution of an instrument.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1930.

7105. (3398.) Public and private seals defined. Foreign seal. A public seal in this state is a stamp or impression made by a public officer with an instrument provided by law, to attest the execution of an official document, upon the paper, or upon any substance attached to the paper which is capable of receiving a visible impression. A private seal may be made in the same manner by any instrument, or it may be made by a scroll of the pen, or by writing the word "seal" against the signature of the writer. A scroll or other sign, made in another state or a territory or a foreign country, and recognized as a seal, must be so regarded in this state.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1931*.

7106. (3399.) Private seal not necessary. It shall not be necessary to use private seals on any instrument of writing in this state.

7107. (3400.) Histories, scientific works, maps, etc., prima facie evidence. Historical works, books of science or art, and published maps or charts, when made by persons indifferent between the parties, are prima facie evidence of facts of general notoriety and interest.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1936.

Historical works relating to the Mormon church, and the records and journals of such church, are admissible to show the meaning of the term "sealing ordinance," as applied by the adherents of the Mormon faith to the ceremony of marriage.

Hilton v. Roylance, 25 U. 129; 69 P. 660.

7108. (3401.) Notice to adverse party to produce writing. Proof. If a writing to be proved be in the custody of the adverse party, he must first have reasonable notice to produce it. If he then fail to do so, the contents of the writing may be proved as in case of its loss. But the notice to produce it is not necessary where the writing is itself a notice, or where it has been wrongfully obtained or withheld by the adverse party.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1938.

Demand for copy of writing, etc., order, § 7204.

Demand for inspection of writing, § 6595.

Refusal to admit genuineness of writing, effect, § 7203.

Parol evidence to prove writing, after notice, § 7117.

Secondary evidence admissible, when, § 7117, and note.

Admission of genuineness sufficient, § 7112.

7109. (3402.) Party demanding writing not required to use it. Though a writing called for by one party is produced by the other, and is thereupon inspected by the party calling for it, he is not obliged to produce it as evidence in the case.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1939.

7110. (3403.) Writings, how proved. Any writing may be proved either:

1. By any one who saw the writing executed; or,
2. By evidence of the genuineness of the handwriting of the maker; or,
3. By a subscribing witness.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1940.

Proof of instruments sent by telegraph or telephone, §§ 6117-6120, 7032.

A person acquainted with the handwriting of the person whose signature was forged is a competent witness.

People v. Mahon, 1 U. 205.

An expert may testify as to his opinion formed from a comparison with writings admitted to be genuine.

Durnell v. Snowden, 5 U. 216; 14 P. 334.
Tucker v. Kellogg, 8 U. 11; 28 P. 870.
State v. Webb, 18 U. 441; 56 P. 159.

In a prosecution for statutory rape, in which prosecutrix claimed to have received certain letters from defendant, but admitted that she had never seen him write nor seen a specimen of his handwriting admitted to be genuine, and was not an expert at handwriting, she was not competent to testify that the letters were written by defendant, although she claimed that he had admitted having written two of the letters.

State v. McBride, 30 U. 422; 85 P. 440.

On an issue as to whether a certain letter was written by defendant, a witness who had seen defendant write but once was competent to testify.

State v. Freshwater, 30 U. 442; 85 P. 447.
Durnell v. Snowden, 5 U. 216; 14 P. 334.
Tucker v. Kellogg, 8 U. 11; 28 P. 870.

On issue as to whether certain typewritten letters were written by defendant, testimony of an expert that a comparison of the letters with work done by a certain typewriting machine in the town where defendant lived indicated, because of defects in the type and in the alignment thereof, that the letters were written on the machine in question, was competent.

State v. Freshwater, 30 U. 442; 85 P. 447.

7111. (3404.) Id. When subscribing witness denies or forgets. If the subscribing witness denies or does not recollect the execution of the writing, its execution may still be proved by other evidence.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1941.

7112. (3405.) Id. Admission of genuineness by adverse party sufficient. When, however, evidence is given that the party against whom the writing is offered has at any time admitted its execution, no other evidence of the execution need be given, when the instrument is one produced from the custody of the adverse party, and has been acted upon by him as genuine.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1942*.

7113. (3406.) Entry made by decedents, when prima facie evidence. The entries and other writings of a decedent made at or near the time of the transaction, and when he was in a position to know the facts stated therein, may be read as prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated, in the following cases:

1. When the entry was made against the interest of the person making it;
2. When it was made in a professional capacity, and in the ordinary course of professional conduct;
3. When it was made in the performance of a duty specially enjoined by law.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1946.

7114. (3407.) Private writing, acknowledged and certified, prima facie evidence of execution. Every private writing, except last wills and testaments, may be acknowledged or proved and certified in the manner provided for the acknowledgment or proof of conveyances of real property, and the certificate of such acknowledgment of proof is prima facie evidence of the execution of the writing, in the same manner as if it were a conveyance of real property.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1948.

7115. (3408.) Will invalid unless formally executed. Proof. A last will and testament, except a nuncupative will, is invalid, unless it be in writing and executed with such formalities as are required by law. When, therefore, such a will is to be shown, the instrument itself must be produced, or secondary evidence of its contents be given.

Cal. C. Civ. P., 1969.
Execution of will, § 6315.
Proof of will, § 7572.

7116. (3409.) Conveyance acknowledged and certified, prima facie evidence. Certified copy. Every instrument conveying or affecting real property, acknowledged, or proved and certified, as provided by law, may, together with the certificate of acknowledgment or proof, be read in evidence, in an action or proceeding, without further proof; and the record, or a certified copy of the record, of such conveyance or instrument thus acknowledged or proved may be read in evidence, with the like effect as the original, on proof, by affidavit or otherwise, that the original is not in the possession or under the control of the party producing the record or the certified copy.

Cal. C. Civ. P., § 1951*.

Conveyance, etc., sent by telegraph or telephone as evidence, §§ 6117-6120.

Public record of private writing, how proved, § 7092.

Abstract of title as evidence, § 1590.

Exemplification of United States patent for a mining claim, authenticated by the commissioner of the general land office, is evidence equally with the original, and is admissible without the proof hereby required to authorize the admission of certified copies.

Bullion-B. & C. M. Co. v. Eureka Hill M. Co., 5 U. 3; 11 P. 515.

Where it is shown that a party offering a certified copy of a deed has left the original in the city where the trial is being held and no effort made to secure it, the certified copy is not admissible.

Wilson v. Wright, 8 U. 215; 30 P. 754.

The record of a patent is admissible where it shows it was duly executed.

Tate v. Rose, 35 U. 229; 99 P. 1003.

7117. (3410.) When parol evidence of writing admissible. There can be no evidence of the contents of a writing, other than the writing itself, except in the following cases:
